NON-COMS.' DANCE.

It Will Take Place on Either the 3rd or 4th of February.

The Non-Coms. dance which will take place on either the 3rd or 4th of February, promises to be a very brilliant affair. It has been decided to hold the dance in the opera house, as this is the only place that could possibly accommodate the attendance that will likely respond to the invitations from Non-Coms. The interior of the hall will be gaily decorated and the scarlet uniforms of the officers and men will present a pleasing sight. The dance is being given by the kind permission of Lieut.-Col. Edwards and the officers of the regiment, and under the auspices of the Non-Coms. The committee which has the affairs in hand is composed of Colour-Sgt. R. Cottrell, Sgt. Sam Sharpe, Sgt. G. C. Burnham, Corps. Paddon, Best, Lundy and Gemmell. Sgt. Burnham is Hon. Secy. of the dance. An effort, it is said, will be made to have the 57th Band present.

When in Bed

Put some Vapo-Cresolene in the vaporizer, light the lamp and place it near the head of the bed. Then all the time the baby sleeps it will breathe in the healing, soothing vapor. The hard, tight cough loosens; the fever gradually goes down, the breathing becomes natural, and pneumonia is avoided. Every part of the throat and bronchial tubes are touched by the medicine. For the hard colds and coughs of children nothing equals Vapo-Cresolene. 9

Vapo-Cresolene is sold by druggists everywhere. A Vapo-Cresolene outfit, including the Vaporizer and Lamp, which should last a life-time, and a bottle of Cresolene, complete, $1.50; extra supplies of Cresolene 25 cents and 50 cents. Illustrated booklet containing physicians' testimonials free upon request. Vapo-Cresolene Co., 180 Fulton St., New York, U.S.A.

Recommended and sold in Peterborough by H. H. Edmison, druggist.

A GOVERNMENT BUILT RAILWAY.

The point which will strike everyone who reads the Ontario Government's proposed "Temiskaming and Northern Act" is that Ontario, without the cost to the people of a dollar, is to acquire an asset whose value will reach into the millions of dollars, and at the same time add an immense tract of land to the habitable portion of the Province. The Legislature is asked to endorse no cash grant, no bonus. The people of Canada have become so accustomed to going into their pockets whenever a new railway is to be built that it may take them some little time to appreciate what is intended in this case.

The Province has but recently discovered what a valuable domain it holds in that north country. The asset is, however, but a statical one, to borrow from the language of physics. To make it a dynamical one, a railway is necessary. Until a railway taps the district the property is practically valueless Instead of waiting the pleasure of capitalists, who would, besides, require generous grants, the Government purposes to convert part of its asset into a railway, thus giving a real value to the rest of it.

The legislation is as progressive as any ever proposed by a Provincial Government in Canada. Advocates of Government ownership will recognize in it a step towards the realization of their ends. The Ontario Ministers of the Crown have never talked much about Government ownership. But their actions are better than words.

WHAT'S THE HURRY?

(Toronto Star.)

A little girl writing from Peterborough to the Children's Corner of one of the Toronto papers says she is in the junior third book at school, and would have passed into the senior third at Christmas, but that she has had two fevers since the midsummer—scarlet and typhoid. And this child, who writes such a letter as an adult might write, and who would be in the senior third book at school but for having had two fevers in six months, is of the age of nine years.

Writing "clever" letters to the press at nine, contending with a series of fevers in the struggle to get into the senior third book, aiming to pass the entrance examination at ten or eleven — what is the purpose in setting children such a pace? By the prevailing system of hard grinding children are made to know everything before they understand anything. They memorize what they do not comprehend, and they mimic the tones and opinions of their seniors. They are not children, but little people, and they are not pleasant company for any except their teachers, with whom to admire them is a profession, and their parents, with whom it is an infirmity.

A boy of nine worrying by gaslight over a problem in arithmetic; a fond mother floundering to his aid, but, sinking herself in the slough, calling an able-bodied father to the rescue, and he, too, falling — the whole family routed in turn by a pesky question that never should have been put to the family at all but kept as a professional matter between the boy and his teacher—such scenes are enacted nearly every night in Toronto and in school sections all over the land. There is too much of it, and it is a wonder there are not more fevers of body and brain among school children.

NORTH MONAGHAN.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The council elect met last week in the Town Hall. There were present, Mr. T. E. Bradburn, the reeve, and Jonathan Smith, R. A. Dobbin, Jos. Madill and Geo. H. Hay, councillors.

After each had made and subscribed the statutory declarations of qualification and of office, the reeve called the meeting to order. In a few opening remarks Mr. Bradburn referred to the general feeling of satisfaction throughout the township as made evident by the return of the old council by acclamation, and hoped that during the present year the same satisfactory consideration would be given to the affairs of the township, having at all times due regard to an efficient and economical administration of all matters of public interest that might come before them.

The minutes of the meeting of Dec. 16th and Dec. 21st, 1901, were then read and confirmed.

Mr. David Trew appeared before and addressed the council. He asked to have a ditch dug near his place so as to prevent the water from overflowing upon his premises.

Mr. T. M. Hunter also addressed the council and asked that some united action by the local municipalities and county councils be taken to require the C.P.R. to put in effective cattle guards at the crossings along their tracks. Mr. Hunter stated his own experience of losses owing entirely to the nonefectiveness of the present cattle guards, and also referred to several similar cases within his personal knowledge of losses aggregating the total sum of probably $1,000 during the past year within the township. Mr. Hunter suggested the appointment of a large and influential committee to interview the county council at its approaching session and request them to memoralize the government as to the absolute necessity of forcing the erection of more secure cattle guards on railway crossings.

Communications were received and read from the following:

J. Ross Robertson, asking for a grant to the Hospital for Sick Children in Toronto.

From the Hamilton Bridge Works.

The Municipal World and the Municipal Guide, re subscriptions.

From the Peterborough Examiner and Peterborough Times Printing Co's. asking for the township printing for 1902.

From Thos. Williams, giving a report of sanitary work done by him during last year.

The township treasurer fyled the statement of taxes collected, and uncollected, as returned by the collector for 1901, as follows: Total amt. of roll, $4131.21; by amt. of rebates and remissions, $1634; by amt. collected and returned, $414.87; total, $4131.21.

Applications for office were received from Jas R Bell as auditor, and W Whitfield, as assessor.

Accounts were presented from the Review, $3.50; G W Bennett, postage, publishing minutes and Court of Revision, $11.56; John Monorief, refund of dog tax, declaration fyled, $1.

Moved by Messrs. Madill and May that Councillors Dobbin and Smith be a commission to look into Mr. Trew's grievance and to take action if found necessary.—Carried.

Moved by Messrs. May and Dobbin, that a commission of the whole council be hereby appointed to wait upon the whole council and solicit their co-operation respecting the cattle-guards on the C. P. R.—Carried.

Moved by Messrs. Smith and Madill that orders be drawn in payment of the accounts as presented.—Carried.

Moved by Messrs. Madill and May, that this council grant the sum of $5 to the Hospital for Sick Children, Toronto.—Carried.

Moved by Messrs. Madill and Dobbin, that Councillors Smith and Dobbin be a committee to let the township printing contract for 1902.—Carried.

Moved by Messrs. May and Smith, that an order be drawn on the treasurer for $10 in favour of Thos. Williams, salary as sanitary inspector for 1901.—Carried.

Moved by Messrs. Madill and May, that the taxes of Mrs. Close be remitted.—Carried.

Moved by Messrs. Madill and May that council meet in regular session on second Monday in each month for the ensuing year.—Carried.

Moved by Messrs. Madill and May, that the treasurer's statement of the taxes returned by the collector be received and accepted, and that an order be drawn for $41 in payment of collector's salary and postage for the year.—Carried.

On motion of Messrs. Madill and Smith, Bylaw No. 502, to appoint auditors; 503 to appoint a member of the Board of Health; 504 to appoint an assessor; 506 to appoint a caretaker; and 507 to appoint a sanitary inspector, were introduced and read a first time.

In committee of the whole council, the following appointments were made;

Auditors, W G Yelland and J. R Bell, at salary of $5.

Member of B of H—G H May for 3 years.

Assessor, Wm Whitfield, at salary of $30.

Caretaker, R T Sanderson, at salary of $7.

TWO HUNDRED LIVES LOST.

Exit Cut Off, Victims Burned to Death or Were Drowned.

Victoria, B.C., Jan. 21.—A disastrous and fatal fire is reported from Canton, where several hundred houses have been destroyed and a large number of lives lost. Some reports say 200. The Canton correspondent of The China Mail says: "A number of bodies have been recovered from an alley way, but the chief disaster occurred in and around a pond. It appears that the exit of the unfortunate people was cut off. The flames made escape impossible. In the rush and consternation some were burned to death and others trying to flee from the flames fell into the water and were drowned.

MEETS TERRIBLE MISHAP.

Brakeman Run Over at St. Thomas and Fearfully Mangled.

St. Thomas, Jan. 21.—James Porter, M.C. brakeman, met with a terrible accident at Hawtrey early yesterday morning. He was attending to a hot journal when an engine, which had been taking water, shunted against the cars, the wheels passing over both his legs at the ankle. He was brought here to the hospital, where the left leg was amputated below the knee. The right leg was terribly crushed.

Reward of Merit.

A New Catarrh Cure Secures National Popularity in Less than One Year.

Throughout a great nation of eighty million it is a desperate struggle to secure even a recognition for a new article to say nothing of achieving popular favour, and yet within one year Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, the new catarrh cure, has met with such success that to-day it can be found in every drug store throughout the United States and Canada.

To be sure a large amount of advertising was necessary in the first instance to bring the remedy to the attention of the public, but everyone familiar with the subject knows that advertising alone never made any article permanently successful. It must have in addition absolute, undeniable merit, and this the new catarrh cure certainly possesses in a marked degree.

Physicians, who formerly depended upon inhalers, sprays and local washes or ointments, now use Stuart's Catarrh Tablets because, as one of the most prominent stated, these tablets contain in pleasant, convenient form all the really efficient catarrh remedies, such as red gum, blood root and similar antiseptics.

They contain no cocaine nor opiate, and are given to the little children with entire safety and benefit.

Dr. J. J. Reitiger, of Covington, Ky., says: "I suffered from catarrh in my head and throat every fall, with stoppage of the nose and irritation in the throat affecting my voice and often extending to the stomach, causing catarrh of the stomach. I bought a fifty cent package of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets at my druggist's, carried them in my pocket and used them faithfully, and the way in which they cleared my head and throat was certainly remarkable. I had no catarrh last winter and spring and consider myself entirely free from any catarrhal trouble."

Mrs. Jerome Ellison, of Wheeling, W. Va., writes: "I suffered from catarrh nearly my whole life and last winter my two children also suffered from catarrhal colds and sore throat so much they were out of school a large portion of the winter. My brother who was cured of catarrhal deafness by using Stuart's Catarrh Tablets urged me to try them so much that I did so and am truly thankful for what they have done for myself and my children. I always keep a box of the tablets in the house and at the first appearance of a cold or sore throat we nip it in the bud and catarrh is no longer a household affliction with us."

Full sized packages of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are sold for fifty cents at all druggists.

Send for book on cause and cure of catarrh mailed free. Address, F. A Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.

BRITAIN AND HER COLONIES.

London Times Sees Seriousness of the Newfoundland Position.

London, Jan. 21.—The Times yesterday commenting on the letter of a correspondent dealing with the position of Newfoundland, says: "Every Englishman who cares for the welfare and solidarity of the Empire must regret the misunderstanding existing between the Admiralty at London and the colony concerning the naval reserve which the latter desires, but it is idle to deny that a very large question is involved, that of colonial contributions to the Imperial defence. Such contributions must be spontaneous, entirely voluntary and must be the expression of a conviction that the British fleet is maintained as much for his defence as for ours.

MR. PENSE NOMINATED.

Kingston Liberals' Candidate For the Legislature—An Enthusiastic and United Convention—Mr. Pense Accepts.

Kingston, Jan. 21.—The Liberals, amid marked enthusiasm and at a gathering remarkable for its numbers and fervor, last night nominated Mr. Edward J. B. Pense as their standard-bearer for the Ontario Legislature. Mr. Pense is the proprietor of The Whig, a stalwart Liberal, a loyal Kingstonian, and a man of fine personality. The Liberals feel they have a strong man in Mr Pense. The convention met in The Whig Hall under the presidency of Mr. John McKelvey, who urged that a strong man be selected to aid Premier Ross in the Legislature. He asked the opinion of the meeting, whether it desired to have an open nomination or to act through delegates. With one voice an open nomination was agreed to. Ald. J. M. Farrell, in graceful and eloquent terms, placed the name of Mr. E. J. B. Pense before the meeting. He dwelt on the public service Mr. Pense had performed in the past, his indomitable zeal in all public enterprises and the great benefits he had brought to the city. He was ever ready to join in anything for Kingston's advancement. He was one of its most devoted citizens. He had filled many offices in civic, charitable and commercial spheres, and always with credit and advantage to the institutions with which he was associated. His business capacity, his enterprise and his public spirit were evidenced in the strides made by his paper, The Whig, to-day the leading Liberal paper of eastern Ontario. He was a fair, true, able journalist, loyal to Liberalism, loyal to Kingston, generous to foe or friend, honored and esteemed in all circles, and to his mind was an ideal candidate, and with a united party at his back he was sure they would be victorious in any contest upon which they entered.

Many others spoke in like strain, and the nomination was given what it hardly required the official declaration of the chairman.

Unfortunately, Mr. Pense was also confined to his home by a severe cold, and it was decided to send a deputation to see him. President McKelvey and Messrs. Farrell and Bermingham were chosen. While they were away the meeting enjoyed speeches, recitations and music, and on their return Mr. McKelvey said: "We have seen Mr. Pense and he has consented to accept the nomination at your hands." The acceptance was the occasion for much applause, Ald. Farrell and Mr. Pense had also written to them, and he read the document:

"Dear Mr. President,—By doctor's orders I am compelled to remain in bed, and cannot be with the Liberals this evening, as I had earnestly hoped. There is so much to say in the way of thanks for the cordial as well as earnest and unanimous way in which my name has been advanced for candidature, that it would have been an uncommon satisfaction to have had the privilege of speaking my gratitude to the convention. You could have placed me under no stronger obligation than by expressing in solid ranks your confidence and good-will in me as your standard-bearer. On behalf of a Government faithful and successful beyond precedent, I will have before me, beside a natural pride of representation, a constant desire to be worthy in some measure of the highly generous support. Two political contests lie before us, but the unity shown must inspire confidence. I trust that I may emerge from this short and unaccustomed indisposition with greater energy to work for a good cause and a great party. May the circle of good feeling and enthusiasm be unbroken until we in Kingston have gloriously completed our part in laying the foundation of the new Parliament on the old lines that have made Ontario grateful and prosperous."

The meeting roared their appreciation of Mr. Pense's utterances, and the gathering, after expressing determination to fight to a finish, closed with cheers for Pense, Laurier, Ross and the King. It is expected that the Speaker will at once issue his writ for the bye-election, with nomination on Jan. 30th and election a week later. The Conservatives are now considering whether it will be advisable to contest the bye-election.

LIBERALS CELEBRATE.

Great Gathering of West York Stalwarts at Weston.

Weston, Jan. 21.—A note of exultation ran through every speech which was heard at the annual meeting of the Liberal Association of West York at Weston yesterday and at the annual banquet which followed last night. Not for many years have the Liberals of the riding had the opportunity of placing at the head of their menu card the photographs of "our M.P." and "our M.P.P." respectively, and to the stalwart Liberals of the riding the excellent photographs of Mr. Arch. Campbell and Mr. W. J. Hill at the head of the card served as a piquant sauce to the many good things with which the tables were laden in the large hall of the Eagle House. There was a scene of wild enthusiasm when Mr. Campbell, who was somewhat late in arriving, entered the room, escorted by Mr. W. J. Hill, M.P.P., and Mr. A. J. Anderson, to the tune of "The Campbells Are Coming." Cheers for Mr. Campbell and Mr. Hill followed. At the banquet, in addition to the local M.P. and M.P.P., Hon. E. J. Davis made an excellent speech.

COSTLY MIDNIGHT CONFLAGRATION.

The Crystal Block was Consumed Last Night.

MISS RUDKIN'S HEAVY LOSS.

Messrs. W. G. Howden, H. Long and Pete Simons Also Suffer—The Cause of the Fire is Unknown—Firemen did Excellent Work.

At twelve o'clock last night fire was discovered in the Crystal Block, George street, almost opposite the Examiner Office. An alarm was quickly sent in and the brigade responded promptly, but so great was the headway that the fire had attained that all efforts to subdue the flames in this particular building proved abortive.

The town clock had just finished striking twelve when the fire was first discovered. The smoke was bulging out of the roof, and the windows, while the noise of the cracking of the plate glass windows was sufficient to awaken those whose sleeping apartments were within any reasonable distance of the burning building. The fire had to all appearances, originated at the rear of the building, and had worked its way into the second and third stories.

The Crystal Block, which is owned by the Toronto Savings and Loan Company, was divided into two stores. The apartment to the north was occupied by Miss Rudkins as a drygoods and millinery establishment. She also occupied the second and third floors of the entire block. The store to the south was occupied by Mr. W. G. Howden, as a meat market. The doors of Miss Rudkins' establishment were not even opened. It was useless to attempt such a thing, as everything was enveloped in the fiery element.

The Crystal Block is a complete wreck, being entirely gutted, and nothing but the walls remain.

The waterworks were in excellent order, and several streams were kept playing on the seething furnace. The contents appeared to be of a very inflamable nature and the sight for a while, though costly, was beautiful. The firemen worked heroically to prevent the flames from spreading to the adjoining business houses, but Mr. Harry Long's building to the north was damaged to a considerable extent. Mr. Long and his employees who reside in the apartments above the store had been awakened by the noise of breaking glass and the dense smoke which had found its way into the rooms. They immediately took their departure and it was only a short while until their quarters were drenched with water. Several times Mr. Long's building caught fire, but the flames were promptly extinguished. The building to the south, which is occupied by Pete Simons & Son., was damaged by water and smoke. It was about two o'clock when the fire was completely under control and the handsome crystal block was a smouldering mass of ruins. The firemen did excellent work and succeeded in keeping the flames well within bounds.

MISS RUDKINS' LOSS.

Miss Rudkins assigned some time ago, but the business has been carried on under her management. The stock, which was valued at $5,000, was only insured for $2,500. The Western carried the policy.

Mr. Harry Long suffered more than one might suppose by the fire. His premises are badly water-soaked and the building is also damaged by fire. Mr. Long's loss will be in the neighbourhood of $4,500, being made up as follows:—Damage on building $3,000, furniture $1,000, stock $500. There is $3,500 insurance on the building, there is also insurance on the furniture and stock. Mr. Long's business will continue without interruption. Orders may be sent in to Mr. James Long's establishment and Mr. Long expects to open up in the vacant store one door north of his present premises in the course of a day or two.

The Crystal Block is owned by the Toronto Savings and Loan Co., and was valued at $15,000. There is insurance to the extent of $6,500 in the Western.

The cause of the fire is a complete mystery.

One of the plate glass windows in Mr. A. H. Stratton & Co's store was broken by the intense heat.

NOTES.

Mr. Howden's loss which consisted of stock on hand, fixtures, etc., amounts to about $1,000, and is fully covered by insurance.

The new extension ladder of the Fire Department came in very acceptably.

Mr. Pete Simons' loss is estimated at $500 and is covered by insurance.

There was quite a large attendance at the fire.

Mr. Howden has made arrangements to open out to-morrow in Denoon's old stand, corner of George and Brock streets.

Messrs. McBurney and Hyde, of the Canadian General Electric Co., did yeoman service on the ladders.

CATHEDRAL WEDDINGS.

Three That Occurred Within the Past Two Days—The Contracting Parties.

A quiet wedding took place at St. Peter's Cathedral yesterday evening, the contracting parties being Mr. Edward Flaherty, of town, and Mrs. Catherine Lynch. The nuptial knot was tied by Rev. Father McColl. The bride's maid was Miss M. Sullivan, and the groomsman, Mr. Frances Buck.

At 8 o'clock this morning the marriage occurred of Mr. Patrick Flaherty, of Otonabee, to Miss Annie Crowley, daughter of Mr. David Crowley, also of Otonabee. The bride was supported by her sister, Miss Catharine Crowley, whilst Mr. Michael O'Brien supported the groom.

At 9 o'clock mass still another wedding took place at the Cathedral. Mr. Michael Hefferman, of Otonabee, was united in marriage to Miss Margaret Doherty, daughter of Mr. John Doherty also of Otonabee. Miss Mary Ann Doherty attended the bride and the groom was supported by Mr. Thos. Powers.

KICKED IN THE FACE.

A Horse Inflicts Severe Injuries on Mr. James Cullen.

Mr. James E. Cullen, George street, is suffering from the effects of a kick from a horse and may be confined to his residence for some time.

He was putting away his team when one of the horses got loose and ran from the stable out into the yard. As he approached to catch it the animal wheeled and kicked Mr. Cullen in the left side of the face. One of the sharp calks cut in near his eye, the other catching in his chin. The wounds were dressed by Dr. Caldwell and Mr. Cullen is progressing favourably towards recovery although his face is badly swollen and gives him much pain.

MR. POTTER'S ADDRESS

To the Members of George Street League Last Night.

The George street Epworth League was favoured at its regular meeting last evening with an excellent address from Rev. J. G. Potter, of St. Andrew's church. The topic for the evening was "Caleb, Choosing a Hard Thing." The many good lessons to be derived from this strong Bible character were forcibly brought out by Mr. Potter in his address. Preceding the address a Bible reading on the subject was conducted by the President, Mr. Stubbs.

The musical part of the programme was of special interest, including a selection by the League choir, a trio by Messrs. Thewlis, Maguire and Doidge, and a vocal solo by Miss Clara Belleghem.

Next Monday evening's meeting is in the hands of the Missionary Committee, and an interesting programme is being arranged on the subject, "Africa."

NATIVE BIRDS OF CANADA.

A Treat for the Teachers and Pupils of the Ashburnham School.

On Saturday evening, January 18, Mr. R. B. Rogers entertained the teachers and senior pupils of Ashburnham public school by a series of excellent lantern views of the "Native Birds of Canada." As each picture was thrown on the screen, Mr. Elcome gave some remarks on the habits and peculiarities of the bird. In this way a very profitable hour was spent. Previously to the presentation of the views, a pleasant time was spent in games of various kinds. The gathering was held in the Ashburnham Town Hall.

The pupils of the school are busily engaged in practising for the school concert on Friday, January 31st. It promises to be unusually interesting.

LITTLE LAKE CEMETERY CO.

Mr. W. H. Moore was Re-elected President.

ANNUAL MEETING YESTERDAY

Superintendent Foord's Annual Report —The Old Directors Were Re-elected —A Telephone to be Installed.

The annual meeting of the Little Lake Cemetery Company was held in the town council chamber yesterday afternoon, when reports of the past year were received and officers elected for the ensuing year.

There were present, Messrs. W. H. Moore, chairman; E. A. Peck, sec.-treas.; Dr. Burnham, R. M. Dennistoun, T. A. S. Hay, Chas. Stapleton, Benj. Shortly, J. J. Lundy, Jas. Stevenson, T. E. Bradburn, Jas. English, E. A. Peck, Wm. Cocks, W. H. Foord and Frank Wise.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and on motion confirmed.

DIRECTOR'S REPORT.

The chairman read the following report of the directors for the year:

To the shareholders of the Little Lake Cemetery Company:

The Directors of the Company have to present the following report for the past year:

When your Directors came into office a year ago, there was to the credit of the Company in Bank the sum of $2,-604.00. Shortly afterwards they obtained $3,000 of Town Debentures, thus making the Company's investment fund $10,000, which is intended as a nucleus for a fund, the income of which will maintain the grounds in future years, when the present annual income may become much decreased.

Your Directors have also purchased a parcel of land near the cemetery gate at a net cost of $450.00, which they thought it wise to secure to provide a site for the superintendent's residence, at a future date, and thereby enable the Company to utilize the valuable lands covered by the present residence and outbuildings for cemetery purposes. Your Directors have also had constructed a concrete sidewalk, four feet wide, from the entrance gate to the superintendent's residence and from there to the chapel at an expense of $400.00.

The gross receipts of the year exceed the expenditure on all accounts, and the balance in Bank to the credit of the Company at the commencement of this year was the sum of $807.11.

A detailed statement of expenditure and receipts of the year is shown in the auditor's and superintendent's reports, which will be submitted to you.

Substantial improvements of various kinds have been made in the grounds during the past year, particulars of which are given in the superintendent's report, which will be laid before the meeting.

Your directors much regret to have to report the resignation of the Company's superintendent, Mr. W. H. Foord, which took effect on the first instant, and they have in acknowledgment of his efficient and faithful services, covering a period of ten years, during which he has shown a personal interest and zeal that we trust may be found in future superintendents, supplemented his salary during the past year by the sum of $50.00.

Your directors have appointed Mr. Frank Wise as superintendent in place of Mr. Foord at a salary of $550.00 and a free house.

W. H. MOORE,
President, L.L.C. Co.

Peterborough, Jan. 20th, 1902.

The report was adopted on motion of Mr. Bradburn, seconded by Dr. Burnham.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

The report of the Superintendent, Mr. W. H. Foord, was read by that gentleman as follows:

Peterborough, Jan. 20, 1902.

To the President, Directors, and Shareholders of the Little Lake Cemetery Company,—

Gentlemen, —I beg to submit the following report of the improvements made during the year ending Dec. 31st, 1901.

A concrete walk 480 feet long and 4 feet wide, with gutter of same material, 18 inches wide, was laid from the entrance to the office; also a concrete walk 98 feet long and 4 feet wide from the office to the chapel. Twelve walks in Section A were filled in and sodded over, which will save considerable expense in hoeing and keeping free from weeds, and which will improve the landscape very much. Additional special lots in Section I ..... been graded up, the terraces sodded and lots seeded down.

Seven hundred feet of drains, 6 feet deep were laid with tile, in the walks in Section D from ranges 9 to 16, and marble lot markers placed where the wooden posts were rotted out on part of Section D, thus laying it out in blocks of from 4 to 8 lots each between the markers.

The trees along Crescent street and throughout the grounds were thoroughly pruned, which admitted light much needed for the growth of grass and greatly improved the general view and appearance of the grounds.

The lands recently purchased at the corner of Haggart and Crescent streets near the Cemetery gate, have been graded, which greatly improves the entrance to the cemetery.

An addition to the waterworks was made from Section Q to Section L. The waterworks system now in the cemetery is one of which the shareholders may well congratulate themselves, it being the most complete and effective I have met with in the best cemeteries either in Canada or the United States. All of the grounds where burials have been made can now be reached with 50 feet of hose with a pressure of water of 75 to 90 pounds.

I would respectfully recommend that during the coming season Sections R and Y be graded down to the grade of Section L and laid out in special lots, as this class of lots is in much demand, and are a good source of revenue for the Cemetery Company; that additional drains be made on the north side of Section C to intersect the present drain on Ravine Avenue; the paths on Section H filled in and sodded over, and all grave markers in the single grave plot be laid flat on the graves or placed low enough in the ground to allow the mowers to pass over them, for besides being a great detriment in cutting the grass, so many headstones make the cemetery appear more like a marble yard than a well-kept cemetery.

In severing my connection with the Little Lake Cemetery Company permit me to make acknowledgment of the great and unvarying kindness I have ever received at the hands of the directors and all interested in the cemetery.

I shall always look back to my nearly twelve years' service as your Superintendent, with feelings of the deepest pride at the progress that has been made in lasting improvements and in beautifying the grounds, unequalled in Ontario, which could never have been brought about, however great had been my zeal, except for the ever-present supervision, assistance and encouragement given by the directors.

WILL ORGANIZE.

Another Meeting of the Controllers of Power on the Otonabee.

The following letter has been sent out by Mr. Arthur Stevenson, Sec. pro tem., of the Trent Valley Power Association.

Dear Sir,—A meeting of the above Association will be held on Friday next, January 24th, at the Town Council Chamber, Peterborough, at 2 o'clock, p. m., for the purpose of completing the organization of the Association.

It may be explained that a preliminary meeting of the principal owners of water power on the Otonabee River was held on Saturday last, 18th inst., and the meeting to be held as above is called pursuant to instructions.

As the object of the association is the conservation and judicious distribution of the waters tributary to the Otonabee river, all owners of power have a direct interest in the matter and it is hoped will be present. It is important that a special effort be made and that the attendance be large.

Yours respectfully,
A. STEVENSON,

Railroad Men's Backache.

Men who work on the railroad whether in the capacity of engineers, firemen, machinists or trackmen, find that the heavy work they do and the exposure to change of weather and temperature very hard on their back and kidneys.

There are few railroadmen who do not complain of kidney trouble in some form.

Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets have proved themselves the greatest benefactors of all classes of railroad men. They give ease to the aching, sore back, clear up the urine, relieve the scalding and burning, and impart new life and vitality to the urinary organs.

PLASTERS NO GOOD.

Mrs. Mary Wilson, living on Albert Street, Sarnia, Ont., has confidence in Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets. Her son George, employed as a machinist on the Grand Trunk R.R., has been cured of lumbago by using them. Mrs. Wilson said: "Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets that I brought my son from Geary's drug store has cured him of that constant pain and lameness in the back that caused him the greatest misery. He had tried plasters and other remedies, but nothing gave him the permanent relief obtained from these Tablets. The whole difficulty has quite disappeared and with it the accompanying weariness and lack of energy. He has no headaches nor kidney trouble, but is enjoying perfect health. I can honestly recommend these Tablets to anyone having any trouble with their backs."

Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets are 50c. a Box, at all druggists or by mail, THE DR. ZIRA PITCHER CO., Toronto, Ont.

A Time for Everything.

The time for Dr Thomas' Eclectric Oil is when croupy symptoms appear in the children; when rheumatic pains beset the old; when lumbago, asthma, coughs, colds, catarrh or earache attack either young or old; when burns, scalds, abrasions, contusions or sprains come to any member of the family. In any of these ailments it will give relief and work a cure.

GOVERNOR KILLED.

Colombian Insurgents Make a Determined Attempt to Force a Landing in Panama Harbor—The Lantaro Sunk.

Colon, Colombia, Jan. 21.—A naval battle began at 6 o'clock yesterday morning in the harbor of Panama. The revolutionary fleet consists of the steamers Padilla, Darien and Gaitan. They are trying to force a landing off Sabana.

The Government ships are the Chilian Line steamer Lantaro (seized by Gen. Alban); the Pacific Steam Navigation Company's steamer Chicuito (chartered by Gen. Alban), and the Panama Canal Company's steamer Boyaca (also chartered by the Colombian Government).

The guns at Las Bovedas are also firing at the rebel ships. The Government forces are throwing up entrenchments.

The United States cruiser Philadelphia is close to the scene of the fighting.

The Governor Killed.

A later despatch said the steamer Lantaro was sunk, her crew rebelling. The fight lasted all day, and the Governor, Gen. Alban was killed.

Regret For Gen. Alban.

Washington, Jan. 21.—At the Colombian legation great regret is expressed by the city officials at the death of Gen. Alban, the Governor of Panama. He was about 50 years of age and a man of brilliant attainments. Formerly he had been Attorney-General of Colombia.

AGITATION IN IRELAND.

Nationalist Campaign Is Not Checked by Recent Prosecutions.

London, Jan. 21.—The Times' correspondent at Dublin reports that the progress of the revised plan of campaign in the west of Ireland has not been appreciably checked by the recent prosecution of certain members of Parliament and other agitators.

Speaking after the sale of the goods of a tenant for refusing to pay rent in Boscommon, John O'Donnell, M.P., over whose head two convictions for bringing about an illegal assembly are hanging, said that notwithstanding all the Government efforts, a fire had been started in the north and west of Ireland which would make such a conflagration as would burn all the landlords to blazes.

As a Cure For Piles

Dr. Chase's Ointment Never Disappoints—It Has Won World-wide Fame on Account of its Magical Control Over the Most Severe Cases of Itching, Bleeding and Protruding Piles.

Doctors may tell you that nothing short of a surgical operation will cure piles. In this they are mistaken, as we can prove in a host of cases where Dr. Chase's Ointment has been used. It is not infrequent that people tell us that Dr. Chase's Ointment has succeeded in effecting a cure after operations had failed. There is too much risk in a surgical operation, too much suffering and too much expense. If you take the advice of scores and hundreds of your friends and neighbours, you will avoid operations, and resort to the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment. It will relieve you almost at once. It will thoroughly cure you in a remarkably short time.

Mr. J. Wolfe, Arnprior, Ontario, states:—"I have used Dr. Chase's Ointment for piles, and can assure the public that there was never anything on the market to equal it. I was disappointed time and time again when trying remedies for the ailment, and you can scarcely imagine my gratitude when I found that Dr. Chase's Ointment was an effective and thorough cure for this ailment. From the first application this magical ointment gave me relief, and a few boxes perfectly cured me. Since being cured of piles I always keep Dr. Chase's Ointment in the house and find it useful in scores of ways as a treatment for every form of itching skin, chafing and skin irritations."

Dr. Chase's Ointment is indeed useful in scores of ways, as Mr. Wolfe says, and people who once make the acquaintance of Dr. Chase's Ointment are loath to be without it in the house. For pimples, blackheads, eczema, salt rheum, chapped hands and face, chilblains and each and every form of raw, itching of chafed skin, it is an incomparable treatment. It is especially recommended as a cure for piles, because it is, so far as we know, the only actual and guaranteed cure for every form of this wretched and loathsome disease. 60 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. 11

Wronged Husband Is Dead.

Hanover, Jan. 20.—Landrath Von Bennigsen, who fought a duel with Herr Falkenhagen in the Emperor's hunting park on Thursday, has died from his wounds. They fought with pistols, at ten paces. The duel arose from a scandal relating to Herr Falkenhagen and Von Bennigsen's wife, which induced the injured husband to demand reparation.

Pain in the Back

Makes life miserable. Can it be cured? Yes, in one night. Polson's Nerviline gives a complete knock out to pain in the back, for it penetrates through the tissues, takes out the soreness and pain, invigorates the tired muscles and makes you feel like a new man. Nerviline cures quickly, because it is stronger, more penetrating, more highly pain-subduing than any other remedy. Don't suffer another minute; get Nerviline quick and rub it in and as sure as you live it will cure you. 25c.

The Father Now Accused.

Ottawa, Jan. 20.—James Geucher of Kippewa has been arrested and lodged in Bryson jail on the charge of murdering his 15-year-old son, who was found dead in bed from gunshot wounds. The hired man was at first suspected of the deed, but the detectives now claim to have strong evidence against the father.

Twain and the Rivermen.

Mark Twain once told to a party of friends the following story on himself: On one occasion when he started on a trip down the Mississippi river on a flatboat he was advised never to answer the questions asked by rivermen on other boats and never to bandy words with them, as he would be sure always to come out second best. He followed the advice religiously for a time, but one day he thought he saw a chance to get the better of a riverman who called out:

"Hey, thar, what yer loaded with?"

"Jackasses. Don't you want to come aboard?" yelled back Twain.

"That's whut I reckoned, seein' as how they let ther biggest donkey bev ther run of the deck!" came back. Twain made a dive below as all the rivermen in the neighborhood set up a derisive laugh at his expense.

ENLIGHTENED THE COURT.

A Story of Lord Morris' Daring as an Advocate.

Lord Morris possessed an almost inexhaustible fund of humor, which, it may be said, was not always appreciated in the house of lords. The following story is perhaps illustrative of his daring as an advocate rather than his qualities as a humorist: On one occasion an irritable judge interrupted him in the middle of a law argument by saying testily, "I don't understand a single word, sir, of your notice of motion."

"Not a single word?" said young Morris. "That is very unfortunate, my lord. I must endeavor to explain." Young Morris then read over the notice of motion with exaggerated emphasis. "Sir: Take notice that on April 6, or on the first opportunity thereafter, counsel on behalf of the plaintiff will apply to this honorable court for an order that," and so on. "Now, my lord, to proceed with my explanation. 'Sir.' That, my lord, is the monosyllabic mode of address adopted by the solicitor for the plaintiff to the solicitor for the defendant. It is curt, my lord, and indicates that the parties are now at arm's length; but it is not discourteous, nor does it preclude the possibility of friendly private relations between the solicitors. 'Take notice.' This, your lordship will observe, is in the nature of a warning. The object is that the solicitor shall be prepared for the application, and, above all, that he shall have an opportunity to instruct and fee counsel to resist the motion. 'On April 6.' That day is now past, my lord, and therefore unavailable for the making of this motion. 'Or on the first opportunity thereafter.' That, my lord, is the present occasion. 'Counsel on behalf of the plaintiff.' That, my lord, is the humble individual who appears before you. 'Will apply to this honorable court.' That is the learned and courteous judge whom I have the honor to address. 'For an order.' That, my lord"—

But the judge had heard enough. "Go on with your motion, Mr. Morris," he said, joining in the general laughter. "I have learned my lesson."—London Law Times.

FLOWER AND TREE.

A single leaf of the orange tree carefully planted will often take root and grow.

Rosin and tallow in equal parts make an excellent covering for wounds in fruit trees.

"Belting" a tree—that is, killing it by destroying the bark in a circle around the trunk—injures it for lumber.

In transplanting trees all roots that have become bruised or broken should be cut clean away behind the broken part.

A pan of water kept steaming in the stove will keep the atmosphere in good condition for the growth of house plants during the winter.

Trees should always be trimmed when young and growing in such a manner that there will be no necessity for cutting off large limbs.

Wood mold, provided it is fine and free from roots and sticks, with the addition of a little well rotted compost, makes a splendid soil for the pots or boxes in which to grow the house plants in winter.

Orchards generally produce full crops only every other year. This is because the full crop of one year so exhausts the fruit producing qualities of the soil that it is not able to make a full crop the next year.

The Linseed Poultice.

A dispensary doctor in the Emerald Isle is expected to dispense many things besides drugs.

His life is certainly not a bed of roses. These people are woefully ignorant, yet no Irishman likes to confess to want of adequate knowledge.

One day I ordered a linseed poultice to be put on an old man's chest. The next morning he was no better, and I was accused of incompetency.

"I put the plaister to him, your honor," said his wife, "though he spit an' spit like a big snail. But it ain't done no good! An', docthor, honey, it was a big dose!"

Then I realized Mrs. Moultan's method of pouliticing her good man's chest. She had applied the soft mass internally!

Another time I compounded (we are our own dispensers in the Isle of Destiny) a box of pills for "brown kitties." The result of grinding these with a big stone and wearing the powder as a charm was not satisfactory. My verdict as "c'rowner" certified "natural causes." It should have been given as "crass ignorance."—Good Words.

Untrustworthy Man.

Mabel—I must say that for absolute untrustworthiness there's nothing like a man.

Kate—Why, what makes you say that?

Mabel—Well, you remember when I rejected Mr. Bullfinch about three weeks ago?

Kate—Yes.

Mabel—Well, he said he should certainly pine away and die and I should be his murderess. Now I just met him in the street walking with another girl, and actually I believe the fellow has gained twenty pounds in weight.

Where It Didn't Count.

"Do you really think it paid to give Josh all this education?" asked Farmer Corntossel.

"Course I do," answered the fond mother. "It's wuth money to know better 'n to say 'crops are bad' instid o' 'crops is bad.'"

"Well, if you say so, I reckon it's all right. But I can't say as I see how it kin make any difference in the crops."—Washington Star.

A noted London club man once laid a wager with a friend that the latter could not sell a given number of gold guineas at a penny a piece. He won his wager. The people refused to buy. They thought he was offering too much for too little.

It may be that the claims made for Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription seem almost too great to women who in years of suffering have found no help in doctors or medicines. But it is to be remembered that no claim is made for "Favorite Prescription" which is not substantiated by thousands of women cured by its use. Its effects are truly wonderful. It wipes out past years of pain as a sponge wipes a slate.

Favorite Prescription is the great medicine for women. It establishes regularity, dries enfeebling drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It is the best preparative for maternity, making the baby's advent practically painless.

"When I wrote to you in March, asking advice as to what to do for myself," says Mrs. Ella Reynolds, of Guffie, McLean Co., Ky., "I was expecting to become a mother in June, and was sick all of the time. Had been sick for several months. Could not get anything to stay in my stomach, not even water. Had mishaps twice in six months, and threatening all the time with this one. Had female weakness for several years. My hips, back and lower bowels hurt me all the time. Had numbness from my hips down. Had several hard cramping spells, and was not able to do any work at all. I received your answer in a few days, telling me to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I took three bottles, and before I had taken it a week I was better, and before I had taken it a month I was able to help do my work. On the 27th of May my baby was born, and I was only sick three hours, and had an easy time.

"We praise Dr. Pierce's medicine for it has cured me."

Dr. Pierce's Pellets cure biliousness.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only medicine that will cure Diabetes. Like Bright's Disease this disease was incurable until Dodd's Kidney Pills cured it. Doctors themselves confess that without Dodd's Kidney Pills they are powerless against Diabetes. Dodd's Kidney Pills are the first medicine that ever cured Diabetes. SORE NECK

Take Scott's Emulsion for scrofula. Children often have sores on the neck that won't heal up. The sores may come and go. Parents may not know what's the matter nor what to do. Scrofula is the trouble and Scott's Emulsion is the medicine.

Scott's Emulsion heals the sores. But that is not all. Scrofula leads to consumption. This is the real danger.

Scott's Emulsion is the "ounce of prevention" that keeps off consumption.

FOOLED THE COLONEL.

The Way Paddy Brannigan Outmaneuvered His Superior.

The colonel, or "Old Daddy," as he was usually called, had a habit of strolling round the camps at most unseasonable hours. Sentries had to be continually on the alert, for nothing would have given "Old Daddy" greater satisfaction than to have pounced on some luckless one who might think the midnight hours suitable for a quiet snooze.

Paddy Brannigan made that mistake once. There in the quiet moonlight he sat, all unconscious of the colonel's presence, his rifle laid against the tent, himself buried in slumber. Gently the rifle was lifted from its place. But some good angel awoke Paddy in time to see the colonel making his way to the guard tent. Paddy missed his rifle at once and followed the colonel with the caution of a prairie cat.

Outside the guard tent stood the wooden rack which held the rifles of the guard, and into it "Old Daddy" placed Paddy's rifle, himself entering the tent to call the sergeant in charge. This was Paddy's opportunity. He grabbed his rifle and was back at his post in an instant. The colonel brought the sergeant outside and ordered him to count the rifles.

"All correct, sir," said the sergeant.

"Nothing of the sort. There is an extra rifle there. That I am certain of, for I put it there myself."

"I beg your pardon, sir, but the number is quite correct," again replied the somewhat amazed sergeant.

"Come with me—come with me this instant, and I'll soon let you see what I mean."

The sergeant followed his chief, wondering what was going to happen.

"Halt! Who goes there?" rang out clear and sharp in the night air from the now wideawake Paddy.

This was more than "Old Daddy" had ever dreamed of. For a moment he was paralyzed. Then he marched straight up to Paddy, gazed into his sweetly innocent face and, with a "Well, I'm blowed," turned on his heel and vanished.

How to Teach a Pet to Ride a Ball.

Many readers have doubtless seen bears standing on a rolling ball and maintaining their balance perfectly while rolling it about the arena. I have a bear who delights to do the trick. He can scarcely wait for his time to come to perform. He was taught, as they are all taught, by jogging his pedestal while he tried to keep from being jostled off. Gradually the pedestal was substituted for a ball with many flat places on it, and this was followed by a perfect sphere. He has been performing two years now, and I have never known him to slip and fall off.—Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly.

Both Sides.

Johnnie—What does it mean by "seeing the humorous and the serious side of things?"

Father—Well, my son, take a bit of orange peel, for example. How many sides has it?

Johnnie—Why, two, of course.

Father—Exactly. And when some other man steps on that orange peel he sees the serious side of it and you see the humorous side.—London Tit-Bits.

A LESSON IN CHESS.

Why Willie's Pupa Ended It Almost Before It Was Begun.

Paterfamilias, with a laudable desire to keep Willie at home at night, offered to teach him to play chess. The boy was delighted, and the game began.

"Put the little ones, pawns, all along the front and the big ones behind, as I show you."

"I think that is cowardly. The big ones ought to be in front. Ma says"—

"Oh, but that is the rule. Now, see—no; put that rook in the corner."

"Rook! What's a rook?"

"It is a kind of bird."

"Well, that ain't a bird. It looks like a castle."

"Call it a castle, then—and put the knight next"—

"Why is that called a knight? It looks like a horse's head."

"And then the bishop," went on paterfamilias, ignoring the question; "so, and then"—

"Why is the bishop's head split in two, pop?"

"Oh, that is his hat—a cardinal's hat."

"But I thought he was a bishop!"

"A cardinal is also a bishop. Now don't talk so much, Willie. Then you put the king and queen"—

"The queen is bigger than the king, pop!"

"Well, so she is. Who said she wasn't?" said paterfamilias, with a trace of impatience in his tone. "And then another bishop; so."

"Why are there two bishops, pop?"

"Because the rules say so. Now, I shall move first."

"What, after all that trouble, are you going to move them again?"

"Say, Willie, I believe my head is aching. I shall show you the rest some other time," said paterfamilias as he swept the men into the box.

Medical Science Advances.

It is not more than half a century ago that physicians considered a surgical operation with its risk, expense and pain as the only cure for piles. To-day it is only the out of date doctors that think of such treatment. It is cruel and extravagant to operate for a disease which is far more certainly cured by the application of Dr. Chase's Ointment. You may be skeptical, but for proof you are referred to tens of thousands of cases that have been cured by this famous preparation.

Theater Audiences.

Have you ever noticed that theater audiences always assemble in the reverse order to the prices of admission? The cheapest seats are occupied first and the most expensive ones last.

Those who go to the extreme back upper perches are always on hand before the doors are open and wait with heroic patience to be admitted. Those who occupy the seats a little lower in position and a little higher in price come next. Then the balcony begins to fill from the back downward, from 75 cents a seat in the back rows, through $1 and $1.50 to $2 down in front.

On the orchestra floor is the same condition of affairs, those who occupy the most expensive seats entering just before the curtain rises or shortly after it is up, while the boxes are usually not occupied until the first act is well under way.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

HOCKEY

The latest surprise in hockey circles is that the game which was to have take place to-night against Lindsay has been cancelled. Lindsay has been thrown out by the O.H.A. for playing a man they should not have played and the games in which Lindsay figured in the series do not count at all. This leaves the Peterborough and Port Hope teams on the same footing. They will play home and home games with each other and in case these result in a tie, the third game will be played on neutral ice. It therefore behooves the locals to turn out to practice. It is up to the Peterborough public to give the boys that assistance they have been accorded in times past and when on Friday night they face the men from the south every legitimate means should be employed to bring victory to the local colours. The game on Friday night will be well worth witnessing. There is keen rivalry between the Peterborough and the Port Hope teams, and the contest on Friday night will be fast and furious.

Practice to-night between Colts and Intermediates. All members of each team are asked to turn out.

It looks as though the Belleville Juniors were going to win out this district in the O.H.A. Series. Last night they defeated Cobourg on the latter's ice.

The Lakeviews will go down to Norwood on Friday night to play their first match in the second round of the Trent Valley Series.

THE DISTRICT CUP.

In the District Cup Series Keene came out victorious yesterday afternoon. In the morning Norwood won from Lakefield and in the afternoon played Keene, which club drew the bye in the first round. LITTLE LAKE CEMETERY CO.

The great personal interest I have always felt in the cemetery will ever continue, (it cannot do otherwise with the grateful memories I carry away) and I propose to return at every opportunity to observe a continued advancement which I sincerely hope and believe will mark the management of your new Superintendent.

I also append my financial statement for the past year.

Respectfully submitted,
W. H. FOORD,
Superintendent.

JAS. A. HALL,
T. Q. QUARTERMAINE,
Auditors.

Dated the 18th day of Jan., 1902.

The report was adopted upon motion of Dr. Burnham, seconded by Mr. Hap

The appointment of auditors was then taken up, and upon motion of Mr. Lundy, seconded by Mr. C. Stapleton, Messrs. Jas. A. Hall and T. Q. Quartermaine were re-appointed as auditors, their duties to include the auditing of the accounts of the Supt., as well as the Treasurer, and that their fee for this year be increased to $10.

Mr. T. E. Bradburn brought up the matter of Sunday funerals. He had noticed in the papers an article stating that there would henceforth be no Sunday funerals, excepting in exceptional cases. He thought the provisions of the resolution were rather arbitrary.

The chairman explained that the resolution was the result of a conference that had taken place between representatives of the town and the Board. In Toronto and other cities this rule prevailed.

Mr. Foord, the ex-Superintendent, who came down from Toronto to attend the meeting, addressed the shareholders on the matter.

THE DIRECTORS.

The election of directors for the coming year was then proceeded with.

Mr. James English moved, seconded by Mr. William Cooks that the Board of Directors of last year be re-elected. They were as follows:

Messrs. W. H. Moore, J. J. Lundy, R. M. Dennistoun, A. Stevenson, B. Shortly, C. Stapleton, T. A. S. Hay, T. E. Bradburn and H. Denne.

The newly elected Board of Directors then met and elected the following officers:

President—W. H. Moore.
Sec.-Treas.—E. A. Peck.
Managing Committee — Messrs. Stevenson, Shortly, Hay, Stapleton, and the President.

Mr. R. M. Dennistoun introduced the following resolution:

That the shareholders of the Little Lake Cemetery Company place on record a minute expressing their great regret at the resignation of Mr. W. H. Foord, who for twelve years has been the superintendent of the company. During this term of office Mr. Foord has proved himself a capable officer, an excellent horticulturalist, a careful manager of finance, a thorough practical superintendent, and in addition a courteous gentleman in all his dealings with the shareholders who hereby express their pleasure at his appointment to a responsible position in Toronto, and hope that he may be as successful in the future as in Peterborough.

The motion was enthusiastically carried.

Mr. Foord in reply said that he could hardly express himself in reply to so kindly worded a resolution. It was always a pleasure for him to work for the Board and he would always continue to take a deep interest in the Little Lake Cemetery. He particulary mentioned the kindly relations that always existed between himself and the secretary, Mr. Peck.

A TELEPHONE.

Dr. Burnham brought up the matter of having a telephone. Considerable discuss on followed. Some of the directors held that the telephone system would be a nuisance. As it would cause the superintendent to leave his work at distances from the telephone.

Mr. Dennistoun who strongly supported the motion, held that there was not a city cemetery anywhere that did not possess a telephone. The matter was settled by the motion being adopted, and providing that the superintendent will not be obliged to attend the 'phone excepting between the hours of 12 and 1, noon; and 6 and 7 p.m.

The matter of the alleged inconvenience to the public in having to go to the cemetery to pay their fees was taken up. It was arranged that the superintendent should be at the secretary's office on certain days of the week to receive the accounts.

The Board then adjourned.

WEDDING BELLS.

Marriage of Miss Lillian Bell and Mr. Ernest Rosborough.

A very pretty wedding was celebrated on Wednesday, Jan. 8th, at half past two o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac N. Bell, Norwood, when their eldest daughter Lillian, was united in marriage to Mr. Ernest Rosborough, of Smith, by the Rev. E. B. Cooke, of South Dummer.

While a hymn was being played the bridal party entered, the bride being supported by her father, and took their places in an alcove of lace and drapings.

The bride was assisted by her sister, Miss Ida Bell, while Mr. Joseph Rosborough, brother of the groom, acted as best man.

The bride looked elegant in a lovely gown of white organdy with silk and lace trimmings. The bridesmaid also looked charming in a dainty gown of white over pink, trimmed with silk and lace.

At the conclusion of the ceremony, while the wedding march was being played by Miss Bertha Bell, hearty congratulations were offered, after which the young couple and guests proceeded to the dining hall where a sumptuous dejeuner was served.

The bride's going away gown was dove coloured ladies' cloth, with silk trimmings.

None but the immediate relatives of the contracting parties were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Rosborough will take up their residence in Smith, and their many friends wish them a long and happy wedded life.

Loss of Flesh.

If you find yourself falling below normal weight there is danger. The use of fish oils can temporarily add fat, but will never build up healthy tissue. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food acts through the blood and nervous system and carries new life and energy to every nook and corner of the body. It regulates the various organs of the body, makes the appetite good, adds healthy flesh and replaces the tissues wasted by disease. Gradually and naturally this food cure restores colour to the cheeks, increases the weight of the body, and thoroughly overcomes disease.

Liberals' Amendment Gains Only Partial Support.

WINSTON CHURCHILL'S SPEECH

Favors a Compromise With the Boers Rather Than Force—A Great Volte-Face on the Part of the Man For Galway—Kitchener's Weekly Report Accounts For 255 Boers.

London, Jan. 22. 6 a.m.—Mr. Cawley's amendment was rejected at midnight by 333 votes to 123. The huge Government majority was caused by the fact that all the Nationalists and some of the Pro-Boer Radicals and Imperialist Radicals refrained from voting.

House of Commons.

London, Jan. 22.—Winston Spencer Churchill (Conservative), in resuming the debate in the House of Commons yesterday on the amendment moved by Frederick Cawley (Liberal), to the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne at the opening of Parliament, gained the distinct approval of the Opposition benches by his criticism of the Government's shortcomings in regard to the conduct of the war in South Africa., the insufficiency of the troops supplied to Lord Kitchener, and other matters. He said he preferred a settlement by compromise rather than by force, as the latter would entail the tremendous expense of long military occupation.

COL. LYNCH'S VOLTE-FACE.

Now Advocating Measures to Destroy Coalition Against England.

Dublin, Jan. 22.—The remarkable article in The New Liberal Review by Col. Arthur Lynch, newly elected member for Galway, is beginning to be discussed widely because of his failure to appear and claim his seat up to the present.

Coming from the pen of a man whose election was won on the statement that he had fought against England with the Boers, the sentiments expressed in it are not what might be expected.

"The result of the election," Col. Lynch thinks, "has been to show that Ireland, which has been more or less attached to England for centuries and under her wing since the days of Pitt, is more discontented than ever.

"And now Ireland is thoroughly united on the broad national issues. The party was never more compact nor more resolute in the balmy days of Parnell."

Col. Lynch enters into a discussion of the Irish question as affecting England's position in international politics. England's chief danger, he believes to be an European coalition, and he says Englishmen should know "that such coalitions are not mere bogeys to give them an occasional fright at the breakfast table."

"Again and again within the last few years very deliberate overtures and serious negotiations have been on foot on the continent to bring about a coalition between Russia, France and Germany, and that such a coalition would be by its nature, he says, a fighting combination.

"Against even that coalition," continues Col. Lynch, "England would be secure on certain conditions. One of these is that she should settle her internal affairs so as not to be a house divided against itself, and seek to make Ireland not a source of weakness, but of strength.

"A conciliatory policy to Ireland would, therefore," he says, "have the double advantage of winning over the Irish in Ireland and satisfying the Irish population in America, and so one great obstacle would be removed in the way of a close entente between England and the United States."

Those Galway voters who expected to find Col. Lynch an extremist are somewhat surprised.

HOLLAND'S WAR IN SUMATRA.

Compared With Task of the British in South Africa.

London, Jan. 22.—The Vienna correspondent of The Times notes the improbability of the rumors concerning the visit to London of Dr. Kuyper, the Dutch Premier, because an attempt at intervention on the part of the Netherlands would meet with the simple question,—How about Achin?

The correspondent asserts, on the authority of a well-informed friend at The Hague, that the experience of the Dutch in Sumatra has been similar to that of the British in South Africa. The Achinese in the north part of Sumatra have been in a state of chronic guerilla warfare for 29 years. The Dutch, although the interior of Achin is still unconquered, persist, and are determined to win, at whatever sacrifice of blood and treasure.

Kitchener's Weekly Return.

London, Jan. 22.—Lord Kitchener reports that since Jan. 18 31 Boers were killed, 18 were wounded, 170 were made prisoners and 41 surrendered.

WHEN CANADIANS ARRIVE.

Expected That Military Operations in South Africa Will Be Renewed.

Bloemfontein, Jan. 21.—It is believed here that, in view of the British concentration against Dewet, Botha is likely to make another move in force against Natal.

Dewet, however, can now command a larger force than can be brought together in the Transvaal, and the military authorities recognize that he must be one's radically dealt with.

Accordingly a growing number of columns are vigorously pressing him, but the country is the northeastern part of the Orange River Colony where he is favors his tactics of scattering and then reuniting his force.

A feeling of hopefulness, however, prevails.

It is noticeable that the surrenders which are taking place are only to a very small extent of Free Staters, who for the most part represent the irreconcilables.

Everyone expects that military operations will be greatly expedited when the new troops arrive from England, Australia and Canada, and their advent is awaited with keen expectancy.

Caught Him Single Handed.

London, Jan. 22.—The capture of Commandant Breytenbach, which has already been reported, was effected single-handed by Capt. Tremayne, who, seeing a Boer fleeing in the distance, pursued him alone and caught him.

Mansion House War Fund.

London, Jan. 22.—The Mansion House War Fund now amounts to £1,131,805. Of this £445,760 was contributed for the widows and orphans, £98,113 for the sick and wounded at the front, £112,300 for permanently disabled soldiers and sailors, £197,920 for soldiers and sailors' families, £62,873 in response to Queen Alexandra's appeal, and £214,835 for the Lord Mayor's Discretionary Fund. Recent donations include: Borough of Chorley, per the ex-Mayor, £1,011 7s 10d; Anonymous, per Messrs. Cox & Co., £200; the Hon. T. A. Brassey, £100 and "A Retired Rear-Admiral of the Royal Navy" (tenth similar donation), £94 3s 4d.

INVITES MORE CONTINGENTS.

Chamberlain Cables Australia and New Zealand For Soldiers.

London, Jan. 22.—Mr. Chamberlain has cabled the governors of Australia and New Zealand, inviting each to send a further contingent of one thousand men to South Africa.

At the close of the war the British Government contemplates offering special encouragement and facilities for emigration on a large scale to South Africa.

Canadians Promoted.

London, Jan. 22.—Militia orders of the Imperial Army says:

Unattached: Lieut. J. L. H. Bradshaw, 16th Regiment Canadian Militia, to be lieutenant, with the temporary rank of lieutenant in the army.

Lord Strathcona's Horse: Sergt.-Major E. J. Steele, to be paymaster, with the temporary rank of lieutenant in the army.

WHITEWEAR —AND— REMNANTS

Never have we had such a successful sale of Whitewear, and never have we had so much free advertising, for every visitor to our Whitewear section is strongly impressed with the magnitude of the display, the vast assortment, the dainty conceits, the skilfully made garments, and the wonderfully reduced prices that reign during this Whitewear Sale. A fortnight ago it was our intention to remove the Whitewear from our second floor to its home on the ground floor Monday, but the daily increasing sales and interest during the past few weeks impells us to retract this idea—and for another week it will remain on our second floor, where abundant light, plenty of space, and an airy but warm room, appeals to every customer's buying comfort. Our previous advertisement gave you some of our lower lines, but we don't stop there—read of these—the good sort :

Not all the Remnants re-marked, but a lot of them. They were marked cheap before—that was certain—but some lengths aren't so generally useful as others. These have come under THE RED INK AGAIN, and must make their exit. Strikes us many customers will like to "adopt" these Remnants after the second dip of the red ink. All these Remnants are marked in plain figures—all have the length written on them—all are on the tables of the centre aisle, and all must go and that soon, for the tables thus occupied have other uses awaiting them. Will you be here to select some of the Remnants to-morrow ?

INSTITUTION FOR THE BLIND.

From the Brantford Expositor.

The Ontario Institution for the Education for the Blind has always enjoyed a deservedly high reputation for the thoroughness of its work in all departments. As to literary departments the excellence of the attainments of the pupils had for years been certified to by Dr. Kelly and Mr. Wilkinson, who acted as examiners, while Prof. Ambrose had as regularly certified to their efficiency in music. Last year, by way of giving a further test, the Provincial Secretary appointed Mr. H. L. Johnston, public school inspector for West Middlesex, as examiner in the one department, and Mr. W. E. Fairclough, of the Toronto College of Music, as examiner in the other. Mr. Johnson seems to have been well pleased. He says: "Judging from my own observations on the day of my special visit, the manner of answering by the pupils, the order and attention exhibited by the pupils in the various classes, and the results of the examinations, I feel satisfied that the teachers are painstaking and doing their work efficiently. I wish also to add that I was much pleased with the internal arrangement and management of the institution. The course of study appears to me to be ample for the requirements of the pupils." Of the instruction given in music, Mr. Fairclough says: "The result of an inspection of the musical department of the Ontario Institution for the Blind is highly creditable to those who have this branch of the work in charge, and while the teachers are evidently doing careful work it was also evident to the most superficial observer that the blind students were, at any rate for the most part, deriving no small amount of pleasure from this branch of study. Some remarkable instances of quickness of the musical ear were noticed, and in one case was seen the possession of the perception of absolute pitch." It will be gratifying to all friends of the blind to receive these further assurances of the efficiency of the Brantford institution and of the substantial character of the work there performed.

QUEBEC FARMER HAS HARD TIME

Stricken and Helpless With Work to be Done—Deprived of the Power to Work.

Pierre Lussier of Lac Weedon was Indeed in an Unfortunate Plight—He Expresses His Thanks for a Complete Restoration to Health and Strength

Lac Weedon, Quebec, Jan. 20th,—(Special.) Pierre Lussier is a farmer who like every other husbandman has much work which must be done in season. Many of a farmer's duties will not admit of a postponement; they have to be attended to promptly, and poor Mons. Lussier had not the strength to do these toilsome tasks. He had no children to help him on the farm, and as vigorous and trained arms are necessary, he was feeling very downcast on account of his inability and weakness.

He had one of the worst forms of Kidney Disease, and this reduced his strength to that of a mere child. The pain he had to bear was very great, and always seemed to come on him worse just at the time that he had some important work to do.

He had suffered in this way for over twenty years, sometimes better, sometimes worse, but always sick and suffering, and constantly growing worse, till for the last two years he was unable to do anything.

He decided to try a treatment of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and from the very first dose he began to improve. After he had used eight boxes he was well enough to work again but he kept on using the pills till now he is well and strong.

For years he could not walk a quarter of a mile without assistance, but recently he walked eight miles without resting. He says:

"I owe it all to Dodd's Kidney Pills which have done wonderful things for me."

This cure of such a severe case of over twenty years standing is regarded by our people here who know the facts as little short of a miracle.

MR. WHITNEY'S PRAISE

Codification of Imperial Statutes Affecting Ontario.

A WORK OF VALUE WELL DONE

Mr. Gibson's Explanation to the Legislature a Lucid Statement of a Subject of Great Interest to the Legal Profession and Students—Report of the Game Commission—Bylaws Read.

Toronto, Jan. 21.—In the Legislative Assembly to-day there were about 55 petitions asking for a prohibitory liquor law, presented principally from Methodist churches or bodies in affiliation with them.

A large number of private and local bills were introduced, and also several measures in amendment of the Assessment and Municipal Acts.

Hon. J. M. Gibson introduced a bill to divide the District of Rainy River for the registration of titles and deeds.

Hon. J. M. Gibson moved the second reading of the bill to provide for the Revision of the Statute Law. He explained that the other bill respecting the Imperial Statutes relating to property and civil rights must be taken in connection with the measure under discussion as it was proposed to embody such Imperial Statutes, as it was not desirable to repeal in the general codefication provided for. At first it had been considered inadvisable to incorporate these statutes in the compilation, but afterwards they had come to the view that it was desirable to do so. The compilation would therefore embrace many British acts of historical interest such as the Bill of Rights, besides many enactments of practical value. The Habeas Corpus Act, one of the fundamental planks of our constitutional liberty would be included. There were a number of acts not specially applicable to the Province and in regard to which the Province would have no jurisdiction, but which fell under the sphere of the Dominion, of which a list would be published. As regarded the compilation proper he desired to point out that the volume, though comparatively small, had entailed much labor and research on the part of a strong judicial committee. The statutes embraced extended back as far as the reign of Henry III., and the total number of statutes examined was between eleven and twelve hundred. He pointed out some of the difficulties in the way of discriminating as to what Imperial legislation was applicable here, and the principles which had guided the committee in their arduous and responsible work. Many of the old acts had to be changed in their phrasecology and otherwise in their adaptation to existing Ontario Statutes. A schedule attached to the bill showed the principal Imperial acts which were repealed by this legislation, most of which were obsolete or inapplicable or had been set aside by previous provincial legislation. The laws relating to marriage and ecclesiastical property had not been dealt with.

Mr. Whitney said that he had no doubt that the action of the Government in the matter would meet with the hearty approval of the legal profession and more particularly of the students. He entirely endorsed the measure and congratulated the Attorney-General on the manner in which the work had been done.

The bill received a second reading.

The bills respecting mortmain and the disposition of land for charitable uses and respecting the Imperial Statutes relating to property and civil rights were also read a second time.

Bills Presented to House.

The following were among the bills that were introduced:

Mr. Wardell—To incorporate the Toronto & Hamilton Railway Company.

Mr. Pardee—To authorize the Royal Trust Company to do business in Ontario.

Mr. Macdiarmid—To amend the Assessment Act.

Games' Commission Report.

The Provincial Secretary presented to the House the tenth annual report of the Ontario games' commission for 1901. The report states that last year was very favorable for all kinds of game, and for many years there has never been such an abundance. The game preserves in the various parts of the province were considered by the commission as a splendid thing, inasmuch as they protected the game to a great extent, and if it were not for them the stock of game in a few years would undoubtedly become exhausted.

During the last season, the report says, 5,000 deer licenses were issued, while only 4,200 were issued during 1900. The Canadian Express Co. carried 2,792 carcasses, being 878 more than in 1900, and the weight of venison carried was 256,637 pounds, as compared with 161,312 for the previous year. In the opinion of the commission 10,000 deer were killed.

A large number of sportsmen have petitioned for an open season for deer of one month, from Oct 15th to Nov. 15th, but the commission thinks that no change should be made in the present season.

According to various reports received from game wardens, fire rangers and others, the commission says that Ontario has the largest game district in America, if not in the world.

The opinion is expressed by the commission that the Government can afford to allow an open season for moose and caribou between Oct. 16 and Nov. 15 inclusive, in each year, for all that country north of the mainline of the C.P.R. from Mattawa to Port Arthur. It is also thought that no dogs should be used in that district, and that the killing in the water should be strictly prohibited.

Quail season should be shortened from November 15th to December 15th, and the proposal to allow the killing of cottontail rabbits all the year around is strongly opposed. Regret is expressed that the Government have not been more vigorous in re-stocking the depleted covers in the province with certain foreign game birds, such as Mongolian pheasants.

The report is signed by G. A. MacCallum, chairman of the commission.

Are Quick To See

Good Doctors are Quick to See and Appreciate Real Merit in New Medicines.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are a discovery of great value to the medical profession and the public. They are an unfailing specific in all cases of dyspepsia and disordered digestion.

Almost everybody's digestion is disordered more or less, and the commonest thing they do for it is to take some one of the many so-called blood purifiers, which in many cases are merely strong cathartics. Such things are not needed. If the organs are in a clogged condition, they need only a little help and they will right themselves. Cathartics irritate the sensitive linings of the stomach and bowels and often do more harm than good.

Purging is not what is needed. The thing to do is to put the food in condition to be readily digested and assimilated. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do this perfectly. They partly digest what is eaten and give the stomach just the help it needs. They stimulate the secretion and excretion of the digestive fluids and relieve the congested condition of the glands and membranes. They put the whole digestive system in condition to do its work. When that is done you need take no more tablets, unless you eat what does not agree with you. Then take one or two tablets—give them needed help and you will have no trouble.

Its a common sense medicine and a common sense treatment and it will cure every time. Not only cure the disease but cure the cause. Goes about it in a perfectly sensible and scientific way.

We have testimonials enough to fill a book, but we don't publish many of them. However—

Mrs. E. M. Faith of Byrd's Creek, Wis., says: "I have taken all the Tablets I got of you and they have done their work well in my case, for for I feel like a different person altogether. I don't doubt if I had not got them I should have been at rest by this time."

H. E. Willard, Onslow, Ia., says:—"Mr. White, of Canton, was telling me of your Dyspepsia Tablets curing him of Dyspepsia from which he had suffered for eight years. As I am a sufferer myself I wish you to send me a package by return mail."

Phil. Brooks, Detroit, Mich., says: "Your dyspepsia cure has worked wonders in my case. I suffered for years from dyspepsia but am now entirely cured and enjoy life as I never have before. I gladly recommend them."

It will cost 50 cents to find out just how much Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will help you. Try them—that's the best way to decide.

All druggists sell them. A little book on stomach diseases will be mailed free by addressing F. A. Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.

Walter Gordon Caught.

Halifax, Jan. 22.—Walter Gordon, supposed to be the Whitewater, Manitoba, murderer, was captured in Halifax last evening. The police say that he is the right man beyond a shadow of doubt. He answers the description contained in the circular, which was sent out by Chief of Police E. J. Elliott of Winnipeg. The arrest was made by Detective Power. Gordon is said to have killed two aged farmers, who were brothers, one night in July, 1900, and then disappeared.

Sedition in Odessa.

London, Jan. 22.—Further batches of seditious proclamations, says a despatch from Kieff to The Times, have recently been scattered broadcast in Odessa.

The proclamations are typewritten and unsigned. They are of a most inflammatory character, urging an uprising against the Government.

The police are rigorously investigating the matter.

Shot to Get His Money.

Ottawa, Jan. 22.—David Kingsbury shot Elias Joseph, an Assyrian peddlar, yesterday with a single-barrelled gun at East Alfield, about 18 miles back of Wakefield. It is alleged the deed was committed in an attempt to secure the victim's money. The man was shot through the left shoulder, the ball entering his body.

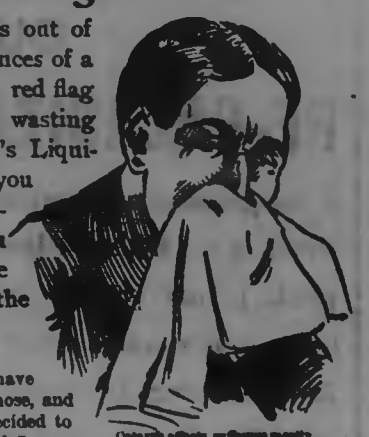
Nasal Catarrh Cured

By Powley's Liquified Ozone---W. H. Gould of London Makes Strong Statement.



Catarrh affects sufferers mostly in the summer.

Nasal catarrh nine times out of ten is one of natures evidences of a weakened system. It's the red flag that warns of lung trouble, wasting and consumption. Powley's Liquified Ozone will quickly rid you of catarrh and system weakness. It will make you healthy and give you the healthy man's immunity to the germs of disease.

Gentlemen: For some time I have been troubled with catarrh in the nose, and general run down condition. I decided to try your remedy, Powley's Liquified Ozone, and after taking two bottles it has completely cured me. You are at liberty to use this testimonial in any way you desire for the benefit of other sufferers.

(Signed) W. H. GOULD, JR., 217 Hamilton Rd., London, Ont.

It doesn't take very long for Powley's Liquified Ozone to make its beneficial action felt. It will build the system in a remarkably short time. Local applications for nasal catarrh are best applied by atomizer or as a douche. They consist of ½ teaspoonful Ozone, ½ teaspoonful glycerine to eight parts of water. Internal doses should be taken three times a day and at bed time.

PERSONALS.

Captain C. H. Rogers of Colborne, is in town to-day.

Messrs. G. H. Williamson and Horace Ayers of the local Y.M.C.A. will leave for Berlin to-morrow to attend the Provincial Convention.

Mr. A. H. Leake, Director of McDonald Manual Training Schools of Ontario, was in town to-day for the purpose of interviewing the scholars who wish to take advantage of the bonus offered by the Ontario Government to pupils who take the course. The only application received from Peterborough was that of Mr. B. Simpson, but as he has returned to his studies at Queen's University, Mr. Leake was unable to see him. However, quite a few of those interested came in during the day from the country and from the adjoining villages.

PETERBOROUGH'S POULTRY SHOW.

It is in Progress in the Market Building.

THE LIST OF PRIZE WINNERS

The Stormy Weather Will Interfere With the Attendance—Notes on the Show.

The 5th annual show of the Peterborough Poultry and Pet Stock Association is now in full swing in the market hall, and the crowing of the cock, the quacking of the drake, the monotonous wail of the geese and the noise of the birds in general attract the attention of the townspeople and others as they pass by the market buildings. The show this year in point of entries and as to the quality of the birds is quite up to that of former years and the competition is exceedingly keen in mostly every class. Amongst the exhibitors are gentlemen who have carried off prizes at the Provincial Show at Guelph, and at Toronto and other places. For local amateurs to attempt to scoop such professionals it might seem rather absurd, but notwithstanding this fact the local poultry fanciers have made an excellent showing and have in many cases taken prizes from exhibitors of greater reputation in this particular line.

Last night Mr. A. E. Silverwood of Lindsay, who has attained more than a local reputation in the matter of addresses on poultry raising, spoke to a small sized audience. Owing to the disagreeable state of the weather there was a small attendance, but Mr. Silverwood's remarks did not fall on listless ears, and many interesting facts of benefit to poultry raisers were given out. This afternoon Mr. Silverwood gave another short talk along the same line.

It is to be greatly regretted that the storm of last night occurred as it will tell severely on the attendance at the show. To-day should have been farmers' day, and there is no doubt that a great many would have taken advantage of the occasion but have been prevented from so doing by reason of the almost impassable condition of the roads. However, this is one of the incidents over which the directors have no control, and they will only have to make the best of matters. It had been arranged to have the band of the 57th Regiment present this evening but the arrangement will very likely be cancelled owing to the continued inclemency of the weather. The judging has not concluded yet but it is expected that by this evening this important work will have been completed.

THE STORM.

The Trains Were Late To-day The Streets of the Town.

The storm which visited this section of the country last night was one of the heaviest that has occurred around here in some time and has resulted in a general blockade of traffic. It was about 11 o'clock last night when the snow began to come down in real earnest accompanied by a windstorm that caused it to drift in an almost impassable manner in some places. This morning the streets were in bad shape. The snow ploughs were kept busy but they found it difficult to cope with the climatic conditions. Huge drifts were encountered at short distances apart throughout the town and business men, clerks and others were delayed in getting to their work.

Town Engineer Ilay was early to work with a force of men. The town engineer could not attempt to make his circuit with ordinary means and therefore resorted to snow shoeing which proved to be highly successful. By noon, however, the sidewalks and pavements were in splendid condition considering circumstances, and the snow will not be allowed to make any further headway in the matter of blockading, if the services of the town engineer and his men count for anything.

The trains on the local lines were of course late and the Toronto mail did not reach Peterborough until about 1 o'clock. The Toronto train on the G.T.R. was even later than this, but latest reports are to the effect that the roads will be in shape before evening.

INDUCTION AT ALL SAINTS'

The Service Will Begin at Half Past Seven To-night.

The Bishop of Toronto sent a message this morning to say that he would arrive by the Grand Trunk at 5.30 this afternoon for the service at All Saints' Church this evening, when he will induct Rev. W. L. Armitage as the first Rector, and preach.

There will be a reception in the basement after the service. Service at 7.30 o'clock.

It has restored lost hearing to thousands, and can do the same for you. SPORTING PASTIMES.

THE TANKARD.

The Peterborough Thistles had a narrow escape from having "a look in" at the semi-finals in the Tankard Series, as they were only beaten out by one shot by the Lindsay curlers. Skip Ray went to Lindsay with his combination and won from Skip Flavelle by three shots. In Peterborough, however, Skip Rutherford was four down and so Lindsay is the winner in District No. 5. The rinks were composed as follows:

IN LINDSAY.

H Cuthbert,	J S Knapman,
L O'Connor,	C N Brown,
Geo Little,	C Rutherford,
J D Flavelle, sk...17	S Ray, sk...20

IN PETERBOROUGH.

G Blackwell,	J Stanger,
N McSweyn,	W G Ferguson,
W Dundas,	A Blade,
W McLennan, sk...22	T Rutherford, sk.18

Totals, Lindsay, 39; Peterborough, 38. Majority for Lindsay, 1 shot.

Detail score in Peterborough—

Lindsay	...00201102210010012850301—22
Peterboro	...21010010001021000040o5o—18
Flavelle	...04110011000110102082ll—17
Ray...	...20004300121001020220oo—2o

It is no flattery to say that Jack Stanger led the best game ever seen on the local ice.

Peterborough would have won out but for a lucky fluke made by Skip Flavelle in the last end.

Skip Rutherford as usual made a garrison finish and almost succeeded in snatching a victory from Billy McLennan.

HOCKEY.

The locals are keeping in good condition and will endeavour to win by a good lead from Port Hope in the game here on Friday night. There should be a large attendance at the match, as the rivalry between the two teams is very great.

Word has been received from Secretary Beaton, of the O. H. A., that the games already played in this district with Lindsay are to stand. This means that Port Hope is credited with two wins and Peterborough with a loss. The only way the Peterboroughs can win the district is by beating Port Hope in both the games which they will play with that club.

BASKET-BALL.

The game between the Orioles of Ackerman's, and the Brownies, tonight, at 9 o'clock, promises to be fast and exciting, as both teams are confident of winning.

THEY HELD THEIR ANNUAL MEETING.

The Young Womens' Christian Association.

VERY INTERESTING REPORTS

Were Presented by the Various Officers —The New Board of Directors.

The annual meeting of the Young Women's Christian Association was held last night in the Young Women's Rooms, on George street. The chair was occupied by the President, Miss Roberts. Owing to the inclemency of the weather the attendance was not as large as usual, but those who were present were enthusiastic in the proceedings and very encouraging reports were received from the various officers.

The presidents, Miss Roberts, in her address, said:

My Dear Sisters—I am glad to meet you here to-night in this large comfortable room. I would like to give you a little—very little—glimpse of what our Association is doing in the world, in the regions beyond. Mrs. Harris, President of the Dominion Association says, You girls here and all the other girls who are members of this association all over the world, are the daughters; the secretary, the matron, with the board, are the mothers; the Dominion association the grandmother; and the World association the great grand mother. The strongest ropes are made of strands, strong only through union. It is this union that makes the strength of our association—self-sacrifice and love, a kindly welcome and a warm sympathy. The world needs it.

How skilful grows the hand,
That obeyeth love's command!

Remeber the light that shines farthest shines brightest at home. The badge of the World's Y.W.C.A. is a medal with the Eastern Hemisphere on one side and the Western on the other side and the motto, "By love serve one another," on one side and "Not by might nor by power, but by My Spirit, saith the Lord," on the other. Our object is to take each other by the hand and help each other nearer to our Lord Jesus Christ; to know more of His forgiving love; to testify for Him in our Consecrated Lives; to lead each other up to the highest ideals of womanhood. The Y.M.C.A. and the Y.W.C.A. are a necessary link between the world and the church—the down town office of the church. There are nine national Y.W.C.A. buildings in London. There are seventy homes, and the central office gives an idea of the amount and magnitude of the task. They have a city office in which is a man secretary with two lady under-secretaries, and also a continental office. Here we find thirty nationalities, strangers in a strange land, seeking a home in the association. The secretary here speaks all these languages. In the homes in London the girls can bring their lunch or get hot coffee for 1d and soup, bread and coffee for 2d. The headquarters of the Y.W.C.A. in Ireland is in Dublin. This association this year is sending out twenty-five Irish ladies to the foreign field. One mother has given 5 daughters to this work. In Rome the president is the sister of the British consul. There is great need here and peculiar difficulties. Roman Catholic girls are not allowed to enter a Protestant church, but the Y.W.C.A. is not so regarded. The home, educational and social advantages are valued; here the secretary has to be very tactful, and finds hungry hearts. The Italian girls look like Americans, but are prettier. In Gibraltar, among the jargon of tongues it is like home to see the Y.W.C.A. sign; here are bright, cheery rooms, filled, where possible, with beautiful flowers — indeed flowers are found in every Y.W.C.A. home—bringing a message of love and purity from their Creator. In Heidelberg, Germany, they have a directory, in which may be found the name and address of every association in the world. A copy of this is given to every girl who is going to other places; letters of introduction are given, and letters are sent before she leaves to the association in the place she is going to, asking them to meet her at the railway station. In France the Y.W.C.A. is flourishing. In Paris they have most beautiful homes, and over one door is written "Asked of God in 1893; given of God, 1895."

The President's address was followed by the reading of the report of the secretary of the Board, Mrs. H. P. Kennedy. She gave a very careful review of the work that had been done during the year.

In the absence of the treasurer, Miss Morrow, Mrs. Jory read the treasurer's report, which showed receipts amounting to $2,104.76, and expenditures amounting to $2,091.00, leaving a balance on hand of $13.76.

THE BOARDING HOME

Miss M. E. Morrow read the report of the superintendent of the boarding house. In the course of her remarks she said:—

For the last three months the home has been full. Mothers have expressed their pleasure and thankfulness for the institution of the Y. W. C. A. Boarding Home so that when their daughters leave their own home they can not only find a comfortable place at moderate prices but have home protection and security and not only be shielded from evil associations, but surrounded with those that are pure and good.

We hope and pray that young women so brought together may be influenced to reach after and attain to stronger, broader, higher lives of reality and usefulness.

There was a balance on hand of $16.62.

The general secretary, Miss Agnes J. Dickson, gave a very interesting report in which she carefully reviewed the different branches of the work of the Association.

The following are a few facts taken from the general secretary's report:

The total number of visitors to the new rooms, not including attendance at classes, meetings, and receptions, has been 1303, from Oct. 1st to Dec. A daily average of 36.

Looking backward we thank God for the progress made in the various departments of the work, knowing that what has been accomplished has not been by might nor by power, but by "His spirit," and looking forward to the year before us with its infinite possibilities, we cannot do better than take the New Year's message given by the world's president of the Y.W.C.A. to the Associations of the world. God is able.

THE NEW BOARD.

The following ladies were elected on the Board of Directors for the ensuing year:

Mrs. Walsh, Miss Roberts, Mrs. Jory, Mrs. Beck, Mrs. Gillespie, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Dennistoun, Mrs. Stewart, Miss Mills, Mrs. (Dr.) Morrison, Mrs. Hunter, Mrs. McPherson, Mrs. Max Dennistoun, Miss Edmison, Mrs. (Dr.) Burnham, Miss Nicholls, Miss E. Morrow, Mrs. Kilgour, Mrs. Bamford, Mrs. Nugent, Miss Roger, Mrs. Waddell, Mrs. Boucher, Mrs. Shortly, Mrs. Garvin, Mrs. Lundy, Miss Chamberlain, Mrs. Kennedy.

The meeting closed with singing and prayer.

MOUNT PLEASANT.

(From our own Correspondent.)

Mr. Albert Thexton of North Dakota, who was formerly a resident here, but has been living in Uncle Sam's territory for 21 years, is now enjoying life under the protection of the Union Jack, where he can visit his many relatives in safety.

Robert Hayes, formerly of this place, but lately living in Bobcaygeon died very suddenly last week. His remains were conveyed to the Emily graveyard on Saturday last. We sympathise with the family of the deceased.

There are very few of the old residents living in this locality now, so that the words of the text used by Rev. Mr. Kannawin last Sunday were very applicable. The words were—"Set thy house in order, for thou shalt die and not live."

Rev. Mr. Mounteer's text was from the words of Jesus,—"I am the light of the world; he that followeth Me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life."

The new blacksmith, Mr. W. Greig, is at home amongst the old patrons of the foundry with whom he served many years.

Two other persons, Mr. N. Sheilds and wife, who were formerly residents of this place, are now living under the Stars and Stripes. They are at present on a visit to friends here during the winter months. We are always glad to see any of our old friends who are desirous of returning to live under the Union Jack.

We were glad to hear that Messrs. Donald McLean and Wm. King who were residents of this town some time ago, but who are now living in the Northwest, were seen in Peterborough a short time since visiting old friends there. We fully expected to see them in our town during their trip. Reports say each of them is doing well in the land of their adoption.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK.

Receipts of live stock were liberal—82 carloads, all told, composed of 1638 cattle, 300 hogs, 326 sheep and a few calves.

In the large deliveries of cattle there were some extra choice, well-finished lots, a large number of fair to good and a much larger number of light half-finished young butchers' cattle, that ought to have been fed some weeks longer.

On account of the heavy run of cattle, trade was not as brisk, and the market was easier all round, with the exception of extra choice lots of heavy export cattle.

KINGSTON BYE-ELECTION.

Writ Issued Yesterday For the Nomination on January 30.

Toronto, Jan. 22.—The writ for the bye-election for the Legislature in Kingston was issued yesterday by the Clerk of the Legislative Assembly. Nominations will be held on Thursday next, January 30th, and the election, should one be necessary, on Thursday, February 6th.

The election is rendered necessary by the resignation of Hon. William Harty, who was last week elected to the House of Commons by the same constituency. Mr. E. J. B. Pense, the proprietor of The Kingston Whig, has been nominated by the Liberals.

The French Ministers' Protest.

Paris, Jan. 22.—The Foreign Office here has received confirmations of the statement contained in a despatch from Pekin, that the French Minister there, M. Beau, has declined to present his credentials until China has taken steps to secure reparation for the murder of Father Julian, a French priest, and two Chinese converts, at a village in the north of Kwang Si Province. M. Beau took the same stand at the beginning of January in connection with the murder of missionaries in Kan Su Province

NEWFOUNDLAND TRAGEDY.

A Fisherman's Wild Sail to Procure Medical Aid.

"The lack of physicians is one of the horrors of the isolation in which the Newfoundlanders of this coast live," says Norman Duncan in Ainslee's. "There is none within fifty miles of most harbors; none within reaching distance of many. It is related of a well to do fisherman who was something of a merchant that his wife, whom he fondly loved, lay in agony for many days while an autumn gale raged. No man in the harbor would put off in a skiff to fetch the nearest physician, who lived fifteen miles down the coast, for there was no possibility that he who ventured could survive. On the fourth day the wind moderated. Two men volunteered to accompany Allerton. They set sail in the first hours of a snowstorm, which abated, however, before they reached their destination. Fighting doggedly, they took the boat safely in, after indescribable hardship and through ever present danger. The gale had gone down when they knocked on the physician's door. A heavy sea was running, but the danger of wreck on the return voyage was quickly passing.

"'What's the matter with the woman?' the physician asked.

"He was informed.

"The husband minutely described his wife's agony. Then he offered what amounted almost to half his fortune as a fee.

"'I'll take that,' said the doctor, 'if you fetch her here. Go back and get her, and I'll attend to the case.'

"'In an open boat!' the husband exclaimed. He pointed out that his wife's condition put such an arrangement beyond the bounds of reason.

"'Well, I can't do anything,' said the physician. 'If you bring her over, I'll attend to her.'

"When the husband got back to his home, the child had been born, but the woman died the next day."

As a Cure For Piles

Dr. Chase's Ointment Never Disappoints—It Has Won World-wide Fame on Account of its Magical Control Over the Most Severe Cases of Itching, Bleeding and Protruding Piles.

Doctors may tell you that nothing short of a surgical operation will cure piles. In this they are mistaken, as we can prove in a host of cases where Dr. Chase's Ointment has been used. It is not infrequent that people tell us that Dr. Chase's Ointment has succeeded in effecting a cure after operations had failed. There is too much risk in a surgical operation, too much suffering and too much expense. If you take the advice of scores and hundreds of your friends and neighbours, you will avoid operations, and resort to the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment. It will relieve you almost at once. It will thoroughly cure you in a remarkably short time.

Mr. J. Wolfe, Amprior, Ontario, states:—"I have used Dr. Chase's Ointment for piles, and can assure the public that there was never anything on the market to equal it. I was disappointed time and time again when trying remedies for the ailment, and you can scarcely imagine my gratitude when I found that Dr. Chase's Ointment was an effective and thorough cure for this ailment. From the first application this magical ointment gave me relief, and a few boxes perfectly cured me. Since being cured of piles I always keep Dr. Chase's Ointment in the house and find it useful in scores of ways as a treatment for every form of itching skin, chafing and skin irritations."

Dr. Chase's Ointment is indeed useful in scores of ways, as Mr. Wolfe says, and people who once make the acquaintance of Dr. Chase's Ointment are loath to be without it in the house. For pimples, blackheads, eczema, salt rheum, chapped hands and face, chilblains and each and every form of raw, itching of chafed skin, it is an incomparable treatment. It is especially recommended as a cure for piles, because it is, so far as we know, the only actual and guaranteed cure for every form of this wretched and loathsome disease. 60 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. 11

Hospitable Peasants.

The hospitality of the Bulgarian peasants is always commented upon by travelers. Whenever you enter a cottage, you are cordially welcomed. The oriental laws of hospitality prevail everywhere in Bulgaria and among all classes. No stranger is ever turned from the door if he comes in peace, and the poorest peasant will share his blanket and his bread without the asking, and at the poorest cottage a glass of water or milk or a bunch of grapes is invariably offered the visitor.

Mad as a March Hare.

That's the way people get when they toss and roll in bed until three o'clock with sleeplessness. Merrill's System Tonic cures this and all nervous diseases such as twitching of the nerves, nervous prostration and loss of vigour. The 50 cent bottle lasts for three weeks. Sold by Ormond & Walsh.

Cause for Regret.

The habit potentates have of traveling incog. frequently causes suffering where it is least expected. It is told of the Emperor Joseph II. that once while traveling in this fashion he put up at an inn kept by an Englishman. After eating a few slices of ham and a biscuit he went to bed. In the morning he paid his bill and departed. A few hours after several of his suit arrived, and, hearing the rank of his guest, the landlord appeared much troubled.

"Pshaw, man," said one, "Joseph is accustomed to such adventures and will think no more of it."

"But I shall," said mine host, "and never forgive myself for having had an emperor in my house and let him off for three and sixpence!"

An Innocent Author.

Some new authors arrive with such a hilarious confidence, such a blithe innocence, that it is always interesting to hear about them. One has just sent to a well known London publisher a letter something like this:

"I am told that it is usual on the eve of the appearance of a book to entertain all the London reviewers to a dinner. Will you kindly tell me what this would cost, where the dinner should be held and who, in your opinion, should be invited? Of course the thing ought to be done handsomely!"

It is amusing and true.—London Chronicle.

A Mischievous Schoolgirl.

Commodore P. Vedder, while a young man, teaching school, had occasion to punish a mischievous girl, and, as was usual in that day and locality, was about to resort to the ferule. To the offending maid he said, "Miss ——, give me your hand." She dropped her head and blushed. Again he said sternly, "Miss ——, I say, give me your hand."

Slowly lifting her eyes, she remarked: "Mr. Vedder, this is embarrassing for me. You should not make such proposals in public. However, you must ask my papa first."

Pain in the Back

Makes life miserable. Can it be cured? Yes, in one night. Polson's Nerviline gives a complete knock out to pain in the back, for it penetrates through the tissues, takes out the soreness and pain, invigorates the tired muscles and makes you feel like a new man. Nerviline cures quickly, because it is stronger, more penetrating, more highly pain-subduing than any other remedy. Don't suffer another minute; get Nerviline quick and rub it in and as sure as you live it will cure you. 25c.

A Lucky Bargain.

It is said that a foreman stereotyper in a London printing works has had a curious windfall. Going to a sale of musical instruments, he purchased an old harpsichord for 20 shillings, because, having a hobby for fretwork, he fancied the wood of the front panel. When he got his purchase home, he dissected it. He then discovered that the harpsichord had a double back, and presently between the boards he found very old Bank of England notes the total face value of which amounted to £30,000.

Chinese Murder Three Christians.

Pekin, Jan. 20.—A French priest named Julien and two Chinese converts have been murdered at a village in the north of Kwang Si Province. Chinese officials assert the murders were committed by robbers, and were not a result of an anti-Christian demonstration.

THIS VETERAN'S FIGHT

In the days of the Revolution he was on the side of victory, in later years surrendered to disease, but South American Kidney Cure gave him his liberty.

Mr. A. Williamson, of Kincardine, Ont., a veteran in the American war, and now customs officer, town clerk and a prominent citizen, says of South American Kidney Cure:—"I have found it a wonderful specific in my case. I suffered a great deal from Bladder and Kidney troubles, and one bottle entirely cured me. I think it a boon to mankind." Cures in all stages and gives relief in six hours. m

FOUND HIM "GUILTY"

Trial of Dr. Harbottle of Burford Concluded at Brantford.

SENT TO CENTRAL FOR A YEAR

The Evidence Heard—The Parties to the Shooting Tell Somewhat Contradictory Stories—A Boer Sympathizer—Accused Suffered Deal of Annoyance on Account of His Opinions.

Brantford, Jan. 21.—Doctor Harbottle of Burford was charged at the court here yesterday with shooting H. Stuart of Burford with intent to do bodily harm. The doctor pleaded not guilty and elected to be tried at once. Judge Hardy presided.

The first witness was H. Stuart. He had known Dr. Harbottle ever since he had been in Burford. On Nov. 20 he was standing on a corner when the doctor came up. They walked together to the postoffice. When he came out the doctor followed behind him, caught up and then they walked together for a few rods. No conversation passed between them. When the corner was reached, the doctor turned in front of him, took a pistol out of his pocket and fired. The bullet struck him on the right temple. He picked up his hat and went to a doctor's. From the effects of the shot he was confined to the house two weeks. He said there never had been a quarrel between him and the doctor. At the time of the Ladysmith relief there were hostile demonstrations against the doctor, who was believed to be a Boer sympathizer. The doctor had some of the offenders fined. He (Stuart) was one of the opposing witnesses, and there might have been some feeling since that.

Cross-examined, he said the doctor's residence had been damaged on one occasion during the celebration of British victories, and also at other times. The doctor had been abused by resident boys. The doctor and he were never on good speaking terms.

Joseph Porter, the next witness, testified he saw the shooting. He saw Staart come out of the postoffice. Dr. Harbottle followed a block behind. Saw the doctor overtake Stuart at the corner, where a number of persons were standing in conversation. He was standing on the corner when Stuart reached it. Stuart halted. Harbottle took a pace forward and fired. There was no conversation between the two men. The witness swore that while the doctor and Stuart were walking together from the postoffice some one cried out "brace up Stuart."

W. K. Muir saw the two walk into the postoffice together and come out after each other. He also heard some one cry out, "brace up, Stuart;" also testified to the doctor's property being considerably damaged.

A lady testified that when Stuart and the doctor were coming down the sidewalk some called out, "right, left, quick march," and on reaching the corner the command "halt" was given and Stuart stopped. The doctor then shot him.

Dr. Johnson gave evidence on the description of the wound.

Ann Harbottle, for the defence, was called. She started to give evidence in regard to injuries done to her father's property at different times, when a discussion arose between the prosecuting attorney and the defendant's attorney over the evidence of earlier circumstances. The judge ruled in favor of the prosecuting attorney that earlier annoyances should not be considered in the affair.

Doctor Harbottle, the prisoner, testified. He was a graduate of Toronto University. Was continually annoyed by residents of the village. Stones were thrown at his door, and his life was never out of danger. Missiles had been thrown through his window. In his endeavor to protect his property he had been kept up continually at night. On the streets of the village he had been insulted, yelled at and hooted many times. He did all he could to have the authorities give him protection. At the Ladysmith demonstration, his house was completely wrecked, and the previous night his horse had been stoned. He had been compelled to carry firearms for his own protection and the safety of his family.

He said Stuart josled him and laughed at him as they approached the postoffice. In coming out of the postoffice he tried to avoid Stuart, but could not. Some one cried out, "right, left," and he was crowded off the sidewalk, and in his anger he discharged the pistol. He claimed to be an expert pistol shot and intended to make a swing, fire the pistol and miss Stuart. He wanted to frighten Stuart and not to injure him. He thought he could fire and take Stuart's hat off. There were a number of people around, and he had to be careful how he fired, selecting Stuart as an example.

Twelve cannon firecrackers had been exploded in front of his door in a year. When questioned in regard to his motive for firing, he said: "That he believed the act would bring pressure to bear on the authorities and measures would be taken to prevent any further annoyance.

The doctor's son testified to the damage done to his father's house. He had often seen Stuart tormenting his father, and had heard Stuart call him objectionable names.

Mr. Fraser heard Stuart threaten Harbottle some time previous to the shooting. This evidence was objected to by the prosecuting attorney as having no connection with the case, and was sustained by the jddge.

Other witnesses gave evidence that the prisoner was incessantly tormented by residents of the village.

The judge addressed the prisoner on the seriousness of the crime, and sentenced him to one year in the Central.

It may be that the claims made for Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription seem almost too great to women who in years of suffering have found no help in doctors or medicines. But it is to be remembered that no claim is made for "Favorite Prescription" which is not substantiated by thousands of women cured by its use. Its effects are truly wonderful. It wipes out past years of pain as a sponge wipes a slate.

Favorite Prescription is the great medicine for women. It establishes regularity, dries enfeebling drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It is the best preparative for maternity, making the baby's advent practically painless.

"When I wrote to you in March, asking advice as to what to do for myself," says Mrs. Ella Reynolds, of Guffie, McLean Co., Ky., "I was expecting to become a mother in June, and was sick all of the time. Had been sick for several months. Could not get anything to stay in my stomach, not even water. Had miahps twice in six months, and threatening all the time with this one. Had female weakness for several years. My hips, back and lower bowels hurt me all the time. Had numbness from my hips down. Had several hard cramping spells, and was not able to do any work at all. I received your answer in a few days, telling me to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I took three bottles, and before I had taken it a week I was better, and before I had taken it a month I was able to help do my work. On the 27th of May my baby was born, and I was only sick three hours, and had an easy time.

"We praise Dr. Pierce's medicine for it has cured me."

TAR AND FEATHERS.

How It Feels to Wear a Coat of This Fearful Mixture.

People who read of tarring and feathering know that the punishment is a very unpleasant one, but few imagine how terribly painful and dangerous it is. In Wyoming I once saw a man who had been tarred and feathered, and, although he fully deserved the discipline, I could not help pitying him. Hardened tar is very hard to remove from the skin, and when feathers are added it forms a kind of cement that sticks closer than a brother. As soon as the tar sets the victim's suffering begins. It contracts as it cools, and every one of the little veins on the body is pulled, causing the most exquisite agony. The perspiration is entirely stopped, and unless the tar is removed death is certain to ensue.

But the removal is no easy task and requires several days. The tar cannot be softened by the application of heat and must be peeled off bit by bit, sweet oil being used to make the process less painful. The irritation to the skin is very great, as the hairs cannot be disengaged, but must be pulled out or cut off. No man can be cleaned of tar in a single day, as the pain of the operation would be too excruciating for endurance, and until this is done he has to suffer from a pain like that of ten thousand pin pricks. Numbers of men have died under the torture, and none who have gone through it regard tar and feathering as anything but a most fearful infliction.—Exchange.

Lifting by Magnets.

The most important employment of the magnet in the mechanical industries is in lifting and handling such masses of metal as ship plates, boiler plates and parts of machines which it would otherwise be difficult to get hold of. It effects an average economy in time and cost of handling, stacking, loading and unloading of from 50 to 75 per cent.

To meet the possible danger that from any cause the current from the dynamo might be cut off, causing the magnet to drop its load, it is usual in well appointed plants to install a storage battery, which effectually guards against such accident. In handling billets and material of convenient shape a number of pieces may be picked up at one time. The same is true of thin plates.

The type of magnets used in most American works has a lifting capacity of five tons. It makes a stranger nervous to see them at work, and be generally does not need to be reminded that unless his life is insured at its full value he would do well to stand from under. But slings and chains break under loads quite as often as magnets drop their loads by accident and in wrong places.

Absurdly Particular.

"Why did you resign from your club?" he asked.

"Oh, they were so absurdly particular," she replied.

"How?"

"Why, the chairman wouldn't let me talk just because some one else was talking—as if that made any difference."

LITTLE LEAKS.

What They May Lead to and How They May Be Stopped.

It is possible to lose much by littles. A classic case is that of the royal granary which was depleted of its stores by a succession of "one rat came and took one grain away, and another rat came and took another grain away." So fortunes are dissipated, and reputations are destroyed, and health is ruined and character itself lost—by little extravagances, little indiscretions, little negligences, little obliquities.

Benjamin Franklin was a great economist not alone of money, but of time. He said, "To teach a young man to shave himself is as good as ... give him a purse of gold." He had reference to the minutes as well as the dimes it costs to patronize the barber.

Elihu Burritt stopped the leak in his time and taught himself a dozen languages. Gladstone was equally wise, for he read Plato in his carriage between Carleton terrace and the parliament buildings.

A prosperous man ascribed his success in business to his habit of permitting no particle of material to be unproductive. He experimented and elaborated until he found a method of disposing profitably of every atom left over.

There is a man in New York who has in bank a goodly sum of money which he calls his "'tis but fund." When tempted to needless expenditure by the specious plea, "'Tis but a nickel or a quarter or a dollar," he denies himself and drops the amount he would have spent into a portable bank, which is filled with amazing rapidity. That is one way to stop a leak.

More serious than any prudential matter are the little leaks in life by which vital energy is squandered and moral force is diminished, imperceptibly it may be, through what we sometimes regard as inconsequential acts. Lack of order in our methods of labor, indifference to the "minor morals" of hygiene and the "major morals" of honesty and truth, the practical repudiation of personal responsibility, the neglect of duties which arise from our ethical and religious nature—these are the leaks which we must stop or be bankrupt in the world's eyes and in God's.

Medical Science Advances.

It is not more than half a century ago that physicians considered a surgical operation with its risk, expense and pain as the only cure for piles. To-day it is only the out of date doctors that think of such treatment. It is cruel and extravagant to operate for a disease which is far more certainly cured by the application of Dr. Chase's Ointment. You may be skeptical, but for proof you are referred to tens of thousands of cases that have been cured by this famous preparation.

Indian Homes.

The young Indian wife of today is clean, a fairly good cook and tidy with her house, says an exchange. She is not yet well versed in the art of decoration, and red and green are predominating colors in all of her rooms, whether in harmony or not. The house has good furniture, but it is strangely arranged. The lounge is a favorite piece of furniture, and one sees it in every Indian household, always in the parlor. If the Indians have a piano or organ, it goes into the bedroom. The young buck's best saddle also goes into the parlor, and in many houses it is hung upon the wall. Red ribbons are tied to everything, even the tail of the cat, for no Indian household is complete without a cat and a dog.

EIGHT CONVINCING REASONS . . .

WHY YOU SHOULD INSURE IN

THE IMPERIAL LIFE ASSURANCE CO'Y OF CANADA.

1. It is a purely Canadian Company, having all its funds invested in Canadian securities, and transacting business only in Canada.

2. It maintains the largest Government Deposit of any Canadian Life Insurance Company.

3. It maintains relatively the strongest policy reserves of any Canadian Life Insurance Company.

4. Its past record — the greatest guarantee of the future — has been unparalleled in Canadian life insurance.

5. Its policy contract is one of the most liberal issued, consistent with safety and equity.

6. It has a Capital of $1,000,000, which makes policy-holders' security unquestionable. At the same time, the assured is practically in the same position regarding profits as if he held a policy in a mutual company, the Imperial's charter providing that at least 90 per cent. of all profits shall be divided amongst policy-holders.

7. For every $100 of liability to policy-holders it holds $180 of securely invested assets. These assets are all of the highest order, and will bear the closest scrutiny.

8. An Imperial policy never depreciates in value, but, on the contrary, is constantly becoming more valuable. It is the most valuable estate you can leave behind you.

PRESENTATIONS TO REV. FR. McCOLL.

The Members of His Choir, the Council and Officers

BOTH REMEMBERED HIM.

An Oyster Supper for the Past and Present Members of St. Martin's Choir—Complimentary Remarks.

Of the many warm send-offs that Rev. Father McColl received in Ennismore, none was more affecting than the farewell to his choir. The past and present members of the choir were invited to an oyster supper at the presbytery last week. All the members turned out and a thoroughly enjoyable evening was spent. After the good things had been disposed of a musical programme was run off, which was characteristic of the high class music St. Martin's choir has rendered under Father McMcCall's direction.

Speeches regretting the departure of their pastor were made by many of the members present after which Father McColl, in a very feeling reply, thanked the choir for their unwavering devotion to their duty, and continued zeal in preparing the different sacred offices. He hoped that this would continue and pointed out the importance of the work they were doing for the glory of God.

Mr. Jas. Guiry read the following address and the presentation was made by Miss Zeta Galvin, and Miss Mary Crough.

To Rev. W. J. McColl, Parish Priest of Ennismore:

Rev. and Dear Father,—Of those who will miss your kind smile and encouraging word in the parish of Ennismore, none will feel more keenly your departure than your choir.

Notwithstanding the numerous and onerous duties of the holy priesthood which you are daily called upon to discharge, your interest in your choir never flagged nor was encouragements ever wanting.

You shewed that you realize what an important place in the liturgy and holy offices church music holds, and hence you have always endeavoured to make your choir worthy of the house of God according to the words of the royal psalmist: "Praise the Lord with timbrel and choir, praise Him with strings and organ." Hence we always took the greatest pleasure in preparing the different holy officers and our devotion was stimulated and increased by your zeal for the glory of the house of God.

We have learned then to esteem and love you not only as the good priest ministering most faithfully to the numberless needs of his flock, not only as the spiritual father of a large and flourishing parish, but we admire you and we thank you for the exceptional interest you have ever taken in our behalf.

We had fervently wished that you would remain with us continually ,but since his Lordship in his wisdom, has transferred you to a larger and more important parish, we humbly submit to his decision, and pray that you may be spared for many years to continue in the church of God the good work you have so nobly done in our midst.

As a little mark of respect and only a very small acknowledgment of the many obligations for which we are bound to you, we ask you, Rev. Father to accept this set of Breviaries Ritual and pen, and request that in your prayers and daily offices you will sometimes remember.

Your choir of St. Martin's church.

Prior to the departure of Father McColl, the council and municipal officers of the parish of Ennismore also called upon him and presented him with the following address which was read by Mr. John F. Collins ,as appended:

Rev. Father McColl:

Rev. and Dear Father,—It was with mingled feelings of surprise and deep sorrow that the announcement was made to us on last Sunday that, in obedience to the wishes of your spiritual superior, His Lordship, the Bishop, you are about to sever your connection with this parish, over which you have so acceptably presided for the last nine years, and we beg to assure you that on the eve of your departure from amongst us we are sensibly reminded of the many good works which by both precept and example you have performed in our midst, you have been the faithful shepherd over the young and the old of your flock, and especially the young who are assailed with so many temptations and require even greater vigilance on the part of their pastor than those of more mature years, and we trust in God that both old and young amongst your late parishioners of Ennismore, may long remember your fatherly care and solicitude for both our spiritual and temporal welfare, and that it may bring forth in all who had the pleasure of your counsel and good example, fruit a hundred fold.

We understand that the immediate cause of your removal was a vacancy created by the removal of Ven. Archdeacon Casey, late rector of St. Peter's Cathedral, Peterborough, to Lindsay parish, which was vacated by the unexpected death of the late lamented Monsignor Laurent Vicar General. His Lordship well knowing your aptitude for a larger field of usefulness than this parish afforded, saw fit to promote you to that important charge as rector of St. Peter's Cathedral, Peterborough, and although your personal preference would be to remain amongst us, yet you placed yourself unreservedly in the hands of your spiritual superior and in the words of your great Model and Master exclaimed: "Not My will but Thine be done."

Dear Father in saying farewell we ask you to accept the accompanying memento, not for its intrinsic value, but as a slight token of our love and devotion towards you, and we humbly ask to be occasionally remembered in your prayers. In conclusion, dear father, it is a source of gratification to us that although our spiritual relations are so suddenly severed, there yet remains to us the opportunity of social intercourse, as your new place of abode is within easy reach, and we trust that meetings will not be like angels visits, few and far between. Hoping that your new field of labour may be as pleasing to you, as your presence in this parish has been to us.

Signed on behalf of the Council and Municipal Officers of the parish of Ennismore.

Rev. Father McColl in replying felt deeply impressed by the tokens of good will and affections shown to him by his people. He made feeling allusions to the cordial and happy relations that existed between him and his parishioners of Ennismore, during his stay amongst them, as for himself he stated he had always endeavoured to do his duty and if the parish had made progress, it was due to the hearty and cordial cooperation and support he had always received from the people. It was this fact that had made his work among them so pleasant and agreeable. He said he never could forget the people of this place. It was his first parish, and a strong bond of affection had grown up in him for his flock. He thanked them for the many kindnesses he had received from their hands and would always retain a warm place for them in his heart. In coclusion he referred most pleasingly to the good qualities of his successor, as an able and zealous priest, and counselled them to always to extend to him (his successor) the same co-operation and assistance in carrying out his wishes as they had done to himself.

Some time last summer a Canadian customs flag was forcibly removed by Americans from a building occupied by the Canadian officials at Skaguay, Alaska, and that incident initiated a correspondence which resulted in an agreement between the United States and Canada, that neither should display its flag in the territory of either.

RECORD OF PROGRESS

His Annual Budget Speech Delivered by Hon. G. W. Ross.

THE PROVINCE'S PROSPERITY.

A Business-Like Statement by the Premier That Will Be Gratifying to All Real Friends of Ontario—Col. Matheson's Usual Deficit Bobs Up Again—Mr. Graham's Reply.

Toronto, Jan. 22.—At the Legislative Assembly to-day among the bills introduced were measures by Mr. Pattullo to amend the Municipal Act and Mr. Hill to amend the Public Health and the Assessment Act.

Hon. G. W. Ross was greeted with a hearty round of applause on rising to deliver the Budget Speech. He said it was admittedly part of the policy of growing and progressive countries to foster domestic industries and to increase the wealth of the nation. After an allusion to the British Free Trade policy he said that the policy of fostering home industries had largely been developed on this continent. There were other ways of doing this than by tariffs, such as the extensive subsidizing of railways and the giving of bounties to special industries. It seemed to be admitted in modern times that the Government had something to do besides discharging administrative functions; viz., to develop the latent resources and growing industries and encourage those large public enterprises for which private capital was insufficient. This modern view was one they were bound to accept, although it involved great responsibilities. In fact he did not know but what the Conservative Government at Ottawa realized more quickly than did some others the tendency of public opinion and this universal trend of modern government. He compared the financial position of the Government at present with that in 1871, when the income was altogether insufficient for a policy of development. It was, therefore, the first duty of the Government to increase its revenue. Then it only received $600,000 from Crown Lands, which was a revenue which could not be depended upon as a steady source of income. Moreover the policy had always been to give the land to the settler. The liquor traffic all the world over was admittedly a legitimate subject of taxation, and the income from that source had been raised from $58,000 in 1871 to $315,000 last year. The municipalities moreover were in a better position before as to their share of liquor taxation, as they received considerably more than under the former system. The next source of revenue was woods and forest which since Confederation had furnished one-fourth of the total revenue. It had increased from $215,973 in 1871 to $1,479,847. He did not agree with the view that the revenue from woods and forests should be treated as capital. No other Government did so either on the continent or in Europe. Instead of wasting this capital as it was alleged they had simply transferred these receipts from one form of capital to another. Since 1871 they had expended in public buildings, aid to railways, colonization roads and other permanent investments the total sum of $27,834,931, while their income from woods and forests during that period amounted to $27,720,965. They had put that capital into the form of public utilities instead of letting it remain dormant. The care taken to put the timber on the market at the proper time and obtain the highest possible price for them had resulted in largely increasing the revenue from this source. The policy of requiring all logs to be manufactured in Canada had worked very satisfactorily. The Opposition regarded themselves as the originator of that policy, but the proposition had been made long before any Opposition member ever advocated it. Mr. Christie, now Inspector of Asylums, had moved the appointment of a Committee on the question in 1868. He gave statistics showing the impetus given to the lumber manufacturing industry by requiring all logs to be manufactured in Canada. The Government had also been endeavoring to secure the setting apart of forest reserves, the territory now embraced in these reserves including Algonquin Park, amounting to 2,500,000 acres. The Casual Revenue, embracing a number of comparatively small items had been increased until an aggregate of $92,655. The receipts from these minor sources of revenue had aggregated over $3,000,000. Succession Duties had realized since 1892 the amount of $1,839,602 and it was a very gratifying source of income. Had the Opposition had their way this amount would have been cut down by about eight hundred thousand dollars. The administration policy was to gather an abundant revenue and then by spending it wisely to advance and develop the resources of the country. In enlarging their income they sought to avoid imposing burdens that would be felt by the poor. By the Supplementary Revenue Act they had taxed the wealthy and laid the large corporations under a tribute, which inflicted no hardship on anyone. In regard to the assertion that the result of this tax was to increase insurance rates he read a statement from the Inspector of Insurance showing that it was impossible that it should do so. Although the Opposition kept on asserting that there was no surplus, yet they had received as interest on investment since Confederation a total amount of $3,814,588. The Government had since Confederation aided in the construction of 2,219 miles of railway. The Government had in all expended on railway construction $10,058,942. The municipalities had been even more liberal, and he had no doubt that their enterprise had been stimulated by the action of the Government. He quoted statistics showing the growth and progress of New Ontario, where the springing up of new communities was a testimony to the wisdom of the course of the Government. He enlarged upon the establishment of public and educational institutions, the maintenance of hospitals and charities, the creation of public parks and the administration of justice. Had the Government not anticipated the growth of the country and increased the revenue these demands upon the public treasury could not have been made. In addition large amounts had been loaned and returned to the municipalities, and yet they could boast of a surplus of $2,571,292, of which $1,468,492 is in cash. Last year they had paid their way with a handsome margin, the receipts being $4,466,043 and the expenditures $4,038,834. They had kept within the estimated expenditure by $166,960. They started the present year with a cash balance of $1,468,492. The expenditure for education would be increased by about $7,000 owing to the growth of the province. As compared with last year the estimates of the current year only allowed for an increase of one cent, which, considering the special demands made on the treasury that must be regarded as moderate. In establishing the Bureau of Mines, which had entailed some increase, the Government felt that they were giving an impetus to a most important industry which would contribute in no small degree to our prosperity. It might be that they would have to give attention to copper smelting. The improvement of highways was a practical measure that was highly appreciated by the farmers. The establishment of an audit branch had been highly satisfactory, ensuring an early presentation and close scrutiny of the public accounts. The Neglected Children's branch had done excellent work in saving and training children for positions of usefulness. The Government intended to keep its promises as regarded building the Temiskaming Railway, which would give access to the new townships at low rates for settlers. The beet sugar policy was referred to as likely to build up the sugar manufacturing industry. The policy of the Government was to give the people employment at home and to provide as far as possible for the working up of all raw material in the province. The basis of success in manufacturing was intelligent skill and that could only be secured by technical education. There could be no ultimate prosperity without a general diffusion of comfort. (Applause.)

Mr. Matheson twitted the Government upon remaining in office for 30 years before they discovered New Ontario. Succession duties were a proper form of taxation when the money was required, but when he opposed it no taxation was necessary. He contended that the process of re-forestation had been a failure. The province had been going behind in its finances year after year at the rate of $400,000 annually. Hence extra taxation was imposed to meet the deficiency. He contended that the amount entered as interest on debts due from the Dominion was not interest but a special subsidy. The Government could not trust to timber dues for a revenue. It would decrease as there was no valuable tract of pine timber not now under license except that around Lake Temagami. He discussed at some length the statements made by the members of the Government in campaign speeches as to the financial condition of the province, contending that they had made use of incorrect and misleading figures. Moneys due to the counties in connection with the administration of justice had been withheld in order to improve the financial showing. The School of Practical Science, for which an appropriation had been made, had not been built, and many payments had been postponed to keep down the apparent expenditures. The Financial Commission had been appointed for one purpose alone—to show that there was a surplus, but they had refused to do so. To make out a surplus trust funds to the amount of over three million dollars were included, which were not available for the payment of the Government's liabilities. He quoted a great deal of ancient history regarding the Upper Canada Grammar School fund, and Land Improvement fund, contending that the province had diverted moneys rightly belonging to these funds to other purposes. Instead of a surplus there was really a deficit of between four and five million dollars. He claimed that the province owed the Dominion $500,000 in respect of Indian treaties, which the financial statement ignored. He closed by going over at some length the incidents of the West Elgin election.

Mr. Graham replied to some of Mr. Matheson's criticisms. He said that the question of municipal ownership was a very live one in the province and the member for South Lanark in opposing municipal cold storage was out of harmony with some of his colleagues. He proved from the Dominion accounts that the amount which Mr. Matheson stated was a special subsidy was interest as stated by the Provincial Treasurer. The Dominion Finance Minister had stated in a letter to the Provincial Treasurer that the moneys due from the Dominion to Ontario could, if necessary, be withdrawn. The Opposition lamentations were not well founded when the record was examined. The act respecting scrap iron assessment had been alluded to as "humbug," but it ought to have been remembered that that measure had been drafted by the member for Hamilton. The question was not whether there was a surplus but whether the money of the people had been spent wisely and to good advantage in compiling a financial statement it was not usual to include debenture debt or such liabilities as railway certificates but simply the current year's transactions, and on that basis the Government had made an excellent showing. Large fortunes were the accumulations by one of the money earned by others and it was just and right that a portion of these fortunes should, on the death of the owner, be diverted to public uses as was done by the succession duties. The Opposition had also opposed the Supplemental Revenue bill. They would also withdraw the amount realized from woods and forests from the annual revenue. Then where would they find the income on which to conduct the affairs of the province? The Government believed in raising the money from the classes best able to pay instead of taxing the poor. He strongly endorsed the expenditure of the Government on education and agriculture as the most profitable investments that could be made.

are the only interruptions to this January White Goods Sale. Still full of Whitewear enthusiasm? Sure we are. Think you would be, too, if your efforts to make a success of any special thing were responded to as ours have been.

The prices and labour put forth to give the customers of this store, and the townspeople generally, sure, thorough price advantages during this White Goods session have met with the "desired" approval.

We were going to give some prices here, but you've likely heard of them. However, they run something like this:—Estimate the cost of the cotton in a Corset Cover, a pair of drawers, or a Gown, then come to Sutcliffe's and buy the made-up article (in some cases lace trimmed) for less money.

Clearing Up Time for Gauntlets gives you a chance to get, probably, half of this winter's wear out of them and another season or two. They're the full-fashioned, properly made sort, and made of the right kind of materials.

Vice-Admiral Douglas Succeeds Admiral Bedford at Halifax.

BOERS SAY IT RESTS WITH DEWET

If He Could Be Captured, or If He Would Abrogate His Repeated Intention of Fighting Until He Has Expended His Last Man and His Last Cartridge the War Would Speedily End—Boers Scatter.

London, Jan. 23.—Vice-Admiral Archibald Lucius Douglas of the Royal Navy has been appointed commander of the North Atlantic squadron, to succeed Admiral Bedford.

Vice-Admiral Douglas is the first Canadian naval officer to be thus honored. In Morgan's "Canadian Men and Women of the Time" it is stated that Vice-Admiral Douglas is the son of the late Dr. Geo. Mellis Douglas, inspecting physician of the port of Quebec. He is 60 years of age and entered the royal navy as a cadet in 1856, receiving rapid promotion. He served as a midshipman and lieutenant on the Arrogant in all the engagements of her boats and naval brigade on the Rivers Congo and Gambia on the coast of Africa. He commanded a gunboat on the Canadian lakes during the Fenian invasion. He was selected by the Admiralty to proceed to Japan as commander of the mission to instruct the Japanese navy, 1873. He served in the naval and military operations of the Soudan, 1884, being rewarded with the Egyptian medal and the Khedive bronze star. Subsequently he commanded the Edinburgh in the Mediterranean under Sir George Tryon.

BEETS WITH DEWET

Prolongation of the War Credited to His Determination.

Amsterdam, Jan. 23.—Since the Boers have practically decided to waive their demand for the independence of the South African republics, great gloom has pervaded their headquarters here and at Hilversum.

Colonial Secretary Chamberlain's recent speech, in which he promised that there would be no confiscation of property, but that there would be a general amnesty, with political rights speedily given, seems to reduce matters to a point where an agreement is possible.

It is admitted that but for Gen. Dewet and other Boers in the field, who are still fighting for independence, peace would be a matter of weeks only.

The Boers here say that the prolongation of the war now rests on Dewet's reputed determination to fight until he has expended his last man and his last cartridge.

BOERS SCATTERED.

General French Reports the Cleaning of Cape Colony.

London, Jan. 23.—Lord Kitchener reports: "Gen. French reports that there are now only 150 of the enemy in the northeast of Cape Colony. One hundred and thirty of the Boers under Wessels escaped west, and only 50 are left of Kritzinger's band. Our recent operations have greatly scattered the Transvaal Boers.

Thamesford Girl Loses an Eye.

London, Jan. 23.—A fourteen-year-old girl named McMurray, daughter of a Thamesford butcher, met with a terrible accident on Monday while coasting with some companions. As a result, she lost an eye, and will otherwise be badly disfigured for life. The sled was being directed down hill, when in some manner the unfortunate girl was thrown against a stake secured in the ground. She struck on her left cheek, and the whole of the covering of the face above the mouth, and including the nose, was shoved upward so that it rested upon the forehead, leaving the bones and flesh exposed. The left eye was at the same time crushed so that it ran out of the socket.

Daily Examiner.

THURSDAY, JAN. 23, 1902.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Review in a long article — brains hammered out to the extent of nearly a column — seems to intimate, suggest or insinuate, that the articles in the Lakefield News, endorsing Hon. Mr. Stratton, proceed from the Examiner, and quotes a paragraph from the News, which our local contemporary claims sustains its contention. It might ease the mind and smooth the ruffled spirit of the Review to know that neither the Examiner nor Mr. Stratton knew of the origin or existence of the News' paragraph quoted by the Review, or of the article from which it was taken, till it appeared in print. If the Review, from a legitimate journalistic standpoint, had a sound cause to uphold, it would not need to confine its editorial energies so strictly to petty insinuations, imaginings and imputations of motives. The moment any newspaper has a kind or approving word to say of Mr. Stratton that moment such newspaper is black-listed by the Review. But, perhaps, the parties that come under the condemnation may survive. Possibly the endorsation of Mr. Stratton by the News will be of as much advantage to him as the puerilities and petty tactics of the Review will be to the cause it is seeking to promote.

American Had a Good Time Before His Creditors Found Him Out—Arrested in London.

London, Jan. 23.—Charles Bright, an American civil engineer, who is believed to be a Bostonian, and who is associated in commercial schemes with an American named Tandy, was arrested yesterday on a debtor's warrant at the Hotel Cecil and was imprisoned in the Holloway jail. Bright lately figured as a big Buenos Ayres financier. His liabilities are stated to amount to 200,000 pounds. Mr. Tandy is not involved in the proceedings.

He was arraigned at the Guild Hall police court yesterday, charged on a treasury warrant, with concealing 100,000 pounds of his assets in connection with bankruptcy proceedings. The assets in question are principally shares in a light and power company. He was admitted to bail in the sum of 2,000 pounds.

BLAMES HIS BROTHER.

Man Accused of Shooting an Assyrian Tries to Shift Crime.

Ottawa, Jan. 23.—David Kingsbury, aged 40, who has been lodged in jail in Hull, charged with attempted murder and robbery, declares that the real offender is his half-witted brother. The victim of the crime is Elias Joseph, an Assyrian peddlar. He is in the Protestant Hospital here, and this evening the doctors removed a slug from his shoulder. His statement is that while at Alfield in the Upper Gatineau country, last Monday, Kingsbury asked him to change a $2 bill. Having received the change and guaged the size of the peddlar's wad, Kingsbury, it is alleged, got down his gun, took a short cut to the main road, secreted himself behind a tree, and when the Assyrian was about 40 feet distant shot him in the back. Kingsbury then ran up to the peddlar, but when he saw his victim rise, ran away. Sheriff Wright, who made the arrest, found the insane brother, whom Kingsbury blames for the shooting, to be confined in a room in the lower part of the house, while the gun was kept upstairs, where he could not possibly get at it. Kingsbury will be placed on trial as soon as the peddlar has sufficiently recovered to give evidence in court. The charge from the gun tore a ghastly hole in the Assyrian's shoulder.

BIG FALL OF SNOW.

Toronto and Eastern Ontario Struggling Under a Fleecy Mantle of From 14 to 19 Inches Thick—Trains Were Late.

Toronto, Jan. 23.—Toronto was buried beneath a mantle of snow yesterday to a depth of fourteen or fifteen inches on the several, and several feet in spots. It was the worst snowstorm in a quarter of a century, with one exception. The exception was Dec 5 and 6, 1898, when there was a fall of sixteen inches of "the beautiful." The trolley cars made fairly good progress and not much delay occurred except in spots. The steam railway trains, though, were all from one to seven hours late, the greatest block being on the C.P.R.

Worst of the Season.

Ottawa, Jan. 23.—The snowstorm yesterday has been the worst of the season. It taxed the resources of the Street Railway Company to keep up anything like a regular service, but they managed it except during about an hour in the afternoon. The great North-Western telegraph wires are down between here and Toronto, and the Toronto train due here at 5 p.m. was five hours late.

Stage Routes Blocked.

Belleville, Jan. 23.—A rainstorm, great damage to trees in this disaccompanied by a heavy gale, did great damage to trees in this district yesterday. Snow preceded and followed the rain, and several of the stage routes were blocked.

Shut Up For Days.

St. Catharines, Jan. 23.—A great storm has been raging throughout the Niagara district for the past twenty-four hours, and business has been completely demoralized. There is over two feet of wet snow on the ground, and traffic on the streets is almost at a standstill. The trolley lines are tied up tight. The Grand Trunk have managed to get their trains through on fairly good time. It will be some days before traffic in the city and surrounding country can be resumed.

Stops Business.

Port Colborne, Jan. 23.—The heaviest snowfall in many years set in Tuesday night, and continued all day, with clearing weather last night. Business is almost at a standstill.

THE ACCESSION OATH.

Nova Scotia Roman Catholics Pass Two Protesting Resolutions.

Halifax, Jan. 23.—St. Mary's Hall was crowded last night by representative Roman Catholics, who had been called together by Archbishop O'Brien to protest against the declaration in the oath of the accession. Over 800 were present.

The Speakers were Archbishop O'Brien, Sir M. B. Daly, Mr. Justice Meagher, Hon. William Chisholm and Senator Power.

Resolutions Adopted.

Sir M. B. Daly moved the following resolution:

"Resolved, that the Catholics of Halifax, Nova Scotia, in meeting assembled, protest emphatically against the insult offered to their dearest religious convictions in the declaration to the oath of accession, and, as loyal Canadian subjects of the empire, keenly resent both the offensive assertions and insinuations contained therein."

Senator Power moved the second resolution, as follows:

"Resolved, that as the religious belief of Catholics does not diminish their loyalty nor restrain them from shedding their blood in the cause of the empire, they protest against, and resent the singling out of any article of their faith for special rejection or condemnation by the Sovereign, and respectfully ask that this unnecessary and offensive reference be entirely blotted out from the aforesaid declaration.

"And, further, that the resolution and proceedings of this meeting be transmitted by the chairman to the Right Honorable the Secretary of State for the Colonies."

Both resolutions were passed unanimously.

EIGHT CONVINCING REASONS . . .

WHY YOU SHOULD INSURE IN

THE IMPERIAL LIFE ASSURANCE CO'Y OF CANADA.

1. It is a purely Canadian Company, having all its funds invested in Canadian securities, and transacting business only in Canada.

2. It maintains the largest Government Deposit of any Canadian Life Insurance Company.

3. It maintains relatively the strongest policy reserves of any Canadian Life Insurance Company.

4. Its past record — the greatest guarantee of the future — has been unparalleled in Canadian life insurance.

5. Its policy contract is one of the most liberal issued, consistent with safety and equity.

6. It has a Capital of $1,000,000, which makes policy-holders' security unquestionable. At the same time, the assured is practically in the same position regarding profits as if he held a policy in a mutual company, the Imperial's charter providing that at least 90 per cent. of all profits shall be divided amongst policy-holders.

7. For every $100 of liability to policy-holders it holds $180 of securely invested assets. These assets are all of the highest order, and will bear the closest scrutiny.

8. An Imperial policy never depreciates in value, but, on the contrary, is constantly becoming more valuable. It is the most valuable estate you can leave behind you.

INTERVIEWED GOVERNMENT.

Representatives of Canadian Manufacturers' Association Want Changes Made.

Ottawa, Jan. 22.—In a two hours' discussion with the Premier and the Ministers of Customs and Finance yesterday morning a deputation from the Canadian Manufacturers' Association brought forward some of the recommendations passed at the annual meeting of the association in Montreal last November, and strove to impress the Ministers with the importance of giving effect to the suggestions made. The branches of industry to which the visit of the manufacturers has especial reference are woollens, agricultural implements, iron and steel goods, shirts and collars, and oatmeal.

Who Were Present.

The deputation included Messrs. Robt. Munro, Montreal, President; P. W. Ellis, ex-President; W. K. McNaught, J. O. Thorne, Hon. L. Melvin Jones, T. A. Russell, secretary, Toronto; P. J. Drummond, William McMaster, B. Tooke and Mr. Skelton, Montreal; James Maxwell, St. Mary's; and T. Martin, Mount Forest.

What They Want.

The interview was a private one, but the questions presented for consideration might be grouped under the following heads: Suggested temporary recall of Mr. J. S. Larke, Canadian Commissioner to Australia, in order that he may post himself upon the development in Dominion affairs since he has been absent from the country, and give the manufacturers of Canada the benefit of his experience. Appointment of special trade commissioners to Great Britain. Appointment of Canadian agents at foreign centres, where Canada does business, who should be required to furnish to shippers and exporters of Canadian goods information calculated to facilitate and develop trade. Reciprocal trade on an equitable basis with Australia. Substantial assistance towards direct steamship communication with Australia and South Africa. At present the exports of heavy Canadian goods to Australia go by way of New York, resulting in heavy transhipment charges and vexatious delays, which render it difficult to compete with United States exporters. With respect to South Africa it was recognized that the privilege of shipping Canadian merchandise to that country had given an incentive to Canadian exports, but trade would be put on a more permanent and satisfactory basis by the Government subsidizing a line. The imposition of a net duty of 30 per cent. upon woollens instead of a duty of 35 per cent., with the tariff preference of one-third off. Equalization of the duty on oatmeal, as compared with that upon oats, by substituting a specific duty of 60 cents per 100 lbs. in place of the present ad valorem duty of 20 per cent. upon the former. Extension of same encouragement now given to iron and steel industries to new branches of those industries as they come to be established in the country. The readjustment of the tariff in so far as it affects agricultural implements and cottons was also urged. During the discussion the Ministers asked numerous questions, and seemed desirous of informing themselves as fully as possible upon the points raised. The deputation had, however, to rest content with a promise that the representations made would be considered. Several of the Montreal members of the deputation returned home yesterday afternoon. The remainder will interview Hon. Sydney Fisher to-day in regard to matters affecting patents and trade marks. They will also interview Hon. Wm. Paterson in regard to points bearing upon the system of customs appraisement.

From Boston to St. John's.

New York, Jan. 22.—According to a Boston despatch to The Times, there has been going on very quietly a movement toward the establishment of a steamship line between Boston and St. John's, Nfld., and it has resulted in the formation and incorporation of the Boston and Newfoundland Steamship Company.

Burglar Assailants.

Vancouver, B.C., Jan. 22.—Mr. Trevery, formerly of Toronto, had his house robbed last night. His wife was murderously assaulted by the burglars.

Rixey Gets His Reward.

Washington, Jan. 22.—The President yesterday nominated Dr. Presley M. Rixey to be Surgeon-General of the navy.

SHOT THROUGH THE BRAIN.

Fatal Hunting Accident For a Quebec Wood Merchant.

St. Leonard, Que., Jan. 22.— Joseph Hebert, wood merchant of this locality, met with a fatal shooting accident yesterday. He, in company with three others, were hunting about two miles from this village. They divided into two parties and were to meet at a given point. After they met they were discussing the best methods for pursuing game, when a gun in the hands of Joseph Leblano was accidentally discharged, the bullet entering the brain of Mr. Hebert, resulting in his instant death. He was in the back of the sleigh. An inquest was held yesterday afternoon and a verdict was rendered in accordance with the facts.

ACCIDENT TO MR. DWIGHT.

President of the G.N.W. Telegraph Co. Breaks His Leg.

Toronto, Jan. 22.—Mr. H. P. Dwight, president of the G. N. W. Telegraph Company, while visiting Hon. Mr. Latchford, Minister of Public Works, at the Parliament buildings yesterday morning, fractured his right leg below the knee. He was about to take his departure from Mr. Latchford's office, and had just risen from his chair, when his foot slipped and the leg bone snapped.

Canadians Rewarded.

London, Jan. 22.—The War Office notifies that the following warrant officers, non-commissioned officers, and men of the Canadian contingents have been awarded silver medals for "Distinguished Conduct in the Field": Sergt.-Major W. Grimlett (Royal Canadian Artillery), T. Hymes (Lord Strathcona's Corps); Squadron-Sergt.-Major J. Richards (Lord Strathcona's Corps); Sergeants T. R. Miles (Canadian Mounted Rifles); Gunner Laidlow (Royal Canadian Artillery); Troopers A. W. V. Crawley (Canadian Mounted Rifles), Waite (Canadian Mounted Infantry); and Private L. W. Molloy (Royal Canadian Dragoons).

Mail For South Africa.

Ottawa, Jan. 22. — A mail for South Africa, in which will be included parcels addressed to the British forces, will be despatched from Halifax per S.S. Victorian, sailing for Cape Town under Government orders on the 28th inst. Articles intended for despatch by this mail should reach Halifax not later than the evening of the 27th.

Tinned Meat Enquiry.

Ottawa, Jan. 22.—The enquiry into the character of certain samples of Canadian tinned meat shipped to South Africa closed yesterday afternoon. It is thought there was some foundation for the complaint made but chemical analysis does not reveal the presence of boraic acid in large or injurious quantities.

Reward of Merit.

A New Catarrh Cure Secures National Popularity in Less than One Year.

Throughout a great nation of eighty million it is a desperate struggle to secure even a recognition for a new article to say nothing of achieving popular favour, and yet within one year Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, the new catarrh cure, has met with such success that to-day it can be found in every drug store throughout the United States and Canada.

To be sure a large amount of advertising was necessary in the first instance to bring the remedy to the attention of the public, but everyone familiar with the subject knows that advertising alone never made any article permanently successful. It must have in addition absolute, undeniable merit, and this the new catarrh cure certainly possesses in a marked degree.

Physicians, who formerly depended upon inhalers, sprays and local washes or ointments, now use Stuart's Catarrh Tablets because, as one of the most prominent stated, these tablets contain in pleasant, convenient form all the really efficient catarrh remedies, such as red gum, blood root and similar antiseptics.

They contain no cocaine nor opiate, and are given to the little children with entire safety and benefit.

Dr. J. J. Reitiger, of Covington, Ky., says: "I suffered from catarrh in my head and throat every fall, with stoppage of the nose and irritation in the throat affecting my voice and often extending to the stomach, causing catarrh of the stomach. I bought a fifty cent package of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets at my druggist's, carried them in my pocket and used them faithfully, and the way in which they cleared my head and throat was certainly remarkable. I had no catarrh last winter and spring and consider myself entirely free from any catarrhal trouble."

Mrs. Jerome Ellison, of Wheeling, W. Va., writes: "I suffered from catarrh nearly my whole life and last winter my two children also suffered from catarrhal colds and sore throat so much they were out of school a large portion of the winter. My brother who was cured of catarrhal deafness by using Stuart's Catarrh Tablets urged me to try them so much that I did so and am truly thankful for what they have done for myself and my children. I always keep a box of the tablets in the house and at the first appearance of a cold or sore throat we nip it in the bud and catarrh is no longer a household affliction with us."

Full sized packages of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are sold for fifty cents at all druggists.

Send for book on cause and cure of catarrh mailed free. Address, F. A Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.

WANT WORK EXPEDITED.

Delegates of the Canadian Manufacturers Concluded Business.

Ottawa, Jan. 23.—The delegates of the Canadian manufacturers yesterday concluded their interviews with members of the Government on trade questions. They saw Hon. Sydney Fisher, and asked that additional examiners be appointed in the patents branch to expedite the work of the office.

Hon. Mr. Paterson was interviewed and asked for uniformity of appraisement, and also requested to see that job lots of slaughter goods from foreign countries be rated for duty at their market value in the country of origin, a rule which the deputation declared is not always followed in fixing the duty.

REACHES A CRISIS.

Condition of Marquis of Dufferin and Ava Alarms His Friends.

London, Jan. 23.—The serious illness of the Marquis of Dufferin and Ava, ex-Viceroy of India and ex-Governor-General of Canada, has reached a critical stage. His friends fear the worst.

Fell Back and Expired.

Dunnville, Jan. 23.—John Taylor, police magistrate, died suddenly of heart disease at 8 o'clock last evening. He was addressing a meeting of the Citizens' Gas Company, of which he is president, when he suddenly fell back in a chair and expired immediately. He was a native of Cumberland, England, and has been here about 35 years. He was 66 years of age, a prominent business man, a member of Amity Lodge of Freemasons and a Liberal in politics, widely and favorably known for his sterling qualities. He leaves a widow, five daughters and two sons to mourn his loss.

Loss of Flesh.

If you find yourself falling below normal weight there is danger. The use of fish oils can temporarily add fat, but will never build up healthy tissue. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food acts through the blood and nervous system and carries new life and energy to every nook and corner of the body. It regulates the various organs of the body, makes the appetite good, adds healthy flesh and replaces the tissues wasted by disease. Gradually and naturally this food cure restores colour to the cheeks, increases the weight of the body, and thoroughly overcomes disease.

Honor in 1888. His poetical and other literary productions date from 1865, when he was 26 years old, and he acquired a reputation in somewhat restricted literary circles by a volume of poems, one or two of which, particularly "Le Vase Brise," has long been cited as a model of finished style and delicate sentiment.

A FRIEND'S GOOD ADVICE.

It Saved Madame Guimond Much Pain and Trouble and She has Shown Her Appreciation.

Advice is often tendered with the very best intention which it is not wise to follow. It is so easy to advise and suggest, and one of the greatest annoyances sick people have to endure is the careless suggestions of those who mean well but do not understand.

Almost anyone who has not had stomach troubles of his own can tell a dyspeptic just how to be cured.

The only advice a sick person should follow is that of one who has suffered in a similar way and who has found relief.

Madame Amanda Guimond, of Grand Metis, Quebec, has suffered from Dyspepsia for years. Many suggestions were made and many different treatments tried, but she got no better till a friend who had been cured of Dyspepsia by Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets advised her to use them. She did so, and soon was free from any pain or distress. The relief came with the first dose; and a complete cure with the fourth box. Now Madame Guimond never tires telling her friends what Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets have done for her. She is also very grateful to the friend who gave her such excellent advice.

Madame Guimond advises all who suffer with Stomach Troubles to use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, and her advice should be worth your attention, for she has experienced both the pain you now endure and the cure you may secure if you will but do as she advises.

The Snow Blockade.

The snow which fell yesterday has caused a blockade of traffic to some extent and the town engineer and his staff of men have had a busy busy time of it in getting rid of the snow on George street. All the available labour has been employed, and the town scraper is at work levelling down the high mountains.

That Dainty Widow.

The manager of the Preston Opera House, concerning "That Dainty Widow," says; "The play is a bright, sparkling and wholesome comedy, and quite free from anything that could offend the most fastidious. It was a play by ladies and gentlemen for ladies and gentlemen, with plenty of merriment, fun and laughter and sufficient variety for all."

Indoor Games.

If you find the long winter evenings slow in passing, supply the house with some of the interesting and exciting games which you will find in great variety at the Peterborough Bookstore. Such healthful and amusing games as parlour tennis, parlour hookey, parlour curling, are very interesting, and so are a lot of others that cultivate keen study and innocent contests. A. H. Stratton & Co.

15th Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. McWilliams, No. 22 Bolivar street, celebrated the 15th anniversary of their wedding on Tuesday night. A number of friends gathered at their residence, among them being several guests from Lakefield, the old home of Mrs. McWilliams. A most enjoyable evening was spent in social intercourse and during the evening many congratulations were extended to the host and hostess.

DISTRICT RALLY.

The Oddfellows to Assemble Here on Thursday March 13th.

Arrangements have been completed for an Oddfellows' Rally to be held in Peterborough on Thursday, Mrch 13th, beginning at half-past seven, sharp, when the Initiatory Degree will be presented. This will be followed by the presentation of the three degrees, the Oriental degree and refreshments, coupled with speech, song and story.

The Initiatory and First Degrees will be exemplified by Otonabee Lodge, No. 13, and and the Second and Third Degrees by Peterborough Lodge, No. 111. Invitations have been sent to the lodges at Pontypool, Millbrook, Havelock and Norwood. It is expected that each of these lodges will bring several candidates for degrees.

This gathering will give members of outside lodges a chance to see the degree work, and will give all a chance to become better acquainted, and promote that social and fraternal spirit for which Oddfellowship is noted.

Attention is called to the early hour at which the meeting begins, 7.30. This is to give a chance to get through before the arrival of the C P.R. midnight train.

PERSONALS.

Ven. Archdeacon Casey, of Lindsay, was in town to-day.

Rev. Dr. Symonds will lecture before the Fortnightly Club on Tuesday evening next.

Miss Grace Ely, of Tarrytown-on-the-Hudson, is the guest of Miss Gertrude Kendry.

NEWS NUGGETS.

—The Knickerbocker Club will hold a dance this evening.

—"That Dainty Widow," in the Opera House to-night.

—There will be a special practice of All Saints Church choir this even.

—The annual meeting of the Children's Aid Society is being held this afternoon.

—The Chief has a set of false teeth at the police station for which he would like an owner.

—The Girl's Guild of St. John's church will give an oyster supper and entertainment on the evening of Tuesday, Feb. 11th.

—The Campbellford Skating and Curling Rink collapsed during the recent heavy fall of snow. It was one of the best in the province. Moral, don't have a good rink and it won't collapse.

—A meeting of the Dan Spence Memorial Committee was to have been held last evening but owing to the inclemency of the weather there was not a quorum, and the meeting was adjourned indefinitely.

—There will be a special rehearsal of St. Andrew's choir at 8.30 o'clock on Saturday evening; a full attendance is requested. On account of Dr. Waddel's lecture to-morrow evening the singing class will not meet this week.

—The largest load of stone, it is said, that was ever brought into the town yards was that which was drawn to town on Saturday by Mr Wm Meharry. The load of stone measured 130 feet, two feet over a cord, and it was drawn five miles.

—The snowstorm which raged in this district yesterday and the previous night, did not extent west of Hamilton. It was probably the heaviest fall of snow that this town has seen for seven or eight years. Actual measurements last evening showed depths varying from 24 to 30 inches on the level, and 26 inches of the beautiful would be a fair average.

LAST NIGHT'S CONCERT.

Visiting Glee Club Appeared in the Opera House—Late in Arriving.

Ten p.m. appears to be a rather extraordinary hour to commence an entertainment, but nevertheless this was the hour at which the first number in the University of Toronto Glee Club entertainment was rendered in the opera house last night.

The audience, considering the very bad condition of the streets, and the unsettled state of the weather, was quite large, and it was patient, too. The greater part of those present arrived at the opera house at the usual hour—about 8 o'clock. A young man at the door, in the garb of a University man, told the people that the train was an hour late, that it would arrive here at 8.30 o'clock. It might be explained that three or four of the University boys came down at noon, and the remainder were to come on the C.P.R. local. The audience sat patiently until nine o'clock, when another one of the students appeared on the stage, and announced that they had received a telegram from the belated passengers stating that they would be ready to start the programme at 9.30 o'clock; in the meantime, "Keep the crowd amused." "I can't undertake to do that," said the speaker, but he asked their kind indulgence for a while longer. At 9.45 o'clock there was no sign of the remaining portion of the Glee Club, but the spokesman of the advance guard announced again that the train was just pulling into the station; at 5 minutes to 10 he announced that the busses were coming up from the station. In a short while the boys appeared, and the audience gave a mighty cheer.

The boys were not very long in getting down to work, and a programme of more than ordinary interest was rendered. The stars of the company are Messrs. C. E. Clarke, H. N. Shaw, F. E. Brophey, A. H. Abhart, and G. F. Smedley. The entertainment concluded at five minutes past twelve o'clock.

THE 3RD DRAGOONS.

They Held Their Annual Meeting in Peterborough, Yesterday Afternoon.

The annual meeting of the 3rd Prince of Wales Canadian Dragoons was held in Peterborough yesterday. Owing to the snow storm which prevented a number of the officers in making train connections the attendance was unusually small, but business of considerable importance to the regiment was discussed.

There were present, Lieut.-Col. David Sutton, Segt.-Major Young, Capt. W. D. Johnston, Capt. J. W. Garvin, Capt. C. H. Rogers and Lieut. W. T. Hall.

The principle item of business was the discussion of the proposed reorganization of the regiment on the Imperial basis. It is expected that this will come into effect in the course of a few months when the establishment will be increased from 213 to 360 officers and men. The number of officers will be increased from 24 to 30. This means that each of the 4 squadrons of the 3rd Dragoons will have 6 officers instead of 4 as formerly. The present squadron commanders will be raised to the rank of major and there will be a captain, second in command with 4 lieutenants. When the Dragoons go into camp next summer there will be many new faces in the ranks and amongst the officers as well.

Major Brown of the Dragoons, who is on his way to South Africa, will not, very likely, be with the 3rd when they go under canvas next season.

Committees were appointed at yesterday's meeting, and the Dragoons will shortly be in better shape than they have been for many a day.

The promotion of the present squadron commanders to the rank of major will prove to be a quick rise for four young officers. Capt. Fred McDonald, Capt. W. H. Bradburn, Capt. Geo. Syer and Capt. C. H. Rogers are younger than most men with the rank of major, and when the new establishment comes into force they may expect many pleasant congratulations.

THE POLICE COURT.

Several Little Items of Interest—Dumping the Snow.

At the police court this morning Patrick Collins was fined $2.00 for drawing snow out of his yard and dumping it on the streets. The town authorities, it might be stated, have no objection to people taking the snow from their yards, but they are not going to allow it to be dumped on the streets. It may be drawn down by the river bank.

Wm. Graham, appeared, pursuant to remand, charged with being drunk and disorderly. He was discharged.

Robt. Redman, an inmate of the Protestant Home and George Wedden, who makes his abode at the same charitable institution, have had a disagreement and they will have the matter ventilated in the police court to-morrow morning. Both are old gentlemen, but they are plucky yet, and it is said that a pugilistic encounter occurred. At any rate Redman is charged with assaulting his fellow inmate.

IN LATEST SPORTING CIRCLES.

The Port Hope Match To-morrow Night.

Some Notes of Interest Concerning Curling and Other Lines of Sport.

HOCKEY.

Everyone is talking about the game that will take place to-morrow night in the Charlotte street rink between the Port Hope and Peterborough teams. The O.H.A. executive has decided that the matches that Port Hope and Peterborough have played with Lindsay, will count, so that the Ontarios from the south have a lead of two games and it will require Peterborough to win to-morrow night's match and the return game down in Port Hope to even tie Port Hope for the championship of this district. The locals are determined to do this and they will put up the fight of their lives. The visiting team will bring up a large number of supporters and there will likely be quite a number of outsiders from Lindsay, Omemee, Millbrook, Lakefield and other points.

The Fenelon Falls team have written the local club asking for a series of home and home games. They are very anxious to run up against an O.H.A. team in order to see how they compare. It would be impossible, however, for the Peterborough intermediate O.H.A. team to give the Fenelon team a date until after Feb 1st.

So the Lindsay men are going to vindicate themselves? Here is what the Post says:

"The Lindsay Hockey Club will defend themselves in the action taken by the O.H.A. in suspending the club from the association for having played Dennistoun of Port Perry in Friday night's game against Port Hope. The management can prove that Dennistoun came here of his own accord and took a position in Mr. J. Berry's harness shop, and has never received one cent from the club.

The following will be the team to play Port Hope to-morrow night in the first of the home and home games with that club: —Goal, Wasson; point, Glover; cover point, H. Armstrong; frowards, Graham, Morgan, Whitcroft and Roy Armstrong. The only change is Roy Armstrong, it being his first appearance on the forward line of the intermediate team. Judging from his work this season so far he should prove a strong acquisition.

CURLIANA.

The game in which Peterborough and Lindsay figured on Tuesday in the Ontario Tankard, and in which Lindsay won by only one shot brings to mind the games of some years ago. The Examiner of fifteen years ago made the statement that Lindsay can defeat Peterborough in a two rink competition, but that in a five or six rink game the Scugog men are not in it. In this connection the following account of a game between Peterborough and Lindsay which took place fifteen years ago might be of interest. A few of the names are still familiar in curling circles.

The Examiner of March 31st, 1887 says:

Five rinks of curlers from Lindsay met with decisive defeat at the Charlotte street rink yesterday afternoon, and the Peterborough men are now content to let the season's sports cease and rest themselves on their laurels, which, though won late, are still most acceptable. And besides, they claim that this match has considerably enlightened them as to the best way to play Lindsay. No two rinks of Peterborough curlers can successfully compete against the strongest team of Lindsay men; but in a five or six rink game, the Peterborough men are confident that they can wax Lindsay every time. And their claims are not in the least presumptuous—Peterborough has one of the best, if not the best, all-round curling clubs in Ontario. In five and six rink contests they almost invariably win, and it is only in cases where two rinks or less are pitted against outsiders that they sometimes suffer defeat. If the present cold snap continues there will likely be more curling matches. Following is the score of Wednesday's game:

The Lindsay Post gives a write-up of a column or more of the recent Tankard match between Lindsay and Peterborough. The following is an extract from the report:

"When it became known in town circles that the Peterborough Thistles had won their round in the Ontario Tankard primaries, the Lindsay curlers knew that they had their work cut out for them and they expected that they would have to play their very best game to come out on top. The two clubs have met many times on the ice and the battle has always been of the keenest, but never was the contest so close and exciting, and the finish of such a garrison sort, as yesterday. Wm. McLennan played in Peterborough against T. Rutherford, and as score shows, after the eighth end he gradually pulled away from his opponent and on the eighteenth end the score stood McLennan 18, Rutherford 9. The nineteenth end yielded four for Peterborough, and in the twentieth end they scored 5. Thus in two ends they made half their total score, but despite these large counts McLennan pulled his rink out four shots to the good and won the match for Lindsay."

BASKET-BALL.

One of the swiftest games of the season was played last night between the Brownies and the Orioles of B. F. Ackerman's. In the first half the Orioles ran up a score of 11 to 2 against the Brownies. In the second half things changed, the Brownies got in some splendid combination play and scored 13 points in quick succession, to the Orioles' 5. The final score being 16—14 in favour of Ackerman's aggregation. The teams were as follows:

Brownies—Miller, G. Miller, Daly, R. Hall and Boucher.

Orioles — Robertson, McGuire, Doidge, Dobbin and Trollope.

THE POULTRY SHOW.

The Affair Will Close at 10 O'clock This Evening—The Exhibits.

Those who have not yet paid a visit to the Poultry Show in the Market Building should do so to-night before ten o'clock, as the work of removing the birds will begin at that hour.

The attendance of townspeople has not been as large as it should have been, and it is most discouraging to the management. The Poultry Show which is now in progress, is one of the best, so far as exhibits are concerned, that has ever been given in Peterborough, and many fine specimens of poultry are on exhibition.

A bird that is attracting more than usual attention is a cock that has on its cage the label, "Boer Cockerel, exhibited by Kitchener." The bird is, as a matter of fact, a white Leghorn cock, very artistically painted or dyed in all the colours of the rainbow. The work is excellently done, and Mr. Cook is a very proud looking fellow. The work was done by a local artist.

Messrs. Learmouth & Walsh, of Hastings, are among the largest exhibitors and succeeded in winning 18 prizes out of 24 entries, besides several special prizes. They have a first class exhibit.

Mr. Knight of Bowmanville is to the front again with his well known display and has succeeded in carrying off the usual number of prizes.

THE INDUCTION OF REV. W. L. ARMITAGE.

All Saints Formally Set Apart Last Night as a Separate Parish.

BISHOP OF TORONTO WAS PRESENT.

A Large Congregation Witnessed the Performance of the Interesting Ceremony by His Lordship — Visiting Clergymen Present — The Reception Which Was Afterwards Held.

The formal induction of Rev. W. L. Armitage as Rector of the newly-established parish in connection with All Saints', took place last evening, and a very large congregation was in attendance, though climatic conditions were such that it speaks well for those interested in the church, that they could not be deterred from being present, even in the face of the worst storm of the season.

His Lordship, the Bishop of Toronto, conducted the most interesting special service set apart for the public institution of ministers to their cures, being assisted in the ministrations by Rev. J. C. Davidson, Rector of St. John's; Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, Rector of St. Luke's; and Rev. J. H. Teney, of Omemee.

The Bible and Book of Common Prayer were tendered Rev. Mr. Armitage by Warden J. Edgar, and the keys of the church were received from the hands of Warden J. Mulholland.

THE SERMON.

The sermon was delivered by His Lordship the Bishop, from the text, I Thes., 5th chapter, 12th and 13th verses: "We beseech you, brethren, to know them which labour among you, and are over you in the Lord, and admonish you, and to esteem them very highly in love for their works' sake."

This plea, said His Lordship in opening his address, which St. Paul urges beseechingly, is plainly on behalf of the elders or presbyters of the church, those specially appointed to exercise towards the Thessalonians the office of comforting and edifying, which he had just exhorted them to practice towards themselves one towards another.

The plea furnishes a very suggestive summary of the office and duties of Christian ministers, suitable for consideration on this important and interesting occasion, of the institution of your Rector to the care of souls.

These are presented under three heads, viz.,

I.—They labour among you.

II.—They are over you in the Lord.

III.—They admonish you.

The first describes their pastoral office; the second their authoritative commission; the third, their pulpit ministrations.

These three functions combined make up that work for whose sake St. Paul's bespeaks our loving esteem.

The relation of the clergyman to his people as their pastor is specially characteristic of the parochial system of the Church of England. "He labours among them," expresses all that is involved in fulfilling the duties of the parish priest. It is a strong expression, and truer than the bald rendering which has been suggested for it, "They bestow labour upon you." It is among His people, among his flock, that the pastor labours. For it would be but an ineffective ministry that was confined to the public ministrations of the Sunday. Great as the opportunities of the pulpit are, the parish priest must seek the exercise of his office towards the souls of men chiefly in the intercourse of the working days of the week. It is here that his effective power for good, his truest successes, will be won. Therefore he is found not always in the study, that like a scribe instructed unto the Kingdom of Heaven, he may bring forth out of his treasure things new and old for the instruction of his hearers, but more frequently, day by day, in the streets and lanes of his parish, in the homes of his charge. And their pastoral duties are "labours," not in the sense of their being burdensome, but from the incessant nature of their demands and the earnestness needed in doing them. It is a serious, urgent business that the clergyman undertakes, the most serious and urgent that a man could devote his life to, one that cannot be trifled with or postponed or neglected. Think of the calls that are made upon his time and strength; the sick to be visited with the consolations of religion and the bedsides of the dying to be cheered with the hopes of immortality; the wanderers to be sought out; the absentees from the services of the church to be enquired after; newly come strangers into the parish to be looked up. Then there is the systematic visiting of the whole parish to be maintained for the proper oversight of the flock and the understanding of the spiritual condition and surroundings of each. He has also to act between brothers at variance as well as attend to the multifarious duties connected with the regular week day services, the preparation of confirmation classes and the direction of the many benevolent organizations which are always identified with church work. So that in a large parish such as this there is no danger of a clergyman having any time on his hands to fritter away. He can be no caretaker or idler but is among you as one that labours.

AS A SHEPHERD

Under the second head "They are over you in the Lord," the clergy are vested with an authority from above. This does not mean that they are to arrogate to themselves a superiority of dominion over the laity that would take an objectionable form to the latter. This would contradict the dignity of their ministerial calling. They are set over the people for a definite purpose—to administer the sacrament of grace and the discipline of Christ, to have charge of the loosing and binding and also the excommunicating of unworthy members of the church as well as their restoration in cases of sincere repentance. There are sometimes members of a congregation who wish to deny a minister his position as the head of the church despite his divine authority. Such men should remember that the layman has his proper sphere, which may be found in the bible class, the Sunday School and the family. These afford a lawful field to those anxious to assist in the work of the church. Work along these lines is altogether different from an attempt to slight an ordained minister with God-given authority. St. Paul uses a figure which sufficiently illustrates the position of a Christian minister who is placed over a congregation. He is an ambassador of Christ and comes accredited as from the Most High King as His spokesman—His mouthpiece. He is made responsible with an awful responsibility even to blood guiltiness. He is to be faithful in the delivery of the message he has received.

REV. W. LESLIE ARMITAGE
THE NEWLY INDUCTED RECTOR OF ALL SAINTS.

The third heading, "They admonish you," refers to the pulpit administrations. It makes a demand upon patience. Men as a rule care not for admonition. They would by the fluent delivery of a sermon or a lucid discussion of some topic of the day than receive a home thrust on personal conduct. But the admonition when needed must be bold and to the point. The parish priest must be fearless in calling the righteous, as well as the sinners, to repentance. He must be persistent in holding up the cross of Christ.

ALL SAINTS' CHURCH.

Attention must also be called to the duties of a congregation in respect to the minister. They should know the clergyman, and to know him means more than a mere personal acquaintance. It means to know of his work and to have such a knowledge of his temporal state as will not allow him to suffer undue anxiety or be overcome with his burden. He needs all the encouragement the sympathy of a loving heart can afford. His work is often discouraging. A sense of the overwhelming vastness of the task laid upon him depresses his spirit. The laity can give to a clergyman the uplifting of the hands and a sincere sympathy. The duty of the laity is to give this unreservedly.

In conclusion His Lordship spoke as subjoined as affecting the local congregation: "It is with complete satisfaction that I induct your pastor to-night as first Rector of this newly-constituted parish. There is no need for me to introduce or to commend him to you. For four years he has laboured among you, and chiefly in this district of All Saints. You know his works and have learned to esteem him very highly in love for its sake. I trust that his closer relations to you with the full charge entrusted to him, and the complete devotion of his care to your spiritual interests will have the effect of strengthening his hands and concentrating his energies, and of drawing still closer the bond that unites you in sympathy and co-operation as pastor and people."

"I must also express the very very earnest hope that though All Saints' is now parochically separated from St. John's there will be no separation between the congregations either in sentiment or in church-work—no change in the body, which remains one.

"If this step is to be, as I trust it will be, for the fuller development of the church in this town, it must be carried out, not in any spirit of rivalry, competition or estrangement but of the truest oneness, sympathy and loving community of purpose and action.

"Finally, I exhort you to pray for your Rector, as I am sure he desires your prayers—pray for him regularly and fervently, that in all his teachings he may be taught by the Spirit of God, in all his labours, strengthened, directed, sustained by the Spirit of God, that his ministry may be abundantly fruitful to your eternal welfare and his exceeding great reward."

The newly inducted Rector then offered the following prayers:—

O most glorious Lord God, I acknowledge that I am unworthy to serve under Thy roof; yet be graciously pleased to accept the dedication of myself to Thy service in this parish, and to prosper all my undertakings. Fill me with a holy fear of Thy Divine Majesty, and with a deep sense of my own unworthiness; that approaching thy Sanctuary with lowliness and devotion, with clean hands and a pure heart, I may always perform a service acceptable to thee, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Enable me, O Lord Jesus Christ, both by my life and doctrine, to set forth thy glory and rightly and duly to administer thy Holy Sacraments. And to all thy people give thy heavenly grace; and especially to those who are here placed under my ministry, that, with meek heart and due reverence, they may hear and receive Thy Holy Word, and that they, and all who profess and call themselves Christians, may hold the faith in unity of spirit, in the bond of peace, and in righteousness of life, and may be numbered with Thy saints in glory everlasting. Amen.

At the conclusion of the service His Lordship pronounced the benediction.

THE MUSIC.

The hymns selected for the occasion were —

No. 166, "All People that on Earth do Dwell."

No. 82, "Alleulia, Song of Sweetness."

No. 540, "Fight the Good Fight."

The Nunc Dimittis, was Plummer's, and the anthem, "I will Extol Thee." The tenor solo was taken by Mr. Jos. Legg, and the bass solo by Rev. Mr. Armitage.

At the close of the service the congregation joined with the choir in singing the National Anthem.

The choir is composed of a number of fresh young voices and strangers forming a portion of the congregation last evening will be surprised to learn that there was no necessity of augmenting the choir last evening for the special occasion, but that, on the contrary, some exceptionally good voices were absent for the evening.

A reception was tendered the Bishop immediately after the service, when those present adjourned to the basement. The choir during this function was occupied by Mr. J. H. McClellan, whose interesting remarks were heard with close attention. Miss Lila Meharry gave a most pleasing interpretation of Godard's Fourth Mazurka on the piano, giving evidence of the possession of a most delicate touch.

The appended address was then read to His Lordship the Bishop by Mr. J. Mulholland:

To the Right Reverend, the Lord Bishop of Toronto:

May it please your Lordship,—On behalf of the congregation of All Saints' Church, we extend to your Lordship a most hearty welcome on this your first visit to the new parish which you have recently erected.

Eleven years ago to-night, you opened the Mission building, which earnest and devoted hands had erected to carry on the growing work in this part of the parish of Peterborough. Since then many changes have taken place. Some of those, whose memories we revere, and whose good examples we endeavour to follow, have been called to their rest, others have moved to other parts. But the work of those who followed them has been richly blessed of God, and it was with great satisfaction, that four years ago, we asked you to dedicate the extended building as All Saints' Church. Now that we are a separate parish, we feel encouraged to go on to greater works, feeling much helped and stimulated by your kindly words of sympathy and counsel.

We desire to express our deep gratitude to you for favouring us with your presence at the induction of our first rector, and hope we may prove our sincerity by more strongly supporting the objects of the church in the diocese, and by continued loyalty to yourself as her head.

This day in which we commemorate the accession of our Gracious King to the throne of this great empire, and the heritage of his revered and illustrious mother, will be long remembered by us as one of the milestones in the history of our parish.

We wish your Lordship many years of great usefulness in the vineyard of the Master, and God's richest blessing upon all your labours in His Kingdom.

His Lordship in expressing his appreciation of the sentiments contained in the address referred in a most interesting manner to the occasion of former visits to All Saints, having previously been present at the opening of the church and also for the purpose of administering the rite of confirmation. He gave many words of wise counsel to the new parish.

When His Lordship had concluded Mr. J. Edgar read the subjoined address to Rev. J. C. Davidson:

To the Reverend J. C. Davidson, M. A., Rector of Peterborough:

Reverend and Dear Sir,—Recognizing that much of the work and responsibility in the early days of the establishing of services in the southern portion of the town, and especially of that which has immediately grown into All Saints' Church fell upon you, and that with your assistance and co-operation the new parish has been set apart, we desire to express to you on this auspicious occasion our sincere appreciation.

Many of us have not been intimately connected with you in the work, but there are still among us those who have shared in the small beginnings, which, under God's blessing, have grown to the large work and the new parish.

It will be a great source of pleasure for us all to look back, and know there has been no occasion for reproach or estrangement in the delicate matter of the dividing of the parish, and we pray that those true feelings of Christian charity may always prevail, that nothing may hinder the spread of Christ's Kingdom.

In taking leave of you as rector, we do so with love and best wishes, knowing we shall have your earnest advice and support from time to time, and may both you and Mrs. Davidson be long spared to the work of the church in Peterborough.

Mr. Davidson, in replying to the address, recalled a number of personal reminiscences concerning the early history of All Saints, the recital of which proved most interesting to those assembled, and more especially to those identified with the first work which was done in connection with the foundation of the South Ward Mission.

Rev. E. A. Langfeldt and Rev. J. H. Teney followed with very brief addresses, replete with encouraging words for the rector and congregation of All Saint's. Rev. Mr. Armitage brought this portion of the programme to a close by addressing the meeting for a few moments. It was some time before he could obtain a hearing, however, so hearty and long sustained was the applause with which he was greeted on ascending the platform. He stated that he felt most grateful to the Bishop for consenting to be present, as he knew of other functions which he had been expected to attend on this date which would doubtless have afforded him far more pleasure, but His Lordship had apparently regarded the acceptance of his invitation to All Saint's as a first duty and, much to the delight of all, had consented to attend. He hoped that it would not be very long before another visit would be received from the Bishop as a very large confirmation class would, he hoped, soon be ready for his offices. Mr. Armitage then thanked the clergy on behalf of himself and the congregation for being present and for their kind words of counsel and encouragement. He spoke of the great work which he felt sure the future held out for All Saint's, and expressed the hope that the congregations of the three English churches would all unite in the work for the glory of God and the benefit of man.

Refreshments were then served, after which His Lordship and the visiting clergy were entertained at the residence of Mr. J. H. McClellan, with whom the Bishop is staying whilst in town.

SKETCH OF THE RISE OF ALL SAINTS.

The history of All Saint's church is an illustration of the unwisdom of despising the day of small things, for the great work, one important stage of which was marked yesterday, had a very humble origin.

The condition of the work then and its present condition are well illustrated and typified by the illustrations presented herewith of the lowly building in which services were first conducted and that of the newly completed and enlarged structure. The contrast does not stop with the buildings themselves, for the advance in spiritual and religious matters is as marked as the improvement in the buildings.

In the summer of 1882 — twenty years ago — Rev. Rural Dean Beck, late rector of Peterborough, suggested the idea of establishing a mission with a view to the work thus begun ultimately reaching the stage it has now arrived at. Four or five ladies acted upon Rev. Mr. Beck's suggestion. They were Mrs. Archer, Miss Rubidge, the late Miss Barlee and Miss Sherwood (Mrs. Quartermaine,) the latter adding the duties of organist to that of teacher. The late Mr. W. H. Sherwood was the first superintendent. The attendance comprised about fifteen of the religiously uncared for children of the neighbourhood a contrast to the attendance in the Sunday School today, which has 300 names on its roll, not counting a congregation of about 500 persons besides. Shortly after the opening of the school, Miss Chamberlen and Miss Maggie Rubidge associated themselves with the work, the latter assuming the duties of treasurer on the death of Miss Barlee, whose removal lost to the South Ward Mission one of its workers. Afterwards, as larger numbers were attracted to the school Miss Watt, Miss Cairns, Miss Evans,

THE FIRST MISSION BUILDING

the Misses White, Miss Claringbold (Mrs. W. E. Conway) and others, devoted themselves to teaching. It is only due to the united, harmonious, and untiring efforts of the ladies mentioned, that the work, which has since prospered under the divine blessing so greatly, had its foundations so well laid.

At one time it became necessary to remove from the Mission Building on Dalhousie street, used at that time in common by several denominations and the trustees of the School Board very kindly allowed the use of one of the rooms of the South Ward School, (the southwest on the first floor), for the use of the Sunday school, until Miss Chamberlen — whose work for, and benefactions in the interest of the school continues even to the present day, are remembered with the liveliest gratitude, donated for the purposes of a Mission Sunday school, a property on the corner of Bethune and Dalhousie streets, a picture of which is herewith presented. The dwelling was converted into a school room, which was used till the new building was constructed.

Religious service was begun here, the first being conducted by the late Mr. Herbert Hammond, then a lay reader of St. John's.

The ladies of the Sunday School not only performed the duties of the present that confronted them, but with a large faith, wisely provided for the future. By a series of entertainments from time to time, and by other means, they accumulated a substantial building fund, and their zeal and energy were practically recognised by other residents of the South end, especially by the late venerable Rev. V. Clementi, who had been in its days of struggles as well as triumphs a most staunch and substantial friend of the Mission, giving the benefit of his ripe experience and means with no sparing liberality.

During the summer of 1890 the idea of the erection of a mission building assumed concrete shape and work was vigorously set afoot. Miss Chamberlen, with the consent of the other legatees of the Chamberlen estate, exchanged the old site for the far more valuable and desirable one upon which the present Church of All Saints is situated. The new building was begun, and completed ready for opening, on January 22nd, 1891.

Since that time the history of the church has been one of progress in all departments of work. The first curate specially detailed by Rev J. C. Davidson, Rector of Peterborough, to devote exclusive attention to the Mission, was Rev. W. E. Loucks. He was succeeded by Rev. E. W. Pickford, and he by Rev. Carl Smith. To Mr. Smith succeeded Rev. W. L. Armitage, who was inducted as the first Rector of the parish last evening.

Such an encouraging phase did the work assume that it was not long before the need for increased accommodation was felt for the increasing congregation and Sunday school, and as the result of patient, persistent work, the beautiful edifice which was dedicated on October 11, 1897, was erected. The main part of the present church edifice is 30 x 70 feet, corresponding to the original building erected eleven years ago. The entirely new chancel extension, whose length runs at right angles with the former building at its rear, is 25 x 45 feet, thus forming a projection of seven feet on each side, with exterior doors forming exterior entrances to the basement on one side and the vestry on the other.

The chancel extension is really beautiful and seems to give a true ecclesiastical air to the older portion. A spacious and lofty arch of solid brickwork, neatly tuck pointed, serves the purpose of indicating the boundary between the chancel and the nave. The latter has been newly reseated with seats of oiled pine, with necessary pre-dieux to be added later.

On the south side of the chancel is a large vestry, and on the north side the organ chamber. The chancel proper, is separated from the vestry and organ chamber by handsomely designed screens of oiled pine, about ten feet high, surmounted with an elaborately moulded cornice finished in machiolated style. This cornice is continuous with the cornice that bounds the upper rear wall of the sanctuary. Beneath this is the reredos to the altar, consisting of a series of panels with Norman heads separated by double pilasters of a lighter wood than the recessed portion of the panel. A broad central panel corresponds to the width of the altar which is reached by a flight of five steps. The sanctuary is enclosed by a heavy oak railing, supported on wrought iron scroll work. The choir is accommodated in the front of the chancel by three seats, with corresponding desks in oiled ash, on each side. The side screen walls are broken by four circular headed arches, corresponding to the door openings and filled in with crimson cloth, which produces a rich relieving effect.

The groined ceiling of the chancel in oiled pine, with moulded dividing ribs, is broken on the west side by the gothic arch, for the

that lights the chancel. The chancel is artificially lighted with cruciform electroliers with three lights. Altogether the chancel is a very beautiful, as well as indispensable, addition to the former mission building, and makes the completed church of All Saints a most beautiful and church-like church, providing seating for 350 worshippers.

The new chancel extension has a basement 25 x 45 with 10 1-2 foot ceiling, which is largely devoted to the infant class of the Sunday School building. It is separated by folding doors from the large basement Sunday School room, 30 x 70 feet, well-lighted and furnished for its intended work. The porch of the church gives front access to the basement also, and provision is made also for the keeping of six or eight bicycles in the porch. The nave of the new church is well lighted with low, circular-headed windows set with ice coloured glass, relieved by harmonizing tints of other glass. The wainscotting of the nave is of oak and the walls are of red brick neatly tuck-pointed. The artifical lighting is by electricity. The style of the building without is of the Romanesque order, and the effect though quaint is strictly ecclesiastical, and when the proposed tower or belfry is added at the front, the improvements will be marked.

THE NEW RECTOR.

Rev. W. Leslie Armitage, the newly-inducted rector of All Saints, is a native of Kincardine, Bruce county, and was educated at the Kincardine High School, under the tuition of that well known English gentleman, the late Benjamin Freer, B.A., who was afterwards appointed principal of the Church School in Toronto. On graduating from the Kincardine High School, the subject of this sketch took a course at the Huron College and Western University, London, entering on January 24th, 1891. Although beginning his college course in the middle of the term, Mr. Armitage was successful in carrying off the third scholarship in June, and on graduating stood first in his examinations, taking as high as 98 per cent., and coming within 86 marks of sweeping all of the papers submitted. He was ordained deacon in June, 1894, and priest the following year. For over two years he was curate of the Memorial Church, London, and came to Peterborough in December, 1896. Since being connected with All Saints' Church the work of Rev. Mr. Armitage has spoken for itself. The Sunday School attendance has been increased by over one hundred, and now overflows the basement, necessitating the use of the body of the church for the accommodation of the classes. The number of regular communicants has been doubled, and some eighty-six have been confirmed. Concerning the finances, all that need be said is that they are in so satisfactory a state that the congregation felt warranted in seeking a separation and asking to be made a new parish.

Rev. Mr. Armitage is at present secretary of the Peterborough Ministerial Association; secretary of the Deanery of Northumberland; and assistant secretary of the Archdeaconry of Peterborough. So much for his standing among the clergy. The fact of his being a Past master of Peterborough Lodge, A. F. & A. M., and its present Chaplain, is an indication of his standing with the business and professional men of the town, whilst his identification with the Curling and Hockey Clubs as Chaplain, is an evidence of the respect and esteem in which he held by the younger men of the town.

Since coming to Peterborough Mr. Armitage has been the recipient of offers of parishes, which from a remunerative standpoint, took precedence over his charge here, but he has been so interested in, and attached to, his work at All Saints, that, as his more intimate friends know, his declination was always promptly forwarded. It will be the earnest wish of all citizens that the ambition of Rev. Mr. Armitage and his congregation to erect a new and more imposing edifice in about five years time, will be realized.

THE AGE OF DANDIES

BEAUTEOUS ATTIRE OF THE SWELLS OF THE EIGHTEENTH CENTURY.

Silk and Velvet Coats of All the Colors of the Rainbow Were Then the Rage—The Reign of the Essence of Elegance. Beau Brummel—Best Scholar, Oarsman, Cricketer.

In the glorious days of King George II. men wore silk or velvet coats of all colors of the rainbow. They tripped mincingly along upon their toes, supporting upon their heads a wheelbarrowful of peruke covered with a bushel of powder, their "steinkerke" was sprinkled with snuff, their sword knots almost trailed on the ground, and their swords dangled from the fifth button, pearl colored silk stockings and red heeled shoes completing their costume. It seems almost as though one of "those goddesses the Gunnings" had penned the following lines to George Selwin in Paris in 1766 instead of the sporting Earl of March. "The muff you sent me by the Duke of Richmond I like prodigiously—vastly better than if it had been 'tigre' or any glaring color. Several are now making after it." And again in 1776 he writes, "Pray bring me two or three bottles of perfumes and some patterns of velvets that are new and pretty."

Almost to the last moment of his life a piece of rich waistcoating was as much an attraction to the great Marquis of Wellesley as it would have been to any of the most frivolous minded young dandies about the town. Indeed, this nobleman would frequently sit alone in solitary state, "en grande toilette," with his blue ribbon and garter, as if about to appear at a royal "levee."

In the year 1798 there arose on the horizon of fashion, or rather, there blazed in its full meridian, that wonderful phenomenon of elegance, George Bryan Brummel. Born in 1777, the son of an under secretary of Lord North's and educated at Eton, he enjoyed the credit of being the best scholar, the best oarsman and the best cricketer of the day. Though not a gentleman by descent, he yet made plenty of aristocratic friends and experienced little difficulty in obtaining the entree to Devonshire House, where he was introduced to the Prince Regent, who gave him a commission in the Tenth Hussars.

Until Brummel came upon the scene the Prince, though not remarkable for his taste, had, thanks to his rank, been constituted the "master of the elegancies" or leader of the dandies, but he was at once dethroned by the superior genius of Brummel, who retained the sovereignty till the year 1817. During this period he became the model of all men who wished to dress well, and when he had struck out a new idea he would smile at its gradual progress downward from the highest to the lowest classes. To the last of his stay in England he continued to wear powder, rather priding himself upon preserving this remnant of the vielle cour. His clothes were a perfect study. The coat was generally of blue cloth and its collar raised against the back of the head like the hood of a monk, a style familiar to us in pictures and miniatures of the period. The buckskin or nankeen breeches were so incredibly tight that they could only be got on with immense labor and could only be taken off in the same manner as an eel is divested of its skin.

Then came a waistcoat about four inches long, open on the chest, displaying a stiff white muslin cravat. Hessian boots completed the costume and to these the beau paid particular attention. They were commonly reported as being blackened "au vin de champagne." At any rate, two shoemakers were supposed to insure the perfectness of their fit—one made the right and the other the left boot. He had three glovers for his gloves, one of whom was exclusively charged with the cutting out of his thumbs. Three hairdressers were likewise engaged to dress his hair. As for the personal appearance of this sublime dandy, "his face," we read, "was rather long, his features neither plain nor ugly, his forehead unusually high, hair light brown, whiskers inclined to be sandy, eyes gray and full of oddity." His conversation, without having the wit and humor of Lord Alvanley, another of the dandies, was highly agreeable and amusing. Indeed, Brummel has never been surpassed or equaled since. The Prince of Wales would frequently come of a morning to the beau's house in Chesterfield street to witness his toilet and to acquire the art of tying his own handkerchief "a la mode." For many years, notwithstanding the great disparity of rank, Brummel continued the Prince's intimate friend. At last, however, a coolness sprang up between them, and the "mirror of fashion" was forbidden the royal presence.

The Prince—then King—saw the poor dandy once many years after when passing through Calais. Thackeray says: "The bankrupt beau sent him then a snuffbox with some of the snuff he used to love as a piteous token of remembrance and submission, and the King took the snuff and ordered his horses and drove on and had not the grace to notice his old companion, favorite, rival, enemy, superior." Brummel, of course, had many successors, but "the old order changeth," and none of them ever attained to the Olympian heights of his dandyism, nor even the elegant D'Orsay, who for a time was constituted the king of fashion and held poor Brummel's sceptre.—Argosy

COL. DENISON'S SCHEME.

Imperial Defence and the Part Canada Plays in It—Both Sides Somewhat Favor It.

Lieut.-Col. G. T. Denison has just returned to Toronto from a visit to the Maritime Provinces. He was booming Imperial Federation there, and in an interview he said:

The scheme that I wished to lay before the meeting at St. John was simply this: That at the conference, Canada should propose to the mother country and the colonies that they should agree to put a duty of from 5 to 10 per cent. upon all foreign goods entering every port in the British Empire. That money to be set aside as an Imperial defence fund, the general distribution of the fund to be left to a committee, consisting of representatives of the Imperial Government and of all the colonies. The administration of the money in the different colonies to be done by the local Government in accordance with the general scheme of defence. This scheme would give to every portion of the Empire a preference in every other portion. It would help the food supply in England itself; it would help the manufacturers in England; it would help the Empire by getting enough food, grown under its own flag, in case of danger, while it would send to the colonies the surplus population, the wealth and the resources of the mother country to develop our own empire instead of frittering it away in foreign countries. That, in a few words, was the scheme I proposed at St. John. Five of the foremost men in St. John, of different parties in politics, a Senator and several members of Parliament, at the close of the meeting, in most powerful and excellent speeches, supported the idea.

Cold Affects the Liver.

Severe Headaches, Constipation and Kidney Disorders the Result—Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills Correct the Action of Filtering and Excretory Organs.

The liver is very easily affected by change of temperature, nervous strain and over-eating, and is the cause of more pains and aches than any other organ of the body. It is the duty of the liver to filter from the blood the poisonous bile, which it passes into the intestines to act as nature's cathartic. One of the first results of a sluggish, congested liver is constipation, alternating with looseness of the bowels and what is commonly called biliousness.

Bitter taste in the mouth, sallow complexion, a coated tongue, severe headaches, pain under shoulder blades, fulness in right side, dizziness, ill-temper, peevishness and depression of spirits are indications of an ailing liver. The remarkable effectiveness of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills in regulating the action of the liver, kidneys and bowels easily places it first as a treatment for derangements of these organs. There are few people who are not more or less subject to biliousness in the winter season, when more or less confined to the house, and so rendered sensitive to change of temperature. Meat diet and the artificial foods of winter also tend to make the liver sluggish, the kidneys inactive and the bowels constipated.

The promptness with which Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills correct the action of the filtering and excretory organs and rid the blood of poisonous bile impurities commend them to reasoning people as a suitable family medicine to be kept in the home all the time. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are prompt, pleasant and natural in action, far-reaching in effect and perfectly scientific. They have proven their right to your confidence in scores of thousands of cases, many, no doubt, in your immediate locality.

Do not imagine that you are experimenting when you begin to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. If your liver, kidneys or bowels are deranged the proper portion will set them right. It does not seem wise to suffer from biliousness, kidney disease, constipation or similar ailments when you may as well keep your health in perfect order with this tried and tested remedy. RESTIGOUCHE SALMON.

How Casting Is Done by Anglers in the Famous River.

Restigouche salmon kindly consult the convenience of the angler. They seem to know that the fine mountain air is conducive to sound sleep. Accordingly they absolutely refuse to rise to the fly until the fine white morning mist has lifted. Thus fishing on the Restigouche does not begin at an inconveniently early hour. Restigouche salmon really are most considerate members of the finny tribe—far more considerate of the angler than they of them.

The angler's canoe usually is anchored just at the edge of a pool—there where the rapid slackens and purls as it enters deeper water. The first cast is with but a few feet of line and across stream; the second with a few more and in the opposite direction. And thus the line is reeled out a few feet at a time until gradually you have whipped as much of the pool as you can reach with the full length of line you are able to swing. That is the first "drop." Then the anchor is furtively and noiselessly lifted and the small craft allowed to drift down stream a few yards.

Thus "drop" follows "drop" until the entire pool has been whipped, or unless a great flash of silver ere then has gladdened your heart and you have seen your line whirr madly from the reel and felt your rod bend almost upon itself. In deep water the fish is apt to pause to think the matter over and try to make out what it is that checks its rush. Then if your guides are expert, they will quickly propel the canoe around and past the salmon to a point well down stream to give you the advantage of the current in landing the fish.

If the salmon now makes a too sudden rush you must reel in with lightning-like rapidity. For a too great slack of the line will result in a sudden jerk and snap when the fighter makes his next rush in the opposite direction.

Again and again there is a flash of silver as the maddened giant of the river leaps out of the water and plunges back again. As he shows signs of exhaustion the guides pole to the shallow until the canoe touches bottom. The fish follows your line more easily now up to the shallow. One of the guides has stepped out on the rocks and is ready with his gaff. A quick down thrust, a splash, a flash, and the king of the Restigouche ruthlessly has been tossed far upon shore—and you have your first salmon of the season.

Ah! It is grand sport. But be sure to read again that chapter in "A Princess of Thule," and, if you have left an uncompleted task at home, make up your mind to "work steadily at it when the fly-fishing is over." You won't touch it before.

NO DANGER.

There is no danger of throwing money away if you take Dr. Hall's Rheumatic Cure for rheumatism. In a little while you will say it is the best spent money you ever invested in your life. S. Donaldson, postmaster, Dufferin, P.O., Pittsburg, Ont., was lame for two years and could not get out of a rig. One bottle of Dr. Hall's, with the Climax Iron Tonic Pills, cured him. This great blood purifier is put up in bottles containg ten days' treatment. Price 50 cents a bottle at all drug stores or The Dr. Hall Medicine Co., Kingston, Ont.

From One Point of View.

The references to the rumored offer of the Governor-Generalship of Canada to Lord Strathcona have only dealt with the improbability of such an appointment from the political point of view, says The London Chronicle. But the social side is not less important, as even a man in Lord Strathcona's position would find if he were sent to Rideau Hall. Sir John Macdonald's view of the position was a common-sense one, but perhaps that of the late Sir Thomas McIlwraith of Queensland was a trifle more shrewd. When there was talk in Australia of demanding the appointment of colonial men to Governorships, Sir Thomas was naturally spoken of in connection with Queensland. "But what would I do," queried the Bananaland statesman, "if I were Governor, and some old mate hailed me up in Queen street and asked me to come and have a drink."

Arranging for the Future.

"Marriage," he said, "is a partnership."

"Oh, let's make it a stock company," she replied.

"In that case," he answered, "we must each contribute to the capital stock."

"Of course," she said. "I'll put in the kisses and you can put in the money."

Pain in the Back

Makes life miserable. Can it be cured? Yes, in one night. Polson's Nerviline gives a complete knock out to pain in the back, for it penetrates through the tissues, takes out the soreness and pain, invigorates the tired muscles and makes you feel like a new man. Nerviline cures quickly, because it is stronger, more penetrating, more highly pain-subduing than any other remedy. Don't suffer another minute; get Nerviline quick and rub it in and as sure as you live it will cure you. 25c.

Forgot Her Prayers.

A 4-year-old girl was spending a night away from home. At bedtime she kneeled at her hostess' knee to say her prayers, expecting the usual prompting. Finding Mrs. B. unable to help her out, she continued thus: "Please, God, 'scuse me; I can't remember my prayers, and I am staying with a lady that don't know any."

Indicating Izaak.

Mrs. Sezzit—Well, old Izaak Walton, like all the rest of you fishermen, was nothing but a liar.

Mr. Sezzit—I don't see why you should say that.

Mrs. Sezzit — Of course he was. Why, he wouldn't even spell his first name as it should be.

WEALTH OF UGANDA

TRAVELERS CALL IT THE RICHEST COUNTRY IN THE WORLD.

An African Paradise, Controlled by Great Britain, Whose Resources Will Be Developed at No Distant Day—Some Details of This Comparatively Unknown Country That Are Very Interesting.

Perhaps no portion of the world at the present time offers more attractions, or more difficulties and dangers, to the explorer and financier than the territory lying within the borders of the Uganda Protectorate in Africa. Its resources are almost incalculable and a description of a small portion of them might fill volumes. The topographical features of this woodland present such impressive effects in form and color as can nowhere be seen except on the dark continent. The mountain peaks of Ruwenzori are said to be the loftiest in Africa, one of them reaching a height of over 20,000 feet. It is not known that anyone has ever yet reached this summit. The native guides succumb to the cold even more easily than the white explorers. The ascent presents great difficulties which multiply after the snow line is passed. The precipitation of moisture is so excessive that after a height of 9,000 feet has been gained it is almost unbearable, as the ground is covered by a deep moss out in which one sinks continuously to ankle and sometimes to the hips. This alternates with slippery rocks or slimy fallen tree trunks so hard that contact with a broken branch often causes a severe wound. Longonot, an extinct volcano, is said to be over 10,000 feet high. Some of the Aberdau mountains loom 13,000 feet above sea level, while from the great plateau, the Mau, mountains rise to 11,000 feet. Elgon is an immense tract of extinct craters which seems to form a continuation of the Mau. Elgon is said to cover an area of 8,600 miles square. Such figures give a faint idea of the vastness of the piled up masses. To the north stretch away lofty hills further than the eye can reach.

All through the Uganda Protectorate are mountains, the proportions of which would seem great if not so near the awful heights of Ruwenzori. One range forms a watershed between the systems of the Nile and the Congo.

A UGANDA LANDSCAPE.
Distant View of Ruwenzori's Highest Peak.

The numerous lakes of this region are of vast size, Victoria Nyanza covering about as large an area as the whole country of Scotland, or 29,000 square miles. The navigation of all the large lakes is extremely dangerous at times, owing to the turbulence of the waves. In some directions Lake Victoria extends for 200 miles with nothing to break the water line. As yet no suitable craft have been placed on these waters and travelers have been compelled to risk their lives in canoes, small sailboats or frail launches. As this has rendered long journeys from the shore impossible, it is probable that large islands may yet be found near the centre of the lakes. Some of the known islands are most attractive, offering great variety of landscape, and on one, Buvuma, are mountains 2,000 feet above the surface of the lake, alluring sites for future hotel or sanitarium builders. The inland waters are covered with beautiful water lilies, either white or the blue lotus. Lakes Albert Edward, Albert and others to the west possess harsher features and little of the luxuriousness of vegetation found at Nyanza. This is probably due to the large amount of salt found in their waters. Little lakes at the northeast of Lake Albert Edward seem to lie in small craters. Some are nearly dry and from many large quantities of merchantable salt are obtained.

At the northern extremity of the beautiful Napoleon gulf, an arm of the great Victoria, Nyanza, may be seen the birthplace of the Nile. As one progresses towards what seems the end of the gulf, a faint current is observed and a sharp line of hills borders the shore line. An abrupt turn of the gulf around a barrier of sharp rocks, white with guano, reveals a swift river and a veil of spray curtaining beautiful palm-crowned islands. The densely wooded river banks are about 200 feet high. Nearly a mile distant may be seen large areas of fine grass land, with occasional clumps of trees. Here the river is, perhaps, 400 feet wide and rushes over a decline of about 30 feet, called Ripon falls. An easy path leads down the bank and the upward view is most beautiful and impressive. A tourist is not likely to be alone in viewing the scene, for groups of natives resort here for the purpose of spearing the fish which, in large numbers, are carried over the falls. Birds of prey are also seen on every side trying their fortunes as fishermen. The green forest, purple in the distance, the richly colored date-palms, the orange of their fruit contrasting with the green of their waving foliage, the brilliant blues and greens of the river, touched with white foam and glimmering through the spray, present a charming picture. The country affords unlimited pasturage for the large variety of grazing animals which abound. In fact, animals of almost every description thrive there.

On the shores of the lakes, in the magnificent forests, in fact through the whole Uganda country, are to be found birds of every variety, shape and coloring; storks, pheasants, ostriches, birds of most cumbersome shape and those of daintiest anatomy fill the air with their cries and songs. These have their counterpart in the trees and flowers to be found on every hand. The beauty of the forests is said to be beyond all description, but to oppress one traveling through them until the impression of living in a bygone age becomes almost unbearable. Trees with heavy black trunks, with beautiful white stems, with dark, almost impenetrable foliage, with graceful, lightly waving leaves, with vines of every grotesque or pleasing shape and variety of color clambering over them, the whole intermixed with flowering trees of almost incredible brilliancy and enveloped in an atmosphere of over-development and rapid vegetable decay, in time induce a sensation of such intense awfulness that one finds it necessary to, as soon as possible, seek the open country and bright sunshine. Flowers on trees and ground are like living flames, others as dainty as a snowflake. Every color and shade is represented. Some trees bear large bunches of flowers, each resembling a large, bright scarlet teacup. Others, again, snow-white blossoms with an appearance of having been powdered with lilac. India-rubber trees have large, white flowers with yellow centres. Some trees do not bear leaves and flowers at the same time, but, when destitute of the former, are covered with a crimson or scarlet growth of the latter. Butterflies of a brilliant blue and other dazzling colors drift through the air.

To a height of about 6,000 feet the forest is tropical, after which tree-ferns and tree-lilacs appear. At 7,000 feet may be seen yews and, higher still, junipers. At 8,000 feet are bamboos, the last traces of tropical growth. Now appear tree lobelias and higher still lichens. Finally vegetation almost disappears.

Nearly all fruits and crops will grow in this climate, so near the equator as to be tropical in the lowlands, and yet with the mountain altitudes furnishing a temperature like that of the cooler zones. No fruit furnishes a more interesting study than the banana, which in its wild state is a sort of lily and has no juicy, edible pulp. It is generally believed to have been introduced into Africa from Asia where its nearest relative among wild plants is still found. It does not seem to have originated from the wild banana plants indigenous to African soil and which are found in great quantities from Abyssinia to Natal. These last have no sweet pulp, but a pith, and glossy black seeds, much prized by the natives as ornaments. They are very beautiful plants because of the coloring and shape of their enormous leaves. The cultivated fruits form the chief article of food for certain tribes. It contains no seeds, small, dark streaks indicating where they might have been. Besides the possibilities of mineral wealth, as yet almost undeveloped, the land abounds in game of almost every variety. Cattle and all kinds of domestic animals are raised by the natives who, as a rule, prefer a meat diet. From these same natives laborers may be hired at small wages. While this vast and fertile country remains to a great extent uninhabited there need be no fear of young men lacking opportunities for improving their fortunes.

Children

Have "eyes bigger than their stomachs," according to an old saying. They overeat themselves, and are tempted by all sorts of injurious and indigestible edibles. As a consequence the foundation of serious stomach trouble is often laid in childhood.

For children with "weak" digestion or whose stomachs are diseased, Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery may be confidently recommended. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, so that the nourishment contained in food is perfectly assimilated and the puny child is built up by food into a condition of robust health.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery contains neither alcohol nor narcotics.

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition.

Mrs. Ella Gardner, of Waterview, Middlesex Co., Va., writes: "My little daughter is enjoying splendid health. I am glad I found a doctor who could cure my child. Whenever she feels badly I give her Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and she is soon all right. She took twelve bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' eight bottles of 'Pellets,' and one bottle of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy and she is well. We thank God for your medicine."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

CONSUMPTION

Right food—right medicine—right time—these three things are of the utmost importance to the consumptive. Right food and right medicine—these are contained in Scott's Emulsion of pure cod-liver oil. Right time is at first sign of disease. Right time is now.

Scott's Emulsion always helps, often cures. Ordinary food helps feed. Fresh air helps cure. Scott's Emulsion does both. Begin early.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like.

SABLE TURBAN.

FLAT EFFECTS.

The Millinery of the Season Is Very Simply Trimmed.

Some of the newest millinery has a very bare and untrimmed appearance, more especially the large toques of velvet with flat crowns and brims of folded velvet, where the sole decoration is a group of flowers or a couple of plumes poised on the left side. Very stylish hats are made entirely of lace, with ribbon borderings of velvet. One recently seen had black velvet borderings, with a knot of turquoise crepe de chine inside the front brim, which was slightly raised. There were also two rosettes of velvet on the left side which held a black and blue quill.

All sorts of fine lace and tucking are used to face the brims of hats. In the case of the three cornered toques now so much in vogue, chiffon is shirred and then banded with narrow velvet ribbons.

Today's picture shows a hat made of sable. It is tilted to one side, as are all fashionable hats this season. The crown is enriched by a band of black velvet sewed with lace application. A wide scarf of lace partly veils the brim and droops gracefully behind. A cluster of tinted velvet chrysanthemums ornaments the raised side, and on the band there is an accordion plaited chou of black chiffon held by a buckle of brilliants. JUDIC CROLLET.

Medical Science Advances.

It is not more than half a century ago that physicians considered a surgical operation with its risk, expense and pain as the only cure for piles. To-day it is only the out of date doctors that think of such treatment. It is cruel and extravagant to operate for a disease which is far more certainly cured by the application of Dr. Chase's Ointment. You may be skeptical, but for proof you are referred to tens of thousands of cases that have been cured by this famous preparation.

Who Are Americans?

This subject has been discussed much in the Canadian newspapers without any useful conclusion having been reached, says The Toronto Star. Undoubtedly we are Americans, and the people of Ohio have no more right to the name than have the people of Ontario. But the people of the United States have no name under which they can group themselves except by bringing the name of the continent into use. With us it is different; we are Canadians. The Old World has grown accustomed to regard "Americans" as citizens of the United States, and as the people of that country have no other designation it is both a convenience and a kindness to let them have it. So far as Canada is concerned, our effort must be to familiarize the whole world with the term "Canadian," as applicable to a person or a product of a part—and that part our part—of the American continent.

HINTS FOR MOTHERS.

All children, girls as well as boys, should be taught self reliance.

Children should be taught to sing simple and sweet songs about the house.

Children should be taught to say "Thank you" as soon as they can speak.

A baby should never be frightened by stories told by an ignorant or thoughtless nurse.

Good literature that is interesting and adaptable to the small minds should be plentifully supplied for the children.

A child may be made gentle or rough according to the manners and actions of those about him, for his greatest desire is to imitate.

"Weakly" children may be greatly strengthened by a daily salt bath, and if possible sea salt should be obtained for this purpose.

A child should be taught to gargle as early as possible and should never be allowed to be "stubborn" about taking medicine, for disobedience in this respect is not infrequently a risk of life.

Children should be given a light supper of bread and milk at 5 o'clock and put to bed at 6 or a little later until they are five years old. After that time their bedtime may be fixed at 7 for several years.

Every precaution should be taken to keep a child in the best of health. A sickly, peevish baby is a constant care and anxiety, but when healthy and well trained it is easy for the little one to be happy and good.

The Cat and the Kid.

Once upon a time a cat and a kid were traveling in company and stopped in front of a window of a store to admire a miscellaneous display of merchandise.

"Doesn't it make you sad," asked the cat, "to see those kid gloves? Just think, that may be the condition of your skin some day!"

The kid laughed and then answered:

"That's no skin of my family, for it comes from your two enemies, the dog and rat. But see those fiddle strings. Don't they give you a pain in your stomach?"

Now the cat laughed in his turn and then replied:

"The interior department of my family doesn't furnish those any more than your skin goes into the gloves. They come from your cousin, the sheep.

DEPUTATIONS WEDNESDAY.

Three of Them Had Interviews With the Premier—The Sewage Question in Cities and Towns.

Toronto, Jan. 23.—Yesterday three important deputations waited on the Ontario Government in connection with various matters.

Mr. S. J. Breithaupt, M.P.P., introduced a deputation composed of representatives of various cities and towns in Ontario. The delegation asked that a station be established where experiments in the different methods of sewage disposal might be carried on. Among those in the deputation were: Mayor Eden, Ald. Kranz, Ald. Housberger and Mr. George Lang, Berlin; Mayor Wood and Ald. Leitch, Brantford; Mayor Stamp and Ald. Savage, Stratford; Mayor Means and Dr. Rice, Woodstock; Mayor Kennedy and Ald. Barber, Guelph; Mayor Watson, Listowel; Mayor Ingle and Ald. Burrows, Lindsay; Mayor Hawke and Ald. Jaffray, Galt.

The deputation explained that the question was a most important one, and disease was being prevented from breaking out in different places only with great difficulty. Numerous instances were given by the different speakers of rivers and streams being polluted and rendered almost poisonous by reason of dumping sewage into them. Large industries, it was pointed out, also had a great deal of trouble in disposingof their refuse.

Ald. Jakray of Galt made the suggestion that the Government appoint a consulting engineer to give information on the subject.

Premier Ross told the deputation that he had been favorably impressed with what he had heard, and he would bring the matter before his colleagues in a few weeks' time.

Protest Against Referendum.

Another temperance deputation to protest against a referendum. The deputation was composed of Rev. William Kettlewell, F. S. Spence, Rev. Dr. Carman, Rev. A. C. Courtice, G. F. Marter, M.P.P., Rev. Dr. Brethour and W. H. Orr, and it presented the Committee on Moral Reform of the Methodist Church and the Dominion Alliance.

Single Taxer's Request.

W. A. Douglas, A. J. Hodge, A. C. Thompson, F. S. Watson and W. S. Thompson, representing the Single Tax Association, asked the Premier:

1. That each municipality be allowed the option of removing taxation from the products of industry.

2. That the settlers in the new districts be accorded the same right as the settlers in Manitoba, viz., no tax on improvements.

3. That the discrimination in favor of the holders of two acres, five acres or ten acres be abolished.

The Premier told them that a bill would soon be brought down, dealing with the whole question of assessment.

AT A SAVINGS BANK.

Why a Man Who Was In a Hurry Did Not Make a Deposit.

The business man who was in a hurry was standing in line at the savings bank, waiting his turn to deposit. There was only one person ahead of him, and he was congratulating himself upon this good luck. The person ahead was a woman, and when the business man arrived she was just opening negotiations with the receiving teller.

"Now, I want to open accounts," she began, "for some little nieces and nephews of mine. It's for a present, you know," confidentially, "and I'm only going to put $5 in each book. Of course that isn't much, but"— Here the teller endeavored to get down to the business details, but in vain. "If they're real saving, as I want them to be, they'll soon make it more. Lots of rich men started with"—

"Yes, yes, madam," interrupted the teller in desperation; "of course they did. Now, what are these children's names and ages?"

"Why, there's Fannie, my namesake, she's nine—no, maybe it was eight her last birthday. What? Oh, her full name? Frances Jane, of course. How stupid of me! And then Johnnie—no, John William, named after an uncle that died. He's six and just as cute as he can be. You wouldn't believe what that child"—

"Yes, I would, madam, but please be as brief as possible and omit everything but business. Are there any more children?"

"Oh, yes. There's the baby, Mildred. She's ten months old, and I thought she seemed pretty young to have a bankbook all to herself, so I'd like to take one for her and her mother together. Her mother's only my brother's sister-in-law, but she's just like an own sister to me. What? I can't do that? Well, that's funny, but you fix it according to the rules, of course."

The business man, who had at first glared savagely at the loquacious depositor, now shifted wearily from one leg to the other and began to show signs of collapse.

The teller succeeded in extracting the necessary information as to the birthplace of the children and then inquired in whose names the books were to be held in trust for them.

"Will you have it in their mother's name or their father's or whose?" he asked shortly.

"Their father's! Mercy sakes!" exclaimed the depositor energetically. "Why, he's a perfect good for nothing scamp if there ever was one. You couldn't trust him"—

"No, I suppose not," hastened the teller, repeating that unfortunate suggestion. "The mother's, then, I suppose. Her name, age and birthplace, please? Be as quick as you can, madam."

As he finished the entries he turned, with a sigh of relief and a look of pity for the business man, who had been waiting so long. But the latter had given up.

THE GREAT WEST.

Tenderfoot May Look for Story of Local Color or Practical Joke.

Everything in the West is designed on broad lines. The streets of Winnipeg, for instance, are so wide that one feels like jumping on a car to cross them; the prairies are so wide that the horizon line is like that at sea; plans are big, and the results, when successful, correspondingly so. The men are, as a rule, of excellent physique, and their hospitality knows no bounds. The horses are so intelligent that they can be safely trusted to avoid the badger and gopher holes without a thought on the part of the driver. Had Thompson-Seton been with us on our 60-mile drive across the open plains he would have traced the evidence of many a tragic scene. Again and again we saw where the badger had followed the gopher into the lair of the latter to secure a dainty meal. The buffalo bones and the deep trails of the thousands of bisons added a tinge of sorrow for the fate of the one-time monarch of the range.

It is give-and-take in social life. The tenderfoot may look for many a story with local coloring or expect an innocent practical joke. An instance may be given. While the writer was a guest at the Winnipeg Club the host drew attention to the oysters on the shell served during the meal, and more than hinted that they were found in great abundance on Lake Winnipeg. The same wag told us of a Toronto sportsman who went duck shooting north of Winnipeg. A bag of two hundred was secured by the party of four, of which the Torontonian claimed to have shot no less than ninety. Soon after, a self-styled official came with a summons to the skillful hunter for shooting in Manitoba without a license. As the fine was $5 for each bird, the outlook was serious, and it was only after the victim of the joke had confessed that he could only swear that he had killed less than a dozen, that an explosion of laughter from the conspirators revealed the origin of the threatened prosecution. Another incident is that of an Englishman who expressed a wish for a drive in the country. The landlord of the hotel ordered a rig, and as the day was cold added: "Put in a couple of buffalos." This startled the tourist, who protested vigorously that he much preferred 'orses!

The chinook, a wind that is the wonder of every new-comer, is a special feature of the Western climate. A blizzard may pile the snow drifts in the morning, and in a few hours it simply evaporates before the influence of the balmy air that rushes in. In the morning the wind swirled the flakes of snow in resistless force, and as I write at four p.m, the ground is as bare as at midsummer. — Edmund Yeigh, in Toronto Star.

What Ontario Has Left.

The blue book shows that only 22,868,578 acres, or 17 per cent., of Ontario, have been sold or leased. This leaves 103,136,422 acres, or 83 per cent., of Ontario still undisposed of, and in the possession of the Crown.

Much of the Crown land is barren, or too rough for profitable cultivation, or too far north. But a vastly greater area of good soil or good timber remains untouched than has yet been disposed of.

Nor, at the present rate, does Ontario seem likely to be fully settled for a century yet. Since 1894—seven years—only 1,223,386 acres have been sold or leased by the Crown, at which rate the balance of the good land of the Province will not be all disposed of for several centuries.

GUILTY OF 7 MURDERS

Other Reasons Also For Shooting Scheepers.

NOTHING BUT INDEPENDENCE

Kruger, Leyds, Fischer, Et al, Says That on No Other Basis Will Peace Be Considered—Activity Among the Dutch by the Boer Representative in Europe and the Delegates.

London, Jan. 24.—The War Secretary, Mr. Brodrick, was asked by William Redmond (Irish Nationalist) in the House of Commons why Commandant Scheepers, who was captured by General French in October last, was executed last Saturday at Graff-Reinet, Cape Colony.

The Secretary replied that Scheepers was shot because he had been convicted of various offences against the usages of war, including seven cold-blooded murders of natives and the flogging of a white man.

Mr. Brodrick added that the fact that Commandant Scheepers was a prisoner of war carried no exception from trial for murder or other violation of the rules of war.

AN EVASIVE ANSWER.

Mr. Balfour Says No Authoritative Peace Proposals Have Been Made.

London, Jan. 24.—In the House of Commons yesterday Mr. Balfour, the Government leader in the House partially parried an interesting question put by Mr. McLaren (Liberal) as to whether any proposals in behalf of the leaders of the Boers, with the view of bringing about a settlement of the war, had been received by the Government since the negotiations between General Kitchener and General Botha.

"No proposal of that kind," said Mr. Balfour, "has reached us on the part of any of the Boer forces."

The evasive reply of the Government leader was taken to be a confirmation of the reports that proposals had been received from the Boer delegates in Europe, but had been rejected.

INDEPENDENCE ONLY BASIS.

Latest Note Issued by Mr. Kruger on the Boer War.

London, Jan. 24.—A correspondent of The Daily Telegraph, wiring from Brussels, says that the Dutch pro-Boer press has published a note issued by Mr. Kruger declaring that no peace negotiations will be considered except upon the basis of the retention of Boer independence.

This note is regarded as a reply to the speech of Mr. Chamberlain, the British Colonial Secretary.

A representative of The Daily News, in the lobbies of Parliament, hears that there has certainly been some sort of peace overtures from the Boers, but the unyielding attitude of Lord Milner, the British Commissioner in South Africa, has, as before, proved an insurmountably obstacle in the matter.

The Hague correspondent of The Daily News says that both Dr. Leyds, the European representative of the Transvaal, and Abraham Fischer, the leader of the Boer delegates, are having frequent and prolonged interviews with Dr. Von Linden, the Dutch Minister of Foreign Affairs, and Professor Asser, the jurist, and chairman of the Arbitration Court at The Hague.

Colenbrander Active.

London, Jan. 24.—An official despatch from Johannesburg says: "Colenbrander on Jan. 20 attacked Steenkamp's commando and killed one and took seven prisoners."

Pretended Britishers Rush a Post.

Pretoria, Jan. 23.—On Monday Major Sitwell, who is co-operating with Col. Pilcher's forces in Orange River Colony, had a Cossack post attacked at Brand Drift, near Thabanchu, by 40 of the enemy. The post consisted of a sergeant and three men. The Boers rushed the post at night, shouting: "Don't shoot; we are Pilcher's men." Our men were overpowered and stripped before assistance arrived. When it did there was some sharp fighting, two of our officers were slightly wounded. The Boers cleared off, taking their wounded with them.

Doctors in the Transvaal.

Pretoria, Jan. 23.—A proclamation has been issued making provision for the admission of medical practitioners to this colony. It contains a clause preventing the issue of licenses to applicants holding foreign diplomas, unless the laws of the country in which the diploma is conferred grant equivalent privileges to qualified British practitioners.

A British Colonization Plan.

New Whatcom, Jan. 24.—Rev. I. W. Barr, rector of the Episcopal churches in this city and Fairhaven, has gone to South Africa to arrange the final details of a gigantic colonization scheme, which the British Government will shortly undertake there. It is the idea of the British Government to induce a number of British-born subjects now residing in the United States, to emigrate to South Africa, and by mingling with the Boers eradicate the race hatred.

BRITISH TRANSPORT STRANDS.

Queenstown, Jan. 24.—The British transport Minnesota, with troops on board, bound for South Africa, stranded while leaving Queenstown yesterday morning. Her stern is high out of the water, and she has a list to starboard.

The Minnesota was subsequently floated and proceeded on her voyhaving sustained no damage.

The Minnesota grounded again, later, eastward of the Bar Rock.

Miss Hobhouse Fails

London, Jan. 24.—The attempts of Miss Hobhouse to sue Lord Milner, Lord Kitchener or other officers concerned in refusing to allow her to stay in South Africa have failed, owing to interference on the part of the authorities. Finally Miss Hobhouse asked Mr. Brodrick, the War Secretary, whether he would take the responsibility and allow her sue him. Mr. Brodrick declined this proposition. Miss Hobhouse was the first person to agitate regarding the condition of the concentrated camps. She went to South Africa again recently, but was not allowed to land there.

THE IRISH QUESTION

Mr. John Redmond Presents His Case in British Commons.

SAYS RESISTANCE IS A DUTY

Rebellion Is But a Question of Expediency—Compulsory Sale of Lands Demanded—Coercion Act Is Ruthlessly Applied—In Replying Mr. Wyndham Traversed Nearly All Redmond's Statement.

London, Jan. 24.—The debate on the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne was resumed in the House of Commons yesterday by John Redmond, the Irish Nationalist leader, who moved an amendment raising the whole question of Irish grievances. He declared that, instead of remedying the admitted wrongs, the Government had fallen back on the old methods of coercion.

The Irish people would teach Mr. Wyndham, the Chief Secretary for Ireland, to repent his rash refusal to grant the reasonable demands of Ireland in regard to the compulsory sale and purchase of land. There was no country in the world where crime was less frequent than in Ireland. Yet the Coercion Act had been resurrected after a decade and had been ruthlessly applied to scores, including members of the House of Commons, who had been unjustifiably imprisoned, and trial by jury had been abolished.

The whole intellect of Ireland was against the Government, and, in the circumstances, resistance to the Government was a duty, and rebellion became merely a question of expediency. Though a hundred years had passed since the union, English rule of Ireland still rested upon force and corruption, and the Irish would never be well affected until they were masters of their own country.

John P. Hayden, Irish Nationalist, seconded the amendment.

Replying to Mr. Redmond, Mr. Wyndham traversed almost all of his statements, and declared that no Government expected to settle the Irish question, but only hoped to do a little toward improving it, and that the Land Act of 1881 was too drastic a measure, having produced a litigous war, which had ruined many people.

The Chief Secretary for Ireland said that the strongest argument against introducing compulsion into the purchase and sale of land was that such action would provoke every landlord and every tenant to fight from court to court on every disputable point. He reiterated his conviction that the power of the United Irish League was declining, that it had only 74 branches and that it was having a prejudicial effect upon economics.

The present agitation, declared Mr. Wyndham, was the work of a few determined persons, and no man who was not a cur would hesitate to take such steps as were open to him to suppress this wretched form of bullying the Government. Mr. Wyndham said he was determined, while dealing justly with Ireland, to fight for liberty and the protection of property.

NAVAL RESERVE SCHEME.

Legislation Will Be Introduced to Make It Permanent.

London, Jan. 24.—Replying to a question in the House of Commons yesterday Mr. Arnold-Forster, Parliamentary Secretary to the Admiralty, said legislation would be introduced to place the Newfoundland naval reserve scheme on a permanent basis.

Mr. Chamberlain, the Colonial Secretary, answering a question on the subject, said that, although communications were proceeding with France, His Majesty's Government was not yet in a position to make a definite statement on the French shore question.

THE GOAL ATTAINED.

Foreign Ministers Received in the Manner They Desire at Pekin.

Pekin, Jan. 23.—The Ministers of the Foreign Powers here have attained the goal which has been their aim since intercourse began between China and the powers began. They have been received as representatives of sovereigns equal in rank to the Chinese Emperor.

The audiences yesterday between the Emperor and the Ministers were held in the innermost, large hall of the Forbidden City. The Emperor sat upon a dais behind a table. There were four princes at the back of his chair and a dozen officials at each side. The Dowager Empress was concealed by a screen, according to the stories of attendants.

REVOLUTION IN SPAIN.

Coronation of Alfonso to Be Signal For Uprising—Weyler Suspected.

London, Jan. 24.—The Daily Mail publishes an alarming despatch from Madrid giving the opinions of various prominent politicians concerning the gloomy outlook in Spain, and their fears that the coronation of King Alfonso next May may be signal for a revolution.

The Daily Mail's correspondent declares that in addition to the Carlist menaces, "Weyler, the Spanish Boulanger, is troubling the waters and playing for his own hand."

Naggus—Yes; but, blame it, Borus, this is all nonsense!

A MYSTERY.

Dead Body of Frederick Drouillard Found on the Steps of the Dewdrop Hotel Just East of Walkerville.

Windsor, Jan. 24.—The dead body of Frederick Drouillard of Walkerville was discovered on Wednesday evening in a sitting position on the steps of a barn in the rear of the Dewdrop Hotel, on the main road just east of Walkerville. His friends are strongly of the opinion that he was murdered, and insist on a thorough investigation.

Accounts of the finding of the body differ materially. One story is that Minnie Maisonville, a young woman employed at the hotel, stumbled over the body in passing along the road near the Inn.

Albert Drouillard, a brother of the dead man, and a well-known customs officer of Windsor, declares, however, that when he reached the hotel he was told the body had been found on the steps of the barn in the rear.

Albert declares that when he reached the hotel at 9 o'clock last evening the body was still warm, and that death could have taken place only a short time previous.

But it is the appearance of the body itself, which now lies at Joyce's morgue, in Windsor, that gives color to the murder theory. There is an ugly looking wound, covering about four square inches, on the back of the head, which may have been caused by a blow from a blunt instrument. The left eye is also considerably discolored, and there is a considerable abraison of skin on the left cheek.

The dead man was 49 years old and unmarried. He had been a resident of Walkerville for several years.

"My brother has been in several fracases with tough characters in Walkerville," said Albert Drouillard. "They have been in the habit of getting him drunk and then trying to rob him. The circumstances in connection with his death appear very suspicious and I am going to probe the matter to the bottom."

The dead man's father examined the body at the morgue yesterday morning, and declared that he would insist on an inquest.

Sault Ste. Marie, Jan. 24.—An accident, in which 20 persons were seriously hurt, and one partially injured, occurred between Victoria Mines and Jack Fish Wednesday morning at 9.15. HOUSE HAS A LAUGH

Members Giggled at Thompson's Estimate of Col. Matheson.

MR. PRESTON GRASPS THE IDEA

Says Opposition Leaders Expect Their Followers to Make Brick Without Straw—An Excellent Speech on the Budget by the Man From South Brant—Dr. Barr Says Things.

Toronto, Jan. 23.—In the Legislative Assembly to-day Mr. Preston introduced a bill to amend the act respecting councils of conciliation and arbitration. A number of private bills were also read a first time.

Mr. Thompson resumed the debate on the Budget. He reminded Mr. Graham that coarse humor was no substitute for argument. There was no man in the House who possessed the same grasp of the financial question as did Col. Matheson. (Laughter). Even taking the commissioner's finding as showing a surplus of two million that showed a great falling off from the previous claims of the Government, in that respect. The revenue from woods and forests was not permanent and when it failed the Provincial treasury would have to be replenished from some other source. The Liberals professed to be the friends of labor, but only a few months ago the Liberal candidate for East Simcoe locked the doors on his employes because in the exercise of his rights they organized a trade union. He charged Mr. Graham with having opposed the labor candidates for Mayor and Aldermen of Brockville.

Mr. Graham positively denied the assertion. He had not either personally or through his paper opposed the municipal labor campaign—in fact he had voted for some of the candidates on that platform.

Mr. Thompson accepted Mr. Graham's statement. He went on to contend that the Opposition had a positive and distinctive policy on the questions before the people. He contrasted the Premier's promises to encourage the dressed beef industry with Mr. Dryden's action in investing in a Dakota ranch. The Provincial Secretary had made great promises of economy, but the outlay for public institutions had in some cases exceeded the estimates. There was no reasonable excuse for the removal of the Reformatory from Penetanguishene to Oxford County. He supposed the removal was intended to punish the County of Simcoe for its Conservatism. He condemned the practice of Cabinet Ministers holding positions as directors of corporations. He followed the usual custom of concluding his remarks by denouncing the West Elgin election frauds and corruption generally.

Mr. Preston said that in replying to the Opposition criticisms they were called upon to make bricks without straw. They were trying to frighten the House with the ghosts of debt and deficit which had been finally laid by the report of the Financial Commission. The people did not care about the niceties of bookkeeping. They were content to know that there were no debts that could not easily be met and a good balance of cash in hand. He had made a calculation showing that the Government returned to the people of Brant County in various ways for the encouragement of education and agriculture and the maintenance of charitable institutions an annual sum of over $50,000 out of the surplus revenue. He quoted the payments made by the corporations under the Supplement Revenue Act, showing that they were comparatively so small that they could not be re-imposed upon those having dealings with them. He highly approved the policy of raising a revenue from Succession Duties. If there was a fault to be found with the Government's policy it was that it was too economical, and he thought they might very well do more for technical education. He was glad to note that the organized labor bodies were beginning to interest themselves in manual training and ceasing their former antagonism of it. They were beginning to realize that it was not intended to train up mechanics but was rather the extension of the kindergarten idea through the other stages of education. There was no occasion for any anxiety lest the timber supply should fail. But how was it if the Opposition members entertained this fear that they had repeatedly objected to the appropriation for the Bureau of Forestry. As to the strike in the Ormlia Carriage Factory alluded to it would have been an easy matter for the employes to have invoked the services of the Dominion Labor Bureau which had satisfactorily settled a number of strikes during the year. He was aware that the act respecting conciliation and arbitration was defective, but there was an amendment before the House which would remedy its deficiencies. The Conservatives had done nothing for labor, but the Liberals had been the consistent supporters of labor reforms, such as the fair wages provision which was made a part of the railway legislation of the province. The Opposition had been inconsistent all through in matters of policy. They claimed to be the originators of the policy of requiring saw logs to be manufactured in Canada, but they opposed the same principle in reference to minerals and pulpwood. They had opposed some pulpwood concessions and supported others. They had voted against the agricultural grants and now demanded the establishment of more agricultural colleges. He thought it better to have a "war horse" at the head of the Government than a saw horse. He replied to the Opposition speakers' charges as regards West Elgin corruption and pointed out that the Government had been sustained by increased majorities in the bye-elections. The Opposition leader had denounced the Algoma Central Railway in the strongest language, saying that the indignation of the people would astonish the Government. There had been several bye-elections since and the vote showed increased confidence in the Liberal administration. Mr. Whitney had described the judges as lunatics when he said that no sane persons would believe that the burned ballots were inadvertently destroyed.

Mr. Whitney asked Mr. Preston if he believed the ballots were destroyed inadvertently.

Mr. Preston replied that he certainly did and three judges shared his opinion. He went on to contrast Mr. Whitney's fierce denunciation of the Algoma Central Railway agreement as a "phenomenal steal" and his endorsement of a less favorable agreement with the Manitoulin Railway, as a reasonable business proposition. A strong feature of the administration's policy was its patriotic character. It had stood for preserving the resources of Ontario for our own people and the country would uphold them for so doing.

Dr. Barr said the Government was simply manufacturing powder for the coming election. The resources of the country were being dissipated and the province was coming dangerously near to direct taxation. In regard to the statement that the Conservatives had never done anything for the laboring classes, Sandfield Macdonald had done more for them than had been accomplished since his time. When a bill in the interests of labor was brought in from the Opposition side of the House, Mr. Preston, at the bidding of his leaders, voted against it. He gave the Government credit for an improvement in the arrangement of the public accounts, but much yet remained to be done in that direction. He complained that the liquor law was not properly enforced as there was a good deal of illicit selling. There were a number of people paid by the Government to do so, but they were not attending to their duty. Thousands of dollars would be saved if the supplies for public institutions were tendered for, instead of being bought without competition.

The debate was adjourned and the House rose at six o'clock.

Assembly Notes.

The Railway Committee of the Legislature reorganized yesterday, and Hon. John Dryden was re-elected chairman. The committee will get down to business next Tuesday.

It is reported that 100 white men and 75 Indians are in quarantine in Keewatin, where a couple of men with smallpox are said to have been circulating. Three cases of smallpox were reported to the department yesterday from Rainham Township and Esquesing Township.

A number of settlers from Brazil, who left in wagons about four months ago for Ontario, have passed through Detroit and Windsor, but they will be unable to continue their journey. The party numbers 48 persons, with 21 horses.

A deputation, representing the liquor trade and its allied interests, five or six hundred strong, will wait on Premier Ross and the Government to-day in regard to prohibition. The deputation includes representatives from all parts of the province.

THE YUKON RAILWAY.

The Freight Schedule Being Considered at Ottawa—Big Profits Made in the Operation of the Road.

Ottawa, Jan. 24.—The schedule of freight rates in force on the British Yukon Railway between the international boundary and White Horse was the subject of discussion at a conference which took place yesterday between representatives of that company and Hon. W. S. Fielding, acting Minister of Railways. Those present at the meeting, in addition to the Minister, were Mr. A. B. Nowell, vice-president; Mr. T. Mitchell, and Mr. F. W. Chrysler, K. C., representing the British Yukon Company; Mr. Collingwood Schreiber, Deputy Minister of Railways, and Mr. E. Tiffin, traffic manager of the Intercolonial. The company has made a reduction of one-third in its rates since complaint was first filed with the Government, and now wishes to have its schedule approved. It is alleged, however, by some of those who use the railway that the rates are excessive. The company takes the position that while the rates may be rather high, they are not excessive in view of the conditions under which the line was built, the engineering difficulties which had to be overcome, and the heavy charges of maintenance which have to be met. The company claims that its case is one calling for special treatment, bearing in mind the amount of capital invested in the enterprise, and the uncertainty which prevails as to the fortunes of the Yukon. While the force of these arguments is admitted, it is nevertheless pointed out that the earnings of the line, according to sworn statements submitted, constitute about 20 per cent. in a capital investment of less than $3,000,000. For instance, the cost of building and equiping the ninety miles of railway in Canadian territory was $2,986,936. From this section of the line the receipts from freight, passengers, etc., during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1901, were $846,321, while the working expenses amounted to $283,580, leaving as net earnings the handsome sum of $562,790. Last year the line carried 38,208 tons of freight, yielding a revenue from this source of $708,532, which is equal to about $18.54 per ton. The company, therefore, seems to be making a tolerably good thing out of its railway. Nothing definite was settled at yesterday's conference, and further meetings will take place, at which the questions involved will be fully discussed.

Are Quick To See

Good Doctors are Quick to See and Appreciate Real Merit in New Medicines.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are a discovery of great value to the medical profession and the public. They are an unfailing specific in all cases of dyspepsia and disordered digestion.

Almost everybody's digestion is disordered more or less, and the commonest thing they do for it is to take some one of the many so-called blood purifiers, which in many cases are merely strong cathartics. Such things are not needed. If the organs are in a clogged condition, they need only a little help and they will right themselves. Cathartics irritate the sensitive linings of the stomach and bowels and often do more harm than good.

Purging is not what is needed. The thing to do is to put the food in condition to be readily digested and assimilated. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do this perfectly. They partly digest what is eaten and give the stomach just the help it needs. They stimulate the secretion and excretion of the digestive fluids and relieve the congested condition of the glands and membranes. They put the whole digestive system in condition to do its work. When that is done you need take no more tablets, unless you eat what does not agree with you. Then take one or two tablets—give them needed help and you will have no trouble.

Its a common sense medicine and a common sense treatment and it will cure every time. Not only cure the disease but cure the cause. Goes about it in a perfectly sensible and scientific way.

We have testimonials enough to fill a book, but we don't publish many of them. However—

Mrs. E. M. Faith of Byrd's Creek, Wis., says: "I have taken all the Tablets I got of you and they have done their work well in my case, for for I feel like a different person altogether. I don't doubt if I had not got them I should have been at rest by this time."

H. E. Willard, Onslow, Ia., says:—"Mr. White, of Canton, was telling me of your Dyspepsia Tablets curing him of Dyspepsia from which he had suffered for eight years. As I am a sufferer myself I wish you to send me a package by return mail."

Phil. Brooks, Detroit, Mich., says: "Your dyspepsia cure has worked wonders in my case. I suffered for years from dyspepsia but am now entirely cured and enjoy life as I never have before. I gladly recommend them."

It will cost 50 cents to find out just how much Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will help you. Try them—that's the best way to decide.

All druggists sell them. A little book on stomach diseases will be mailed free by addressing F. A. Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.

Monkeys as Coin Testers.

It is said that the great ape of Siam is in great request among the Siamese merchants as cashiers in their counting houses. Vast quantities of base coins are known to be in circulation in Siam, and no living human can discriminate between the good and bad coinage with as much accuracy as these apes. These monkey cashiers possess the faculty of distinguishing the rude Siamese counterfeits in such an extraordinary degree that no trained banker can compete with them in their unique avocation.

In plying his trade the ape cashier meditatively puts each coin presented to him in his mouth and tests it with grave deliberation. From two to five seconds is all the time this intelligent animal requires in making up his decision. If the coin is all right, it is carefully deposited in the proper receptacle; if base, it is thrown violently to the floor, while the coin tester makes known his displeasure at being presented with the counterfeit by giving vent to much angry chatter.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK.

Receipts of live stock were not large, 32 car loads all told, composed of 316 cattle, 175 hogs, 216 sheep and lambs, and about 20 calves.

The quality generally of the fat cattle was not as good as on Tuesday.

Owing to the light run of stock and the small number of dealers present trade was dull, in comparison with what it recently has been.

Cattle Breeders Meet.

Toronto, Jan. 24.—The annual meeting of the Dominion Cattle Breeders' Association was commenced at the Palmer House yesterday. About 40 members were in attendance.

Secretary A. P. Westervelt, in his annual statement, showed that the membership of the live stock associations in seven years has grown from 258 to 2,204. During the past year $97,000 has passed through the hands of the live stock associations.

The importance of winter fairs was also emphasized. A committee was appointed to look into the matter of a live stock exhibit at the World's Fair at St. Louis in 1903, and to seek Government assistance. A committee was also appointed to prepare a model prize list and rules. Among the officers elected for the ensuing year were: President, Arthur Johnston, Greenwood; vice-president, A. W. Smith, Maple Lodge; directors, James Bowman, Guelph, for Polled Angus; Alfred Stone, Guelph, and W. K. Gooding for Herefords; T. Porter, Weston, and R. McCullough, Sneigrove, for Jerseys; D. EIGHT CONVINCING REASONS . . .

WHY YOU SHOULD INSURE IN

THE IMPERIAL LIFE ASSURANCE CO'Y OF CANADA.

1. It is a purely Canadian Company, having all its funds invested in Canadian securities, and transacting business only in Canada.

2. It maintains the largest Government Deposit of any Canadian Life Insurance Company.

3. It maintains relatively the strongest policy reserves of any Canadian Life Insurance Company.

4. Its past record — the greatest guarantee of the future — has been unparalleled in Canadian life insurance.

5. Its policy contract is one of the most liberal issued, consistent with safety and equity.

6. It has a Capital of $1,000,000, which makes policy-holders' security unquestionable. At the same time, the assured is practically in the same position regarding profits as if he held a policy in a mutual company, the Imperial's charter providing that at least 90 per cent. of all profits shall be divided amongst policy-holders.

7. For every $100 of liability to policy-holders it holds $180 of securely invested assets. These assets are all of the highest order, and will bear the closest scrutiny.

8. An Imperial policy never depreciates in value, but, on the contrary, is constantly becoming more valuable. It is the most valuable estate you can leave behind you.

An Important Alteration.

Apropos of the report that some American modistes clothe fashionable patrons gratis in return for the advertisements of their wares the London Chronicle declares that D'Orsay, "the last of the dandies," was much sought after to advertise the goods of the London tailors of his day.

Mrs. Pitt Byrne also says in her somewhat malicious "Gossip of the Century:" "Such was the count's prestige that tailor to the Comte d'Orsay was a far more privileged title than tailor to his majesty. It was said, moreover, that the client whose custom was so profitable did not disdain to share its advantages. By a delicate arrangement, each time the integuments of the exquisite were sent home he was to find a bank note of a certain amount in the pockets. One day the tailor sent in a suit pur et simple, with nothing but its own merits to recommend it. D'Orsay's surprise was extreme on discovering this departure from the established custom, but he was equal to the occasion. Calling his valet, he told him to have Mr. Stultz's parcel returned to him for alteration, with a message to the effect that 'he had forgotten to line the pockets.'"

Tradition of Scotland's Thistle.

Queen Scotia had led her troops in a well fought battle, and when the day was won retired to the rear to rest from her toils. She threw herself upon the ground where, as ill luck would have it, a bristly thistle grew. Whether the fair amazon fought in the national costume of Scotland or not the tradition fails to say, but at any rate the spines of the offending plant were sufficiently powerful to penetrate the skin in a very painful manner. A proverbial philosopher has said that "he that sitteth upon nettles riseth quickly," and the same remark holds good with thistles.

Queen Scotia sprang to her feet and tore the thistle out by the roots. She was about to cast it aside when it struck her that the prickly herb would henceforth be ever associated in her mind with the glorious victory which she had just gained. Her intention was changed. She placed the thistle in her cask, and it became the badge of her dynasty.

FUR FASHIONS

The Latest Shapes—Expensive and Inexpensive Boas.

As the season advances furs become more and more attractive. The tendency seems to be toward fancy effects. Fur animals are no longer considered the smart thing by women who faithfully observe the changes in fashions. Flat stole and cape effects prevail, but by capes are meant the short ones reaching only about the shoulders and terminating in the front in two long stole shaped pieces. Capes reaching to the waist line are considered suitable only for middle aged women. Three-quarter capes, however, of sable, mink and ermine are used for carriage wear and for theater wraps. Chinchilla, ermine, sable and silver fox are the most costly furs. The silver fox ranks highest in the scale, a good muff selling for as high as $750. Chinchilla is becoming rarer and rarer. It is eked out with sable and other furs in a variety of ways. As it wears hardly more than one season it is a most extravagant purchase.

Foxes of all shades are cheap and pretty. The fashion seems to be to make them up without the heads, trimming them instead with bunches of tails.

The up to date ermine jacket in the sketch is made blouse shaped, with a postilion back. The wide collar of sable is cut in graceful curves. The sleeves, which are loose below the elbow, have wide cuffs of the sable. A jeweled belt confines the fullness of the blouse at the waist line. With this is worn a waist having a full front of chiffon. The skirt which accompanies the jacket is of pearl gray cloth. It has three gored flounces headed by an application of strapped cloth and deeper gray velvet.

The muff is of sable ornamented with six tails. The hat is of white felt trimmed with two pale blue ostrich plumes. JUDIC CHOLLET.

SUBJECTS OF BRITAIN.

The Law of the Empire Covering Birth and Naturalization.

It is natural that we in these tight little islands, should jealously guard the social advantages, the protection and field for advancement which are enjoyed by those who can claim to be British subjects. But in the eyes of the law there is considerable confusion as to the necessary qualifications which outsiders must show before they can be admitted to all the privileges of citizenship. On this account the Home Secretary appointed an interdepartmental committee 18 months ago to report "upon the doubts and difficulties which have arisen in connection with the interpretation and administration of the acts relating to naturalization, and to advise whether legislation for the amending of these acts is desirable, and, if so, what scope and direction such legislation should take." Who is a British subject? The committee point out that:

"To the common law belongs the fundamental principle that any person who is born within His Majesty's dominions is from the moment of his birth a British subject, whatever be the nationality of either or both his parents, and however temporary and casual the circumstances determining the locality of his birth may have been."

The child of an alien enemy born in a part of His Majesty's dominions which is at the time in hostile occupation is not a British subject. Again, the child born within the British dominions of an Ambassador or other diplomatic agent accredited to the Crown by a foreign sovereign is not a British subject. The limits of this latter exception have not been exactly ascertained.

The King's son is always a British subject, wherever he may be born. With this exception the acquisition of the status of a British subject by parents rests on statute law. A person whose father or parental grandfather was born within His Majesty's dominions is deemed a natural born British subject, although he himself was born abroad.

To the category of persons who are British subjects by reason of their birth having taken place within His Majesty's dominions must be added those who are born on board a British ship. Some doubt exists as to the extent of this rule. There seems to be no doubt, the committee remarks, that a person is a natural-born British subject who is

(a) Born on board a British ship of war, wherever such ship may be.

(b) Born on board a British merchant vessel on the high seas.

It is suggested that a simple rule should be made that any child on a foreign ship while in British waters should not be deemed to be a subject of this country, owing to this accident of birth; but, on the other hand, an infant who first looks out on life under the white and red ensign, wherever it may fly afloat, is apparently a subject of the King, although he be as black as ebony or his father be this country's most deadly enemy.—London Telegraph.

Loss of Flesh.

If you find yourself falling below normal weight there is danger The use of fish oils can temporarily add fat, but will never build up healthy tissue. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food acts through the blood and nervous system and carries new life and energy to every nook and corner of the body. It regulates the various organs of the body, makes the appetite good, adds healthy flesh and replaces the tissues wasted by disease. Gradually and naturally this food cure restores colour to the cheeks, increases the weight of the body, and thoroughly overcomes disease.

His Choice.

"What would you like to be when you grow up?" asked an old gentleman.

"I'd like to be a bricklayer," replied the boy.

"That's a commendable ambition. Why would you like to be a bricklayer?"

"'Cause there's so many days when bricklayers can't work."

A Good Bargain.

"But why," asked the president of the country where women ruled, "did you buy that battleship?"

"It was such a bargain," replied the secretary of the navy. "Of course, the engines don't work very well and there are some flaws in the guns, but it looks as fine as any of the others and only cost half as much."

TWO MAIDEN SPEECHES.

Disraeli's First a Flat Failure, and Mr. Gladstone's Very Obscure—O'Connell's Bout With the Coming Premier.

One night early in 1833 (the year after he had failed in his contest as a Radical for the borough of High Wycombe) Benjamin Disraeli, sitting in the Strangers' Gallery of the House of Commons, listened to the debate on the address in which Lord John Russell Macaulay, Stanley, Bulwer and other leading members of the House took part. Next day he wrote to his sister: "Was at the House of Commons yesterday during the whole of the debate—one of the finest we have had for years. Macaulay was admirable, but, between ourselves, I could floor them all. This entre nous. I was never more confident of anything than that I could carry everything before me in that House. The time will come."

The time did occur four years later, when on Dec. 7, 1837, Disraeli, having been returned as a Tory, stood up in the House of Commons to make his maiden speech. The story of that historic fiasco has never been fully told. What is generally known is that Disraeli was interrupted by bursts of ironical laughter almost from the beginning of his speech, and at length, utterly unable to catch the ear of the House, he concluded by shouting at the utmost pitch of his voice the famous phrase: "Though I sit down now, the time will come when you will hear me." But the whole episode, what led up to it, and what followed it, is most interesting.

The subject of the debate was a motion by Mr. Smith O'Brien for a Select Committee to enquire into the alleged practice of vexatious petitioning against Irish members elected in the popular interest. Daniel O'Connell supported the motion, and it had been arranged that Sir Robert Peel should reply; but the strongly-expressed wish of Disraeli that the duty might be given to him, backed as it was by many members of his party, induced the Tory leader to give way to his ardent young recruit.

There had been an absurd, though very bitter quarrel, between O'Connell and Disraeli. O'Connell was one of Disraeli's sponsors when he carried the Radical flag on the hustings at High Wycombe in 1832. Three years later, Disraeli having turned Tory, attacked the Melbourne Administration, which was retained in power by the Irish party, for having clasped as he put it, "the bloody hand of O Connell." O'Connell retorted in a speech of a savage vituperation in which he declared that Disraeli's life was a "living lie," and that he was a "descendant of the impenitent thief on the Cross." Disraeli challenged O'Connell, but the Irishman, after killing D'Esterre in 1815, had made a vow against duelling, and always wore a black kid glove on his right hand as a token of his lifelong repentence for having shed another man's blood. "Then," wrote Disraeli, in a scathing letter to O'Connell, "we shall meet at Philippi." Now the two antagonists were face to face at Philippi—in the House of Commons, with, happily, the floor between them.

Disraeli's failure on this occasion was not due to nervous timidity, but to the less amiable fault of overconfident fluency, to the young member's self-assurance of manner, inspired, obviously, by the conviction that he was about to leap into Parliamentary fame at a single bound. This, with his foppish attire, his affected gestures, and the knowledge of his rapid change of political opinion, carried the British Radicals and the Irish Repealers, both led by the lusty lungs of O'Connell, to indulge in roars of ironical laughter and other disconcerting cries.

Macaulay, writing to a friend in Paris, a few days later, said: "Speaking of the House, Disraeli nearly killed it on Thursday night. You have, of course, seen his speech in Galignani. Can you conceive the impudence of the Attorney-General not knowing him personally, and going up to him in the lobby and saying, 'A very pleasant speech of yours, Mr. Disraeli. Will you be kind enough to tell me what Lord John held beside the keys of St. Peter?' 'The red cap of liberty, sir.' During the performance Peel quite screamed with laughter."

Gladstone's first appearance as a speaker in the arena in which he was for so long a period the most eloquent and predominating personality, was obscure and disappointing. He took his seat as a member for Newark on Jan. 29, 1833, the opening day of the first session of the first Parliament elected under the Reform Act—being then 23 years old.

Three weeks later, on Feb. 21, he made his maiden speech. A petition signed by 3,000 Whigs of Liverpool was presented alleging bribery and corruption against the Tory representatives of that town, and in the discussion which followed, Gladstone interposed on behalf of the electoral honor of his native place.

"Every great orator from Demosthenes to Burke," Gladstone once said, "has suffered from nervousness on the eve of an important speech, and although I cannot claim to share their gift of golden speech, I can claim more than a fair share of their defect of nerves." Certainly, he was extremely nervous on this occasion, as his indistinctiveness of utterance and hesitancy of manner only too obviously showed. That voice, which subsequently held so many thousands spellbound by its music was inaudible from the gallery in which the reporters were taking notes. So little notice did this debut attract, that a speech delivered in the House a few months later by his brother, Thomas, in defence of their father, who was an owner of slaves on his estates in Demerara, has often been described in biographical sketches as Gladstone's maiden effort.—Macmillan's Magazine.

REVENUE CUTTER PETREL

Tale of Her Methods, Captain and Crew—The Nets Captured.

The trim and warlike-looking little Canadian revenue cutter Petrel lay at her wharf in Walkerville, her sharp prow, which is said to be capable of ramming the stoutest freighter that passes through the Detroit river, turned ominously toward the American shore. A big Union Jack flew from the flag-pole at the stern, the nine-pound gun had been polished to mirror-like brightness, the jolly tars were all neatly arrayed in their shore-leave clothes, and Capt. Edward Dunn, florid-faced and quietly jolly-looking, slowly paced the quarterdeck. The gay appearance of the little craft contrasted strongly with the wintry river scene. Great boats coated with ice passed up and down, in seeming defiance of winter's warning signs, while seagulls circled around them or held little pink tea receptions upon the rapidly forming cakes.

The captain was arrayed in full regimentals, including his sword and a Victoria medal presented for his participation in the Fenian raid of 1866 when he was stationed at Sarnia.

"We are waiting to be inspected," said he, in response to a query. "Every year at laying-up time, Capt. O. G. V. Spain, commanding the fisheries protective service of Canada, visits the various revenue cutters in the service (there are about ten all told) and inspects them. The crews are required to go through the regular drill for his benefit, and that is why you find us on waiting orders, so to speak."

Commander Spain arrived after a while, and the crew of the Petrel were put through the cutlass drill and various other military manoeuvres, the excellence of which seemed to please the inspector, who also found everything to his satisfaction on board ship.

The Petrel is the only Canadian revenue cutter in service on the lakes. In build and equipment she is a minature war vessel, being equipped with cannon, rifles, cutlasses, and revolvers. During the summer she is a terror to transgressing fishermen on Lake Erie, where she plies chiefly, there being few depredations of the kind on the upper lakes.

The poaching, Captain Dunn says, is done mostly east of Pelee Island and off Long Point, abreast of Erie, and the little ship has chased many a Yankee fish tug out of Canadian waters. Once in a while a tug and crew are captured and brought into Port Stanley, but more often the offending fishermen see the cutter coming a long distance off and make haste to get away. Capt. Dunn then contents himself with capturing the nets and their finny contents, which are confiscated to the Government. About 400 nets were captured the past summer. This was considerably more than during the preceding season. In 1894, the first year of the Petrel's service, 1,000 odd nets were captured.

"The pursuit of law-breaking fishermen is always attended with more or less excitement," says Capt. Dunn, but there is never any serious trouble. The Petrel is too vicious an appearing craft for that. She is speedy, too, when it becomes necessary to put her to the test. Her summer headquarters are at Port Stanley; late in the fall she passes her unoccupied time at Amherstburg, and she lays up at Walkerville.

The Petrel is 125 feet over all, 22 feet beam, and 8 feet 6 inches depth of hold. Besides the captain's room she is provided with officers' quarters, a chart room, a galley and the crew's mess. The officers incluhe Captain Dunn, First Officer J. S. Inkster, Second Officer John McPherson, Chief Engineer A. J. Brown, Assistant Engineer W. H. Linter and Drill Instructor E. V. Hestan. Then there are the boatswain and carpenter, and quite a complement of seamen and stokers.

The regulations on board ship are about the same as upon an ordinary lake-going craft, though the men are drilled an hour each day. Capt. Dunn is not a stickler for pomp and detail. He has had command of the Petrel ever since she came out in 1893. He started in the revenue service in 1890, and was for several years a sailor and in command of lake boats before that period. The captains of the Canadian revenue cutters are appointed and hold their positions during good behaviour. Seamen enlist for the season. If appearances go for anything, companionable and jolly Capt. Dunn has the affection and esteem of his merry crew. He has a wide circle of friends in the various ports that he visits, including Detroit.—Detroit Free Press.

A FRIEND'S GOOD ADVICE.

It Saved Madame Guimond Much Pain and Trouble and She has Shown Her Appreciation.

Advice is often tendered with the very best intention which it is not wise to follow. It is so easy to advise and suggest, and one of the greatest annoyances sick people have to endure is the careless suggestions of those who mean well but do not understand.

Almost anyone who has not had stomach troubles of his own can tell a dyspeptic just how to be cured.

The only advice a sick person should follow is that of one who has suffered in a similar way and who has found relief.

Madame Amanda Guimond, of Grand Metis, Quebec, has suffered from Dyspepsia for years. Many suggestions were made and many different treatments tried, but she got no better till a friend who had been cured of Dyspepsia by Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets advised her to use them. She did so, and soon was free from any pain or distress. The relief came with the first dose; and a complete cure with the fourth box. Now Madame Guimond never tires telling her friends what Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets have done for her. She is also very grateful to the friend who gave her such excellent advice.

Madame Guimond advises all who suffer with Stomach Troubles to use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, and her advice should be worth your attention, for she has experienced both the pain you now endure and the cure you may secure if you will but do as she advises.

Trial by Combat.

The Dymoke claim to the King's companionship reminds one, says The London Morning Chronicle, of the antiquity of the office, which was established by the Conquerer after the battle of Hastings, when the dignity was conferred on Robert de Marmion, Lord of Fontenay. But the championship is closely interwoven with the trial by combat. How many Britons, we wonder, are aware that Trial by Combat formed an essential part of British jurisprudence until the beginning of the reign of George IV., or how it ended? At that time there being a charge of murder against a certain Abraham Thornton, the gentleman was advised by his counsel to claim the right of "trial by battle." Accordingly, when brought before the Court of King's Bench, he flung down his gage. A solemn argument was afterwards held on the case, when the judges were unanimous that he was entitled to wage his battle. The nearest male relative of the deceased, a lad of 16, being manifestly unable to meet Thornton in combat, declined any further proceedings. The public feeling was so much outraged that the Attorney-General of the day immediately introduced a bill for abolishing the right of appeal in all criminal cases, a bill which, however, did not pass without opposition.

West Australia's Premier

The new Premier of Western Australia, Mr. Alfred Edward Morgans, is another example of the fact that political preferment in Australia is not blocked by foreign birth or experience. Mr. Morgans was born in Wales, and was living in Mexico, where he was numbered among the friends of President Diaz, when the gold fields of Western Australia were discovered. He settled in Coolgardie, and in due course was its representative in the Legislative Assembly, where he was a strong supporter of Sir John Forrest, now a Minister in the Federal Government. Mr. Morgans is the principal proprietor of the Mount Morgans mine, on the Mount Margaret gold field, and has started fruit farming on an extensive scale.

A Queer Joint Deputation.

A joint deputation from the churches and the amateur sporting associations is indeed, as a contemporary says, something in the nature of a curiosity. Such a combination recently waited upon the Chief Secretary of Victoria, Australia, to protest against the invasion of cricket and football matches in Melbourne by professional bookmakers. The clerical section wanted betting made a penal offence by act of Parliament; the sporting section would be content with powers to evict the bookmakers as "undesirable persons." The Minister considered the latter a reasonable proposal and promised to embody it in a bill.

Familiarity Aids Sight.

The exceptional powers of vision attributed to uncivilized men and to civilized men who pass their lives in the open air, supposing they exist, are easily explained. They are only manifested while looking at familiar things which the supposed possessors of such sight have been long trained to see.

The shepherd distinguishes sheep where the town dweller sees nothing, because the one is accustomed to the place and objects and the other not. The herdsman distinguishes cattle and the huntsman his prey because they are practiced and see little differences which perhaps they cannot describe, but which they perceive almost unconsciously. The sailor and the longshoreman detect what the visitor fails to see out on the horizon and will tell you of the peculiarities of rigging which enable them to distinguish one boat from another.

Of course they are used to these things and undoubtedly see more and also guess more than the casual observer, for in my experience they are not seldom wrong.

CHILDREN'S AID ANNUAL MEETING.

Mr. J. J. McBain was Re-elected President.

HELD YESTEREAY AFTERNOON

The Reports of the Officers Showed the Society to be in a Healthy Condition.

The annual meeting of the Childrens' Aid Society of the County of Peterborough was held in the Town Council Chamber yesterday afternoon. The following members of the Society were in attendance: Messrs. J. J. McBain, President, in the chair; R. M. Dennistoun, Secretary; Peter Campbell, Treasurer; George Cochrane, Agent; Rev. Father McColl, Rev. J. P. Wilson, Rev. Dr. Torrance and J. H. Burnham and Mrs. J. W. Garvin.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and on motion, received and adopted.

SECRETARY'S REPORT.

The report of the Secretary, Mr. R. M. Dennistoun, was submitted as follows:

During the past year the progress of the Society has been steady and uniform. There has never been a day when there were not children in the Shelter being cared for by our competent Matron, and in addition, there has been a steady run of quiet work which has been done without attracting much attention from outside. A careful record has been kept of all the children placed in foster homes and the reports of the Provincial Visitor, as received from Mr. Kelso, have been examined and where necessary action has been taken upon them. Many cases have been investigated and warnings have been given to parents whose conduct towards their children, while not sufficiently cruel to justify the Society in taking possession of the children, was yet of such a nature as to call for interference. It is believed that the influence of the Society has proved a powerful factor in the community, in may cases where no direct action has been taken. Parents now know that there is an organization which can reach them, and many are afraid of the disgrace of an exposure, with the result that there are fewer local cases of cruelty to children reported than formerly.

The following is an outline of a few of the cases dealt with during the year:

Case F.—A very pretty girl of twelve years of age; father insane; mother dead; completely destitute; placed in a good foster home where she is highly thought of.

Case S.—A little boy of four years of age and his sister aged eight years; placed in the Shelter under order of the Magistrate. Both children now with well-to-do farmers who are acting as faithful foster parents.

Case F.—This child was placed in the Shelter on the 24th Oct., 1900, and remained there until the 10th Oct., 1901. The reason being that he had a defect in his eyesight which prevented his adoption by foster parents. He was finally sent to Mr. Kelso in Toronto for treatment.

Case S.—This child was weak minded and remained in the Shelter 138 days. He was then admitted to the Asylum at Orillia. His parents were both insane and there was no place for the child but the common gaol if the Society had not intervened.

Case H.—This case was from the Township of Belmont. The stepfather is serving a term in the penitentiary; mother left without means of supporting the child. Placed in good home.

Case E.—A child, eighteen months of age, illegitimate; mother unable to provide for child. Placed in the Shelter for a short time when it was adopted by an excellent family.

Case C.—A boy, fourteen years of age; destitute. Put in charge of a farmer under contract with the Society; has now $35.00 in the Bank, and is making his own living.

Case B.—A child, living under very distressing circumstances with stepfather. Placed in the Shelter under order of the Magistrate and now in a good home in town.

Case D.—A little girl, five and one half years of age, illegitimate, now in a good home in town.

Case W.—Two little boys; mother in poor circumstances, father utterly unable or unwilling to provide for children. Taken from the back country and placed in comfortable homes.

An so we might go on at considerable length.

Foster Homes.—One of the pleasantest duties of this department is to receive and record the reports upon the children who have been placed in foster homes. As a rule the child is found to be healthy, happy, attending school, receiving religious instruction and a knowledge of household or farm work, at the same time gaining the affection of the foster parents. Those of us who know the utterably deplorable condition of the same children a few months previously have reason to be well satisfied with the results.

The Shelter.—The Shelter is warm, comfortable and well managed. Mr. and Mrs. Henry not only perform the routine duties of their office well but in addition gain the affection of the children under their charge. Nineteen children were admitted.

Police Court.—One of the Society's solicitors has attended the trial of all juvenile offenders and has offered to the Magistrate all assistance possible in investigation and disposing of such cases. In a number of instances children have been allowed their liberty upon the undertaking of our Society to keep an eye upon them so far as possible.

Illegitimacy.—In several instances illegitimate children have been taken into the Shelter as it has been made arule that no case of cruelty, destitution or desertion will be refused admission.

Warnings, Etc.—Our agent, Mr. Cochrane, has been active in the discharge of his duties. Many cases have been investigated, warnings served, and truants reproved. Parents have been notified of daughters who were keeping late hours and undesirable company. All communications are treated as confidential and those who call upon the Society to take action need have no fear of consequence to themselves.

Finances.—Sufficient funds have been forthcoming, often from very unexpected sources, to keep us out of debt. Thanks are due to many contributors and public institutions for moneys received. We trust it will not be forgotten that we rely on the kind and continued support of charitable people for the future. Over $17,000.00 was bequeathed to the New York Society last year. We hope our Canadian people when making their wills will remember our Children's Aid Society as there is no sweeter charity in the world to-day than the rescue from cruelty and destitution of the little children.

Medical Attendance.—Thanks are again due to several members of the medical profession for kind services rendered during the year with great cheerfulness.

I append a number of reports received from the Government Visitor, Mrs. Harvey. Of course all the reports are not so favourable as the ones attached but the latter are a fair sample.

Mr. J. H. Burnham said that it was a matter of much gratification to know that the affairs of the Society were in so healthy a condition, and he was particularly pleased with the detailed manner in which the Secretary had presented the affairs.

The report was adopted upon motion of Rev. J. P. Wilson, seconded by Rev. W. L. Anmitage.

TREASURER'S REPORT.

Mr. Peter Campbell, the Treasurer of the Society, presented his annual report which, summarized, was as follows:

Receipts.

Balance on hand	$122 13
Total amts. received during year	557 16
	$702 28

Expenditures.

Total expenditure during year ...	$450 39
Banance on hand	251 89
	$702 28

The report was received and adopted, on motion of Mr. J. H. Burnham, seconded by Mr. Geo. Cochrane.

AGENT'S REPORT.

Mr. George Cochrane, the agent of the society, presented his report as appended:

To the Officers and Members of the Children's Aid Society of the Town and County of Peterborough:

In following up the plan that I adopted last year, I commenced a thorough canvas of the town and with the advice received from Relief Officer Miller, I located eighteen families who were deserving of help and Christmas cheer in the way of clothing and baskets of provisions, the latter of which were very kindly supplied by the King's Daughters' Society, of St. John's church, and by some of the ladies of the Murray street Baptist church, all of whom were anxious to do all they could towards bringing Christmas comforts to as many as possible, and for their self-sacrificing work they are deserving of the thanks of this Society. I also received assistance to the amount of seventeen dollars ($17.00) in cash from friends of the Society, which was expended in clothing and extra blankets.

On the afternoon of December 24th, I went to the Shelter, and assisted by Mrs. Henry and Mrs. McAndrews, the clothes were parcelled to suit the various needs, as I had prepared a list of the ages of the boys and girls in the families, nor did we forget some of the parents who were in need of warm clothing for the winter. In this way we made up eighteen parcels of clothing, and in each candies, oranges, picture books, dolls, etc., were enclosed. That evening Mr. Henry and myself proceeded to distribute the clothing and some of the baskets, and during the evening visited eighteen families and I must say that the joy and thankfulness shown by the children and parents amply rewarded us, and we could truly say, that it was more blessed to give than to receive.

The thanks of the Society are due to the ladies and merchants of the town who so kindly contributed the fruits and toys before mentioned.

By the Christmas Eve. distribution over sixty persons were benefitted.

Number of visits made and cases investigated in the town, 93; number of visits made and cases investigated in the county, 24; notices served for non-attendance of children at public schools in the county, 7.

I must also say that the childrens' rooms have been repapered and floors painted, making the Shelter much more comfortable. The roof leaks very badly and will have to be re-shingled this spring.

Mrs. J.W. Garvin asked if they as members of the society, could not do more in the direction of preventing truancy among the children who should be at school. She cited several cases which had come under her personal observation.

The question evoked considerable discussion, in which Messrs. J. H. Burnham, R. M. Dennistoun and Mr. Cochrane took part. Mr. Burnham, in order to bring the matter to a head, moved that a special committee, consisting of the President, and the Secretary, be appointed to look into the matter, and find out, if possible, where the law failed in this regard. However, Mr. Dennistoun contended that they would be going out of their jurisdiction, and might be meddling with well-to-do people. The work of the society was that of caring for destitute children and not for the purpose of enforcing the act regarding truancy. Such action would be a reflection on the proper officers.

Mr. Cochrane asked that the newspapers make a note of the fact that each municipality had the power to appoint a truant officer whose duty it was to see that the children of the municipality attend school, if at all possible. If this provision of the law were taken advantage of there would be less trouble in regard to matters of this kind.

Mrs. Garvin held that she was not advocating anything that she did not think the society was not in sympathy with.

Mr. Cochrane's report was finally adopted, upon motion of Mr. R. M. Dennistoun, who as secretary, spoke in very eulogistic terms of the faithful work of Mr. Cochrane.

ARCHDEACON CASEY.

Mr. Burnham, in moving a resolution of regret at the loss the Society had sustained through the removal from town of Ven. Archdeacon Casey, spoke in warm terms of the services of that gentleman as a member of the Board and a citizen of the town. Archdeacon Casey was a gentleman for whom they all had the greatest admiration, and while we were all sorry to lose him, yet we were all pleased to hear of his promotion. The resolution also included a kindly reference to the presence of Rev. Father McColl as a member of the Society.

Mr. R. M. Dennistoun seconded the resolution, and in doing so expressed his regret at the departure from town of the Ven. Archdeacon.

In putting the motion, the president added a few words of the personal loss he felt. He stated that the Ven. Archdeacon was a good, broad-minded man, kind at heart, not extravagant, and always ready to help those in distress. The resolution was enthusiastically carried.

Mr. McBain then expressed the very great pleasure he felt in working with the other officers of the Society. The Secretary had proved to be all that was expected of him; the Treasurer was competent and earnest in his work; while the work of Mr. Cochrane, the agent, could not have been excelled. The Matron, too, came in for her share of praise, the President saying that he was delighted with her—she was kind and motherly and well suited for the position. He also extended to Rev. Father McColl a hearty welcome to the new board.

THE NEW OFFICERS.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Hon. Pres.—Hon. J. R. Stratton.
Pres.—J. J. McBain.
1st Vice-Pres.—Mrs. Jas. Kendry.
2nd Vice-Pres.—Mrs. A. C. Dunlop.

Advisory Board — The President, Secretary and Agent.
Representative on Charity Board—J. J. McBain.

Mr. Campbell stated that the tank and shingles which the secretary referred to in his report, had since been sold and he had received the money for the same.

AN EVENING WITH COLUMBUS

Given by the Ladies' Literary Circle of St. Peter's T. A. S.

St. Peter's T.A.S. lecture room was well filled last evening with the members of the Ladies' Literary Society, and their friends, and all were thoroughly delighted with the literary programme provided.

This excellent reading circle has only been organized a few months, and during that time several essays have been presented by a number of the members, and all who have had the pleasure of attending the readings have bestowed many warm compliments on the different papers presented.

Last evening the chair was occupied by Miss O'Connell, of the teaching staff of the Separate School, the energetic president of the Circle, and seated on the platform were Rev. Father McColl, Rev. Dr. O'Brien, and Rev. Father John O'Brien.

The programme opened with an excellently rendered instrumental selection by Messrs. Angus and Jas. McPherson. Miss Nellie McCabe followed with "The Landing of Columbus," —a recitation which she delivered with splendid effect. Master Harry Quinlan next favoured the gathering with a reading dealing with an incident connected with the Crusade.

Next came the treat of the evening, an essay on Christopher Columbus, by Miss Lizzie Dennaird. The paper was an excellent one in every detail, and dealt with the life of this great navigator, from the time of his birth up to his death. Miss Dennaird possesses a splendid delivery, which added an additional charm to the presentation of an essay, which was characterized during the evening as a literary gem.

At the conclusion of the paper Rev. Father McColl expressed the pleasure it gave him to be present at the reading, and paid a warm tribute to the paper presented.

Rev. Dr. O'Brien and Rev. Father John O'Brien, also addressed the meeting, and gave words of encouragement to the Reading Circle.

Miss Susie Kelly will give a paper on "Jacques Cartier" at the next meeting of the Circle.

PERSONALS.

Miss Ethel Guiton, of Cobourg, is visiting Mrs. Borradaile, George street.

Mr R M Dennistoun, of town, has been elected a member of the Governing Body of Trinity College School, Port Hope. Mr. Dennistoun is to be congratulated upon his appointment to so important a position.

NEWS NUGGETS.

An Excellent Programme.

The Examiner will publish Saturday the programme to be given at the St. Andrew's Young Men's Guild Concert, Monday evening, and it should prove to be the best of the season. Neither of the artists, Mr. Donald C. McGregor or Mrs. Scott-Raff, have previously appeared in town, but they come with the highest recommendations. Admission, only 25c.

MARRIED.

MORRISON — BALLANTYNE. — On Wednesday, 22nd Jan. 1902, at the residence of the bride's father, by Rev. J. Kilgour, Mr. John Morrison, of Cavan, to Lizzie, daughter of Mr Robert Ballantyne, town.

THE CHOSEN FRIENDS.

They Entertained a Number of Guests Most Pleasingly Last Evening.

The local branch of the Canadian Order of Chosen Friends were "At Home" last evening, and entertained a large number of guests. Mr. R. E. Harding, Past Chief Councillor occupied the chair. A very pleasing programme was given, among those taking part being Mr. T. Cunningham, Miss Lillico, Mr. W. Dundas, Mr Jos. Halpany, Miss Aggie Patterson, Miss Patterson, Miss McGill and Mr. G. W. Powell, and the Male Quartette. Refreshments were served during the evening. A concert will be held in the course of a few weeks under the auspices of the Peterborough Council.

SONS OF TEMPERANCE.

Candidates Initiated — Refreshments Were Served.

The Sons of Temperance met at their hall, Water street, last evening, Bro. Noble, W. P., in the chair, and after initiation of candidates, the sisters provided a surprise in the line of cake and coffee, which with the social time it afforded was very much enjoyed, after which an informal programme was acceptably rendered and division closed with propositions for seven new members for next day.

THE BASKET SOCIAL.

The ladies of Companion Court Queen, I.O.F., gave a very enjoyable entertainment last night in the form of a basket social. Considering the counter attractions the attendance was quite creditable.

The musical and literary part of the programme was bright and attractive. The sale of the baskets occasioned considerable amusement. The bidding was brisk, the gentlemen evidently having the utmost confidence in the culinary skill of their lady entertainers. One basket brought $1.30. Court Queen is to be congratulated.

FIRE REMOVAL.

Owing to the destruction by fire of my meat store in the Crystal Block, I have removed to the corner of George and Brock Streets (Denoon's Old Stand.) There will be no interruption to business, as I am again fully stocked with choice meats of all kinds. Same Telephone as before—No. 333. W. G. HOWDEN.

ANNUAL MEETING OF ST. ANDREW'S.

Some Interesting Reports Read Last Night.

THE WORK OF THE YEAR.

The Various Societies are all in a Very Healthy Condition The Officers For the Year.

The annual meeting of St. Andrew's church was held last night in the Sunday School room and was largely attended. Encouraging reports were read from the various societies in connection with the church, and officers were elected for the ensuing year. The chair was occupied by Rev. J. G. Potter, pastor of St. Andrew's and the meeting was opened with devotional exercises.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and on motion adopted.

SESSION'S REPORT.

The report of the Session was submitted and was duly received and adopted. It was as follows:

In presenting a statement of the spiritual life and work in St. Andrew's during the past year, it is with a profound sense of our thankfulness to God for His constant benedictions upon the efforts put forth through the various organizations under our supervision. As will be seen in the different reports each gives a different phase of the life comprising work in St. Andrew's, and all will be encouraged, if not enthused at the amount of happy activity. The different societies have been working normally and success has attended their work.

We rejoice to know that the utmost concord has ruled during the year, and it gives cause of much gratification that our people are "of one heart and of one mind," and earnestly seeking to "keep the unity of the spirit in the bonds of peace."

The attendance on ordinances has been good and gives evidence of the strong attachment our people have formed for the means of grace. We would, nevertheless, urge all "not to forsake the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is."

During the past year the Session sustained a very severe loss in the death of Mr. A. Stewart, for so many years so much identified with all the interests of the church.

Several families have been called upon to suffer bereavement. In some instances these were under very trying circumstances as in the case of Mr. Peter King, in Toronto, Mr George Huston, drowned in the Otonabee, and Mr. William Miller, killed in Detroit and of Mr. Adam Thompson in N. W. T., whose sudden death caused much sorrow. Others fell asleep in a ripened age, like the [illegible] fathers of Mr. Robt. Rae, and Mr. John Kerr, Ashburnham. Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Wilgar were called upon to suffer great trial in the death of their child of tender days. In all cases your Session was able to minister to the needs of those in grief.

There were added to the church during the year 20 persons, 10 by profession and 10 by certificate. There were 11 certificates granted, leaving a membership of 350. There are 208 families connected with the congregation. There were 13 baptisms.

In October Miss Grant, for so many years organist, severed her connection with the praise service, and the Session, with the very courteous concurrence of the Board of Managers, secured the services of Prof A. Davies at a salary of $350.00 with two week's holidays. Mr. Davies entered into contract to instruct and train the choir, and very generously planned to carry on a class for instruction.

In December the Session arranged for a series of evangelistic services under the leadership of Evangelist Walden. A number took advantage of the meetings, but owing to the busy season of the year the numbers were not so large as we would have hoped.

We have lost the valuable help of Miss Forsythe and Mrs. D. Porter, but we venture to hope that their stay in Toronto may be of short duration.

We strongly urge upon the congregation the great need of individual effort in the interests of the church's work, and we ask your constant prayers on behalf of the ministry of the Word.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

ALEX. CAMPBELL,
Session Clerk.

BOARD OF MANAGER'S REPORT.

Mr. J. D. Tully presented the report of the Board of Managers as follows:

We again present our annual report and trust that our efforts to carry on the financial affairs of the church during the past year will meet with the approval of the congregation.

While we are sorry to report a shortage for the year of $284.64, part of which is owing to necessarily increased expenditure, and part to arrearages, (last year the subscriptions were all paid up and there were no arrearages.) It is also gratifying to know that our general receipts are increased. You will see by the statements which have been placed in your hands that the contributions and collections paid in were $79.68 more in 1901 than in the previous year, add to this amount due upon subscriptions not paid up, $71.15, and we have a total increase of $150.83.

We would take the liberty of recommending that as a growing congregation we make still further efforts to get on a paying basis and instead of having to report a shortage have a surplus.

Some few months ago one of the members of the Board suggested the advisability of having some of the Young Men's Guild on the Board as associate members. This was deemed advisable so five of the Guild were made associate members of the Board, they are Messrs. Anderson, Glover, Kerr, Sollitt and Miller. We think from the experience we have had that this is a good move and we certainly cannot have too many actively interested in the work of the church.

On account of the removal of our former organist, Miss Grant, the Session engaged the services of Prof. Davies at a necessarily increased salary, which, however, will make little difference as it will not now be necessary to supplement by engaging a soloist, so we have every reason to believe that the increase is a wise business measure.

Trusting, therefore, that we meet with your approval, we are,

Yours obediently,
J. D. TULLY,
Chairman, Board of Managers.

SUNDAY SCHOOL.

A very encouraging report was received from the Sunday School. It was as appended:

The average attendance has been 134; 91 in the school general, 18 teachers, 5 officers, 17 in the Junior Primary, and 23 in the Kindergarten. The number on the roll at present is 152 in the school, 23 teachers, 5 officers, 26 in the Junior Primary, and 44 in the Kindergarten Primary. The highest attendance was on Jan. 13th, when 126 were present; and the lowest 91 on Aug. 11th.

The decrease in the general and average attendance is due we believe to the fact that the school was held in the morning during the months of July and August, and it took some time even after this to regain the normal condition.

The standing of the school is fairly high. Several have taken very high marks, while on the whole, as has been stated, it is good.

During the year we have lost some active workers, Miss Forsythe, Mrs. Porter and Mr. Price, having by removal left vacant places. We are pleased to state that these places have been filled, and also that there has been really little trouble in obtaining teachers for supply when necessary.

The Bible Class. — The Bible Class conducted by the pastor meets every Sabbath afternoon, and has a membership of 60. In view of the complete study of the Book of Acts during the year 1902 a larger attendance is asked.

Collections for the year...	334 75

Upon motion the report was adopted.

W.F.M.S. REPORT.

The report of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society was submitted and was as follows:

The past year has been one of well-sustained interest in the work of our Auxiliary. The meetings have been bright and interesting. To those who have attended they have been the means of great blessing. The total number of members is 47, of these 22 are members of the General Society, and 4 are Life Members. Our meetings have been held regularly on the third Tuesday of each month, with an average attendance of 31, being an increase of 6 over last year. During the year 3 of our most active members removed from town, Miss Forsythe, Mrs. Porter and Mrs. Mix. The amount contributed this year was $105.44. Mrs. Potter and Miss Forsythe attended the annual meeting of the General Society held in Toronto, Mrs. Laing and Mrs. Potter represented our Society at the Presbyterial Convention in Cobourg. The number of Missionary Tidings subscribed for this year was 28. In September a box of clothing, quilts and other useful articles was sent to the Crowstand Reserve for the Indian men, women and children, valued at $28.50. At our annual Thanksgiving meeting we had the pleasure of hearing an address from Miss McIntosh of China. Mrs. Morrow also gave an excellent address on Mission Work in British Columbia. In December a concert was held in the Lecture Hall, the proceeds amounting to $18, going towards the expense fund of the Society.

Officers for 1902—
Pres.—Mrs. Stewart.
1st Vice-Pres.—Mrs. Potter.
2nd Vice-Pres.—Mrs. W. Fowler.
Sec.—Miss Bathgate.
Asst. Sec.—Miss Curry.
Executive — Miss Lundy, Mrs. Tully, Miss Rae, Miss Edmison, Mrs. Harper, Mrs. Richardson, Mrs. Curry.

The report was adopted.

The remainder of the reports are held over for to-morrow's issue.

OLD MEN'S TROUBLES.

Two Inmates of the Protestant Home Came to Blows the Other Day.

There are many amusing cases that come up in the police court from time to time which cause a ripple of laughter amongst the daily attendants as spectators, and that cause a smile to pass over the faces of the Crown officials as well. Even in the administering of justice, there is occasionally a tinge of humour. This is not intended to convey the impression that the local police court, or any other police court is a place of amusement the year round; such is not the case, and cold justice is dispensed in that manner so characteristic of Canadian courts of law—this morning however, was one of those occasions when mostly everybody "giggled" at the evidence of an accused, a complainant and the said complainant's witness.

George Widden, an old gentleman of about 82 years, and an inmate of the home, found himself figuring in the police court, charged with having assaulted Robert Redman, ten years his junior and also an inmate of the Protestant Home. Redman came down with his case fully prepared, and put great reliance apparently in his witness Ross, a gentleman whose age must be in the neighborhood of seventy years.

The magistrate read over the charge to Widden, which was that of assault. "Are you guilty or not guilty," said the magistrate. "I did it in self defence," was the rejoinder.

The magistrate at this juncture endeavoured to effect a reconciliation and asked Redman had they better not shake hands and make it up. "No sir, no sir," shouted Redman, as he pounded his big cane on the floor—"I was nearly killed, knocked on my face on the floor, by that gentleman," continued Redman. "By that old man?" asked the magistrate, and Redman excitedly shouted "Yes sir," at the same time looking viciously at his assailant. "I have two complaints against this man, 'yer' honour, one for abusive language, and the other for assault." The magistrate explained that he was only going to try the charge of assault, and then Redman proceeded to give his evidence. It was to the effect that Widden was a nuisance around the "establishment," as he termed it, that everybody hated him, and that he was the cause of all their domestic unhappiness. On this occasion he knocked Redman down, it is alleged, and caused his nose to bleed very badly. Both of the old gentlemen were engaged in toasting their bread at the stove at the time, Widden, however, swore that all that Redman said was false, but Redman brought his man Ross along, to prove that the complainant's evidence was according to facts. Ross endeavoured to make the court believe that Widden kicked Redman so violently in the lower extremities that it made his nose bleed. This was very hard to believe and caused the magistrate to not place much credence in his story — when Redman was aware that the case was about to be dismissed, he grew excited and declared he would leave the institution; he could not live in the same institution with the man who slaughtered him. The Magistrate gave them a calmly-delivered lecture showing them the trouble they were making for those who were caring for them, and he asked that they return to the Home and live quietly together.

Redman is still dissatisfied and says he is going to get out.

There was a considerable increase in the cost of maintenance on account of the largely increased number of patients. Again, the Government grant is smaller each year, which makes the amount to be made up by the Board much larger. Messrs. Richard Hall and C. THE ENGLISHMAN.

A Reincarnation of the Ancient Romans—Prosaic, Material, Money-Coining and Hostile to Change.

Before a representative turnout of the Canadian Club of Toronto the other night, Prof. Maurice Hutton, principal of University College, spoke on the Roman, Grecian, Englishman and Frenchman. He compared the old Romans as corresponding with the Englishman of to-day, and the Grecian as similar to the Frenchman of the present France.

The Roman he described as a prosaic, material, money-loving, practical man, who valued his possessions so much that he even inscribed the extent of his property on his tombstone, and did not care to take his money from circulation or set aside his land for his religion, his thrift and economy predominating even his spiritual tendencies. The names given to the Romans were prosaic. He was a tenacious man, tenacious of old ideas, and still of tongue. The Roman was very unintelligent, but had a profoundly wise instinct. He made much of forms. Men who make much of forms are in great danger of becoming hypocrites, and this charge, which was brought again the Roman, has been laid at the door of Britain to-day.

The Roman clung to commercial integrity rather than Greek smartness. The Roman kept his marriage vows, while the Greek scandalized both his vows and propriety, and in turn laughed at the Roman as the French to-day laugh at Britain and call her a hypocrite, not realizing her political sagacity beneath her readiness in protecting this particular branch of the law. The Greeks lived by intellect and the Romans lived by instinct. The clannishness and thriftiness of the Scotch are like the Romans, as is their grim appreciation of a joke.

The Roman believed in action, and not in thought or expression in words or style, and Rome's great men showed a contempt for mere literature. In England mere literature has very little value, and there the poet of the sensuous school is quickly forgotten. Strange how few care for the wonderful melody of Swinburne. Kipling is popular, but he owes nothing to his grace of style or manner; his poems are full of action to suit the British mind, and he has made his verses abound with life. As the ancient Roman was ashamed of literature as a calling, so Thackeray and Macaulay were ashamed of being styled literary men. As in the Roman, the English nature leads him to action, and to distrust thought as less sincere than action, and language as less sincere than thought, and eloquence and poetry the least sincere of all.

But, turning to France and Greece, it is found that while the Frenchman has not a more moral reverence, he has a greater reverence for intellect than the Englishman. The Greeks carved on the gravestones urbanity as one of the virtues of the deceased, but the Englishman does not see much in politeness of manner, so long as he thinks his heart is right. The same reason why the language of Greece became the language of polite society among the Romans, applies as to why the French language is the language of the European courts to-day.

It has been said that for a real gentleman get a Spaniard or a Frenchman, and that an Englishman might be made one, but the German never.

The Roman was tenacious, and had a savage determination not to be carried away with anything new, and this applies to the Englishman, who is hostile to change, and, finally, the victim of it. This was not at all characteristic of the Greek, nor is it of the French. The French stand for equality, as did the Greek. The Romans and English worshipped and worship rank and wealth. England might be said to be religious because she, like the Roman Empire, sacrifices thrift to religion, and takes her religion seriously. The French, like the Greeks, make a holiday of the observance of religious days, and one day are beside themselves with joy and the next day beside themselves with political fury.

Prof. Hutton jocularly reminded the Club that the United States was a bit like Rome, in that she bought great quantities of rarities and statues because it was fashionable. He then related the little incident told of an American who bought the statue of Venus in Paris, and then wanted to sue the railway company for the broken arm.

As Paris set the style for England, so in Rome the barbers were all Greeks.

The Greek and French for dash, the Roman and British for dogged persistence that does not know defeat. Speaking of the British, once a general said: "I have pierced them in the centre and on each side, and their generals have given me all the help possible. I have defeated them, but they will not leave the field."

France was the feminine element in Europe, whose passion is not pride, but vanity. The French have great capacity for being genial; the British have not; and that is the reason, Prof. Hutton thinks, why Britain is not better loved by the alien nations over which she rules.

The Frenchman is proud of the history of the race, and disseminates patriotic literature in the schools. The Englishman has no historic consciousness, and if he reads a British history, he reads a philosophic instead of a patriotic one.

Which Would you Choose to be a man with a bad, nasty irritating cough with 25c in your pocket, or the same man minus the cough, minus the quarter, and with only an empty Four T's bottle in the house. One 25c bottle of Four T's has often cured a whole family of coughs and colds, some recent and others real old chronic cases. Try a 25c bottle. Sold by Ormond & Wash.

A Curious Apache Belief.

The Apache Indians' religious belief prevents them from committing murder in the dark. If a dozen Apaches should discover a man sleeping by his campfire at night, no amount of money would hire them to attack him until the sun came up. They believe that if they kill a man at night their own souls will walk in eternal darkness forever. Knowing this curious superstition, hunters, scouts, trappers and others traveling through the Apache nation in the old days moved about during the night and lay by in some safe retreat during the day.

Fighting the Fires.

Hard life the plucky firemen lead; out in all sorts of weather, —losing sleep, catching cold and straining their backs.

Hard to have strong, well kidneys under such conditions. That's why firemen, policemen and others, who are exposed to the weather, are so often troubled with Weak, Lame Backs and with Urinary Troubles.

DOAN'S Kidney Pills

are helping hundreds of such to health.

Mr. John Robinson, chief of the fire department, Dresden, Ont., says:

"Prior to taking these pills I had kidney trouble which caused severe pain in the small of my back and in both sides. I had a tired feeling and never seemed to be able to get rested. However, I commenced the use of Doan's Kidney Pills, and after taking three boxes am completely cured. I have now no backache or urinary trouble, and the tired feeling is completely gone. In fact, I am well and strong."

HER CAR FARE.

She Had It With Her, and Yet She Could Not Pay It.

She really intended paying her fare when she boarded the street car, for she had 10 cents saved from the bargain day scrimmage, but the conductor happened to be a gentleman and by paying the fare himself saved her a weary walk to the family residence. She had the 10 cents with her when she boarded the car, and she still had the money when the conductor came through on his trip for fares, but she did not pay the conductor. It was all the motorman's fault. With her arms full of bundles, she was compelled to hold the ten cent piece between her teeth. The motorman turned on the current, the car gave a jerk, and she gave a start.

"Fare, please," said the conductor, and she turned pale.

"I can't pay you," she stammered, going from white to red and from red back to white.

"But I can't carry you for nothing," remonstrated the conductor.

"I know it, but I can't help it. I had the money when I got on the car, but—but I swallowed it."

A grouch on the other side of the car snorted a rude laugh, but the conductor was a gentleman, and without another word he pulled the register rope for another fare and passed on.

As a Cure For Piles

Dr. Chase's Ointment Never Disappoints—It Has Won World-wide Fame on Account of its Magical Control Over the Most Severe Cases of Itching, Bleeding and Protruding Piles.

Doctors may tell you that nothing short of a surgical operation will cure piles. In this they are mistaken, as we can prove in a host of cases where Dr. Chase's Ointment has been used. It is not infrequent that people tell us that Dr. Chase's Ointment has succeeded in effecting a cure after operations had failed. There is too much risk in a surgical operation, too much suffering and too much expense. If you take the advice of scores and hundreds of your friends and neighbours, you will avoid operations, and resort to the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment. It will relieve you almost at once. It will thoroughly cure you in a remarkably short time.

Mr. J. Wolfe, Arnprior, Ontario, states:—"I have used Dr. Chase's Ointment for piles, and can assure the public that there was never anything on the market to equal it. I was disappointed time and time again when trying remedies for the ailment, and you can scarcely imagine my gratitude when I found that Dr. Chase's Ointment was an effective and thorough cure for this ailment. From the first application this magical ointment gave me relief, and a few boxes perfectly cured me. Since being cured of piles I always keep Dr. Chase's Ointment in the house and find it useful in scores of ways as a treatment for every form of itching skin, chafing and skin irritations."

Dr. Chase's Ointment is indeed useful in scores of ways, as Mr. Wolfe says, and people who once make the acquaintance of Dr. Chase's Ointment are loath to be without it in the house. For pimples, blackheads, eczema, salt rheum, chapped hands and face, chilblains and each and every form of raw, itching or chafed skin, it is an incomparable treatment. It is especially recommended as a cure for piles, because it is, so far as we know, the only actual and guaranteed cure for every form of this wretched and loathsome disease. 60 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. 11

Washing Away the Earth.

A French geologist has made a careful calculation of the amount of solid matter yearly carried off into the ocean by the action of the rivers of the world and other causes. He estimates that the reduction of the average height of the surface of the solid land is .009 inches each year. Making allowance for the corresponding rise in the bed of the ocean and taking no account of the occurrence of volcanic and other exceptional phenomena, the general tendency of which is to hasten the process of disintegration, the period at which the solid land will have ceased to exist and the surface of the earth will be covered with water has been estimated. As, however, that period is 4,500,000 years distant, the prediction need cause no immediate disquietude.

Mad as a March Hare.

That's the way people get when they toss and roll in bed until three o'clock with sleeplessness. Merril's System Tonic cures this and all nervous diseases such as twitching of the nerves, nervous prostration and loss of vigour. The 50 cent bottle lasts for three weeks. Sold by Ormond & Walsh

An Open Giver.

Harold's father was in the habit of giving a dollar a Sunday to the church. This was put in a numbered envelope in the collection plate and the amount credited to him on the church books. Mr. T. was away for the summer and on his return inclosed his arrears in the envelope and intrusted it to Harold to put on the plate. When the little boy came home from church, he said proudly: "I put an awful lot of money on the plate this morning. More'n anybody else, I guess."

"You got the envelope there all right?" asked his father carelessly, for Harold had been almost afraid to carry so much money.

"Oh, yes," he said; "but I took the envelope off when I got there and just put the money on the plate in my hand. Nobody'd have known how much I gave if I'd left it in the envelope."

An Opal Worth a Million.

The most famous opal in history was that which was worn in a ring by the Roman senator Nonius in the day of the triumvirate. Its size equaled that of a medium sized hazelnut, yet its beauty and brilliancy rendered it a marvel among the dilettanti of Rome, especially when it was known that the goldsmiths and money changers had set its value at $1,000,000.

Mark Antony made overtures to Nonius for its purchase, intending, it is thought, to present it to Cleopatra, but the senator refused to part with it and for fear that it would be taken from him by sheer force sought safety in flight. Here history loses all trace of this famous gem, there being no record of its transference from Nonius to any of his family.

Pain in the Back

Makes life miserable. Can it be cured? Yes, in one night. Polson's Nerviline gives a complete knock out to pain in the back, for it penetrates through the tissues, takes out the soreness and pain, invigorates the tired muscles and makes you feel like a new man. Nerviline cures quickly, because it is stronger, more penetrating, more highly pain-subduing than any other remedy. Don't suffer another minute; get Nerviline quick and rub it in and as sure as you live it will cure you. 25c.

How Leap Year Started.

Hampson, in his "Medii ŒVI. Kalandarium," quotes the following quaint tradition from an old Saxon treatise: "Some assert that the bissextus or leap day comes through this, that Joshua prayed to God that the sun might stand still for one day's length, that he might sweep the heathen from the land that God had granted him and his followers. It is true that the sun did stand still for one day's length over the city of Gebaon, but the day went forward in the same manner as other days. And the bissextus is not through that, as some do think."

In France and some parts of Spain and Portugal there exists a tradition known as "the ghost of leap year." Believers in this say that a marvelous monster annually appears on leap day and disarranges human affairs for the remainder of the year.

Hawks' Eggs.

A peculiar fact in collecting birds' eggs is the wide difference in values of eggs of the same family of birds. For instance, there is the great family of hawks. Some hawks' eggs are worth only a few cents each, and other hawks' eggs find a ready sale at $3, $5 and $7 each. It makes a hundred dollar bill look dilapidated to buy a complete set of even western hawks' eggs, while a full set of all known hawks' eggs cost upward of $600. The eggs of a marsh hawk, a red back hawk and a copper hawk may be bought for 20 cents each, and the broad winged hawk's eggs will bring $4 each the world over. The eggs of Swainson's hawk and the buff breasted hawk are worth $1.50 each.

The Towers of Silence.

In Persia stand two towers called by the Parsee the Towers of Silence. According to the religion, they never bury their dead, but have the body exposed on the top of one of these towers until the sun and the rain and the fowls of the air have cleaned the bones of all flesh. The bones are then collected and placed in the other tower. These Parsees, who are followers of Zoroaster and very devout, have almost disappeared as a people, there being only about 8,000 of them at the present time.

Results of Catarrh.

Catarrh of the ears and catarrh of the Eustachian tubes often cause deafness. Catarrh of the stomach loads the stomach with tough phlegm and interferes with digestion. Catarrh of the gall bladder obstructs the outflow of the bile, which is absorbed into the circulation and thus gives rise to jaundice. Catarrh of the bladder is a dangerous disease, from the difficulty of getting rid of the mucus.

The World Needs Nerve.

Needs it in business, in study, in the household. Irritability, weakness, lack of strength — the blue feeling — why they just tell you that you lack nerve. You'll use Ferrozone? My! What an appetite you'll get. How quickly the colour will return to your cheeks, how buoyant you'll feel! Work! of course you'll work, for you will enjoy it. That is, if you will use Ferrozone. It gives nerve, strength, muscular endurance, and invigorates the brain splendidly. Sold by Ormond & Walsh.

Confederate Bills.

The passage of a Confederate bill as money is not a violation of the statute of the United States which makes it an offense for any person, except under authority of a proper officer, to have in his possession any obligation or other security engraved and printed after the similitude of any obligation or other security issued under the authority of the United States, with intent to sell or otherwise use the same, but to constitute a violation of such provision the instrument used must in its inception have been intended to simulate some obligation or security of the United States. The general likeness which one form of paper money bears to another is not sufficient.—111 Fed. Rep. (N. D., Judge Amidon), 369.

Well Preserved.

The man who essays to give a lecture or talk in the "slums" must have his wits well in hand. He may encounter apathy, but he is sure also to find an embarrassing readiness of tongue.

An earnest young man from a college settlement was addressing a company of fathers and mothers on the subject of "Christmas In the Home," telling them of ways in which the day might be made bright although money was scarce. He had visited many houses in many cities and was well informed.

"I'm not talking about what other people have told me," he said genially. "It's what I know from my personal experience. I have seen over a hundred Christmas celebrations and"—

"Man, dear," came in a rich Irish American voice from the rear of the room, "it's wonderfully preserved ye are for a man that old!"

WINTER WISHES.

I wish I had a horse and sleigh,
The sleighing is so fine to-day.

I wish I had a little girl, to ride,
With me, close snuggled by my side.

I wish, as the night air grew chill,
That she might snuggle closer still.

I wish, that when the full moon rose,
I might have courage to propose.

I wish that a soft whispered "Yes"
Might then complete my happiness.

That's what I wish, but as you see,
Just wishing brings no luck to me.

So, sitting here, my thumbs I twirl—
I have no horse—no sleigh—no girl!

OLD TIMES AT CALGARY.

Pioneers of the Far West Gathered About the Festive Board.

The Old Timers' dinner, which took place at Calgary recently, was the first annual banquet of the society. Only those who came to the west in '83 or previous to that date were eligible to attend the spread. It was a most interesting and historical gathering of the pioneers who had braved the hardships and dangers of the early days. Around the table sat men who came in over the old trail from Fort Benton, when long bull trains with creaking wagons drew in supplies from the south for Fort MacLeod. Many former members of the N.W.M.P. were there, and old comrades recalled the days when they rode side by side or stood together behind the stockade and bastions of Fort Walsh, when the Indians threatened attack.

Some of the speeches were very amusing. One old timer — the oldest there, so he claimed — wanted to rule the speaking. He repeatedly insisted that he had been in the country eight or ten years before some other gentlemen speaking, and wanted everyone to realize the fact that he first struck the country twenty-six years ago.

One of the old-timers described his first entrance to Calgary, in 1880. He came to the opposite bank of the Bow River, which at that time of the year was very high and swift, plunging his horse into the cold, deep water he eventually reached the other side, hanging to his horse's tail while the animal swam across. Here he was met by two policemen, and warmly welcomed at the N. W. M. P. barracks.

Calgary, at that time consisting of a few log shacks, was an isolated post many weeks journey from the then far away east. Now it is a flourishing city of five thousand people. Similar changes have occurred in other places, and what were once great, lonely stretches of prairie where a man could ride for days without seeing a soul, are now dotted with the ranches of prosperous settlers.

It was suggested that no time should be lost in making an effort to gather and record the early annals of the west, for the old-timers who participated in historic events were one by one passing away, and with them much interesting history.

Many a hearty laugh went up as yarns were swapped; each man telling his story, and, of course, perfectly authentic. Only occasionally was the speaker interrupted — that was when he said something too hard for even a westerner to swallow. At a later hour, with much good feeling, the gathering broke up, after many pleasant reminiscences of the days long gone by.

A Great Canadian Advertisement.

One of the greatest advertisements the Canadian Northwest ever got is contained in a paragraph from The Indian Head Vidette, which is now going the rounds of the press. It is as follows:

"Last year Mr. Glenn bought a quarter section of land, or 100 acres, for $200 (scrip). This year the entire section was under crop. He allows expenses in connection with the crop, as follows: Breaking, at $5 per acre, $800; seed grain, $144; labor of seeding, $50; binder twine, $84; harvesting, $360; delivery to elevator, $210; incidentals, $160, a total of $1,968, including the cost of the farm. The yield was 7,447 bushels of wheat, which sold at 55 cents, realizing $4,095.85. After all expenses and the farm were paid for Mr. Glenn thus had a clear profit of $2,097.82. The yield averaged forty-seven bushels of wheat to the acre."

The year that is just closing has been an exceptional one, of course, and there is no guarantee that next year will prove as favorable, but the fact that thousands of farmers on the plains have made fortunes while nearly all have extricated themselves from debt at one strike will give a great boom to that country. If Mr. Glenn paid for his farm and cleared more than two thousand dollars in his first year, others are warranted in expecting a fair return for their work farming in the West.

This Is Comforting.

The other day a Toronto man, in talking to one of the leading doctors of the city, remarked that there was nothing he so much dreaded as diphtheria.

"Well, you are wrong," said the doctor. "I consider diphtheria one of the conquered diseases, provided, of course, that a doctor is called in soon enough. Unless the disease gets too much headway, I believe there is no case of it that will not yield to anti-toxine. I would sooner treat a case of diphtheria than one of scarlet fever or la grippe, because there is now less danger of a fatal result, and far less danger of leaving behind it bad effects of any kind on the patient."

As the old terror of this disease still exists, this view will carry comfort to many people.

May Throw in Office.

An objection has been raised to Senator Snowball's appointment as Governor of New Brunswick. The State functions might prove a frost. —Watford Guide-Advocate.

"Is your mamma cross? Mine is awful cross! Does your mamma say 'Hush!' when you laugh or make a little bit of a noise? My mamma does. She has nerves, papa says."

The mother who overheard this account of herself would feel heart-broken to think of the shadow cast by her misery on those she loved. Yet her condition is real. Her nerves are strained to the point of torture. Lack of appetite and loss of sleep increase her weakness.

Such a condition may, in general be traced to disease of the delicate womanly organism, a cure for which is found in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It establishes regularity, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It tranquilizes the nerves, encourages the appetite and induces refreshing sleep.

"I had been a constant sufferer from uterine disease for five years," writes Mrs. J. A. Steorts, of Yankee Dam, Clay Co., West Virginia, "and for six months previous to taking your medicine I was not out of my room. Could not walk or stand as there was such pain and drawing in left side and bearing-down weight in region of uterus, accompanied with soreness. I suffered constantly with headache, pain in back, shoulders, arms and chest; and could not sleep nor lie down. When I had taken three bottles of the medicine the periods were regulated. I was not so nervous, could sleep well, and the pain in side and bearing down had vanished. My health is better at this time than it has been in five years."

FOR STREET WEAR.

Suits Are Becoming More and More Like Dresses.

Tailor mades are jauntier than ever. Many of them closely resemble dresses. The sleeves are puffed, and there is a deal of application about the blouses and skirts. A costume shown in a fashionable tailor's establishment had its skirt accordion plaited into a stitched yoke of plain cloth. This yoke effect was continued a little way up on the blouse waist, which was also in accordion tucks stitched down to give the snug tight fitting look so necessary to a smart coat. Then there was a yoke and a smart little standing up collar, also of the broadcloth. There seems to be a marked tendency toward trimming suits of black broadcloth with stitched bands of cloth in pastel tints, and also many embroidered and Persian vests are used with soft fronts of lace and chiffon.

Most of the collars are flat, or else they stand up military fashion. This is to allow the wearing of the new fur boas, which are in flat stole shapes this year. For those who wish to wear a long coat and who cannot stand the Louis Quinze or redingote effects there is a loose three-quarter length which gives very becoming lines.

Broadcloth and velvet are the proper materials for dressy occasions, but cheviot and sibeline are most stylish for all other occasions.

A very smart tailor made is here shown. Black cheviot was used for the original model, and this was trimmed with strappings of black paung. The coat has a high standing up collar and a short inner vest effect showing the waist beneath. The strappings are disposed so as to give the best possible lines to the figure. The sleeves have bell shaped upper and tight fitting under sleeves, which extend well over the hand. The skirt is plain, with the exception of a series of perpendicular straps, one of which outlines the bottom of the skirt in the back.

SPLENDID BLUNDERS.

Some Errors That Have Been Perpetrated by the Types.

Errors of the press often begin with errors of reporters who have misunderstood spoken words. The rule of follow copy compels the compositor to repeat the exact words written by the reporter, and the following blunders are the result of obedience to this rule. A speaker made this statement:

"In these days clergymen are expected to have the wisdom and learning of Jeremy Taylor." But the reporter wrote and the compositor repeated "the wisdom and learning of a journeyman tailor."

Another speaker quoted these lines:

Oh, come, thou goddess fair and free,
In heaven yclept Euphrosyne.

They were printed as written:

Oh, come, thou goddess fair and free,
In heaven she crept and froze her knee.

Another orator quoted this line from Tennyson's "Locksley Hall:"

Better fifty years of Europe than a cycle of Cathay.

But the quotation was written and printed:

Better fifty years of Europe than a circus in Bombay.

One of the worst perversions of a hackneyed quotation, incorrectly given by the speaker, is this, which seems to be the joint work of the zealous reporter and the equally reckless printer:

Amicus Plato, amicus Socrates, sed major veritas.
I may cuss Plato, I may cuss Socrates, said Major Veritas.

—"The Practice of Typography," T. L. De Vinne.

ON CRUTCHES.

Even if you are obliged to use crutches Dr. Hall's Rhoumatic Cure can fix you up. This was the experience of John J. Peters, Sharbot Lake, Ont. He suffered with rheumatism in his legs (sciatica) for a year and had to creep about on crutches all the time. Fortunately he tried Dr. Hall's remedy and it only took three bottles to cure him completely. This great blood purifier is put up in bottles containing ten days treatment. Price 50 cents at all drug stores or The Dr. Hall Medicine Co., Kingston, Ont.

Meanness Saved Him.

A prominent clergyman used to tell of one of his parishioners who had been very sick. A physician had given him some medicine and told him he could go out, but under no circumstances was he to get wet. The man went out on the farm, and a shower of rain came up suddenly. There was no shelter near, and to save himself he crawled into a hollow log. The action of the rain caused the log to shrink so as to endanger his life.

He could not move, and, being brought face to face with death, the whole of his past life came before him as in a panorama. He remembered the days of his childhood, his entrance upon life, his successes and his sins; then he remembered, last of all, that when he left home that morning he refused his wife, when she asked him, for 50 cents for the church, and the thought made him feel so small that he had no difficulty in getting out of the log.

Medical Science Advances.

It is not more than half a century ago that physicians considered a surgical operation with its risk, expense and pain as the only cure for piles. To-day it is only the out of date doctors that think of such treatment. It is cruel and extravagant to operate for a disease which is far more certainly cured by the application of Dr. Chase's Ointment. You may be skeptical, but for proof you are referred to tens of thousands of cases that have been cured by this famous preparation.

Introspection.

"Perhaps you wrong me," said Senator Sorghum mildly, "when you call me a practical politician."

"But you take a very businesslike view of affairs."

"Exactly. I have certain political ideals, but I don't devote too much time to them. I am a theoretical politician and a practical business man."

Reckless Railroading.

"There is a heavy draft engine to this train," said the young man who wanted all to know that he understood railroad terms

"A heavy draft engine?" echoed the old lady by his side. "Why, the idea of running such things this weather! We shall all take cold."

There are lots of men who should never leave a town of the size where it attracts attention when a man paints his barn.

Emigration to Canada.

It is probable that the official reports of immigration and emigration which are published by the Governments of Canada and the United States will show in the next few years that the tide of settlement that was sweeping from Canada towards the United States has come to an end, says The Boston, Mass., Herald, and that the current is now setting in the other direction. In an address recently delivered at Montreal one of the Canadian Ministers spoke in an exceedingly enthusiastic tone of character of the settlers who were gradually filling up the agricultural regions of the Canadian Northwest, and reports from our own Northwestern States are to the effect that large numbers of Americans are going across the border and are purchasing and settling on farms in the Provinces of Alberta, Saskatchewan, and even as far north as the Province of Athabasca. These Provinces, it is said, are fast becoming Americanized by a wonderfully intelligent and progressive class of men, who are throwing over their allegiance to the United States and are becoming subjects of King Edward. The country covered by these great Canadian Provinces is said to be far better, so far as the possibilities of farming and stock raising are concerned, than any territory, especially any unoccupied territory, on this continent. The conditions under which the land can be obtained are remarkably satisfactory, while the opportunities of peaceful development make its possession wonderfully attractive. It may be said that such an ingoing of Americans into Canada will tend in time to influence the policy of the Dominion in our direction; but we do not believe that such a result commonly follows emigration. The Canadians that have come to the United States are quite as tenacious in their Americanism as the descendants of those who for generations have lived on this side of the border. A number of prominent men in Canada were born in the United States, but they also are quite as tenaciously Canadian in their ideas as are any of those of native birth. Canada is destined to obtain by this inflow of Americans a large number of citizens who will give strength and vitality to the Dominion, which will serve to render it in the future even more independent of us than it has been in the past.

PINCHED AND PUNY

South American Nervine is the Antidote for the ills which are induced by humanity's "mad rush" for an existence. The "eat and run" way of living is accountable for more of the pinched and puny faces than any other cause under the sun.

Dyspepsia, indigestion, constipation, sick-headache are the prime causes for broken-up nerves. Nature foretold the strain that we would be compelled to live under and has revealed to medical science the favorite formula—South American Nervine—and its daily joy is to put back the bloom of perfect health in the faces of millions who do honest toil. s6

SPORTING PASTIMES.

HOCKEY.

It seems that the sub-committee of the O.H.A. has changed its mind about throwing out all the games played by Lindsay as was at first decided. Dennistoun, the player who was supposed to be imported into Lindsay for the purpose of playing hockey was under suspicion, but was given permission to play, while his case was being investigated. The result of the investigation was that Dennistoun's head fell into the basket. Naturally it was to be inferred that all of the games in which he played would be thrown out. It has been decided, however, that Port Hope is to be credited with two wins and Peterborough with a loss and a win in regard to Lindsay. If Peterborough wins to-night the team will be a tie with Port Hope and, therefore, to win the district, Peterborough will have to outscore the Port Hopers on their own ice as well as here.

The Peterborough's to-night will line up as follows: Goal, E. Wasson; point, R. M. Glover; cover point, Harold Armstrong; left wing, Fred Whiteroft; right wing, Chris Graham; centre, Harry Morgan; rover Roy Armstrong.

LOCAL LEGAL.

The summary of judgment previously furnished to us in the following case having proved unsatisfactory to some parties interested, we append the judgment as delivered in full:

Fitzgerald vs. Fitzgerald, — Copy of judgment of Falconbridge, C. J., delivered 7th January, 1902. Trial at Peterborough. I find as a fact that the deceased James W. Fitzgerald, before the marriage to the Plaintiff represented to the Plaintiff as an inducement to the marriage that he was the owner of the lands in question here and of other property, and that he also promised that, if she would marry him, he would give her everything that he owned, stating that he could not make it over on the American side (where the marriage took place, on the 31st of July, 1884,) but would do so when he returned to Peterborough. This promise he never carried out, but on or about the 29th June, 1897, he made a conveyance of the said lands to the Defendant for a nominal consideration of $11,000, subject to two mortgages to one Lefevre (which two mortgages had been created by deceased and his first wife during her lifetime, deceased reserving to himself a life estate without impeachment of waste. On the same day the Defendant mortgaged back to the deceased the said lands for securing $7,000 without interest — $500 a year to be paid for ten years, and $2,000 on the 30th June, 1913. These deeds were registered on the 12th July, 1897. James W. Fitzgerald, the elder, departed this life about the 11th of May, 1901, having a few hours before his death made his will, whereby he devised and bequeathed all his estate to the defendant. No provision whatever was made for the plaintiff or her son, a boy of sixteen, the issue of her marriage with the deceased. It entirely passes the bounds of my credulity that nothing was said by or between the defendant and his father about the plaintiff or her possible claim for dower, or that the defendant had no knowledge of a desire on his father's part to deprive the plaintiff of dower. The defendant may have forgotten these things, or they may not have been formulated in precise language. It was, no doubt, perfectly well understood that the necessary effect of the transaction was to cut her out, and the intent to so cut her out is the only proper inference. Many of the recognized landmarks of fraud are visible along the path travelled by the defendant and his father before, at, and after the making of the deed. Giving the plaintiff, quantum valebat, the benefit of these findings, it does not appear that a case can be found in our books where such an action as the present has been maintained, and this in spite of the fact that circumstances must frequently have arisen which would invite a decision of the question; per Lord Esher, M. R. in Finlay vs. Chirney (1888.) 20 Q.B.D., at p. 493. Re Leckhardt (1897) 29 O.R., 111, while not exactly in point, would seem to be an authority unfavourable to the plaintiff's status. Here, the mortgage having been created before the death of the first wife, the legal estate never was in the husband during the coverture of the plaintiff. The action must be dismissed without costs.

JOHN KYLIE, (late of Ashburnham)

Emmet's Presence of Mind.

A story is told of Robert Emmet which proves his secretive power and resolution. He was fond of studying chemistry, and one night late, after the family had gone to bed, he swallowed a large quantity of corrosive sublimate in mistake for some acid cooling powder. He immediately discovered his mistake and knew that death must shortly ensue unless he instantly swallowed the only antidote, chalk.

Timid men would have torn at the bell, roused all the family and sent for a stomach pump. Emmet called no one, made no noise, but, stealing down stairs and unlocking the front door, went into the stable, scraped some chalk which he knew to be there and took sufficient doses of it to neutralise the poison.

Her Lovely Lettuce Dish.

"I want," she said hesitatingly as she poised her basket in front of her pretty chin with a thoughtful air, "to get some lettuce."

"Yes'm," said the marketman. "Here's some; very nice it is too."

"Is it all that color?"

"Why—er—yes'm. All lettuce is green, you know."

"Oh, of course! But it's too bad. I got a lovely blue dish to put lettuce in, but I'm sure green would look horrible in it. I never thought about there not being any shades, you know."

And as she turned away the marketman was almost sure he saw a tear of disappointment in her eye.

The Little Girl Paid.

I heard an interesting anecdote of Jacob Grimm the other day. One of his prettiest tales ends with the words "whoever refuses to believe this story owes me a thaler."

One winter morning a little Jewish girl rang the doorbell and asked the servant if Herr Professor Jacob Grimm was at home. When informed that he was not, she said politely:

"Will you please hand him this thaler when he returns?"

The servant took the coin, glanced at it curiously and inquired who sent it and what it was for.

"I owe him the money myself," said the little girl.

"Why? What for?"

"Because I don't believe the story about the wolf."—Berlin Letter in Chicago Record-Herald.

A Translator's Story.

An interesting little story attaches to the volume of Swedish fairy tales which Mr. H. L. Braekstad has translated. Years ago a Swedish friend gave Mr. Braekstad a book, saying, "Here is something you will like." He turned over the pages with the remark, "It isn't Swedish, is it, for I know Swedish?" "Not Swedish," was the reply, "but Swedish dialect." "Ah," said Mr. Braekstad, "can I manage to read it?" He tried several times, not very successfully. But one day he began to read the dialect aloud, and then he understood it at once. It resembled the dialect of a part of his own country, Denmark, and had been taken down phonetically.—London Chronicle.

A Queer Provision In a Will.

The following will, though not especially curious in itself, throws a curious light on the streets of London in the seventeenth century. John Cooke, among other bequests, left £1 "for the maintenance of a lantern and candle, to be eight in the pound at least, to be kept and hanged out at the corner of St. Michael's lane, next Thames street, from Michaelmas day to Lady day, between the hours of 9 and 10 o'clock at night until the hours of 4 or 5 in the morning, for affording light to passengers going through Thames street or St. Michael's lane."—All the Year Round.

Must Look Out For Herself.

"No," Mr. Goldrock said gently, "I have not the slightest objection to your asking my daughter in marriage."

"Thank you, sir," said the young man with a title, but no cash.

"You go right ahead and ask her," Goldrock said meditatively. "I have given the girl a fine education and have taught her to read the newspapers. If she does not know enough to say 'No,' she doesn't deserve any better luck."

NO LAW REFORM THIS SESSION

A Proposed Test of Canadian Flax For Rope-Making Purposes—Ontario's Cash Deposits in the Banks—Municipal Cold Storage—Rights of the Province With Reference to Natural Gas Export.

Toronto, Jan. 24.—To-day in the Legislative Assembly, bills were introduced by Mr. Hill to amend the Public Schools Act and by Mr. Carscallen to amend the Municipal Act.

Hon. J. R. Stratton, in reply to Mr. Breithaupt stated that the question of utilizing Canadian grown flax in the manufacture of binder twine and rope instead of procuring the raw material from Manila, New Zealand and elsewhere, had been for some time under the consideration of the Government with the view of taking such action as might appear to be practicable.

Hon. J. M. Gibson, in reply to Mr. Whitney, stated that no general measure of law reform would be introduced this session.

Hon. G. W. Ross, replying to Mr. Wardell, stated that the sum of $2,180,845 was on deposit in the banks to the credit of the province in January 15th, 1902.

Mr. Whitney asked whether Alex. Merner, who was appointed returning officer for the North Waterloo election, held on the 16th and 23rd days of May, 1899, was appointed by order-in-council and if not by whose authority his name was inserted in the writ of election?

Hon. J. M. Gibson replied that Alexander Merner was not appointed returning officer on that occasion, the appointee being John McDougall. The statute did not require an order-in-council for the appointment of a returning officer.

Mr. McLaughlin inquired whether any municipality had been paid any amount under the act respecting provincial aid towards the establishment of cold storage buildings, and what amount had been paid by the province under the act of 1900 to provide for the incorporation of cold storage associations?

Hon. John Dryden stated that no municipal grants for cold storage purposes had been applied for. The sum of $500 had been paid to the St. Catharines Cold Storage Association and two other associations had applied to have their buildings inspected with a view to making application for grants.

Mr. McLaughlin moved for a return showing the number of cold storage associations incorporated and the amount paid by the province to each association formed under the act of 1900. The order was granted.

On motion of Mr. Barr an order was granted for a return giving the name of the license commissioner in each license district in the province, the amount of expenses in each district for 1901, and the name, salary and allowance for expenses of each license inspector.

Mr. Jessop moved for a return showing the area of timber sold since 1871 and the amount received, also the sales during the last five years and the prices received.

Hon. E. J. Davis explained that there were already returns giving this information up to and including 1892. The Government would bring down the required information as soon as it could be prepared.

Mr. Whitney moved for a return of correspondence between the Attorney-General and any other person, relating to the export of gas under any lease, also copies of instructions to and report of Mr. Stiff on the subject, and a copy of the injunction served on the sheriff of Essex, forbidding him to interfere with the pipes of any gas company.

Hon. J. M. Gibson explained the present situation of the question, pointing out that none of the leases issued by the Government professed to give the right to export gas. That had been granted by the late Dominion Government. The injunction granted on the suit of the Interior Construction and Improvement Co., forbidding the sheriff of Essex County to interfere with the pipes through which the gas was exported had been dissolved, and as the lease to that company had been cancelled the sheriff had ordered the removal of the pipes. An agreement had been arrived at, however, by which the export of gas was stopped until the case now before the courts was decided.

"LET US ALONE."

Protest Against Prohibition by the Liquor Men—Record-Breaking Deputation —The Premier's Reply.

Toronto, Jan. 25.—A thousand or more liquor dealers, hotelkeepers, brewers, distillers and others, from all over the province, interested in allied industries, stood for more than an hour, wedged in the main corridor of the Parliament Buildings yesterday afternoon, like sardines in a box, while their representatives protested to Premier Ross and his colleagues against the passage of a prohibitory liquor law. It was the largest deputation that ever waited on the Government.

The delegation assembled at the corner of King and Church streets, and twelve special cars conveyed them to the Queen's avenue, where they alighted and walked to the buildings in a body, making an imposing appearance as they marched along in perfect order. There was no room large enough to accommodate them on their arrival, so Premier Ross and the Cabinet took up a position on the main stairway, while the delegates sought places of vantage from which to hear.

The deputation was introduced by Mr. George O'Keefe.

Mr. George Sleeman of Guelph, president of the Brewers' Association, appeared as the representative of that body. They were there, he said, simply to ask the Government to protect their rights. They paid a license to the province and in all justice should receive protection. The Scott Act and Duncan Act, he went on, had been tried and had proved utterly worthless, and the effect of them, wherever they had been enforced, was harmful. It was an injustice, Mr. Sleeman said, that because a man took a glass of liquor that he should be punished, and further, he was sure the people were not in sympathy with a prohibitory law. He held that it would be impossible to enforce prohibition.

Mr. Frank Collins, president of the Licensed Victuallers' Association of Ontario, said they appeared not in a fighting spirit or to ask a favor, but they were there to ask for their rights, and they had the support of the people behind them. That they had the support of the people, he added, was evident, for if they had not they would not be able to continue in business. All that was asked was that the Government would not interfere in this matter. He informed the Government that the deputation present was only a small one, and if a big turnout had been desired, the Parliament Buildings wouldn't have held them all. (Laughter.) "We don't want to be forced out of business," Mr. Callins continued, "by a class of people that never did any business with us. (Laughter.) We want British fair play, and we are satisfied to leave the matter in the Government's hands." No law should be passed, he concluded, until it had first passed the House. If a bill were submitted to the people for their opinion it should receive at least a two-thirds vote, and if it should by any chance carry they should be compensated for their loss.

Mr. A. S. Smith of St. Thomas, on behalf of the shop keepers, said they were opposed to any change whatever in the license law. They had just as much right to ask the Government to pass legislation directly in their favor as the temperance people had asked to have legislation passed directly in theirs. There was no place on the continent where the liquor law was better enforced than in Ontario, and the people were as sober and law-abiding as any in the Dominion. It seemed to the speaker that a section of the Methodist Church was trying to ruin them and that they did not honestly believe that prohibition was a good thing for the province, and they would be the first to turn against the Government if the law was not enforced. As to recompense, he thought that that should be considered by a commission.

Mr. Turner of Hamilton added his protest against a prohibitory law, and Mr. P. Freyseng, representing the cork manufacturers, said that that industry would be ruined if prohibition were passed. Over a half a million of dollars was invested in it in Ontario, and that would be wiped out, hundreds would be turned out of employment, and thousands of dollars in wages lost to Ontario if any such legislation as that proposed was ever passed. Should such a thing ever happen compensation should be made for their loss.

Mr. John Forester of London, who is in the co-operage business, said that if prohibition carried that industry would be driven out of existence and many would be thrown out of work.

Mr. James Haverson, solicitor for the liquor men, pointed out that $15,500,000 was the amount of capital invested by distillers, brewers and malsters; $88,000,000 the amount invested in real estate by the retailers and $21,000,000 the amount in stock and fixtures. The distillers and brewers paid to the farmers $2,382,000 a year, to transportation companies $450,000, for wages $1,200,000, and for other purposes $1,012,000. The retailers paid $10,500,000 in wages, making a total outlay of $15,500,000 a year. The revenue to the Dominion was over $10,000,000, and Ontario last year got $629,000, $250,000 of which went to municipalities.

Mr. Haverson pointed out that all the distilleries and nearly all the breweries in Canada were in Ontario, and the retail trade was more than one-half of the whole trade of the Dominion.

As to the ministers who were fighting for prohibition Mr. Haverson said that they did not know the world, and their advice other than on spiritual affairs was not worth much, and the Government should not be influenced by what they said.

The Manitoba Act, Mr. Haverson said, was not strictly a prohibitory measure, and liquor might be sold there for mechanical and scientific purposes, and if prohibition were passed in Ontario nearly everybody would be a scientist or a mechanic. (Laughter.)

In concluding, Mr. Haverson said that serious results would follow the introduction of prohibition, such as the loss of the tourist traffic, and gave instances to show that it had utterly failed wherever it had been tried. If a referendum were decided on, and Mr. Haverson dwelt upon this point particularly, the measure should be introduced by the Government and debated and passed upon on its merit by the Legislature, who should accept the responsibility for the act before submitting it to the people, then there should be a large majority of the votes cast, before it becomes law. Rev. Dr. Potts, Dr. Cavan, Principal Sheraton and Chancellor Wallace were mentioned by the speaker as saying that a large majority of the people must vote for the measure before it can be passed.

The Premier's Reply.

Premier Ross in reply said, speaking from his seat at the table: "Mr. O'Keefe and gentlemen,—It is just the time for the opening of the session, therefore, I cannot be expected to speak to you at any length. We have listened to your arguments with a great deal of interest, and you have put your case concisely and with commendable moderation. All I can say for myself and my colleagues, who are all present, is that we will give your representations due and careful consideration, and any action that will be taken by the Government in regard to this matter will be made known at an early date and in the Legislature, where measures of great importance are submitted for the consideration of the people's representatives. That is all I have to say to you to-day."

Niagara Falls, Ont., Jan. 25. — Robert Wilson, a young man of this town, attempted to climb over the couplers of a moving train. He slipped and fell under the wheels, five cars passing over his left leg, crushing it badly. He was taken to the company's hospital, where Dr. McGarry amputated the limb above the knee.

PETERBOROUGH LABOUR UNION

Continued Progress—Satisfactory Report of Auditors—Address by Provincial Inspector of Factories.

The members of Peterborough Federal Union, No. 9,246, turned out in large numbers to the regular meeting on Friday evening in the Sons of England Hall. The seating capacity of the hall was completely filled.

The president, Mr. Wm. Henry, opened the meeting at 8 o'clock, and the routine business was dispatched with unusual promptness.

The report of the auditors was read giving a full and complete statement of the finances for the first six months of the Union's existence. It showed very gratifying results for so young an organization. The balance in the treasurer's hands amounted to nearly $200.

Mr. Jas. T. Burke, the Provincial Inspector of Factories and Shops, was present and invited to address the meeting.

He stated in opening that he was always pleased to have an opportunity of meeting the wage earners, who, he claimed were really the producers of the wealth of the country. He believed that labour organizations were absolutely necessary, and that they had come to stay. (Applause.) The labour problem was to-day engaging the attention of the most advanced thinkers. It was an acknowledged fact that Labour's greatest strength and protection could only be secured through the various Parliaments. Having been associated for nearly twenty years with the Board of Locomotive Firemen, as an active member, his experience had been that the best possible way to ensure assistance was by preparing a statement of the complaints to be made and submitting it to Parliament, when practicable remedies were obtained through legislation. During a long experience in attending the Federal and Provincial Parliaments as the legislative representative of the five allied train service organizations he had met with great success in urging the following legislation: Amendments to Railway Act, Act to Aid in the Prevention of Trade Disputes, Establishment of the Labour Gazette, Act to Amend Alien Labour Act, Resolution re the Farming-Out or Sub-Letting of Government Contracts; Bill introduced in the Commons but rejected in the Senate on account of its amending the operation of the Criminal Code, which in case of conflict would work a hardship to the workers, eight-hour-per-day law introduced but did not pass because the views of the workers did not appear to favour the proposed measure. In connection with the Ontario Government the following Legislation had been encouraged by him:—The Factories Act, the Shops Regulation Act, the Bake Shops Act, the Barber Shop Act, the Establishment of the Ontario Bureau of Labour Statistics, the Railway Act to protect Railway Employees and the Travelling Public, with compensation for injuries; the Workman's Compensation Act, Mr. Lee's Bill to Enable Railway Employees and others who have in the past been debarred from voting on account of absence to be permitted to record their votes 48 hours before Election Day, with some duly authorized persons; Mr. Preston's Conciliation Act, which will give Mayors or heads of municipal bodies the right to apply for its operation when trouble is on.

The speaker concluded by advising the formation at an early date of a Trades and Labour Council with the following committees: Trustees, Auditors, Label, Legislature, Municipal, Educational, Business and Invitation.

A standing vote of thanks was given Mr. Burke for his very instructive address.

BANQUET IN LAKEFIELD.

To be Tendered to the President and Directors of the Cement Co.

The citizens of Lakefield, on Friday evening next, are tendering a complimentary banquet to the president, Mr. J. M. Kilborne, and the directors of the Lakefield Cement Co., on the occasion of the opening of their works, and the actual ratification of the agreement between the Village and the Company.

A number of Peterborough citizens, representatives of the Dominion and Ontario Governments and other prominent men have been invited to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. Kilborne sail on February 5th for the Old Country on a three month's trip to the Holy Land.

POLICE COURT.

Volunteers Must Produce Their Certificates—Snow Bylaw.

Members of the 57th Regt., who have not yet paid their poll tax, are reminded of the fact that they are required to bring to the tax collector a certificate of their enlistment in lieu of said tax. Unless this is done they will appear in the police court to give an account of themselves. One of such cases was up this morning but the defendant produced his certificate from the commanding officer. He should under ordinary circumstances have been ordered to pay the costs in connection with the case, but as this was the first instance the matter was allowed to drop. Volunteers who have not paid their poll tax will please make a note of this case.

The snow bylaw is again causing trouble. A couple of citizens were charged in the police court this morning with having failed to comply with the provisions of the town snow bylaw. No convictions were made, however.

Two other citizens who had taken snow from their yards were charged with having dumped the same on the streets. They were fined $2 each.

FIRE REMOVAL.

Owing to the destruction by fire of my meat store in the Crystal Block, I have removed to the corner of George and Brock Streets (Denoon's Old Stand.) There will be no interruption to business, as I am again fully stocked with choice meats of all kinds. Same Telephone as before—No. 333. W. G. HOWDEN.

CHANGE OF LIFE

Some Sensible Advice to Women by Mrs. E. Sailer,

President German Relief Association, Los Angeles, Cal.

Owing to modern methods of living, not one woman in a thousand approaches this perfectly natural change without experiencing a train of very annoying and sometimes painful symptoms.

Those dreadful hot flashes, sending the blood surging to the heart until it seems ready to burst, and the faint feeling that follows, sometimes with chills, as if the heart were going to stop for good, are only a few of the symptoms of a dangerous nervous trouble. The nerves are crying out for assistance. The cry should be heeded in time. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was prepared to meet the needs of woman's system at this trying period of her life, and all women who use it pass through this trying period with comfort and safety.

MRS. E. SAILER.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—When I passed through what is known as 'change of life,' I had two years' suffering,—sudden heat, and as quick chills would pass over me; my appetite was variable and I never could tell for a day at a time how I would feel the next day. Five bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound changed all that, my days became days of health, and I have enjoyed every day since,—now six years.

"We have used considerable of your Vegetable Compound in our charitable work, as we find that to restore a poor mother to health so she can support herself and those dependent upon her, if such there be, is truer charity than to give other aid. You have my hearty endorsement, for you have proven yourself a true friend to suffering women."—MRS. E. SAILER, 7304 Hill St., Los Angeles, Cal.

When one stops to think about the good Mrs. Sailer derived from Mrs. Pinkham's advice and medicine, it seems almost beyond belief yet it is all true as stated in her letter published above at her own request.

No other medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. Refuse all substitutes.

As a matter of positive fact Mrs. Pinkham has on file thousands of letters from women who have been safely carried through that danger period "Change of Life." Mrs. Sailer's cure is not an unusual one for Mrs. Pinkham's medicine to accomplish.

No other person can give such helping advice to women who are sick as can Mrs. Pinkham, for none have had such a great experience—her address is Lynn, Mass., and her advice free—if you are sick write her—you are foolish if you don't.

$5000 REWARD.—We have deposited with the National City Bank of Lynn, $5000, which will be paid to any person who can find that the above testimonial letter is not genuine, or was published before obtaining the writer's special permission. Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co., Lynn, Mass.

THE LIQUOR PROBLEM IN RUSSIA

In view of the general interest now being displayed in the liquor problem, the experience of Russia, as detailed by Mr. George Kennan, the well-known traveller, in the January number of The Outlook, is deserving of notice. The government of that country, it may not be generally known, has taken complete control of the manufacture and sale of vodka in all of the provinces east of the Urals; has closed all the private drinking saloons, has opened shops of its own where liquor is sold only in sealed packages to be taken away for consumption, has established official temperance bureaus in all of the provinces to which its monopoly extends; has opened, through the medium of these bureaus, hundreds of tea shops, libraries, reading-rooms, and "people's houses," and will spend, in the course of the coming year, no less than $2,000,000 in establishing places of resort and entertainment for peasants who have hitherto been accustomed to go to the town and village bar-rooms for kabaks. The objects that the government hoped to obtain by taking control of the liquor traffic were: 1, To cover into its own treasury the profits derived from the manufacture and sale of intoxicants. 2. To substitute pure liquor for the adulterated and injurious compounds often sold by private dealers. 3. To break up the saloon habit and lessen the temptation to drink by forcing consumers to carry their vodka home. 4. To discourage intemperance by opening tea-shops, people's houses, libraries, summer gardens and cheap theatres, where the common people might find diversion and entertainment without liquor.

Mr. Kennan thinks financially the reform must be regarded as a success. The Government has built, or purchased, up to the present time, about 400 distilleries, storehouses and magazines, at a cost of nearly 100,000,000 roubles, and is now paying out seventy or eighty million rubles per annum for salaries and current expenses, but on the other hand, it expects to derive from the sale of intoxicants in 1902 (including the excise duties on beer and wine and licenses for their sale) a revenue of 380,000,000 rubles, or about $195,000,000.

As to the attempt to substitute pure liquor of good quality for the cheap stuff sold in the bar-rooms Mr. Kennan thinks the Government has met with gratifying but not complete success, the comparatively high price charged for the Government article, having led to much illicit distillation.

The attempt to break up the saloon habit and lessen the temptation to drink by forcing consumers to buy their vodka in sealed packages and take it home instead of drinking it on the premises is regarded as a failure. The peasants do not take the liquor home, but drink it in the streets. Official and unofficial reports from all parts of European Russia, agree in stating that the most noticeable result of the establishment of the Government monopoly is the great and alarming increase of street drunkenness and disorder. A peasant now buys a bottle of vodka carries it away and drinks himself into a state of helpless or quarrelsome intoxication, perhaps in the open street within a few hundred yards of the government shop.

Members of the Nizhni-Novgorod City council, who have recently made a study of the disquieting feature of the reform, report that an overwhelming majority of consumers in that city drink their vodka in the open streets, that this often results in disorder, fighting, the robbery of women, and the tempting of boys to drink by groups of intoxicated peasants; that police have to be drawn from other parts of the city in order to strengthen the force in the vicinity of the government shops; and that the city hospitals are overcrowded as a result of taking in peasants who have become ill from exposure to cold or rain, while lying dead drunk out of doors. Similar reports are said to have come from the provinces of Ufa, Moscow, Tambof, Poltava, Viatka, Saratof and Riazan.

This phase of the liquor problem is extremely interesting to Canadians because there has been frequent advocacy of the sale of liquor in sealed packages from government-controlled shops, and the abolition of the open bar. In Russia the attempt to substitute other resorts for the bar-room, Mr. Kennan does not consider to have been a success, but there is this difference between Russia and Canada, that in our country the bar-room partakes little or nothing of the character of a social club, and the home life is more attractive here, even for the poor man, than it is in that country. Upon a careful review of all the evidence accessible to him Mr. Kennan is of opinion that in St. Petersburg, Moscow and a few other large towns, the government's efforts to furnish attractive places of resort for the common people have been reasonably successful, while in the provincial villages they have generally failed. The work of the temperance bureau and private organizations in St. Petersburg and Moscow, as well as in some of the larger towns of the empire, is being prosecuted with considerable energy, and a fair amount of success. This is said, however, not to be the case in the tens of thousands of villages and rural settlements where most of the peasants live.

Mr. Kennan admits that the time has not yet come to pronounce finally upon the success or failure of the Russian experiment, and reading between the lines of his article we are disposed to think that he takes a more pessimistic view of the prospects than the situation warrants.

CITY AND COUNTRY GROWTH.

More Census Figures on Population of Ontario and Manitoba.

Ottawa, Jan. 25.—A bulletin was issued yesterday giving the rural and urban population of the Provinces of Ontario and Manitoba by census districts, as enumerated at the last census, compared with the same classes of population in 1891.

In Ontario during the last decade there has been a falling off of 48,138 in the rural population, which now amounts to 1,247,190, as against 1,295,328 in 1891. On the other hand, the urban population amounts to 935,572, as against 818,998 ten years ago, or an increase of 116,754. This shows the extent to which the population in the rural districts has been drifting to the cities.

In Manitoba, however, the case is somewhat different. In that province large gains have been made in both classes of the population, but especially in the rural districts. The rural populat on has grown from 111,498 in 1891 to 164,714 at the last census, a gain of 73,216. The urban population has grown from 111,498 1891, now stands at 70,283, a growth of 29,325.

The following is the population of cities, towns and villages situated in two or more districts:

	1901.	1891.
Barrie	5,949	5,550
Eganville	1,107	710

LIVER TROUBLES.

Life Full of Misery to Sufferers From This Trouble.

Its Symptons Made Manifest by a Coated Tongue, Bad Breath, Bad Taste in the Mouth and Pains Extending to the Shoulders.

From the Brockville Recorder.

Sufferers from liver troubles find life one of almost constant misery, growing worse and worse, unless prompt steps and the proper remedy be taken to resore the organ to its natural condition. Mrs. Joseph Leclaire, of Brockville, was such a sufferer, but has been happily released from the trouble by the only medicine known to thoroughly restore this important organ to its normal condition, once disease has fastened upon it. To a reporter, Mrs. Leclaire willingly gave her story for publication. She said,—"For a long time I suffered severely from complications of the liver and dyspepsia. I would awake in the morning with pains under my shoulders and in my stomach. My tongue was heavily coated, and I had a terrible taste in my mouth, especially on arising in the morning. I was constipated and at times my head would ache so badly that I could scarcely let it rest on the pillow. There was such a burning sensation in my stomach at times that it felt as though there was a coal of fire in it. The pain was especially severe after eating, and for months my life was one of misery. A friend advised me to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I did so. After using the first box there was a material improvement and in the course of a few weeks longer I felt that I was completely cured. My tongue was cleared and the bad taste left my mouth, the pains disappeared, and I am as well as ever I was. Before taking the pills I suffered from bronchitis at times, but it has never since troubled me. I can recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to anyone who suffers as I did."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills restore health and strength by making new rich, red blood, thus strengthening every organ in the body. They do not act merely upon the symptoms, as ordinary medicines do, but go directly to the root of the trouble. In this way they cure such diseases as liver and kidney troubles, rheumatism, paralysis, St. Vitus dance, heart troubles, sick headaches, anaemia, and the irregularities that make the lives of so many women one of constant misery. Do not be persuaded to take any substitutes; see that the full name, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People," is on the wrapper around every box. If in doubt, the pills will be sent post-paid at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Time That Wasn't Money.

The Grafter—Hustle Gage, the millionaire, is not a man of his word.

His Friend—How do you know?

"Well, I asked him if he'd give me a minute of his time and he said he would. I'd figured it out that his income was $40 a minute, but at the end of the minute the old skinflint showed me the door."

Miller's Compound Iron Pills have such virtue that every one should try them. Sold by W. Madill.

MAN AND HIS LEGS.

The Nether Limbs as an Index to the State of the Mind.

There are many indexes to the mind, but I learned of a new one the other day when I called to see a busy man at his office down on Broad street. When I entered the outer office, it was quite evident that he was in, for I could see him through an open door leaning over his desk quite intent on papers that lay in front of him. I spoke to the clerk in attendance, whom I know real well, and asked that he announce me. He glanced into the other room before speaking.

"Wait a minute or two," he said. "It will be better, for he will have you come in the moment I say you are here."

I didn't quite understand what he meant, but I took a seat to wait a minute or two. I waited five of them and then spoke again.

"Wait until he crosses his legs," answered the clerk.

"What has that to do with it?" I asked.

"Everything," he replied. "He doesn't like to be disturbed when he is busy, and I know he is very busy because he has his legs out straight. A man never thinks hard with his legs crossed. As soon as his mind lets up a little, then he straightens, crosses his legs and is ready for visitors and a chat. When his legs go down again, it is time for the visitor to take his leave. Just bear that in mind and see if I am not right."

As he finished speaking up went the legs, and I was announced and received at once.

Meals In Russia.

Among the common people there is no fixed time for eating meals. The Russian eats when he is hungry, and this is about six square meals a day. He has at least a dozen lunches, a little bit of salt fish or some caviare or a piece of bread and cheese, washed down with a nip of fiery vodki. He never passes a station without a glass of tea—marvelous tea, with a thin slice of lemon floating in it. You get a fondness for Russian tea and forswear bemilked decoctions forever.

The table manners of the Russian—such as you see in hotels and buffets—are not pleasing. He sprawls with outstretched elbows on the table and gets his mouth down to his food rather than raise the food to his mouth. He makes objectionable noises in his throat. He has a finger bowl and rinses his mouth as the rest of us do when cleaning our teeth in our bathrooms. Then he squirts the water back into the bowl. In time one may get used to this.

Perhaps.

Mr. Clubman—I see by the papers that a poor young man who lost both his legs while saving the life of a beautiful heiress at a railway crossing is to marry the girl. She dismissed all suitors and offered herself to him.

Mrs. C. (meaningly)—Very sensible girl. She'll know where her husband is nights anyway.

Treated in Notre Dame

A. J. Forgue Had Chronic Catarrh so Badly His Lungs Were Affected—Tried in Vain for Relief—Ozone Cured Him.

"I consider it a great duty to write you in order to tell you all that Ozone did for me. About 15 years ago I contracted a grave attack of catarrh. I took nothing for it as I did not understand the nature of the disease. Two years ago complications set in and the discharge from my head tainted my lungs, which became very weak. I took treatment at the Hospital "Notre Dame," Montreal, for catarrh and from our family physician for the lungs. I also had remedies sent me from the United States, but all without results, as I was in worse shape every time I changed remedies.

"Ozone made its appearance. I got a free bottle from your Montreal agent on May 24th last and took it according to directions. I can swear to you that when I finished that bottle I felt better than ever before in my life. My appetite is good, no more vomiting, my lungs are strong, my catarrh has disappeared, and I am sure that with Ozone I will become a man again; a better man than ever before. Never will I be without Ozone, now that I know it is the only remedy for perfect health. Doctors do not approach where Ozone is. One of my sisters, who has been sick for many years, has commenced the Ozone treatment. Once more I thank you for all that your good Ozone has done. I remain, yours respectfully,

"A. J. FORGUE, St. Constant La Prairie, P. Q."

Catarrhal trouble is due to inflammation of the membrane linings of the nose and throat. You probably pay no attention to a cold—the cold congests the linings and makes the surface of the membrane open to the attack of the germs of the catarrhal disease. The foul mucus taints the throat passages and often attacks the lungs themselves. You can destroy the catarrh germs without injuring the nasal tissues by applying Powley's Liquified Ozone to the nose in the form of a douche—one part Ozone to eight of water. Then by taking the regular internal dose you supply the system with oxygen and make all the tissues healthy—so that the germs of disease cannot operate in the lungs. There is no other preparation that will give you relief for chronic catarrh like Powley's Liquified Ozone. You know what oxygen is—you know how it feeds the blood and makes all the body healthy. Ozone is not a medicine—not a combination of drugs—and contains no alcohol.

1. It is a purely Canadian Company, having all its funds invested in Canadian securities, and transacting business only in Canada.

2. It maintains the largest Government Deposit of any Canadian Life Insurance Company.

3. It maintains relatively the strongest policy reserves of any Canadian Life Insurance Company.

4. Its past record — the greatest guarantee of the future — has been unparalleled in Canadian life insurance.

5. Its policy contract is one of the most liberal issued, consistent with safety and equity.

6. It has a Capital of $1,000,000, which makes policy-holders' security unquestionable. At the same time, the assured is practically in the same position regarding profits as if he held a policy in a mutual company, the Imperial's charter providing that at least 90 per cent. of all profits shall be divided amongst policy-holders.

7. For every $100 of liability to policy-holders it holds $160 of securely invested assets. These assets are all of the highest order, and will bear the closest scrutiny.

Only a Penny
To Get Well.

I ask only a postal stating which book you wish. No money is wanted.

I want you to know how nerve power alone operates each bodily function. If some organ is weak, and fails in its duty, I want to tell you how much more nerve power will correct it. I want you to know, as I do, that a permanent cure can come in no other way. I have spent my lifetime on this problem.

I will send with the book an order on your nearest druggist for six bottles of Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Every druggist keeps it. I will ask you to accept the Restorative and test it for a month. If it cures, pay $5.50. If it fails it is free. I will pay your druggist myself for it.

This offer in five years has been accepted by 566,000 people. Practically all of them had difficult troubles, long endured. Most of them were discouraged. Yet 39 out of 40 who received those six bottles paid for them. They paid because they were cured, for otherwise no druggist asks a penny for it.

I cannot better prove my own faith in this remedy. No physician can do more than pay for your treatment if it fails. No other does so much. Won't you write a postal to learn if I can help you?

Simply state which book you want, and address Dr. Shoop, Box 47, Racine, Wis.

THE WALKERVILLE MYSTERY.

Post-Mortem Shows Cause of Death But Not Its Manner.

Windsor, Jan. 25.—That Frederick Drouillard's death was caused by cerebral hemorrhage, the result of a lineal fracture to the skull, extending almost from the apex to the base, was learned by a post-mortem examination, held yesterday morning in Joyce's Morgue by Dr. Storey of Walkerville, and Dr. Cruickshanks of Windsor. The heart was slightly abnormal.

Albert Drouillard, brother of the deceased, was not satisfied with the statement of Dr. Storey that death had resulted from alcoholic poisoning, so he asked Coroner Reume to investigate. The coroner is of the opinion that the deceased fell heavily against a hard object, or was struck with a blunt club. The skull was not shattered, nothing more than a crack resulting from the impact.

"I'm not in a position yet to form any definite conclusions," said Coroner Reume yesterday morning.

"Most of the evidence I have so far is merely hearsay. Many conflicting stories are told. I hope, however, to have something definite to put before the jury when it meets.

Reward of Merit.

A New Catarrh Cure Secures National Popularity in Less than One Year.

Throughout a great nation of eighty million it is a desperate struggle to secure even a recognition for a new article to say nothing of achieving popular favour, and yet within one year Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, the new catarrh cure, has met with such success that to-day it can be found in every drug store throughout the United States and Canada.

To be sure a large amount of advertising was necessary in the first instance to bring the remedy to the attention of the public, but everyone familiar with the subject knows that advertising alone never made any article permanently successful. It must have in addition absolute, undeniable merit, and this the new catarrh cure certainly possesses in a marked degree.

Physicians, who formerly depended upon inhalers, sprays and local washes or ointments, now use Stuart's Catarrh Tablets because, as one of the most prominent stated, these tablets contain in pleasant, convenient form all the really efficient catarrh remedies, such as red gum, blood root and similar antiseptics.

They contain no cocaine nor opiate, and are given to the little children with entire safety and benefit.

Dr. J. J. Reitiger, of Covington, Ky., says: "I suffered from catarrh in my head and throat every fall, with stoppage of the nose and irritation in the throat affecting my voice and often extending to the stomach, causing catarrh of the stomach. I bought a fifty cent package of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets at my druggist's, carried them in my pocket and used them faithfully, and the way in which they cleared my head and throat was certainly remarkable. I had no catarrh last winter and spring and consider myself entirely free from any catarrhal trouble."

Mrs. Jerome Ellison, of Wheeling, W. Va., writes: "I suffered from catarrh nearly my whole life and last winter my two children also suffered from catarrhal colds and sore throat so much they were out of school a large portion of the winter. My brother who was cured of catarrhal deafness by using Stuart's Catarrh Tablets urged me to try them so much that I did so and am truly thankful for what they have done for myself and my children. I always keep a box of the tablets in the house and at the first appearance of a cold or sore throat we nip it in the bud and catarrh is no longer a household affliction with us."

Full sized packages of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are sold for fifty cents at all druggists.

Send for book on cause and cure of catarrh mailed free. Address, F. A Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.

THE IRISH QUESTION

Commons Rejects Amendment by Over One Hundred.

SPEECH BY MR. T. P. O'CONNOR

Mr. O'Connor Made a Strong Fighting Speech in Which He Repeated Mr. Redmond's Claim That Sir Wilfrid Laurier and President Roosevelt Favor His Cause—Mr. Balfour on Peace Rumors.

London, Jan. 25.—Replying in the House of Commons to questions regarding the Government's Eastern policy, Lord Cranborne, Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs, said the occupation of a port on the Persian Gulf by Russia or any other foreign power would be inconsistent with the maintenance of the status quo, which it was the policy of the Government to maintain there.

In regard to Manchuria, said Lord Cranborne, it was the Government's policy to maintain the status quo in China, as determined by treaty.

Mr. A. J. Balfour, the Government leader, made a comprehensive denial of the peace stories. He declared that since the negotiations between Lord Kitchener and General Botha no proposals, having in view the termination of the war in South Africa, had been received from anyone professing to have the authority of the Boer leaders to make proposals, and that no discussions looking to peace were now proceeding.

T. P. O'Connor, Irish Nationalist, made a strong fighting speech in support of John Redmond's amendment of Thursday to the address in reply to the speech from the throne at the opening of Parliament. He was frequently cheered.

Mr. O'Connor made a special point of the recent reception of the Irish delegates in the United States by President Roosevelt, who, he said, was in thorough sympathy with the Irish movement, and by the Canadian Premier, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who, he stated, held the same views.

The speaker further asserted that the greatest of all obstacles to a good understanding between the United States and Great Britain was the Irish question, which haunted, and which would continue to haunt, Great Britain in all parts of the world. The Irish members, before now, had made ministries, and they would make and unmake more ministeries. Landlordism in Ireland was doomed. The Government knew it was beaten all over Ireland on the question of compulsory land purchase, and the present debate marked the commencement of a new epoch in the progress of Ireland.

Mr. Redmond's amendment was rejected by a vote of 237 to 134.

PRINCE OF WALES.

Left London Under Special Guard of Police For Berlin.

London, Jan. 25.—The Prince of Wales left London last night for Berlin. He was given a hearty send-off by large numbers of people who had assembled outside Charing Cross station. The Prince was attended by Lord Wenlock, Sir William Carrington and Commander Sir Charles Cust and Detective Inspector Melville of Scotland Yard accompanied the party. It was understood that the King deemed it advisable that the Prince should have the benefit of the advice and experience of this famous police officer in view of the present state of Anglo-German affairs, and the attempt on his own life in Brussels in April, 1900.

130 DEGREES IN AUSTRALIA.

Awful Heat That Is Causing Much Suffering and Loss.

Vancouver, B.C., Jan. 25.— Mail advices by the steamship Moana, arriving yesterday, tell of a hot wave in Australia. The thermometer in many places climbed to 130, making life almost unendurable. In Victoria, miles of country have been swept by bush fires, crops destroyed and hundreds of homesteads swept away.

In Perth a family of six were burned to death, and similar fatalities from the prevailing fires, caused by the heat, have occurred in all parts of Australia. Sheep are dying by thousands for want of grass. In the fruit country, the heat has withered up the crops, which lie in tons cooked on the ground.

France Has Sent a Warship.

Paris, Jan. 25.—The French Government received a cable message yesterday from the French consul at Caracas, Venezuela, announcing that President Castro had absolutely refused to allow M. Secrestat, jr., to land, in spite of the consul's repeated, vigorous protests. France has sent a warship.

Coal Famine Threatened.

Ottawa, Jan. 25.—A local paper says that there is such a scarcity of coal here at present and that the C. P.R. and Canada Atlantic are threatened with the contingency of burning wood for fuel instead of coal.

No Cause For Alarm.

FOOLING THE EXPERTS.

Experience of a Man Who Bought a Diamond Brooch.

"I am convinced that few people know anything about diamonds, no matter how much they may pose as experts," said a young business man the other day. "A recent experience of mine has forced me to this conclusion. I bought for my wife a brooch containing a cluster of diamonds and took occasion to show it to several of my friends at the club. They examined it very closely, looked wise and then started to show me where my judgment had been at fault. Every man in the crowd seemed to be a diamond expert. By the time they had got through I really felt as though I had been bunkoed and was considerably depressed.

"Next day I got to thinking the matter all over and came to the conclusion that my friends had been talking of something they knew nothing about. At any rate, I determined to make a test. I went to one of those imitation diamond stores and for 50 cents bought a brooch, which I placed in the box that had formerly contained the real one.

"Again I went to the club and announced to my critical friends that I had taken their collective advice and by paying an extra $50 had exchanged the brooch in which they had picked so many flaws. They all agreed that the fifty cent bauble which I showed them was a great improvement over the other, and when I told them of the trick I had played on them they wouldn't believe me. To a man they contended that they couldn't be fooled on diamonds.

"Now I feel better satisfied with my purchase."

CHOSEN FROM A MULTITUDE.

The Preference Shown by Thinking People for Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine—Record Sales Last Month.

Considering the large number of remedies for coughs and colds that are now offered to the public, and in view of the fact that nearly every druggist has a preparation of his own which he makes an effort to substitute for the medicine asked for, it seems truly remarkable that the demand for Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine should increase by such leaps and bounds.

During October the sale of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine exceeded by several hundred bottles the record of any previous month in its history. When it is remembered that this preparation receives very little newspaper advertising the evidence seems to be conclusive that it makes its way by sheer force of merit.

Thinking people recognize the harmfulness and danger of using strong drugs which are said to cure a cold in a few hours. They prefer to cling to Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, which they know beyond a doubt to be a thorough and effective treatment for coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis, whooping cough, throat irritations, asthma, and even consumption itself.

The combination of linseed and turpentine, with half a dozen other ingredients of equal value for treating colds, in such proportions as they are found in Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine has proven to be a perfect protection against such developments as pneumonia, consumption, and serious lung troubles. You can with certainty rely on this preparation to afford prompt relief and perfect cure.

Do you suppose that the sale of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine would be more than three times that of any similar preparation if it was not the most effective remedy that money can buy? It has stood the test and proven itself worthy of the confidence that is placed in it. People recommend it one to another, and so the good news spreads. Be sure you get the genuine, with Dr. Chase's protrait and signature on the wrapper. 25 cents a bottle. Family size, three times as much, 60 cents. At all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates and Co., Toronto. 12

An Unwarranted Act.

As the result of despicable meanness or criminal wickedness on the part of some one Miss Barlee's valuable Irish terrier "Mike" was poisoned this morning. No more unoffending or good-natured canine existed in the town, and its death will cause sorrow in more than one household. There have been altogether too many dogs poisoned in the west end for the matter to occur through pure accident and if by any means a clue is obtained to the person or persons implicated no mild measure of punishment should be meted out to the offender.

REV. DR. WADDELL.

He Entertained a Large Audience Most Charmingly in St. Andrew's Church Hall.

Rev. Dr. Waddell, of Dunedin, New Zealand, delighted a large audience in St. Andrew's church hall last evening. The lecture was entitled "An Evening with Irish Wit and Humour," and the entire time spent was one of merriment.

Dr. Waddell, besides having charge of a large congregation, has given much of his life's energy to progress in municipal, educational and literary phases of life and the secret of his great versatility and cheerfulness under onerous duties is now found in the answer given by Mrs. Drew, the daughter of Gladstone, to a question appearing in a celebrated magazine asking, "What is the century's greatest need?" To which she made reply, "Faith and humour."

To the oft-repeated question, "Is life worth living?" he would remind them that "that depends upon the liver."

In comparing and illustrating wit and humour, both among the Irish and Scotch, he kept his audience convulsed with laughter.

Reference was then made to the love of the Irish for war, and how in Britain's battles much had depended upon the loyalty and triumphs of the Irish soldier.

The Irish people are best perhaps known for their Irish bulls, which oftimes presented very ridiculous conditions. This certainly could not be due to ignorance but from that overmastering spirit of genuine wit. This was illustrated by the case of a young man who was rebuked by a lady for smoking. The young man excusing himself, stated that his father had smoked till now he was seventy. "Och," said the lady, 'that proves nothing, if he had not smoked he would have been eighty!"

The lecturer illustrated this further by many very funny stories, all of which were appreciated. Next to the Irishman's love for war and making Irish bulls, is his love for the national beverage, which oftimes makes him irresistibly comical.

The class of men above all others in whom might always be found a fund of good wit are the car or cab drivers, and many amusing stories are told about them.

In the Irishman's constitution withal there is a deep vein of piety, and his absolute trust in God is realized in a closer touch, which may not be evidenced in the time of jesting.

At the close of the lecture Rev. Mr. Bennett and Rev. Mr. Hyde, moved a resolution of thanks and appreciation, which was carried most enthusiastically.

Dr. Waddell replied in most eloquent and patriotic terms, which again elicited a most hearty round of applause. The meeting closed by singing "God Save the King."

SPORTING PASTIMES.

HOCKEY.

The Fenelon Falls Hockey Club won from Bobcaygeon last night in the 2nd round of the Trent Valley League series. Mr. A. S. Parkin, of Lindsay refereed the game.

The Lakeview hockey team went to Norwood last night to play their first game in the 2nd round of the Trent Valley League series. They were defeated by the Norwood team by a score of 12 to 3. The score at half time was 5 to 3 in favour of Norwood. The game was a fair exhibition of hockey and while the Lakeviews have a big score to pull down still they will try and more than even up in the return game here. Mr. George Lynch of town made a satisfactory referee. The teams were as follows:

Norwood—Goal, Robertson; point, Nicoll; cover point, C. Pearce; forwards, Rothwell, Kemp, Miller, R. Pearce.

Lakeviews—Goal, McCoy; point, Graham; Cover point, Thornton; forwards, Parnell, Crowley, Meagher, O'Connor.

THE LOCALS AFTER A CHAMPIONSHIP.

Port Hope's Crack Team Defeated Last Night.

SCORE WAS 5 GOALS TO 2.

The Local Septette Has Now to Win From Port Hope on the Cobourg Ice on Thursday Next.

It is an easy matter to sit down, and with paper and pencil figure out the relative strength of two hockey teams, and give the reasons why one team must surely be the stronger. This is just what the worthy citizens of Port Hope did (to their cost) and as the result of the Ontarios winning from Lindsay on the latter's own ice, something which the Peterboroughs failed to do, the argument was adduced that the Port Hope seven would outscore the local Intermediates in last night's match. The argument looked reasonable enough on paper, but, like many another good thing, it went wrong. One little statement, which could be made by the Lindsay management concerning the shape in which a couple of their men went on the ice to play against Port Hope, would clear up the matter considerably. The Lindsay team which Port Hope defeated was a vastly inferior team to that which won from Peterborough. If this circumstance had been taken into consideration by Port Hope, the team of that town would not have been so confident when they faced the Peterboroughs last night, and the disappointment of the big crowd of supporters, who came up from the lakeshore town would not have been quite so keen when the final score was announced as five to two in favour of Peterborough.

The game in the first half was fairly even, and the visitors had plenty of chances to shout O-N-T-A-R-I-O. With a score of two goals to one in their favour and a reputation for being great finishers, it looked as though a license to yell to their hearts' content had been signed, sealed and delivered to the Port Hopers. The Peterboroughs, however had not settled to their work. On the forward line, Roy Armstrong, of last year's Junior Colts, and Chris Graham, had replaced Watt and Lynch, and it appeared as though it was impossible to get a combination going that would be effective. There were plenty of brilliant individual rushes, but the passing game did not have as good results as usual, the players not seeming sure enough of their side partners. In the second half the game was altogether different, and some of the prettiest combinations were evolved that have been seen in a long time on the local rink. It was Peterborough always, and all the time. At times, of course, there would be doings around the local nets of a lively character, but the Peterboroughs had possession of the puck for over three quarters of the time and Mercer in the Port Hope goal had to extend himself in a manner which left him no chance to get chilled in order to handle the shots which came at him thick and fast. He let four get by him, but he couldn't be expected to stop everything and he had them handed out to him in every possible form.

The Ontarios are a stockily built team and heavier all round than the Peterboroughs. They are always in the pink of condition and by their close checking tactics have often been successful in wearing down an opposing team, and coming so strong towards the finish that in a close game the tide of victory would be turned their way. Last night, however, they had a crowd of boys to handle who were so fast that it was difficult to get close enough to them to do any great amount of hard checking. The locals are adepts at dodging and the visitors found that it was safer to play for the puck instead of the man. As stickhandlers, there is no comparison between the two teams, the Ontarios being entirely out-classed in this respect and as stickhandling counts for a great deal more on a large rink than on a small one the locals should go to Cobourg next Thursday feeling quite confident of being able to defeat their doughty opponents.

The teams last night were composed as follows:

Ontarios of Port Hope — Goal, R. Mercer; point, A. Bourne; cover point, G. Brown; forwards, W. McMillan, C. Boney, C. Coleman and W. Laurenceson. Umpire, J. Henderson; timekeeper, Geo. Henwood.

Peterborough—Goal, E. Wasson; point, R. M. Glover; cover point, H. Armstrong; forwards, F. Whitcroft, H. Morgan, C. Graham and Roy Armstrong. Umpire Alex. Gibson; timekeeper, Jas. McCabe.

Mr. Rose, of Osgoode Hall, Toronto, gave splendid satisfaction as referee, being very strict in regard to any attempts made at rough play.

The game started at twenty-five minutes to nine o'clock, with an attendance of about 2,000. For the first five seconds the puck was kept on centre ice then there was a rush towards Peterborough's goal which Armstrong easily averted starting a counter rush and passing the puck to Morgan, who gave Mercer a chance to make a nice stop. Quite a lively scrimmage ensued around the Port Hope nets before the puck could be worked out into less dangerous quarters. Harold Armstrong broke up another Port Hope rush and then tried to do a little scoring on his account, getting as far in as Bourne before he was stopped. Colman then made a nice run up the ice, but Glover took the man and Wasson the puck and again the struggle was on centre ice. The puck finally came back to Harold Armstrong, who dodged neatly through the crowd and banded out a hot one to the Port Hope goal-keeper. It was stopped, but Mercer wasn't quick enough to clear and Roy Armstrong banged the puck through and notched the first point for Peterborough. Time 4 minutes.

The next game was started by a nice bit of combination play between the two Armstrongs, but the visitors defence men were on their mettle and broke up the rush. Then it was Wasson's turn to get busy and though he did not have to stop any shots on the net he did some great work in the corners. Chris Graham got in a nice run down the ice and the puck never was twenty feet from Port Hope's goal for the next ten minutes. The shots, however, seemed all to be straight on Mercer's leg pads and not one got by him. When the flags were finally relieved the puck was carried down into Peterborough's territory where an offside occurred near the net on the east side. The puck was faced and in the draw passed across the rink. McMillan crossed leisurely over after it and Harold Armstrong went after him. No one dreamt of danger and when the puck slipped past Armstrong, Glover and Wasson, who were all in a row, the fact could hardly be credited. This tied the score. The time was 16 minutes.

Port Hope seamed to have the best of the play from now until the end of the first half, and Armstrong and Glover had lots of work to do, although the puck seldom got as far in as Wasson. After eleven minutes play Boney stopped H. Armstrong in one of his rushes, got the puck and getting past Glover who was close behind Armstrong, skated right in on the goal and scored. This gave Port Hope a lead of one goal and no more scoring was done before the bell rang for half time.

The second half started out with an interchange of long lifts between the defence men, which was ended by the visitors making a dash in on the Peterborough goal, Whitcroft came out of the melee with the puck and carrying it the whole length of the rink passed to Morgan who scored. Time 2 1-2 minutes. Score 2-2.

The home team now cut out the liveliest pace of the evening and the shots rained in around the Port Hope net. A long lift carried the struggle down towards the other end of the rink, but this only gave Whitcroft and Graham a chance to get in the neatest play of the evening. They came up the ice at top speed and by clever passes got by both Brown and Bourne and carried the puck straight into the net. It was a piece of play which brought everyone in the rink to their feet. Time 1 1-2 minutes. Score 3-2.

The trick was done again by Chris Graham in seven minutes and by Morgan in two minutes and this ended the scoring although the Peterboroughs had the best of the play to the finish.

The match last night was attended by many out-of-town people. About 35 came in from Millbrook, a 'bus load and many private conveyances came down from Lakefield and Lindsay and Omemee sent delegations.

A practice will be held to-night Intermediates vs. Colts.

THE BIBLE SOCIETY.

The Archdeacon of Canterbury at a recent meeting said:

"A man must read history with his eyes shut if he cannot see now that one of the great instruments that God is using to prepare the way for bringing the whole human race together at the foot of the Cross is the work of the Bible Society."

"What Society can claim to rank above this one—to be doing a greater, a more useful and necessary work than this? And what Society is better deserving of the support of those who have known the Lord Jesus Christ, and, knowing Him, have loved Him. I beg of you to ask yourselves the question—'Have I done enough for such a work as this; is not this God's work; is not this Christ's work; am I doing what I ought in support of it?'"

POWER OWNERS MEET AGAIN.

An Association Was Fully Organized.

PRESIDENT DAVID GILMOUR

A Constitution Adopted The Discussion That Took Place—Resolutions.

The organization meeting of the Trent Valley Power Conservation Company was held in the Town Council Chamber yesterday afternoon when officers were elected and a constitution was formally adopted. The meeting was the outcome of a preliminary gathering of Power owners which was held on Saturday last, when committees were appointed to obtain information of value to those present on the matter in question, and to draft a constitution, etc.

The meeting yesterday was enthusiastic and representative including many prominent men from towns along the Trent Valley Canal. Among those in attendance were:—

Messrs. J. H. Shook, representing the Dickson Company; David Gilmour, the Gilmour Company, Trenton; John Carnegie, the Auburn Power Company; Mayor Denne, Wm. Scott and A. Stuart, the Quaker Oats Company; Wm. Needler, the Fenelon Falls Power Co.; M. F. W. Fowlds, Hastings; R. B. Rogers, Superintendent Trent Valley Canal; Thos. Walters, representing the Ontario Government; R. R. Hall, of the Otonabee Power Co.; A. McDonald, lumberman; Wilson Henderson, Supt. of Waterworks, and Arthur Stevenson, representing the Peterborough Light and Power Co.

Mr. Kilborne, of Lakefield presided.

The minutes of the meeting which was held on Saturday last, as well as the committee meeting that was held the same afternoon, were read and on motion adopted.

The chairman, Mr. Kilborne, explained that since the meeting he had forwarded a letter to the Minister of Public Works for Ontario, setting forth what the objects of the Association were, and asking the opinion of the Minister on the question. He had received no reply as yet.

Mr. David Gilmour read a petition from a number of manufacturers on the Trent Valley Canal that is about to be presented to the Minister of Canals, asking that something be done to conserve the water in the lakes north and tributary to the canal, for power purposes, etc.

This was of course just in line with what the new Association were about to undertake.

Mr. R. R. Hall, the chairman of the committee appointed to draft the constitution submitted the same to the meeting. After certain amendments, none of which were of a very radical nature, the constitution was adopted clause by clause as follows:

CONSTITUTION AND BYLAWS.

Whereas it is deemed expedient to form an association of parties interested in the waters of the Trent Canal system, for the purpose of preserving a more regular and higher minimum flow in the rivers and lakes forming a part of the Trent Canal system. Now therefore be resolved, and it is hereby resolved that the following constitution and bylaws be adopted.

Name — This association shall be known as the Trent Water Conservation Association.

Objects—The objects of this Association shall be to preserve the higher level of water in the various lakes and rivers forming a part of the Trent Canal system, and lakes and rivers flowing into the same, and to preserve a higher and more regular uniform flow of water in the several rivers forming a part of the Trent Canal system, and for such purpose to petition the Governments of the Dominion of Canada and the Province of Ontario and to send deputations to interview them or either of them, from time to time as the Association sees fit, and to promote the objects of the Association by such further and other means from time to time as they deem expedient.

Members—Any person interested in navigation, manufacturing, lumbering, water power, transportation and trade and commerce shall be eligible to be a member of this Association. Any person who is eligible to become a member of this Association, may become one by paying an annual fee of $2.00, and upon receiving a majority of the votes present at any general meeting of the Association.

Officers of the Association.—The officers of the Association shall consist of an Honorary President, a President, two Vice-Presidents and Secretary to be nominated and appointed yearly by the Association, and shall hold office until their successors are appointed.

Executive.—The affairs of the Association shall be managed by an Executive of three in number, of whom the officers of the Association shall be ex-officio members, and such Executive shall be nominated or appointed yearly and shall hold office until their successors are appointed. In case of the death or resignation of any officer or member of the Executive of this Association, the vacancy thereby created, may be filled for the unexpired portion of the term, by the Executive from among the members of the Association.

Funds of Association.—The funds of the Association shall be kept in the name of the Association, in a chartered bank, to be selected by the Executive, and all checks, drafts or orders for the payment of money shall be signed by the Secretary and counter-signed by either the President or one of the Vice-Presidents.

Annual meeting.—The annual meeting of the Association shall be held on the third Wednesday of January, in each year hereafter at Peterborough.

A general meeting of the Association may be called at any time by the President by a circular letter, upon giving one week's notice or a general meeting of the Association may be called by any three members of the Association in case the President refuses to call such meeting by giving such like notice.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The election of officers was proceeded with and resulted as follows:

Hon. Pres.—Hon. Geo. A. Cox.

President—David Gilmour, Trenton.

1st Vice-Pres. — J. H. Kilborne, Lakefield.

2nd Vice-Pres. — Thos. Saddler, Lindsay.

Sec.-Treas. — Arthur Stevenson, Peterborough.

Executive Committee—Messrs Jas. Kendry, R. R. Hall, J. H. Shook.

Mr. David Gilmour, of Trenton, the new president of the Association, addressed the meeting at some length pointing out the great possibilities of the Trent Valley Canal, and the immense benefit to be derived from the proper reservation of the lakes to the north of the canal route. He did not care what government was in power he would press them unsparingly for what he considered the people along the route of the canal are entitled to. Mr. Gilmour then displayed a map of the entire section of the Trent Canal, and more particularly of what is known as the Gilmour lakes. These are several small lakes at about the height of land between Muskoka and Stony lake. Years ago the original flow of water was in this direction, but the industrious beaver built a dam at the outlet and caused the waters to flow back into Muskoka. The Gilmour people have taken away this beaver dam and are asking the Dominion Government to erect a dam such as will properly conserve the waters and allow them to flow into the Trent Canal in proper quantities. There are many other lakes that will be regulated in a like manner so that when they are all regulated by dams the water of the Trent Canal will be increased and will be kept at the one height the year around.

Mr. Gilmour spoke of the importance of the early construction of the canal, and told of the great wealth in the north along its route. The pine, spruce and other woods could all be brought this way and manufactured into lumber and pulp at Peterborough and other towns as well as in the United States.

Mr. Carnegie expressed himself as strongly in favour of what Mr. Gilmour had said, and he suggested that the meeting forward a strong resolution to the government in support of the petition which Mr. Gilmour was about to present to the Government regarding the reservation of the water in the Hollow, Raven and other lakes, and also that a deputation from this Association go to Ottawa in support of the petition.

Mayor Denne then brought up the matter of having all the waters of the back lakes under the control of one commissioner. At the present time there are two such commissioners—Mr. Walters of Lindsay, and Mr. Rogers, of Peterborough. The matter was duly discussed.

Mr. Walters said that the Ontario Government controlled 34 reserve dams, and they keep three men, exclusive of the lockmasters, controlling the waters, so that there is very little, if any, wasted. The dams are in good repair, and are well regulated throughout the season. The lakes that are not dammed are very few in number. At Eagle Lake there should be a new dam and the association should take steps to have an appropriation made for that purpose. Mr. Walters said he would furnish the association with a statement as to the condition of the dams and the lakes that might yet be controlled.

Mr. R. R. Hall thought that what was set out in Mr. Gilmour's resolution was sufficient for a start. The expenditure which would be involved by carrying out Mr. Gilmour's ideas would cost about $10,000.

Mr. Carnegie thought that they should support Mr. Gilmour's resolution to the Dominion Government—get all they can from them, and then knock at the doors of the Ontario Government for what we can possibly get from them.

Mr. Carnegie moved, seconded by Mayor Denne, — "That whereas this association has heard the petition of the Trenton Electric Works Company, and others, to be presented to Hon. A. G. Blair, praying that the dams at the outlets of Hollow Lake, Raven Lake, and Wren Lake, may be acquired by the Dominion Government, and operated by the Department of Railways and Canals; and, whereas, it is to the interest of a large number of people interested in navigation, lumbering and manufacturing, as well as farming, from Hollow Lake to Trenton, that the prayer of such petition be granted; now, therefore, be it resolved, that this association unanimously and heartily approve of the objects to be obtained by the granting of this petition, and that this association send a deputation to Ottawa to urge upon the Government to assume control of those several dams."

A resolution was also passed recommending the Dominion and Ontario Governments to appoint one Water Commissioner for the entire system.

ANNUAL TEA.

Of the Sunday School Scholars of St. Paul's Church.

The annual tea and Sunday school entertainment of St. Paul's Presbyterian Sunday school, took place last night, and was quite largely attended. The affair opened at 6 o'clock, when tea was served the scholars. Commencing at 7.30 o'clock an exceedingly interesting programme of vocal and instrumental music and recitations was rendered.

The chair was occupied by Mr. Johnston, the superintendent of the school. The following numbers were rendered: Recitations by Vera Armstrong, Mamie Menzies and Mabel Pringle; Piano duet by Mamie Menzies and Jessie Mein; piano solos, by Hazel Sanderson, Gladys Crane, Mattie Robertson, L. Denne and Herbert Johnston; vocal solos, by Winnie Anderson, and Stella Davis; dialogue "The Epicure," by three boys, "The Schoolmaster," by seven boys, "The Everlasting Talker," by five boys; song and drill, by six boys.

The recitations by Little Miss Pringle, were excellent, and drew forth much applause as well as many complimentary remarks. The boys' fan drill was also a well put-on number.

AT GILMOUR MEMORIAL.

A Very Pleasant Evening Spent Entertainment by the Young Ladies' Class of the Church.

On Friday evening, Jan. 17th, about one hundred young people gathered at the Gilmour Memorial church to enjoy the "Conundrum Tea" given by the Young Ladies' Bible Class.

The evening began by the distribution of conundrums; then followed a hunt for the answers, which were pinned up on the walls, chair or decorations of the room. During the early part of the evening a number of choice readings, solos and instrumental selections were much enjoyed by all.

Then came the puzzling part of the evening's programme—the Conundrum Tea—which must be ordered from a menu card written entirely in conundrums. A great deal of surprise and merriment ensued when some of the conundrum orders were filled out.

The school room was prettily decorated with evergreens, flags and Chinese lanterns, while the unique table decorations called forth many expressions of admiration. They consisted of tiny Xmas trees, prettily trimmed and lighted with candles, while from tree to tree were draped pink and white streamers.

All agreed that the evening had been most pleasantly spent, and the Young Ladies' Class received many hearty congratulations upon the success of their tea.

REVIEW REVIEWED AGAIN.

From the Lakefield News.

The Review, not contented with the answer we gave to its heated article of last week, anent Hon. J. R. Stratton, came out in its edition of Monday last with another series of mock heroics on the same matter entitled "Familiar misrepresentation exposes the farce."

We were under the impression that we had replied straitforwardly to the Review's article and in a manner that did not call for a great measure of intelligence on the part of that journal as to a recognition of our position in the matter. We plainly and unreservedly came out in support of Mr. Stratton, and gave as our reason for doing so, the fact that he has done his duty nobly and well by the electorate which returned him to the Legislature. The Review accuses us now of not answering the question that was put to us last week as to what Mr. Stratton has done for the constituency which any other wide-awake man could not have done equally well. We answered that question as fully as we thought necessary, but we are willing to do so again, and go further in our endeavour to satisfy the Conservative organ.

There are many wide-awake men in this constituency, who in the daily routine of business are perhaps of equal mental calibre with the gentleman in question. But being wide-awake isn't everything. A man has to be equipped with something beyond that desirable perquisite to be a success in political life. He needs to be possessed of abundance of energy, good feeling and good fellowship towards his supporters and those who oppose his political views. He needs to have the interests of his constituency entirely at heart, and to show upon any and every occasion that they are safe in his keeping. There is not one man in the whole riding of West Peterborough who comes within measurable distance of Mr. Stratton, either in a knowledge of the requirements of this constituency or in the possession of those faculties which make him so general a favourite throughout it. He is in Parliament because he is trusted and liked and nobody, not even the Review, can connect him with any dirty piece of work, either in Parliament or out of it.

In its first article entitled, "Made on Familiar Lines," the Review asked "What does Mr. Stratton represent as a public man?" What part has he played in the record of the Ross Government, and its iniquitous, disgraceful, corrupt and machine-managed elections? Mr. Stratton represents the Government, and in deciding to vote for or against him, the elector must decide to vote for or against all that the Ross Government represents, the election "machine," the ballot-stuffing, the officialism that is seen in all its beauty in West Peterborough, "the system" of centralization, and all the rest." We took exception to this language and stigmatized it as bordering on the vitriolic. To us, and we should judge, any intelligent man, it reads as simply a direct hit at Mr. Stratton, for no man can be considered honest who will willingly endorse such hideous political sins as the Review directly lays to the charge of the Ross Government. We do not for one instant believe that the Government is blameable in one-fiftieth degree for the many crimes with which the Review would like to saddle it. If it had not been a good government, working for the best interests of the Province, the intelligent vote of the Province would long since have ousted it from power. If Mr. Stratton, as a member of that Government had not been endowed with a large share of the confidence of the electors he could not possibly, in a constituency which on broad principles of constitutional policy is admittedly Conservative, be returned as a member of this riding. When the Review assails the integrity of the Ross Government and of Mr. Stratton as a member of that Government, it at the same time assails the integrity and intelligence of some eight or nine hundred Conservatives who voted for Mr. Stratton in the past and will in all likelihood vote for him again.

The Review's contention regarding our connection with the Examiner is an idle one. We are accustomed to do our own writing and thinking and are well enough versed in orthography, grammar and the political history of this Province to do without the aid of the editorial department of that newspaper. If the Examiner finds our articles to its liking we are glad. It is not often that a small country newspaper like ours gets such signal proofs of admiration as to have its leaders copied by a large and reputable publication.

The rest of the Review's article is made up for the most part of slighting references to the editor of this paper in which he is called the "News man" and told that he can follow up his series of "advertisements" of Hon. J. R. Stratton in peace. It is a matter of perfect indifference to us as to whether we are left in peace or not. We can assure the Review that it is perfectly impotent to destroy our peace of mind no matter what line it takes. As a matter of courtesy, however, we would ask the talented author of the articles to which we have referred, if he ever has occasion to mention our writings again, to kindly not misrepresent what we say. In his last article he endeavoured to make his readers believe that we wrote of Mr. Stratton as the "only gentleman who can fittingly represent this riding, and that to such an extent is this true that all questions of principle, of sense of public morality, of representative government should be cast aside in order to give him the honour." Beyond saying that Hon. Mr. Stratton was the best representative for this riding, we said nothing whatever on the lines that the Review so generously and ingenuously attributes to us.

The whole article has a Phalsaical tinge from start to finish and it only needed the last paragraph to put the crown and coping on the whole structure.

CLOUD CAPPED TOWERS.

How the Splendid Panorama of the Rockies Unfolds Its Spectacular Wonders to the Traveler.

You are introduced to the mountains gradually, as you are able to bear it, writes Bernard McEvoy in The Toronto Mail. Not with a too precipitate haste does the railroad usher you into the presence chamber of these king-like majesties. We had been looking at them from afar, at Calgary, for days, and had been awed by their calm and regal nobility. True, they were miles and miles away, a mere dream, sometimes, of snow-capped peaks and purple shadows. Not less were they the one august thing in the surroundings of the new and thriving western town. And now we had boarded the "limited" in the hot evening sunshine, and should not leave it again till we had been taken right into the heart of the Rockies. At first our way lay through the rounded "foot-hills" that circumferentiate Calgary, and ever nearer as was the busy-talking Bow River that was to be our companion till we got to Banff, and after. Now the Bow River has its origin in the mountains and is fed by their everlasting snows and myriad trickling streams. Fancy transformed its voices into those of a crowded procession of pilgrims returning from the wondrous region; and talking about what they had seen. There were the voices of old and young, of gentle and simple, the prophetic and the prosaic, the roar of the undistinguished voices of the multitude. But all were in accord as to the greatness of the mountains. I caught that of an old man, who was sententiously quoting scripture, as the only thing that could properly express his feelings on the occasion; while near him marched one who was by no means scriptural in his objurgatory remarks on the general effect of the Rockies upon his feelings. Still another said, "You bet your bottom dollar they're great." An Imperialist, with a very emphatic tone of utterance, said that "nothing but the British Empire could have produced such mountains," and the ever present witling said they had made him feel "decidedly rocky," and called for a B. and S. Then a bold promotory came between us and the river, and I could hear the voices no longer. But soon afterwards that procession wound about and in and out so much that we heard it again and again at intervals like the "chorus of 500 voices" coming in en masse at an oratorio. "They are!" they shouted; "They are!" Which under the circumstances and at the moment, seemed very satisfactory, although of the nature of a dream. It may be that it is the property and attribute of all great things in nature to seem like a dream, whether the vastness of mountains or the widespread wonder of the tossing sea, or the color of a purple moorland at sunset when the orb of day grows crimson and hides in the foliage of a few lonely trees. So now, it seemed like a dream when the grey and rugged top of one of the mountains rose in its distant height and serenely above the rounded green of the foot-hills; and when a few moments afterwards we came round a curve and saw the Great Ones for the first time in all their grandeur, from purple base to snow-streaked summit, and, stretching up to them, the fringing growth of silent and dark-colored pines. By this time the brilliant sunlight which had accompanied us and burnished every blade of grass, and flower and leaf of the landscape, and in which insects had slowly fluttered and gamboled, was dying down, as we went along, the rocky heights were painted in divine purples and greys, sometimes appearing as undefined purplish-grey backgrounds for multitudinous pines, and again, for the moment, sharply defined in every feature of their rocky complexity by the rays of the sinking sun. From now onwards, for fifty miles we had a series of the most inspiring pictures.

How Muskrats Are Trapped.

Trapping is one of the modes by which muskrats are secured. The traps are made of boards about six inches wide and three feet long. These are nailed together like an ordinary box trap, the open ends being secured by swinging doors of wire network, fastened to the upper part of both entrances. These doors allow easy ingress to the trap, but once in the rat cannot get out without opening the door by pulling it to him, which secret they seem very slow to discover. These traps are put in the leads running from the houses to the water when the tide is at low ebb and the rats are out feeding. On the return they crawl up the leads, push against one of the wire doors of the trap, which immediately opens into the trap, but they cannot go farther, as the next door opens toward them. Before they can gnaw out the tide makes up, and they are drowned in the trap.

Loss of Flesh.

If you find yourself falling below normal weight there is danger. The use of fish oils can temporarily add fat, but will never build up healthy tissue. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food acts through the blood and nervous system and carries new life and energy to every nook and corner of the body. It regulates the various organs of the body, makes the appetite good, adds healthy flesh and replaces the tissues wasted by disease. Gradually and naturally this food cure restores colour to the cheeks, increases the weight of the body, and thoroughly overcomes disease.

Strawberries.

Why are they called "straw"-berries? Smart men differ on that. Some say it is on account of their hollow, strawlike stems. Others think it is because they have to be covered with straw or similar protecting material in winter. The most classical explanation is that our Anglo-Saxon forefathers used to raise them and they gave them this name because the berries are generally on the ground—that is, "strewed" or "strawed" around.

THE HABIT OF GIVING.

Governor E. D. Morgan's First Taste of Real Happiness.

To the present generation the name of Governor E. D. Morgan of New York is scarcely more than a dim echo from the pages of history, but there are men still living who remember him as one of the group of great war governors whose firmness and courage served their country so magnificently in her darkest hour. It was one who so remembered him who told this incident:

Governor Morgan was a very rich man, but until he was seventy years old he never had given away any of his wealth. Then one day he sent for his old friend, Dr. Adams, the president of Union Theological seminary, and told him that he wished to give a large sum of money to the college. The doctor, almost incredulous at first, was soon convinced of the sincerity of the offer, and a time was set at which he was to go and get the bonds.

At the appointed hour the doctor appeared, and bonds to the value of more than $200,000 were put into his hands. The governor stood and watched until the doctor's carriage was out of sight. Afterward he spoke of it to another friend.

"I am an old man," he said. "I have had a successful life and done about all that I had planned to do, and I supposed that I had been happy. But I know now that until I stood and watched Dr. Adams drive away with those bonds I never had known what happiness was. I cannot regret too deeply that early in life I did not form the habit of giving."—Youth's Companion.

A FRIEND'S GOOD ADVICE.

It Saved Madame Guimond Much Pain and Trouble and She has Shown Her Appreciation.

Advice is often tendered with the very best intention which it is not wise to follow. It is so easy to advise and suggest, and one of the greatest annoyances sick people have to endure is the careless suggestions of those who mean well but do not understand.

Almost anyone who has not had stomach troubles of his own can tell a dyspeptic just how to be cured.

The only advice a sick person should follow is that of one who has suffered in a similar way and who has found relief.

Madame Amanda Guimond, of Grand Metis, Quebec, has suffered from Dyspepsia for years. Many suggestions were made and many different treatments tried, but she got no better till a friend who had been cured of Dyspepsia by Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets advised her to use them. She did so, and soon was free from any pain or distress. The relief came with the first dose; and a complete cure with the fourth box. Now Madame Guimond never tires telling her friends what Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets have done for her. She is also very grateful to the friend who gave her such excellent advice.

Madame Guimond advises all who suffer with Stomach Troubles to use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, and her advice should be worth your attention, for she has experienced both the pain you now endure and the cure you may secure if you will but do as she advises.

Policemen In the Blood.

A writer in Knowledge thus denominates certain wandering cells found in the healthy human body which destroy harmful microbes introduced into the system. "The tonsils, for example, are crowded with these guardian cells." The scene under the microscope when protective cells are introduced into a lively culture of typhoid bacilli is described as very striking, irresistibly bringing before the imagination "the fierce struggle which goes on when disease germs invade the body."

A MARRIAGE IN PERSIA.

Before dinner is served the bride goes to the bath accompanied by female relatives and friends. At night, as the procession of the bridegroom approaches, alms are distributed, and women and children look on from neighboring roofs. Loud cries from the women welcome the bridegroom on his arrival, while the bride, carefully veiled, mounts the horse awaiting her at the door. All the men who have been feasted and entertained join in the procession, in which lanterns are borne. The bride's departure is the signal for the discharge of fireworks and a great beating of the big drum. The final ceremony is similar to one observed by the Arabs and the Copts—namely, the sacrifice of sheep. These are killed as the bride steps over the threshold of her new home.

One wonders what the idea is underlying the sacrifices. Are they intended as acts of propitiation inherited from an earlier age, when people thus endeavored "to appease the anger of the gods" or of the spirits of their ancestors? Or is it merely a way of sealing in blood an important act and covenant?—Woman's Home Companion.

The Oldest Epitaph.

The oldest epitaph in English, which is found in a churchyard in Oxfordshire and dates from the year 1370, to modern readers would be unintelligible not only from its antique typography, but from its obsolete language, the first two lines of which run as follows and may be taken as a sample of the whole:

"Man com & se how schal alle dede be: wen yow comes bad & bare: noth hav ven we away fare: all ye werines yt ve for care."

The modern reading would be: "Man, come and see how shall all dead be when you come poor and bare; nothing have when we away fare. All is weariness that we for care."

Machine weighs 17 pounds. It is more wonderful than a sewing machine, just as durable, and higher speed.

To Work at Their Homes Under the Direction of The GLASGOW WOOLLEN CO.

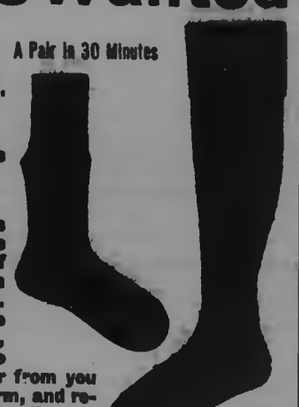
37 MELINDA ST., TORONTO,

To Fill Large Contracts—Good Wages Easily Earned.

We want a few more workers in this locality, at once, and in order to secure your co-operation without the delay of correspondence, we herewith explain our full plan in this advertisement. The work is simple, and the Machine is easily operated, and with the Guide, requires no teacher. If you wish to join our staff of Workers let us hear from you promptly with the Contract, order form, and remittance, as a guarantee, and we will send machine and outfit to begin work at once.

A Pair in 30 Minutes



OUR METHOD OF DOING BUSINESS

We wish to secure the services of families to do knitting for us in their homes. Our method is the same as adopted in England. We are the introducers of this plan and the largest knitting concern in Canada.

After long experience, we have been able to produce an Automatic Machine by which all kinds of seamless knitting is now done by our Family Machine, thereby enabling anyone of ordinary intelligence to quickly learn to do the work from the Instruction Guide. All we require is that you use the machine according to directions. The Machine being made expressly for this purpose, and the operation so simple, it cannot possibly make a mistake in the work.

The great demand now is for Bicycle Stockings, Woodmen's Socks, and Motormen's Mittens, and as we are unable to supply the demand, have taken this method of advertising for more help.

The large export trade to the North-west Territories, British Columbia, and the British Colonies, furnishes an unlimited demand for our goods, and, with the combined cooperation of the many families we are employing, together with the large amount of knitting we are able to turn out, by which we save rents, insurance, interest on capital, etc., enables us to undersell any manufacturers of this class of goods, and we have sale for all the knitting we can have turned out.

The price we pay for finished bicycle stockings is $10.00 per hundred, or at the rate of 10c per pair; woodmen's socks, 5c, and motormen's mittens, 13c a pair. All other work in proportion to size.

The machine can be operated by any one of a family, and at our prices any energetic family should be able to sustain themselves comfortably, and is time be a source of independent comfort.

Our plan is to send out each machine to beginners with a sock or stocking partially knitted, and remaining in the machine ready to be continued, and also enough yarn to knit one pair of sample socks or stockings and a simple and complete Instruction Guide, showing how the work is to be done. When the samples have been finished and returned to us satisfactory, we send a quantity of yarn, which you knit and return likewise when finished. We prepay charges on all work one way, and our workers pay return charges. The work, as we have stated, is simple and rapidly done, the machine having a capacity of ten thousand stitches a minute. We have many persons now in our employ who can knit from twenty-five to thirty pairs of socks or stockings a day, and where the time of a family is devoted to the work, you can readily see that $15.00 or $20.00 per week can be easily earned.

We furnish our workers all the materials, yarn, etc., free, and everything that is necessary for the work. We are furnishing the machines only for the exclusive use of those desiring to take employment with us, who must, in order to become a member, send us this Contract Order Form, properly signed by them, and at least one good reference, and remittance accordingly, to give us the necessary assurance that the quantities of valuable yarn we may send from time to time will not be wasted or misappropriated. Our interests are mutual, and this confidence must be established if we are to succeed. We guarantee fair dealing and prompt payment for work, so do not ask us to deviate from our terms, as we cannot make a distinction with one and not another; besides, we are doing an extensive business, and must be governed by business principles.

The manufactured price of the machine is $15, and positively will not be sold to any others than those who will agree to do knitting for us.

If at any time after you commence, and have done an amount of work equal to the purchase price, and wish to discontinue, we will take back machine and refund the amount paid for same, after deducting cost of our expense only.

There is a Large Demand by the Trade for this class of work. Our workers can depend upon it year after year, and if you engage with us (whole or spare time) we will keep you supplied with work as long as you do it satisfactorily for us and return it promptly. We entrust our workers with large quantities of valuable yarn, and as we give references as to our honesty and integrity, we must ask you to do the same, in order that we may know with whom we are dealing.

We have, in as brief a manner as possible, endeavored to show you what our work is, and we simply say as to the machine, it is just what we represent it to be, and will positively do everything we claim for it, or refund the money. Each machine, securely packed with an outfit, is set up for work, thoroughly tested, and a sock or stocking partially knitted before boxing and shipping. Should you decide to engage with us, it will be necessary to send us Cash Contract Order Form, properly signed by you, and at least one good reference, together with the remittance, accordingly, upon receipt of which we will forward machine and outfit ready to commence.

Respectfully yours,

GLASGOW WOOLLEN CO., 37 Melinda Street, Toronto

Our References—Express Companies, Banks, or Toronto Business Houses.

If you wish to examine the machine and see the material before undertaking the work, you can do so by sending $3.00 as a guarantee of good faith, and to defray expense of shipping, and we will send everything to your nearest express company, leaving a balance of twelve dollars to pay the agent and 25 cents for the return charges on the money to us.

We are so frequently and unnecessarily asked if one can learn to knit without a teacher. We say, Yes; it requires no teacher; any person of ordinary intelligence who can read the Instruction Guide can learn to knit at once.

DESCRIBING ANARCHY.

Dr. Workman Speaks to the Ministerial Association of Toronto of Many Present Day Evils.

Rev. Dr. Workman, at a recent meeting of the Toronto Ministerial Association, read a carefully-prepared paper on "Anarchy, Moral and Economical." The treatise, which covered the subject thoroughly, although briefly, was greatly appreciated by the members. In opening Dr. Workman described anarchy as a deliberate disregard of human Government, and the typical anarchist as a malcontent against the present state of things, whose ideal was the abolition of Government and of private property. The abolition of Government was contrary to Scriptural teaching and to experience. The form of any Government was a divine ordinance.

Moral Anarchy.

With regard to the moral application of the term the speaker said that conscious or deliberate disregard of human or divine law, was moral anarchy. This was particularly true of violations of divine law; no matter how obedient a man might be to the laws of man, he was an anarchist.

Dr. Workman proceeded to outline the various kinds of anarchy which presented themselves to his observations. These were:

(1) The determination to have one's own way; if a man undertook to do as he liked, regardless of consequences, he was an anarchist.

(2) Doing evil that good might result. Many practised the doctrine that the end justified the means; rather should they say that the means justified the end. Mrs. Carrie Nation, the Kansas agitator, was a type of the downright, wilful, absolute Anarchist. All those temperance fanatics who wished to abolish saloons without regard to the rights of saloon-keepers were Anarchists. Revolutions should be accomplished by the process of evolution.

(3) Ignoring justice in dealing with either a citizen or a community.

The actions of the French Government in the Dreyfus case and of the British Government in the Venezuela matter savored of Anarchy. Great Britain's treatment of Ireland, too, had been anarchistic.

"What of Ireland itself?" was asked.

"Ireland has its Anarchists, too, I will admit," said Dr. Workman, "but that does not justify the measures adopted in the government of the island. Let justice be done, though the heavens fall; if justice be done, the heavens will not fall."

(4) The wreaking of vengeance in any form. Lynching, torturing and burning at the stake were examples of it in our own time. From the large number of people who suggested that Czolgosz should have been lynched for his crime at Buffalo it was apparent that this sentiment had a firm hold on a great portion of public opinion.

(5) To act on the principal that might was right. Examples of this were to be found in the Jameson raid. Britain's threat to coerce Venezuela, the reported conduct of the French and German troops in China eighteen months ago, the smashing of Spain and the taking of the Philippines.

(6) Acting from policy or expediency when a moral principal was involved. The only law in such cases was the golden rule.

Economic Anarchy.

Under the heading of "Economic Anarchy" the speaker grouped:

(1) Financial, such as the deceiving of an assessor by a property owner, the practice of extortion by money-lenders and others, the smuggling of merchandise, and in stock jobbing.

(2) Commercial, as shown in the unscrupulous means employed by many business men to make money rapidly, such as the adulteration of gold, the employment of false weights and measures, the acceptance of illegal commissions, etc.

(3) Municipal, where the ten commandments were set at naught. The traffic in franchises in Philadelphia, the protection of gambling and vice in New York, and the corruption in Chicago were mentioned.

(4) Political, such as the taking of money in the Pacific and McGreevy scandals, the buying of votes, the use of the gerrymander, tampering with voter's lists, and the stuffing of ballot-boxes.

(5) Industrial where the workers were treated as mere machines, and were improperly influenced in many directions. The formation of trusts, monopolies and combines of all kinds was a feature of this sort of anarchy; labor was cheated of its fair share of profits. Anarchy was occasionally connected with organized labor; when non-union men were compelled to join a union, or were prevented from working; where there was any interference with personal liberty, there was tyranny, which was anarchy.

The Outlook Alarming.

In concluding his description of anarchy the speaker said: "We are living at a time when widespread anarchy is abroad. There seems to be an epidemic of not only criminal anarchy, but of moral and economic also. The two latter are on the increase, and the outlook is alarming. A characteristic feature is the unscrupulous means employed by the so-called law-abiding citizens to gain money or to obtain power and position.

Dr. Workman devoted some time to a consideration of the cause and cure of anarchy. He said that there were several causes, but that the fundamental one was selfishness, man's selfish love of power, position and wealth. There was still some savagery in the human disposition, a tendency for one to go as he be pleased, no matter who suffered.

The cures were to be found in education, in teaching men to obey and respect the laws. They should meet all evils constitutionally; not fight fire with fire. Legislation and Christianization were the other methods to be employed.

SEPARATE WAISTS.

The Shirt Waist Has Turned Into a Soft Tucked Blouse.

lace. A favorite way of renovating a white waist is to trim it with a bertha of wide lace into which are appliqued medallions of pale tinted panne or silk. All over lace blouses are made with elbow sleeves and collarless necks, the only trimming being a big chou of velvet over the left breast. Blouses of velveteen are used both for dressy and other occasions. For the former they come in pale colors in plain and pompadour designs.

The shirt waist has developed into a soft affair, tucked and bloused at the waist line with a dainty stock and belt. Sometimes there is a suspicion of applique about it.

The newest blouse sleeve is laid in tucks at the shoulder and wrist.

White chiffon and cream lace compose the dressy waist in the sketch. The yoke and upper part of the sleeves are laid in tucks, which are so arranged that they follow the curves best suited to the figure. There is a bolero affect of cream lace and irregular shaped applications on the upper sleeves and cuffs. The belt is of crushed white panne. — JUDIE CHOLLET.

Catarrh.

The word catarrh, as popularly used, means either nasal catarrh or bronchitis. Nasal catarrh is often helped by snuffing up, so as to carry it into the mouth, a weak solution of salt and water, repeating the operation several times a day. Where the disease is very persistent it is well, when possible, to try a change of climate. In bronchitis the case should be attended by a physician.

The Drawback to Originality.

"Why do you keep repeating quotations?" asked the irritable man. "Why don't you say something original?"

"My dear sir, there's no use of that Every time I think of anything good enough to be original I find that somebody said it years ago."

LOVE'S SACRIFICE.

An Engagement Ring Which Amputates a Finger Joint.

Ethnological experts agree that with most Australian tribes every woman is betrothed in infancy or even in anticipation of her birth. According to some mysterious law of their own, this is arranged by the old men of the family, the women having no voice in the matter. The age of the proposed husband is not taken into consideration, so that it frequently happens that by the time the girl is of a marriageable age her intended is an old man. If in the meantime some younger man has set his heart upon her, this means a fight, in which the unfortunate bride to be, as she is dragged away, is certain to come in for a share of the blows which the rival suitors deal out to each other.

In some of the coast districts, where not all the girls are promised in infancy, the betrothal of a young woman to a man who follows the occupation of a fisherman compels her to lose the first joint of the little finger of her left hand. This slow and painful operation is performed by a stout string bound tightly about the joint—an engagement ring with which one would willingly dispense! A marriage license, equally unique, is common in some sections, where the chief gives to the prospective groom a peculiarly knotted string, possessing which he is free to seek the wife of his choice.—Woman's Home Companion.

NO DANGER.

There is no danger of throwing money away if you take Dr. Hall's Rheumatic Cure for rheumatism. In a little while you will say it is the best spent money you ever invested in your life. S. Donaldson, postmaster, Dufferin, P.O., Pittsburg, Ont., was lame for two years and could not get out of a rig. One bottle of Dr. Hall's, with the Climax Iron Tonic Pills, cured him. This great blood purifier is put up in bottles containg ten days' treatment. Price 50 cents a bottle at all drug stores or The Dr. Hall Medicine Co., Kingston, Ont.

Did His Own Killing.

A story once went the rounds in Paris that an enterprising visitor to M. Constans proposed to pick a quarrel with M. Rochefort and kill him. "Many thanks," said Constans, "but I do my own murders."

The retort found its way to Constantinople, and when M. Constans arrived there as French embassador he was struck by the exaggerated deference of the Turkish officials from Armenia. A man who did his own murders himself was a remarkable figure to administrators who employed the Kurds for that necessary business.

Medical Science Advances.

It is not more than half a century ago that physicians considered a surgical operation with its risk, expense and pain as the only cure for piles. To-day it is only the out of date doctors that think of such treatment. It is cruel and extravagant to operate for a disease which is far more certainly cured by the application of Dr. Chase's Ointment. You may be skeptical, but for proof you are referred to tens of thousands of cases that have been cured by this famous preparation.

Ears.

If your ears burn, people say, some one is talking about you. This is very old, for Pliny says, "When our ears do glow and tingle, some do talk of us in our absence."

Shakespeare, in "Much Ado About Nothing," makes Beatrice say to Ursula and Hero, who had been talking of her, "What fire is in mine ears!"

Sir Thomas Browne ascribes this conceit to the superstition of guardian angels, who touch the right ear if the talk is favorable and the left if otherwise. This is done to cheer or warn.

One ear tingles, some there be
That are snarling now at me.

Before Mirrors.

Mrs. Snaggs—I read a paragraph in the paper which said, "Woman was made before mirrors, but it wasn't her fault." Don't you think that is a mean remark to make about woman?

Mr. Snaggs—Yes, I think it is. What the writer meant to say was that woman was made before mirrors and had been before them ever since.—Exchange.

Pain in the Back

Makes life miserable. Can it be cured? Yes, in one night. Polson's Nerviline gives a complete knock out to pain in the back, for it penetrates through the tissues, takes out the soreness and pain, invigorates the tired muscles and makes you feel like a new man. Nerviline cures quickly, because it is stronger, more penetrating, more highly pain-subduing than any other remedy. Don't suffer another minute; get Nerviline quick and rub it in and as sure as you live it will cure you. 25c.

MEETING OF ST. ANDREW'S.

Continuation of Yesterday's Report.

The Societies That Made Their Annual Reports on Thursday Evening.

The following is a continuation of the report of the annual meeting of St. Andrew's church which was held on Thursday evening:—

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOUR.

The report of the Christian Endeavour Society was as follows:

In submitting our report of the work done by our Society during the past year we desire to thank God for His gracious presence, and to place ourselves humbly in His hands for the future, being well assured that in doing so lies the only path to success in our work.

We have been following the International plan of Bible study and our leaders have been selected with care. While our meetings have not been as well attended as might be expected from the number of young people there are in the congregation, those who have attended have evinced great interest.

We have 60 members on the roll and 6 committees all doing excellent work. They are as follows,—Prayer Meeting Committee, providing for each meeting; Music and Social Committee, looking after the musical part of the programme for each meeting and all social and concert gatherings; Flower and Visiting Committee, provide flowers for the church when in season and visit the sick of the congregation; Look-out Committee, look after the absent members of the Society and bring in new members; Temperance Committee, look after all the temperance meetings of the year; Missionary Committee, look after the missionary work of the Society. The committee during the year assisted in the purchase of hymn books for the Nova Mines, also gave $5.00 to Rev. Carter, Sailor's Missionary, to assist in the Sailor's Mission work.

The Social Committee held several social gatherings for the young people of the church in order that they might become better acquainted with each other.

During the winter months we purpose holding our meetings on Sunday after the evening service, with the exception of the meeting on the first Monday in each month, which will be held as a business meeting. We extend a hearty and cordial invitation to all the young people of the congregation to attend our meetings.

Our earnest desire is that each member will make a special effort to be present at each meeting and take a deeper interest in the work of the Society, ever keeping our motto "For Christ and the Church" before us.

Our receipts for the year were $9.96; expenditure $7.21; Balance on hand $2.75. The following are the officers for 1902.

President—Mr. Adam Gillespie
Vice-Pres.—Miss Curry.
2nd Vice-Pres.—Miss Bathgate
Secretary—Miss King.
Treasurer—Miss L. Allen.
Rec.-Secretary—Miss Wiggins.
Organist—Miss VanEvery.

B. KING,
Secretary.

The report was on motion, received and adopted.

YOUNG MEN'S GUILD

Mr. John Lang, on behalf of the Young Men's Guild, presented the following report:

We beg leave to present the following report of the Young Men's Guild for the year 1901.

The work of the Guild during the past year, has been carried on with much the same success as heretofore,—membership increasing, and the interest taken being quite apparent.

On the first Tuesday of each month, meetings have been held, at which, after routine business, papers were read, and sometimes the programme took the form of a debate.

Our third annual excursion around the lakes was conducted on the 27th June, when a most enjoyable outing was spent. The Scotch concert to have been held celebrating St. Andrew's night, was unavoidably postponed till Burns' night 27th January. During the summer months a bowling club was organized with a fairly large membership, the lawn of the manse being used as a bowling green.

Our receipts for the year were $167.15, and expenditure $155.65, leaving a balance in hand of $11.48.

In November last, the Brotherhood of St. Andrew's Church, Cobourg, extended an invitation to the Guild to attend a banquet being held there, at which the President represented the Guild, and on his return gave a report with information which we hope to be of benefit to us.

During the year, we have lost by removal Past President W. W. VanEvery, who owing to the deep interest he always evinced in the work of the Guild, is greatly missed, as well as Donald Potter and Frank Walsh, who will also be much missed.

We take this opportunity of thanking all connected with the church for support and sympathy, and in conclusion would extend a cordial invitation to all young men of the church to join us in our meetings and work.

The following are the officers for 1902:
President—T. G. Anderson.
Vice-Pres.—W. C. Campbell.
Recording Sec'y—J. M. Laing
Cor. Sec'y—C. E. Anderson.
Treasurer—R. M. Glover.
Councillors—P. A. Kerr, H. H. Edmison, W. Garnow, J. Y. Gerrard.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

J. M. LAING,
Rec. Sec'y.

The report was on motion, received and adopted.

MISSION BAND.

Miss Tully made the following report on behalf of the Mission Band:

In presenting our annual report we do so with hearts full of thankfulness to the kind Providence Who has watched over our Band, guided us during another year and given us further opportunities of labouring in the Master's service.

We have a membership of 38. Our meetings have been held regularly once a month with an average attendance of 16.

At the beginning of the year it was decided that our editor should still continue the Century paper, which we have found very helpful.

In April the Band sent Miss A. VanEvery as a delegate to attend the convention of the General Society held in Toronto.

In June Miss L. Allan was appointed to attend a convention held in Cobourg.

In July we held a lawn social on the Sunday School and manse grounds, from which we cleared $8.33.

In November we received a contribution from the Sunday School amounting to $6.76.

During the summer months we made quilts and clothing for a girl in the North West. The clothing was valued at $9.10.

The total amount raised in our Band during the year was $41.15.

Upon looking back over the history of our Band since its organization we can see how greatly it has benefitted our young people, and we cordially invite those young people of our congregation who have not already joined our Band to do so at an early opportunity.

The officers for 1902 are as follows.
President—Miss Edmison.
1st Vice-Pres.—Miss A. VanEvery.
2nd Vice-Pres.—Miss K. Wade.
Secretary—Miss J. Allan.
Asst. Secretary—Miss L. Allan.
Treasurer—Miss Langford.
Editor for Century paper—Miss A. VanEvery.
Asst. Editors—Miss M. McCrae, Miss J. Allan.
Organist—Miss E. Tully.

E. TULLY,
Secretary.

The report was adopted.

A suggestion that five ladies from the Ladies' Aid be appointed on the Board of Managers, as had been done by the Young Men's Guild, was discussed and referred to the Ladies' Aid to consider.

Mr. Fowler was re-elected as a member of the Charity Board, and Mr. Edwards as the church's representative on the Hall Poor Trust.

CHAPTER XIX

The harbour was full of steam and sailing vessels, many of the former having numbers painted in large figures on their sides, revealing the fact that they were transports. As stated elsewhere, there were four of these ahead of us, which meant we must remain at anchor for as many days, unless we could conjure up some good reason for taking precedence. As a matter of fact we did so eventually, because none of the others had come so far as we nor had they as many horses since they were all dismounted corps. You can best imagine our feelings of delight, when the pilot's pennant floated from our mast-head, which told us in unmistakable language the pilot was on board and we would soon be steaming into the dock. Presently the ponderous machinery in the bow began to roll and rumble, slowly raising the anchor to the position it had occupied for a month before. The crafty pilot moved in very slowly, so very slowly that we were obliged to look at stationary objects on shore to know if we were moving at all or not. But he knew the treacherous waters better than we, and was fully aware of the great responsibility he had assumed. Captains of vessels can guide the monsters over the deep, and boisterous waters of the mighty ocean, but are not permitted to steer them in those of the harbour, the reason assigned, I understand is if the vessel were damaged in coming to her moorings, insurance underwriters would allow no compensation, maintaining the ship was under the control and guidance of an incompetant officer.

It was Sunday morning, and when the cumbrous monster bumped her lar,board against the pier, the rain was coming down in torrents. Owing to the inclemency of the weather, we did not disembark. We were all sorely vexed because even now when we could leap ashore, we were strictly forbidden to leave the vessel unless in small squads under the command of a non-com. and then only to parade about fifty yards to tea, which was served by some ladies representing the Red Cross. Absent Minded Beggar, Patriotic or some other fund. It was quite a change for us in diet, and the fair sex, of whom we hadn't seen one for a month, must have thought we hadn't received much to satisfy our appetites for a long time, and you would have thought so too, had you seen fruit cake, fried cake and several other varieties of cake disappearing as rapidly as four ladies could hand them out. During the day, some of the first contingent boys gave us a friendly call and were kept more than busy answering questions. There was no question asked that couldn't be answered, and I suppose we heard all the truth and a great deal more. Our eyes beheld so many unfamiliar objects that the time slipped rapidly away. Work went on uninterrupted, trains were running and whistling around, steam vessels moving in or out, and several other things that destroyed the sanctity of the Sabbath. There was another transport ahead of us, and from a careful inspection of the corps on board, with all respect for the boys, they looked as though England had sent her last draft to Table Bay. They all seemed to be from fourteen to eighteen years of age, but their youth didn't prevent them having plenty to say, and it was nip and tuck between them and the Kaffirs, as to who could talk the most. Our boys amused themselves, you may call it innocent amusement, for they wouldn't have done so had they known differently, by placing silver coins in raw potatoes and throwing them over onto the deck of the sister vessel "just to see the fun." The English Tommies would all make a rush a mad rush for the tuber with its silver lining, and roll and tumble over each other pell-mell in their eagerness to capture the Canadian trophy. Some of the "pratles" fell ishort of the deck and were lost in the sea. On the side of the vessel towards the dock the same practice afforded amusement to many spectators, but in this case it was kaffirs who strove to win the prize. These funny looking individuals, however, exercised greater self-denial, prefering one another, since they never scrambled in such confusion, but were apparently satisfied no matter who succeeded in securing the coin, none of them so far as I observed, caring to retain more than one. The khaki boys were very flush with their money that day, and everyone engaging in the sport became a philanthropist in a more or less degree, resembling the intoxicated darkey musician who played for coppers and dimes, and then grabbing them up by the handful scattered them to the four winds of the earth, remarking "I don't need it, thank you." A few days later you could hardly measure the visage of the boys, when they learned that Canadian curency, much to their surprise, was taken at par in many places of business in the city and could be exchanged anywhere at twenty-five per cent discount. The natives are a very curious looking people, and their costume is even moreso. There are quite a number of them employed by the British Government around the dock for various purposes, and although their remuneration isn't large, judging from appearance, John should soon accumulate an independent fortune. A few pounds sterling to him in his native land, is equivalent to as many hundred pounds in Canada, and doubtless he will soon retire, not even deigning to call the king his uncle. There are several different types of blacks in the country, including Rhodesians, Malays, Zulus, Basutos etc., all designated as Kaffirs by those unable to distinguish them. Those at the dock were as a rule tall, square-shouldered, robust looking fellows with enough bone and sinew for work, if they only had the will. They are a more thrifty and industrious class than our wild North American Indian. John does not consider manual labour degrading, but has his own way of of doing it, and unless you permit him to work according to his own ideas, he either can't or won't do so at all. If you are worldly minded and want him to do his best, you must, even if he be a prison convict and you his keeper, grant him liberty to have full and free use of that little organ—the tongue. He will talk all day long, as though his tongue was an automatic machine, working on some patent lever principle, and I must say it is the nearest approach to perpetual motion I have yet seen. I have witnessed them at work on many different occasions and always found the same system prevailing. They will work attentively for a time, and then all hands suddenly stop and gather into a group, for a five minute mirthful and refreshing conversation, and it is not going beyond the bounds of truth to say four good Canadian workmen, in the same length of time would do as much as a dozen of them.

RULES OF HYGIENE FOR DEAF PEOPLE.

The care of the ears in cases of deafness is of such great importance that we are pleased to find a special article on this subject in a late number of the "Journal for the Deaf." A free copy of this publication can be obtained by addressing the Editor, 72, Regent's Park-road, London, England. Among other interesting things in this journal is an account of some 200 cases of deafness cured by the Drouet treatment, which has lately taken the place of the old methods of ear specialists.

To be persuaded of this, it is only necessary to read the detailed accounts of cures perfonmed on persons of every age, and even in cases which specialists have declared incurable.

The Journal is always accompanied by a Pathological Report Form which enables each patient to describe his case so clearly that the consulting surgeon of The Drouet Institute can send accurate information of the treatment necessary to effect a cure.

BOER LEADER TAKEN

Gen. Ben Viljoen Captured in Vicinity of Lydenberg.

SEVERAL OTHERS GATHERED IN

Col. Wilson Loses Seventeen Out of Twenty Boers That Fell Into His Hands in a Hot Fight—Another Burgher Corps—Fifteen Hundred Men to Enroll Under Gen. Viljoen.

London, Jan. 27.—A report from Lord Kitchener from Johannesburg gives the important capture of Gen. B. Viljoen in the neighborhood of Lydenburg, Transvaal Colony, as well as the capture of small parties of Boers elsewhere.

The capture of Gen. Viljoen, who was Gen. Botha's most able lieutenant, and who has given the British a great deal of trouble in the past, has created lively satisfaction in London.

Gen. Viljoen is the Boer general who was captured prior to Mafeking, and was exchanged for Lady Sarah Wilson.

BOER PRISONERS RESCUED.

Col. Wilson Caught Twenty, But Seventeen Got Away.

Pretoria, Jan. 26.—Col. Wilson last Saturday captured 20 Boers near Frankfort, in Orange River Colony. He was preparing at dawn the next day to move away with his captives, when a superior force of Boers made a desperate effort to recapture the prisoners. A hot fight ensued, in which all but three of the prisoners escaped, and in which a few men were killed or wounded on both sides.

Commandant Beyers Is Desperate.

Johannesburg, Jan. 26.—The British force under Lieut. Giddy, which has been operating in the Nylstroom district, has killed one Boer and captured twelve others, including Field Cornet Snyman, who had a quantity of dynamite and fuse in his possession with the intention of blowing up the railway line south of Warm Baths. The prisoners who were taken say that the Boer commandant, Beyers, is making for the wood bush mountains. He has two cases of dynamite which he unearthed recently on a farm near Riet Vlei and declares that he will wreck trains on the line whenever the opportunity presents itself.

BOERS TO FIGHT BOER[illegible]

General Viljoel, a Surrendered Burgher, to Raise 1,500 Men.

Pretoria, Jan. 26.—Lord Kitchener has authorized General Viljoel, a surrendered burgher, to raise an additional Boer corps of 1,500 men.

General Viljoel has written a letter to ex-President Steyn, warning the latter of his intention to form such a corps, and adding that the Boers in the concentration camps are tired of the useless struggle, and are determined to help the British end it.

Red Cross Carried Letters.

The Hague, Jan. 27.—The Minister of Foreign Affairs, Herr Melvij Van Lyndon, replying Saturday to an interpellation on the subject in the First Chamber of the States General, said he had done his utmost to secure the release of the Dutch members of the Red Cross Society, who are held as prisoners in Ceylon, but was forced to admit regretfully that those persons had placed themselves in an almost indefensible position by carrying Boer letters.

The fact that these documents were of no importance did not alter the violation of strict neutrality. The case, the Minister said, was bound to have an important bearing upon the question as to what service a neutral ambulance corps might render in future wars.

A LURID YARN.

Boers Say Col. Lynch Will Lead an Irish Revolt.

Amsterdam, Jan. 27.—The Boers here are circulating a wild yarn concerning Col. Lynch, the M.P.-elect from Galway City, Ireland, a warrant for whose arrest was issued recently on the charge of treason for fighting with the Boers.

"Col. Lynch," the story goes, "proposes to charter a sailing boat in which he will depart from the French coast, land at Ballyraghan, in Galway Bay and take the lead in the great things, inspired by the actions of the Boers, which are on the eve of happening in Ireland."

Kruger Will Come.

London, Jan. 27.—The correspondent of The Daily Telegraph at Brussels says in a despatch that Mr. Kruger has received fresh invitations from Chicago, New York and Philadelphia to visit these cities, and that he will probably start upon an American tour next April.

HARRY FINK'S DESERTION.

Got the Permission of His Captors to Take a Headache Powder and Promptly Took French Leave.

Ottawa, Jan. 27.—Private Harry Fink, who deserted from the Royal Canadians at Halifax, returned to Ottawa, was recaptured, and made his escape at Alexandria, Ont., on Friday evening from the custody of Sergeant Lebarge and Private Chapman, who were taking him back to Halifax, is again safe in Uncle Sam's domain. In a letter received yesterday from him by a friend in Ottawa, Fink tells this story of his escape: "It is with pleasure I pen of the way in which I escaped from the escort that was sent to take me back to Halifax. Of course I left Ottawa with them, but did not go very far when the train stopped at Alexandria for refreshments. I complained of having a terrible headache, and asked if I could go and get some water to down a headache powder water to down a headache powder. The sergeant said "sure." But the powder was not the only thing that was bothering me at that time. I was anxious about getting away, so I dropped the powder and up went the window and out went Harry, never to return.

"I believe the escort missed me before they arrived at Glen Robertson. I, therefore, made at once for the C.P.R. line, and got out as far as Finch, when I heard they were following me close. Leaving Finch at 11.30 p.m. I walked the 20 miles to Cornwall, arriving at 5.30 a.m., completely played out, but the thought that I was a free boy again soon overcame the tired feeling when I crossed the line a minute later."

Fink is a telegraph operator, and the day before he was denounced to the Ottawa police by a former comrade of the Royal Canadians.

AUSTRALIA PROTESTS.

Meat Ordered From Argentina Should Be Got From Colonies.

Sydney, N.S.W., Jan. 27.—The placing of contracts in Argentina by the British War Office, to supply meats and other produce for the troops in South Africa, has engendered irritation throughout Australia. This action of the Imperial authorities is regarded as evidence of the reprehensible indifference to the claims of the colonies, as ill-according with the expressions of Imperial solidarity, as poor repayment for the sacrifices for the colonists, and generally as grave injustice. Most of the premiers of Australia and the Premier of New Zealand have cabled to the Imperial Government strong protests in practically identical terms, saying that the two colonies are able to supply the War Office requirements in South Africa three times over. Both colonies, it is pointed out, have more meat than customers.

WOODSIDE WILL NOT GO.

His Place Will Be Taken by Lieut. Reford of Montreal.

Halifax, N.S., Jan. 27.—All the Canadian nurses who are going to South Africa have arrived in the city. It is expected that they will take passage on the Allan Liner Corinthian, which will sail on Monday night for Liverpool.

Everything is in readiness for the embarkation of the C.M.R. The stores have all been placed on the ship. The shoes have been removed from the horses, and they were put on board yesterday. The men will go on the ship at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Owing to the injuries received by Lieut. Woodside, he will not be able to go on the trooper. His place is being taken by Lieut. Reford of Montreal.

An Ontario Man Dead.

TO PREVENT STRIKE IN ROME.

Government Means to Check Action by Railway Employes.

Rome, Jan. 27.—The Official Journal announces that the Government has taken a decided stand in view of the rumors of an impending strike upon all the great railways in Italy. The Cabinet announces that it cannot consider a railway strike, affecting as it does, great public interests, in the same category with a strike of ordinary workers, but will class such as a strike of public servants, punishable under the penal code. While determined not to allow a railway strike, the Cabinet recognizes the right of the working classes to improve their own condition, and therefore the Government has approached the railway companies with a view of obtaining the desired concessions, which it is confident it can do.

Smith-Dorrien's Position.

London, Jan. 27.—Major-General Smith-Dorrien was gazetted Saturday night as Adjutant-General in India, vice Lt.-Gen. Sir W. Nicholson, appointed Director-General of Mobilization and Military Intelligence at headquarters.

Killed by Falling Tree.

Halifax, N.S., Jan. 27.—Samuel Witham, aged 46, a farmer, of Clarence, Annapolis County, was killed in the woods on Saturday by a falling tree. He has a wife and family residing in New Hampshire, where the remains will be sent.

Recovered Treasure.

Pekin, Jan. 26.—Chinese officials have found treasure to the value of over 100,000,000 taels in gold and silver, which was buried in the women's quarters of the palace before the court fled from Pekin.

JUST SUGGESTIONS

About Whitewear, Remnants and Mantle Cloths . . . . . .

Yes, this Whitewear has kept up that "wished-for," thought for zip which we expected the values, range and showing space would create. The favourable commendations passed upon it are reiterations, but in a much stronger tone than those expressed at each of Sutcliffe & Sons' previous Whitewear Sales. Only a few more days when February will be ushered in. Select Whitewear during the January White Goods Sale.

REMNANTS! REMNANTS!

No, not made so fast as sold, for Remnants have been selling at a pace these few days back, yet out of this bountiful season's selling we had a big grist to start on. Prices are the object of our urging quick buying.

A very pleasing event took place in the Methodist church on Thursday evening last, when Miss Lily Montgomery was presented with a gold watch and chain by the members of the congregation in recognization of her services as organist in the Sabbath School.

The hockey match which was held in the rink here Friday, resulted in a victory for the Lakeviews of Peterborough. The score being 6-2. Lakefield put up a gallant fight but owing to the Lakeviews being augmented by ringers they were not able to hold down their opponents.

Mr. A. Kilborne spent Sunday in Peterborough.

Mrs. Sam Henderson and daughter, of Toronto, are visiting in the village the guest of Mrs. Henderson's brother, Mr. J. H. Sherin.

Miss Ferguson, nurse, of Peterborough, who successfully nursed Master Plater Sherin through a very severe illness, returned to her home Friday.

On Friday evening last Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cox gave a most enjoyable dance in honour of their son William who is home from Winnipeg on a visit to his parents.

The annual congregational meeting of the Lakefield Presbyterian church was held on Wednesday evening, Jan. 15th. The meeting was opened with devotional exercises. After which the secretary, Mr. Laing, read the minutes of the last meeting. The treasurer, Mr. R. A. Tanner, then read the financial statement which showed the church to be in a very healthful state, financially. The moderator of the Session, Rev. C. A. Campbell, read the report of the Session, which was very satisfactory. After the business portion of the meeting was over, Mr. Abel Hendren, organist, was presented with an address and purse containing a handsome amount. Mr. Hendren replied in a few well chosen words and thanked the congregation for their liberality. An adjournment was made to the school room where the ladies provided refreshments and a social hour was spent.

Miss Fitzgerald, of Ashburnham, is visiting in the village the guest of Mrs. H. G. Fitzgerald.

Miss Glover, of Peterborough, spent Sunday in the village visiting friends.

At the nominations held in the town hall, Tuesday, 21st, for councillors for the village for the year 1902, to fill vacancies caused by the resignations of persons nominated before, the following persons were brought out: Mr. John Hull, Mr. E. A. Tanner, Mr. Sam Wallace and Mr. J. H. Davis.

The Independent Order of Foresters of the village held an oyster supper at the Craig House on Monday evening. Mine Host, John Craig left no stone unturned to give the boys a sumptuous repast.

The Farmers' Institute meeting in the Town Hall on the 14th, was well attended and great credit is due the local committee for the pleasing programme that was presented.

Mr. John Forsythe's large St. Bernard dog attacked Rev. Mr. Hamilton on the street a few days ago, and he had a severe struggle to escape, which he did without much injury. The dog has since been destroyed.

Since the resignation of Rev. Mr. Carson, no service has been held in St. John's church. On Tuesday evening the Rural Dean, Rev. G. Warren of Lakefield, Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, of Ashburnham, and Rev. Mr. McLennan of Norwood, held service, after which a meeting of the congregation was held when it was decided to have a student take the services until the vacancy was filled.

For the Children.

To Keep Their Digestion Perfect Nothing is so Safe and Pleasant as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Thousands of men and women have found Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets the safest and most reliable preparation for any form of indigestion or stomach trouble.

Thousands of people who are not sick, but are well and wish to keep well take Stuart's Tablets after every meal to insure perfect digestion and avoid trouble.

But it is not generally known that the Tablets are just as good and wholesome for little folks as for their elders.

Little children who are pale, thin and have no appetite, or do not grow or thrive, should use the tablets after eating and will derive great benefit from them.

Mrs. G. H. Crotsley, 538 Washington street, Hoboken, New Jersey, writes: "Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets just fill the bill for children as well as for older folks. I've had the best of luck with them. My three-year-old girl takes them as readily as candy. I have only to say 'tablets' and she she drops everything else and runs for them."

A Buffalo mother, a short time ago, who despaired of the life of her babe, was so delighted with the results from giving the child these tablets that she went before the notary public of Erie Co., N. Y., and made the following affidavit:

Gentlemen:]—Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets were recommended to me for my two-months-old baby, which was sick and puny and the doctors said was suffering from indigestion. I took the child to the hospital, but there found no relief. A friend mentioned the Stuart Tablets and I procured a box from my druggist and used only the large sweet lozenges in the box and was delighted to find they were just the thing for my baby. I feel justified in saying that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets saved my child's life

Mrs. W. T. Dethlope.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 12th day of April, 1897.

Henry Karis,
Notary Public in and for Erie Co., New York

For babies, no matter how young or delicate, the tablets will accomplish wonders in increasing flesh, appetite and growth. Use only the large sweet tablets in every box. Full sized boxes are sold by all druggists for 50 cents, and no parent should neglect the use of this safe remedy for all stomach and bowel troubles if the child is ailing in any way regarding its food or assimilation.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been known for years as the best preparation for all stomach troubles whether in adults or infants.

C. P. R.'S NEW STOCK

Application to Government to Increase Capital $20,000,000.

THE CONDITIONS IMPOSED

None of the Stock Shall Be Sold Below Par, and This New Capital Shall Not Be Counted as Actual Cost Before Parliament Can Interfere With Tolls—A Sensible Approach to Control of Rates.

Ottawa, Jan. 27.—In view of the extraordinary rapid growth of the Canadian northwest in recent years culminating in the harvest of 1901, which yielded over 60,000,000 bushels, the public will be quite prepared to learn that the President of the Canadian Pacific Railway has asked the Dominion Government to approve of a resolution authorizing the Board of Directors, with the sanction of the shareholders, to increase the capital stock of that company to the extent of $20,000,000 for the purpose of enabling it to build new locomotives and cars, lay heavier rails, arrange in due course for the double-tracking of certain sections and provide such other improvements as may be found necessary to cope with the large increase of traffic which has already taken place as well as with the still greater increase confidently looked for in the immediate future.

The sums to be applied to each of these betterments are as follows: For new rolling stock and locomotives, $9,000,000; double-tracking, etc., west of Lake Superior, $6,000,000; new plants for construction of rolling stock, chiefly at Montreal, $1,500,000; new elevators, improvement of terminals, etc., $3,000,000; miscellaneous improvements, $500,000; total, $20,000,000. The Government, on its part, has been quite willing to approve of the issue of the stock. It is clear to the Ministers, as to everyone with knowledge of the northwest, that the constantly growing business of the Canadian Pacific requires an increased outlay on capital account, otherwise the interests of all concerned, of the farmers and merchants no less than of the company itself, must suffer from congestion of traffic, and from the impossibility of meeting the requirements of the multitude of new settlers going in every year, chiefly from the western States.

The Condition Imposed.

This, it is believed, is the first time in the history of Canada that a Canadian railway has been financially strong enough to raise additional capital by selling its common stock. But to insure that every dollar of the stock issued shall be represented by a dollar of cash in the betterments of the railway, Ministers have stipulated that none of the stock shall be sold below par. To further safeguard the public interests Ministers have asked the company to agree, and the company has agreed, that in calculating the 10 per cent. which, by the terms of its original contract with the Crown, must be earned by the railway upon the amount of its actual cash cost before Parliament or the Governor in Council can interfere with its tolls, this new stock and the proceeds of it shall not be included in the actual cash cost of the railway. Consequently, although a much greater earning power will be obtained by the company by means of this additional capital, the amount upon which the percentage is to be calculated before tolls become subject to direct supervision by the Government is left as it is at present. In reality therefore Ministers are, by this provision, hastening the time when they shall have the right to interfere and reduce the tolls of the company, if found to be unreasonable. The position of the people of the northwest, and of the Dominion at large, relative to the rates of the Canadian Pacific and their control by the people's representatives, is thus very greatly improved.

Control of Rates.

Again, ever since the original contract was made with the company, twenty years ago, questions have been arising in Parliament as to the proper construction to be placed upon the section just spoken of, excluding the right of Parliament and of the Governor in Council to interfere with the tolls until 10 per cent. has been earned on the cash cost of the road. Having in view the large growth of traffic upon the company's lines, with the corresponding of net earnings, and the probability that both will continue to grow at a constantly accelerated rate, it is obvious that the time is opportune for determining the exact meaning of that section. Accordingly the Government and the company have agreed to submit a friendly reference to the Supreme Court of Canada, or, if necessary, to the Judicial Committee of the Imperial Privy Council, in order that an authoritative interpretation may be obtained without further delay. Here again, it will be seen, the position of the country with respect to the Canadian Pacific and the Government control of its rates in the near future has been distinctly improved. The expenditure within Canada during the next three of four years of $20,000,000, raised in Europe and the United States, will, of course, benefit us all.

ON CRUTCHES.

Even if you are obliged to use crutches Dr. Hall's Rheumatic Cure can fix you up. This was the experience of John J. Peters, Sharbot Lake, Ont. Fortunately he tried Dr. Hall's remedy and it only took three bottles to cure him completely. This great blood purifier is put up in bottles containing ten days treatment. She Had Weak Lungs

Mrs. John McQueen Suffered Severely---Cured by Powley's Liquified Ozone.

I take much pleasure in giving my testimonial to the benefits I have received from the use of Ozone. I have been troubled with weak lungs for some time. Last March I took a bad cold, and in spite of all I could do it was getting worse. One day my husband went to the store for medicine, but failing to get the kind he wanted, the store-keeper recommended Ozone. I had taken a great deal of medicine, but with very little benefit, but as I had nothing else I began to take it. When I had used one bottle and a half, I knew it was doing me good, so I took it as regularly as I could. It cured my cough and built me up in health and strength. I cannot speak too highly of Ozone.

(Signed) MRS. JOHN MCQUEEN,
Boothville, Ont.

Exposure to draughts brings on lung trouble.

Mrs. McQueen says: "Powley's Liquified Ozone cured my cough and built me up in health and strength." In a nutshell that is the action of this wonderful preparation of liquid oxygen. It first of all corrects the disease, then aids Nature to restore the body to health and strength. Powley's Liquified Ozone is the greatest discovery of the age. It destroys the germs of tuberculosis. Forms healthy flesh. It is blood food inducing a healthy condition of the tissues no matter how badly diseased they may have been. You should at least try one bottle if you are affected in the least degree.

EIGHT CONVINCING REASONS...
WHY YOU SHOULD INSURE IN
THE IMPERIAL LIFE ASSURANCE CO'Y OF CANADA.

1. It is a purely Canadian Company, having all its funds invested in Canadian securities, and transacting business only in Canada.
2. It maintains the largest Government Deposit of any Canadian Life Insurance Company.
3. It maintains relatively the strongest policy reserves of any Canadian Life Insurance Company.
4. Its past record — the greatest guarantee of the future — has been unparalleled in Canadian life insurance.
5. Its policy contract is one of the most liberal issued, consistent with safety and equity.
6. It has a Capital of $1,000,000, which makes policy-holders' security unquestionable. At the same time, the assured is practically in the same position regarding profits as if he held a policy in a mutual company, the Imperial's charter providing that at least 90 per cent. of all profits shall be divided amongst policy-holders.
7. For every $100 of liability to policy-holders it holds $180 of securely invested assets. These assets are all of the highest order, and will bear the closest scrutiny.
8. An Imperial policy never depreciates in value, but, on the contrary, is constantly becoming more valuable. It is the most valuable estate you can leave behind you.

MISS STONE FOUND.

Money For Ransom Thought to Have Been Paid on Sunday.

Djumala, European Turkey, Jan. 27.—Miss Stone, the captive American missionary, and her companion, Mme. Tsilka, have been located near Yapyak, in the vicinity of the frontier. The American delegates conducting the negotiations for the release of the captives have arrived at Banisko (about 30 miles southeast of Djumala), and probably paid over the ransom money yesterday. The infant daughter of Mme. Tsilka has been christened Elenika.

Section Boss Killed at Hamilton.

Hamilton, Jan 27.—There was a fatal accident on the C.P.R. spur line, in the rear of Hamilton Cemetery, early last evening, the victim being Charles Campbell. Campbell was a section boss, and he walked down the side hill, just after a freight train going to Toronto had passed. The train become installed at the "Y" and backed up. It is supposed that Campbell did not hear it backing up till it was close to him. He was just clear of the track when the step of the caboose hit him on the head, fracturing his skull. A big hole was made in his head, and he died almost instantly. The police were notified and the body was taken to the morgue at the General Hospital. Coroner Griffin ordered that an inquest be opened at noon to-day.

LORD DUFFERIN'S CONDITION.

It Is Causing Grave Anxiety—Revising His Memoirs.

London, Jan. 27.—The condition of the Marquis of Dufferin, who has been ill for some time past, is causing grave anxiety. Until his recent attack the Marquis was busy revising his voluminous memoirs, which he has been compiling for years. They constitute secrets and records of diplomatic events with which his lordship has been connected since he first went to Constantinople as Ambassador, and fill a number of volumes.

Needs it in business, in study, in the household. Irritability, weakness, lack of strength — the blue feeling — why they just tell you that you lack nerve. You'll use Ferrozone? My! What an appetite you'll get. How quickly the colour will return to your cheeks, how buoyant you'll feel! Work! of course you'll work, for you will enjoy it. That is, if you will use Ferrozone. Feared She Is Lost.

Gloucester, Mass., Jan. 27.— The schooner Rosella, formerly of this port, but recently hailing from Southwest Harbor, Maine, engaged in handling cod fishing, is believed to have been lost, with her crew of six men. She sailed in November, the crew being shipped at this port, and arrived on the fishing grounds all right. During a gale, some time after reaching the banks, she parted her cable, and had to go to Shelburne, N.S., for more. She sailed from that port some time in December, with the intention of returning to the banks to complete her trip, but has never been heard from, and it is feared that the vessel has foundered with the entire crew.

Soldiers Scaled to Weight.

Paris, Jan. 27.—The strength of the French army will henceforth be computable by pounds. A rule whereby conscripts have been hitherto enrolled according to weight has been superceded by a regulation to the effect that recruits must weigh one hundred pounds per five feet in height and proportionately. Young men liable to military service will now train like jockeys in order to reduce their weight below the standard, so as to avoid enlistment.

THE PRINCE'S VISIT

Luncheon and Dinner in His Honor at Berlin, Germany.

WARMLY WELCOMED BY KAISER

The Imperial Family Seconds the Emperor's Efforts—The Emperor's Reference to the Imperial Tour of the British Colonies—H.R.H. Called Upon Count Von Buelow, Imperial Chancellor.

Berlin, Jan. 27.—The Prince of Wales arrived here at 7 o'clock Saturday evening. Emperor William and a brilliant staff were present at the Lehrter Station to receive the Prince. Many of the personages who are now in Berlin for the Emperor's birthday were present. Sir Francis Lascelles, the British Ambassador, was also there. The Kaiser and the Prince exchanged cordial greetings, and drove off together to the Palace. The streets along the route were decorated with evergreens.

When the Prince of Wales arrived at the railway station he wore the uniform of an officer of the First German Dragoons. Emperor had on the uniform of a colonel of the First British Royal Dragoons. The Kaiser embraced the Prince, and shook his hand heartily. Meanwhile, the band played "God Save the King." The Kaiser and Prince entered two state carriages, and drove into the city, under an escort of cavalry. There were great crowds along Unted den Linden, as the party drove toward the royal Palace.

Yesterday passed without any disrespect being shown to the Prince of Wales. German crowds have a too-deeply abiding respect for royal personages, and are too thoroughly policed to openly show an unfriendly feeling toward them; but, in a city where the lifting of one's hat is as universal as ordinary civility, it was singular to see the passing crowds with never a hat raised, and to hear no murmurs of applause.

He visited the Prussian Prince, Count Von Buelow, the Imperial Chancellor, the various ambassadors and other distinguished personages this morning. Soon after 1 o'clock, Emperor William and the Prince drove in a closed carriage to the barracks of the First Royal Dragoons, Queen Victoria's Own. The triumphal archway of evergreens had been erected in front of the porch of the barracks, and the regiments drawn up in parade order. The band played the British Anthem, and after the regiment had marched past the Emperor and the Prince of Wales, the latter proceeded to the regimental messroom, where luncheon was served. The party included the British Ambassador to Germany, Sir F. C. Lascelles, and his staff, Princes Albrecht and Wilhelm Ertel-Friedrich and Prince Henry of Prussia. The luncheon terminated at 3 o'clock, when the Emperor William returned to the Castle, and the Prince of Wales took a train for Potsdam, there to visit the Duchess of Albany, and to lay a wreath upon the tomb of the late Empress Frederick.

In the evening Emperor William and the Empress gave a dinner party to the Prince of Wales in the Elizabeth Hall of the Castle, at which the British minister, Count Von Buelow and Count Von Waldersee, were present.

Emperor William, in his speech toasting King Edward, at the military luncheon in the barracks of the First Royal Dragoons, touchingly referred to the death of Queen Victoria, and adverted to the wonderful colonial tour of the Prince of Wales, as exemplifying the greatness and extent of the British Empire. He invited the company to drink to the health of the Prince of Wales, as the representative of the British army, to which toast the Prince of Wales suitably responded.

CANADA WILL BE AT CORK.

Dominion Will Erect a Pavilion With 6,000 Feet of Floor Space.

Ottawa, Jan. 27.—Mr. Charles Devlin, Emigration Agent for Canada in Ireland, who has been here conferring with Hon. Sydney Fisher touching the Cork Exhibition, states that everything has practically been decided with reference to the display Canada is to make there. It is expected that the King will open the Exposition about May 1, and it will remain open until November 1. The Canadian Government will erect a fine pavilion at Cork, with a floor space of 6,000 feet. It will pay the charges on its own exhibits, but not the charges on exhibits by private parties. Mr. W. D. Scott is to be commissioner for the Cork Exposition, as well as that at Wolverhampton. There is a likelihood that Sir Wilfrid Laurier will pay a visit to Cork on his way back to Canada from the coronation festivities. A big propaganda will be put up by the Irishmen in the United States and Canada, in order to induce a large attendance of outsiders. In this they will be assisted by several of the large steamship companies, which will run direct to Cork.

Medical Science Advances.

It is not more than half a century ago that physicians considered a surgical operation with its risk, expense and pain as the only cure for piles. To-day it is only the out of date doctors that think of such treatment. It is cruel and extravagant to operate for a disease which is far more certainly cured by the application of Dr. Chase's Ointment. You may be skeptical, but for proof you are referred to tens of thousands of cases that have been cured by this famous preparation.

Burned in Monastery.

London, Jan. 27.—In a despatch from Vienna, the correspondent of The Daily Chronicle says that the newspapers of Athens report the celebrated St. Paul monastery on Mount Athos to have been burned last Thursday night, and that the prior and nine monks perished, while 20 others were seriously injured. The monastery itself was damaged to the extent of £80,000.

BOTH SIDES LOST HEAVILY.

Insurgents Near Bogota Defeated, Leaving Three Hundred and Sixty Men Dead—Government Lost Ninety Soldiers.

Bogota, Colombia, Jan. 27.— The Government has made a successful effort to prevent the revolutionists from attacking Bogota.

An important battle was fought several days ago at Facatativa, which is about twenty miles from Bogota. The struggle was bitter.

After long fighting the Government troops repulsed the insurgents, who left three hundred and sixty of their number dead on the field. Ninety of the Government troops were killed.

Antioquia and other departments are sending troops here. Foreigners are enjoying every safety.

Business has been suspended temporarily.

BOY AND GUN AGAIN.

Five-Year-Old Fatally Shot by Nine-Year-Old Friend.

Clinton, Jan. 27.—Lorne Tabb, the four-year-old son of Thomas Tabb of Colborne Township, is dead from a wound inflicted accidentally by his cousin, Ernest Stevens, aged nine. A rifle had been loaned and returned the day previous, and Mr. Tabb, having only one cartridge, placed it in the rifle, an old Snider, and stood it in the corner of the upper hallway. On the day of the accident Mr. and Mrs. Stevens, with their son Lorne, visited the relatives and the children played together, Mrs. Tabb, noticing her nephew near the rifle, told him not to touch it, but he replied: "It is not loaded, as it was fired off yesterday," and the next thing she heard was the fatal shot, that drew her to the hallway, where she found her son dead. The charge from the rifle entered the boy's mouth and blew away a large portion of the head. Death was instantaneous. Dr. Taylor, made an investigation, but decided an inquest unnecessary.

KING'S HEAD WRONG.

Isn't Faced Right and New Issue Is to Be Prepared.

London, Jan. 27.—The design of the new postage stamp, which has been received with very little enthusiasm, is to be changed, not because anyone in authority feels that some concession must be made to the artistic sense of the country, "but because it has only now been discovered that the head of the King faces the wrong way. The rule, strictly observed hitherto on coinage, is that the heads of successive sovereigns shall, for the sake of distinction, face opposite ways. The head of King Edward VII., which is on the stamp faces in the same direction as that of Queen Victoria, and will have to be turned round.

HAD LAME BACK FOR EIGHT YEARS

The Terrible Experience of a Nova Scotia Gentleman, and how he was Cured.

After Such a Long Period of Suffering he is Entirely Restored to Good Health by Dodd's Kidney Pills —He is Very Grateful.

Bridgewater, N. S., Jan. 27th. — (Special.) — Mr. John S. Morgan, a prominent man of this place, has had a terrible time with his back for eight years, but now he is receiving the congratulations of his friends on his complete and satisfactory recovery.

To look at Mr. Morgan to-day one would never suspect that he had been the victim of so much torture, and for such a long time, and yet from his own statement the pain he has endured must have been something awful. He says:

"For eight years I have suffered the most severe pain in my back I had gradually grown worse till at last I was completely crippled up.

"I heard of Dodd's Kidney Pills as a remedy for Lame Back, but as I had tried so many things without any benefit I was beginning to lose all faith in anything. However, I decided to try them, and I can truthfully say I am heartily glad I did so, for they cured me.

"I had run down in weight to about 140 pounds, but during the time I was using the Pills (I used in all about twenty boxes) I regained about 23 pounds.

"Of course I realized my danger, and when I found that Dodd's Kidney Pills were helping me I stuck right close to them after commencing till I was perfectly well again."

Everyone who knows Mr. Morgan knows that he means every word he says, and much interest has been aroused by the publication of his statement.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are well known to be a sure cure for all cases of Lame Back and Kidney Trouble.

Murder or Suicide?

Wiarton, Jan. 27.—Donald Brown, a farmer living in the township of Keppel, was found Friday afternoon stone dead, with his throat cut. It was at first thought that he had committed suicide, as he was not in good health and had become despondent. No weapon was found near the body, and other indications point to murder. An inquest, therefore, will be held to-day, when the coroner will have come from Owen Sound.

Carrie's Wayward Husband.

Columbus, O., Jan. 27. — David Nation, the husband of Carrie Nation, the saloon smasher, is leading a gay life at Mt. Gilead, O., where he is living with a daughter. Saturday night he attended a masquerade disguised as Artemus Ward.

Guy Read and Douglas Patterson, Hamilton boys, had respectively a thigh and leg broken while coasting on Saturday.

Wycliff's Bible.

The first complete translation of the Bible into the English tongue was effected by John Wyclif about 1380. This was the Lollards' Bible, and a large number of manuscript copies must have been written and circulated, for 170 copies are still in existence. There were also many transcripts of certain books as well as of the whole Bible. Wyclif could not go to the original texts, so he translated from the Vulgate, or accepted Latin version. It was not a perfect performance, but the reformer was prevented by death from revising it, as he doubtless intended to do.

The revision, therefore, was undertaken by John Purvey and completed in 1388. It is curious that the whole of Wyclif's Bible was not printed as one book until 1850, when it was published under the editorial care of the Rev. Josiah Forshall and Sir Frederic Madden.

The Natural Remedy.

There is an old negro in Washington who believes that the art of healing is a "gift" not to be acquired. A friend who knew his point of view recently attempted to draw him out.

"You say you're a natural doctor, Uncle Enos. Now, what would you recommend in a case of ague?"

Uncle Enos leaned on his broom in silence for a moment lost in thought, but when he spoke it was with the calm assurance of an oracle.

"De bes' medicine for de ague would be an efflorescent powder to puff out de skin an' lift it off de bones. When de skin is drawed tight over de bones an' de ague begins to shrink it, de bones jes' nachelly painful an' acheful, sah. But de efflorescent powder it fix an' fix inside an' puff out de skin an' obliviate de difficulty in a sho't time, sah."

Divorce For Lord Rosslyn.

Edinburgh, Jan. 27.—The suit of Lord Rosslyn for divorce from the Countess on the ground of desertion came up in court here Saturday. The court room was densely crowded. The Earl testified in a tiresome way that his wife had refused constantly to live with him since 1896. He had repeatedly prayed her to return to him, and had also sought the intervention of friends but without avail. The Earl said that in the last five years he had earned £1,000 a year from his theatrical and literary engagements and had an additional allowance from a friend of £500 a year. After hearing all the evidence in the case the court granted the divorce.

THE NEW WATER COMMISSIONERS.

A Number of Nominations Were Made This Morning.

THE CANDIDATES SPEAK.

An Adjournment Took Place Until 4 O'clock To-morrow Afternoon—A Number of Excellent Men.

The nominations for the positions of Water Commissioners for the town of Peterborough, took place between ten and eleven o'clock this morning, and much interest was displayed by the ratepayers of the town.

When the Returning Officer, Mr. S. R. Armstrong, town clerk, opened the proceedings at ten o'clock, there was a fair representation of ratepayers in the Council Chamber, and as the time wore on the attendance grew much larger.

An interesting feature of the proceedings was the presence of so many prominent business and professional men of the town, and the number of capable men whose names were placed in nomination.

The nominations were as follows:

W. H. Moore, nominated by Wm. VanEvery, seconded by John McClelland.

Wm. Henry Hill, nominated by R. Neill, seconded by Robert Fair.

Thos. Francis Matthews, nominated by P. Hamilton, seconded by A. J. Gough.

William George Morrow, nominated by Robert Fair, seconded by Robt. Neill.

William H. Wrighton, nominated by A. S. McGuire, seconded by Wm. Davidson.

George Ball, nominated by R. F. McGregor, seconded by George B. Cooney.

John E. Belcher, nominated by Jas. Montgomery, seconded by R. Sheehy.

Thomas Evans Bradburn, nominated by F. D. McKay, seconded by Robt. Fair.

R. B. McKee, nominated by Henry Best, seconded by William Langford.

William Fair, nominated by L. Spry, seconded by W. Croft.

Adam Dawson, nominated by Wm. Davidson, seconded by J. J. Hartley.

John B. McWilliams, nominated by R. F. McGregor, seconded by J. Robson.

Robert Maxwell Dennistoun, nominated by R. H. Leary, seconded by R. H. Kells.

NOMINATIONS CLOSED.

At 11 o'clock, Town Clerk Armstrong announced that the hour for receiving nominations had closed and that the above names had been received by him. He declared the proceedings closed until Monday morning next at 9 o'clock, when an election would be held providing all but two candidates had not in the meantime withdrawn.

The ratepayers were about to withdraw when Mr. W. H. Moore proposed that Mayor Denne should take the chair and an opportunity be given candidates and others to express their views on the waterworks question. This question was heartily endorsed and His Worship invited the candidates to take seats within the railing.

The candidates were called upon in order of their nomination, the first being Mr. W. H. Moore. Mr. Moore spoke briefly but decidedly to the point. He began by saying that it was gratifying to him to know that the policy of the town controlling its own franchises, which he had advocated very strongly in the past was now about to be given a trial in the town's asuming control of the waterworks system. It was now their duty to select two men who will devote time and energy towards making the scheme a success and in the selection of such men care should be exercised. The persons selected should in his opinion be men who have held some public office before, men who have business ability, broad minded men and men who are not afraid to do what they honestly believe to be in the best interests of the town. There was another matter; who ever is elected should serve without any thought of renumeration for their services as commissioners. That should be the object of every candidate. The history of Peterborough should show them that capable men may be had without receiving any financial consideration. The aldermen who have during the past 40 years served the people of the town, have, generally speaking, performed their duties in a creditable manner. Take for instance, the Town Trust; it has generally speaking, been carefully looked after, and he might also mention the Little Lake Cemetery Co., in which the directors have given their services gratuitiously, and have placed at the disposal of the town a cemetery that has few equals in the province. Personally, he did not seek nomination, and it was not his intention to go to the polls, for he considered it sufficient honour to have received the nomination for so important an office without seeking further responsibility.

MR. GEORGE BALL.

Mr. George Ball was the next speaker. While his name had been submitted, he did not seek the office. However, if they could induce men like Mr. Moore, to take the office, he would withdraw from the contest, but if there was going to be an election he would certainly stay in the field. There is a principle at stake, Mr. Ball said, and that is the principle of municipal ownership. If we are going to give this principle of municipal ownership a fair trial we must have in view a sympathy with it to manage the waterworks under the new system. He did not see that it necessarily followed that the Water Commissioners should have had previous experience. The Water Company had to try new men at one time, and we can do the same. There is no occasion for an election, said the speaker; it is just as easy for us to get together at this meeting and agree upon two commissioners without spending several hundred dollars in an election. He was prepared to retire with all but two of the nominees, and therefore avoid bringing on an election, but if there was going to be an election he was in the field to stay.

MR. ADAM DAWSON

said that he was gratified for the nomination, and he was pleased to see so many ratepayers present on this occasion, showing the deep interest that was taken in the matter. He was willing to withdraw and allow Mr. Moore and some other gentleman to go in by acclamation, but if there was going to be a contest he was in the field to stay.

MR. J. B. McWILLIAMS

held that he had always advocated public ownership of franchises, and he was pleased to see the ratepayers make a start in that direction. He hoped that they would follow up their recent act by taking over the electric light and other franchises. So far as he knew Mr. Moore and Mr. Ball were the only two nominees who had advocated public ownership, and for that reason he considered that these two gentlemen should be elected by acclamation.

MR. D. W. DUMBLE

spoke at some length. He thought that the town had taken one of the most important steps in its history. They had wisely decided on the ownership of their waterworks system. He believed that the water should be as free as the air—why should any man be allowed to make a profit out of God's pure water? People should be charged only for the labour in supplying the water, and for nothing more. In undertaking the management of the Waterworks System, there comes a fear that the municipal management might not be successful. He was of the opinion that the municipal management would be quite satisfactory. He gave every credit to the men who controlled the waterworks in the past, and he thought that we were not to-day paying too much for the plant. It would require just as careful management in the future, and if you can get men to devote just as much of their time and ability in the management hereafter, there need be no fear as to the outcome. Mr. Dumble at this juncture paid a glowing tribute to the services of Mr. Henderson, the superintendent, who had done much for the success of the present Company. Mr. Dumble then pointed out many difficulties in the way of the commissioners. They must be honest and straightforward and have plenty of ability. There should be one man at least who is familiar with the present management and for that reason he was strongly in favour of Mr. Hill's election. To his mind Mr. W. H. Moore would make a very capable commissioner to act in conjunction with Mr. Hill and the Mayor. Mr. Moore has served at the council and there never was a more able representative. There are other able men no doubt. Men who would make just as good commissioners but he was in favour of placing men in charge who have had experience in this line. He hoped that they could unite on two capable men and avoid an election. The people must have cheaper water and nothing but careful management will give it to us.

Mr. Henry Best made a few remarks concerning the purchase. He thought that the town made a good investment and if carefully managed they should never regret their action. He apprehended no difficulty.

At the suggestion of Mr. J. B. McWilliams the meeting adjourned until 4 o'clock to-morrow afternoon, when all of the candidates and their respective proposers and seconders are asked to attend in order to see if they cannot arrive at some arrangement whereby two capable men may be selected without the necessity of an election.

A New Invention.

We congratulate Mr. Charles I. Hendricks, an old Peterborough boy, and formerly a stenographer in the Examiner office, upon his invention of a copy holder in connection with typewriters. It is claimed that half the time that is now wasted in looking at the note book can be saved, thereby doubling the speed of the operator. It is simple in construction, impossible to get out of order, and is claimed to be the essence of simple perfection. Mr. Hendricks' address is 70 Givens street, Toronto, and those requiring an up-to-date holder should correspond with him.

DEATH OF PETER HENRY.

He Passed Away This Morning at St. Joseph's Hospital.

Mr. Peter Henry, second son of the late Thomas Henry, Esq., passed away this morning at St. Joseph's Hospital, after having been in that institution for a month suffering from cancer of the tongue. The deceased was 39 years of age and until about four years ago was a resident of the town, and was most popular amongst a large circle of friends. For five years before leaving town, he was a member of the well-known merchantile firm of Henry & Co, and for fifteen years previous was employed with Mr. Jas. Stevenson, ex-M.P. After leaving Peterborough Mr. Henry went out to Seattle, and took a position with "Catholic Progress," with which publication he was connected until he was forced by illness to return to Peterborough.

Mr. Henry's kindly disposition and ready wit drew to his side a large number of friends, who will long hold him in remembrance.

The funeral will take place on Wednesday morning from the family homestead, Sherbrooke street.

DEATH OF MR. PURSER.

A Well Known Resident of Buckhorn Passes Away.

The death occurred at Buckhorn yesterday of Samuel Purser, aged 52 years of age.

The deceased gentleman was born in Ireland, and came to Canada when he was very young. His father carried on a blacksmithing business for some years in Peterborough. The late Mr. Purser conducted a general store business at Buckhorn for the past 25 years. He was also postmaster at that place. Mr. Purser was well known as a progressive business man, and was in his day connected with the steamboat lines on the back lakes, being the owner of the steamer Dawn. He was prominent in fraternal societies, being a member of Court Littlejohn, C.O.F., under whose auspices he will be buried, a member of the Orange Order and a member of Beaver Lodge, True Blues. In religion he was an Anglican.

Mr. Purser was twice married, his first wife being Libby Cookson, of Kingston, and his second wife being Marion Elliott of Harvey township. He leaves to mourn his demise a widow and two sons and two daughters. The sons are Messrs. John C., and S. Edward, and the daughters are Miss Hattie and Miss Eliza, all resident at home. The funeral will take place on Wednesday.

THE CASE SETTLED.

Walter English's Friends Have Secured His Liberty.

(Special to the Examiner.)

Toronto, Ont., Jan. 27th.—Walter English, the young Peterborough gentleman who was accused a few days ago of passing checks in this city for which there were no funds, and who pleaded guilty as to the specific case of Clubb & Sons, who got a small check from him, was this morning set free. His friends have paid the amounts due.

INTERESTING EVENT.

The Annual Meeting of the Bible Society on Wednesday Night.

The annual meeting of the Bible Society to be held on Wednesday night in St. Paul's church promises to be the centre of great interest this year and all the churches will unite in making the Society's work in Peterborough a means of great blessing.

At a public meeting recently held in Toronto the Rev. Canon Edwards of Exeter Cathedral, England, said:—

"Ladies and gentlemen, I have been particularly anxious that this Bible Bible Society should have a warm place in the general heart of Christian people. I am too old not to know that there are some people who in some respects will never be converted. You must learn to love them without expecting that they will coincide in everything with what you believe to be possible and desirable. You must be contented if you find people are serving the Lord in their own way, if they are serving Him with all their hearts and with all their soul, and there is a kind of fellowship even in a different type of work if you can feel sure that a man's heart is in it and that his back is in it too. (Hear, hear.) It does not lessen your desire that he should think as you think, and that he should be on your side in the causes that are the dearest of all causes to you, but it prevents you from feeling, as indeed it would be wrong to feel, that there is something wrong with his work altogether if he does not precisely coincide in views with all that you hold dear. But I do believe that it is possible to infuse into the general rank and file of English Christianity, I do believe it is possible to make nearly everybody who is reasonable and persuasible and open to conviction, I do believe it is possible to make nearly everybody agree that this great work demands and ought to receive very earnest and prayerful and devoted support; and for this reason,—that what is different in the Bible Society from anything that has ever been in the Christian Church before is not the object—be quite sure of that. The object of the church from the beginning—that is my point—the object and aim of the missionary church from the beginning has been to put into the hands of the people a translation of the Bible in the very tongue that they speak."

Remember the special offering for the Bible Society work.

What the Port Hope Papers say of the Game.

Arrangements Have Been Made for an Excursion to Cobourg on Thursday Night—Other Notes of Interest.

FRIDAY'S MATCH.

The Port Hope Guide has the following to say of Friday night's game:

Did you ever see such a crowd of enthusiasts go out of a town and travel 33 miles to witness a hockey match? Never in the history of hockey in Port Hope has the enthusiasm run so high, and there surely must be great doin's when fully 300 good citizens would throw away all business cares and hie away to Paterborough to root for the Ontarios. 'Tis true there were very few who felt confident of victory, as it was generally looked upon as a useless thing to try and beat Peterborough on that "soup plate" rink, but all were anxious to see a good fast game—and they saw it.

The Ontarios themselves were not disappointed at being denied another victory, for away down in their hearts they expected it, although there was no outward sign. For one whole week the boys have been unable to practice on account of the soft weather, which played havoc with the open rink, and when a team fails to have even a skate for that length of time, it is quite natural to expect that their former good condition would be greatly affected.

The special train from Port Hope arrived at its destination shortly after 8 o'clock, and in a few minutes the passengers swarmed into the rink, which they made re-echo with the old familiar "war-hoop." Long before the game commenced all the best seats in the rink were taken, and standing room soon became a most desirable position. Even this was taken off the market and many Peterborough people who came late were turned away—every available space was simply jammed, even to the rafters.

When the teams appeared the applause was tremendous, and after a few minutes of a warm up Referee Rose of Toronto, called the players around him and told them the same old story about what he was going to do, if they didn't behave, and then ordered them to get into the game.

Peterborough got very aggressive from the face-off and kept the Ontarios busy for a minute repelling the attacks, but once relieved the visitors went in with a will, and for four minutes the play was in the centre and of that desperate variety which was only ended by the home team getting away for an instant and effecting a score. Then the Peterborough folks howled and howled, happy as could be in other people's misery. Score, Peterborough, 1; Port Hope, 0.

The puck was soon in motion again, and the playing became fiercer, and yea verily, more fierce, there was no let up, both teams were out to win and all hands put every energy into the work. Brown got a bad smash on the right wrist from Morgan, which seriously effected his playing, he being unable to lift the rubber off the ice, and was forced to depend on a different style of play. However, in spite of this handicap, the Ontarios dug in harder than ever, and after 15 minutes of probably the swiftest hockey that ever took place at the rink, the visitors scored, and a cheer, a genuine Port Hope cheer, split the air in twain. Score, one all.

The game proceeded at the same hot pace and McMillan and Armstrong had a mix-up, for which Port Hope had to pay the penalty alone, for some reason or other. With six men to seven the Ontarios plumped in another before half time was called, making the tally 2 to 1 in favour of Port Hope.

During the rest, everything possible was done to alleviate the pain of Brown's arm and also his leg, which had been badly hurt, but it was seen in an instant that his usefulness, as a dashing cover point, was gone for the present, and after a consultation he pluckily decided to do his best at point, and Bourne was moved up. The second half was commenced at the same old speed, both forward lines struggled like tigers, and not much advantage was gained on either side in that respect, but the home team's defence were playing a steady, hard game, taking all kind of chances with the referee. Armstrong got in some of his telling rushes, but strange to say, that in dodging, would get badly tangled and invariably end on his back, and a Port Hope man would sit on the fence for three minutes. The rink is only 48 feet wide and no man could expect to get through without disaster, when eight forwards are racing around together, but as stated before this occurred quite often, and at one time Port Hope was playing five men to seven, which gradually wore the Ontarios down, although, at no time did Peterborough appear to have much the best of it, still when an extra stiff effort was made it told hard on a team which was playing half the time with six men and a badly crippled defence. Peterborough scored four to the Ontarios 0, during the second half, winning out by 5 to 2, which caused no surprise, when the state of affairs was known. During this half Bourne did some great work at cover, and Bobbie Mercer was a star. Brown was in bad shape, but did his best, while the forwards worked like trojans at all times.

Peterborough has a hardy team. It takes seven sound men to beat Peterborough.

If Brown had been in his usual good form the result in the second half would have been different.

The referee put a time limit on some off-side plays.

Nearly $300 was taken in at the gate last night in Peterborough. There is no money in a covered rink, oh no!

The special train arrived in town shortly after midnight, and was welcomed at the Ontario House by a display of Chinese lanterns and sky rockets. You can't discourage them nohow

Quite a number came up from Cobourg, and went out with the bunch. They were of the right colour too, and backed the Ontarios hard. Millbrook also contributed a large number of loyal rooters.

The Ontarios are not down in the mouth after losing last night's game, but are more determined than ever, and when the Electric Town boys run up against them on larger ice things will be different.

The Peterborough people were pretty good, and beyond a little chaffing by the small boys, there was nothing disagreeable. That 'nasty harsh feeling has almost become extinct, and a good job too.

HOCKEY.

The result of Friday night's game between the Port Hope and Peterborough teams came as a great surprise to the visitors and to the 300 enthusiasts that came out to cheer their team on to victory. They never for one minute dreamed of defeat, and were prepared for a great season of jubilation. But both teams could not win, and this was the reason that Port Hope went home defeated. However, one cannot but admire the support that the Port Hope people gave their hockey team. They deserved to win if backing from their townspeople was all that was required. They were all a good natured crowd and were given courteous treatment while here—the teams too exhibited the best of good nature throughout the game. This is only as it should be of course.

The next O.H.A. game in Peterborough will take place on Friday night when the Colts and the Cobourg juniors will face each other. The Cobourg team is a swift little aggregation and should give the locals a hard run.

The Lindsay Club has not been doing much playing on ice this winter, but they have so far done a heap of playing on paper. The president of the Lindsay Club is engaged in a newspaper controversay with Mr. G. B. Henwood of Port Hope regarding the local district schedule, and "Old Sport" of Fenelon Falls writes to the press calling the attention of the public to some "Slurs" which it is alleged were thrown at the club of that town through the columns of the Lindsay press.

Hockey enthusiasts in town will be delighted to learn that arrangements have been made to run a special train to Cobourg Thursday night in order to accommodate those who wish to see the return game with Port Hope.

CURLIANA.

The following games which were scheduled for Friday night last, and had to be postponed owing to the hockey match, will be played tonight, this being an open night;

CATHEDRAL WEDDING.

Nuptials of Mr. Stewart Fanning and Miss Marie Emond.

At six o'clock this morning a very pretty wedding took place at St. Peter's Cathedral, when Miss Marie Emond was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Stewart Fanning, both of town. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father O'Brien. The bride was married in a steel grey broadcloth costume, trimmed with cream applique. She was attended by Miss Marie Lajeunesse, while Mr. Albert M. Doris was best man. The bride and groom were the recipients of many valuable and useful presents.

The wedding breakfast was at Mr. Jerome Lajeunesse's, where the bride has been staying. They afterwards left on the 8.20 G.T.R. train for their future home in Quebec, followed by the best wishes of a host of friends.

NEWS NUGGETS.

—Mr. Robert Redman is concerned least his connection with Friday's Police Court case should be misunderstood. He was the complainant in the case and his creditable record as a law abiding citizen of the town for over forty years should be a sufficient guarantee as to his character.

Carnegie the Great Philanthropist Grants Them $10,000 for Library.

(Lindsay Post.)

Mr. E. A. Hardy, secretary of the Public Library Board, has not been feeling well for a few days, but this morning he received a letter that made him feel like a new man. It was from Mr. Jas. Bertram, New York, private secretary to Mr. Andrew Carnegie, and conveyed the pleasing intelligence that the great philanthropist had granted Lindsay $10,000 for a Public Library building on condition that a free site is granted and $1,000 a year provided for maintenance. How now, Peterborough?

Sparing Nothing.

The only way to thin out the lines where stock is too heavy is to cut deep into prices, then they go. It's like touching a match to gunpowder. That's what we're doing at the Peterborough Bookstore. We have closed a big year's business, and we intend 1902 to be bigger. Present stocks are marked at good-bye prices—some one-fourth, some one-third, some one-half. Books, both cloth and paper-bound, come among the largest reductions, and the fancy goods and leather goods next. We're sparing nothing.—A. H. Stratton & Co.

SQUADRON A, B AND C

Of Second Canadian Mounted Rifles Make a Brave Show.

FIFTY-SIX MEN DISCHARGED

Given Their Discharge For Bad Conduct, For Poor Shooting and For Medical Unfitness—Colonel Neilson's Inspection of the 10th Hospital Corps —An Examination of the Saddlery.

Halifax, Jan. 25.—Yesterday afternoon Squadrons A, B and C of the Second Canadian Mounted Rifles paraded the city. The troopers have all become accustomed to their horses now, and they made a splendid appearance. The parade was witnessed by thousands of people, and many complimentary remarks were heard as the troopers marched past. The Tenth Field Hospital Corps, under the command of Col. Worthington, also took part in the parade, and made a fine showing. The officers were mounted and the men on foot.

Since concentrating at Halifax 56 men have been given their discharge, some for poor shooting, others for bad conduct, and a number as medically unfit. Yesterday Lance Corporal Sargeant of B and Privates McBryan, E. Brandon and H. Johnston of C were granted their discharges.

Private McIver was sent to the infectious disease hospital yesterday suffering with measles. The men of the C.M.R. at present at the hospital as patients are: Troopers Brandon, Johnston, Reed, Thornwell, McBryan, Leighton, Cook, Fleming and Moodie.

A floating target for use by the corps on the passage to Cape Town has been placed on the Victorian. It was made by the Ordnance Department, under the direction of Col. Smythe. There is a dummy figure on a platform, and it is towed behind the ship for rifle practice by the troops.

A board of officers has been inspecting the saddlery, but the result of their report is not known. It is rumored that they were not satisfied with some of the saddlery, but the officers in command do not confirm this.

The 10th Hospital Corps were given a thorough inspection at the Armories yesterday by Col. Neilson, Director-General of the Canadian Army Medical Service. The men were inspected individually, then put through hospital, tent erecting and breaking, after which they marched past. Later on the Director-General visited the men's quarters and inspected their kits. Major Peake accompanied Col. Neilson on the inspection.

Department Transferred.

Ottawa, Jan. 25.—The Militia Department was pretty well denuded of its chief officials yesterday. The Minister and his private secretary, the Deputy Minister, the Chief Superintendent of Military Stores, the Quarter-Master General, the Accountant and the Chief Engineer all left for Halifax, from which port the Victorian will sail on Tuesday with the Canadian Mounted Rifles for South Africa.

DOMINION SHEEP BREEDERS.

Officers Were Elected For the Current Year—The Swine Breeders.

Toronto, Jan. 25.—At the annual meeting of the Dominion Sheep Breeders' Association yesterday the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, R. H. Harding, Thorndale; vice-president, J. M. Gardhouse, Highfield; Sec.-Treasurer, A. P. Westervelt, Toronto. Directors: General Director, A. W. Smith, Maple Lodge; Cotswolds, D. McCrae, Guelph; Leicesters, A. Whitelaw, Guelph; Hampshires and Suffolks, John Kelly, Shakespeare; Dorsets, John A. McGillivray, Uxbridge; Southdowns, John Jackson, Abington; Oxfords, James Tolton, Walkerville; Lincolns, John Gibson, Denfield; Merinos, W. M. Smith, Fairfield Plains; Shropshires, D. W. Hanmer, Mount Vernon; Ontario Agricultural College, G. E. Day, Guelph.

The Swine Breeders' Association met subsequently, and elected G. B. Hood, Guelph, as president; Thomas Teesdale, Concord, vice-president, and W. Jones, general director.

Committees were appointed to act in conjunction with the sheep and cattle breeders in securing Government assistance for an exhibit at the St. Louis Fair, and to prepare a model prize list for exhibition.

The Next Winter Fair.

Toronto, Jan. 25.—The annual meeting of the directors of the Ontario Provincial Winter Fair, Guelph, was held in the Palmer House last evening, with the president, A. W. Smith, in the chair.

The financial statement showed the receipts of the year to be $10,772.95 and the expenditure an equal amount. The following officers were elected: President, A. W. Smith, Maple Lodge; vice-president, W. Hodson, Ottawa; secretary-treasurer, A. P. Westervelt, Toronto.

A Distinguished Visitor.

There arrived this morning from Brantford, at Ormond & Walsh's Pharmacy, six dozen bottles of that celebrated medicine, Merrill's System Tonic. This is not a patent medicine but a reliable remedy prescribed by three eminent doctors and dispensed by a druggist. Purifies the blood and builds up the system; strengthens the nerves and regulates the bowels. Price 50c for 50 doses. Get a bottle to-day while it lasts.

The Doctor's Calls.

Hunt—I have seen Dr. Pellet's carriage at your house three or four times lately. It has alarmed me greatly.

Turner—Nobody's sick. Pellet merely called to collect a bill. Nothing serious, I assure you.

LEROI MINE STRIKE ENDED.

Negotiations Now In Progress With Other Mining Companies of Rossland.

Rossland, B.C., Jan. 25. —The executive of the Rossland Miners' Union makes the following announcement yesterday: The negotiations which have been going on for the past week between John H. MacKenzie, manager for the Leroi Mine Company, and the Executive Board of the Rossland Miners' Union were successfully completed yesterday afternoon. This only applies to the Leroi mines. Negotiations are being carried on with the other mining companies of the camp which have been affected by the strike, but they are not yet completed.

A Throat and Lung Treatment

That Has Been Largely Imitated but Never Successfully Rivalled is Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine.

There is no guesswork about the virtues of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. It has been before the people too long, and withstood too many a battle brunt from aspiring rivals, to be considered an experiment of unknown value.

Year by year, as the fall and winter seasons come and go, the sale of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine increases steadily and certainly. It has proven its remarkable value won its laurels and continues to lead the van as the most popular and most largely used cough and cold medicine of this country.

Children especially are fond of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, because it is sweet and pleasant to the taste, and quickly relieves and cures them when gasping for breath with choked-up air passages, or tearing the linings of the throat and bronchial tubes with a severe and painful cough.

Bronchitis, whooping cough, croup, sore throat, severe chest colds and painful coughs are relieved and cured promptly and thoroughly by this famous preparation. It also frees the asthma sufferer from the dreadful paroxysms which cause him such keen agony and cures asthma, as has been proven in a hundred cases.

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine aids expectoration, clears the throat and air passages, soothes and heals the inflamed linings of the bronchial tubes, and cures coughs of every description. But it is far more than a mere cough cure, for its action is far-reaching and it thoroughly removes the cold as well.

You cannot compare Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine with any remedy you ever used. It is unique as a treatment for throat and lung troubles. There are other preparations of linseed and turpentine put up in imitation of Dr. Chase's, and it is therefore important that that you be careful when buying. 25 cents a bottle; family size, three times as much, 60 cents. At all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. 5

A Story Told by Disraeli.

Disraeli once said: "You know I have the honor of being one of the elder brethren of the Trinity House. Well, there is a special uniform belonging to the office. One day I was about to attend a levee at St. James' palace, and my valet laid out my diplomatic uniform ready for me to put on. Placing implicit confidence in him, I put it on and went to the levee. On appearing before the prince his royal highness jocularly remarked: 'It won't do. You're found out.' 'In what, sir?' I inquired. 'Oh,' said the prince, 'you've got the wrong trousers on.' And to my horror, on looking down I found that I had got my diplomatic uniform coat on with the Trinity House trousers. It seemed to amuse the prince immensely."

Making It Easier to Bear.

"Charley, dear," said young Mrs. Torkin, "do the baby's cries annoy you?"

"Terribly."

"Well, I'll tell you what to do: Make believe baby is at a game of baseball and has just seen a home run."—Exchange.

The Wills of Noah and Jacob.

The origin of testaments is lost in obscurity, but doubtless they followed soon after the first institution of private property. Eusebius says that Noah made a will soon after the flood wherein he disposed of the whole world. He was certainly possessed of a considerable landed estate, but Eusebius' story of the testament in writing and witnessed under his seal needs confirmation.

In the forty-eighth chapter of Genesis, however, we do find mention of a will, wherein Jacob bequeathed to his son Joseph twice as much as to his other children. This was not a testament in writing, but a verbal or nuncupative testament, declared by the testator "in extremis" before witnesses and depending upon oral testimony.

Such nuncupative testaments were at one time recognized in English law, but in the eighteenth century, Blackstone says, they had fallen into disuse and were hardly ever heard of.

Weighing Machines.

Weighing machines and scales of some kind were in use 1800 B. C., for it is said that Abraham at that time "weighed out" 400 shekels of silver, current money, with the merchant to Ephron, the Hittite, as payment for a piece of land, including the cave and all the standing timber "in the field and in the fence." This is said to be the earliest transfer of land of which any record survives and that the payment was made in the presence of witnesses.

The original form of the weighing scale was probably a bar suspended from the middle, with a board or shell suspended from each end, one to contain the weight, the other to contain the matter to be weighed. The steelyard was probably so called from the material of which it was made and from its former length. It is also known as the Roman balance and is of great antiquity.

Pain in the Back

Makes life miserable. Can it be cured? Yes, in one night. Polson's Nerviline gives a complete knock out to pain in the back, for it penetrates through the tissues, takes out the soreness and pain, invigorates the tired muscles and makes you feel like a new man. Nerviline cures quickly, because it is stronger, more penetrating, more highly pain-subduing than any other remedy. Don't suffer another minute; get Nerviline quick and rub it in and as sure as you live it will cure you. 25c.

Cunning Siberian Natives.

When compelled to travel all night, the Siberian natives always make a practice of stopping just before sunrise and allowing their dogs to go to sleep. They argue that if the dog goes to sleep while it is yet dark and wakes up in an hour and finds the sun shining he will suppose that he has had a full night's rest and will travel all day without thinking of being tired. One or even two hours' stop at any other time is perfectly useless, as the dogs will be uncontrollable from that time forward until they are permitted to take what they think a full allowance of sleep.

Indestructibility of Cedar.

The resistance of cedar wood to decay has long been famous, and cedar fenceposts often last for generations. A remarkable instance of the indestructibility of cedar has been noted in the state of Washington, where a forest of hemlocks near Acme has grown up over an ancient buried forest of cedars. The trunks of cedar, although lying in a moist soil, have been almost perfectly preserved for at least 150 years, the length of time that the rings of growth show the hemlocks to have been growing above their fallen predecessors.

GOOD FROM DISEASE

SEVERAL AFFLICTIONS THAT HAVE THEIR COMPENSATIONS.

An Attack of Smallpox, if You Get Over It, Will Add Years to Your Life—Sufferers From Rheumatism and Gout Are Long Lived.

Have you had smallpox? If you have and you have recovered from the terrible disease without your eyesight or hearing being seriously affected, as is very often the case, you may congratulate yourself that smallpox attacked you, for you will probably, barring accidents, live considerably longer and enjoy better general health than if you had never had the disease.

It is a remarkable fact—one of nature's peculiar compensations—that people who have suffered from smallpox generally live longer than people who have not. Why this should be the case there is only an unproved theory to explain, and the theory is that the microbes which go to make smallpox, being very powerful and pugnacious, swallow up the microbes of many other diseases which they find in the systems of the persons they attack; hence, by contracting smallpox severely, you stand a good chance of eliminating from your system other diseases which would seize upon you at some time or other and, likely enough, prove fatal.

At the same time it must be admitted that smallpox is not scheduled as a preventive medicine, and the number of persons it either kills, maims or inflicts with mental incapacities is probably greater than the number of persons whose lives it prolongs.

At the same time it is a fact that the disease, though one of the most terrible known to medical science, does you a great deal of good if you are capable of throwing it off without suffering after effects of a more serious character than being pitted with the queer little marks it almost invariably leaves behind to distinguish its victims.

Numbers of elderly persons in more or less feeble health are kept alive by coughs, such, for instance, as bronchitis. Chronic coughs are peculiarly common to old people, and hundreds who complain of the distress caused them by such affections are really indebted to their coughs for their length of life. The reason of this is that most elderly persons suffer with weak hearts and feeble circulation of the blood, and weak hearts become weaker merely as a result of their weakness. A constant cough corrects this, keeps the heart beating more strongly than it otherwise would, and the strong heart beat keeps the blood circulating more quickly, and the vital organs are thus kept in a state of activity which could only be maintained by artificial means and for a limited time but for the troublesome cough.

Moreover, the constant reminders given by the cough deter the sufferers from running risks of catching colds. In other words, they have to study their health or suffer more acutely from their coughs, and, choosing the former, they benefit accordingly.

Gout and rheumatism are exceedingly painful diseases and of course in some cases prove fatal, but they confer many a blessing upon mankind, and rheumatism particularly is well known to doctors as a preventive of many other diseases. It is a notorious fact that gouty subjects generally live to a ripe age, and albeit they suffer very severely at times they generally enjoy excellent general health, the very causes of the gout keeping their blood in good condition and making it unendurable to many kinds of microbes.

Cases have occurred of whole households, except one member, being stricken down with infectious diseases, and the lucky exception has been a sufferer from rheumatism or gout, which alone has prevented him from contracting the diseases which have run through the house. Such sufferers do not run half the risk of catching the common illnesses that nonsufferers run, and a large proportion of the people who reach ages of fourscore years are people who for years have suffered from gout or rheumatism, to which fact they undoubtedly owe many of the years they have lived over the allotted span.

Take half a dozen persons over the age of seventy who suffer from rheumatism or gout and half a dozen others who suffer from neither and you will find that, except for their rheumatism or gout, they enjoy very much better health than the nonsufferers and stand a splendid chance of outliving the latter. Moreover, gout and rheumatism greatly enhance a sufferer's chances of retaining his mental faculties until the end. A large percentage of centenarians who died with all their wits about them and with excellent memories of the days of their youth have suffered for many years from rheumatism and been particularly free from other diseases.

The loss of a leg or an arm is also said to do you good in the long run. Perhaps that is an awkward phrase to apply to the loss of a leg, but let it stand. It certainly seems that when a man is deprived of a leg or an arm the vitality and vigor of the lost member remain with him to increase the vitality of the remainder.

It has been declared by an eminent authority that when a man has a leg cut off, he being in sufficiently good health not to collapse from the operation, adds two or three, sometimes more, years on to his latter days.

SO NERVOUS I COULD NOT SLEEP.

When there is disease of the delicate female organism, it is only a question of time until the general health becomes undermined. Nervousness, sleeplessness, loss of appetite and "sinking spells" produce suffering almost indescribable. There can be no restoration of the general health until the local health of the womanly organism is re-established.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription establishes regularity, dries offensive drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It encourages the appetite, tranquilizes the nerves and induces refreshing sleep.

"You would be surprised if you could have seen me when I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's medicine and could see me now," writes Mrs. Isaac S. Harris, of Gayville, Yankton Co., So. Dakota. "I had no appetite, was completely run down. Have had stomach trouble for years and was so nervous I could not sleep. We have spent a lot of money doctoring, but there was not one thing that I took that did me any good, except for a short time; till I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery.' In three days after I commenced taking his medicines I could see a change for the better, and from that time I have steadily been getting better. Can walk or ride to any place I want to, and I feel like a new person. Since taking Dr. Pierce's medicines I can sleep all night and never get up tired in the morning; can eat anything and it don't hurt me."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure biliousness and sick headache.

TRIFLES OF DRESS.

Little Things Which Add to a Woman's Appearance.

Steel and black are combined with good effect on many gowns this year.

Some of the smart neckwear is trimmed with the velvet dots which make such good dress trimmings. These dots are set on a wide lace band, which is boned so as to require a lining. The transparent effect of the lace and velvet is very becoming to the skin. Dog collars of black chiffon embroidered with tiny seed pearls are exceedingly handsome with a low necked gown. White silk featherbone is used to give the necessary stiffness to these transparent collars.

Tiny rosettes of black chiffon, gathered very full, appear here and there disposed with apparent carelessness on the skirts of some of the imported ball gowns, and the sashes are frequently of this delicate material. Coat collars and revers are stylish when made of Persian panne edged with heavy guipure lace. Wide berthas of lace appear on many decollete dresses. This is a fashion, however, which can only be adopted by a tall, thin woman.

The latest dinner gown is made with short sleeves. The neck, however, is veiled by a transparent yoke of lace, which has no collar.

The beautiful bride's dress here shown is of cream liberty satin. The collarless waist is laid in fine tucks. There is a full bolero effect of lace, and the blouse portion of the waist is gathered into a plain crushed belt. Directly in front there is a full bow of illusion holding a spray of orange blossoms. The sleeves are partly draped with this illusion, which reappears in tiny puffings among the orange blossoms on the skirt. The latter is made with tiny pin tucks on the hips and a tucked beading to the three flounces of chiffon and lace, which give it fullness.

JUDIO CHOLLET.

The Civil War Mortality.

Commenting on the loss of life in the civil war from various causes, General Francis V. Greene says in Scribner's Magazine:

"How paltry seem the 5,000 killed and wounded in the war of 1812 or the war in Mexico or the war with Spain compared with the 14,000 at Shiloh, 15,000 at the Chickahominy, 12,000 at Antietam, the same at Fredericksburg, 16,000 at Chancellorsville, 28,000 at Gettysburg, 16,000 at Chickamauga, 37,000 in the Wilderness and 26,000 at Spottsylvania! The grand aggregate of destruction fairly staggers the imagination, accustomed as we have been for more than a generation to the figures—93,000 killed by bullets, 186,000 killed by disease, 25,000 dead from other causes, a grand total of 304,000, or about one in nine of every man who wore the uniform."

Betrayed His Ignorance.

"I wish to get a position as brakeman," said the caller respectfully.

The great man sized him up. "Um. Ever have any experience?"

"Sir, I have been a railroad man for eighteen years."

The great man reflected some. "Um," he said. "Er—would you kindly close the door? I seem to feel a draft."

The applicant arose and closed the door gently.

"Huh!" snorted the great man. "Thought you could impose on me, eh? Get right out o' here! A railroad man would have shut that door so hard it would have jarred my false teeth out!"

The great man was right.

It quickly relieves and cures all kinds of Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness, and diseases of the respiratory organs. Don't give up hope till you have tested Catarrhozone. It has restored lost hearing to thousands, and can do the same for you. Catarrhozone is a vegetable antiseptic, pleasant and convenient to use, absolutely certain to quickly benefit and ultimately cure. Two months' treatment $1.00. Catarrh.

The word catarrh, as popularly used, means either nasal catarrh or bronchitis. Nasal catarrh is often helped by snuffing up, so as to carry it into the mouth, a weak solution of salt and water, repeating the operation several times a day. Where the disease is very persistent it is well, when possible, to try a change of climate. In bronchitis the case should be attended by a physician.

The Drawback to Originality.

"Why do you keep repeating quotations?" asked the irritable man. "Why don't you say something original?"

"My dear sir, there's no use of that. Every time I think of anything good enough to be original I find that somebody said it years ago."

YEN. ARCHDEACON CASEY

Welcomed by Pupils of St. Joseph's Convent.

Presented with an Address and Bouquet —A Delightful Musical Programme Rendered. -The Archdeacon's Reply.

From the Lindsay Post.

Among the many hearty greetings received by Venerable Archdeacon Casey since his advent into the parish of Lindsay, none was more cordial than that extended to him on Wednesday evening by the pupils of St. Joseph's Convent. Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather all—even the little tots—braved the danger of being lost in the snow banks, and their bright, glad faces, and their sweet voices as they sang their welcome chorus, must have gladdened the heart of their new spiritual father.

The following is the address, which was read by Miss Rose Zeufeldt, and which was accompanied by a beautiful bouquet presented by Miss Clotilde McGinniss.

To Venerable Archdeacon Casey;

Reverend and Dear Father, — We, the children of the Convent School, are to-day assembled to extend to you with words of love and greeting, —Welcome, a hearty welcome, to Lindsay.

Little more than two months ago our hearts, and those of our parents and friends, were well nigh crushed with grief over the great loss we had sustained. The inevitable hour came quite unexpectedly for our beloved father, Right Reverend Monsignor Laurent, and he, whose priestly life had been devoted to the noble work of uplifting frail humanity, resignedly obeyed the summons. That most consoling dogma of our holy religion, the Communion of Saints at such times brings to us consolation and peace, in the divine assurance that the good die not and that death is but the going on before. We, his Convent children, whom he so particularly favoured, have his encouraging words, his teaching, his unselfish interest in our welfare and, above all, his example, as incentives to become better children of that church which testifies the highest ideals of the soul.

Pardon us, dear Father, if, on an occasion like this we make much reference to our dear departed. Loving remembrance of your predecessor must be a guarantee of our devotedness to you. Tidings preceded your coming of the universal regret experienced in Peterborough by the severance of the sacred ties which for eight years united pastor to people, father to children. In our town, as in the episcopal city, you will find warm, true, loyal Catholics, whose faith is dearer to them than all things else, whose clergy are loved and revered because ambassadors of the God-man who descended to earth to establish His church. Here also you will meet with affectionate children whose respect and esteem your dignity as the Lord's Annointed must ever command, and whose hearts you have already won through your unvarying kindness to and love for the little ones, and the earnest and successful efforts you have ever made for the promotion of that cause so dear to the heart of the Divine Master—the grand and holy cause of education.

Again we say to you — "A most hearty welcome." May your recent regrets ere long be merged in affection for Lindsay. May you be spared for many years to the sacred service of the Most High. May you this evening open and ever keep a snug corner of your great and generous heart for your loving Convent children.

Father Casey was evidently much affected by the kindly sentiments expressed in the address. After congratulating the young ladies on their creditable performance he said that as one of his greatest regrets on leaving Peterborough, one of his greatest regrets was the severance of ties with the children of the schools, so on coming to Lindsay one of the greatest pleasures he experienced was the kindly welcome from the little ones. He congratulated the Sisters of St. Joseph's upon the excellent work which they had accomplished in Lindsay. Other schools of the kind taught nothing beyond Entrance work, but here the young ladies enjoyed the advantages of being able to obtain certificates and fit themselves for any position in life, the while they were surrounded by all the safeguards and helps of religion that would help them to realise in their lives the Catholic ideal of womanhood. In conclusion he asked them to pray that he might be long spared to continue the good work of his predecessor in Lindsay.

All Plump and Rosy.

If all the plump and rosy children in the world could be collected together into one place it would be surprising to find how many of them owe their strength and health to Scott's Emulsion.

SUGAT BEETS.

To the Editor of the Examiner,—

Dear Sir, — I beg to send you a few lines, for which I hope you will find room in your paper, in regard to affairs that relate to the proposal to establish a beet sugar factory in this county.

Many I know are finding fault with the township councils for not falling in with the request of the committee appointed at Mr. Moody's meeting in Peterborough to send delegates to Michigan to observe, make inquiries and report, as to the suitability of the industry for this part of the province.

Now, personally, I was in favour of sending a delegation for I am convinced that the information we would get would well repay the few dollars that would be expended, and it is more than likely that it would very much tend to put renewed life into the movement.

But as to the reason why the Otonabee Council took no action, the explanation came out in the discussion that took place on the subject at the nominations. There was a fair attendance from all parts of the township in Keene upon that occasion, and all seemed fairly well informed as to the benefits that all classes of the people would reap from the industry.

But the farmers agreed with the statement that there was no need in wasting time looking for further information than the published reports of the delegates sent from Lindsay, and other parts of the province; they had read these reports and were satisfied that they were all right—had as much confidence in them in fact, as if they were the reports of delegates chosen by themselves. Consequently, they argued, all that is needed, is to go to work among the people and get contracts signed for a sufficient acreage to supply a factory, and they were confident with the showing that Peterborough had made in the Government test, as well as by our undoubted advantages over other places in the possession of every requirement essential in a first class factory, that we would soon have sugar factory promoters applying for a site on which to build. We might not get the factory proposed by Mr. Moody, but others would be found seeking for a good place to invest.

Such was the opinion of the people of Otonabee, as expressed at the nominations, and it is my own opinion, and it is the very line, too, upon which the people of Victoria County are now wisely acting—in fact, working like beavers, and if we don't soon wake up from our indifference, and "get a hustle on," we may see in the near by and bye what would be always to us a grim reminder of our own apathy — namely, beets by the train load going from here to a sugar factory in Lindsay.

In order to find out how much the farmers are alive to their own interests in this matter, is it not advisable that arrangements be made at once to hold meetings in the school houses of the townships, and ascertain the quantity of beets that can be contracted for, and devise such means as may be thought best to secure that result.

Now, sir, in view of all the facts connected with this important enterprise—the most desirable that is now in sight, I am bold to say, or likely to be in sight for years to come, surely it is the height of folly in us if we leave any stone unturned that would assist in securing this industry.

Thanking you for space,

I am, yours truly,

ROBERT A. DEYELL.

Jan. 21, 1902. Otonabee.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.

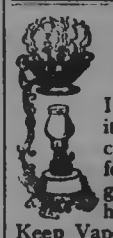
Alf Jackson, Who is Well Known in Peterborough.

Alfred J. Jackson, former traveller and collector for the Dominion Brewery Company, was, at the Toronto Police Court, on Friday, committed for trial on three charges of theft, a fourth being withdrawn. E. Gus Porter, M. P. defended him.

George Mason, bookkeeper for the Brewery Company, produced receipts purporting to have been given by Jackson to Mrs. M. Bowman, hotelkeeper of Peterborough, for $40; C. G. Harris, of Oshawa, $8, and Alex. Elliott, of Peterborough, $10. There were no entries of these amounts in Jackson's collection books.

Mrs. Bowman, of Peterborough, swore that she gave Jackson $40 and got the receipt, the money being paid for cased ale.

Crown Attorney Curry stated that the firm figured their loss at $1,300, and that the accounts involved totalled up to nearly $3,000. Jackson's bail was increased to $4,000.



The Croup.

It's a terrible thing, isn't it? Somehow, that awful cough, that hard struggle for air, can never be forgotten. Be a little forehanded and prevent it. Keep Vapo-Cresolene in the house, and when the children take cold let them breathe in the vapor during the evening. It goes right to the throat, just where the croup lies. All irritation subsides, the cough quiets down and serious trouble is prevented. It never fails to cure whooping cough.

Vapo-Cresolene is sold by druggists everywhere. A Vapo-Cresolene outfit, including the Vaporizer and Lamp, which should last a life-time, and a bottle of Cresolene, complete, $1.50; extra supplies of Cresolene 25 cents and 50 cents. Illustrated booklet containing physicians' testimonials free upon request. Vapo-Cresolene Co., 180 Fulton St., New York, U.S.A.

METHUEN'S REVERSE

Lost 8 Killed, 5 Wounded and 51 Made Prisoners.

400 BOERS CAUGHT LAST WEEK

Gen. Bruce Hamilton Got Exactly 100 at Nelspan and Col. Plumer Caught 55—Field Cornet Bodes Quarrelled With His Command and Surrendered With Three of His Force—News of the War.

London, Jan. 29.—A long despatch from Lord Kitchener, dated Johannesburg, Monday, January 27, gives details of the military operations since January 21. They are mostly unimportant, but indicative of continued activity on the part of the Boers.

General Methuen's Yeomanry got into trouble near Rietoleim, Western Transvaal, and lost eight men killed, five wounded and forty-one made prisoners. The prisoners have since been released.

This was offset by General Bruce Hamilton's pursuit of the Boers in the vicinity of Ermelo, Transvaal Colony, resulting in the dispersal of a Boer laager at Nelspan. The Boer losses were two men killed, four wounded and ninety-four made prisoners, including Field Cornet De Villiers, Captain De Jager and Lodwate De Jager, a former member of the 1st Volksraad.

In addition Col. Plumer captured fifty-five Boers.

Lord Kitchener reports that Field Cornet Bodes' command quarrelled while discussing the question of surrender. Bodes and three of his followers surrendered.

The week's Boer losses were 51 men killed, 20 wounded, 322 made prisoners and 53 men who surrendered.

HELP FROM HOLLAND.

An Interesting Proposed Peace Announcement Made by Mr. A. J. Balfour in the Imperial House of Commons.

London, Jan. 29.—The Government leader, A. J. Balfour, announced in the House of Commons yesterday that no overtures for peace had been received from anyone authorized to speak in behalf of the Boers.

A communication was, however, received late on Saturday last, from the Dutch Government, which was now under consideration. Mr. Balfour hoped shortly, to lay the communication and the reply to it before the House.

The Government of Holland has tendered, in the most friendly terms, to help in bringing about peace in South Africa. In a communication to the British Government, the Dutch Government suggests that it might be permitted to act as a sort of diplomatic agent for the Boer delegates. But the Government expressly disowns any attempt at intervention, and does not mention any terms.

It was learned that the British Government thinks it would not have been approached unless the Dutch authorities were convinced that the Boer delegates now in Europe were willing to accept the cardinal points of the British peace terms, so frequently announced in parliament.

Lord Lansdowne, the Foreign Secretary, replied in friendly terms to the Netherland proposal, but he instituted inquiries in order to ascertain the extent of the powers delegated to Mr. Kruger and the other Boer representatives in Europe to act in behalf of the burghers in the field. Great doubt is expressed at the Foreign Office here as to whether any negotiations carried on by the Boer delegates, through the Dutch Government or other channels, will prove effectual. If satisfactory guarantees in this respect can be secured, negotiations will be immediately commenced.

COMMISSION TO COLONIES.

Britain Will Allow Three Per Cent. on Local Contingent Expenditures.

London, Jan. 29.—There has been no dispute between the colonies. Canada, Australia, and New Zealand expended large amounts in behalf of the War Office, and in making up the bills, some of the business-like Australian premiers added 3 per cent. commission. The War Office referred the matter to the Colonial Office.

The question was raised by William H. K. Redmond (Irish Nationalist) in the House of Commons yesterday.

Mr. St. John Brodrick, Secretary of State for War, replied that the usual commission of three per cent. on local expenditure in connection with the raising and equipping of the contingents furnished for South Africa would be allowed the colonies by the Imperial Government.

Detroit, Jan. 29.—William J. Sculthorpe was sentenced to six months in the House of Correction yesterday for stealing copper wire. He cried when sentenced. His home is said to be in Port Hope.

JUST SUGGESTIONS

About Whitewear, Remnants and Mantle Cloths . . . . . .

Yes, this Whitewear has kept up that "wished-for," thought for zip which we expected the values, range and showing space would create. The favourable commendations passed upon it are reiterations, but in a much stronger tone than those expressed at each of Satcliffe & Sons' previous Whitewear Sales. Only a few more days when February will be ushered in. Select Whitewear during the January White Goods Sale.

REMNANTS! REMNANTS!

No, not made so fast as sold, for Remnants have been selling at a pace these few days back, yet out of this bountiful season's selling we had a big grist to start on. Prices are the object of our urging quick buying.

MANTLE CLOTHS

In Beavers, Tweeds and plaid backs, worthy goods. Some of them already shrunk, and all of them way under the usual price. The lowest one sold at $1.25, and they are worth up to $2.25 per yard, but go they must, and the price to make it easy is, per yard..... 89c

AN ELECTION A SURE THING.

Seven Candidates are in the Field

FOR WATER COMMISSIONERS.

A Number of the Candidates Sent in Their Resignation Today—Yesterday's Meeting.

The mass meeting of electors and nominees for the position of water commissioners for the Town of Peterborough which was held at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon was not productive of much good as far as its objects were concerned. It had been thought that, by a mutual understanding between the nominees for the office of town commissioners and their respective movers and seconders, that an election could be avoided and the town saved of at least $200 additional expense. When the meeting was called to order by His Worship, Mayor Denne at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon there was a rather representative gathering. Nearly all the nominees were in attendance as well as a fair representation of ratepayers.

Mayor Denne explained what the object of the meeting was, viz., to see if some arrangement could not be arrived at whereby the expense of an election might be avoided. Since the nominations had been made there were only two withdrawals. These were Messrs. R. M. Dennistoun and R. B. McKee. If there was any means by which they could agree upon two commissioners without going to the polls he would be pleased to hear of any suggestions in that line. The Mayor said in conclusion that it was his opinion that there seemed to be no sign of any such agreement being arrived at and he therefore suggested that the proceedings be adjourned until 9 o'clock next Monday morning when an election would take place to decide who the two commissioners should be.

Mr. Dumble said that it had been suggested that the meeting take a ballot as to who the citizens might wish to see elected. The two gentlemen receiving the highest number of votes would be looked upon as the city ticket. Mr. Dumble said further that it was not an election in which the popularity of the candidate should come into consideration. There are some people who may be popular that could not make a good pound keeper.

Mr. Adam Dawson—I think that that is an insult of this meeting, Mr. Dumble.

Mr. Dumble—What I say is perfectly true. There are lots of good hail and hearty good fellows that could not properly discharge the duties of pound keeper.

Considerable discussion then took place as to how to overcome the difficulty.

Mayor Denne said that he was going to advocate that the election of water commissioners be for a term of three years. We are going to apply for special legislation in this regard. A water commissioner is just beginning to be of some use to the public when he has to seek re-election. They have just as much reason to be elected for a longer term of one year as have school trustees.

The meeting then developed into a free for all talk on the merits of the respective candidates, and dispersed without anything material being accomplished.

The following gentlemen have withdrawn their names from the list of candidates for the office of Water Commissioners: Messrs. W. H. Moore, W. G. Morrow, W. H. Wrighton, R. B. McKee, J. B. McWilliams and R. M. Dennistoun. The candidates who will stand for election are therefore Messrs. T. F. Matthews, W. H. Hill, Geo. Ball, Adam Dawson, T. E. Bradburn, J. E. Belcher, and Wm. Fair.

MUNICIPAL FINANCES.

(From the Ottawa Free Press.)

The report of the Provincial Secretary is indicative, not only of the progress being made within the borders of the Province, but also of the zeal displayed in its interests by the gentleman who holds the portfolio. One of the items of provincial administration which he brings into especial prominence is the great change for the better witnessed in the care of the municipal funds, and the increased vigilance displayed in the audits. The municipal auditor commences his report with the gratifying assurance that the improvement in municipal accounts throughout the province, to which he called attention in his report for last year, still continues, and he further states that he has no losses of importance in the form of deficits of municipal treasurers to report for 1901. This seems as though a system, which will prevent the deficits and sometimes defaults of the past, has been successfully inaugurated. Regularity is now the order of the day, though the reports indicate that here and there during the past year a treasurer was occasionally found who did not make use of the account forms recommended by the government, but such cases were rare and are getting more so year by year, but generally the municipal treasurers in Ontario used and appreciated the new forms of account because they tended to accuracy. One matter in connection with the municipal finances seems to need some greater care and attention. Sufficient attention, we are told, is not given by local auditors to the guarantees of municipal treasurers. The Provincial Auditor says, "there is reason to believe that these securities are in many cases worthless, being improperly drawn out, outclassed or expired by effluxion of time." Many recommendations are made as to details which municipal officers will do well to attend to carefully. It is, however, evident that Mr. Stratton's office is in perfect shape and making for the beneficial administration of provincial affairs.

ON STARTING IN LIFE.

The editor of the Ladies' Home Journal has aroused the ire of a great many newspaper writers and correspondents by the advice in domestic affairs which he tenders so freely. He is particularly fond of telling young married people what they should do. Recently he called the attention of all young people to the foolishness of buying anything but the best furniture. This aroused a reader of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, who wrote to that paper as follows:

"Just such advice has been the cause of more young men going to the wall than any other one thing, whiskey excepted. Suppose a man working for $6 to $9 a week — and I know lots of them not making that much. Let him go to a furniture store and pay $60 for a bed, table and two chairs, as advised, and nine times out of ten he has to go begin ever head in debt. If he furnishes the rest of the home to correspond with his bedroom, it will take costly repairs for at least three rooms—bathroom, sitting-room and dining-room—to say nothing of his kitchen, with a $70 range, with chairs, tables, china closets, sideboards and many other things too numerous to mention. Of course all this display would call for a piano, a cook, and at least one servant, and if the young man is not wealthy, at the end of a year he will be so hopelessly in debt that he will never get out. Young men living beyond their means, make more defaulters, embezzlers, drunkards and gambling than any one thing in the world, besides burglaries and other crimes, to make both ends meet. I would say to all young men starting in life: Furnish your home according to your income, and make that rule in all your transactions, and you will be all right. The writer of that article conveys the idea that a suite costing less than $60 is not worth hauling home, but right here in this wooded country where I live you can buy a good solid oak suite for $20 that will last a lifetime, with proper care, and I also know lots of young men who started housekeeping on half what the author would have them spend on a bedroom suite, who are now in good circumstances, and if the truth were known, I expect they are worth more to-day than the writer of that article, unless it was inherited. A person who works for his money wouldn't write such stuff. It makes me tired to read it."

LAKEHURST.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Our quiet little hamlet had a ripple of excitement on Wednesday last, the occasion being a strike amongst the woodmen working at Deer Bay in Shaw and Shearer's camp. Some dozen men are working in the gang under the direction of a foreman, cutting timber for the Rathbun Co. Deseronto. On the day above mentioned five men and two teams deserted the camp and struck work. They asserted that the foreman was tyrannical and abusive, and frequently indulged in profane language without provocation. He also refused to keep the road to the dump in good order, and put on pretty stiff loads, and was generally disagreeable. The boys therefore refused to work under his leadership and left the camp. Mr. Shaw held a consultation meeting with the boys, and settled matters amicably. They returned to work on Friday morning but not under the former foreman. They are to work separately in a body on Mr. Shaw's own lot, under his direction. Messrs. H. Elliott and H. Coons are joint foremen of the new gang. We have no doubt all will go merrily on as Robt. Shaw is popular with the boys as well as in the community at large.

Mrs. A. G. Shearer has been under the weather the past few days.

Mrs. Shaw is gradually improving and on the sure road to recovery. She had a long and hard illness but thanks to the skill of Dr. Bonnell, is being restore to health.

Mr. John Weir has gone to Peterborough to attend the Business College. John has the necessary plod and push in him to make a success of business life.

HAD LAME BACK FOR EIGHT YEARS

The Terrible Experience of a Nova Scotia Gentleman, and how he was Cured.

After Such a Long Period of Suffering he is Entirely Restored to Good Health by Dodd's Kidney Pills He is Very Grateful.

Bridgewater, N. S., Jan. 27th. — (Special.) — Mr. John S. Morgan, a prominent man of this place, has had a terrible time with his back for eight years, but now he is receiving the congratulations of his friends on his complete and satisfactory recovery.

To look at Mr. Morgan to-day one would never suspect that he had been the victim of so much torture, and for such a long time, and yet from his own statement the pain he has endured must have been something awful. He says:

"For eight years I have suffered the most severe pain in my back. I had gradually grown worse till at last I was completely crippled up.

"I heard of Dodd's Kidney Pills as a remedy for Lame Back, but as I had tried so many things without any benefit I was beginning to lose all faith in anything. However, I decided to try them, and I can truthfully say I am glad I did so, for they cured me.

"I had run down in weight to about 140 pounds, but during the time I was using the Pills (I used in all about twenty boxes) I regained about 23 pounds.

"Of course I realized my danger, and when I found that Dodd's Kidney Pills were helping me I stuck right close to them after commencing till I was perfectly well again."

Everyone who knows Mr. Morgan knows that he means every word he says, and much interest has been aroused by the publication of his statement.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are well known to be a sure cure for all cases of Lame Back and Kidney Trouble.

A Double Drowning.

Halifax, N.S., Jan. 28.—A double drowning occurred at Lunenburg on Sunday evening. John Croft and his wife were crossing Minake Lake on the ice, when they walked into an open space of water and went down. They were over 60 years of age. When their bodies were found yesterday they were locked in each other's embrace.

VICTORIA IS LIBERAL

Mr. Riley Returned for the Seat by About 500 Majority.

FIRST LIBERAL EVER ELECTED

Great Rejoicing Over the Election Result —The City Went Mad Over the Election —A Big Procession Through the Streets—He Takes Colonel Prior's Place in the Commons.

Victoria, B.C., Jan. 29.—For the first time in its history Victoria returns a Liberal to the Commons. Mr. Riley beat Mr. Barnard last night by 421 in the city, with outlying districts swelling the majority to 500. His majority at Cedar Hill was 2, and at Boleskin Road 7.

The election was rendered necessary by the unseating of Col. Prior.

Victoria went mad last night over Riley's election. At 7.30 the committee rooms were jammed with enthusiastic Liberals, scarcely able to believe that the old Tory city had actually given the Laurier Government a supporter. Speeches were made by leading Liberals, and then a big procession, headed by a band, and followed by hundreds of men with burning brooms, marched through the principal streets.

In front of The Times office, Senator Templeman's paper, a halt was made and the office serenaded, while Candidate Riley made a speech, interspersed with vigorous cheers. A stop was also made opposite the Union Club, one of the Conservative centres of the city. In front of it Col. Prior was met, with some friends, and the ex-member lifted his hat and amiliagly acknowledged the chaffing of the processionists. After an hour and a half's marching through the streets the procession broke up. The victory is regarded as phenomenal, bets being freely offered at bigs odds in favor of Barnard. Mr. Riley's secretary said yesterday that he would have between 400 and 500 majority, but very few were that sanguine. The Tories imported Sir Hibbert Tupper, while the Liberals had the assistance of Mr. Aulay Morrison from the outside.

THE SALE COMPLETED.

The Canada Atlantic Railway Has Changed Hands—Now an Ally of the Canadian Pacific.

Ottawa, Jan. 29.—Dr. Seward Webb yesterday morning completed the final details for the purchase of the Canada Atlantic Railway. The line now belongs to the New York Central, and it will assume control as soon as the C.A.R. management is prepared to hand it over.

Dr. Webb outlined to the newspapers yesterday the plans the Vanderbilt-Rockefeller-Morgan Syndicate intended to put in operation upon the Canada Atlantic Railway.

"We will start out," he said, "with the construction of a new elevator of 2,500,000 bushels' capacity at Depot Harbor, and the immediate purchase of one thousand box cars to handle grain. The passenger train scheduled between New York and Ottawa will be shortened by two hours, after the piece of road from Noyan Junction to Coteau is finished.

"We have bought the fleet of steamers, operated in connection with the Canada Atlantic, and, moreover, we will abandon our present line of sixteen boats, operating between Ogdensburg and Chicago, through the Welland Canal, and put them also on between Depot Harbor, Chicago and Duluth, bringing all of the grain traffic over the Canada Atlantic, and, incidentally, passing through Ottawa. Where needed, we will put in double tracking, but at the start, we propose to expend a great deal of money in motive power and other equipment."

"Is there to be any diversion of the grain traffic from Canadian to American ports?" was asked.

"No, I think that that would be a very foolish policy. The line will, as usual, take western grain over its road, and export it from Montreal, Quebec and Sorell. It is the same company, exactly, which is building the Quebec South Shore Railway, which is to connect with the C.A.R., and make one big Canadian system. What we will do, however, is to run some of the grain through Boston, and, possibly, New York, in winter, because, in this part of the country, Canada has no winter port. Sending the grain to those places in winter will, you know, benefit the Rutland branch of our system."

Dr. Webb announced that his syndicate would erect the central station at Ottawa, for which the city paid a $50,000 bonus long ago to Mr. Booth. There is nothing to bind the company to do this, however. It is the intention of the syndicate, also, Dr. Webb says, to double-track portions of the Canada Atlantic, and generally improve the roadway; also to work a big tourist traffic through the Adirondacks and the Algonquin Park, and thence, by a line of palatial steamers, through the great lakes.

Dr. Webb declined to state the amount of the purchase price of the road. Neither would he say what the bond issue is to be. "You know," he said, "it is a matter that doesn't concern the public."

Loss of Flesh.

If you find yourself falling below normal weight there is danger. The use of fish oils can temporarily add fat, but will never build up healthy tissue. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food acts through the blood and nervous system and carries new life and energy to every nook and corner of the body. It regulates the various organs of the body, makes the appetite good, adds healthy flesh and replaces the tissues wasted by disease. Gradually and naturally this food cure restores colour to the cheeks, increases the weight of the body, and thoroughly overcomes disease.

These are Mr. Barton, Premier of the Commonwealth of Australia; Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Premier of the Dominion of Canada; Sir Gordon Sprigg, Premier of Cape Colony; Sir Albert Hime, Premier of Natal; Sir Robert Bond, Premier of Newfoundland, and Mr. Richard Seddon, Premier of New Zealand. Hotel Cecil Burned Down.

Ottawa, Jan. 27.—The Hotel Cecil was burned to the ground at an early hour Saturday morning. The hotel was owned by ex-Mayor Davidson, who rebuilt it and had it newly furnished about three years ago. The loss is about $60,000; insurance, about $30,000. The guests on the first floor saved their belongings, but those on the fifth floor had to run for their lives in their night clothes. Some of them had to be taken out of the windows with ladders. One man held on for ten minutes by the window sill in his nightshirt until a ladder reached him. It is supposed that the fire started on the fourth floor in the switchroom from bad insulation.

Miller's Compound Iron Pills, only 25 cents for 50 doses. Sold by Ormond & Walsh.

Stage Driver Drowned.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Jan. 28.—In a fierce blizzard that raged on Sunday night one of the stages that runs across the river between here and the Canadian Soo went through the ice. John Lebia, the driver, was swept under the ice with the horses and sleigh and drowned, while the three passengers were rescued with great difficulty by three other passengers, who had become alarmed and left the vehicle shortly before the accident.

Just 400 Years After.

In 1492 Columbus discovered America. In 1892, just 400 years later, Merrill, a Brantford druggist, discovered Four T's, the great guaranteed cough and cold cure. In 5 years the sale of a quarter million bottles has proven that Four T's never fails to cure a cough in 24 hours and a cold in two days. Large bottles 25c at Ormond & Walsh's drug store.

Britishers Ill Treated.

Kingston, Jamaica, Jan. 28. — Representations have been made to the Governor, Sir Augustus Hemming, regarding the ill-treatment of British subjects at Bay Islands, Honduras, by soldiers, with the connivance of the Government, and complaints on the subject are being sent to London.

McMULLEN'S LONG "TERM"

Eight years in the toils when South American Kidney Cure gave him his liberty.

Michael McMullen read in the newspapers of South American Kidney Cure, and when doctors tried hard and had failed to cure him, he, with the faith of a prophet commenced the use of this greatest of Kidney Specifics. In his own words: "Gravel and Kidney Disease had been the bane of my life for eight years. Thanks to South American Kidney Cure to-day I am a well man. I wish I could have every kidney sufferer within the sound of my voice for long enough to tell it." 30

When any of these are in the neighborhood, you should use Vapo-Cresolene. Every evening purify their sleeping rooms with this perfectly safe remedy. It is so easy to prevent the disease in this way. THE BUDGET DEBATE

Legislature Has a Field Day on Provincial Question.

MANY SPEECHES DELIVERED

Dr. Ryan Attacks the Premier's Trip to England—Other Speakers Refer to Mr. Dryden's Dakota Investment—Brilliant Defence Speeches in Behalf of the Members of the Government.

Toronto, Jan. 28.—In the Legislative Assembly to-day another large batch of petitions praying for the passage of a prohibitory law was presented.

Among the bills introduced were measures to amend the Public School Act by Hon. R. Harcourt and Mr. Fallis and a bill to amend the Voters' List Act by Mr. Marter.

Dr. Barr resumed the debate on the budget. He charged that the Government had done nothing to advance the interests of labor. The Labor Bureau of Ontario had no power to do anything towards the settlement of labor troubles. It had done nothing in return for the outlay upon it. He did not see why it was in existence if it had no authority to mediate between capital and labor. The Government had voted down the measure prohibiting the employment of alien labor, introduced by Mr. Wardell, which would have been a boon to the working class had it been adopted. He criticized the immigration policy of the Government and asked what had been accomplished by keeping an agent in Liverpool? The Premier's trip to England had cost the country $1,848, from which there had been no public benefit resulting. After discussing the surplus he assailed the Government's timber policy, asserting that if the timber was sold out as rapidly in the future as they had been in the past there would not in 25 years be a mile of timber lands left. He denied that the Financial Commission had found a surplus, as the funds included under that head were not cash assets. He urged that some apparent anomalies in the manhood suffrage registration law should be remedied, censured Hon. Mr. Dryden's Dakota ranch investment, criticized the educational system at some length and concluded by predicting an Opposition victory in the coming elections.

Mr Hislop said it was the universal practice to pay not merely Government but municipal officials when they were obliged to travel to England or elsewhere on public business, and the Premier was quite justified in charging the expenses of his English trips which had resulted in great good to the country and stimulated our trade with Britain. The Opposition had treated the House to the old bill of fare in their attempts to prove that there was no surplus. Their attitude reminded him of the old story of the farmer whose bull attacked the locomotive with the result that was to be expected, when his owner exclaimed, "Well, I admire your pluck, but I think durned little of your judgment." The financial showing made by the Government was most creditable. Many new institutions had been started and new services established, such as the Technical School and the Labor Bureau, and the expenditures in relation to agricultural and kindred associations had been greatly increased. Would any man say these were not good and necessary expenditures and likely to benefit the community a hundred-fold? A large number of other items which formerly did not exist and which tended to largely increase the annual outlay, were enumerated. Every dollar of this increase could be justified on public grounds. If the Opposition wished to cut the expenditure down where would they begin, and what items would they strike out? He read extracts from the report of the Financial Commission in refutation of the Opposition argument that the funds in the hands of the Dominion Government to the credit of the province were not entitled to be reckoned as assets. The administration of the Ross Government and in particular their policy for the development of the industries of the province had been characterized by the very highest statesmanship. The increase in the value of farming buildings and live stock as shown by the returns of the Bureau of Industries, was largely due to the work the Government had done in raising the standard of agriculture and promoting the interests of the farmers. Canadian butter had now taken a high rank in the British markets, which was owing to the instruction given in the dairy schools as to the best methods of dairying. He presented a number of recent statistics showing the growth of the creamery industry and the flourishing condition of agriculture. The position of Ontario as an agricultural community was unrivalled by any province in the Dominion and by any state in the union, and it would make much greater strides in the next generation. He favorably reviewed the timber policy of the Government. The Opposition professed to lament the disappearance of our timber resources, but if the Conservatives had had their way these resources would not now belong to the province, as they had opposed the action of the Government in the matter of the boundary award. (Applause.)

Mr. W. Beatty said he would confine his remarks to the administration of the Woods and Forests Department as a measure of revenue. He contended that the Province of Quebec got more for its timber than Ontario. If they did not receive such large bonuses on the sale of the limits they got 25 or 30 per cent. more in the way of dues. The sales of timber since Confederation were 10,288 square miles and the average bonus per square mile under Liberal rule, instead of being $1,835, as claimed, was only $726. The figures received at last year's sale showed each that the sale was to very poor advantage or that the timber limits remaining were inferior. In fact we had only shreds and patches of our former wealth in timber remaining. He contended that the Doyle rule of log measurement adopted by the Government deprived the public of large amounts which would accrue to them under the Scribner rule. A commission should be appointed to fix a rule that would be fair to both parties.

After Recess.

Mr. Pettypiece said that in contending that there was no surp s Mr. Matheson flew in the face of all authorities. The Dominion Year Book, published at Ottawa by the Dominion statistician, while it gave the debts of all other provinces credited Ontario with a surplus of $2,580,471. The investments of Ontario were earning enough interest to wipe out all the liabilities of the province in 40 years. We could, according to the Finance Minister of the Dominion, draw all the money due us and cancel our liabilities. It was not true that our expenditure was increasing. The business of the country in 1901 was carried on at a cost of $120,000 less than in 1891. Taking the principal items of expenditure he showed that any increases were due to extensions of service and the establishment of new institutions. He did not think any member would dare to take exception to the increase in agricultural grants. Nowhere were unfortunates better cared for than in Ontario, and the outlay under this head would meet universal approval. In the Crown Lands the increased expenditure in ten years amounted to 4½ per cent., while the increased revenue amounted to 56 per cent. He showed how the revenue from succession duties, taxation of corporations, etc., had increased without entailing any burden upon the people. The intention of the Government to build the Temiskaming Railway without expending any of the people's money was a most important and satisfactory announcement. It was a policy that was endorsed by many others than Liberals. The adoption of the manufacturing clause in connection with timber licenses was one of the rare cases in which Uncle Sam had met his match in dealing with Canadians. He warmly denied that the liquor interest had contributed to aid the Government in elections. The Opposition were guilty of something worse than corruption on continuing to charge election officials with ballot switching, when they could not prove it. The fact that the bye-elections continued to go with the Liberal party showed the continued popularity of the Government. Dealing with the timber policy he said that there were supplies for a century to come, and in addition the Government was setting aside timber reserves which would furnish a supply in perpetuity. The nineteenth century was the era of steam and of United States development. The twentieth would be the century of electricity and Canada. We were on the eve of greater progress than ever before. At the coming election the people would show their approval of the wise, judicious and economical course of the Government.

Mr. Duff asked why Mr. Pettypiece had not taken in the House the same position regarding Mr. Dryden's South Dakota ranch investment that he did on the platform. He should either have taken back his charges against the Minister of Agriculture or re-iterated them, but he had not said one word on the subject. He did not believe that the Government were leading the people in the matter of agriculture—the people were progressive and were advancing of their own accord. It was unfair to attribute the prosperity of the country to anything the Liberal party had done. He dealt at some length with the eddcation question containing that the training given was not sufficiently practical. He criticized Mr. Dryden for investing his money in a Dakota ranch instead of engaging in the same business in the Canadian Northwest. Dealing with the timber policy he claimed that the Opposition should have the credit for the prohibition of the export of logs.

Mr. Russell said that the Conservatives had appealed to the electors several times on the question of the surplus and the electors had declared themselves satisfied with it. The methods of Col. Matheson in dealing with financial matters were not those of a practical business man. Supposing that the Government had treated as capital the receipts from timber and invested them they would now have a surplus of some thirty million dollars. Such a hoard would be a great national peril and a possible source of corruption on a great scale. He paid a strong tribute to the abilities and fidelity of the Minister of Agricultural, whose work he claimed was thoroughly appreciated by the farmers. It was no uncommon thing in the days of Conservative rule in Ottawa for Ministers to be heavily interested in American enterprises, and if it was right for them it could not be wrong for Mr. Dryden. He looked for great benefits from the Government cold storage policy. The Eastern School of Dairying had accomplished much good. The pine timber was being conserved more carefully than formerly and there was no danger of its exhaustion. Moreover the spruce would yet yield a greater revenue than ever pine did. He concluded by replying in detail to a number of the attacks made upon the Government.

Mr. Lucas (Centre Grey) moved the adjournment of the debate at 10.45 o'clock.

For the Children.

To Keep Their Digestion Perfect Nothing is so Safe and Pleasant as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Thousands of men and women have found Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets the safest and most reliable preparation for any form of indigestion or stomach trouble.

Thousands of people who are not sick, but are well and wish to keep well take Stuart's Tablets after every meal to insure perfect digestion and avoid trouble.

But it is not generally known that the Tablets are just as good and wholesome for little folks as for their elders.

Little children who are pale, thin and have no appetite, or do not grow or thrive, should use the tablets after eating and will derive great benefit from them.

Mrs. G. H. Crotsley, 538 Washington street, Hoboken, New Jersey, writes: "Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets just fill the bill for children as well as for older folks. I've had the best of luck with them. My three-year-old girl takes them as readily as candy. I have only to say 'tablets' and she she drops everything else and runs for them."

A Buffalo mother, a short time ago, who despaired of the life of her babe, was so delighted with the results from giving the child these tablets that she went before the notary public of Erie Co., N. Y., and made the following affidavit:

Gentlemen:—Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets were recommended to me for my two-months-old baby, which was sick and puny and the doctors said was suffering from indigestion. I took the child to the hospital, but there found no relief. A friend mentioned the Stuart Tablets and I procured a box from my druggist and used only the large sweet lozenges in the box and was delighted to find they were just the thing for my baby. I feel justified in saying that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets saved my child's life.

Mrs. W. T. Dethlope,

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 12th day of April, 1897.

Henry Karis,

Notary Public in and for Erie Co., New York.

For babies, no matter how young or delicate, the tablets will accomplish wonders in increasing flesh, appetite and growth. Use only the large sweet tablets in every box. Full sized boxes are sold by all druggists for 50 cents, and no parent should neglect the use of this safe remedy for all stomach and bowel troubles if the child is ailing in any way regarding its food or assimilation.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been known for years as the best preparation for all stomach troubles whether in adults or infants.

Died After Breaking Leg.

Bothwell, Jan. 29.—A. T. Sussex, one of our oldest merchants, about 55 years of age, while on his way home after closing his store on Monday evening, fell on the ice and broke his leg. He seemed to be doing well yesterday, but suddenly expired about 7.30 last evening.

Women and Seasickness.

Men are less subject to seasickness than women, according to an old sea captain, but when attacked by it make more fuss. They take immediately to their berths, where they grumble and groan until they are well enough to go on deck again.

A woman fights the unpleasant malady until she can fight no longer. Then she becomes maudlin and pathetic. She retires to her room and invariably asks three questions—first, whether people die of seasickness; then, how many miles we are from shore, and when we shall get there. The doctor is always talked over. When the patient gets so ill that she loses interest in the doctor, she usually lies on her side and cries by the hour. —London Doctor.

Criminally Responsible.

Montreal, Jan. 29.—The coroner's jury found Ed. Laurin criminally responsible for shooting the colored groom, G. W. Smith.

No Protest in West York.

Toronto, Jan. 29—The Conservative Executive of Ontario met yesterday and decided not to enter any protest in West York.

The Root of the Trouble.

It surprises some people when you tell them that their nervous trouble is caused by a defective Liver. Liver troubles cause constipation. Next comes dyspepsia, then impure blood, with heart strain, and the result is nerve trouble. Merrill's System Tonic is a positive cure for liver trouble and constipation, and in this way removes the cause of all ills. 50 cents per bottle at Ormond & Walsh's.

A Successful Sale.

Mr. James Storey, of Smith, who recently sold his beautiful farm in that township to Mr. Rutherford, of South Monaghan, yesterday disposed of his stock and other chattels by public auction. Mr. John Haggart who had charge of the sale states that it was one of the best that has taken place in Smith in some years. The stock and farm implements sold yesterday realised about $2,400. The details of the sale were very successfully carried out and during the afternoon light refreshments were served to those present. Mr. Storey has been one of Smith's most progressive farmers and many regret that so practical and prominent farmer should go out of business. He will reside in Peterborough.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

HOCKEY.

As Thursday night approaches the interest in the Port Hope-Peterborough match becomes greater, and a very large excursion of Peterborough people will go down to Cobourg to witness the event. The Port Hope men have been making nightly trips to Cobourg in order to be fully acquainted with the rink, and their backers, it is said, are offering a pretty good thing. The locals are indulging in light practices and are not making much noise. (They may surprise Port Hope just a little when the time comes.

The Colts will play their second home match of the season on Friday night, when they will cross sticks with the Cobourg Juniors. The Colts have not been neglected in any way during the past few weeks, although the gossip in the sporting fraternity has to a greater extent centred around the Intermediates. The Colts hope to reverse the score against Cobourg on Friday night.

The team for game to-morrow night at Cobourg with Port Hope is as follows: Wasson, Glover, Armstrong, Whitcroft, Morgan, Graham, Roy Armstrong. The players will leave at noon.

The Port Hope Guide says; "Geo. Brown was on the ice last night, and says that he is feeling good, and will be O. K. for the game on Thursday. This will be gladsome news for the supporters of the Ontarios, as it was at first thought that his injuries were going to force him out of this game. The Ontarios had a good practice last night at the rink here—ice having been made to order in a few hours,—and will be out in full force again to-night. Peterborough will see whether they can skate fast or not on Thursday night. The pace was a hot one last Friday, but there's one coming that will be considerably hotter, the Ontarios will be in better shape."

During the first Frontenac game at Kingston, Mike Young, the former Toronto and Port Hope player, met with an unfortunate and rather serious accident. He was checking Rogers, and in stopping a rush fell on the ice with his arms extended, and Rogers ripped up his arm with his skate, opening a gash which required twelve stitches to close.

PORTSMOUTH CLUB.

Rev. Dr. Symonds Delivers a Very Interesting Lecture.

There was a fair attendance in Association Hall at the Y.M.C.A. last night to hear Rev. Dr. Symonds, of Trinity College School, Port Hope, and formerly of town, deliver his lecture on Phillip Brooks.

The chair was occupied by Mr. Sheriff Hall, president of the Club, who in a few remarks introduced Rev. Dr. Symonds to the audience.

In a very interesting address Rev. Dr. Symonds sketched the life of the noted Episcopal clergyman touching very clearly upon the prominence he attained not only in America but in the Old Country as well.

At the conclusion of his address he was tendered a very hearty vote of thanks upon motion of Lieut.-Col. Rogers, seconded by Mr. B. M. Denistoun.

SOCIAL BIBLE CLUB.

Another of the Winter Series of Meetings Held.

Another of the series of most enjoyable winter socials of the Intermediate Social Bible Club, under the leadership of Mr. J. Manning, was held at the Y.M.C.A. last evening. After the usual study, a splendid programme was presented, Mr. Humphries acting as chairman. Mr. Williamson gave an exhibition of a varied number of views with the aid of a lantern. Messrs. J. Laing and B. Jones contributed a number of instrumental selections and several good readings were given by other members of the Club. The usual refreshments were served after which the evening was brought to a close with a hymn and prayer.

CARPENTERS AND JOINERS.

Members of the Local Union Meet and Elect Officers.

Local Union No. 672, of the Carpenters and Joiners, have installed the following officers through Past President, W. J. Johnston:

President—Alex. Dugan.
Vice-Pres.—Daniel Coughlin.
Fin. Sec.—Robt. G. Ritchie.
Rec. Sec.—James Haggart.
Treasurer—George Kane.
Conductor—Robt. Jones.
Warden—Geo. Sloan.

After the installation the meeting was made very interesting by the officers and members present giving their several views on what would be in the best interests of the union during the coming spring and summer. The programme for the next meeting will be one of interest to all the members and a very ernest appeal is made to the members to be present.

The union is organised for the purpose of enabling the members to help one another, and elevating the trade and placing the principles of it on a good foundation.

Although but little has been said of the Carpenters' Union in town it is on a good financial footing and is progressing favourably.

A cordial invitation is extended to any visiting brethren who may be temporarily residing in town.

COUNTY COUNCIL.

The County Council met at ten o'clock this morning, pursuant to adjournment, the Warden, Mr. T. G. Eastland, in the chair. All the members were in attendance.

On motion of Mr. Pearce, seconded by Dr. Jeffs, the report was adopted.

Mr. Shaw, chairman of the Committee on Appointments, reported.

The committee's report will appear in the Examiner to-morrow.

Sparing Nothing.

The only way to thin out the lines where stock is too heavy is to cut deep into prices, then they go. It's like touching a match to gunpowder. That's what we're doing at the Peterborough Bookstore. We have closed a big year's business, and we intend 1902 to be bigger. Present stocks are marked at good-bye prices—some one-fourth, some one-third, some one-half. Books, both cloth and paper-bound, come among the largest reductions, and the fancy goods and leather goods next. We're sparing nothing.—A. H. Stratton & Co.

A Peterborough Mason's Advancement.

A private letter has been received from Mr. Jas. H. Hendry, a former designer in the Auburn Woollen Co., now superintendent of the Amos Abbott Woollen Manufacturing Company of Dexter, Me. Enclosed are some clippings from newspapers of that city referring to Mr. Hendry's progress in the Masonic Order, as follows:

"A special convocation of St. John's R. A. chapter, was held Friday evening and E. H. Jones and James Hendry were given the Royal Arch degree."

"At the stated convocation of St. John's R. A. chapter, held Monday evening James Hendry, O. E. Blackden, M. P. Leggett, E. H. Jones, Dr. J. H. Murphy, were given the Mark Master degree."

"At a special convocation of St. John's R. A. chapter, held Wednesday evening, James Hendry and M. P. Leggett were advanced to the degree of Most Excellent Masters."

"At a special convocation of St. John's R. A. chapter, held Friday evening, work in the Past Master and Most Excellent degrees engaged the attention of the companions. M. P. Leggett, E. H. Jones, James Hendry, and Dr J. H. Murphy were given the Past Master degree."

PLAYED IN LINDSAY.

The Band of the 57th in the Sunset Town.

The 57th Regimental Band under the leadership of Prof. R. Gliddon, went up to Lindsay last night and rendered another of their high class entertainments in the opera house. Owing to the fact that those who had the arrangements in hand at Lindsay, failed to properly advertise the event, the attendance was disappointingly small. However, the best people of Lindsay were in attendance and all expressed the highest praise for the excellent manner in which the local band acquitted itself. The programme included a number of the very latest selections and in every particular excepting that of attendance the venture was a success. It might be stated that the band went up to Lindsay on a substantial guarantee.

MR. E. B. EDWARDS AND THE COUNCIL.

The Former Town Solicitor Addresses the Aldermen.

THE WATER FRONT MATTER.

Any Steps Which Mr. Edwards Took he Considers Were Taken in the Best Interests of the Town.

A special meeting of the Town Council was held last evening, at which Mr. Edwards, K. C., addressed the Council in reference to his dismissal, as Town Solicitor. Mayor Denne was in the chair, and the following Aldermen were present: Messrs. H. Best, J. Corkery, Jas. Hatton, Robt. Clinkscale, Dr. Morrison, R. F. McGregor, H. Rush, G. M. Roger and B. Shortly.

COMMUNICATIONS

were received and dealt with as follows:

From the Town Engineer submitting his third annual report. — Referred to the Board of Works.

From E. B. Edwards, stating that he had received notice from the clerk of the Private Bills Committee, stating that Bill No. 12, respecting the town of Peterborough would be considered by the committee on Friday next, Jan. 31st, at 10 a.m.—Received.

From E. B. Edwards, denying that he had unwarrantably interfered in the issuing of the patent for the water-side lot crossed by the C. P. R. spur line, and stating that his only object in interviewing Mr. White was to expedite the matter.—Received.

From the Auburn Power Co., asking permission to erect along the north side of Dalhousie street the poles necessary to connect with the Central Milling Co., with which firm they have contracted to supply power. —Referred to the Board of Works, with power to act.

From a number of ratepayers asking that a pipe sewer be constructed on Harvey street from McDonel to London street. — Referred to the Board of Works.

From Ald. Turner, asking the council to grant him leave of absence for two or three months, he having been called home to England to attend the sick chamber of his mother, who is not expected to live.—On motion of Ald. Rush, seconded by Ald. Clinkscale, the request was granted, and Ald. McGregor was appointed to act as Chairman of the License Committee in Ald. Turner's place.

NEW TOWN SOLICITOR.

Aldermen Best and Clinkscale introduced a bylaw appointing Mr. E. H. D. Hall as Town Solicitor.

Ald. Roger stated that before the bylaw was passed he thought Mr Edwards should be heard in regard to his recent dismissal. He would move in that direction. Alderman Edgcumbe had telephoned during the afternoon to the effect that he found it would be impossible to attend the meeting of the Council and asking that no further action be taken regarding Mr. Edwards until he could be present. Mr. Roger moved, that no further action be taken at present and that Mr. Edwards be invited to be present and address the Council in the matter.

Ald. Best stated that at present there was a town bill before the Legislation Assembly and he understood Mr. Edwards intended to take charge of it. In his opinion therefore it would be well to pass the bylaw and settle the matter of the Town Solicitorship at once.

Ald. Morrison did not want to see the Council take action too hastily.

Mayor Denne explained that as matters stood now Mr. Edwards and Mr. Hall were both acting which tended to complicate matters. Mr. Edwards had not given up his duties when the resolution dismissing him was passed. The question of recording him a hearing was now in the hands of the Council.

Ald. Roger stated that if there was trouble now it was the fault of the Council for acting so precipitously in the matter earlier. There could not be two solicitors. If the resolution dismissing Mr. Edwards was legal there was no need to pass a bylaw, and if it was not legal then Mr. Edwards was still the solicitor and not Mr. Hall. He could see that the council was apprehensive as to the legality of its action, hence the haste to pass the bylaw.

Mayor Denne—"We have to go to Toronto immediately to see about getting our Bill through the Legislature and we want to feel that we are in the right about the change of solicitors. If Mr. Edwards wishes to address the Council he can do so. He thinks he has been injured professionally and as no one wants to injure him personally the council should give him notice as to when they will hear him.

Ald. Roger argued that it would be against all rules of British Justice to pass the bylaw before Mr. Edwards was heard. The council had acted hastily in the first place, but there was no excuse now for rushing matters through. The Mayor, he thought, should have asked Mr. Edwards to be present at this meeting.

Ald. McGregor stated that as the mover of the resolution he thought the council was acting within its rights in dismissing Mr. Edwards. The Council had no further use for him and dispensed with his services. This course of action would be considered correct in dealing with an ordinary working man, but because Mr. Edwards was a member of a very exclusive union he had created a feeling of sympathy.

As none of the members had seconded Ald. Roger's motion the bylaw was passed appointing Mr. E. H. D. Hall, as solicitor.

MR. EDWARDS SPEAKS.

Mr. Edwards entered the Council Chamber immediately after the passage of the bylaw, and on motion of Ald. Roger and Shortly, was asked to address the council.

Mr. Edwards stated that he appeared before the council as its former official and one effected by its recent action. He had served the town as its solicitor for twenty-one years and also acted in its interests previous to that while with the late W. H. Scott. No one could have held such an office for so long a time without becoming deeply interested in the town's affairs as relating to his duties. It was not simply a question with him of dollars and cents, as in consequence of the recent rapid growth of the town the duties of the solicitor were far in excess of what the salary would compensate him for. With regard to the matter of his dismissal all the information which he had been able to gather was from the newspaper reports, to the effect that his action threatened to upset the agreement as to the patent to be given the town by the Government—that he had stepped between the Mayor and the Deputy Commissioner, and that he had acted without authority. He did not know on what authority the Mayor had made these statements. He had been connected with this question since 1899, had conducted the correspondence between the town and the Department of Crown Lands, and had been present at the interview with the Deputy Commissioner when the latter was here last year, with the Mayor and Ald. Roger, when the property was viewed and the question was discussed as affecting the interests of the town. He had also drawn up the letter which made the formal offer with a description of the land, and dealing particularly with the matter of the right of way which the C.P.R. had over the property. Then on December 21st with the Mayor and the Town Clerk he had met Mr. McMurchy of the C.P.R., and discussed the patent as affecting both the town and the railway company. As the result of this interview it was decided that the patent be issued to the town, less a right of way of 66 feet to the C. P. R., through the land in question, and with a reservation to the town across this right of way of 66 feet as the continuation of Charlotte, King and Sherbrooke streets, through to the water front. This agreement was signed by Mr. McMurchy, for the C. P.R., and by himself for the town. Having to do with matters such as these, he felt, vested him with a certain amount of authority. The C.P.R. had a map showing the island as different from its position on the town map. The attention of the Deputy Commissioner was called to the fact that the map was not correctly drawn. It cut off a portion that would be most valuable to the town. He showed the Deputy Commissioner the agreement which had been drawn up, and it was understood that Mr. McMurchy would fyle it, and he supposed the patent would then be issued. A few weeks later when looking after the Town Bill at the Parliament Buildings he called upon Mr. White in connection with the issue of the patent, and asked if it was ready to be issued. He did not know what information was furnished the town as to what took place at that meeting. He would be glad as to what information had been furnished as to what took place.

Mayor Denne — "You had better go on and tell what took place yourself. You know, of course, what you told Mr. Armstrong when you returned?"

Mr. Edwards, continuing, stated that he went to Mr. White for the sole purpose of hastening the issue of the patent, and for the purpose of seeing that it was issued in the proper form. He had no other object, purpose or idea in mind. There was nothing intended to have any other effect whatever. The description of the land had been sent up by himself, and the agreement which had been drawn up described the land to be patented to the town and to the C. P.R. Mr. White asked for that description. He told him he hadn't it there, and it was one of the points that would have to be covered by the patent. A former description of the lands in question by Cameron was not as accurate as the later one, and one of the objects he had in view was to see that the description was correct. Mr. White said he was not ready to issue the patent until he had a description of the land from the C.P.R. The reason he wanted the C.P.R. description was that he intended to issue a patent to the C.P.R. first, and the town patent later, the town patent to cover what was not previously granted to the C.P.R. Then, said Mr. Edwards, I mentioned that the C.P.R. plan did not show correctly. Mr. White replied that if the question was raised as to the description it might cause the whole matter to be re-opened, and involve further delay. To this Mr. Edwards said, that he stated his only object was to hurry up the issue of the patent. Mr. White in discussing the matter further, said that he could not issue the patent till Mr. Edwards and the C.P.R. agreed as to the patents to be issued to each. At this time the patents were not issued, and therefore no delay could have been caused. He had said that he wanted no delay, and that either he or Mayor Denne would write to the Commissioner immediately on his return to Peterborough. The next day he had been unable to find the Mayor, but the day after he told him what had occurred. He also spoke to Mr. Armstrong on Wednesday about it. On learning of the action of the council in dismissing him he wrote to Mr. White asking him for his view of the matter concerning what had occurred between them. The appended letter had been received in reply:

Toronto, January 20th, 1902.

Dear Sir,—I am in receipt of your letter of the 18th instant and I am extremely sorry to hear of you severing your connection with the Town of Peterborough as its solicitor. I do not think that anything I have said could have lead to such an unlookedfor climax.

I am sending you herewith copy of a letter which I wrote the Mayor the other day after you were here, and my letter to him was called out by a letter which he addressed to me on the 16th instant in which he said that he understood that Mr. Edwards had called on me and that some question had arisen or he had raised some question regarding the C.P.R. right of way that might delay the matter. In order that you may see what he said I am sending you copy of his letter and copy of my reply so that you may see what I said. I do not think I said anything more than was warranted by the facts.

Yours very truly,
AUBREY WHITE

E. B. Edwards, Esq., K. C.,
Peterborough, Ontario.

Peterborough, Jan. 16th, 1902.

Aubrey White, Esq., Assistant Commissioner Crown Lands, Toronto, Ontario:

Re Water Front Lots.

Dear Sir,—I understand that Mr. Edwards called on you yesterday and some question arose, or he raised some question, regarding the C.P.R. right of way that is likely to delay the matter again. I have talked to Mr. Edwards, who saw you without consulting me, and I can see no reason for delaying the patents. The question regarding the right of way was fully settled between us when we were together in Toronto, and I desire no delay, as I think you fully understand, but wish the patent issued in accordance with the understanding then arrived at and embodied in the memorandum left with you. I regret very much that it has been necessary to trouble yourself and the Department so much about this matter, which has been hanging over so long, but I hope that the bother is now ended and that the patent will be sent on without delay.

Yours truly,
(Signed) T. H. G. DENNE,
Mayor.

Toronto, Jan. 17th, 1902.

Sir,—I have to acknowledge your letter of the 16th instant in connection with water fronts. Mr. Edwards did call on me yesterday and I said to him that I would not take the responsibility of going on with the matter if he made any formal protests or desire to disturb the position that had been agreed to. I will go on and issue the patent to the town and to the Railway

CARD TO ELECTORS.

To the Electors of the Town of Peterborough:

Ladies and Gentlemen,—Having been urged by the numerous friends of Municipal Ownership to allow myself to be placed in nomination for one of the Water Commissioners, I have consented to be a Candidate. The grounds upon which they urge my election are, amongst others, that I am really the father of Municipal Ownership in this town, and have consistently fought the battle therefor throughout, and that at its incipient or experimental stage, such a one should be given the first opportunity to prove the feasibility of the scheme. They further urge that my record has been pure from all cliques and other corrupting influences, and that I will stand up fearlessly for the rights of all alike, without fear, favour or affection. It is needless to say that if elected I will do my utmost to carry out the most sanguine expectations of my numerous friends and water consummers generally. Respectfully asking you one and all for your vote and influence, I am, ladies and gentlemen,

Your Obedient Servant,
GEORGE BALL.

YOUR VOTE
And Influence is respectfully solicited by

THE CHEESE MAKER LOSES.

Inquiry Began at Montreal into the Official Weighing.

Montreal, Jan. 29.—Mr. W. G. Parmalee, who has been appointed royal commissioner to make inquiry into the official weighing of butter and cheese, began his session in the C.P.R. building yesterday, where there were farmers on hand to give evidence. Among those present from a distance to give testimony are John McQuaker, Owen Sound; J. P. Clarey, Savage Mills; Mr. Small, Huntington, and W. H. Walker, M. P.P., Huntington. Mr. Charles Bull laid before the commissioner a report in which he makes specific charges of unfairness in weighing, as done by the official weigher of the Butter and Cheese Association, and also makes statements of irregularities as regards the issuance of certificates. The chief complaint, however, made by him is that by the rules now in force the cheesemaker loses and the buyer gains by the operation of weighing.

LOSS OF H. M. SLOOP CONDOR.

Marked Wreckage Picked Up on the Pacific Coast.

Victoria, B.C., Jan. 29.—The British survey steamer Egeria sailed from Esquimalt yesterday morning to search for the missing Condor. She is the fourth vessel to sail, the Quadra, McCulloch and Phaeton being already out.

Marked Wreckage.

The arrival of the steamer Queen City from the west coast of Vancouver Island to-night served only to confirm the fears of those who believed the British sloop of war Condor was lost on the way from this coast to Honolulu. The Queen City brings news of wreckage, marked with "C" and looking like that of a warship, having been picked up by Indians on the 6th of January.

Modesto Garcas, special delegate in charge of foreign affairs of the Liberal party of Colombia, yesterday gave out a statement that he had received cable advices from Curacoa, the headquarters of his party, saying that the army under Gen. Solo met and defeated the Conservative forces, led by Gen. Franjaver and a Jesuit priest, Padre Espana, after a bloody engagement lasting all day, near La Cruz, 35 miles south of Bogota. Gen. Solo captured much arms, ammunition and several cannon. Among the killed was the Jesuit leader, Padre Espana. Investigating a Death.

Windsor, Ont., Jan. 28.—At the inquiry on Saturday night into the cause of the death of Fred Drouillard, James Maisonville testified that his brother, Edward, helped him to put Drouillard into the shed at the Dewdrop Inn, where Drouillard was found dead with his skull fractured, and covered him with blankets. Edward denied this. He said Drouillard was found in a sitting posture. Dr. Storey of Walkerville, and Dr. Cruikshank of Windsor, who performed the post-mortem, testified that Drouillard's death was caused by a fracture of the skull, which might have resulted from a blow or from a fall. Chief Griffin says he will have a surprise to offer on Friday night, to which time the inquest was adjourned.

Eczema's Itch is Torture.

The Most Exasperating of all Skin Diseases—The Most Difficult to Cure—Dr. Chase's Ointment Proven to be an Effective Treatment.

Eczema's itch is torture, the skin seems on fire with the burning, stinging humour; at times it becomes almost unbearable, and in desperation you could tear the skin to pieces. You dare not exercise for fear of aggravating the itching, neither can you sleep, for no sooner does the body become warm than the trouble begins and instead of restful, refreshing, sleep, it is scratch, scratch, scratch, all night long. There is scarcely a moment's respite from this maddening malady at any time. Of course, you have tried nearly all the washes, salves, lotions and medicated soaps, but, like thousands of others, have been disappointed and disgusted.

Mrs. Ann McDonald, Kingsville, Ont., states: "For about three years I was a dreadful sufferer from Eczema. At times the patches of raw, flaming flesh would extend from my waist to my neck, and from the knees to the ankles. The intense itching almost drove me crazy, and though I tried all the local physicians, they could not even relieve the suffering. The flesh would crack open, and I do not believe that anyone ever suffered more than I did.

"I was told of Dr. Chase's Ointment, but did not believe that it could help me. After the fifth application of this preparation I began to feel the benefit of its soothing, healing effects, and now attribute a cure to the persistent use of this wonderful remedy. It is truly worth its weight in gold, and I never tire of recommending it to other sufferers."

You may be skeptical regarding the ability of Dr. Chase's Ointment to cure you. Most people are, after trying in vain to get relief from a host of remedies, but Dr. Chase's Ointment will not disappoint you. You will be surprised at the marvellous control which it has over all itching, burning inflammations of the skin, and the wonderful healing powers which it possesses. It takes time to thoroughly cure Eczema, but Dr. Chase's Ointment will do it. You will find relief after a few applications, and gradually, and naturally, the cure will follow. Besides being a positive cure for Eczema, Dr. Chase's Ointment comes useful in a hundred ways in every home for every form of skin irritation and eruption, chapped skin and chilblains. 60 cents a box at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. 7

HENRY DEVNAY CURED OF LUMBAGO AND KIDNEY TROUBLE by Powley's Liquified Ozone

When kidney trouble is at an advanced stage it will evidence itself by back pains, headaches and neuralgic pains in the eyes. These are the most common signs; the urine will show conclusively what causes the trouble. Powley's Liquified Ozone, the new oxygen preparation, will cure kidney disorder in a wonderfully short time. It will relieve the pains almost immediately. We want you to notice our testimonials every one we publish is from Canada. We give you to-day the statement of Mr. Henry Devnay, who was cured of kidney trouble. Every word is true; you can investigate for your own satisfaction every word we publish.

About a year and a half ago I was taken down with what the doctors called lumbago and kidney trouble of a very bad form. I doctored with physicians for a year and found no relief from their medicines. Sometime in July, 1901, the minister of the B. M. E. church told me about the Ozone preparation and said it had done him a lot of good and asked me to try it. I went out and purchased a small bottle of Ozone and after taking it I noticed a slight improvement. I continued taking it for three months and the pain has left my kidneys and I am generally built up. In every way I feel better than I ever did before. I have now taken some ten bottles and I can honestly recommend this preparation to any person suffering with kidney disease. I give this testimony so that other sufferers may know of its value and wishing you every success, I am,
Yours truly, (Signed) HENRY DEVNAY, 134 Elizabeth St., Toronto.

Ozone dissolves the impurities in the kidneys, causes them to do their work thoroughly, soothes the inflammations of the delicate tracts and strengthens all the organs of the body. It is curing chronic Bright's Disease in a manner fairly miraculous. It's Nature's process of cure; a thousand times more effective than any drug way. It is the greatest discovery in the curing of disease yet made. We want you to know about it.

An Abnormal Appetite.

A native of Wittenberg on one occasion after eating a sheep and a sucking pig ate by way of dessert sixty pounds of prunes without taking out the stones. On another occasion this same individual devoured two bushels of cherries, several earthen vessels, chips from a furnace, pieces of glass, some beetles, a shepherd's bagpipe, rats, birds with their feathers on and a number of caterpillars, finishing up by swallowing a pewter inkstand, with its pens, paper knife and sandbox. We are informed that when these luxuries were partaken of he was generally under the influence of brandy, but that he appeared to relish his singular food and was a man of extraordinary strength. He died in his eighty-first year. —London Tit-Bits.

A Lucky Gold Strike.

This he is sure to do, for this wonderful remedy has never been known to fail. It is a scientific remedy and cures nerve and kidney diseases by removing the cause. Ormond & Walsh sell it at 50c per bottle.

Nothing More to Be Said.

"My wife always lets me have the last word," remarked the meek looking man.

"Indeed?" exclaimed his friend in tones which implied a doubt of the other's veracity.

"She does, really. Whenever I say, 'Yes, my dear, you are quite right,' she stops talking immediately."

All Plump and Rosy.

If all the plump and rosy children in the world could be collected together into one place it would be surprising to find how many of them owe their strength and health to Scott's Emulsion.

She Was Pat.

The small boy had been warned by his nurse as to the awful result of biting his nails.

"If you bite your nails," she said, "you will swell out like an air balloon and burst."

The small boy believed took heed and didn't bite his nails any more. The small boy went to a children's party, where he stood and gazed at the hostess for some minutes in silence. Then he spoke.

"You bite your nails," he said.

UNCEASING VIGILANCE.

The Way the Subtreasury in New York Is Guarded.

It was a sharp faced guard in the subtreasury in Wall street who got his eye on the visitor and watched him closely to the point of annoyance. The visitor, who was there on business, had occasion to walk in the corridors of the building, and, not being a frequent caller there, he was unused to the customs of the employees.

"Waiting for anybody?" asked the guard, walking up to the stranger in a businesslike way.

"Yes. Why?"

"Who, please? It is my business to ask. I am one of the guards here."

The stranger pricked his ears and told his business and occupation.

"That's all right, then," explained the guard. As he was walking away he was asked:

"Is all that 'show' a rule of the department or is it pure vigilance?"

"No," said the guard, sweeping the broad floor between the latticed office windows; "it is not exactly a rule, but it is a common sense precaution."

"Do you expect any one to poke in here somehow and be fool enough to try to rob this place, with half a dozen armed guards sitting about?"

The question seemed to please the guard, and he unbent.

"I'll tell you how it is. I have been in this place just six years now and never yet have I gone to my post in the morning without saying to myself, 'Today, maybe, something big will happen.' That, I think, is the way we all feel down here, and there is no reason why we should feel otherwise. In all the schemes that you, personally an honest man, can suggest there is not one that would hold water in the proper testing of this place; certainly with a million other people.

"But it is the next fellow we need to watch for. The impossible has happened too often before. It can happen again. There is not a point, not even the contingency of sudden mob violence, which has been overlooked in the guarding of the treasury here. But what we do fear is the one single project that has been overlooked, the 'impossible.'

"Here and there when strangers are asked their business in case they show a disposition to loiter they become angry. In that case they are promptly dealt with unless they explain in time, but most men see, as you did, that this is an extraordinary place and that when we inquire of people their business it is not done for our own edification."

And the guard excused himself to make the tour across the open floor space, every inch of which he could see from where he was standing.

Preparing Costly Furs.

When a master workman in a fur manufactory is cutting up skins, he is literally cutting money. Skins once passed for frontier money, but their value is now much greater than in the early days, and it would be less costly to cut a garment from ten dollar bills than to cut it from some skins.

The cutting is quite an interesting feature of the work. To prepare a mink or sable, for example, the skin must be slashed into strings, narrow pieces more or less irregular in shape, which are afterward sewed together. There may be a thousand pieces in a single cloak, the new and beautiful skins being literally cut to pieces before they are manufactured. The object of this is to lengthen the skins. The sable, for example, say two feet in length, will be drawn out to four feet and all its markings preserved, so that it looks like a very long, but well proportioned, skin. The original skin is so cut to pieces that it may all be "matched" again in the elongated shape

A Wild Ride.

A peasant was recently gathering dry wood in a forest near Kastamuni when a bear suddenly appeared before him. The frightened man sought refuge in the branches of a tree, which broke, and the peasant fell at the feet of the bear. Bruin was quite overcome with surprise, so much so that the peasant, who preserved his presence of mind, was instantly astride the beast, using his ears as bridle. The bear tried ineffectually to throw him and then, starting on a wild run, issued from the forest and approached a village. The rider shouted loudly for help, and in a few minutes the whole population turned out armed with guns and scythes. A crack shot fired a bullet into the bear's head, and the peasant was able to leave his mount unhurt.—Kastamuni (Turkey) Official Journal.

New Light on an Old Subject.

The man who had been kicked by a mule and was quoted as saying he "considered the source" was speaking of it afterward to some of the other fellows.

"I wouldn't care," he said, "if there hadn't been so much fuss made over it, as if it was a bright thing for anybody to say, but the honest truth is that I never said anything of the kind. When you're kicked by a mule, you're not in a frame of mind for considering things. What I really said was: 'You derned old beast! If I had a gun and you were somebody else's mule and it wasn't against the law to shoot inside the corporation I'd blow your derned old head off, darn you!'"

Definition of a Bore.

"You call So-and-so a 'bore.' What is a 'bore?'" asked Bishop Selwyn. "It is a man who will persist in talking about himself when you want to talk about yourself," or, we may add, in telling stories when you want to be telling them. Coleridge says he used to be much amused with Tobin and Godwin. "Tobin would pester me with stories of Godwin's dullness, and upon his departure Godwin would drop in just to say that Tobin was more dull than ever."

A Mother To Mothers.

"I am the mother of five children," writes Mrs. S. E. Rose, of Big Otter, West Va., "and have been as high as eight days in the doctor's hands, and never less than two days with any child until the last. Then I had used two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and was only two hours in the hands of the doctor."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a woman's medicine. It cures diseases of the womanly organs. It is a wonderful medicine for mothers, making the baby's advent practically painless and giving abundant strength to nurse and nourish the child.

SPOTTED GOWNS.

Made of Net or Chiffon They Are Most Stylish.

Very handsome evening gowns are made of wide and narrow insertions of black chantilly. These are joined together by means of black velvet ribbons. Black velvet ribbons are much used for silk and net skirts. The widths increase as they reach the bottom. Plaitings of black velvet baby ribbon are used with good effect on berthas and flounces. This same narrow velvet is also very chic when it outlines boleros and collars of lace.

Dotted effects are all the style for evening gowns. The dots are either the same color as the material or else they contrast. In the latter case the lining is almost invariably the color of the dot. For instance, a net with a pale corn colored dot will be made over a soft colored silk.

Black spotted chiffon is the material of the gown illustrated. The dot is pale pink, and the gown is made over pale pink silk. The waist is draped softly above a wide belt of crushed panne. The narrow shoulder straps are supplemented by a slight draping of chiffon. The skirt is made with a wide, plain yoke. A large pale pink poppy is fastened to the left of the decolletage. It has long streamers of shaded pink velvet. JUDIC CHOLLET.

Seven.

The alleged supernatural powers of the seventh son of a seventh son are merely an illustration of the mystical powers of that number, which has somehow caught the imagination of mankind. The seventh day and the seventh or jubilee year of the Jews is a case in point, but there are also the seven wise men, the seven wonders of the world, the seven lamps of architecture, the seven sleepers, the seven sisters and the seven senses, the last being an obvious concession to superstition. Indeed, from the seven churches to the seven deadly sins the number for good or ill holds the arithmetical record.

Belonging Her Round.

Bingo (tiptoeing into his wife's room, in a whisper)—I've brought three friends home to dinner unexpectedly.

Mrs. Bingo (aghast)—What!

Bingo—Yes, I have. They're downstairs.

Mrs. Bingo—You wretch!

Bingo—Now, my dear, I couldn't get out of it.

Mrs. Bingo (haughtily)—Then you'll have to take the consequences.

Bingo—But—

Mrs. Bingo—You'll have to put up with practically nothing.

Bingo—That's what I told them.

Mrs. Bingo—You did?

Bingo—Yes. I told them that they needn't expect a single thing; that we'd scrape round in the kitchen if necessary and pick up whatever we could, and that, as I hadn't let you know, that was the best we could do.

Mrs. Bingo—What did you tell them that for?

Bingo—It's the truth, isn't it?

Mrs. Bingo—Certainly not. As if it makes any difference to me how many friends you bring home! I'll show you!—London Tit-Bits.

A Snowstorm Indoors.

On a very clear, cold night an evening party was given in a salon in Stockholm, Sweden. Many people were gathered together in a single room, and it became so warm in the course of the evening that several ladies complained of feeling ill.

An attempt was made to raise a window, but the sashes had been frozen in their place, and it was impossible to move them.

In this situation, as it was absolutely necessary that air should be admitted, a pane of glass was smashed out. A cold current at once rushed in, and at the same instant flakes of snow were seen to fall to the floor in all parts of the room.

The entrance of a frosty current into an atmosphere which was saturated with moisture had produced a snowfall indoors.

Medical Science Advances.

It is not more than half a century ago that physicians considered a surgical operation with its risk, expense and pain as the only cure for piles. To-day it is only the out of date doctors that think of such treatment. It is cruel and extravagant to operate for a disease which is far more certainly cured by the application of Dr. Chase's Ointment. You may be skeptical, but for proof you are referred to tens of thousands of cases that have been cured by this famous preparation.

His Sweetheart's Joke.

A young man in Newcastle recently received a letter from his sweetheart in another town, and in it he was told to "look under the stamp on the envelope."

The young man spent an hour steaming that letter, and when he finally got the stamp off he read, "Was it hard to get off?"

KELPION

The Most Highly Endorsed Preparation on the Continent of America.

EXTRACTS FROM ENGLISH MEDICAL PRESS.

"The Lancet" (England), 28th Sept., 1900. Analytical Records.

"'Kelpion.' On inunction Iodine soon appears in the saliva and in the urine, while the skin is not stained. 'Kelpion' contains 5 p.c. of Iodine. 'Kelpion' is a marked advance upon the ordinary Iodine unguents, and is especially useful in painful affections of the joints, and for sprains and inflammations."

"Science Siftings" (England. Oct. 20, 1900.

"There is no finish to the curative ends that Iodine will serve. The drawbacks to the use of Iodine are rightly claimed to be overcome by the introduction of 'Kelpion.' We pronounce 'Kelpion a medical discovery of the first importance, and as such we bestow the Science Siftings 'certificate of merit.'"

"Health" (Eng.), Jan. 20th, 1901.

"We strongly recommend the use of 'Kelpion' to the medical world, feeling assured that it will give satisfaction and bring to service the valuable properties of Iodine."

H. B. Mellett, of Imperial Volunteers, writes to the "South London (Eng.) Press"—"We had some 'Kelpion' placed in our kits before leaving England. It is splendid stuff. We use it for every pain, wound or disease; in fact for everything, and the doctors and men simply swear by it.

MR. E. B. EDWARDS AND THE COUNCIL.

Company, but as our law clerk has been taken suddenly ill and cannot be here for a day or so, I will send you herewith the plan put in by the C. P. R. as Mr. Edwards thought that you should see it, and the sending of it to you will entail no delay.

The ruling will be made to sell to the Company the right of way, 66 feet wide according to the plan and description put in by the Company reserving the prolongation and extention of Sherbrooke, King and Charlotte streets in accordance with the agreement between the Town of Peterborough and the said Railway Company dated 31st, December, 1901, copy of which is on file in Crown Lands Department. Another order will be made for patent to go to the town for the bed of the Otonabee river reserving the right of way already granted to the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Your obedient servant,
AUBREY WHITE,
Assistant Commissioner.

T. H. C. Denne, Esq.,
Peterborough, Ont.

If any different impressions existed as to what took place, Mr. Edwards wished to say that his STATEMENT WAS CORRECT.

The effect of the interview was not to delay the issue of the patent, as the material was not then before the Department. While Mr. Edwards understood that a town officer only held his contract from day to day, according to the wish of the council, yet if a man separated himself from other business that he might otherwise be in a position to transact, he was deserving of some consideration. In his position as Town Solicitor, he was opposed to all who were against the town, therefore business was cut off from him that could be done by other solicitors. While there was no provision in the Municipal Act, yet unless there was some good reason for dismissing an official, it was seldom done. If he had "over-ridden the council," or "stepped between the Mayor and the Deputy Commissioner," or "acted without authority," then he might feel that he was to blame, but he took it that he was attending properly to his duties in appearing before Mr. White, as the Town Solicitor charged with seeing that all of the documents were correct. If there was an error in the description it would have placed the town at a disadvantage and the town would properly have held the Town Solicitor responsible. Therefore he considered it his duty to be in Toronto.

Ald. Roger at this point stated to Mr. Edwards that the bylaw appointing his successor to office had been passed before his entrance into the Council Chamber.

Mr. Edwards stated that he regretted the action which the council had seen fit to take. He had thought that he would be given a hearing before the matter went further. The night before he had attended the council meeting and had been given no intimation that the question was to be considered this evening. It was idle to address the members further, and he had only to thank them for the empty compliment of having accorded him a hearing.

MAYOR DENNE'S REPLY.

Mayor Denne rose to reply to Mr. Edwards, and stated that the remarks of the latter had been addressed rather to him than to the council. Mr. Edwards considered that he had authority to interview Mr. White. In reply to this he read a motion passed by the council placing the matter in his (the Mayor's) hands. Mr. Edwards was correct in stating that the matter had been in his (Mr. Edwards') hands since 1889. This was so, but what had been done. When he took office he made up his mind to secure the water lots at once if at all possible, for the reason that when the canal was completed it would be necessary for the town to have dockage. Last summer when he went to England, he had instructed the Town Clerk that if there was any correspondence from the Crown Lands Department to ask Mr. Edwards to answer it promptly, as he was anxious to get the matter closed up. On returning from England he asked if there had been any letters, and Mr. Armstrong told him of one, which had been sent to Mr. Edwards. He had no doubt but that it had been answered, and when he met Hon. J. R. Stratton on the street, rallied him about the Government being so slow in issuing the patent. Mr. Stratton promised to look into the matter and do all he could. The next day he got a letter from Mr. Stratton calling him down for not answering a letter sent from the Department seven weeks before regarding some details. The Mayor stated that he was amazed and indignant when he found that Mr. Edwards had never answered the letter. An interview on the matter was then arranged between the Deputy Commissioner, Hon. J. R. Stratton, himself and Town Clerk Armstrong. Only at the earnest solicitation of Mr. Armstrong had he consented to take Mr. Edwards along, as Mr. McMurchy, the C.P.R. solicitor, had told him that Mr. Edwards was one of the first men that the C.P.R. had entered into a lawsuit with in Peterborough, and that Mr. Edwards had been fighting the C.P.R. ever since through the town. Hon Mr. Stratton had also heard of this matter and spoke of it to Mr. Edwards. The matter of the Island was the only question between the Town and the C.P.R. and it was agreed with the C. P. R. to give them a right of way over it. What difference therefore could it make whether the island was shown big or small on the C. P. R. plan? All they could get was a right of way. The agreement was signed and was perfectly satisfactory to all. Then after Mr. Stratton left the room Mr. Edwards raised a question about the filling, which he (the Mayor) had to settle by declaring that it whether the filling was on the inside or the outside. The agreement was then signed by Mr. Edwards and Mr. McMurchy. Shortly after he received a confidential letter from Toronto informing him that Mr. Edwards had been at the Parliament Buildings interfering again and that the matter would be reopened. "I hold," said the Mayor, "that when Mr. Edwards signed that agreement his duty ceased. If he was so anxious to get the matter settled, why didn't he settle it in the thirteen years he had it in his hands? I claim that he went there without any authority and that in whatever interests he was interfering it was not in the interests of the town."

MADE NO DIFFERENCE

Mr. Edwards replied to Mr. Denne to the effect that he was not in charge of the water lots matter since 1889, but simply "had to do with it." The Town couldn't get the patent as the Government was asking an exorbitant sum of money for the lots. This was the cause of the delay and not anything he did or did not do.

The Mayor—"Who got the price reduced?"

Mr. Edwards stated that the price was fixed when the Deputy Commissioner visited Peterborough last summer. In reference to the letter from the Department which was unanswered he was away at the time on his holidays at Stony Lake, and did not have the particulars at hand to furnish. He had sent the letter to the Town Clerk afterwards.

The Mayor stated that there was another matter which he wished to mention and that was the fact of Mr. Edwards forwarding the Town Bill to the Legislature without ever submitting it to Mayor or Council. He was dumfounded when he had heard of this. No one knew anything of what was in the Bill, but Mr. Edwards, who had consulted no one.

In regard to his antipathy to the C.P.R., Mr. Edwards held that he could not be answerable as to what Mr. McMurchy might say. Any such statement was totally unwarranted, incorrect and unnecessary. He would have expected in such a case to have received the backing of the Mayor, rather than have such a statement used to his prejudice.

Mr. Armstrong, Town Clerk, on request of Mr. Edwards made a brief statement of the report of the interview with Mr. White made to him by the Town Solicitor, which corresponded with Mr. Edwards' statement to the council, with the exception of his saying to Mr. Armstrong that Mr. White had been angry.

The Mayor — "What made Mr. White angry do you suppose? He never was angry with me, but always treated me with the greatest possible courtesy."

Mr. Edwards—"Probably he did not want to say anyone about the matter."

The discussion was brought to a close by the Finance Committee being authorized to select a deputation to go to Toronto in reference to the Town Bill.

Before adjournment, Ald. Roger and Rush moved—"That this Council support the application to the Legislature of the Province of Ontario for an Act to incorporate the Peterborough Radial Railway Company and accept the advertised notices of same application already given as sufficient in so far as this council is concerned and that a copy of this resolution be sent to the said applicants for use by them on presentation of their application to the Legislature. —Carried.

The treasurer was authorized to pay the expenses of the deputations to Toronto re water lots and other small expenses in connection with the same matter.

A PETERBOROUGH MOTHER

Gives Good Advice as to how to Keep Baby Healthy and Happy.

Sore mouth is quite a common and a very troublesome baby disease. It makes it difficult for the little one to take food and thus tends to bring on other complications. The trouble is one, however, that can be readily cured and for this purpose there is no medicine can equal Baby's Own Tablets, in addition to the use of which the mouth should be kept thoroughly cleansed with cold water and a soft cloth. Mrs. S. Gaskin, Ashburnham, says: "My baby was troubled with sore mouth for about three months. I tried several medicines but they did her no good. I saw Baby's Own Tablets advertised and got a box at Mr. W. Madill's drug store. After giving them to her she began to improve almost at once, and in a short time her mouth was quite well and she has not been troubled with it since. She had also been constipated and had been quite cross and sleepless from teething, but after giving her the tablets these troubles disappeared and she has since been quite well and good natured. I can recommend the Tablets to any mother whose baby is similarly troubled."

Baby's Own Tablets is the only medicine for little ones sold under an absolute guarantee that it contains neither opiates nor other harmful drugs. These Tablets are a certain cure for all the minor ailments of childhood, such as sour stomach, constipation, indigestion, diarrhoea, and simple fevers. They break up colds, prevent croup and allay the irritation accompanying the cutting of teeth. Price 25 cents a box.

A DUTCH COMMISSION

Offered for South Africa to Tell Boers It Is Time to Quit.

IN THE INTEREST OF HUMANITY

The Government of Holland Has No Authorization From Burgher Leaders of South African Delegates—Great Britain Awaiting Lord Kitchener's Views—If Favorable Safe Conduct Will Be Given.

London, Jan. 30.—The Hague correspondent of The Daily Mail says he is able to announce on authority that the Dutch note to Great Britain, after rehearsing the earnest concern of that Government at the prolongation of hostilities in South Africa, offered its good offices in bringing them to a close.

To this end, Holland asked whether Great Britain would be willing to permit a Dutch commission to proceed to South Africa to enlighten the Boer leaders in the field as to the real position of affairs, and, more especially, since it is understood that there is not the slightest chance of intervention on the part of any European power; that the prolongation of hostilities is useless, and the Boer struggle can serve no further good purpose.

The correspondent says the Dutch Government expressly announces in this note that it possesses no authorization whatsoever from the Boer leaders, either in Europe or South Africa, to take this suggested step, but that it appeals to Great Britain on the ground of common humanity, for military permission for the Dutch commission to accomplish its mission of peace.

Such permission would bind neither the British Government to the discussion of terms or the initiation of any negotiations, nor pledge the Dutch Government for the success of its self-imposed task.

It is understood that Great Britain is awaiting the receipt of Lord Kitchener's views on this suggestion and is willing to grant the requested safe conduct to the Dutch commission if Lord Kitchener offers no objections, though it is not hopeful of any practical result from the effort.

Dutch Premier's Statement.

The Hague, Jan. 30.—In the first Chamber of the States General yesterday, the Premier, De Kuyper, replying to a question on the subject, confirmed the accuracy of A. J. Balfour's statement in the British House of Commons on Tuesday regarding the Dutch Government's offer to help in bringing about peace in South Africa. The Premier added that he was prevented by courtesy from disclosing any details concerning the note, so long as the British Government had not published its contents, or until a reply to it was received. The Boer delegates disclaim any knowledge of the contents of the Dutch note to Great Britain.

SALISBURY AND LANSDOWNE.

Make a Call on Commons Ministers in Interests of Peace.

London, Jan. 30.—In the course of yesterday's debate in the House of Commons, A. J. Balfour, the Government leader, intimated that a redistribution of seats bill, "remedying the flagrant anomalies now existing," would be introduced during the session of the present Parliament.

The Premier, Lord Salisbury, and the Minister of Foreign Affairs, Lord Lansdowne, took the unusual course of visiting the House of Commons yesterday afternoon. They held private consultations with their Ministerial colleagues in the committee room. The incident aroused considerable interest in the lobby, where the visit was connected with the note of the Dutch Government on the subject of peace in South Africa.

DEWET GLIDES OFF AGAIN.

Slippery Commandant and His Men Made Their Escape in Veldt Carts.

London, Jan. 30.—Canadian scouts with Rimington, when near Wilger River, chased a number of carts which were seen leaving a farm. They discontinued the chase owing to the enemy becoming too numerous for their safety and it was subsequently ascertained that the carts contained Christian Dewet and his retinue.

Fevers Kill More Than Rifles.

San Francisco, Jan. 30.—Sir Thomas Fitzgerald, an eminent surgeon of Melbourne, who was honored with an appointment as consulting surgeon to the British army in South Africa, some months after the breaking out of the Boer war, is here on a visit. He was knighted by Queen Victoria in 1897. He says that fevers, due to bad water, cause more deaths in South Africa than the bullets of the Boers.

THE 3 PER CENT. RAKE OFF.

Officers of the Canadian Militia Department Interest of Commission.

Ottawa, Jan. 30.—It is news to the officers of the Militia Department that the War Office intends to allow a commission of 3 per cent. to the colonies upon purchases for the Imperial army. About three and a half million dollars' worth of supplies for the War Office has been purchased in Canada by the Department of Militia and Agriculture, but in no case has anything been added for commissions. The accounts were sent to the War Office exactly as received from those who supplied the goods. So far as the Department of Militia is concerned, practically all the accounts for supplies sent to the War Office have been paid, but no mention was made of any commission. A three per cent. commission would give the Government at Ottawa a credit of over $100,000 at the War Office, but it is not likely any such claim will be made, notwithstanding the War Secretary's statement in the Commons on Tuesday.

After Two Years.

Teeswater, Jan. 30.—Sergeant-Major Stephens, who has been in South Africa for two years, arrived home yesterday. He was presented with the freedom of the town and a gold watch.

JUST SUGGESTIONS

About Whitewear, Remnants and Mantle Cloths . . . . . .

Yes, this Whitewear has kept up that "wished-for," thought for zip which we expected the values, range and showing space would create. The favourable commendations passed upon it are reiterations, but in a much stronger tone than those expressed at each of Satcliffe & Sons' previous Whitewear Sales. Only a few more days when February will be ushered in. Select Whitewear during the January White Goods Sale.

REMNANTS! REMNANTS!

No, not made so fast as sold, for Remnants have been selling at a pace these few days back, yet out of this bountiful season's selling we had a big grist to start on. Prices are the object of our urging quick buying.

MANTLE CLOTHS

In Beavers, Tweeds and plaid backs, worthy goods. Some of them already shrunk, and all of them way under the usual price. The lowest one sold at $1.25, and they are worth up to $2.25 per yard, but go they must, and the price to make it easy is, per yard..... 89c

THE DOMINION GRANGE.

37th Annual Meeting Opens in Toronto—Address of the Master.

Toronto, Jan. 30.—The 37th annual meeting of the Dominion Grange opened yesterday morning at the Albion Hotel and will continue in session for two days. There were about 40 members present at the opening, Mr. Jabez Robinson, M. P., the Master, presiding. The principal business yesterday morning was the reading of the Master's address and the appointment of the various committees. One important matter that is to be dealt with is that of transportation. Granges all over the country have been sending in complaints of discrimination in rates, and the general feeling of the members appears to be in favor of the appointment of a railway commission.

KILLED A SORCERER.

An Unfortunate Jap Sacrificed by the Indians of Alaska.

Vancouver, B.C., Jan. 30.—The steamer Tees has arrived from the north with news of the arrest of two Indians, charged with the recent murder of a Japanese in connection with the tribal war at Metlakatla between Indians of a rival villages. From the statement of the prisoners it appears that they had blamed a Japanese, or a man living with him, for practicing sorcery, to which they ascribed the death of several of their tribe. By way of revenge they killed Kamamura, a Japanese, in the belief that his death would save the rest of the tribe from the consequence of his witchcraft.

MODUS VIVENDI RENEWED.

Newfoundland Again Proves Her Devotion to the Mother Country.

St. John's, Nfld., Jan. 30.—The Colonial Government has undertaken to renew for the present year the French modus vivendi, which expired the 31st of last December.

Mr. Chamberlain, the British Colonial Secretary, wired the Colonial Government a request for this action last Saturday, urging his desire to dispose of the Boer war before reviving negotiations with France respecting the Newfoundland shore.

The Colonial Cabinet, in acquiescing to Mr. Chamberlain's request, recorded the fact that it was done as the colony's contribution towards the solution of the Imperial problems in South Africa. Newfoundland being unable to send men there, takes this means of testifying her co-operation in the Imperial policy, and is confident that the redress of her grievances will be next undertaken.

It is generally understood that this is the last time this measure will be renewed, and that it is only done now for the foregoing reason.

He said he hoped to reach Southampton at 1 o'clock on the morning of Jan. 30.

Ottawa, Jan. 30.—An architect of the Public Works Department will proceed to Toronto Junction to select a site for the new postoffice there. THE DISPENSARY SYSTEM OF LIQUOR SELLING.

The best defence of the dispensary method of controlling the traffic in intoxicants that we have seen is formulated by United States Senator Benjamin Tillman, in a contribution to the current number of Frank Leslie's Magazine. The senator holds that the law is working well, and he makes an interesting comparison between the results obtained in Carolina under the dispensary system and those obtained in prohibition Maine and Kansas. The statistics adduced by him show that whereas in Kansas there is one liquor retailer to 596 people, and in Maine one retailer to 585 people, in South Carolina there is only one liquor seller to 3,965 of the population. Four hundred and forty-six persons are retailing liquor in South Carolina, having paid the United States revenue tax, 94 being dispensers, and the other 352 being illicit dealers, a majority of them in the city of Charleston, who have obtained permits from the United States Government. Senator Tillman thinks this issuance of licenses by the United States to sell liquor in South Carolina contrary to the law of South Carolina is anomalous. He gives a detailed account of the actual workings of the dispensary system, showing that the profit made by the local dispenser, after deducting expenses, goes half to the county and the other half to the town, the state receiving its profits in the price charged to the local dispenser. The net profits to state, town and county are nearly $600,000 a year, the state's profit going to the free school fund.

Four reasons are given by Senator Tillman why his method of managing the liquor traffic is superior to the license system:

"First—Liquor is the only article of commerce in general use that is consumed at the time and place of its purchase. It is safe to say that three-fourths of it is thus disposed of. The dispensary law enforces a different method, by requiring the purchaser to take it away, as he would a package of shoes or a sack of flour. He must go somewhere else than to the place where he buys it to consume it.

"Second—The element of personal profit, which lies at the root of the saloon evil, is destroyed. The dispensers receive fixed salaries, proportionate to the amount of work they do. They don't get a commission on sales, and have no incentive to push them.

"Third—'Treating' is destroyed, and this does more for sobriety than possibly any other feature of the system. The man who has bought a bottle at the dispensary may treat one or a half a dozen of his friends to one drink, but that will be all. The inducement and obligation to reciprocate which are so well understood, do not exist.

"Fourth—At sundown the dispensary closes. It opens at 8 o'clock in the morning. The legitimate demand for whiskey is supplied during daylight, and the dispenser, having closed up his place of business, has no incentive to re-open it to make a sale. Under no form of license is this possible. Besides it is a misdemeanor to make sales in any way or at any time except as the law provides."

Thus far Senator Tillman makes the contrast with the saloon, or license system rather than with prohibition. With the latter, he says, there is really no comparison to be made, except to point to results. It is well understood where prohibition has been tried that the certificate of a physician that liquor is needed for medicine has been an easy thing to obtain. Hypocrisy and perjury, Senator Tillman asserts, were both increased. "That men will drink," adds Senator Tillman, "is so well understood that the facts adduced to show how little prohibition prohibits in Kansas and Maine, are alone necessary to show that the dispensary is superior to that system of liquor control. The testimony of unbiased judges is that in South Carolina, drunkenness has decreased to a marked degree, from 50 per cent. to 75 per cent., since the law went into effect."

This is another noteworthy contribution to the discussion of the liquor drinking problem. It, like the details of the English Public House Trust movement, is calculated to set people earnestly thinking. The argument certainly does not seem to be all on the one side, for each system has its own ardent defenders, and each is able to show results that satisfy those that support it.

ONEMEE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The weather and roads are very unfavourable now for traffic. Farmers find it almost impossible to get to the woods for timber.

Stock of all kinds is still coming in frequently and good prices are being paid.

Our timber men, Messrs. Nicholls and Kennedy are securing large quantities of wood and timber from local parties and good prices are paid.

The Pauline Johnston and McCrae entertainment to be held here on February 4th, under the auspices of the Woodman of the World, promises to attract large crowds, being their first appearance here. Members of the Order are expected to meet here from Lindsay and Peterborough.

Rev. Wm. Kaasaswin and Rev. Mr. Brown attended Sunday School and Christian Endeavour Conventions at Fenelon Falls last week, which were largely attended.

No Argument Needed

Every Sufferer From Catarrh Knows That Salves, Lotions, Washes, Sprays and Douches do not Cure.

Powders, lotions, salves, sprays and inhalers cannot really cure Catarrh, because this disease is a blood disease, and local applications, if they accomplish anything, at all, simply give transient relief.

The catarrhal poison is in the blood and the mucous membrane of the nose, throat and trachea tries to relieve the system by secreting large quantities of mucous, the discharge sometimes closing up the nostrils, dropping into the throat, causing deafness by closing the Eustachian tubes, and after a time causing catarrh of stomach or serious throat and lung troubles.

A remedy to really cure catarrh must be an internal remedy which will cleanse the blood from catarrhal poison and remove the fever and congestion from the mucous membrane.

The best and most modern remedies for this purpose are antiseptics scientifically known as Eucalyptol, Guaiacol, Sanguinaria and Hydrastin, and while each of these have been successfully used separately, yet it has been difficult to get them all combined in one palatable, convenient and efficient form.

The manufacturers of the new catarrh cure, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, have succeeded admirably in accomplishing this result. They are large, pleasant tasting lozenges, to be dissolved in the mouth, thus reaching every part of the mucous membrane of the throat and finally the stomach.

Unlike many catarrh remedies, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets contain no cocaine, opiate or any injurious drug whatever and are equally beneficial for little children and adults.

Mr. C. R. Rembrandt, of Rochester, N. Y., says: "I know of few people who have suffered as much as I from Catarrh of the head, throat and stomach. I used sprays, inhalers and powders for months at a time with only slight relief, and had no hope of cure. I had not the means to make a change of climate, which seemed my only chance of cure.

"Last spring I read an account of some remarkable cures made by Stuart's Catarrh Tablets and promptly bought a fifty cent box from my druggist and obtained such positive benefit from that one package that I continued to use them daily until I now consider myself entirely free from the disgusting annoyance of catarrh; my head is clear, my digestion all I could ask and my hearing, which had begun to fail as a result of the catarrh, has greatly improved until I feel I can hear as well as ever. They are a household necessity in my family."

What a snowstorm! Nothing shows out in the bold relief the different dispositions of different people. Some simply sit and admire the white blanket while their good natured neighbour shovels it from the door step. Others like to show how much snow they possess by hauling it out into the front street. Others hire men and have it shovelled—and others sit idly by and find fault with all the rest.

Spirited Debate on the Subject in the Legislature.

MOTION BY COL. MATHESON

Mr. Whitney Makes a Charge That There Was False Evidence Introduced Before the Commission, But the Charge Was Mostly Repelled—Telling Replies to Premier Ross and Mr. Harcourt.

Toronto, Jan. 29.—In the Legislative Assembly to-day among other bills introduced was one by Mr. Fallis, authorizing municipalities to establish municipal coal yards.

Mr. Joyat moved for a return showing the bonuses or subsidies voted to railways during 1898,1899, 1900 and 1901, the amounts paid and the conditions under which such payments were made.

Hon. G. W. Ross said that the return would be brought down at the earliest possible moment.

Mr McLaughlin moved the second reading of the bill to amend the Municipal Drainage Act. He explained that it would enable farmers to run their drains across railroad tracks and do the work themselves, instead of as now having to pay for its being done by the railways.

Hon. J. M. Gibson was uncertain whether the bill was beyond the jurisdiction of the House or not. It might be well to allow further discussion to stand until a later stage of this session.

Mr McLaughlin intimated his willingness to allow the bill to stand.

Dr Jessop moved the second reading of his bill to amend the Ontario Medical Act, in order to make the Medical Council a purely elective body.

Dr. McKay thought the bill should not be passed without the full consent of the homeopathists, as it practically abolish their representation. He did not think the bill met with the approval of the large body of medical men of the Province.

Hon. J. M. Gibson thought some changes in the composition of the Medical Council was needed, but he was not in favor of abolishing the distinction between the two branches of the profession.

Dr. Pyne and Mr. Graham opposed the bill Col. Matheson favored its reference to a committee.

Hon G. W. Ross spoke strongly in favor of maintaining the professional standard. He urged the reference of the bill to a special committee.

The bill was read a second time and referred to a special committee.

Col. Matheson moved for a return of evidence taken before the Royal Commission appointed to enquire as to the price of authorized public and high school text books on which the Commission based its report of January 10th, 1898. He complained that there had been favoritism in the authorization of text books, and denounced the royalty system He thought the Government should own the copyright of text books and fix a minimum price. The investigations in the Public Accounts Committee on this subject were a farce, because they were not allowed to bring out the facts. He had been told that Mr. Purcell, author of a public school grammar, made $15,000 on the royalty. The works for which these royalties were granted were mainly compilations. The British school readers were considerably cheaper than those of the Ontario schools. The first cost of the algebras sold for 75c was not more than 18 or 20 cents. The Irish reader on the same weight of paper as the Ontario third reader, sold for 12 cents, while the Ontario reader cost 30 cents.

Hon. R. Harcourt said that the last speaker had made very positive statements, but failed to support them in any particular. He had treated the subject in an amateur fashion and opposed his dictum to that of experts. The Royal Commission on school books was composed of Judge Morgan, Mr. Bain, the librarian of the Toronto Public Library, and Mr. Blackett Robinson, all men well qualified to pass on the subject and of high personal standing. He had bever heard before that the value of books could be judged by their weight. If that were to be the rule the hundred-volume books published in China would outweight the masterpieces of European literature. The work of the commission was not secret. They called 20 to 30 expert witnesses. The literary quality of the books had been called in question Prof. Alexander, professor of literature at the Toronto University, Prof. Reynar of Victoria University and Prof Clark of Trinity had testified as to the high literary quality of the books. The Irish reader was a book 40 or 50 years old and, of course, would be much cheaper than any modern work of the kind, because no portion of it would be covered by copyright. Professor Clark had said that the "Irish readers would be dear at any price." Moreover the handsome illustrations in the Ontario text books increased the price. The price of a set of school books in New York was $9.96—the cost of a similar set in Ontario was only $4.95, or about one-half as much. The cost of school books in England was more burdensome than here because of the want of uniformity in text books, and the same disadvantage prevailed in the United States. The source of Col. Matheson was largely the disappointed men who had sought in vain to have their productions authorized. No publisher who sought to avail himself of his rights under existing agreements had been refused, and no monopoly existed.

Mr. Hoyle said that Dr. Goldwin Smith was surely entitled to equal consideration to any of the members of the commission. He had said that nothing was more surprising than the complacency with which the people had accepted a system of school book publication involving the essential features of the worst kind of monopoly. The profits of the school book monopolists were so enormous that they dare not be given to the public. The people in the matter were with the Opposition.

Mr. Whitney took exception to the tone of the Minister's speech. One fact clearly brought out was that no attempt would be made to change the system so as to reduce the price of school books. The royalty holders were living in comfort and affluence at the expense of the parents of Ontario school children. He went on to criticize the constitution and methods of the Royal Committee which, he said, sat in secret and only took the testimony of men who sold school books. In the face of the evidence of course the commission could only report that they were not charging too much. When they got the evidence before them it would be shown that some of it was false.

Hon. G. W. Ross said the great question was whether they were cheap. As to monopolies it might be said most books were monopolies. The copyright gave a monopoly. No one was ever commissioned to prepare a text book, but such books as appeared suited to the purpose were authorized. The readers were published by three different firms. Applications had been made by Warwick Bros. & Rutter and by Morang for permission to publish them, and these applications were granted. Other books were published by several firms. Where then was the monopoly? As to royalties it was not fair to take the best product of a man's mind without compensation. The system was one which prevailed in regard to literary productions the world over. The text books used in the schools of Ontario were the cheapest on the continent. The average cost of books supplied by the the City of Toronto to the schools was only 8½ cents per pupil.

The motion for a return was adopted.

HON. JAS. SUTHERLAND

Electors of North Oxford Return Him by Acclamation.

GAVE DETAILS OF HIS NEW WORK

New Minister of Marine and Fisheries Tells How He Came to Accept the Portfolio—Thanks Electors For Their Kindness, and Closes an Eloquent Speech With a Squelcher For Unfair Critics.

Woodstock, Jan. 30.—No public man in Canada, on being called to office as a Minister of the Crown, has been more loyally and enthusiastically honored than Hon. James Sutherland, Minister of Marine and Fisheries. His acceptance of that office entailed an appeal to his constituents. The appeal was only formal, as no candidate was nominated to oppose him; in fact, it was a triumphant endorsement of his public career and a striking demonstration of his personal popularity. The Conservatives showed their liking for him by refraining from putting a candidate in the field, the Liberals by cheering, and cheering again, the kind words spoken of him by the eloquent Parliamentary friends who had come to join in honoring him. Charles Marcil, the eloquent representative of Bonaventure, the most distant County of Quebec, bore testimony to the new Minister's breadth of mind, toleration and calm judgment, and to the common wish of English and French alike to advance the welfare of Canada. Charles S. Hyman, M.P., came from London; Arch Campbell, M.P., from Toronto; W. S. Calvert, chief whip of the Liberal party, from West Middlesex; Wm. Gibson from Beamsville; Col. Thompson, M.P., from Cayuga; Hugh Guthrie, M.P., from Guelph; Andrew Pattullo from the Legislature at Toronto; Valentine Stock from Perth, to join with the people of Oxford in congratulating their representative.

As to the electors, they came from every part of the riding, from North and South Easthope, from Blanford, from Nissouri, and then they came from Zorra. They came from Zorra headed by a flag-decked sleigh, carrying a piper of whom even Zorra may be proud. It is true that one leg of the pipes got frozen, but it was quickly thawed and the piper resumed his good work of stirring the blood of all good Scotchmen, and the envious criticisms of these of other nations boasting no national instrument.

The nomination was held in the magnificent Court House, which is one of the prides of Oxford County. The presiding officer was Sheriff Brady, another pride. The court room was crowded, many being compelled to stand, but it was as full at the close as at the opening of the meeting. A number of ladies occupied the jury boxes. The speeches were eloquent, strikingly eloquent, and each member had something to say in illustration of the political sagacity and personal kindness of the heart of Mr. Sutherland. It was evident that the Minister was deeply touched by the kindness of his constituents and colleagues, under whose praises he blushed, particularly when they rallied him on his unmarried state.

Mr. Sutherland' Thanks.

At 2 o'clock Sheriff Brady announced that Hon. James Sutherland was duly elected for the North Riding of Oxford.

Mr. Sutherland, on being introduced, was received with unbounded enthusiasm. He thanked the electors for again returning him, making special reference to the kindness of those of the other party who had allowed him to be elected without a contest. The attendance at the nomination showed that a deep interest was taken by the people of Oxford in the questions of government. He had accepted a portfolio with some reluctance. Many of them were aware that on previous occasions it had been suggested that he should accept a portfolio, but he had declined. He had felt that he did not possess the ability which he thought was requisite in a Minister, but on the present occasion, when he was invited by Sir Wilfrid Laurier to accept a position, he left it to Sir Wilfrid's judgment and the judgment of his colleagues in the House, and he felt that he owed a duty to the country and to the electors of North Oxford, who had reposed confidence in him for so many years, to accept the position. Mr. Sutherland then explained to the electors of Oxford, who naturally enough are not familiar with the work of the Department over which he has been called to preside, the exact scope of his new duties and what he will strive to do for the advancement of the fishing and marine interests of the Dominion.

Unfair Critics.

In conclusion Mr. Sutherland expressed his thanks to the press for the kindness with which he had generally been treated. While he expected criticism, one did not like to be misrepresented or abused. The only unfair criticism he had noticed had appeared in two or three papers. They had been saying that he was a machine politician. If they meant it in the sense of believing in organization, in uniting to carry out their policy and principles in the best interests of the country, he always had believed, and after 21 years' experience believed still more strongly in organization, but he appealed, although he had been actively engaged in the organization, if he had not always endeavored so far as he possibly could to have that organization clean, straight, upright and honorable. "These papers," he continued, "use that term, and intend it in an insinuating and sneering manner; they mean that one has used the machine for his own personal advantage. I have served you for a quarter of a century, for 21 years as a man of the House of Commons, and whatever my weaknesses may be, whatever my shortcomings may be, or may have been, there is one thing you will all bear me out in saying, that I have never used these positions to the slightest extent to my own personal advantage or benefit." (Applause).

Mr. Pense by Acclamation.

Kingston, Jan. 30.—Nominations for the bye-election for the Ontario Legislature will occur to-day, and it is likely that the Liberal candidate, Mr. E. J. B. Pense, proprietor of The Whig, will be elected by acclamation. The Conservatives, at a meeting, decided not to have a candidate.

NO DANGER.

There is no danger of throwing money away if you take Dr. Hall's Rheumatic Cure for rheumatism. In a little while you will say it is the best spent money you ever invested in your life. S. Donaldson, postmaster, Dufferin, P.O., Pittsburg, Ont., was lame for two years and could not get out of a rig. One bottle of Dr. Hall's, with the Climax Iron Tonic Pills, cured him. This great blood purifier is put up in bottles containg ten days' treatment. Price 50 cents a bottle at all drug stores or The Dr. Hall Medicine Co., Kingston, Ont.

A Case In Point.

THE OTONABEE POWER COMPANY.

The Town's Representative Citizens Witness the Setting of the Date-Stone.

AN INTERESTING CEREMONY.

Brief Addresses Delivered During the Afternoon—All Surprised at the Great Progress Made.

The setting of the date-stone in connection with the power house at Dam No. 5 was made the occasion of quite an elaborate ceremony, yesterday, by the Directors of the Otonabee Power Co.

As the result of the issue of a number of invitations a great many of the town's representative citizens assembled at the municipal offices at two o'clock in the afternoon and were conveyed in pleasure sleighs to Dam No. 5.

The progress made since the dam was visited a few short weeks ago by a representative of the Examiner is indeed wonderful. On that occasion the work accomplished up to date was fully described, as well as that which was in contemplation. The progress, as stated, along the lines intended is an eye-opener and the greatest possible credit is due to the very capable Board of Directors for the manner in which they have pushed the work forward. The power house is completed with the exception of the roof being placed in position and the work on the wheel pits is in an advanced stage.

The Town Council was represented by His Worship, Mayor Denne and Aldermen Jos. Batten, Robt. Clinkscale, R. F. McGregor, H. Rush and B. Shortly; the town officials by Mr. T. A. S. Hay, Thos. Rutherford and Jas. English; Ashburnham Council by Mr. Frank Adams, ex-Reeve; the County by Councillors Geo. Fitzgerald and Paul Costello. Amongst the manufacturers present were Messrs. Peter Hamilton, Wm. Hamilton, Jr., and T. F. Matthews. Of the Otonabee Power Company shareholders there were Messrs. W. G. Ferguson, President of the Company; Adam Hall, R. R. Hall and W. H. Meldrum, managing director. Amongst the many others observed present were Messrs. J. E. Belcher, upon whose plans and under whose superintendence the work is being carried on; G. W. Hatton, W. D. Parker, manager Ontario Bank; E. C. Complin, acting manager Bank of Commerce; Fred Clementi, E. M. Elliott, James Davidson, D. E. Moore, Geo. E. Elliott, William Fair, W. T. Clark, general manager Canadian Cordage Co., J. M. Brooks and M. Tooley.

Ex-Warden Fitzgerald opened the proceedings by mounting the high scaffolding and calling those assembled to order, after which he briefly expressed his pleasure in being present to witness the setting of the date-stone in connection with such an institution as the Otonabee Power Co. He was sorry that the Warden of the County found it impossible to attend, but he had been deputed with Councillor Costello to represent the County Council. He was proud to say that he had been one of the first to subscribe for stock in the Canadian Cordage Company, the establishment of which industry in town, he took it, was largely instrumental, in causing the formation of the Otonabee Power Company. Many cried down the Trent Canal, but the building of which the date-stone was now being laid would never have been constructed if it had not been for the Trent Canal. He hoped yet to see the day that the river would prove a connecting link between Peterborough and Lakefield to such an extent that the two municipalities would be joined.

The President then called upon Mayor Denne to lay the date-stone, which he did, afterwards formally declaring it well and truly laid. The Mayor then spoke of the numerous duties which had fallen to his lot during his term of office none of which, however, had given him greater pleasure to perform than the setting of the date-stone for the Otonabee Power Company. The prospects of the new concern were very bright. He understood that already there was an assured revenue of over $8000 guaranteed to the company, with every indication that additional contracts would be signed almost immediately, ensuring an increase to $13,525. He was sure that he was only expressing the wishes of the council when he hoped that every success would attend the new enterprise. He anticipated (of which this was the first) that many benefits would accrue to Peterborough through the construction of the Trent Valley Canal. He hoped that every dam on the Otonabee would be utilized in the same manner as Dam No. 5, and further, he hoped that the power would all be transmitted to Peterborough. The Town Council was greatly interested in encouraging and promoting manufacturing enterprises, and through the introduction of cheap power he realized that it meant much for the future prosperity of Peterborough.

Councillor Adams, ex-Reeve of Ashburnham, who represented the village council, explained that the Reeve was a busy man, and found it impossible to be present, and that he had therefore been delegated to attend the ceremony as the representative of the Municipality of Ashburnham. The magnitude of the work undertaken was a great surprise to him and he was thoroughly pleased at the progress which had been made and the prosperity which was evidently in store for the Otonabee Power Co. He had no doubt but that both Peterborough and Ashburnham would greatly benefit through the new company being able to offer both power and light cheaper than the present rates.

Mr. Peter Hamilton, President of the Peter Hamilton Co., Limited, manufacturers of agricultural implements, was the next speaker called upon. Twenty years ago it was an undreamt of possibility that the flow of the Otonabee River would ever be converted into power and transmitted to Peterborough. In those days water power was only available in its immediate locality, but now it seemed that it could be transmitted a hundred to a one hundred and fifty miles without difficulty. Only a few years had made tremendous changes in connection with power for manufacturing. The establishment of the Otonabee Power Company, he was sure, would prove one of the factors in developing Peterborough and increasing the prosperity of the town.

Mr. T. F. Matthews was sure that all present appreciated the opportunity which was afforded them of witnessing the wonderful development which had taken place at Dam No. 5. The eyes of all had been opened in regard to the character of the work. The citizens who were behind the enterprise had energy and brains. They were deserving of every success and deserving of the hearty support of the town. He was sure the undertaking would be backed by the townspeople at large. Mr. Matthews concluded his remarks with the following quotation which was peculiarly applicable to those who were most active in promoting the formation of the new company:

Pluck wins, it always wins, though days be long
'Twixt days that come and nights that go;
Still pluck shall win, its average is sure,
He wins the fight who can the most endure—
Who faces issues, who never shirks,
Who waits and watches, and who always works.

Mr. R. R. Hall, speaking on behalf of the Otonabee Power Company, stated that it was very gratifying to the Board of Directors to have so large and representative a turnout of the citizens present to witness the ceremony of setting the date-stone of the new power house. It was most gratifying also to hear such kind words and good wishes expressed on every hand. The work undertaken by the Company had not all been plain sailing. There were many obstacles to overcome at first, but those very obstacles when overcome had been made to redound to the benefit of the town and to the benefit of the Company. The progress of the Otonabee Power Company in its endeavour to secure a suitable site for operations had been noted far and wide in the trade journals and general press of the country and as a consequence the Company was already in constant receipt of communications from industries desirous of locating in the town and asking quotations as to the price of the power. It would be the policy of the Directors, as long as they had a pound of power to sell to dispose of it at as low a rate as possible. It was in the interests of the town and in the interests of the Company and in the interests of all to have cheap power. There were yet many other dams along the river which could be developed, when the demand for power increased further. The maintenance of an even flow of the water in the river was a matter of very great importance. The town, as owner of the waterworks dam, was interested in the matter as much as the various companies which procured power along the route of the river and he urged that the municipality join with the new Power Association, recently formed and petition the Government to give the matter its immediate attention.

President Ferguson then invited those present into the store house where refreshments were served and further speech-making took place of a character most complimentary to the Otonabee Power Company.

PETERBOROUGH'S BIBLE SOCIETY.

An Interesting Address in St. Paul's

BY REV. BERNARD BRYAN.

The Secretary Reported Fair Progress for the Year Last Night's Meeting.

There was a very good attendance at St. Paul's church last night at the annual meeting of the Peterborough Branch of the British and Foreign Bible Society. The chair was occupied by Mr. Sheriff Hall, and the meeting opened with devotional exercises.

The secretary of the local Branch, Rev. Mr. Potter, read his annual report, which showed that during the year, the Society in Peterborough had made satisfactory progress.

REV. B. BRYAN.

The address of the evening was delivered by Rev. B. Bryan, of Toronto, who represents the British and Foreign Bible Society. In the course of his remarks he said that there are many encouraging things about a meeting such as this. It first shows an interest in an excellent work. The British and Foreign Bible Society exists for the translation, publication and circulation of God's Word into all languages and to all lands. It is fulfilling the great commission of our Saviour when He said, "Go ye into all the world and preach the Gospel to every creature; and, lo, I am with you always." A review of the work of this society since 1804 shows great accomplishments in distributing the Bible without note or comment.

It is by means of these meetings that the interest grows over in the work. When Christ is lifted up as the most beautiful in ten thousand, we grow more like Him, so when we get to know more about God's work we gain an interest in it. A young man once told the speaker that he had begun to read about missions; a short time after that he told him he had commenced to pray about missions, and shortly after that he began to give to missions. Later he offered himself as a missionary, but owing to poor health he was not accepted. Nevertheless he devoted a large portion of his income to the work.

Meetings of this kind also afford an opportunity for manifesting our oneness in the Lord Jesus Christ. Truly we have one Lord, one faith, one baptism, we love one Lord, we love one book, and our great desire should be to circulate that book, and win this world for Christ.

Where would we be to-night if the translation and circulation of the Scriptures had travelled east instead of west? Just where the eastern nations are to-day. We owe all that is good and fair in our land to this source. Voltaire attacked the Bible 100 years ago, but he has passed into history, and the Bible, whose decay he predicted, remains. It is attacked to-day in the most insidious manner, but Christ is found in the Hebrew Scripture just as we have it to-day, and he treated it as a book above criticism. The infallibility of the Word of God goes side by side with the infallibility of God. When the temple of Solomon was being built, it is said that the King went from one to another inquiring who made his tools. The carpenter, the stonemason and all replied that the blacksmith had made them. The blacksmith, on being questioned, said he had made his own and those of all the others. So in connection with missionary work, the B. and F. Bible Society is the blacksmith, supplying the Word in the languages required. The Church Missionary Society which last year received between $1,000,000 and $2,000,000 and circulated the scriptures in 100 different tongues, received them all from this Society. And all others had to come to the same source. Every missionary in China, Japan and India turns his eyes back to England, saying "send the Book in this language." The missionary work of to-day would simply collapse were it not for the Bible Society. It is carrying on a marvellous work in its own way and on its own lines. Last year they published 5,047,719 copies of the scriptures, and not long ago exceeded their funds by £40,000 for its translation into the Russian tongue. It has now been translated into 406 languages, 1,000 persons are engaged in the work of translation. About 2,000 languages remain into which to translate it, but these 406 are the great conquering languages.

The Upper Canada Society is the strongest auxiliary in the world, having 600 branches. Last year we sent $8,948.50 as a free contribution to the B. and F. Society; $3,000 to the Quebec Auxiliary, distributed 27,559 copies of Scripture, and had seven colporteurs engaged.

There are three ways of rendering most valuable service — by prayer, work and giving. A little girl once asked as a birthday gift, two bibles, one in English, and one in the Hindoo language. In one she wrote her own name, and kept it as her own. In the Hindoo copy she wrote: "From Annie, a little girl in England, who loves the Lord Jesus Christ, to some one in India whom she hopes will learn to love Him, too." Years afterwards in offering herself as a missionary she chose India as a field. On conversing with a family who had all been converted, she was surprised to find the same copy which she had sent as a girl.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered the speaker, and votes of thanks were also tendered the collectors and managers.

Rev. J. C. Davidson pronounced the benediction.

The report was then adopted after including in the report the following additional clauses:

"That the following gentlemen be appointed nominating officers:

No. 1 Div.—James Drummond.
No. 2. Div.—George Bennett.
No. 3 Div.—J. W. Ratcliff.
No. 4 Div.—James Calder.
No. 5 Div.—Frances Moher.

Mr. Pearce brought to the attention of the council a provision of the Municipal Act requiring the treasurer of each Municipality to give a statement to the County Clerk of all moneys sent by such municipalities to the said County Treasurer.

The Warden then read a number of communications from Municipal Treasurers giving the amounts of the moneys they had paid the County Treasurer during the year. There were some treasurers who had not complied with this provision of the Municipal Act.

Mr. Pearce moved, seconded by Mr. Casement, that the Treasurer notify and proceed to take action against any municipalities that have failed to comply with the law in this regard.

Mr. Pearce moved that Mr. Adam Hall, one of a deputation representing the beet sugar promoters, be heard.

Mr. Hall explained what had been done so far regarding the establishment of a beet sugar factory in Peterborough, and hoped that the council would give the matter due consideration.

Mr. George E. Elliott addressed the council also on behalf of the deputation. He would not go into the importance of the sugar beet industry, as its importance was well known. The object of their appearing here today was for the purpose of seeing if some effort could not be put forth to secure one of the factories that will be located in Ontario. He reviewed the action that the town of Lindsay had so far taken, and he hoped that Peterborough would not stand still and allow the opportunity to pass.

Mr. Wm. Collins said that Mr. Moody, who was here some weeks ago, was now calling for agents to secure acreage in the vicinity of London. Mr. Collins covered the ground regarding the establishment of a factory, pretty well.

Mr. Pearce asked what had been done by the committee that was appointed at the mass meeting some time ago?

In reply Mr. Collins said that they had endeavoured to have the townships send delegates to Michigan. One township only had offered to send two delegates. The reason assigned by the other municipalities was that the report of the Lindsay delegates who had visited Michigan, was looked upon as reliable, and valuable enough without having delegates of our own. What they want to do now is to get the acreage. Continuing, Mr. Collins gave much valuable information on the matter.

Mr. E. M. Elliott, president of the West Peterborough Farmers' Institute, claimed that there was no truth in the statement that only those who resided within a few miles of the town would be the only persons benefitted. The people from around Norwood could use the C.P.R., and the people near Lakefield could use the canal. He pointed out the far-reaching results that the establishment of the kind would bring. He hoped that the matter would receive due consideration.

The matter was referred to the Finance Committee.

On motion of Mr. Fitzgerald, Mr. Thompson, representing a small deputation from Hiawatha was heard regarding a school difficulty. They had had their school grant of $13 per year cut off because they would not build a new school house. The speaker did not think that this was as it should be.

In answer to Mr. Casement, Mr. Thompson said that he had received a written notice from the school inspector stating that the school was not according to what it should be. The inspector had not visited the school in over a year, and in this regard he did not think that that official was doing his duty. The school house was capable of accommodating fifteen pupils and they had only an average of eleven. The school had been condemned by the inspector but the speaker thought it was as good as was needed.

Mr. James Kiley another of the deputation also addressed the meeting. He said that it was all Indian land in the section and it was impossible for them to get a site. The present building is all right being always well heated and affording accommodation for fifteen pupils.

Mr. Mather, who appeared in opposition to this deputation, then spoke. He said that the school is very unsatisfactory to all concerned. The school was set up on posts and not banked, and is very cold. My two boys have to travell two miles to the school and then they complain of their feet being nearly frozen on the cold floor. The school house is not centrally located, as it is away up in one corner of the section. There are more than seven of an average attendance, and the Indian children were attending the school at times. The school section was bounded very awkwardly, he said in conclusion.

Mr. Throop said that their assessment was $45,000. It has been a school section for 30 years and they have never built a new school house in all that time. Twenty-six years ago Mr. Thompson and he were members of the school board and Mr. Thompson moved a resolution wherein it was decided to build a school house in a central position. To-day the family of Mr. Thompson is grown up and that gentleman thinks that

REQUISITION.

To John E. Belcher, Esq., C. E.,—

Sir, — We earnestly request you to allow yourself to stand for election as one of the Water Commissioners for the town.

We feel that it would be of decided advantage to have one of the Commissioners an engineer, and especially one so well acquainted with our system from the beginning.

(Signed,) Wm. Snowden, Thos. P. Attrill, H. Long, R. A. O'Connor, (Bishop of Peterborough), A. C. Dunlop, D. N. Carmichael, M.D., H. LeBrun, W. Taylor, T. E. Boddy, R. F. McGregor, Wm. Henry, President A. F. of Labour., R. F. Munro, and others.

To His Lordship Bishop O'Connor, W. Henry, President A. F. of L., H. Long, Wm. Snowden, W. Taylor, R. F. McGregor, R. F. Munro, H. LeBrun, T. E. Boddy, T. P. Attrill, A. C. Dunlop, D. N. Carmichael, M.D., and to my nominator and seconder, Jas. Montgomery and R. Sheehy, and others,—

Gentlemen, — In view of your request I will accept nomination for the Waterworks Commissionership, and as you suggest, will do what I can, if elected, in the way of placing my knowledge of the system and its workings at the service of the town.

Yours faithfully,

(Signed.) JOHN E. BELCHER.

YOUR VOTE

And Influence is respectfully solicited by

T.F. MATTHEWS

Candidate for the Office of

WATER COMMISSIONER

CARD TO ELECTORS.

To the Electors of the Town of Peterborough;

Ladies and Gentlemen,—Having been urged by the numerous friends of Municipal Ownership to allow myself to be placed in nomination for one of the Water Commissioners, I have consented to be a Candidate. The grounds upon which they urge my election are, amongst others, that I am really the father of Municipal Ownership in this town, and have consistently fought the battle therefor throughout, and that at its incipient or experimental stage, such a one should be given the first opportunity to prove the feasibility of the scheme. They further urge that my record has been pure from all cliques and other corrupting influences, and that I will stand up fearlessly for the rights of all alike, without fear, favour or affection. It is needless to say that if elected I will do my utmost to carry out the most sanguine expectations of my numerous friends and water consummers generally. Respectfully asking you one and all for your vote and influence, I am, ladies and gentlemen,

Your Obedient Servant,

GEORGE BALL.

CARD TO ELECTORS.

Ladies and Gentlemen, — Having been requested by a large number of ratepayers to offer myself as a candidate for the position of Water Commissioner for the Town of Peterborough, I have consented to do so, and respectfully solicit your votes and influence. If elected, my policy will be to treat rich and poor alike, and respect the general welfare of the town in the careful and economical management of the Waterworks.

Yours very truly,

WM. FAIR.

Peterborough, Jan 30, 1902.

CARD TO ELECTORS.

To the Ratepayers of the Town of Peterborough,—

Ladies and Gentlemen, — Having been nominated for the position of Water Commissioner for the ensuing term, I have consented to place my services at the disposal of the town, if it is the wish of the ratepayers that I should do so.

As a director of the Peterborough Water Company for the past six years I may claim to have a pretty thorough knowledge of the system and methods which have placed the company on a sound financial basis. The experience thus gained, will I believe, enable me to discharge the duties of the office to your satisfaction. It is not my intention to canvass for votes, but if elected will cheerfully devote my best energies to making the system serve the best interests of the municipality.

Yours truly,

W. H. HILL.

Housekeeper's Backache.

Many women lift and strain, over-work and over-tax their strength. Their back gives out. Their kidneys becomeaffected. They have a painful or sore feeling in the small of the back that takes all the life and ambition out of them. They feel dull, depressed, lifeless.

Listen! The hard work you've been doing has thrown extra work on the kidneys. They cry out in protest through the aching back. You feel wretched all over because the kidneys are not working right and poison is circulating in your system. The kidneys must have help—better give them the benefit of the best Kidney Medicine made—Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets—the prescription of a kidney specialist—the result of years of study of kidney diseases.

PAIN PREVENTED SLEEP.

Mrs. N. Laviolette, Arnprior, Ont., writes as follows: "I have used Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets. They are beyond question the best kidney remedy I have ever used. I had lameness and an acute pain between the shoulders. I could not sleep nights. I had more or less headache. Often I suffered from indigestion caused by uric acid in my system. These troubles departed after I had used Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets, my kidneys were strengthened and I rested better nights. I think these Tablets the most effective kidney remedy I have ever seen. I know that they surpass every other that I have tried heretofore, and I do not hesitate in recommending them."

Drugging Will not Cure Catarrh.

This loathsome disease is caused by germs that invade the air passages of the head, throat and lungs, and can be cured only by inhalation of medicated air. Stomach medicines, atomizers, snuffs are ineffectual, because they fail to reach the cause of the trouble. Catarrhozone is successful because it is inhaled to every part of the breathing organs, and has power to kill the germ, heals the inflamed tissues an dprevents droppings in the throat. Catarrhozone treats more than one thousand square feet of the mucous surface with every breath taken through the inhaler, and affords instant relief. It perfectly cures Catarrh, Asthma, and Bronchitis. Sold by druggists. Two months' treatment. Price $1.00. Small size 25 cts., or by mail from Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

MR. ROBERTSON'S TRAGIC DEATH.

Explosion Blast Drove Him Through the Wall and Back Again.

New York, Jan. 29.—The Journal has the following: The death of J. Roderick Robertson, one of the explosion victims, who was stopping at the Murray Hill Hotel, was tragic.

Mr. Robertson occupied the room adjoining one at the northeast corner of the main floor. It was known as Parlor N.

As near as can be learned Mr. Robertson was standing in front of the mirror, next the window that looked out on Park avenue. He was putting on a black felt hat, preparatory to going out, when the explosion occurred.

The force of the blast sent him through the wall directly in the rear of the window, and into the bathroom behind it. Striking the wall behind this, he was hurled back again through the hole on the first wall, against the bed that stood in the northwest corner of the room. His head was severed. His coat, waistcoat, shirt and trousers were torn to pieces. Even his shoes were ripped from his feet.

A Throat and Lung Treatment

That Has Been Largely Imitated but Never Successfully Rivalled is Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine.

There is no guesswork about the virtues of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. It has been before the people too long, and withstood too many a battle brunt from aspiring rivals, to be considered an experiment of unknown value.

Year by year, as the fall and winter seasons come and go, the sale of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine increases steadily and certainly. It has proven its remarkable value won its laurels and continues to lead the van as the most popular and most largely used cough and cold medicine of this country.

Children especially are fond of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, because it is sweet and pleasant to the taste, and quickly relieves and cures them when gasping for breath with choked-up air passages, or tearing the linings of the throat and bronchial tubes with a severe and painful cough.

Bronchitis, whooping cough, croup, sore throat, severe chest colds and painful coughs are relieved and cured promptly and thoroughly by this famous preparation. It also frees the asthma sufferer from the dreadful paroxysms which cause him such keen agony and cures asthma, as has been proven in a hundred cases.

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine aids expectoration, clears the throat and air passages, soothes and heals the inflamed linings of the bronchial tubes, and cures coughs of every description. But it is far more than a mere cough cure, for its action is far-reaching and it thoroughly removes the cold as well.

You cannot compare Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine with any remedy you ever used. It is unique as a treatment for throat and lung troubles. There are other preparations of linseed and turpentine put up in imitation of Dr. Chase's, and it is therefore important that that you be careful when buying. 25 cents a bottle; family size, three times as much, 60 cents. At all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. 5

CARNEGIE ON WAR.

Says That It Is the Foulest Blot Upon Humanity.

New York, Jan. 29.—"The killing of men under the name of war," wrote Andrew Carnegie in a letter which was read at the P. F. Collier dinner at the Metropolitan Club last night, "is the foulest blot upon humanity to-day. We see much discussion as to what is or what is not permissible under civilized warfare. My view is that this is a contradiction of terms. There can be no such thing as civilized warfare. We have made little progress in the path of genuine civilization as long as we can find no better substitute for the settling of international disputes than the brutal murder of one another."

Sore Throat and Hoarseness

With their attendant dangers, may be speedily averted and remedied by the use of Polson's Nerviline. Excellent to gargle with—ten times better than a mustard plaster and more convenient for the outside. Nerviline pentrates the tissues instantly, soothes the pain, allays the inflammation, and cures sore throat and hoarseness, simply because that is what it is made for. The large 25 cent bottle of Nerviline is unexcelled as a household remedy. It cures everything.

MAGISTRATE DECLINES TO TRY.

Thomas McGiverin, Alleged Bogus Registration, Taken to Berlin.

Galt, Jan. 29.—Thomas McGiverin, who was brought back from Buffalo to Galt for trial on the charge of stealing moneys from the Methodist church here, of which he was treasurer, appeared before Police Magistrate Blake yesterday on remand. Bail bonds were cancelled, and the trial proceeded, which lasted over four hours. The magistrate, in summing up, stated that owing to the large number of technical objections raised by counsel for the defence, and the seriousness of the offence charged, he would not take the responsibility of deciding the matter, and, accordingly, committed the prisoner for trial, either before the county judge or at the ensuing assizes at Berlin. McGiverin was taken to Berlin last night, where, it is understood, application will be made before Judge Chisholm for a renewal of the bail bonds.

A Lucky Gold Strike.

The delight of a man who finds gold in his claim does not equal the delight of a bed ridden invalid who finds in Merrill's System Tonic a restoration to health and strength. This he is sure to do, for this wonderful remedy has never been known to fail. It is a scientific remedy and cures nerve and kidney diseases by removing the cause. Ormond & Walsh sell it at 50c per bottle.

Limit of Microscopic Power.

Professor McKendrick in his presidential address to the physiology section of the British association remarked that the smallest particle of matter that can be seen with our present microscopes is between one four-hundredth-thousandth and one five-hundredth-thousandth of an inch in diameter. The diffraction of light in the microscope forbids the possibility of seeing still smaller objects. Yet the living spores studied by physiologists are sometimes probably even smaller in size than the most minute particle that the most perfect microscope can show.

Grounds For Divorce.

A north side woman sat up till 1 o'clock the other morning waiting for her husband to come home. At last, weary and worn out with her lonely vigil, she went up stairs to retire only to discover the missing husband there fast asleep. Instead of going down town he had stolen up stairs and crawled into bed, and it made his wife so mad she didn't speak to him for a week.

Both Girls Happy.

"How is your daughter Edith, Mrs. Lakeside?"

"She is well and happy. You know she is to be married on the 20th."

"Indeed. And how is your other daughter, Florence?"

"She is also well and happy. You know she got her divorce on the 10th."

SHIP "HARD AGROUND"

A distressing skin disease had well nigh wrecked his good ship "Health," but Dr. Agnew's Ointment came to the rescue and it's timely aid relieved the distress and brought him safe to land.

C. H. Howard, a prominent steamboat man, of Rangeley, Maine, writes:—"Enclosed find thirty-five cents for a box of Dr. Agnew's Ointment. I bought a box in Portland recently for a distressing case of skin disease, and it did me so much good that I want to try another box. It is the only remedy that has ever given me any relief and I believe it will cure me." 35 cts. 22

Germs, Germs.

We hear a great deal about them these days, and rightly too; for they are the direct cause of whooping-cough, diphtheria, scarlet fever and other diseases of childhood. When any of these are in the neighborhood, you should use Vapo-Cresolene. Every evening purify their sleeping rooms with this perfectly safe remedy. It is so easy to prevent the disease in this way. For whooping cough and croup, the doctors say it is a perfect specific. 13

Vapo-Cresolene is sold by druggists everywhere. A Vapo-Cresolene outfit, including the Vaporizer and Lamp, which should last a life-time, and a bottle of Cresolene, complete, $1.50; extra supplies of Cresolene 25 cents and 50 cents. THE LORDLY WOMAN.

"Madge Merton" Has Some Words of Wise Counsel for Her Contemporaries.

There isn't anything more disagreeable than the lordly woman who affects to dispise all the occupations and recreations of her sex. We have our foibles and our follies, but, after all, the woman who keeps pretty close to the heart of woman she knows is more womanly and more successful in her home-realm than the one who has little patience with the flipperies and frolics which all but the mannish woman have a longing for, though, it may be, the longing is never confessed even to themselves.

The mannish woman has been a trouble to the world. Not only did she affect the picturesqueness of dress, but she clutched away our boys. She said, "You mustn't do that and you mustn't do this—it's silly. We wouldn't be bothered with it." We were so aghast that we forgot, for the moment that whether we would do it or not was no concern of ours. We aren't men, and don't want to be. But the fierce creature in the waistcoat, who wouldn't wear a veil and didn't need hairpins, insisted that we were all very foolish. She was the new woman, and she was so new that we hadn't been able to guage her weight or measure. That she was a freak is now readily accepted, and she and her ideas will pass away from the earth. We'll forget all about her in a few years, and we'll do crewel work and Berlin wool bow-wows if we want to, not forgetting that there are other occupations which may suit other women better, though that is their affair and not ours. The sisterhood of women idea has a touch of the divine in it. It makes us stop and consider how much we owe to our own sex, how much of inspiration and encouragement comes to us all from the good women we have happened to meet. There is room in the world for every woman to work out her ideals, and so she is patient with all the other women, and they are patient with her, it matters little that all do not see eye to eye. Whatever increases our respect for the womanhood we should be proud to belong to is a good thing; whatever detracts from it is evil. The only woman for whom the world has no room is the mannish woman—she who stands unsexed between the womanliness of woman and the manliness of man.—Madge Merten, in Toronto Star.

OPERA AND THEATER WRAPS

Coats of All Over Lace the Novel Thing.

A great many women cling to the circular opera wraps, but the coat is smarter for theaters and restaurants. These coats are made of the simplest or the most elaborate materials, just as one's purse or taste dictates. Black peau de soie or broadcloth makes up well with revers and facings of ermine. On the other hand, a recent importation has an accordion plaited mousseline de soie lined with the palest of mauve satin and trimmed with a yoke of tinted lace encircled with mink. The sleeves were roomy and were lined with many rows of frillings.

Coats of all over heavy guipure lace are among the season's novelties. When of black lace, they are trimmed with chinchilla or ermine, and when of the ecru shades they are outlined with bands of mink or sable.

Skunk, with its glossy brown fur and full-bushy effect, is excellent when used in narrow bands on pale colors, and it looks even better when used to outline boleros and tunic draperies and to border the open sleeves, which are supplemented by undersleeves of light color or fanciful description.

Here is a very dainty boa. It is made of pale mauve chiffon trimmed with a flower applique of black chiffon. The boa proper is composed of deeply tinted ruchings edged with the black applique. The long ends are shirred a dozen rows and to these shirrings are added three pointed ruffles edged with the applique. The hat which is worn with this is of eminence purple velvet with a soft fold of chiffon over pale mauve taffeta.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

"WHIZ!! WALK A MILE"

Is a laconic definition of a toboggan ride. It's quick work going down the slide, but it's a long climb back to the starting point. It is very much that way with health; it is quickly lost and slowly regained. When the first symptoms of failing health appear, proper care may prevent the descent to utter weakness and debility. Usually the complication of disorders known as general debility has its origin in a diseased condition of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. These diseases are perfectly cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures through the stomach disorders which have their origin in a diseased condition of the stomach.

There is no alcohol in the "Discovery," neither opium, cocaine nor other narcotic.

"I was all run down; had no strength; had sharp darting pains all through me; head and back ached every day," writes Mrs. Frank Cowell, of Schaumburg, St. N.Y. "I was also troubled with a distressed feeling in the stomach and pain in front of the hip bones. I had a severe cough and it nearly killed me to draw a long breath. I was so sore through my lungs.

"I wrote to Dr. Pierce, telling my symptoms as near as I could. He sent me a very kind letter, advising me to try his medicines, which I did, and before I had taken them a week I was decidedly better. I took two bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and two of the 'Favorite Prescription,' and am sure I never felt better in my life than when I quit taking them."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a cure for biliousness.

THE ESQUIMO

The Esquimo eats blubber. The lumbermen eat pork. These people are constantly exposed to cold and physical strain. Experience has taught them that fatty foods give warmth and nourishment.

For those who have cold and thin bodies, or are threatened with consumption or any wasting disease, there is no fat in so digestible and palatable a form as Scott's Emulsion. Physicians prescribe it.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like.

Perchance the favor I'll return
And ask you to our wedding

"But even her bank account's vulgarly fat, While mine is too stylishly svelte."

Easy to Settle.

A famous lawyer once had a singular case to settle. A physician came to him in great distress. Two sisters, living in the same house, had babies of equal age, who so resembled each other that their own mothers were unable to distinguish them when they were together. Now, it happened that by the carelessness of the nurses the children had become mixed, and how were the mothers to make sure that they received back their own infants?

"But, perhaps," said the lawyer, "the children weren't changed at all."

"Oh, but there's no doubt they were changed!" said the physician.

"Are you sure of it?"

"Perfectly."

"Well, if that's the case, why don't you change them back again? I don't see any difficulty in the case."

He Meant the Bird.

A man once received as a present from a sea captain a fine specimen of the bird known as the laughing jackass.

As he was carrying it home he met a brawny Irish navvy, who stopped him.

"Phwat kind of burd is that, sorr?" asked the man.

"That's a laughing jackass," explained the owner genially.

The Irishman, thinking he was being made fun of, was equal to the occasion and responded, with a twinkle of the eye:

"It's not yerself; it's the burd I mane, sorr!"—London Spare Moments.

Medical Science Advances.

It is not more than half a century ago that physicians considered a surgical operation with its risk, expense and pain as the only cure for piles. To-day it is only the out of date doctors that think of such treatment. It is cruel and extravagant to operate for a disease which is far more certainly cured by the application of Dr. Chase's Ointment. You may be skeptical, but for proof you are referred to tens of thousands of cases that have been cured by this famous preparation.

Her Shopping Pocketbook.

Crimsonbeak—My wife had her pocketbook stolen three times within a fortnight while shopping.

Yeast—You don't tell me!

"Yes, and, strange to say, the thieves got the same each time."

"That is odd. How much did they get?"

"Nothing."

Poor Economy.

"My husband always says a week or two before Christmas that he doesn't want me to give him a single thing."

"Well, why don't you take him at his word?"

"I did one year, and it nearly made him sick abed. So what's the use of saving money only to pay it out to the doctor?"

Midnight Medicine.

She (rather wearily)—It must be lovely to be a man.

He (a late stayer)—Why?

She—A man can spend the evening with whom he pleases and not have to entertain anybody that comes along.

Who appreciate accurate time will profit by having their watches repaired at Frost's Diamond Hall, Peterborough. Every watch left with Frost for repair receives the closest attention that skilled hands can give, and every watch that Frost repairs is fully guaranteed to give account of itself. Another important matter is, that while Frost's work is first-class in every particular, Frost's prices are always the lowest that good work can be done for.

COUNTY COUNCIL STILL IN SESSION.

he has no need for a school. They are now occupying the down stairs of a little government building with a seven foot ceiling. There are at least eleven children not now attending the school who would be if there was a respectable school house. They have had a lot of trouble in connection with their school matters, but all he and his friends want is to have a school house in a central place. If they decide to keep that shack in that portion of the section then he and his friends would asked to be placed in a separate section where they will build a new school of their own.

Mr. Casement moved that the matter be referred to the Committee on Schools and that the inspector be asked to report on the matter in the meantime. Mr. Pearce seconded the motion.

Mr. Hatton, representing the Peterborough Radial Railway Company, appeared before the council to ask that the County Council memorialize the Ontario Government approving of the request of that company for letters of incorporation. Mr. Hatton explained that it was necessary to approach the Legislature in this manner in view of the fact that notice should have been given to the Legislature six weeks earlier than it was given, and the memorials from the councils of the municipalities interested would overcome the difficulty, and would expedite the matter.

After carefully looking into the request the council granted it, so far as it affected them.

Mr. W. H. Meldrum, president of the Otonabee Power Company, extended an invitation to the County Council and county officials to Dam No. 5, in the afternoon, to witness the laying of the key stone of the new power house.

Upon motion of Mr. Casement the invitation was accepted with thanks.

The council then adjourned.

Council met at 2 p.m., the Warden in the chair.

Messrs. John A. Sexsmith, reeve of Belmont, G. W. Curtis, John Knox, appeared before the council as a deputation asking for a grant towards the improvement of the road leading from Marmora to the Cordova Mines. They spoke of the progress of Cordova and the amount of traffic to and from the mines, and held that the county at large would be benefitted.

The matter was referred to the Committee on Roads and Bridges.

Messrs. C. H. Bradburn headed a deputation from the Township of N. Monaghan, that interviewed the council regarding an alleged grievance. Mr. Bradburn appeared on behalf of his father, the Reeve of North Monaghan, who was called away on business, and could not therefore attend. The trouble they had experienced in the township was through the alleged defectiveness of cattle guards that the C.P.R. have in use. They were not of the same kind as the old-time cattle guards, or as those in use by the G.T.R. During the last year or two there had been killed in Monaghan through the defectiveness of the cattle guards, horses and cattle the value of which is modestly estimated at $2,400. Whilst at the same time there had been no accidents of the kind occur on the Grand Trunk lines which run almost parallel with the C.P.R., and only a few miles further south. He asked the assistance of the Peterborough County Council in conjunction with the Township Council in petitioning the Dominion Government to have the matter remedied.

Mr. T. M. Hunter, of North Monaghan, was one of those who had suffered by the killing of stock on the C.P.R. He had animals killed the loss of which he might easily estimate at $500. The present cattle guards of the C.P.R. are very dangerous and should be done away with. He would not like the people to think that they were in the habit of allowing their cattle to run at large in the Township of Monaghan. Such was not the case, but cattle often got at large by the blowing down of fences, etc., and it was in this manner that they run into danger. He asked that a small deputation be sent to Ottawa to interview the Minister of Railways.

Mr. Jonathan Smith, a member of the Council of North Monaghan, also addressed the County Council on the matter. He claimed that the present C.P.R. cattle guards were nothing short of death traps.

Mr. John A. Sexsmith thought that beyond doubt the farmers had a great grievance in this regard. He cited instances in which people in his neighbourhood had suffered great loss through the defectiveness of the Railway Crossings, and he hoped that the council will move in the matter. He thought further that the County Council would be justified in taking up the matter and sending a delegation to Ottawa with a view of having the grievence remedied.

Mr. Anderson expressed himself as strongly in favour of taking action in the matter. In his neighbourhood there had been very heavy losses through the defectiveness of the C. P. R. crossings while with the G.T.R. crossings which are more numerous in Otonabee than those of the C.P.R., there is little or no trouble owing to the fact that they have the old system of cattle guarding. Mr. Anderson, in conclusion, moved that a small deputation be sent to Ottawa along with deputations from other municipalities asking the Government to take action in the matter.

The motion envoked further discussion and drew from Mr. Peck a specific motion appointing the Warden a representative of the Council to accompany any deputation that might go down to urge the matter upon the Government.

This did not carry, and the following motion was substituted:

"That the Members for East and West Peterborough bring before the Dominion House of Commons the extent of the damage caused by the killing of cattle on the C.P.R., through the defectiveness of the cattle guards, and that a deputation from this council accompany any general deputation that may go down to Ottawa to interview the Government in the matter."

The motion was carried.

ANOTHER DEPUTATION.

Mr. Casement moved that a deputation from the Children's Aid Society be heard.

Mr. McBain, the president of the Society, was the first speaker. He intimated that they had come up to ask the council for a renewal of the grant they had been receiving from the county. As to the work of the Society, he would leave Mr. Dennistoun, the secretary, and Mr. Cochrane, the agent, to explain.

Mr. Dennistoun, in support of the application for a grant, read his annual report to the Society, which gave a very comprehensive view of what is being done. Seeing that the county gave them a grant he said that it was nothing but proper that they should give the county's representatives an idea of what is being done.

Mr. Pearse moved, seconded by Mr. Casement, that the request of the deputation be referred to the Finance Committee.

Mr. Pearce moved that the County valuators on the Equalization of Assessment be allowed to report.

The council then adjourned.

The Root of the Trouble.

It surprises some people when you tell them that their nervous trouble is caused by a defective Liver. Liver troubles cause constipation. Next comes dyspepsia, then impure blood, with heart strain, and the result is nerve trouble. Merrill's System Tonic is a positive cure for liver trouble and constipation, and in this way removes the cause of all ills. 50 cents per bottle at Ormond & Walsh's.

THE NEW PROCEDURE

Rules to Expedite Business in the Imperial Commons.

BRITAIN'S ANSWER ON THE WAY

Mr. Balfour Could Not Say What It Was Until It Reached Its Destination at The Hague—Colonies in Parliament—Mr. Blake Says Representation Is a Scheme to Tax Colonies For the War.

London, Jan. 31.—The Government leader, A. J. Balfour, in the House of Commons yesterday, unfolded the Government scheme for the reform of the House procedure.

The proposals include a reduction of the number of divisions and empowering the chair to count standing members, instead of forcing them to march through the lobbies.

The discussion of bills is also curtailed, the powers of closure are extended, and the authority of the chair in dealing with disorder is increased.

For a first offence a member may be suspended for the day's session; for a second offence he may be suspended for 40 days, and a third offence a member may be suspended 80 days, and be refused re-admittance until he has apologized to the House.

The Speaker is also empowered to suspend a sitting in the interests of order.

The Government further proposes two sittings daily, beginning respectively at 2 p.m. and 9 a.m. Another proposal gives all the afternoon, besides some evenings, to Government business.

Answer on the Way.

Mr. Balfour also said that, as the reply of the British Government to the communication of the Government of the Netherlands on the subject of the South African war would not reach The Hague until Jan. 31, it was impossible for His Majesty's Government to give the House the papers this week.

No Colonial Representation.

An amendment to the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne, moved by Louis Sinclair (Conservative) was debated. The amendment urged a redistribution of the electoral system, admitting representatives of Canada, Australia and other colonies.

The Right Hon. Sir Charles Dilke (Liberal) declared that the preponderance of opinion in Australia was against representation in the Imperial Parliament.

Edward Blake (Nationalist) adroitly suggested that the whole scheme for colonial representation was to be explained by a desire to compel the colonies to relieve the United Kingdom of a large share of the cost of the South African war.

The amendment was of course defeated.

SIR JOHN CENSURED

Although Horse Dealers Had a Profit of $75 in Each Horse.

London, Jan. 31.—The report of the Parliamentary Committee appointed to investigate the charges of bribery and corruption made by Sir John Blundell Maple (Conservative), against the British officers who purchased army horses in Austria-Hungary, censures Sir John for unjustifiable attacks on the integrity of the officers.

At the same time, however, the committee finds that an excessive price was paid, whereby horse dealers were enabled to divide a profit of about £15 in the case of each horse on animals which cost the contractors only £12 to £17.

The committee also expresses surprise at the fact that the Government remount department took no steps to ascertain the best sources of supply in Hungary until the South African war had been in progress for six months, thereby involving the country in a loss of £12,000 on a single contract.

COL. DUMOULIN KILLED.

British Lose Nine Men in Engagement at Abraham's Kraal.

London, Jan. 31.—The War Office's casualty list, issued last night, shows that in a hitherto reported engagement at Abraham's Kraal, near Koffyfontein, Orange River Colony, Jan. 28, Col. L. E. Dumoulin of the Sussex Regiment and eight men were killed and seven men were wounded.

MURDERERS ESCAPE.

The Biddle Brothers Overpower Their Guards and Depart Abt.

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 31.—Edward and John Biddle, awaiting execution in the county jail for the murder of Orper Thomas D. Kehney of Mount Washington, overpowered the guards at 4 o'clock yesterday morning and escaped. Both prisoners had been provided with saws with which they cut the bars in their cells. The help they received was given by Mrs. Soffel, wife of the warden of the jail, who was infatuated with Edward. They had evidently been preparing for escape for some time; and had assistance from the outside, as both were armed with revolvers.

Shortly before 4 o'clock one of the Biddles called to James McGeary, who had charge of the outside gates, and asked for some cramp medicine in a hurry, saying his brother was dangerously sick. McGeary hastened to get the medicine, when John Biddle sprang through the opening in the cell, and, seizing the guard around the waist, hurled him over the railing to the stone floor below, a distance of 16 feet.

Edward Biddle joined his brother immediately, and both, with drawn revolvers, hurried to the first floor, where they met Guard Reynolds and shot him. There were but three men on duty, and the third man was on one of the upper ranges. He was ordered down at the point of the revolvers, and the three guards were put in the dungeon. They then unlocked the outside gates and passed out into the street.

The escape was not discovered until the daylight guards came on duty at 6 o'clock. They were informed by prisoners where the night guards had been put, and they were soon released from the dungeon and sent to the hospital.

$5,000 Reward Offered.

A reward of $5,000 has been offered for the re-capture of the Biddle murderers. No trace has been found of Mrs. Soffel.

When the Biddles were tried, it was stated that they were former residents of St. Thomas, Ont.

THE DOMINION GRANGE.

Concludes Its Annual Business and Elects Its Officers.

Toronto, Jan. 31.—The Dominion Grange concluded the business of their annual meeting yesterday. The secretary's report showed a cash balance of $145.

The subject of good roads was discussed, and the opinion of the meeting was very largely in favor of the doing away with statute labor, which, it was said, spoiled the roads.

A rural mail delivery service was touched upon, but no expression of the meeting was given on the question.

The meeting endorsed the committee's recommendation that a railway commission be appointed by the Government to deal with freight and passenger rates and other matters connected therewith.

The following were elected officers for the ensuing year: Worthy Master, Jabel Robinson, M.P., Middlemarch (re-elected); Worthy Overseer, John McDougald, Milton (re-elected); Worthy Secretary, W. F. W. Fisher, Burlington (re-elected); Worthy Treasurer, James Fallis, Newbridge (re-elected); Lecturer, Joseph Todd, Gilford; Chaplain, W. J. Goodfellow, Craigvale; Steward, J. A. Carswell, Newbridge; Assistant Steward, Arthur Pow, Freeman; Gatekeeper, T. C. Osborne, Whitby; Executive, James Fallis, W. F. W. Fisher; Auditors, Walter Reiston, F. Roy and John McDougald.

DEPUTIES AT FISTICUFFS.

Meeting in Brussels Chambers Proved to Be Opened by Row.

Brussels, Jan. 31.—The Chamber of Deputies here was the scene of a free fight yesterday between the Socialist and Catholic factions. The trouble grew out of a proposal to prosecute M. Smeets, a Socialist, for a recent revolutionary speech. The disorder began in the galleries, which were eventually cleared by force. Thereafter the uproar was continued on the floor. The Socialists advanced in a body against the benches of the Catholics, showering taunts and epithets. The deputies finally engaged in fisticuffs, and the sitting was suspended, but when the session was resumed the disturbance recommenced and prevented the transaction of business.

Rosebery to Follow Strathcona.

New York, Jan. 31.—Lord Strathcona, Lord Rector of Aberdeen University, has intimated, according to the London correspondent of The Tribune, that the condition of his health and inability to devote attention to the duties of the position, compel him to decline to offer himself for re-election. The Radical students have agreed to invite Lord Rosebery to stand as Lord Rector in succession to Lord Strathcona.

Wreck on the C.P.R.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Jan. 31.—Very meagre information has reached here of a wreck on the Canadian Pacific, near Sudbury, Wednesday evening. As near as can be learned, a freight train too long for a side-track, was run into by the through express, causing the death of one man and serious injuries to several others. Traffic was greatly delayed.

Liberal Nominated in Lisgar.

Winnipeg, Man., Jan. 31.—Duncan A. Stewart of Pilot Mound was nominated yesterday at the Liberal convention for Lisgar, held at Crystal City. Mr. Sifton addressed a mass meeting in the evening. The Conservatives nominate their candidate to-day.

Death of Trooper Smith.

Ottawa, Jan. 31.—The Militia Department has been advised by telegram from Halifax that Trooper A. Smith of the Canadian Mounted Rifles, died in the hospital there yesterday. He belonged to Calgary, N. W.T., and soon after arrival in Halifax was pronounced medically unfit for service.

Dr. McEachran Has Resigned.

Ottawa, Jan. 31.—The Chief Dominion Veterinary Inspector, Dr. D. McEachran of Montreal, who has been connected with the Agricultural Department for some years, has resigned, and the resignation has been accepted by the Minister of Agriculture. Dr. R. G. Rutherford of Portage la Prairie has been appointed in his stead. The Minister wants the chief inspector to reside in Montreal, but this Dr. McEachran's private affairs prevent.

Officers Must Study French.

Ottawa, Jan. 11.—"An officer on appointment to a unit of the permanent corps," says a militia order just issued, "will in future be expected to apply himself to the study of the French language, and will be required, at the expiration of twelve months, to be able to pass a satisfactory collequial examination in the language."

THE ONTARIO PROVINCIAL AUCTION SALES.

The Provincial Auction Sales which were held at Guelph and Ottawa last year in February and March more than realized the expectations of all interested. The sales this year will take place during the month of February. A change, however, has been made in the order of the sales. That at Ottawa will take place first, February 12th, and the Guelph one, February 28th.

As only a limited number of animals will be sold at each place, and as entries have been received for considerable more than the number required, an opportunity will be given to select only the very best. Animals will be selected that are in the pink of condition, and good individuals of the breed they represent. No unworthy animals will be accepted.

Persons wishing to purchase can depend upon being able to choose from a lot of stock of individual merit and good breeding. The names of a large number of prominent breeders is a guarantee of the quality of the stock offered.

BREEDS REPRESENTED.

The animals to be sold at Ottawa include Shorthorns, Ayrshires, Yorkshires and Tamworths. At Guelph there will be only representatives of the beef breeds and swine. Naturally Shorthorns predominate in numbers and of these, there are a great many many excellent representatives. Such breeders as Hon. Jno. Dryden, Capt. T. E. Robson, Ilderton; A. W. Smith, Maple Lodge; R. Gibson, Delaware; A. Johnston, Greenwood; J. T. Gibson, Denfield; R. and S. Nicholson, Sylvan; W. G. Sanders, St. Thomas, A. and W. Whitlaw, Guelph; W. Smith, Columbus; E. Jeffs & Son, Bond Head; Jno. Bright, Myrtle; H. K. Fairbairn, Thedford; W. G. Ormiston, Columbus; F. G. Sibbald, Sutton West; A. Moore, Greenwood; J. E. Mayer, Kossuth, and fully 75 other breeders of Shorthorns, have stock entered. Among other breeds, J. G. Clark, Ottawa and Hon. Owens, Montebello, have entered Ayrshires; D. McCrae, Guelph, Galloways and swine; R. Reid & Co., Tamworths, Berkshires and Ayrshires; J. A. Richardson, South March, Holsteins.

It will thus be seen that there will be not only a large number of animals to be disposed of but that they will be all good representatives of the breeds as every precaution will be taken to secure this end. Buyers can attend the sales, with every confidence that they can there purchase what they require, and they can look over the stock in the building before the sale begins, and at any time until its close.

Reduced rates will be granted to parties who attend these sales, over the C.P.R. from local stations east of Fort William and from all points on the Northern and North Western Division of the G.T.R., L.E. & D. R.R., Erie and Huron Ry., Central Ontario Ry., Kingston & Pembroke Ry., Bay of Quinte Ry. & Navigation Co., H.C.R. in Canada, C.A.Ry. and the Ottawa and N. Y. Ry.

Those attending the sales, must purchase first-class full rate, one way tickets to Ottawa or Guelph, and obtain certificates to that effect on standard certificate form. Ticket agents are supplied with standard certificates, and are instructed to issue them on application. Where persons have to travel over more than one railway to reach the place of sale, they will require to purchase tickets and obtain certificates as above from each railway, except from stations on lines mentioned above.

Buyers of car lots, coming from West of Port Arthur, will be given the same rate as is allowed on settler's effects. One free pass will be allowed with each car of pure bred stock. All purchasers who buy a carload for use in Canada, and who have paid full passenger fare from a starting point in Canada to either of the sales, will be refunded one-half their first-class fare, or if such purchaser has travelled second-class, a reduction will be made to one cent per mile. A claim for the refund must be accompanied by a receipt for the fare paid and also by the freight bill covering the shipment of live stock. These arrangements have been completed with the C.P.R. and G.T.R.

Mr. Sorsoliel accompanied by Mr. Parks occupied the pulpit in the Methodist church on Sunday evening.

Next Sunday, Feb. 2nd, there will be service both morning and evening in the Methodist church in Bridgenorth.

A number of farmers in this vicinity are drawing wood from the Indian village.

Mr. L. G. Fobert is busy dissecting the hotel sheds which collapsed a few days ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Black and family, of Dakota, are visiting with the former's brother, Mr. Thos. Black, of this village.

Master Clayton and Miss Hannah TeMord, who have been spending the past week visiting friends in Keene, have returned home.

Rollie Blewett and Gordon Mann drove to Peterborough on Monday night to attend the concert in St. Andrews' church hall.

Wm. Bell, who has been confined to the house for the past six weeks, has recovered sufficiently as to be be able to be out again.

Mr. R. C. Heard drove a bus load of his friends up to Chemong village on Friday night to attend the opening of their new town hall.

Mr. Brown, head organizer of the Royal Arcanum, who has spent the past week in Bridgenorth in connection with the local court here, left on Monday for London.

The open shed at the Park Hotel stables tumbled down last week after the big snowfall. Two valuable cutters, also a number of easy chairs stored in the loft, were smashed. One of the cutters was the property of Mr. Brown, the other belonging to Fitzgerald's livery stable, Peterborough. The question now arises as to who will foot the bill for the livery man's cutter, the man who hired it, the liveryman, the tenant, or the landlord?

LAKEFIELD.

(From our own Correspondent.)

Miss Cora McGibbon, of Hawkesbury, Ont., is visiting in the village the guest of Mrs. Sam Montgomery.

Mr. Wm. Cox, of Winnipeg, who has been visiting his parents in the village, has returned west.

Rev. Mr. Bridgeman, former pastor of the Baptist church here, leaves this week for Kingston. Mr. Bridgeman has accepted a call to a Baptist church in that city. On the eve of their departure the ladies of the congregation presented Mr. and Mrs. Bridgeman with a handsome set of China dishes as a slight token of the esteem in which they were held by their many friends.

On Sabbath morning Rev. C. A. Campbell preached a sermon for boys, in which he took as the subject "A Frog." Those who failed to hear Mr. Campbell's discourse missed a decided treat as it was unusually instructive and edifying. It called to our mind Shakespeare's words when he said: "Our life finds tongues in trees, books in the running brooks, sermons in stones and good in everything."

Mrs. H. G. Fitzgerald entertained a number of her friends at a progressive euchre party on Wednesday evening last.

Miss Fitzgerald, of Ashburnham, has returned to her home after having spent a week in the village.

The event bids fair to surpass any thing of the kind ever attempted in Lakefield.

YOUNG'S POINT.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Tate, of Lakefield, visited the Point Friday, the 24th inst., with a sleighing party of ten ladies and gentlemen. Supper was served at the Lakeview House. The party enjoyed a pleasant evening and a delightful drive home.

The sale of the stock and farming implements of Mr. F. J. Young, of Selwyn, was held on the 25th inst. Mr. Young, who has been farming for the past eight years, has retired and is to make his home at the Point.

The concert and tea given by the English church on Monday evening, was a success. Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, a large number attended from Peterborough, Lakefield, Halltain, and the Point was of course well represented. Tea was served from five to seven, after which a concert was ably rendered by the following talent: Vocal solos, by Miss Major, Miss Rutherford, Mrs. Wilson; recitation, by Miss Primeau; duet, by Miss Primeau and Miss Major; duet, by Mrs. Wilson and Rev. W. Cresswick; selections, by the Harmonica Club of Lakefield; drill, by the Sunday School children. Mr. J. H. Benson kept the audience in roars of laughter by his humourous vocal selections. The editor of the Lakefield News also contributed to the programme and nearly brought down the house by his representations of Tim Toolan. Miss Primeau and Miss Major, Messrs. H. and G. Wilson and Mr. Primeau very creditably impersonated the character sketch "Turn Him Out."

Mr. A. S. Dickinson, who for the past two years has been assisting the Rev. W. Cresswick as Catechist and Lay Reader, has accepted an appointment to a similar position in the parish of Warsaw and Hall's Glen. Mr. Dickinson has many warm friends about Young's Point who will regret his leaving.

Rev. W. Cresswick is spending a few days in Toronto visiting his wife who is in St. John's Hospital. The residents of the Point tender their sympathy to Mr Cresswick, and trust his wife will soon enjoy good health.

For the Children.

To Keep Their Digestion Perfect Nothing is so Safe and Pleasant as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Thousands of men and women have found Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets the safest and most reliable preparation for any form of indigestion or stomach trouble.

Thousands of people who are not sick, but are well and wish to keep well take Stuart's Tablets after every meal to insure perfect digestion and avoid trouble.

But it is not generally known that the Tablets are just as good and wholesome for little folks as for their elders.

Little children who are pale, thin and have no appetite, or do not grow or thrive, should use the tablets after eating and will derive great benefit from them.

Mrs. G. H. Crotaley, 538 Washington street, Hoboken, New Jersey, writes: "Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets just fill the bill for children as well as for older folks. I've had the best of luck with them. My three-year-old girl takes them as readily as candy. I have only to say 'tablets' and she she drops everything else and runs for them."

A Buffalo mother, a short time ago, who despaired of the life of her babe, was so delighted with the results from giving the child these tablets that she went before the notary public of Erie Co., N. Y., and made the following affidavit:

Gentlemen:—Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets were recommended to me for my two-months-old baby, which was sick and puny and the doctors said was suffering from indigestion. I took the child to the hospital, but there found no relief. A friend mentioned the Stuart Tablets and I procured a box from my druggist and used only the large sweet lozenges in the box and was delighted to find they were just the thing for my baby. I feel justified in saying that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets saved my child's life.

Mrs. W. T. Dethlops.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 12th day of April, 1897.

Henry Karis.
Notary Public in and for Erie Co., New York.

For babies, no matter how young or delicate, the tablets will accomplish wonders in increasing flesh, appetite and growth. Use only the large sweet tablets in every box. Full sized boxes are sold by all druggists for 50 cents, and no parent should neglect the use of this safe remedy for all stomach and bowel troubles if the child is ailing in any way regarding its food or assimilation.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been known for years as the best preparation for all stomach troubles whether in adults or infants.

BIG BRIDGE AT MONTREAL.

Ten Million Dollar Structure Over the St. Lawrence.

New York, Jan. 31.—Negotiations have almost been completed in this city and in Canada for a bridge across the St. Lawrence River at Montreal, which is to be one of the largest of its class in the world. The bridge is the Royal Albert bridge from Montreal to Longueuil.

The estimated cost of the bridge, with its terminals, is $10,000,000.

The total length of the bridge is to be 8,800 feet. The main span, a cantilever, which will be the largest of its kind on the continent, will be 1,260 feet long. The height of the bridge above water will be about 150 feet and its width 83 feet, divided as follows: A double-track electric railway, a double highway and two sidewalks. The weight of steel in the structure will be about 74,000,000 pounds, and there will be 90,000 cubic yards of masonry.

Even if you are obliged to use crutches Dr. Hall's Rheumatic Cure can fix you up. This was the experience of John J. Peters, Sharbot Lake, Ont. Fortunately he tried Dr. Hall's remedy and it only took three bottles to cure him completely. This great blood purifier is put up in bottles containing ten days treatment. Smith's Falls Library Assured.

Smith's Falls, Jan. 31.—The Council of the town of Smith's Falls has received an offer of $10,000 for the erection of a public library. The only condition that Mr. Carnegie made was that the town should spend $1,000 a year for the maintenance of the library, and this has been made possible by the generous offer of Mr. C. B. Frost and Mr. F. T. Frost, president and vice-president, respectively, of the Frost & Wood Company, who have supplemented Mr. Carnegie's gift with another $10,000 for the maintenance, in 20 annual payments of $500 each.

A REIGN OF TERROR

Irish Tenants Paying Rent Visited by Armed Men.

BEACON FIRES THE SIGNALS

Virulent Notices Posted, Threatening Death to Traitors in Roscommon—A Challenge to Mr. Wyndham to Fight the Land Question, With 5,000 or 10,000 Soldiers or Police—O'Donnell's Method.

London, Jan. 31.—Despatches received here from Dublin contain alarming reports of the reign of terror prevailing in Roscommon County. Tenants who are suspected of paying rent are visited at night by armed men, notices are posted threatening death to traitors, and midnight meetings are a nightly occurrence, the people being assembled by beacon fires. John O'Donnell (member of Parliament for South Mayo) is reported to have addressed a midnight meeting at Fairmount, at which he challenged the Chief Secretary for Ireland, Mr. Wyndham, to come into the open at the head of 5,000 or 10,000 men, either soldiers or police. If he (Mr. Wyndham) would give the men of Clare a fight a month to prepare, Mr. O'Donnell said he would not hesitate to declare that they would meet them even at great numerical odds, and settle the land question for good.

NEARLY STARVED TO DEATH.

A Nova Scotia Lady has a Terrible Experience—For Nine Long Years it Lasted.

Mrs. James Bradley, of Smith's Cove, Digby Co., N. S., relates a most interesting story of starvation and suffering which she has been called on to endure for the last nine years. She had dyspepsia and was treated by all the best doctors within her reach but without receiving any benefit, indeed without securing even the slightest relief from the pain and distress which tortured her.

Her only escape from the pain of Dyspepsia was found in a starvation system of dieting which reduced her bodily strength till she was as weak as a child. She says:

"No tongue can tell what I have suffered. I cannot describe it. I had to starve myself, and had given up all hope of ever having anything to help me."

She saw an advertisement of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and commenced a treatment of this remedy with the result that she was relieved almost immediately. Encouraged by this she continued till she had used nearly six boxes. She is completely cured and says:

"I am thankful to be able to say that I am altogether cured. I can eat anything I fancy without the slightest fear of distress or pain afterwards, and can sleep comfortably, something I never expected to be able to do again in this world. It was a wonderful cure, and I advise all who suffer as I did to use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets for they are the best remedy ever discovered in the world. I wish I could tell every Dyspeptic sufferer what Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets have done for me."

SNOW SLIDES OBSTACLES.

Yukon Telegraph Wires Buried Ten Feet Under the Surface.

Ottawa, Jan. 31.—"It is in a mountainous and uninhabited stretch of country about 100 miles long, lying between Telegraph Creek and Hazelton, B.C., that all the trouble is being experienced with the Yukon telegraph line," said a Public Works official yesterday. "The interruptions are caused by snow slides, one of these which occurred a fortnight ago, buried the wires ten feet under the surface. As the poles are about 25 feet high this measures a total depth of 35 feet of snow. Under such conditions it is not to be wondered that communication is hard to keep up with the Yukon in winter."

Frontenac Asked to Pay Up.

Kingston, Jan. 31.—The Frontenac County Council is being pressed by the Ontario Government to settle its indebtedness of over $200,000. In 1850 the county bought the Kingston and Napanee road for $49,200. The money was never paid, and, by accumulation of interest, reaches the above large sum. Since 1859 the county has been collecting toll on the road.

A BASELESS CHARGE

Mr. Lucas Says That Provincial Secretary Withheld a Letter.

MR. STRATTON'S STRONG DEN.

Budget Debate Resumed by Mr. Lucas—He Was Followed by Mr. Clark Who Delivered a Very Humorous Speech Which Was Welcomed by All—Lively Day in the Legislature.

Toronto, Jan. 30.—To-day, in the Legislative Assembly, among the measures introduced were bills by Mr. Garrow respecting expert witnesses, by Mr. Kribs to provide for the appointment of a Board of Provincial Arbitration and by Mr. Auld to amend the Drainage Act.

Mr. Lucas resumed the debate upon the budget. He said that the Premier must be hard pressed for an argument to prove that there was a surplus when he had to request the Dominion Finance Minister to come to his aid with an opinion that could be used as a campaign document. He contended that the Premier's statement as to the financial standing of the province had ignored liabilities amounting to about a million and a half dollars. The province was about ready for a house cleaning, considering that one party had remained in office for 30 years, and after they had had an opportunity to get at the archives and examine the accounts they would be able to say better than at present whether the affairs of the province had been honestly managed. Mr. Garrow had denounced the outrage of proceeding with assessment legislation while the "scrap iron" question was sub judice, but he sat and voted in the House on the question of legalizing the votes of election constables when that matter was before the courts. The Provincial Secretary had suppressed a letter which the House had ordered to be included in a return. He charged that a corrupt deal had taken place in order to create a vacancy for the Minister of Public Works. He would say nothing about the Minister of Agriculture, who had experienced sufficient trouble from his own party friends in the matter of the South Dakota ranch.

Mr. Pettypiece here obtained the floor for a minute and told a story, the point of which was that the Conservatives had better attend to Mr. Crawford, who was also interested in the same enterprise.

Mr. Lucas, resuming, enlarged upon the course of the prosecution in the cases of Wildfong and Cummings, charged with election frauds. In shielding these criminals the Attorney-General had violated the pledges given to this House to prosecute to the utmost all such offenders. They had entered into a corrupt bargain in regard to the representation of North Waterloo.

The Speaker ruled the expression out of order.

Mr. Lucas wished to adhere to parliamentary rules and would substitute "surprising circumstance" for the words objected to. Considering the corrupt influences against them the Opposition had to encounter tremendous odds, but he prophesied that they would win a glorious victory.

Mr. Clark referred to the election of Mr. Pense for Kingston by acclamation as an example of the powerlessness of the Opposition. Col. Matheson had commiserated the case of the heirs of an American who had to pay $45,000 succession duty on $900,000 deposited in Canadian banks. He was strongly in favor of the succession tax and the case referred to entailed no hardship. No man could leave an amount such as that unless he had enjoyed some special advantages in his lifetime, and it was right and just that a large portion of his estate should revert to the public and go towards the relief of the unfortunates. He highly commended the course of the Government in levying special taxes on corporations. How was the Government to carry on the business of the country without these various sources of revenue? He did not know that a surplus was necessary. The people of the province did not believe in the Government hoarding up money. They would rather see it expended in good roads and other improvements, and he would even go further and say if they had no surplus let them borrow the money to improve and develop the country. The country had something to be proud for in the manner in which this Government were caring for the unfortunates. The Conservatives were fond of drawing comparisons between the Sandfield Macdonald administration and the Liberal Government, but it was not fair to compare 1874 with 1891. He was glad that the Temiskaming Railroad was going to be built by the Government. The time had come when all such enterprises should be owned by the public. The humorous character of many of the illustrations and expressions of Mr. Clark's address caused frequent outbursts of laughter and applause.

Dr. Jessop said that Mr. Clark had not always had so favorable an opinion of the Government as he now expressed. There was a time when he refused his vote to them. The Premier's speech, though eloquent and scholastic, was misleading. He assailed the administration of the Crown Lands Department, claiming for the Conservatives the credit for the policy of the home manufacture of lumber. The Department of Agriculture had mismanaged the operations for destroying the San Jose scale.

On motion of Dr. Jessop the debate was adjourned until Tuesday.

Hon. J. R. Stratton, before the House rose, desired emphatically to contradict the statement of Mr. Lucas that he had wilfully withheld a letter which had been asked for by the House to be included in a return. This statement was absolutely false and without any ground. There was nothing whatever in the letter to prevent it being brought down, and it was produced as soon as the date was given.

Mr. Whitney said that Mr. Lucas did not assert that the Provincial Secretary had wilfully and knowingly withheld the letter in question, but that some one had.

Hon. Mr. Stratton again positively denied that he had suppressed the letter or had any interest in doing so. If it could be shown that any clerk or employe had done so he would be at once dismissed.

Assembly Notes.

Premier and Mrs. Ross will attend King Edward's coronation in London this year. They go at the invitation of the British Colonial Office.

A deputation waited on Premier Ross yesterday from Rat Portage. James Conmee, M.P.P., introduced it, and the following were those who came: Mayor Cameron, George Carmichael, A. J. McCrossan and Geo. A. Graham. They asked for $25,000 to deepen the channel between Shoal Lake and Lake of the Woods. They also requested that improvements be made on the docks on the Rainy River.

Prof. Ellis, as a result of his examination of the stomachs of cattle which died suddenly in Waterloo County, reports that no traces of poison were found.

In the report of the Inspector of Division Courts, which has not yet been completed, the inspector refers to the different changes made in the Division Court clerks during the year, and adds that the time has come when Division Court clerks and bailiffs should have securities with guarantee companies, instead of private persons. The judgment summons way of collecting debts, the report says, is considered by many to be a poor one, and that a better method should be adopted.

MR. PENSE ELECTED.

Member For Kingston in the Legislative Assembly—The Candidate in a Neat Speech Returns Thanks.

Kingston, Jan. 31.—As was expected all along only one name was placed in nomination yesterday for the Ontario Legislative Assembly to take the place of Hon. Wm. Harty. The returning officer therefore had the pleasure of declaring Mr. E. J. B. Pense, proprietor of The British Whig, elected by acclamation. Mr. Pense made a short address following his election. After heartily thanking the citizens for his return he said, among other things: "It is the first time my name has been used in a Parliamentary election. You might have heard my name mentioned for choice several times, but with the provision that the party would be unanimous, as it has been signally this time. My return to-day unopposed would be sufficient to complete the happiness of any politician. Nothing but kindness has been extended since my name has been mentioned in this election." The speaker here referred to the unanimity prevailing in the ranks of the Reform party. Anyone who desired a more general or cordial invitation than he had received aimed at heights of unity beyond human experience. The speaker would go to Toronto with pride to represent Kingston and Eastern Ontario, all the more so because members of the Government had been old-time friends and political associates. Kingston was doing its duty in filling this vacancy. There was time for useful representation if only to thank the Government and Parliament for continued recognition bordering on kindness to Eastern Ontario, and not least to Kingston institutions. The estimates contained an item of $23,500 for the School of Mines. A dozen years ago who would have thought that an Ontario Government would ever be strong enough financially or in the confidence of the Province to recommend such a generous grant to any institution not purely Governmental" The speaker pointed out that the Government's kindness to Kingston did not alone benefit Kingston, but all eastern Ontario. Then it should be a privilege as well as a pleasure to send a representative to Toronto to support a Government which should have not only the fair support of every Kingstonian but of every thinking elector of the Province. He referred to the Government's handsome fund in bank and current account of $1,468,492, an increase over last year of over $400,000. This included a substantial sum received in interest from the Dominion Government, whose debt to Ontario was clearly no myth. He spoke of the grand opportunities which the Government was seizing and turning to good account for the Province.

MONDAY'S ELECTION.

Those Who may Vote for the new Water Commissioners.

There appears to be a misunderstanding in the minds of many as to those who are entitled to vote at the forthcoming election for Water Commissioners for the Town of Peterborough. It should however be understood that every ratepayer is entitled to vote on Monday, just the same as in an ordinary municipal election. It is only in the case of town bylaws, that voting is limited to freeholders. Any person who has a vote at municipal elections for a Mayor or Councillors, is entitled to vote for Water Commissioners. The citizens should make a note of this fact.

The retirement of Mr. T. E. Bradburn from the contest has been announced.

THE NEW GYM. CLASS

That has Been Organized in Connection With the Y. M. C. A.

To the Editor of the Examiner,—

A new men's gymnasium class made a good start at the Y.M.C.A. yesterday, 18 being on the floor. This class is composed of business men, college students and others who have from 5 to 6 free on Mondays and Thursdays. The exercises are in keeping with the needs and umbitions of beginners, and men more advanced in years, to whom violent exercise is not a desirable thing. The movements were all common sense and the recreation games made the men think of their school days. If Physical Director Ayers continues to present such a bill of fare, this class will be the most popular in the association. It is just what business men need.

ONE WHO IS IN IT.

BERTHA FREEBURN.

To the Editor of the Examiner,—

To Hon. J. R. Stratton, Provincial Secretary and to the King's Daughters of St. John's Church, belongs the credit of the arrangements for the maintenance and care of Bertha Freeburn, represented by her removal, a few days ago, to the Industrial Home at Mimico. It is unnecessary to again refer to this girl's misfortunes, but it is a pleasure to be able to say that after much persistent effort, this poor girl is now placed where she can be maintained in comfort and safety, and by her services, so far as her ability goes, may contribute to the expense of her maintenance and care. This unfortunate young woman who has had such a bitter experience of the cold charity of the world is at last satisfactorily provided for. And it is a pleasure to know that in her case influence and warm hearted efforts have been used to promote so good an end. Practical philanthrophy, whether by a public man or a charitable organization, is worth more than any amount of theoretical sympathy and benevolence.

Yours truly,

SAMARITAN.

IT WAS A GREAT VICTORY.

Peterboroughs Win the District Championship.

SCORE WAS FOUR TO THREE.

Port Hope Played Gamely to the Finish but Peterborough's Lead of Three Goals at the Start put Them on Easy Street.

As a result of one of the most stubbornly contested and hard-fought games of hockey in the history of the Peterborough Hockey Club, the local seven were last night successful in winning out from Port Hope at Cobourg, and landing the District championship. Seven coaches filled with enthusiasts went down on the Grand Trunk to Cobourg to witness the boys do the trick, and as the good citizens of Cobourg stood by Peterough to a man, the locals received lots of encouragement. Port Hope, as usual, sent out a big delegation to support the Ontarios, and of the 2,500 people in the rink, almost one-half must have sported tan and white colours. Such a crowd was never seen in the Cobourg rink before, and the jam at the doors was something awful as the excursionists came off the two special trains, and the ticket sellers had finally to close the wickets as the rink was jammed to such an extent that the crowd could not be kept off the ice.

The confidence which the Port Hope people had in their team winning out was something marvellous. They were sure that they were going to win in Peterborough, and nervily backed them to do so. As the result of witnessing the game here, it might be supposed that they would have realized that the Ontarios were outclassed, but on the contrary their defeat on Friday last only seemed to inspire them with a greater confidence in their team than ever, consequently the Port Hope sports are financially embarassed to an extent that will cripple them considerably for the balance of the winter months.

The game last night was a peculiar one to watch. There was little or no combination play work to speak of—there couldn't be any. A closer checking game could not be imagined. Each forward on either side clung to his opponent like a leech, and it was seldom that there was a breakaway to such an extent that two men on a side could shake their checks and get off together to do any passing. The style of checking adopted by the two teams was vastly different. The stoutly built Ontarios used their bodies and played for the man every time. If the Peterboroughs had not been in the best possible condition they would have been put completely out of business by this system of play, which, although perfectly legitimate, is not in vogue amongst the teams which are in the first flight. In all the experiences which the local team has had it is doubtful if the boys ever ran up against a game in which the body-checking could compare with that of last night. The style of checking which is adopted by the local club is just as effective in breaking up combination work on the part of an opposing team, and does away with anything resembling rough house tactics. The Peterboroughs play largely for the puck, which besides being a neater game does away with any chance of a man being ruled off at a critical part of the match for getting too rough. Not a Peterborough player decorated the fence last night, whilst quite a number of the Ontarios were ruled off during the evening for rough play. A dead set was made for Harold Armstrong and the moment the puck went to him he was body-checked, if there was the slightest excuse for going into him. Whitcroft and Morgan seemed to be singled out for special attention also any many's the bump they got. Some of this kind of work had so ugly a look as to call forth hisses.

In the first half the Peterboroughs scored twice and had by far the better of the play, but in the second half the hard body checking of the Port Hopes began to have its effect and in the latter portion of the game especially there was not as much ginger displayed in following up as in the first half. It was only, however, when the Peterboroughs had a lead of three goals that they began to take things easier, as the match was regarded as practically won at that stage of the game. The Ontarios came with a rush at the last and almost succeeded in tieing the score, but the Peterboroughs were coming strong again at the finish and when time was called the play was all on the Port Hope goal.

The teams were composed as follows:

Port Hope—Goal, Mercer; point, Bourne; cover point, Sowden; forwards, McMillan, Laurenceson, Oliman and Boney. Umpire, J. Henderson.

Peterborough — Goal, Wasson; point, Glover; cover point, H. Armstrong; forwards, Graham, Whitcroft, Morgan and B. Armstrong. Umpire, A. W. McPherson.

The referee was Mr. Hugh Jack, who gave such general satisfaction last year wherever he officiated. His work last night was above criticism. He was quick on offsides and severe on any attempts at foul play.

The game did not start until 9.22, as it had reached this hour before the crowd could be removed from the ice. The Peterboroughs were very aggressive from the start and after a preliminary skirmish in centre ice the puck was kept constantly in Port Hope territory for fully ten minutes before the Ontarios were able to relieve. The puck passed out to Armstrong, who made a sensational rush which opened the eyes of those who had not had an opportunity of seeing his work before. He was sharply checked before he was near enough to shoot. A counter rush came down on the Peterborough goal and Wasson made a neat stop and cleared quickly, but it was only a minute before he had to turn another aside. Then Armstrong got in some nice rushes, but generally ended his career on the broad of his back as he was always made the object of a desperate charge. As a result of this kind of work McMillan was ruled off and a few seconds later Whitcroft did some nice dodging and went right down into the corner, circling out again through the Port Hope defence and scoring. Time 23 minutes.

Peterborough again rushed matters after the face off of the puck, and as a result Port Hope mixed things up for them in a lively manner. Up and down the battle raged, but the superior stickhandling of the Peterboroughs more than offset the advantage in weight which their opponents possessed. Whitcroft finally got away with the puck and after carrying it along passed to Morgan in front of the goal and the latter scored, while Peterborough and Cobourg people hugged one another indiscriminately. Time 5 minutes.

There was no more scoring before half time and it looked as though the Peterboroughs were going to have an easy thing of it.

As soon as the last half was started Port Hope was put on the defence again for the first few minutes, but soon made a desperate rally and then the Peterboroughs had to look to themselves as the puck was kept circling around Ernie Wasson's pads. Glover's work on relief was very very steady and cool, and the Ontarios had to fall back. Just as the goal was well cleared Armstrong made the most brilliant play of the evening when he made one of his famous dodging rushes through the whole Port Hope team, and made the score 3-0. Time, 7 minutes.

With a lead of 3 goals the Peterboroughs became a little overconfident and as a result Port Hope tallied in a minute and a half. Score, 3-1.

Peterborough now let out another link and Mercer had to stop a few hot ones. The game got rougher as the Ontarios found their opponents holding them so well and things were brought to a climax when H. Armstrong was sent head first into the picket fence. He was carried off the ice in bad shape, but pluckily came on the ice again, and finished the match. Then Roy Armstrong and Harry Morgan got laid out but both were in the game to stay. Port Hope notched another point as the result of a good run by Coleman.

Graham got two nice chances to score at the beginning of the sixth game, but Mercer handled both shots very cleverly, as he also did a hot one from Morgan. The honours went to Harold Armstrong again, and by a clever wrist shot from centre ice he placed the puck neatly in Port Hope's net, making the score 4—2. Time, 5 minutes.

The Peterboroughs now considered that they had the game well in hand and played more on the defensive than formerly. Port Hope made a great effort to catch the score, and tallied another game in two minutes. This resulted in starting the Peterboroughs off again but the large quantity of snow which had accumulated on the ice, and had not been cleared off at half time, was greatly to their disadvantage. They made a great finish however, and when time was called the play was right in on Port Hope's goal.

MR. BRADLEY'S TRIP.

He Attended the Convention of Custom Tailors of America—His Impressions.

Mr. H. E. Bradley, of the firm of H. E. Bradley & Co., the proprietor of Peterborough's well known and popular custom tailor and gent's furnishing establishment, has just returned from Milwaukee where he has been attending the Annual Convention of the Custom Cutter's Association of America. The convention which was attended by over 250 representative custom cutters of the United States and Canada opened on Jan. 20th and continued in session until Jan. 24th. Of the 250 or more representatives in attendance there were fifteen custom tailors from the Dominion, Mr. Bradley being one of that number. The enterprise the Peterborough firm showed in being represented at this very important convention is only characteristic of the energy that has been displayed by them since Mr. Bradley assumed the management of the business.

The convention will certainly be productive of much good to those in attendance and be appreciated by those of the public who pride themselves in being up-to-date in their attire.

At the convention, styles and methods of producing them were discussed, garments drafted, cut and fitted in the convention and the consideration and criticism of their style and fitting points, must have proved of great value to all present.

Mr. H. Taylor, of Toronto, was elected president of the Association, and St. Paul, Minn., was chosen as the next place of meeting.

Mr. Bradley speaks highly of the hospitality extended by the citizens and merchant tailors of Milwaukee to the visitors. On Wednesday evening they were entertained at an elaborate smoker at one of the leading Clubs and on Thursday as an opera party had the pleasure of hearing the great German singer, Lilli Lehmann. A dance at the Calumet Club was Friday evening's event. On the Thursday preceding, the visitors were entertained at the Schlitz palm gardens.

Mr Bradley speaks very enthusiastically of the treatment the delegates received in Milwaukee and has many interesting facts to relate concerning his brief stay there. The Mayor of Milwaukee gave them a very hearty welcome. A rather odd statement in his address was the fact that while there are 1,700 saloons it employed fewer police than any city of its size in the States. Also that there was less crime, fewer convictions and to all appearances less drunkenness.

Mr. Bradley on his way home had the pleasure of meeting some high-class tailors in Chicago. In the course of his conversation with some of them they made the statement that the cheapest suit they turn out brings $75. Of course there are reasons to explain for this, as for instance rents in the city are very high one custom tailor paying an annual rental of $20,000.

The people of Peterborough will certainly appreciate Mr. Bradley's progressive spirit in attending a convention that is attended by only a few of the more enterprising firms of Canada.

OBITUARY.

The Late John Connolly.

The death of John Connolly, one of the oldest settlers and pioneers of the township of Ops took place at his residence, 2nd concession of Ops, on Tuesday, 28th inst., at about one o'clock p.m., after months of physical suffering.

Mr. Connolly was born in the township of Cavan, nearly seventy-five years ago in or near the village of Ballliboro, where his parents settled at an early date. He was the only son of the late Nicholas Connolly, of Ops, who came to Canada from the town of Fetherad, County of Tipperary, Ireland, with his wife and one child—a daughter—who later on became the wife of the late Andrew Costello of the 1st concession of Ops. This only sister died at the residence of her son, Mr. Francis Costello, some two years ago, deeply regretted by her only brother, Mr. Connolly.

The deceased gentleman, during his useful life, by the will of the people of Ops, had filled the position of Reeve and Deputy-Reeve of the township for many years. When the County Council assembled in Peterborough he was then a member of that body, and afterwards for many years a member of the County Council of the County of Victoria, and was very highly esteemed by his fellow members. In 1878 he was chosen as the Liberal candidate to contest the riding in the Dominion elections, and put up a splendid fight but was defeated.

When Mr. Connolly's illness became alarming the members of his family were summoned to his bedside, some from afar, and they responded to the call in haste, to console their aged and loving father during the few weeks of life remaining. It gave him great consolation to have them at his bedside during his last hours on earth. The children in order of seniority are: Nicholas, at home; Frances, died in infancy; Anastasia, at home; Mary, wife of P. J. Murphy, of Ops; Eliza, wife of Henry O'Keefe, of Minto, N.D., U.S.; John, of Grafton, N.D., U.S.; Thomas, died by accident some twenty-five years ago; Catherine and Ann, died in infancy; James, living near the homestead; Dolly, wife of John O'Keefe, druggist, of North Dakota, U.S.; William, Chief Clerk of Interstate Commerce Commission at Washington, D.C., U.S.; Joseph, at Lynden; Miss Nellie, at home; Frank, at home; Agnes Teresa, died in infancy.

Special Day for Men.

Mr. J. Howard Crocker, Physical Director of the Y.M.C.A., will speak at the Y.M.C.A. Hall on Sunday afternoon at 4.15. The address will be the first of the series for February on Christian Athletics. A male quartette will sing and a collection will be taken to cover the expenses of the meeting. In the evening at 8.30 Mr. Crocker will lead a conference of association workers on the main points of the Berlin conference.

WATERWORKS PUSCHASED.

Cheque for $230,000 Given This Afternoon.

The town entered into possession of the waterworks system this afternoon, a cheque for $230,000 being handed to the Company. Mayor Dentis, Ald. Roger, Town Solicitor E. H.D. Hall and Treasurer Brownscombe acted on behalf of the Town, and the Company was represented by Messrs. R. A. Morrow, Geo. Hatton and R. B. MacKee.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

HOCKEY.

The Peterborough Colts will play their second home match of the season to-night when they will run up against the Cobourg Juniors. The Colts are determined to reverse the score that was made against them a few nights ago at Cobourg, and an interesting match should be the result. The puck will be faced at 8 o'clock.

Mr. R. M. Glover this morning received the following message from Toronto:

"Toronto, Jan. 28,
"R. M. Glover, Capt. Peterborough Intermediates, Peterborough, Ont. —
"Peterborough is the place to cheer for. Move right up to the top.
"W. A. BUCHANAN."

A peculiarity of the circumstances leading up to the game that was played in Cobourg last night between Port Hope and Peterborough was the fact that the Peterborough people did no boasting. The local papers said that Peterborough was going to do its best but went no further no matter what they may have thought. When any wagers were offered the Peterborough people quietly took them up. Vastly different, however, was the style of Port Hope. They were prepared to stake everything that they would win out, and the following is a sample of the boasting that the press of the town indulged in:

The Guide says:—"The Toronto Telegram is always saying something about Peterborough, here is the latest: 'Speaking of hockey, a gentleman has remarked that it would be a shame for the O.H.A. to allow a championship to be decided on Peterborough rink, on account of its size.' Don't worry, Peterborough won't get near enough to a championship to say "How'dy do.'"

The Port Hope Times said: "There is talk of running a special from Peterborough to Cobourg to-night. They will have to have more than specials to win in Cobourg."

RUGBY.

"$40 from London!" Was the word that was whispered around the town to-day. A little enquiry only went to prove that the statement is true. The London Rugby team, who have owed the Peterboroughs the sum of $50 since last November have at last raised some money and have kept their word to the extent of $40. The remainder will likely follow a little later on.

BASKET-BALL.

There are only three matches left to be played in the senior league series and on Saturday evening next Richardson will play Merrell's team at 8 o'clock, and Dunford will play Maguire's at nine o'clock. Mr. J. Howard Crocker, Physical Director, Y.M.C.A, Toronto, will officiate as umpire at both games. On Sunday afternoon Mr. Crocker will speak to men only at the Association Hall, and Sunday evening will lead a conference in "The best things of the Berlin Convention."

Don't forget the grand concert in the Convent Hall on Monday and Tuesday, February 10th and 11th, 1902. 4eod

AUCTION SALE

On the market square of household furniture, stoves, two set of platform scales, to-morrow (Saturday) at 11 o'clock.—JOHN HAGGART, Auctioneer.

"THE IMPRESSIONS OF JANEY CANUCK ABROAD."

By Emily Ferguson, at A. H. Stratton & Co's. Price $1.00.

The many Peterborough friends of Rev. Arthur Murphy, will be pleased to read this book by his wife, Emily Ferguson Murphy. The outward "get up" of the book is artistic and attractive. The work itself is characterized by no ordinary ability. From end to end it is a live book, written with a graphic pen. The authoress thinks for herself and expresses her thoughts with clearness and piquancy.

Emily Ferguson spent two years in England travelling with her husband on his parochial mission work, and in a measure "got behind the scenes," in matters ecclesiastical. the ritualism, worldliness, and professional religionism of the State Church is arraigned with no uncertain sound. The authoress shows herself to have a wide grasp of the subject in its different bearings. It is a topic that is bound to create discussion in Church of England circles.

The authoress pointedly touches the prejudices of John Bull and gives us his opinions of things Canadian.

Whether she takes us to see a London bank holiday, on a trip on the continent, aboard a man of war, or a slumming expedition, to hear the Archbishop of Canterbury, or to watch a young wanton dance, it is always profitable and with verve.

We especially like the chapter on the war. "The padre," she tells us, "has been to Colchester for a fortnight speaking to the soldiers. The regiments there quartered are the Warwicks, Gordon Highlanders, and Irish Fusiliers. He reports that when orders came for the men to be ready for immediate transportation to South Africa, the hospital was full of sick privates. In three hours there was not a solitary man in bed. The devilish itch to fight, which is clos eunder the skin of all Anglo-Saxons, had come out in a red heat, and every mother's son of them was ready to pay 'the tax of blood' to his country, and if need be, lay his body down to fertilize the soil of an African veldt."

The authoress takes us to the Waterloo station to see the Black watch and Grenadier Guards leave for the front. "In spite of the police, the crowds pressed on the soldiers so that they were unable to preserve anything like good formation, and were therefore allowed to 'march at ease.' The detachments became thin lines of dust colour, that wormed their way through the dense mass of people. The Duke's son stood up in his stirrups, and cheered; the cook's son came with his arm linked in his wife's; the son of a hundred earls bared his head to wave the national colours; youths and women insisted on carrying the soldiers' kit bags, rifles and impedimenta. The enthusiasm was unbounded, and we heard such shouts as these: 'Ip, ip, urroar;' 'Them's the boys for old Kruger;' 'Shoot straight for the old country;' 'Pull his whiskers;- (Kruger's), 'Don't forget Majuba,' 'God bless you laddies, and bring you safe home to your mothers.' The padre threw his silk hat in the air and didn't catch it. The result was disastrous.

"There were many tear-stained faces, and hearts that ached, too, for these tough-fibred sons of Mars, led out like sheep to the slaughter, for it will be a mere handful who come home again.

"Tramp, tramp, tramp, earth groans as they tread,
The clay-covered bones going down to the dead;
Every stamp, every step, every footfall is bolder,
'Tis a skeleton tramp with a skull on his shoulder;
But, oh, how he treads, with his high tossing head!
This clay-covered bones going down to the dead!"

The cars pulled out to the strains of "God Bless You, Tommy Atkins, Here's Your Country's Love to You.' Ah, well! All the rest will be prose and sharply punctuated."

The book is for sale at the Peterborough Book Store.

CARD TO ELECTORS.

To the Electors of the Town of Peterborough:

Ladies and Gentlemen,—Having been urged by the numerous friends of Municipal Ownership to allow myself to be placed in nomination for one of the Water Commissioners, I have consented to be a Candidate. The grounds upon which they urge my election are, amongst others, that I am really the father of Municipal Ownership in this town, and have consistently fought the battle therefor throughout, and that at its incipient or experimental stage, such a one should be given the first opportunity to prove the feasibility of the scheme. They further urge that my record has been pure from all cliques and other corrupting influences, and that I will stand up fearlessly for the rights of all alike, without fear, favour or affection. It is needless to say that if elected I will do my utmost to carry out the most sanguine expectations of my numerous friends and water consummers generally. Respectfully asking you one and all for your vote and influence, I am, ladies and gentlemen,

Your Obedient Servant,

GEORGE BALL.

CARD TO ELECTORS.

Ladies and Gentlemen, — Having been requested by a large number of ratepayers to offer myself as a candidate for the position of Water Commissioner for the Town of Peterborough, I have consented to do so, and respectfully solicit your votes and influence. If elected, my policy will be to treat rich and poor alike, and respect the general welfare of the town in the careful and economical management of the Waterworks.

Yours very truly,

WM. FAIR.

Peterborough, Jan 30, 1902

CARD TO ELECTORS.

To the Ratepayers of the Town of Peterborough,—

Ladies and Gentlemen, — Having been nominated for the position of Water Commissioner for the ensuing term, I have consented to place my services at the disposal of the town, if it is the wish of the ratepayers that I should do so.

As a director of the Peterborough Water Company for the past six years I may claim to have a pretty thorough knowledge of the system and methods which have placed the company on a sound financial basis. The experience thus gained, will I believe, enable me to discharge the duties of the office to your satisfaction. It is not my intention to canvass for votes, but if elected will cheerfully devote my best energies to making the system serve the best interests of the municipality.

Yours truly,

W. H. HILL.

SHEER MATERIALS.

They Are the Proper Thing For Evening Gowns.

Never before have evening gowns been so beautiful. They are appliqued and reappliqued until hardly an inch of the original material can be discerned. Wide bands of costly lace are sewed with silver spangles, and these are placed over materials of cobwebby texture and softness. The lining silks of these gowns are lustrous, and soft liberty satin is much used, and the necessary fullness below the knees is arranged by numerous ruffles. Very often a white gown will be trimmed with wide bands of cream medallion lace into which are set ovals of Persian silk or chiffon.

Flowered chiffon forms the material of many stylish dresses. It comes this season in very large patterns on cream or pale tinted grounds. Orchids and roses form the most popular patterns but it is so expensive that only the rich can afford it. Very chic and at the same time inexpensive dresses are made of the numerous novelty nets and thin crapes. Gowns of this sort are made up over two linings, one of mousseline and the under one of silk.

A dainty evening gown is here pictured. The material is pale green tulle striped in silver. The blouse waist is made full with a fichu effect across the bust and tucked shoulder caps. The skirt has a wide ruffle headed by a lace applique. The whole style of this simple dress is given by the spray of roses which starts on the left shoulder, is tacked on the right hip and from there falls to the knees. Such floral decorations are very popular this winter. JUDIC CHOLLET.

The Japanese Wax Tree.

"Japan wax," as it is called, is obtained from a tree, Rhus succedanea, which is found in Japan, China and throughout the East Indies in general. In the Japanese language it is called haje or haze. The tree commences to bear fruit when five or six years old and increases its product every year till at the age of fifty years a single tree will produce 350 to 400 pounds of berries, from which seventy to eighty pounds of wax can be obtained.

The wax is formed in the middle of the berry, between the skin and the seed, like the pulp of a grape. It is extracted by boiling the berries in water and allowing it to cool, when the wax separates from the skin and seed, sinking to the bottom of the vessel in a solid cake. The specific gravity of this wax is .970 and its melting point 131 degrees F. It is largely used, either alone or mixed with tallow, by the Chinese in the manufacture of candles.

This tree should not be confounded with the "tallow tree" of China, which has a pith of solid tallow in all trees that have fully matured.

The Fashion of the House.

A servant girl happened to be engaged at a farmhouse where the mistress was known to have a hasty temper.

On the first Saturday night the girl was at the farmhouse she was told by the mistress to clean the boots ready for Sunday.

The mistress, on coming into the kitchen later on, saw that the girl had cleaned her own boots first, so she took them up and threw them into a tub of water that was standing by and bounced out of the kitchen.

The girl said nothing, but when she had cleaned the other boots she threw them also into the water.

"Whatever possessed you to do that, girl?" asked the mistress on coming again in the kitchen.

The girl simply replied:

"Well, ma'am, please ma'am, I thought it was the fashion of the house, ma'am!"—London Tit-Bits.

ONE OF WOMAN'S WAYS.

She Hates to Pay Out Bills That Are Clean and Crisp.

"Most women hate to spend new money," says an observant salesman. "I haven't the faintest idea why this should be so, but I've noticed it often right here in the store.

"A woman will make a purchase and pull out her purse to pay the bill, but if she happens to have to part with a clean, crisp note in making up the amount she looks greatly annoyed. I've seen women with fat wads of bright brand new bills flustered when they came to pay for purchases because they hadn't sufficient old money to meet the charges. They would dig out the contents of their purses and stow the crisp notes to one side, and if they couldn't scrape up the sum in a few cases I've known them to go out without buying.

"Others will give utterance to little feminine exclamations of dismay and will hastily pay for the articles selected in the new money. Then they will march off with quite a show of indignation, just as if they had been inveigled into spending the money.

"I knew one man who always takes his salary home in beautiful, clean certificates. He has caught on to this peculiarity of the sex, and he says it saves him all kinds of money."

When the Bowels Are Constipated

Health Cannot be Good—Digestion and Other Bodily Functions Cannot be Properly Performed—Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

The character of food, sedentary habits, and neglecting the calls of nature, may be set down as the usual causes of constipation. The accompanying derangements are indigestion, stomach trouble, liver and kidney diseases, and an endless amount of pain and suffering. Poisonous impurities when left in the blood, are bound to find lodgment in some weak spot of the system and the result is disease of the most deadly nature.

It is a serious smatter to neglect constipation. You may do so for a time, only to find that your health has been undermined by bodily derangements of the most deadly kind. You should have a movement of the bowels every day. To accomplish this, avoid concentrated foods, use vegetables and fruits freely, and take one of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills before retiring, two or three times a week, or oftener, if required.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are not an ordinary cathartic. They have a specific and combined action on the kidneys, liver and bowels, and consequently cure constipation, and the accompanying derangements, thoroughly and well, by removing the causes. For the information of those who are not yet familiar with the peculiar merits of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, we might add that they are purely vegetable in composition, pleasant and natural in action, and remarkably prompt and far-reaching in effect, even in the most serious and chronic cases of constipation, kidney and liver diseases.

Persons with weak kidneys are peculiarly susceptible to sudden change of temperature, and for this reason need to be on a sharp look-out during the fall and winter seasons, lest the cold settle on these filteriu gorgans and bring on Bright's disease of the kidneys, by far the most painful and fatal of diseases. Scores and hundreds of people make a practice of keeping Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills in the house, and take one whenever the symptoms of constipation and kidney derangements make themselves known. Scanty, highly-coloured urine, painful urination, and pain in the back and limbs are the danger signals of kidney disease.

Whatever else you may neglect, do Wnot overlook the importance of keeping the bowels, the kidneys, and liver in healthful, vigourous action. There is no surer way of avoiding serious disease and prolonging life, and the evidence of the people of this country seems to prove conclusively that by far the most effective treatment in bringing about these results is the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose; 25 cents a box; at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates and Co., Toronto. 6

Drugging Will not Cure Catarrh.

This loathsome disease is caused by germs that invade the air passages of the head, throat and lungs, and can be cured only by inhalation of medicated air. Stomach medicines, atomisers, snuffs are ineffectual, because they fail to reach the cause of the trouble. Catarrhozone is successful because it is inhaled to every part of the breathing organs, and has power to kill the germ, heals the inflamed tissues an prevents droppings in the throat. Catarrhozone treats more than one thousand square feet of the mucous surface with every breath taken through the inhaler, and affords instant relief. It perfectly cures Catarrh, Asthma, and Bronchitis. Sold by druggists. Two months' treatment. Price $1.00. Small size 25 cts., or by mail from Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

THE LAST WELSH PRINCE.

"Owen of Wales" Fought Against the Black Prince at Poictiers in 1356 —His Pitiful Death.

Hitherto it has been taken for granted that with the death of Prince Llewelyn and his brother David in 1282 the royal line of Wales became extinct. Mr. Edward Owen, of the India Office, has recently proved in the 'Transactions' of the Cymmrodorion Society that this was not so, but that the last male descendant of Llewelyn the Great only died a century after. Llewelyn, the last Prince, was survived by three brothers. Owen, the eldest, lived and died an obscure country gentleman in Carnarvonshire, and left no issue. The turbulent David, who had been created an English baron, was tried for high treason after Llewelyn's death, and was hanged, drawn and quartered. The younger, Roderick, became a pensioner of the English King, married an English heiress, and lived and died in England. His only son, Thomas, succeeded to two small estates in England, and one manor in Wales, but he was always in want of money, and almost all the traces left of him are concerned with his dealings with money-lenders. He left, however, at his death in 1363, a son named Owen, who redeemed his family's fame, who became a hero of romance even in the brightest age of chivalry, and whose tragic death was in keeping with the unhappy traditions of his ancient house.

Owen ap Thomas ap Roderick— as he is styled in the state papers — seems to have been a generous, high-spirited and fearless lad, well fitted for the task of restoring the fallen fortunes of his house and race. In early life he grew dissatisfied with his position as a needy and suspected sojourner among his hereditary foes. He fled to the Court of France, where he was received with the honors due to the rightful Prince of Wales. He fought against the English at Poictiers in 1356, and the glamor of his name drew many a Welshman away from the standard of the Black Prince. On the conclusion of peace between the English and French, Yenian de Galles—as 'Owen of Wales' was called by his new friends—became captain of those free companies that spread terror throughout the mountains of Switzerland and the plains of Lombardy. When war broke out again between England and France, Owen returned once more, and led an expedition in 1372 against Guernsey, which all but captured the island from the English garrison. He was, however, recalled to fight the English in France and Spain, and we find him appearing in Brittany as an honored comrade-in-arms to the noblest knight of Christendom, Bertrand du Guesclin, 'and bore himself so well,' says the old chronicler, 'that he was greatly praysed and well beloved with the French King and with all the lords.'

The pitiful story of Prince Owen's death six years later is told with simple pathos in the vivid pages of Froissart, who was his contemporary, and perhaps an acquaintance. Owen was at the time laying siege to Mortagne-sur-Gironde. 'This Yuan of Wales,' so runs the old chronicler's story, as translated by Lord Berners in 1523, 'hadde an usage beyng before Mortayne at the siege, that gladly in the mornyng when he was up and redy, he wolde come before the castell, and aytte downe and kemble his heed a good long space, and syt and beholde the castell and the country about, beynge out of doute of feare of any thynge.' Now, 'on a mornyng betymes, wha' the wether whs fayre and cleare,' his body servant, John Lamb, came to him as he was thus sitting 'on an olde stocke of wode.' Lamb had been Prince Owen's squire for nearly a year, and had completely won his confidence. He had pretended to bring Owen tidings from his beloved Wales, where he said all men were looking anxiously to Owen for deliverence from the English yoke. Early this summer morning, 'every man beynge in their lodgynges aslepe,' Owen bade Lamb fetch his comb. Lamb went into the tent, but 'the devyll entered into him, for besyde the combe, he brought with hym a lytel Javelyne of Spayne with a large heed of steel, and with the same stroke this Yuan as he sate, clene throughout the body, so yt he fell down starke dead.'

This was the end of Owen, the last of the princely lines of Wales, when barely forty years old, 'slayne by great unhap and treason.' His assassin fled for refuge to the castle, where the English captain reluctantly afforded him protection. Mr. Edward Owen has proved in the Record Office that the murder of the gallant 'Owen of Wales' was premeditated by the English King's Council and deliberately planned by the English officials at Bordeaux. The miscreant Lamb and his aiders were liberally rewarded by the English Government, and Lamb's receipt for the price of blood is still among our records.—London Speaker.

DR. J. B. CROZIER.

A Native-Born Canadian Who Has Had a Remarkable Distinguished Career in His Chosen Field.

"Among our native-born Canadians in other lands few have had a more remarkable and distinguished career than Dr. John Beattie Crozier, who resides at Westbourne Park, London, England." These are the opening words of an article on Dr. Crozier's career by the Hon. James Young in The Toronto Globe of June 12th, 1897. They are recalled by the reception which has been accorded his third volume of philosophy, dealing with the history of intellectual development on the lines of modern evolution. Mr. Young's article tells us that Dr. Crozier was born of Scottish parents at Galt, Ont., in 1849. He received his earlier education at the Galt Collegiate Institute, then under the charge of Dr. Tassie. Dr. Crozier's subsequent career was up-hill work. After entering University College in '66, he retired to Galt, and served as a clerk in the office of Goldie & McCulloch. He appears, however, to have been a diligent reader, and in 1870 he returned to the university, following the arts course for a time, but graduating in medicine in 1872. Dr. Crozier had early manifested a strong bent for philosophical literature, and after commencing the practice of his profession in London, England, soon brought out his first book, entitled, "God or Force." This was followed in 1880 by "The Religion of the Future." In 1887 he published a work on Lord Randolph Churchill, which appears to have made him some enemies by its strong attack on some leading English papers for their method of "booming" that distinguished politician—a situation not unknown today. This quasi political work had a retarding effect on the reception of his "Civilization and Progress," published in 1888, but there were some who accepted it as the work of a strong mind. The editor of The Spectator and Mrs. Lynn Linton praised the work, and Morgan's "Canadian Men and Women" quotes Rev. H. R. Haweis, an eminent English clergyman, as saying, "It is the most remarkable and important work of the last twenty years," and that "it is not too much to say that Dr. Crozier can enter the lists with men like Carlyle, Comte, Herbert Spencer and John Stuart Mill, all of whom he treats sympathetically and holds his own." To assist Dr. Crozier in continuing the series of which "Civilization and Progress" was the first instalment with a memorial presented by the Right Hon. John Morley, Mr. Lecky, Herbert Spencer, Frederic Harrison, Sir Walter Besant and others, bestowed upon him a civil list pension of £50 a year for life. In 1897 came "The History of the Intellectual Development on the Lines of Modern Evolution," and in 1898 "My Inner Life, being a chapter in Personal Evolution and Autobiography." Dr. Crozier married in 1877 the niece of Dr. Robert Miller, Islington, London, the man who had befriended him on his first arrival in England. In 1899 he was granted an honorary LL.D. degree by the University of Toronto.

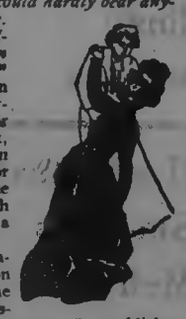
The Four Ages of British Matrimony.

"A very suitable age." That would be Mrs. Grundy's comment on the wedding of the statistically average bride and bridegroom.

The young man who would be absolutely "average" must wait till he is 26.37 years old, and then wed a lady aged exactly 24.65, or 1.72 years younger than himself.

This is how last year's marriage statistics worked out. Bachelor with spinster, bride 24.65, bridegroom 26.37; bachelor with widow, bride 36.12, bridegroom 34.20; widower with spinster, bride 32.83, bridegroom 41.87; widowers with widows, bride 45.16, bridegroom 49.81. So, according to statistics, a man does not marry a lady older than himself, unless he is a bachelor and succumbs to the fascinations of a widow.—London Mail.

The dizziness and faintness from which women suffer may be due to one of several causes. But the most common cause is disease of the delicate womanly organism. The story of Mrs. Brown, told in her letter below, gives a fair example of the conditions under which so many women work: "I had a sick headache nearly all the time, was so weak around my waist could hardly bear anything to touch me. I would work a little while and then lie down a while." Failing to obtain more than temporary relief from her doctor's treatment, Mrs. Brown began the use of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription, with the usual result—a complete cure.



Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best medicine for the cure of diseases peculiar to women. It establishes regularity, dries offensive drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong, sick women well.

"A few years ago I suffered severely with female weakness and had at times dreadful pains," writes Mrs. Mary V. Brown, of Creswell, Harford Co., Maryland. "I went to my doctor, and he gave me medicine which did me good for a while, but I would get worse again. I had a sick headache nearly all the time; was so weak around my waist could hardly bear anything to touch me. My feet would keep cold and I could hardly do my work. I would work a while and then lie down a while; was completely run down. Suffered from disagreeable discharge and also severe pains at times. After using five bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, three of his 'Golden Medical Discovery' and one vial of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, and following the advice you gave regarding the 'Lotion Tablets,' I can truly say that I am cured. The doctor said it was uterine disease I had."

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only, or if cloth-bound volume is desired send 50 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

A PAN AND A LEOPARD.

An Astonished Woman and a Still More Astonished Animal.

Kulu is a district in the Himalayas consisting of a chain of the most lovely valleys conceivable, with this drawback, among others, that each hill path that runs by the inhabitants' huts more often than not contains a lurking leopard. One day a worthy Kulu housewife came out from her cooking and, standing on the edge of rock, emptied a pan of boiling water into the rank herbage growing below. It fell splash on the back of a sleeping leopard, who jumped perpendicularly into the air as high as the roof of the hut.

What might have happened next who can say? But the astonished woman dropped the pan with a clang on the rock, and the leopard took one leap down hill. The pan followed, and the leopard's downward leaps became larger and swifter as the pan bounded after it from rock to rock. When last seen, that leopard had just achieved a leap of about 300 feet to the very bottom of the ravine, thousands of feet below, and the pan whirled about 300 feet over it on to the opposite side.

The leopard would have given the old woman with pleasure, but a pan, the contents of which first scalded half the hide off him and then bounded, clanging in his wake, from the top of the Himalayas to the plains below was something he could not face.

Medical Science Advances.

It is not more than half a century ago that physicians considered a surgical operation with its risk, expense and pain as the only cure for piles. To-day it is only the out of date doctors that think of such treatment. It is cruel and extravagant to operate for a disease which is far more certainly cured by the application of Dr. Chase's Ointment. You may be skeptical, but for proof you are referred to tens of thousands of cases that have been cured by this famous preparation.

Dividing a Long Sermon.

Dr. Samuel Buell of the last half of the eighteenth century, who used to preach two or three hours, like Isaac Barrows, was ingenious in detaining his congregation. On one occasion, after preaching nearly two hours—as long as he could feel secure in the presence of all his hearers—he remarked that he was done preaching to sinners and that they were at liberty to go. The rest of his discourse would be addressed to good people.

A gentleman who once went to hear him stated that when the hourglass was nearly ready to be turned a second time from the commencement of his sermon he said, much to the relief of the person who related it, "Once more." After going on some eight or ten minutes longer he said, "To conclude," and after another about equal interval he said, "Lastly."

The gentleman added that he expected every moment to hear him say "Everlastingly."

A Lucky Gold Strike.

The delight of a man who finds gold in his claim does not equal the delight of a bed ridden invalid who finds in Merrill's System Tonic a restoration to health and strength. This he is sure to do, for this wonderful remedy has never been known to fail. It is a scientific remedy and cures nerve and kidney diseases by removing the cause. Ormond & Walsh sell it at 50c per bottle.

The Hearts and the Spade.

Once upon a time a man who was playing a friendly game of draw poker found four hearts and a club in his hand. After a little thought he discarded the club and drew a spade.

"I will call this a hand of hearts," he said to himself, "and bet on my flush."

Then he looked very wise and laid down $7 of his hard earned money. Another player saw the $7 instantly, called in a loud voice, and the money at once changed owners.

Moral.—A wise man calls a spade a spade.

Before You Tell a Secret.

If you are just on the point of making a confidence, it is a good plan to pause before doing so to note the proportion between the times you have regretted giving a confidence and the times you have regretted withholding it. If after this you decide upon making your friend a confidant, you must have weighty reasons for thinking him worthy of it.

Every watch left with Frost for repair receives the closest attention that skilled hands can give, and every watch that Frost repairs is fully guaranteed to give account of itself. MR. BRADBURN WITHDRAWS.

To the Ratepayers of the Town of Peterborough.—

Ladies and Gentlemen. — Upon returning home last night, after an absence from town since Monday morning last, I found my name had been placed in nomination as a candidate for Water Commissioner. As a citizen largely interested in property in the town, I am vitally concerned in the election of these commissioners, and feel the importance of good men of business experience being selected, and I would willingly serve the citizens if they so desired. But as I have been out of town and the campaign has been well inaugurated in my absence, I feel that I would not be doing justice to myself or my friends if I remained in the field under the circumstances. Besides in the candidates nominated there are gentlemen of ability and capacity to fill the position and give the town excellent service. Therefore, I desire to take this earliest opportunity to withdraw my name as a candidate, and while my name will appear on the ballot paper, I ask all my friends and the citizens generally to refrain from voting for me.

Thanking my proposer and seconder, and the many who have thus so generously offered me their support, I remain,

Yours respectfully,
T. E. BRADBURN.

VALUATORS REPORT ON EQUALIZATION OF ASSESSMENT.

They Made a Careful Valuation of the Lands of the County and Compared it With the Assessment Roll.

Messrs. R. J. Edmison and E. Hawthorne, who were appointed at the June Session of the County Council to make a valuation of the assessed lands in the county, for the equalization of assessment made their report to the County Council at yesterday's session. The report was as follows:

To the Warden and Members of the County Council.

Gentlemen,—We the undersigned Valuators appointed at the June Session of this Council, beg leave to submit the following report.

Having been appointed by you to proceed with the work of equalization of the property in the County, according to the amendment to sec. 318 of the Municipal Act, providing that when valuators have been appointed, they may ascertain the value of the real property in the County, by inspecting and valuing from five to eight per cent of the parcels of property located in different parts of each municipality, and upon such inspection and valuation shall compare their values with the values of the same parcels on the last revised assessment rolls, and upon such comparison shall decide the relative aggregate value of each municipality in the county for county assessment purposes.

We commenced our work by going over all the county, inspecting and valuating different parcels of property, located in each concession and street in every municipality, considering first the general quality of the land, and improvements, the situation and facilities for market, the advantage of being near a railroad station, a school, church, post office, dairy factory or any other condition that would add or detract from the value of the property in question.

Having completed our tour of inspection in the months of September, October and November, we commenced to compare our values of the different parcels of property inspected, with the values of the same parcels on the local assessment rolls.

In several of the municipalities, we found the local assessment and our values to correspond so nearly in the aggregate, that we would have considered any further equalization unnecessary, had it not been that in others, we found such a difference that we decided to use our valuation in every case as the basis for equalization of the whole County.

Our estimate of the value of each municipality is according to the annexed schedule.

R. J. EDMISON,
E. HAWTHORNE,
Valuators.

THE COUNTY COUNCIL.

A Very Brief Session—Council in Committee To-day.

THURSDAY AFTERNOON.

It was expected that the Council would go into regular session at 2 o'clock, but it was decided to go into Committee work first.

The Road and Bridge Committee was convened, to be followed by the Finance Committee. While the Road and Bridge Committee was in session several deputations arrived to interview the Council.

The Reeve of Belmont was present and, at the suggestion of Mr. Pearce, was allowed to address the Council respecting the maintenance of a bridge at Round Lake.

Mr. R. H. Leary, President of the Poultry Association, accompanied by a number of other members, was also heard in support of a grant from the Council. The modest sum of $35 was all that was asked to help the Association out of their financial difficulties. The Town council having given a similar amount.

On Magnetic Healing.

Much is spoken and written during these times about this mysterious method of treating disease. The most truly remarkable cases of magnetic healing which have come under the notice of the writer have been those in which Dr. Chase's Ointment was used. This preparation seems to have magical powers in stopping the dreadful itching, burning sensations of Salt Rheum and Eczema, and when used regularly makes the cure thorough and permanent.

For whooping cough and croup, Vapo-Cresolene is a simple and perfect remedy.

NEW ZEALAND'S NINTH

Another Contingent Now Being Raised for South Africa.

BOER DELEGATES INCLUDED

Dutch Peace Commission to Have Wolmarans and Fischer as Members—Unconfirmed Report That Kritzinger Was Condemned to Death—Boers Repulsed at Abraham's Kraal—Commando Scattered.

London, Feb. 1.—Despatches from Wellington, New Zealand, and Melbourne, Australia, announce that in compliance with a telegram from Mr. Chamberlain intimating that the Imperial Government would be glad of an additional 1,000 New Zealanders for service in South Africa, New Zealand is sending her ninth contingent. There will be no difficulty in raising them, seeing about 3,000 more than were required volunteered for the eighth contingent.

Mr. Chamberlain has also intimated to the Australian Government that the Imperial Government would be glad to avail itself of the services of an additional Australian contingent of 1,000 men.

Three hundred Boer prisoners at Bermuda have expressed their willingness to take the oath of allegiance and return to South Africa in order to lend their aid in putting an end to the war.

India Sends 6,000 Men.

Calcutta, Feb. 1.—Six thousand men, who but for the Boer war would be time-expired, will embark at Bombay for South Africa in three batches, sailing respectively on February 8, February 17 and at the beginning of March. Each British regiment in India is sending with its quota one officer, who will return later with an equivalent number of young soldiers from the seat of war. India will thus give Lord Kitchener seasoned for unseasoned troops.

BOER DELEGATES INCLUDED.

Wolmarans and Fischer Included in the Dutch Commission.

London, Feb. 1.—The British reply to the Dutch note in regard to bringing about peace in South Africa was despatched yesterday to The Hague. Consequently, the meeting of the British Cabinet yesterday had nothing to do with the terms of the note, the contents of which are kept strictly secret, as the first publication of the text is intended to be made in Parliament, Monday, Feb. 3.

The Associated Press has reason to believe, however, that its original summary of the Dutch communication was correct, with this addition that the Dutch suggested that Wessels, Wolmarans and Fischer, the Boer delegates now in Europe, be permitted to go to South Africa in an endeavor to persuade the burghers in the field to surrender.

Great Britain's reply is not in the nature of a direct negative, though it is not unlikely that it will have that effect, for while Lord Lansdowne, the Foreign Secretary, probably leaves a loophole for further suggestions, he doubts the ability of the Boer delegates to control their fellow-countrymen, and there seems little likelihood that the Dutch Government can secure guarantees, in regard to the powers of the Boer delegates, satisfactory enough to induce Great Britain to accede to the original request.

Will Institute Investigation.

London, Feb. 1.—In reply to Sir John Blundell Maple, Conservative, and others, Mr. Brodrick defended Major-General William R. Truman, inspector-general of the remount department, from the charge of any dishonorable conduct, and, after being considerably pressed from the Liberal side of the House, eventually undertook to make a full investigation of the cases of all the officers concerned.

Mr. Labouchere's motion to reduce the vote was rejected by a vote of 106 to 75, and the supplementary estimates were adopted by 159 to 56.

Cost of the War.

London, Feb. 1.—The War Secretary, Mr. Brodrick, in introducing a supplementary army estimate of £5,000,000 in the House of Commons yesterday, said this brought the total of the cost of the war for the present year up to £61,070,000. On Jan. 1 there were still 237,800 British troops in South Africa. The expense of the war had now been reduced to about £4,500,000 per month.

APPEAL TO U.S. PRESIDENT.

Delegates Implore Him to Use His Influence to Save the Life of Commandant Kritzinger.

Amsterdam, Feb. 1.— Boer delegates Fischer, Wolmarans and Wessels cabled yesterday morning to President Roosevelt in Washington imploring his influence in saving the life of Boer Commandant Kritzinger, who was sentenced to death by court-martial after his capture by the British under Lord Kitchener.

Ceaseless but unavailing efforts have been made by President Kruger and the Boer leaders in Holland to secure the release of the captive, but a deaf ear has been turned to their appeals, the British Parliament refusing to intercede or take any action in the matter.

Commandant Kritzinger was reported, and the report emanated from a high station, to have been shot to death at sundown a week ago. The Boer leaders believe the report was intended as a blind and refuse to believe the sentence has been executed.

Their appeal to the President of the United States to intervene is made as a last resort. If it passes unheeded the life of the Boer commandant is despaired of.

Kritzinger May Be Living.

London, Feb. 1.—The report that Commandant Kritzinger, who was captured by Gen. French on Dec. 17, had been condemned to death is not confirmed here. It was announced from South Africa on Jan. 20 that Kritzinger's trial would begin this week, but nothing has since been heard of his case. The charge against Commandant Kritzinger include four of murder, in addition to train wrecking and cruelty to prisoners.

BIDDLE BROS. SHOT

The Jailer's Wife, Mrs. Soffel, Shoots Herself.

EDWARD MORTALLY WOUNDED

John Biddle Is in a Precarious Condition From His Buckshot Wounds, But Mrs. Soffel May Recover, as Bullet Glanced From Her Corset—An Exciting Chase—The Constables Win.

Pittsburg, Feb. 1.—A telegram from Butler at 9.30 p.m., yesterday says:

Edward Biddle in jail dying, John Biddle riddled with buckshot and in a precarious condition, and Mrs. K. Soffel lying in the hospital with a self-inflicted bullet wound in the breast is the sequel of the sensational escape of the Biddle brothers from the Allegheny County jail, aided by Mrs. Soffel, the wife of the jail warden, on Tuesday morning.

The story of the close of the Biddle tragedy, which came at 5.45 yesterday afternoon, is a thrilling one. The scene was a snow-covered road two miles east of Prospect, Butler County, near Mount Chesnut, and the exact place was at McClure's barn, where two double-team sleighs filled with eight officers, three of them Pittsburg detectives—John Roach, Albert Swineheart and Charles McGovern—met the two Biddles and Mrs. Soffel in a one-horse sleigh stolen at Perrysville, and at once opened fire on the trio. The Biddles returned the fire after jumping out of the sleigh.

Edward Biddle was shot in the left arm, in the breast and in one leg. John Biddle was riddled with buckshot in the breast and head.

The Pittsburg and other officers were armed with Winchester rifles and revolvers of large calibre. They shot to kill, and their aim was perfect. The Biddles tried to kill to the last of their string, but not one of the eight officers has a wound as the result of the battle. When the detectives got within 60 yards of the fugitives, they opened fire. The Biddles promptly answered with shotgun and revolvers. Mrs. Soffel, too, stood up in the sleigh with a revolver in each hand, and blazed away at her pursuers. When Ed. Biddle fell, and she was about to be captured, she fired a bullet into her breast. An examination by physicians shows that she will recover, as the bullet was deflected by her corset, and the wound is comparatively slight.

Ed. Biddle got a bullet in the breast, which penetrated his right lung, and will probably end his life before morning. John Biddle may recover, his wounds, though numerous, failing to reach a vital spot. The escape of the officers is miraculous. The Biddles have demonstrated on several occasions that they were good marksmen, and why they should have failed yesterday to bring down their men is a mystery.

After the Biddles fell to the snow-covered ground, the officers picked up the apparently lifeless body of Mrs. Soffel and the Biddles and came back to Butler, bringing the stolen sleigh, patched-up harness and worn-out horse that the trio had tried so strenuously to get away with toward Canada and liberty.

At the jail last night Ed. Biddle called for a priest, and made the following statement: "I have been accused of a great many serious crimes. I admit that I could have committed many, the opportunities for them having presented themselves. I want to say now that I did not kill Detective Fitzgerald, nor did I shoot Thomas Kahney, nor was my brother implicated in the latter affair. Mrs. Soffel aided us in getting out of the County Jail, and had it not been for her we would have made our escape to-day. She gave up everything for us, and I was bound to back her. I did not shoot her. She shot herself.

"Although I have been pictured to you as a desperate man, I still have some heart and gratitude for the woman who helped us to escape. She merely did it out of good sympathy for us. I persuaded her to do it. I told her I was guiltless of the crime for which I was about to be executed, and she was impressed and yielded to my suggestion. I planned it all."

At this point Biddell showed signs of collapse and made a feeble effort to signal the priest. Father Walsh administered the solemn last rites of the dying, and Biddle rolled over on his face and sighed.

NEARLY FROZEN TO DEATH.

Napoleon Landry Loses an Arm and Both Feet.

Ottawa, Feb. 1.—Napoleon Landry started one day last week to walk from a shanty on the Mattawa to the nearest station. It was bitter cold, the roadway was drifted deep in snow. Landry finally gave out and lay down to die. A shanty teamster found him apparently lifeless on the road, and took him to the nearest lumber camp, where he was revived. As he was badly frost-bitten he was brought to Ottawa, and last night the doctors in the Water Street Hospital amputated one of his arms and both feet. He will live.

PETERBOROUGH COUNTY COUNCIL.

Several Committees Reported Yesterday.

THEY ADJOURNED TO-DAY.

The Minnesotan School Matter was not Interfered With—No Grant for Beet Sugar Factory.

The County Council was engaged in committee work all day yesterday until 5 o'clock in the afternoon, when they went into session for a brief while and rushed through the reports of the various committees.

When Council went into session at 5 o'clock the Warden was in the chair and the following councillors in attendance: Messrs. Crowe, Costello, Fitzgerald, Anderson, Peck, Jeffs, and Pearce

COMMITTEE ON SCHOOLS.

The Committee on Schools, through its chairman, Mr. G. W. Fitzgerald, reported as follows:

The Committee on Schools beg leave to report, recommending as follows:

1. Inasmuch as this council has no jurisdiction in the matter your Committee recommend that no action be taken upon the application of the trustees of School Section No. 11 Otonabee, requesting this council to instruct the County School Inspector as to his duties with respect to the Government grant, which has been withheld on his recommendation, Your committee would also recommend that all parties interested meet together and amicably adjust their difficulties.

2. That the application of the Peterborough Teachers' Association be granted asking the council to give permission to the association to meet on Thursday and Friday, instead of as heretofore.

3. In reply to the communication from the trustees of School Section No. 4, Otonabee, asking this council to make a grant towards the continuation class equivalent to the Legislative grant thereto, your committee recommend that the statutory requirements in that respect be conformed to not only with this school but also with the Havelock and Lakefield schools.

4. That the report of the Public School Inspector be received.

5. Your committee recommend that the County Treasurer pay for this county's share of the maintenance of the Norwood High School for the year 1901, the sum of $693.15, and also to the Model School the sum of $150.00.

6. Your Committee recommend that the County School Inspector and Messrs. J. Davidson, Norwood; William A. Evans, Lakefield; and Duncan Walker, Peterborough, be the County Board, and Examiners to examine teachers and give certificates in accordance with the statute in that behalf.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

G. W. FITZGERALD,
Chairman.

County Council Chambers,
Peterborough, Jan. 31, 1902.

The report was adopted.

COMMITTEE ON PRINTING.

Dr. Jeffs, the chairman of the Printing Committee, reported as follows:

The Committee on Printing beg leave to report recommending as follows:

1. That the County Clerk be instructed to grant to the Norwood Register, Lakefield News and Havelock Standard, alternately, the printing of the lists of convictions and assessment schedules required to be published and printed at the same price as last year.

2. That in answer to the complaint of the Lakefield News as to the printing of the list of the returns of convictions during the past year, your committee wish to point out that such ground of complaint arose through the fact that the Lakefield News had previously received a larger share than they were entitled to.

3. That all other County printing be divided by the Clerk between the Peterborough Examiner, Peterborough Review and Peterborough Times, in as equal a manner as possible, save and except that the County Clerk shall apportion between the Lakefield News, Norwood Register and Havelock Standard, whatever printing of letter heads posters and other work he can conveniently give them.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

DR. JEFFS,
Chairman.

County Council Chambers,
Peterborough, Jan. 31, 1902.

The report was adopted.

TREED BY WOLVES.

Exciting and Dangerous Flight of an American Timber Ranger.

Wolves are reported very numerous in the wilds of Haliburton this year. A few days ago a party of Americans, hailing from Pennsylvania, were in the vicinity of Dorset inspecting timber. One of the party strayed away from the others, and after going a couple of miles he heard the howling of wolves. Looking around, he observed a pack of the vicious brutes coming towards him from over a high cliff. In order to save himself from being devoured he took off his snowshoes and scurried up a tree, which was speedily surrounded by the man-eaters. After remaining a prisoner for a couple of hours he was released by his comrades, who came along heavily armed and soon made short work of the wolves. As there is a bounty of $10 on wolves some of our local sports, who now waste their good ammunition on rabbits should take a trip north.

THE POPULAR WOMAN.

The Kind That Men Admire.

Men admire a pretty face and a good figure, but sooner or later learn that the happy woman,—that contented one is most of all to be admired.

Those troubled with fainting spells, irregularity, nervous irritability, backache, the blues and that dreadful bearing down feeling cannot hope to be happy, and advancement in either home or social life is impossible.

It is clearly shown in the young lady's letter which follows that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will certainly cure the sufferings of women; and when one considers that Miss Murphy's letter is only one of the countless hundreds which we are continually publishing in the newspapers of this country, the great virtue of Mrs. Pinkham's medicine must be admitted by all; and for the absolute cure of all kinds of female ills no substitute can possibly take its place. Women should bear this important fact in mind when they go into a drug store, and be sure not to accept anything that is claimed to be "just as good" as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for no other medicine for female ills has made so many actual cures.

MISS MARGARETTA MURPHY,
President "Lend-a-Hand Club," Seattle, Wash.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—For three years I suffered with bearing down pains, backache, became nervous and hysterical and could not enjoy life as other young women did. A lady friend who had suffered similarly and been cured, suggested that I try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I had little faith in it, but nevertheless I gave it a trial, and I am glad that I did. I kept getting better gradually and my pains left me and within four months I was a well woman. This is a year ago and I have never had any trouble since. I wish all suffering women knew of your valuable medicine.—Yours very truly, MARGARETTA MURPHY, 2703 Sec. Ave., Seattle, Wash."

Two More Grateful Letters.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I feel it my duty to write you in regard to your valuable medicine. I have been troubled with falling of the womb and inflammation of the ovaries, and was so bad I could hardly walk across the floor. The doctors said it was impossible for me to get well unless I had an operation, but this I would not listen to. Having read so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I made up my mind to give it a trial, and it has done wonders for me. I commenced to feel better from the first dose, and today I am a well, healthy girl.

"Hoping that your Vegetable Compound will relieve other sufferers as it did me, and thanking you for restoring my health, I remain,—MISS ALMA LARSON, Box 188, Hudson, Wis."

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have been greatly benefited by the use of your medicine. I was troubled with a pain in my side and any little unusual thing would almost prostrate me I was so nervous; I was so weak I could not do my work; menstruation was very scanty. I tried medicines for my nerves, also kidney and liver medicine, but nothing did me any good. I then concluded to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took three bottles of it, and one box of your Liver Pills, and I have not been sick since. That was three years ago, and I have given birth to two children since then, and do all my housework for a family of six."—MRS. JOHN MOLER, Hillsboro, Ohio. (Nov. 19, 1900.)

Don't hesitate to write to Mrs. Pinkham if there is anything about your sickness you do not understand. She will treat you with kindness and her advice is free. No woman ever regretted writing her and she has helped thousands. Address Lynn, Mass.

$5000 REWARD.—We have deposited with the Mahoney City Bank of Lynn, Mass., which will be paid to any person who can find that the above testimonials are not genuine, or was published before obtained the writer's special permission. LYDIA E. PINKHAM MED. CO., Lynn, Mass.

SOME DOTS FROM A DIARY

Or, to the Orient and Back in Khaki.

An Interesting Account of a Local Volunteer's Experience on the 2nd. Canadian Contingent—The Impressions he Gained.

(Lt. Robert Johnston, 45th Regiment)

CHAPTHR XX.

In reading about Oriental tribes we have been led to consider them crispy, tempered, irritable and sullen, but from actual observation, on the contrary, they are the most contented, happy-go-lucky, kindly disposed people I ever saw. They may have been quarreling half the time for aught I know, since I could not understand a word they said, but it must have been an amusing wrangle, for the smiling countenance was never darkened with a frown. The fashions as set by the authorities on dress in New York and Paris, are of no concern to John. What does it matter to him whether the seats are to be frock or sacque? Whether trousers are as tightly fitting or as loose as the Dutchman's bloomers? He doesn't care for he doesn't wear any. Boots may be as long and as pointed at the toe as a hockey skate, or as broad as the end of a cricket bat. John doesn't care, for he has none but those that Nature gave him, and they need no "Gilt Edge," "Non-Such," or any other dressing to make them shine. When he wishes to make a change in his vesture he carefully looks about him, and if he discovers an empty old sack, which would be about five feet long, and of very coarse texture, he immediately commanders it. John is his own cutter, fitter and tailor, and with scissors in hand he soon manufactures a new new suit by cutting off the two bottom corners and a portion from the centre of the same end, through which he pushes his arms and head respectively, and then steps out as proud as you please in his Sunday-go-to-meetin' clothes. Pretty rapid work, isn't it? For such a climate as this it is just the proper thing — light and airy. Sometimes he goes bareheaded, but as a rule he wears a turban.

If you want to see him at his best just present him with a pair of military trousers, and a white helmet. He suddenly becomes Lord of all, and is nothing short of pomposity itself personified. The style of headdress reveals the caste of the individual. The Mahommedans wear a little red cap with a black tassel, the same as a great many American children do in their early years. Other castes wear brown slouch hats with red bands, black or blue bands, or a combination of colours, and strange to say, none of these castes will associate with or even recognise another. Up country the natives, and by natives I mean the Kaffirs, both male and female, invariably clothe themselves with blankets loosely and carelessly thrown about their bodies. Some of them do pretend to imitate Occidental costumes, but there are very few who do so with any degree of success. The peculiar manner in which they carry burdens, appeals to our curiosity, and excites no small amount of interest. No matter what it may be, a bucket of water, a bundle of clothes, or fuel, baby dear, or anything else, it must be placed on the head. They make no effort at balancing it, and they walk as uprightly as a newly made Bishop, and at a pace sufficiently fast for the most of us. In this country with its style and manners, it is always a momentous question for the fond mother to decide just what style of costume is most suitable for the baby, and as it grows older the problem becomes none the less embarrassing. She is not satisfied if the darling is not the best dressed child of its years in the neighbourhood, and if any of her friends should manifest better taste she is displeased, and possibly jealous. The African mother is just as proud of her progeny, I suppose, as any other mother, and she avoids all this mental worry, free from all semblance of either jealousy or vanity, for she lets baby dear run wild on the veldt in perfect nudity, like her neighbour's, until 14 or 15 years of age, or until it consists of sufficient womanly enough to don a thimble. His home is just as humble as his attire, consisting of being a bungalow resembling a gigantic beehive, which you enter by crawling on your hands and knees through an orifice at the base. If you are more than four or five feet high you must humbly bow or shove your head through the roof, which might not be a prudent alternative. It is as dark as midnight when you first enter and discretion being the better part of valour remain where you are for a few minutes until you can discern your path. If you don't take this precaution, and proceed, you will in all probability tumble over a "kid," and as sure as you do you'll fall on another, and Mother Kaffir will make you fly for your life if one of them be hurt, but she'll neither scold you nor raise you on her slipper, these devices being known to Occidentals only. Keep your eye on the entrance for in your rush out it is almost certain that you will have a "head on" collision with a youngster coming in, or a "rear-end" pitch in with one going out. This is one of the times in a man's life when he wishes he were cross-eyed, as he could keep a close watch on Mrs. Kaffir and the means of egress at the same time. If you haven't time to dash out the way you came in, or if that road to liberty be cut off, don't give up, but stiffen your neck for the brunt, and make one desperate bound against the wall, and you'll escape in safety, leaving the bungalow in a completely demolished condition. Sometimes they live in kraals made by fastening together stout cornstalks or other woody material, after the same fashion that an Indian constructs a wigwam, but neither of these afford as much comfort as the little brick huts in the Kaffir colony of the towns. The name kraal may refer to a single hut or a collection of these forming a village. It might be interesting to continue the narrative relating to Kaffirs and their customs, but we will be obliged to leave it for a time, as it really comes in later on if properly located, and while we have virtually disembarked, and made this racy excursion inland, the remainder of the boys are on the Milwaukee at the dock.

On Monday morning we arose before the dawn of day and began to hustle off baggage of every description. A fatigue party was immediately detailed to proceed to the proposed camping ground to unload the equipment upon its arrival there. The sergeant much like the record of a phonograph, had a few names off by heart, and if he ever opened his mouth when fatigue men were wanted, he would call those names, and we must promptly respond. Johnston being easily remembered, was one of his pet names, and consequently was included in the list of those designated to parade to the new camp for the purpose above named.

While we were going to Green Point, as it was called, our baggage, loaded on a steam transport train, passed and reached the camp several minutes ahead of us. When we arrived it took but a short time to unload that train, and it returned to the dock. These are not railway trains, as you may suppose, but bear a striking analogy to them. They are generally made up of seven or eight cars about half the length and perhaps a little better than half the width of an ordinary railway car. Some of them are very heavy and it takes a good team to start them in the sand. The wheels are about two and a half feet in diameter, frequently spokeless, with a tire four or five inches wide. On good solid ground the engine will haul a train along at the rate of four or five miles an hour. There were twenty-five of these steam transports up country, and they proved themselves of great value, not only as a means of transport but they also worked at night in the camp generating electricity for the searchlights. We had two train loads of baggage, as it is called at the Cape, and as soon as the last parcel was removed from the cars and thrown in a heap, we returned to the vessel, leaving the guard in charge. It was now after our usual dinner hour, and in truth most of us felt as though we needed a good square meal. We had entertained hopes of getting dinner at the dock, but we were doomed to disappointment, for there the whole scene was one of complete disorder. The derricks and windlasses were hauling up the heavy bales of hay, cannon, and other heavy cargo; our boys were running the horses down the gangway as quickly as they could follow each other; railway trains were haughing and screeching about; Kaffirs everywhere galore, dodging among the horses, boxes, and Tommies; sailors and officers shouting orders, nobody apparently having time to heed anybody, or anything, but themselves. While all this was going on like a variety show, the bergeant marched us up to our troop and dismissed us. Before I had gone three yards, somebody shouted my name, and thinking I must be either tremendously popular or servant to the regiment, I looked in the direction of the sound and was immediately presented with a span of ponies. In truth I had a time. We slung our rifles over our left shoulders, hung a water bottle and haversack on the right, buckled on our side arms, and then hung our great coats and mess tins on the left shoulder over the rifle. It was most awkward. The horses were saddled, but neither of mine had one, and it would be next to impossible to get two animals more widely estranged in temperament. One was light, lifey, ambitious, exceedingly nervous, fretful, and a swift walker; the other heavy, inert somewhat nervous, and as clumsy and lazy as he could be. With this pair I started for Green Point, not at all hopeful of ever reaching it. The turmoil and confusion at the dock agitated them wonderfully and when we moved off the little black stepped out at a brisk walk, leaving the bay behind as far as the tie rope would permit. As luck would have it the high spirited animal was on my left, and every step I took the barrel of the rifle struck him. He couldn't understand this treatment and danced and pranced along, champing the bit and seemed to be getting into a state of frenzy. I endeavoured to hold him back a little or have him mark time for five or ten minutes, till the other fellow would overtake us, but it was useless. The bay was as unconcerned as you please—more so than I was—and slowly sauntered up in line, but wouldn't proceed a pace farther, nor swing round to get the black on my right. Here I was coming up the street with two equines pulling in opposite directions, one of them covered with perspiration—and so was I for that matter—the other as cool and as indifferent as if on an iceberg, unless a tram car chanced to pass, when he would make a jump and alight on my toes. My rifle was slung so loosely that it was now sliding off my shoulder down over my arm, practically rendering it useless. Things were gradually going from bad to worse but it was not till I reached the main street that the crowning act in this romance was performed, and the climax attained in the presence of hundreds of spectators. Just as we turned on to this street a Scotch regiment of infantry was passing, and when directly opposite me the pipers struck up "Highland Laddie," or something else. I hadn't time to hear more than the first squawk, till the big fellow reared and came down on my foot, the two chargers dancing the Highland fling, and I the cork leg. They seemed to think it was I who made the strange, unearthly sound, and both sprung from me as if were supernatural. Things quickly assumed an air of uncertainty, and for a time I scarcely knew whether I was going to be left intact or be bisected. If I didn't bless the Highland laddies I'm a donkey! I made no hesitation in saying the music resembled that which a pig would make under a gate, or a dog being strangled to death. I heard a young lady remark one time when she heard the bagpipes that the musician had his wind pipe under his arm, and with due respect for that famous musical instrument, its notes do certainly sound like those a person would make with that important organ dislocated. There was no such thing as getting those horses quieted, nor could I ingratiate myself with them or win their confidence again. They looked upon me with dire suspicion momentarily expecting to hear another of those horrible, strangled sounds. One of the boys seeing my dilemma volunteered to take "Lazybones," so I gladly availed myself of the opportunity of getting rid of one of the "beasts," and handed over the tie-lie, but "Shorty" never had down a particle. Whatever put on his girth left it too slack, and there had only gone about two hundred yards farther the corner began to slip off at his heels, and if there wasn't a wild time there for a few minutes I don't know what a wild time is! I thought sure we'd be arrested for giving a street performance without a license, but he soon left the cause of trouble on the street and a sergeant who was following us on the sidewalk picked up the blanket and brought it on. The good-natured non-com. offered to lead the crazy animal for a time and I consented. He started up the street bravely, and by this time the rest of the troop were a good half mile ahead making matters even worse. For the frenzied animal wanted to overtake his companions, in his eagerness to do so would walk much faster than either the sergeant or I, and would be continually crossing the path in front of us, in which case all we could do was stop for a moment and turn him clear around. If he turned once he turned fifty times in going that mile and a half to Green Point Camp. The sergeant's arms soon began to ache, and he rued his bargain. I was again handed the reins and on we went with no signs of change for either better or worse, till the exhibition grounds, where Cronje's prisoners were confined. A hearse was standing at the gate, and as I passed I enquired of the gentleman in charge if they were burying the Boer prisoner who was shot the night before for attempting to escape. He had just answered in the affirmative when the four thousand prisoners began to sing their National Anthem, in their native tongue. This was more than the pony could endure, and although he seemed to appreciate it more than the bagpipes, yet he scampered about in a manner not at all pleasing to me. It was with feelings of profound gratitude that I was left alive to tell the tale that I lead him into his place among the other mounts at Green Point Camp. It was now four o'clock p.m., and we had left the dock shortly after two. No previous arrangements had been made for picketting the horses and indeed it was beyond human ability to say just when the lines would be ready. The chargers in the meantime being tired, would insist on lying down, and rolling with the saddles on, and it was next to impossible for one man to keep four of them on their feet.

A MOTHERS WARNING.

Speaks of a Trouble That Afflicts Many Young Girls.

Headache, Dizziness, Heart Palpitation, Fickle Appetite and Pallor the Early Symptoms of Decay.

(From the Sun, Orangeville, Ont.)

Hard study at school, coupled with the lack of attention which every young girl merging into womanhood should have, is responsible not only for the many pale faces and attenuated forms met with such lamentable frequency, but is responsible also for the loss of many valuable young lives. First there is an occasional headache and a tiredness of complexion, from which stages, if these early symptoms are neglected, the condition gradually grows worse and worse until decline or consumption sets in and death claims another victim of parental neglect. Upon mothers especially devolves a great responsibility as their daughters approach womanhood. The following truthful story told a reporter of the Sun by Mrs. O. Heasman, of Third Avenue, Orangeville, carries a lesson to other mothers. Mrs. Heasman said: "About fifteen months ago my daughter, Kate, while attending the public school studied hard. We noticed that she began to complain of headaches. This was followed by a listlessness and an utter indifference to the things that usually interest young girls. We consulted a doctor, and she took bottle after bottle of medicine, but with no benefit. Often she would arise in the morning after an almost sleepless night, her limbs all a quiver and her head reeling. She would be attacked with spells of dizziness, and on the least exertion her heart would palpitate violently, and we were really afraid she would not recover. At this stage my husband suggested that we should try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and he brought home several boxes. Kate had only taken the pills a few weeks when there was a great change for the better. She grew stronger, began to eat better and to have better colour, and from this stage it was not long until she was again enjoying the best of health and able to resume her studies at school. I might also tell you that these pills cured my daughter Emma of an attack of rheumatism, so that you see we have much reason to praise them, and I earnestly recommend them to all mothers whose daughters may be suffering as mine did."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure all diseases that have their origin either in a poor or watery condition of the blood or shattered nerves. It is because they make rich red blood and strengthen the nerves with every dose that they cure such troubles as anaemia, consumption in its early stages, nervous headache, St. Vitus' dance, rheumatism, partial paralysis, kidney trouble, indigestion, etc. Ordinary medicine merely acts upon the symptoms of the trouble, and when such medicines are discontinued the trouble returns often in an aggravated form. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills on the contrary go direct to the root of the trouble and cure to stay cured. See that the full name, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People," is found on the wrapper of every box. If your dealer does not have them send direct and they will be mailed, post paid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

THE HIAWATHA SCHOOL.

Inspector Brown Makes a Report to the School Committee of County Council.

The Hiwatha school house has been the subject of considerable discussion at the County Council during the past few days. The trouble arouse over the government grant being cut off upon the recommendation of the local County School Inspector. Inspector Brown held that the school building was not up to what it should be and in this connection he was supported by one of the school trustees and a member of the ratepayers of the section. Inspector Brown was asked to report on the matter and he did so as follows:

To the Committee on Schools, County Council of the County of Peterborough:

Gentlemen,—With regard to the matter of S. S. No. 11, Otonabee, the inhabitants of said section were long without school of any kind within their own borders. A school site was never purchased nor a school house erected. At length an arrangement was entered into with the Indians by which a room in the Indian Council Building was leased. Beneath this room there is no protection but the floor, and the ceiling of the room is only seven feet from the floor. In very cold weather it is almost impossible to keep the room comfortably warm, and the ventilation is extremely bad. When the Indians are occupying the room above the distraction to the children is very great. The furniture is of the rudest, such as one would see in a back school fifty years ago. There is only one water closet and it has no screen. Taking the whole it is a disgrace to the Township of Otonabee.

As long as I considered it the only thing that could be obtained, I made the best of it, but when I found that it was not, that for public purposes land is procurable from an Indian Reserve, I then represented to the trustees the desirability of obtaining a site and erecting a proper building thereon. Nothing was done. Every obstacle was thrown in the way by the two men who addressed you this morning. When I saw that there was nothing else for it I placed the matter before the Education Department, and acting under its instructions I withdrew the Legislative Grant.

I am, gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
J. COYLE BROWN,
P. S. Inspector.

Loss of Flesh.

If you find yourself falling below normal weight there is danger. The use of fish oils can temporarily add fat, but will never build up healthy tissue. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food sets through the blood and nervous system and carries new life and energy to every nook and corner of the body. It regulates the various organs of the body, makes the appetite good, adds healthy flesh and replaces the tissues wasted by disease. Gradually and naturally this food cure restores colour to the cheeks, increases the weight of the body, and thoroughly overcomes disease.

I Will Cure You of Rheumatism

No pay until you know it.

After 2,000 experiments I have learned how to cure Rheumatism. Not to turn many joints into flesh again; that is impossible. But I can cure the disease always, at any stage, and forever.

I ask for no money. Simply write me a postal and I will send you an order on your nearest druggist for six bottles of Dr. Shoop's Rheumatism Cure, for every druggist keeps it. Use it for a month, and if it does what I claim pay your druggist $5.50 for it. If it doesn't I will pay him myself.

I have no samples. Any medicine that can affect Rheumatism with but a few doses must be drugged to the verge of danger. I use no such drugs. It is folly to take them. You must get the disease out of the blood.

My remedy does that even in the most difficult, obstinate cases. No matter how impossible this seems to you, I know it and I take the risk. I have cured tens of thousands of cases in this way, and my records show that 39 out of every 40 who get these six bottles pay and pay gladly. I have learned that people in general are honest with a physician who cures them. That is all I ask. If I fail I don't expect a penny from you.

Simply write me a postal card or letter. Let me send you an order for the medicine. Take it for a month for it won't harm you anyway. If it cures, pay $5.50. I leave that entirely to you. I will mail you a book that tells how I do it.

THE GROWING REVENUE.

An Increase of $428,000 in the Customs For January.

Ottawa, Feb. 1.—The customs revenue for the month of January, just ended, shows an increase of $428,091 over the same month a year ago. The actual figures for the two months were: January, 1901, $2,061,698; January, 1902, $2,489,186. For the seven months of the present fiscal year, ending yesterday, the customs receipts were $18,355,978, as against $16,674,146 for the same period of the year preceding, an increase of $1,681,731.

TROUBLES OF THE SOLDIERS.

Leytonstone, Eng.

Dear Sirs,—With regard to Kelpion, I cannot speak too well of it. It was the only medical store we had with us, and I don't know how we should have got on without it.

The Regulars were always "rolling" up for a "rub of Kelpion" for different complaints, and I certainly think that all soldiers should be served with "one pot Kelpion" when going on active service.

I think it was owing to your ointment that so many of us were able to keep up and do the record march under Lord Kitchener.

The first time I saw it used was for a bad foot, which was badly jammed by a railway carriage door. In three days he was able to wear his boots and in less than a week able to walk. At Orange River I used it for my throat which was swollen to Tonsilitis, and by rubbing your Kelpion well in. I was soon cured. For bruises, veldt sores, etc., nothing can beat it.

(Sgd.) REG. E. COOMBS,
No. 504, C.I.V.

P. S.—I shall certainly advise my friends to use Kelpion.

At all druggists, 25c.

Killed at Renfrew.

Renfrew, Feb. 1.—By a rear-end collision at 10 o'clock Thursday night on the C. P. R. line, a mile west of this place, Isaac VanAllan, a brakesman, lost his life, and some damage was done to rolling stock. The lights were completely obscured by steam or haze. The track was soon cleared. VanAllan belonged to Carleton Place, and was 30 years of age.

ON CRUTCHES.

Even if you are obliged to use crutches Dr. Hall's Rheumatic Cure can fix you up. This was the experience of John J. Peters, Sherbrook Lake, Ont. He suffered with rheumatism in his legs (sciatica) for a year and had to creep about on crutches all the time. Fortunately he tried Dr. Hall's remedy and it only took three bottles to cure him completely. This great blood purifier is put up in bottles containing ten days treatment. Price 50 cents at all drug stores or The Dr. Hall Medicine Co., Kingston, Ont.

The Pink of Politeness.

Colonel David Crockett reported after a visit to the White House that General Jackson, who was then president, was the most polite man he ever met. When the president handed out the bottle for a guest, Colonel Crockett said, he turned his back upon it and left his friend free to measure out his drink according to his own discretion.

A COTTON-TAIL PEST

The Wood Rabbit Subject of a Debate in Legislature.

MR. PATTULLO AND BONUSES

The Premier Makes an Intimation Regarding the Introduction of the Prohibition Bill—Other Bills to Amend the Municipal Act Introduced—Statistics of the Dairy Schools Attendance Since 1895.

Toronto, Jan. 31.—This afternoon in the Legislative Assembly, in answer to Mr. Carnegie, Hon. John Dryden gave the number of students who had attended the Dairy Schools since 1895 as follows: Eastern Dairy School, 615; Guelph Dairy School, 534; Western Dairy School, 227.

The following special committee on Dr. Jessop's bill to amend the Medical Act, was appointed: Messrs. McKay, Jessop, Pyne, Matheson, Carscallen, Pardee, Preston, Graham, Gibson, Garrow and Hoyle.

Mr. Hoyle moved the second reading of his bill to amend the Municipal Act. He explained that the object of the measure was to prevent members of municipal councils being also members of school boards. There was sometimes frictions between these bodies and it was not desirable that any man should act in the dual capacity.

Hon. J. M. Gibson saw no objection to the bill going to the Municipal Committee.

The bill received a second reading.

Mr. Preston's bill to amend the Municipal Act also received a second reading.

Mr. Auld moved the second reading of a bill to amend the Ontario Game Protection Act.

Hon. F. Latchford said that he had intended to introduce a bill on the same lines providing that the owners or occupants of lands should not be prohibited from killing the wood hare on their own lands. Another feature of the bill he proposed was the further limitation of the time for killing quail.

Col. Matheson thought the wood hare was entitled to some measure of protection.

Dr. Barr said it was a destructive animal and should not be protected for the sportsman to the detriment of the farmer.

Mr. Auld said the wood hare, or cotton tail rabbit, had wrought great destruction in Essex County, and unless farmers were given permission to destroy it there would shortly be nothing left there but the telegraph poles and barbed wire fences.

The bill stood over.

Mr. Duff's bill amending the Municipal Act was sent to the Municipal Committee.

Mr. Pattullo moved the second reading of a bill to amend the Municipal Act, framed with the object of making more effective the provisions of the law which prohibits one municipality from giving a bonus to an established industry to attract it from another locality.

Hon. J. M. Gibson favored the bill and Mr. Whitney also approved it.

Mr. Pattullo made the suggestion that before any municipality submitted a bonus bylaw it ought to be approved by the Attorney-General or by some judge to ensure its being in accordance with the law. The bill was read a second time.

Mr. Carscallen's Municipal Act amendment bill received a second reading.

Hon. G. W. Ross, in reply to a question by Mr. Whitney, stated that the Prohibition Bill would possibly be brought in during the latter part of next week.

Assembly Notes.

A return asked for by Dr. Jessop, which has been presented to the Legislature, shows the seriousness of the outbreak of the San Jose scale among the fruit trees of Lincoln County. The total number of trees condemned to be destroyed was 20,955; the number actually destroyed was 17,788, while the number condemned but not destroyed was 3,177. Mr. James Hutchison of Niagara Township was the heaviest individual loser, 2,031 trees in his orchard having to go, while a considerable number of other fruit growers in the same township lost from 1,000 to 2,000 trees. That township was the most severely affected, the next worst locality being in the immediate vicinity of St. Catharines.

There is an outbreak of diphtheria and scarlet fever reported from Magnetawan, Parry Sound. There have been 80 cases of the latter disease and about 10 deaths.

Sale of Hop Beer.

Ottawa, Feb. 1.—A number of miners at Fernie, B.C., have petitioned the Dominion Government to permit the sale of hop beer. At present the sale is prohibited because hop beer contains more than 2 per cent. of alcohol. The petitioners say it is unfair to deprive them of a temperance beverage. Most of those who signed the petition are foreigners. They will be told the matter is one with which the Dominion Government cannot interfere.

The Jury Disagreed.

Lethbridge, N.W.T., Feb. 1.— A trial which has occupied the court here for the past four days, known as the "Joiner case," an alleged attempted murder, and which has excited much local interest, came to an unexpected and rather unsatisfactory conclusion yesterday by the disagreement of the jury.

Toombs For Lisgar.

Winnipeg, Feb. 1.—J. M. Toombs of Carman was nominated yesterday at Carman to contest Lisgar in the Conservative interests. The candidates in the field now are: Conservative, J. M. Toombs. Liberal, D. R. Stewart; Independent, R. L. Richardson.

BERGERON'S CHARGES.

Deputy Returning Officer Arrested in Montreal Charged With Ballot-Box Stuffing and Other Election Frauds.

Montreal, Feb. 1.—A sensation has been caused in political circles by the arrest of some of the officials in St. James' division, resulting in the election of Ald. Brunet, the Liberal candidate. At the instance of Mr. J. G. H. Bergeron, the defeated Conservative candidate, High Constable Bissonnette arrested Rodolphe Hetu, deputy returning officer, and J. M. B. Desy, Ald. Brunet's agent, on a charge of conspiracy to commit illegal acts in connection with the recent contest for St. James' seat in the Dominion Parliament: It is alleged that the illegal acts were committed at poll No. 37, 293 St. Timothy street, where there was a report made by Mr. Hetu that Ald. Brunet had received ninety votes to four for Mr. Bergeron. The first thing that attracted the attention of Mr. Bergeron's friends was that this poll, from which ninety-four votes were sent to the returning officer after the count had taken place, has only 84 voters on the list. Subsequent investigation resulted in the issue of the warrant, which first declares Mr. Bergeron's belief that Mr. Hetu altered, erased and destroyed certain ballot papers; that he deposited in the ballot box contrary to law, certain ballot papers other than those which had been handed in by citizens having the right to vote; that he destroyed, opened and manipulated other ballot papers, and that he manipulated the ballot box of the poll mentioned in order to deposit certain illegal papers; that he paid the representative of one of the candidates, in order that the said representative should not do his duty; that he allowed fifty names of citizens who did not vote to appear as having voted. Mr. Desy is charged with conspiracy with Mr. Hetu to do as above charged. The accused appeared before Judge Lafontaine and pleaded not guilty. They were remanded until next week for enquete, and His Honor announced that he would accept satisfactory bail. Mr. Bergeron stated that officials in eighteen other polls would be arrested on similar charges, but up to a late hour last night this was not done.

No Argument Needed

Every Sufferer From Catarrh Knows That Salves, Lotions, Washes, Sprays and Douches do not Cure.

Powders, lotions, salves, sprays and inhalers cannot really cure Catarrh, because this disease is a blood disease, and local applications, if they accomplish anything, at all, simply give transient relief.

The catarrhal poison is in the blood and the mucous membrane of the nose, throat and trachea tries to relieve the system by secreting large quantities of mucous, the discharge sometimes closing up the nostrils, dropping into the throat, causing deafness by closing the Eustachian tubes, and after a time causing catarrh of stomach or serious throat and lung troubles.

A remedy to really cure catarrh must be an internal remedy which will cleanse the blood from catarrhal poison and remove the fever and congestion from the mucous membrane.

The best and most modern remedies for this purpose are antiseptics scientifically known as Eucalyptol, Guaiacol, Sanguinaria and Hydrastin, and while each of these have been successfully used separately, yet it has been difficult to get them all combined in one palatable, convenient and efficient form.

The manufacturers of the new catarrh cure, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, have succeeded admirably in accomplishing this result. They are large, pleasant tasting lozenges, to be dissolved in the mouth, thus reaching every part of the mucous membrane of the throat and finally the stomach.

Unlike many catarrh remedies, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets contain no cocaine, opiate or any injurious drug whatever and are equally beneficial for little children and adults.

Mr. C. R. Rembrandt, of Rochester, N. Y., says: "I know of few people who have suffered as much as I from Catarrh of the head, throat and stomach. I used sprays, inhalers and powders for months at a time with only slight relief, and had no hope of cure. I had not the means to make a change of climate, which seemed my only chance of cure.

"Last spring I read an account of some remarkable cures made by Stuart's Catarrh Tablets and promptly bought a fifty cent box from my druggist and obtained such positive benefit from that one package that I continued to use them daily until I now consider myself entirely free from the disgusting annoyance of catarrh; my head is clear, my digestion all I could ask and my hearing, which had begun to fail as a result of the catarrh, has greatly improved until I feel I can hear as well as ever. They are a household necessity in my family."

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are sold by druggists at 50 cents for complete treatment and for convenience, safety and prompt results they are undoubtedly the long looked for catarrh cure.

Suing the Government.

Ottawa, Feb. 1.—George W. Carmack, the man who first struck gold in the Klondike, is here suing the Government for the return of about $20,000, which he claims the gold commissioner of the Yukon wrongfully collected from him as royalty on the output of his now famous claim, known as "Discovery," on Bonanza Creek. As a discoverer, Carmack was entitled under the mining laws to exemption, in defiance of which he says, the full royalty of ten per cent. was collected on his first season's output, of nearly a quarter of a million dollars.

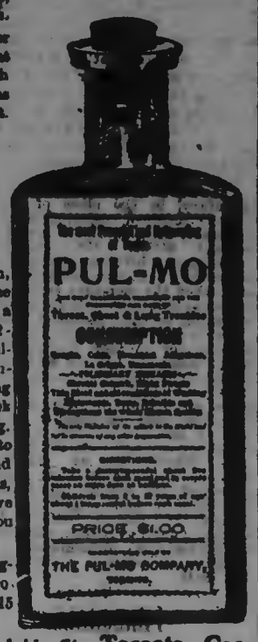
Consumption

A cure that cures Consumption and its many kindred ailments is now within the reach of every sufferer. PUL-MO was perfected after many years of study and experimenting by a well-known German scientist, and has effected more cures than any other preparation which has been offered to the public. PUL-MO, while somewhat new in Canada, has been and is curing thousands of cases, and we have on file many testimonials and kindly letters written us by grateful people who have been returned to perfect health.

PUL-MO is the only absolute cure where there is Consumption, Throat and Lung trouble, Coughs, Colds, La Grippe, Bronchitis, Night Sweats, Chills, Fevers, or any other symptoms which may indicate a tendency toward consumption. PUL-MO has cured thousands of cases which had been treated by physicians without success, and finally pronounced by them as hopeless.

PUL-MO stands alone—the use of any other medicine as an assistant is not necessary. Eat good plain nourishing food, get plenty of fresh air and out-door exercise, and use PUL-MO as directed, that is all—Nature will do the rest.

Large Sample FREE



We know positively that it does all we claim, and to demonstrate our implicit faith in the merits of PUL-MO, we will gladly mail a sample bottle free of charge, direct to your post-office address, securely sealed in a patent mailing tube or box; but as we have gone to considerable expense in securing these mailing tubes for the convenience of our patrons, we ask you to send 10 cents to cover the cost of mailing. Only one sample of PUL-MO will be sent to any one person. Give PUL-MO a trial and convince yourself that it cures. All we ask is, that you take it as directed. Remember, we pay the expense of the trial, it will cost you nothing.

PUL-MO is inexpensive, being sold by druggists at $1.00 per large bottle, or you may procure a sample bottle from your druggist at 15 cents.

MUST AFFORD PROTECTION.

C.P.R. Assessed in $6,500 Damages in the Blain Case.

Toronto, Feb. 1.—The trial of the action of T. J. Blain, the Brampton lawyer, against the Canadian Pacific Railway for damages for permanent injuries received by an assault by Frank Anthony on a train on Oct. 10 last was concluded a little after 8 o'clock last night, when the jury brought in a verdict finding that the company had been negligent, and assessing the damages at $3,500. The usual 30 days stay was granted.

His Lordship, Chief Justice Falconbridge, in his charge, told the jury that it is the right of the conductor of the train not only in the exercise of general authority, but with reference to the rules of the company to preserve order on the train, and, if necessary, to eject therefrom persons in a state of intoxication, riotous or disorderly persons or persons who are infringing the reasonable rules and regulations of the company. Such being the right of the conductor it is his duty to exercise it in reference to other passengers, because where there is a right to exercise a power, if he is called upon to exercise the right by persons entitled to the benefit of its exercise, then it becomes a duty, so that if one person sees a passenger making an attack on the other he may command the peace, without regard to the merits of the quarrel between the parties, the conductor may enforce order by such force as he deems necessary, even to the ejection of the unruly person. By doing that he decides nothing as to the merits of the quarrel between the parties. He is only responsible for the fair and careful discharge of the duty cast upon him.

Sore Throat and Hoarseness

With their attendant dangers, may be speedily averted and remedied by the use of Polson's Nerviline. Excellent to gargle with—ten times better than a mustard plaster and more convenient for the outside. Nerviline penetrates the tissues instantly, soothes the pain, allays the inflammation, and cures sore throat and hoarseness, simply because that is what it is made for. The large 25 cent bottle of Nerviline is unexcelled as a household remedy. It cures everything.

"Whereas the Privy Council has decided that the province has power to prohibit the liquor traffic and the province has on two occasions decided in favor of prohibition; resolved, that we call on the Government to fulfill its promise by placing on the statute books at this session of the Legislature a prohibitory law to the full extent of its jurisdiction."

The convention also passed a resolution condemning the referendum and a three-fifths vote was passed.

Germs, Germs.

We hear a great deal about them these days, and rightly too; for they are the direct cause of whooping-cough, diphtheria, scarlet fever and other diseases of childhood. When any of these are in the neighborhood, you should use Vapo-Cresolene. Every evening purify their sleeping rooms with this perfectly safe remedy. It is so easy to prevent the disease in this way. For whooping cough and croup, the doctors say it is a perfect specific. 13

Vapo-Cresolene is sold by druggists everywhere. A Vapo-Cresolene outfit, including the Vaporizer and Lamp, which should last a life-time, and a bottle of Cresolene, complete, $1.50; extra supplies of Cresolene 25 cents and 50 cents. Illustrated booklet containing physicians' testimonials free upon request. Vapo-Cresolene Co., 180 Fulton St., New York, U.S.A.

WAS BURIED YESTERDAY.

The Remains of the Late Mrs. S. J. Carver Interred in the Little Lake Cemetery.

The funeral took place yesterday afternoon from the residence of her son, Mr. S. D. Carver on the Gravel Road, of the late Mrs. S.J. Carver. The deceased was 90 years of age. Her maiden name was Jane Montgomery, a native of the County of Armagh, Ireland. She came to Canada in the early thirties, and afterwards married Mr. S. J. Carver, who had settled in Otonabee on a farm, or what promised to be a farm, near the location made by the late Capt. Chas Rubidge. Mr. Carver came to Canada in 1832, and made his home on the farm and kept house as a bachelor for some long years. He afterwards went to New York and returned to Peterborough. He married deceased in 1845, at that time being postmaster, having succeeded the late Mr. Sanford. Deceased leaves five sons, Mr. S. D. Carver and Mr. Casey Carver, of North Monaghan, Mr. H. H. Carver, of Caledonia, Mr. Hubert Carver, of Aresmo, Cal., and Mr. Edmund Carver, of DeSalle, Cal. One daughter died at the age of 16 years. The late Mrs. Carver had lived in the homestead, where she died, for over fifty years. Deceased was a member of the Methodist congregation, in town, from its first inception.

NEWS NUGGETS.

—Pineapples, either raw or cooked, are recommended to persons with weak throat.

—The Ladies' Aid of St. Andrew's church intend holding a concert on Feb. 13th. Further particulars later.

—Some people are very much troubled with heartburn, but if a piece of orange peel is dried and eaten it stops it directly.

—The Board of Directors of the Y. W.C.A. will meet on Monday afternoon, Feb. 3rd, at 3.30 o'clock. A full attendance of members is requested.

—Parisian dressmakers have at last come to the welcome conclusion that for the street nothing is fit except a skirt that escapes the ground.

—If anything boils over on the stove, and begins to smoke and cause an unpleasant odour, throw a handful of salt on it. This quite removes any objectionable smell.

—Water in which vegetables have been boiled should never be poured down a sink, for it causes a very lingering and disagreeable odour to permeate the whole house; such liquids are best thrown out upon the earth, where the smell will evaporate without being unpleasant.

—If a child shows a decided tendency to stoop keep him in the open air as much as possible, give him nourishing food, with plenty of milk, and as much milk as you please; also encourage him to do a few simple exercises to open and strengthen the chest. This treatment is as a rule much better than the wearing of braces and supports.

—The life of any stair carpet may be very much prolonged by moving the carpet up or down, so that the tread is changed, falling on a new place, and so giving the old one a respite. To do this successfully it is well when buying the carpet to purchase an extra yard. This will go either to the top or bottom, and its use will be very apparent when you want to change the place of tread.

PETERBOROUGH LABOR UNION.

Fifty-four Additional new Members Initiated Last Night.

Peterborough Federal Labour Union, No. 9240, is increasing its membership roll by leaps and bounds. At the regular meeting held on Friday evening fifty-four new members were installed. The greatest enthusiasm was manifested as man after man filed into the hall and stood in a double circle to affirm their allegiance to the principles of the Union.

The election of a new Financial Secretary, in the place of William Carter, resigned, resulted in the selection of A. Kingscotte for the important office. Mr. Kingscotte thanked the brethren for the confidence they had expressed towards him and asked the members to render his labours as light as possible by prompt attention to their financial standing.

The president drew attention to the election for Water Commissioners, which was to be held on Monday next. He thought that the matter was so important that the Union should express an opinion in regard thereto. He called upon a number of the members to give their views, which they did in a clear and unmistakable manner. There was no division of opinion, and the greatest harmony prevailed, the feeling being strongly in favour of endorsing the candidature of Mr. George Ball for Water Commissioner. Before adjourning a resolution was unanimously passed pledging the support of the Union to Mr. Ball.

DUTY OF THE HOUR.

Selection of Suitable Men to Conduct the Management of the Waterworks System.

On Monday the ratepayers will be called upon to select two water commissioners to take charge of the management of the waterworks, which the town formally paid for yesterday. It is of the greatest importance to every ratepayer, that the management be conservative, economical and conducted on well defined lines, and not subject to the whim and sentiment that is sometimes created in favour of something which should really not be done in the public interest. Men of well balanced minds and good judgement, should be selected as Commissioners, as, upon these will depend, to a very large extent, the success or failure of municipal ownership in Peterborough. The Examiner did not advocate the taking over of the waterworks by the town, nor did we oppose it. We placed the arguments as far as we could before the people, giving both sides of the question. By a considerable majority, though on a small vote, the town decided to take over the system, and on the selection of the men to manage it, will depend entirely the future success or failure of the question of municipal management. It is not a question of sentiment, but a question of pure business, in which the ratepayers are asked to select prudent, careful managers, and we hope that the selection will be such as to show that no mistake has been made.

Many people voted for the bylaw in some doubt as to the wisdom of the course they were pursuing. Some voted against the bylaw, not as opposed to municipal ownership, but lacking confidence in the interest that would be taken by the people in the election of suitable men. Now, however both those who voted for or against the purchase should see to it that the best men are elected. It is a pure question of business—let it be decided on business principles.

The candidates in the field are,

GEORGE BALL, Tailor.
JOHN E. BELCHER, Civil Engineer.
ADAM DAWSON, Contractor.
WILLIAM MIDDLETON FAIR, Bailiff.
WILLIAM H. HILL, Insurance Agent.

AN IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

One of the most, if not the most important discovery in modern medicine is that of the peculiar combination of remedies used in Grip Quinine Tablets. Quinine has been in common use for almost a century as a cure for chills, fever and colds. The unpleasant after effects of Quinine, when taken alone, have heretofore debarred many from its use.

After years of experiment and study the proprietors of Grip Quinine Tablets perfected a combination of remedies that, while retaining all the merits of pure Quinine as a means of breaking up colds, add to it healing properties that soothe the irritated membranes and that also act as a tonic to the system.

Every cold one gets weakens the system and leaves it more susceptible to other colds.

When you catch a cold take a Grip Quinine Tablet every two or three hours until the cold is broken up. After the Grip, Fever or Cold is broken, take one tablet, two or three times a day until perfectly well. They first drive out the cold, then heal the sore and inflamed membrane and finally, by their action on the blood so strengthen the general system as to prevent disease of all kinds from getting a foothold.

The Genuine Grip Quinine Tablets are sold in nearly every town and village in Canada, at 25 cents per box, or may be ordered by mail from the manufacturers, The Canada Grip Quinine Company, Brockville, Ont. No one can afford to be without them. A stitch in time saves nine and a Grip Quinine Tablet may save you days of suffering.

Municipal Election.

When the municipal nominations took place in Millbrook on the first Monday in Jan., there were five candidates nominated for the office of councillor. Two of these withdrew their nomination leaving three councillors elected by acclamation, or one less than the required number. An election was held on Thursday to fill the vacancy on the council board and the candidates were Messrs. John C. Kells, general merchant, and Wm. Thexton, lumber merchant. The contest was very keen and excited much interest. Mr. Kells was elected by 74 of a majority.

Loss of Flesh.

If you find yourself falling below normal weight there is danger. The use of fish oils can't temporarily add fat, but will never build up healthy tissue. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food acts through the blood and nervous system and carries new life and energy to every nook and corner of the body. It regulates the various organs of the body, makes the appetite good, adds healthy flesh and replaces the tissues wasted by disease. Gradually and naturally this food cure restores colour to the cheeks, increases the weight of the body, and thoroughly overcomes disease.

For whooping cough and croup, Vapo-Cresolene is a simple and perfect remedy.

RE THE COMMISSIONERS.

To the Editor of the Examiner,—

Sir,—In view of the fact that we are on the eve of the election for town commissioner, I would like to say a word on behalf of a man who is put forward not as a representative of any one class or interest, but of them all. I refer to Mr. Belcher. Some, I understand, are running as the candidates of either the financial, the waterworks or working men's interest, but Mr. Belcher, as his requisition shows, has been put forward as a representative of the citizens in general. He is a kindly gentleman, who is accessible to any man at any time, and highly thought of by his professional brethren, who have elected him to the highest positions. I hope he will be elected.

BANQUETTED AT LAKEFIELD.

The Cement Company President and Directors Entertained Last Night.

CITIZENS OF LAKEFIELD AS HOSTS.

Celebration of the completion of Lakefield Portland Cement Works—Congratulations Exchanged—Toasts, Songs, and Speeches.

"Live Lakefield" abundantly earned this title last night, for nothing could be more successful nor fuller of life, go and spirit, than the complimentary banquet tendered by the citizens to the President and Directors of the Lakefield Portland Cement Company to signalize the completion of the works, their beginning operations and also the mutually satisfactory carrying out by the Company of its agreement in virtue of which the village granted the Company a bonus and other privileges. Lakefield showed faith in the Company and in the feasibility of the cement-making industry by carrying the bylaw to give the Company a bonus of $10,000 and a free site of 13 or 14 acres, by the practically unanimous vote of the ratepayers — only one man voting against the bylaw and it was afterwards learned that he had done so by mistake, which he has long since found out; for Lakefield has now the best and most modern cement works on the continent, and the amount of the bonus has even before the works went into operation been recouped nearly ten times over for the generous encouragement of the Company, for, as Mr. Casement said during the evening, there had been paid out in wages in the course of construction the large sum of $80,000, not to speak of the supplies furnished and the other advantages to the village from large building construction. History repeats itself. The cement industry which had for centuries flourished on the banks of the Tiber—as evidenced by the existence still in good conditions in Rome of buildings put together with cement—and had largely fallen into comparative disuse, has revived in these later years and now we have a counterpart of the Roman industry on the banks of the Otonabee.

THE BANQUET.

The celebration of this latter event was marked by the banquet of last night to the President and Directors of the Lakefield Cement Company and, if the future of the Company shall correspond to the auspicious nature of the send-off it received last night, there can be no doubt of its long continued prosperity.

The guests of the evening were Messrs. J. M. Kilbourn, President, M. R. P. Butchart, Owen Sound, Vice-President; E. Bravender, Syracuse, N. Y., and H. P. Smith, Directors, and J. R. Kilbourn, Secretary-Treasurer.

The Craig House was the scene of the banquet, and the genial host excelled himself as a high-class caterer. The spacious dining hall was splendidly decorated for the occasion with flags, flowers and mottoes, among which were displayed "God Save the King," "Eat, Drink and be Merry"—an injunction which was fully followed—"We Welcome our Guests," "Ontario Forever" and "Health and Prosperity to all." The decorations looked as if they had been done by the Turners, for though no inquiry was made on this point they looked good enough to be their handiwork. The table was beautifully laid and the splendid bill of fare well served, was thoroughly enjoyed. The chair was occupied by Mr. John Hull, and the vice-chairs by Dr. J. R. Fraser and Mr. R. C. Strickland. On the right of the chairman was Mr. J. M. Kilbourn, President, and Messrs. R. P. Butchart, Vice-President and Mr. E. Bravender, Director. On his left were Hon. J. R. Stratton, Mayor Denne and Police Magistrate Dumble.

Peterborough was represented by Hon. J. R. Stratton, Mayor Denne, Adam Hall, R. R. Hall, D. W. Dumble President of the Board of Trade, W. G. Ferguson, W. H. Meldrum, and R. B. Rogers, C.E.

THE LAKEFIELD HOSTS.

Among the residents of Lakefield present were the following: Messrs. John Hull, J. P. Strickland, J. R. Fraser, M.D., A. Northey, R. C. Strickland, W. M. Graham, T. H. Benson, Wesley Sherin, W. H. Casement, J. H. McWilliams, C. D. Crawford, A. J. Kidd, L. Payne, A. Jory, W. Calder, J. F. Moore, Dr. D. Fraser, F. R. S. Barlee, F. J. Lillicrap, J. W. Ridpath, F. M. Delafosse, W. A. Evans, J. H. Sherin, C. S. Tanner, J. G. Kelly, W. J. Baptie, E. A. Tanner, Geo. Baptie, J. J. Crowe, Dummer, J. L. Madill, J. S. Madill, J. W. Stewart, O. A. Langley, B.C.L., G. B. Hillierd, J. E. Richardson, C. Young, W. E. Brooks, Young's Point, W. F. Trude, Fred McWilliams, George Hendren, A. E. McGinnis.

THE TOAST LIST.

Before entering upon the toast list it might be remarked that splendid enthusiasm and spontaneity, marked the subsequent proceedings. The toasts were all heartily honoured, but the impromptu vocal comments upon the speakers was a highly humourous feature and heightened the hilarity of the occasion.

The first toast was "The King," drunk with royal honours, and true Canadian enthusiasm, with "God Save the King."

The next toast was "The Parliament of Canada and the Legislature of Ontario."

Hon. J. R. Stratton, on rising to respond, was most heartily applauded. He regretted that the genial member for West Peterborough in the Commons was unavoidably absent. Referring to the toast, Mr. Stratton paid a tribute to Canada's excellent form of Government. The importance of the Legislature was emphasized, and also that of the province of Ontario, equal in extent of area to many an empire, and superior to almost any in the extent and variety of its resources. He was glad to be present on account of the occasion of the gathering — to tender a richly-deserved banquet to the President and directors of the Lakefield Portland Cement Company on the completion of the enterprise. He hoped the occasion would tend to cement permanent and profitable relations between the company and the citizens. The new industry was important to Lakefield, to both business and also labouring classes. Mr. Stratton went on to remark that perhaps nothing had made a greater revolution in certain manufacturing and building lines than the largely increased modern uses to which cement had been subjected. This fact had a bearing upon the one great need of Older Ontario, which was local manufacturing industries. We had reached a point, as regards farming, where the farms had become too small. Our farms were not large enough to subdivide and therefore farmer's sons, when they grow up, must seek pastures new either in the Northwest or in Northern Ontario.

We therefore needed manufacturing industries other than those confined to towns and cities to give employment. But within the past few years the cement industry had arisen, and had furnished to the places in which the factories were situated a desirable kind of employment—giving a local industry, which would not only afford local employment but furnish farmers in the vicinity with a local market and an encouragement to diversity of product. Therefore Lakefield and vicinity were to be congratulated upon the establishment of the Lakefield Portland Cement Company, and Mr. Kilborne and the directors associated with the business for their far sightedness in selecting so excellent a vicinity in which to establish this important industry. (Applause.) All the more important because it turned into a form of wealth, natural resources which, in their natural condition, worse than worthless—blots on the landscape of a beautiful country. When one came to think of the matter it was a great achievement to turn into a bank account hundreds of acres of stagnant marsh which have for ages been the home of the bull-frog and malaria—to replace these with an article of commerce which would in its production, give large employment to labour and capital and stir into new life numerous other commercial and manufacturing activities, of a permanent character. (Applause.) For Mr. Kilborne was to be congratulated upon the fact that the product of his works would meet with a large and increasing demand. There appeared to be no end to the uses to which cement could be put; we had at hand an example of the demand which modern modes of building construction had created. Perhaps the Trent Valley Canal was the pioneer in new uses—to a large extent—for cement. We had our locks, dams and bridge piers built up with concrete, in which cement was the essential factor. We had the only lift lock on this continent, and the largest in the world, owing existence to cement. Cement for street pavements or sidewalks was becoming the universal material. The town of Peterborough had laid several miles of granolithic pavement, and he believed it was the policy of the Council to replace all wooden walks requiring reconstruction, with cement walks. The day of the wooden sidewalk was past in Peterborough, and in the cities and towns of the country, and, of course, Lakefield, with the raw material at her very door, would fall into line. Perhaps the Lakefield Portland Cement Company, with their well-known enterprise might take a fancy to advertise their cement by laying down a few miles of sidewalk in Lakefield to test and prove its quality. (Laughter.) The uses of cement went much further. It would be largely employed on harbour works, foundation walks, floors, stables, and in general structural work, and for a hundred purposes, cement was proving its value. And the market would be unlimited, for Canada has just entered in earnest on a new stage of development, and we need not fear overproduction when we saw the immense quantitities used by other countries. The United States produced about eight and a half million barrels last year; Great Britain manufactures about eighteen million barrels a year, and Germany a similar amount. In 1891, ten years ago, the total production of the United States was only 454,813 barrels, as against eight and a million barrels last year—a 20-fold increase in ten years. Besides this the United States imported in 1900, 2,988,318 barrels, and their total consumption of cement in 1900 was 10,728,764 barrels. It would thus be seen that the use of cement was growing by leaps and bounds, and there was no probability of a decrease in demand. We should not know the exact amount produced in Ontario until the industrial branch of the census returns were compiled, but from the latest available figures, the production of cement in this province was in 1900 432,154 barrels, (nearly the total output of the United States ten years ago), of the value of $698,915 and, to show the growth of the industry in this province and in this country, these figures were an increase over the year 1899 of 70,117 barrels in quantity, and $136,749 in value. As indicating the value of the presence of such works in the vicinity in which they were situated, Mr. Stratton mentioned that the $698,000 dollars worth of cement produced in 1900, required the payment of $198,903 in wages alone, a sum which would be spent in the neighbourhood, and contributed to the comfort and prosperity of the community. The number of employees in the cement works in Ontario in 1899, was 510, and the amount of wages $163,286. In 1900 there were 635 workmen employed, receiving $198,903 in wages. (Applause.) And besides we imported almost as much as we made. Cement to the value of $520,593 was imported in 1900. Attention was called to the manner in which the preferential tariff had increased our imports from Great Britain In 1900 the quantity imported from Great Britain was almost twice as great as in 1899 while the imports from Belgium fell off nearly one-half, and the imports from Germany and the United States was largely decreased. (Applause.) And capital had faith in the future of the industry. In 1900 we had nine cement factories; now we had several important additions, including the splendid works of the Lakefield Portland Cement Company, to which he (Mr. Stratton) wished every success, as he felt would be the case if the same enterprise and pluck shown by Mr. Kilbourn, and his associates, in originating and establishing this important industry were, were, as he was sure they would be, applied to its operation in the village of Lakefield. During a visit to Northwest Ontario, he noticed in the building of the Northern Railway, cement had been used for the foundations of station buildings and round houses, and with the development of that country a big market for cement would be opened. He believed it was to the best interests of Canada to have all her raw materials manufactured at home. The Canadian Government had made honest attempts to secure larger trade relations with the United States. It was not our fault that we had not succeeded, and now proposals for improved trade relations must come from our neighbours. (Applause.) He believed in the Dominion Government adopting the policy of the Ontario Government and manufacturing all our natural products in the province and taking such steps as would bring about such a result. Mr. Stratton said he was glad to be a guest of the people of Lakefield. He congratulated them on the completion of a good bargain and was sure neither the village nor the company would regret it. He hoped Mr. Kilbourn would become a citizen of Lakefield, where his enterprise and energy would be in good company. Mr. Stratton hoped to see the dams on the river developed. His policy on this subject was that the first bona fide applicant should have a chance. The Government should place no obstacle in the way of the development of the power capable of being furnished by these dams. It would be a benefit to both Peterborough and Lakefield.

THE TOAST OF TOASTS.

Mr. Hull, in proposing "Our Guests," which was drunk with tremendous enthusiasm, said that the council had believed in the energy and enterprise of Mr. Kilbourn and the directors of the company. He was in the council when the bargain was made. It was a good careful bargain, and every elector but one voted for the bylaw, and that one found out afterwards that he had voted by mistake. (Laughter.) Lakefield had found Mr. Kilbourn an honourable man in every respect. (Applause.) He had faithfully carried out his bargain with the council and the buildings erected showed that he would carry out their terms as much as he had agreed to do.

Mr. Kilbourn on rising to respond, was received with tremendous cheering, and "He's a Jolly Good Fellow." He returned his thanks for the hearty reception of the toast and for the splendid way Lakefield had taken to show its appreciation of his and the company's efforts to carry out their bargain. He thanked the gentlemen from a distance, and his thanks were also due the press which had stood by his enterprise all through. If what he had seen of Lakefield was a sample, he would be glad to follow Hon. Mr. Stratton's suggestion that he become a citizen of the village. (Applause.) Four years ago he had came to Lakefield and was struck with its great water power privileges, as good as any in the country. (Applause.) He had met Mr. Dumble an old college mate, who had an interest in the marl deposit in Buckley Lake. He investigated and found the deposit suitable for making cement—he came, he saw, and now they had the result. (Applause.) After a little search he had found clay suitable for cement-making purposes. He had in the beginning arranged for power at Lock No. 2, and intended to erect the works there, but considering other advantages, though the erection of the works in Lakefield would cost $30,000 or $40,000 more, Lakefield had been chosen as the site of the works. (Applause.) Mr. Kilbourn spoke in high terms of commendation of the citizens of Lakefield. They met the Company fairly, and a bargain was effected, and he undertook the construction of a 200 barrel factory. A company was formed and success had followed, because he had capital and (pointing to his fellow directors) brains behind him. (Applause.) The Company did not intend to stop at a 200 barrel factory. They had built with a view of an output of 900 barrels. (Applause.) Provision in building had been made for this increase. The mart they had secured was abundant. He had been influenced in the choice of a site by the fact of the proximity of the Trent Valley Canal—a navigation stretch of 200 miles, giving access to the north to all the Georgian Bay and northern lake ports and on the south to the southern lake ports. It was double the capacity of the Erie Canal and he (Mr. Kilbourn) had recognized the benefit of the Canal as a factor in the successful and more profitable prosecution of his industry. It would give cheaper freights than the railways. As things were now the railway would be the chief partner in the company, as represented by what it would realize in freights till the canal was completed. In view of the proximity of the canal provision had been made for the enlargement of the plant, and works of the company. (Applause.) They had been making cement three weeks, and though there was not sufficient time to make exhaustive tests, he believed that the company was making, and could, and would, make as good cement as was made in or imported into Canada. (Applause.) It had sustained a very high tensile test, of a most satisfactory character, and he was satisfied that when time permitted of a test covering thirty days, they would astonish the natives. (Applause.) As to the site for the works, they could not have a better one. Fourteen inches below the surface they had found rock level as a floor, so that their buildings were literally founded upon a rock. (Applause.) The company had found great help in their undertaking from the people of Lakefield. In all his considerable experience he had never found a higher class of labourers and mechanics than he had found in Lakefield. The village seemed to have what he wanted. He required a skilled diver in the construction of his power work, and he found an ideal man in an hour, and he had given splendid service. He had been fortunate in finding good mechanics. Mr McGinnis had installed the machinery in an ideal manner—it had started at the pressure of the button, and ran like clock work. (Applause.) The company had procured its water power machinery from the William Hamilton Company of Peterborough, and the result had been perfectly satisfactory. It was good honest work up to the word of the company. It had no superior for completeness, solidity and general excellence from top to bottom. (Applause.) Though they had had applications for electric supplies from all quarters; the Can-

HOCKEY.

Cobourg won from the Peterborough Colts last night in the Junior Series on the local ice by the score of seven goals to three. The visitors had the advantage of superior weight and experience, and also excelled in combination work, while the Colts seemed to be faster on their skates, but through trying to depend too much on individual play could not retain possession of the puck. Although they were outclassed by their opponents, Colts out out a pace of the fastest variety, and kept it up to the finish. In consequence of their dashy style and clever stick work they justify the assertion that next year they will be a dangerous factor in the race for the Junior pennant, as a trifle more experience is all that they seem to need. In the matter of following up, they set an example which even the Intermediates might profit by. Davidson in goal, and Parker on the forward line, did exceptionally good work during the evening, the former doing some very brilliant work, particularly in the first half.

The Cobourgs played a well-deserved compliment to Ernie Wasson by requesting his services as referee. There wasn't a semblance of a kick from either team on any of his decisions.

The opposing teams were composed appended;

Cobourg — Goal, McKenney; point, Niles; cover point, Clarke Dennis; forwards, McCallum, McKenney, Bentley and Brown.

Peterborough — Goal, Rob. Davidson; point, Innes Hamilton; cover point, Lee; forwards, Kennedy, McGrath, Parker and Cameron.

Umpires — J. Davidson, Cobourg; and H. R. H. Kenner, Peterborough.

Timekeepers—E. B. Roberts, Cobourg, and Jos. McCabe, Peterborough

There was a rush on the Peterborough goal from the face off of the puck but Davidson made a clever stop and relief. Both goals were threatened alternately and Cameron relieved the tension by scoring the first game for Peterborough. Time, 7 minutes.

Lee did some nice work in making good rushes in the next game, but Cobourg's combination outwitted the Peterborough defence and Bentley scored in 4 minutes.

The next game also went Cobourg's way, McCallum doing the trick by a long life from centre ice. Time 10 minutes.

In the second half McKinnon increased Cobourg's lead to two goals by a neat shot from the side. The next game seemed to be all Peterborough's way, but none of the many shots on goal seemed to find the right place and McKinnon finally notched another point for Cobourg. Score 4-1.

Bentley scored another out of a scrimmage and the score stood 5-1. It was only about a minute before Bentley took the puck again and skated quietly in and scored another, the Peterborough men being of the opinion that the puck wasn't in play on account of the offside work. The goal counted all the same and the score was 6-1.

Kennedy then gave the crowd a chance to cheer by scoring one for Peterborough, but the visitor's stock continued to boom by reason of Bentley tallying again in two minutes.

The last game was ended by Parker making a brilliant rush up the ice and scoring.

The regular practice of the team will be resumed at once. No one is aware of the value it is to a player to be in condition, better than the player himself, and in order to do, themselves justice the team is asked to attend practices regularly.

MR. BRADBURN WITHDRAWS.

To the Ratepayers of the Town of Peterborough,—

Ladies and Gentlemen, — Upon returning home last night, after an absence from town since Monday morning last, I found my name had been placed in nomination as a candidate for Water Commissioner. As a citizen largely interested in property in the town, I am vitally concerned in the election of these commissioners, and feel the importance of good men of business experience being selected, and I would willingly serve the citizens if they so desired. But as I have been out of town and the campaign has been well inaugurated in my absence, I feel that I would not be doing justice to myself or my friends if I remained in the field under the circumstances. Besides in the candidates nominated there are gentlemen of ability and capacity to fill the position and give the town excellent service. Therefore, I desire to take this earliest opportunity to withdraw my name as a candidate, and while my name will appear on the ballot paper, I ask all my friends and the citizens generally to refrain from voting for me.

Thanking my proposer and seconder, and the many who have thus so generously offered me their support, I remain,

Yours respectfully,

T. E. BRADBURN.

YOUR VOTE

And Influence is respectfully solicited by

T.F. MATTHEWS

Candidate for the Office of

WATER COMMISSIONER

CARD TO ELECTORS.

To the Electors of the Town of Peterborough;

Ladies and Gentlemen,—Having been urged by the numerous friends of Municipal Ownership to allow myself to be placed in nomination for one of the Water Commissioners, I have consented to be a Candidate. The grounds upon which they urge my election are, amongst others, that I am really the father of Municipal Ownership in this town, and have consistently fought the battle therefor throughout, and that at its incipient or experimental stage, such a one should be given the first opportunity to prove the feasibility of the scheme. They further urge that my record has been pure from all cliques and other corrupting influences, and that I will stand up fearlessly for the rights of all alike, without fear, favour or affection. It is needless to say that if elected I will do my utmost to carry out the most sanguine expectations of my numerous friends and water consumers generally. Respectfully asking you one and all for your vote and influence, I am, ladies and gentlemen,

Your Obedient Servant,

GEORGE BALL.

CARD TO ELECTORS.

To the Ratepayers of the Town of Peterborough,—

Ladies and Gentlemen, — Having been nominated for the position of Water Commissioner for the ensuing term, I have consented to place my services at the disposal of the town, if it is the wish of the ratepayers that I should do so.

As a director of the Peterborough Water Company for the past six years I may claim to have a pretty thorough knowledge of the system and methods which have placed the company on a sound financial basis. The experience thus gained, wil I believe, enable me to discharge the duties of the office to your satisfaction. It is not my intention to canvass for votes, but if elected will cheerfully devote my best energies to making the system serve the best interests of the municipality.

LINEMAN FATALLY SHOCKED.

Body Hung For Fifteen Minutes Over Spark Strike, Ottawa.

Ottawa, Jan. 31.—In full view of hundreds of citizens on Sparks St. yesterday afternoon, the lifeless body of James Osmonde, a lineman of the Ottawa Electric Company, dangled from the wires on a pole 60 feet from the ground. He had been doing repair work, which necessitated the cutting of a live wire. He incautiously grasped the wire with his hand, and received a shock of over 3,000 volts, which killed him instantly. His hands were burned to a crisp. The fingers fell to the sidewalk. It was fully a quarter of an hour after the man's death when the body was taken down. Osmonde was 38 years old, and leaves a wife, but no children. He had been a lineman for eight years, and belonged to the Salvation Army.

COLLINGWOOD DRY DOCK.

Percentage of Assistance Payable by Government Settled Thursday Morning.

Ottawa, Jan. 31.—Mr. J. T. Long of Collingwood had an interview with Hon. J. Israel Tarte yesterday morning, when the agreement determining the percentage of assistance payable by the Government to the Collingwood Dry-dock Company for the construction of new dry-docks, in accordance with the terms of the Parliamentary appropriation, was signed. The Collingwood dry-dock is to be one of the largest and most important on the lakes, and will accommodate steamers of the heaviest tonnage ever yet floated, on either the Canadian or American side. It will be 530 feet in length by 78 feet in width, and will be completed by the spring of 1903.

Eczema's Itch Is Torture.

The Most Exasperating of all Skin Diseases—The Most Difficult to Cure—Dr. Chase's Ointment Proven to be an Effective Treatment.

Eczema's itch is torture, the skin seems on fire with the burning, stinging humour; at times it becomes almost unbearable, and in desperation you could tear the skin to pieces. You dare not exercise for fear of aggravating the itching, neither can you sleep, for no sooner does the body become warm than the trouble begins and instead of restful, refreshing, sleep, it is scratch, scratch, scratch, all night long. There is scarcely a moment's respite from this maddening malady at any time. Of course, you have tried nearly all the washes, salves, lotions and medicated soaps, but, like thousands of others, have been disappointed and disgusted.

Mrs. Ann McDonald, Kingsville, Ont., states: "For about three years I was a dreadful sufferer from Eczema. At times the patches of raw, flaming flesh would extend from my waist to my neck, and from the knees to the ankles. The intense itching almost drove me crazy, and though I tried all the local physicians, they could not even relieve the suffering. The flesh would crack open, and I do not believe that anyone ever suffered more than I did.

"I was told of Dr. Chase's Ointment, but did not believe that it could help me. After the fifth application of this preparation I began to feel the benefit of its soothing, healing effects, and now attribute a cure to the persistent use of this wonderful remedy. It is truly worth its weight in gold, and I never tire of recommending it to other sufferers."

You may be skeptical regarding the ability of Dr. Chase's Ointment to cure you. Most people are, after trying in vain to get relief from a host of remedies, but Dr. Chase's Ointment will not disappoint you. You will be surprised at the marvellous control which it has over all itching, burning inflammations of the skin, and the wonderful healing powers which it possesses. It takes time to thoroughly cure Eczema, but Dr. Chase's Ointment will do it. You will find relief after a few applications, and gradually, and naturally, the cure will follow. Besides being a positive cure for Eczema, Dr. Chase's Ointment comes useful in a hundred ways in every home for every form of skin irritation and eruption, chapped skin and chilblains. 60 cents a box at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. 7

Safeguards on Immigration.

London, Jan. 31.—After a discussion in the House of Commons yesterday on the evils of unrestricted alien immigration, the president of the Board of Trade, Gerald Balfour, promised the appointment of a commission of inquiry, with a view to the introduction of drastic legislation necessary affectively to deal with the acknowledged evils.

TAPS FROM THE WIRES.

Gilbert Parker, M.P., sailed for London Thursday.

At Washington the House on Thursday passed the bill for the creation of a permanent census bureau.

P. B. Holcomb, a ropeman, was killed Thursday afternoon in the main shaft of the War Eagle Mine at Rossland, B. C.

At Waterville, Que., fire broke out Thursday morning in the iron bedsteads and spring factory belonging to George Gale & Sons, and within an hour all was in ruins. The loss is estimated to be $100,000, and 125 employes are thrown out of work.

NEARLY STARVED TO DEATH.

A Nova Scotia Lady has a Terrible Experience—For Nine Long Years it Lasted.

Mrs. James Bradley, of Smith's Cove, Digby Co., N. S., relates a most interesting story of starvation and suffering which she has been called on to endure for the last nine years. She had dyspepsia and was treated by all the best doctors within her reach but without receiving any benefit, indeed without securing even the the slightest relief from the pain and distress which tortured her.

Her only escape from the pain of Dyspepsia was found in a starvation system of dieting which reduced her bodily strength till she was as weak as a child. She says:

"No tongue can tell what I have suffered. I cannot describe it. I had to starve myself, and had given up all hope of ever having anything to help me."

She saw an advertisement of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and commenced a treatment of this remedy with the result that she was relieved almost immediately. Encouraged by this she continued till she had used nearly six boxes. She is completely cured and says:

"I am thankful to be able to say that I am altogether cured. I can eat anything I fancy without the slightest fear of distress or pain afterwards, and can sleep comfortably, something I never expected to to be able to do again in this world. It was a wonderful cure, and I advise all who suffer as I did to use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets for they are the best remedy ever discovered in the world. I wish I could tell every Dyspeptic sufferer what Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets have done for me."

The Test of Greatness.

When Elliston went from London to his own theatre at Birmingham, he was known to scarcely a member of his own company. On reprimanding one of them sharply the irate actor threatened to kick him off the stage. He rushed to the stage manager and asked who that man was.

"Mr. A——," said the manager.

"A great man, a very great man," said Elliston. "He threatened to kick me, the lessee of Drury Lane. Such a man as that must go to London. He mustn't waste his energies here." And he engaged the actor on the spot for Drury Lane.

Too Much Fiction.

"I say, is this the novel you advised me to read?" said the cabman to the librarian.

"Yes," replied the librarian; "that's the one."

"Well," said the cabman, "you can just take it back. There's nine people in the first four chapters who hired cabs, and each one of 'em 'shot' he got out 'flung his purse to the driver.' Now, when I want that sort of literature, I'll go to Jules Verne and get it pure."

Your Nerves are Weak.

You sleep badly, appetite variable. You eat, but gain no strength. Morning tiredness makes you wish it were night. When night comes refreshing sleep is hard to obtain. You're run down, your blood is thin and watery; your nerves have become weak, the thought of effort wearies you. You need Ferrozone; it makes blood—red, strong blood. An appetite? You'll eat everything, and digest it too. Strength? That's what plenty of food gives. Ferrozone gives hope, vigour, vim and endurance. Use Ferrozone and get strong. Sold by Ormond & Walsh.

Leather Eating Ants.

It is said that in Rhodesia white ants destroy boots and articles of clothing left on tables or hanging on nails. The following is from a letter received recently from South Africa: "On awaking in the morning you are astonished to see a cone shaped object on the brick floor a short distance from your bed with two holes at the top. On closer examination you discover that the holes have just the size and shape of the inside of your boots, which you incautiously left on the floor the night before. They have given form and proportion to an ant heap, and nothing is left of them except the nails, eyelets and maybe part of the heels."

A Lucky Gold Strike.

The delight of a man who finds gold in his claim does not equal the delight of a bed ridden invalid who finds in Merrill's System Tonic a restoration to health and strength. This he is sure to do, for this wonderful remedy has never been known to fail. It is a scientific remedy and cures nerve and kidney diseases by removing the cause. Ormond & Walsh sell it at 50c per bottle.

Miller's Grip Powders Cure. Sold by W. Medill.

British History of Natal.

On January 8, 1806, Cape Colony came under the authority of Britain, and has remained so ever since, though the final and formal act of cession by the King of the Netherlands, was delayed until 1815. As thus defined, the colony consisted of 120,000 square miles of territory, inhabited by a population of about 60,000. The series of events which thus ended in British possession may be said to have begun in 1795 when the Dutch colonists, catching the revolutionary fever, which then prevailed in Europe, became restive under the yoke of Holland and revolted. The British sent a fleet to the support of the Prince of Orange, but as Holland was manifestly unable to maintain her restored authority, the colony remained practically under English rule until the Peace of Amiens in 1802. The continued instability of the Dutch rule in 1806 led to the second occupation by Sir David Baird, with the result, as stated, that the Cape has since remained one of the premier colonies of the British Empire.

Good Shipbuilding Year.

According to a London correspondent last year was a good shipbuilding year in G. at Britain, but there has been a noteworthy diminution in the number of warships built for foreign powers. The vessels included in this year's return are principally for Japan, and at the present moment there are practically no large ships building for foreign navies. The falling off in orders is attributed to political considerations.

Drugging Will not Cure Catarrh.

This loathsome disease is caused by germs that invade the air passages of the head, throat and lungs, and can be cured only by inhalation of medicated air. Stomach medicines, atomisers, snuffs are ineffectual, because they fail to reach the cause of the trouble. Catarrhozone is successful because it is inhaled to every part of the breathing organs, and has power to kill the germ, heals the inflamed tissues an dprevents droppings in the throat. Catarrhozone treats more than one thousand square feet of the mucous surface with every breath taken through the inhaler, and affords instant relief. It perfectly cures Catarrh, Asthma, and Bronchitis. Sold by druggists. Two months' treatment, Price $1.00. Small size 25 cts., or by mail from Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

Grandma's Cure For Dandruff.

"We often scoff at the ancient grandmother remedies," said a physician the other day in conversation with a patient, "but our forefathers used to find a power of comfort from them nevertheless, and cheaply too. Science has progressed wonderfully, of course, and we are much better off on the whole now than were our sires, but we forget a great many of the little things. Now, I notice that you are troubled with dandruff, and I'll wager that you have spent many dollars on different alleged cures, and you are worse off now than when you commenced. Let me give you a 'grandmother' prescription that never fails. Go to a drug store and buy 5 cents' worth of salts of tartar. Dissolve half of it in warm water and wash the head thoroughly. Repeat this at intervals of three months for a year, and you won't be annoyed with dandruff any more."

THE PASSING OF MR. and MRS. JOSEPH BRUDER

By Henry Irving Dodge.

Copyright, 1901, By Henry Irving Dodge.

"Big Four" pulled into Beaver Meadows on the Rome-Watertown division, and Joseph Bruder and his wife got down from the passenger coach that was standing behind six "flats" of rails. Bruder was six feet four and broad, and his wife was five feet and narrow. Bruder carried a huge valise that cost a dollar and had done service, also an ax. Mrs. Bruder wore mitts and a plaintive, piquant smile. In her eyes there was a standing apology for the disparity in their sizes. This seemed to be a sore point with the little woman, for she was ever on the alert for the quizzing glances of strangers, and if one should stand apart and glance at the odd couple he was sure to have his gaze arrested by a plaintive glance from the woman which said as plainly as speech, "Please don't make fun of us."

But the man never bothered his head about what other folks thought. He was a woodchopper, and that's all he knew or cared. Next to his wife he loved his ax, and it used to be his pride that he could put a keen enough edge on it to shave with. He used to lay his cheek fondly against the purple blade and pat it and call it his darling. And the ax seemed to understand him, for it would bark with quick delight when his giant arms swung it aloft and bit the sleigh fair into the point where the tempered steel joined the ashen shaft.

When Bruder got off the train, he looked, giving in a sort of inquisitive, defiant way and put his hand clumsily around his wife and drew her shoulder over against his thigh. There was no one at the depot but the agent, a veteran in the business, the tenure of whose position was due to five toes that he had years before contributed to the annual list of accidents on the road. Smith had heard that Bruder was coming to take the place of one of the striking woodchoppers, and it filled him with grave concern. Almost all of his relatives belonged to the strikers, and his sympathies were deeply with them. On the other hand, it fell to his lot to show ostentatious loyalty to the company. Beaver Meadows was the chief "woodin' up" point of the road. For miles the contiguous country yielded nothing from its stubborn soil save stunted beech and knotted maple.

The president of the company that supplied the railroad with wood was Smith's backer. A nod from him would have dislodged that worthy from the comfortable niche that afforded him a comfortable living. So Smith was between the devil and the deep sea. His heart was with the strikers, his interest with the company. That's why his usually placid mind was filled with perturbation when he beheld the lumbering form of Joseph Bruder and the diminutive wife alight from the caboose of Big Four.

Bruder had an arm as long as his wife's tongue and could fell at a blow either kind of jackass, human or brute. Mrs. Bruder was the brains of the outfit. She took charge of the money, when there was any, allowing Joseph only enough for tobacco. Otherwise he was a teetotaler. On the whole, this strange couple was deemed a combination to be avoided. No one ever knew where they came from. On that score Bruder himself was silent, with a persistency that defied all the subtle indirectness of bucolic diplomacy. Surmise said he was an ex-convict, and as chapter and verse of his past were not forthcoming this comfortable theory crystallized into a very good counterfeit of fact.

When the woodchoppers learned that Joe Bruder was coming to take Cy Selden's job, they knew there would be trouble, for they were a determined lot. There was an understanding, however, a sort of feeling, although no words had been spoken, that somehow Smith would settle matters, and so it was disturbing that no one from among the strikers should meet Bruder at the depot and attempt by moral or muscular force to turn him back.

Smith knew what was expected of him by his friends and relatives, he also knew that the suspicious eyes of the president were upon him, and hence the delicacy of his position. He hated being "double faced," but he had a very comfortable niche indeed, and times were exceedingly hard in these parts. He reflected with considerable disgust that it was quite unjust that he, who had no personal interest in the matter, should be the one upon whose shoulders the task of adjusting the affair should be thrust.

That explains why Smith was perturbed upon the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bruder. It also explains why he alone was at the depot to meet the distinguished pair. It is an axiom that good luck always comes to the lazy. Smith was a lazy man, which accounts for the piece of good luck which came to him on the morning of the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Bruder.

Bab Armstrong's two-year-old baby boy had died of cholera morbus a few days before, and the sorrowing parents, who were farmers, had put the little creature in a simple pine box and were sending him down the road to be buried in the Armstrong family burying ground at West Camden. The tiny morsel of humanity was at that moment resting in the freightroom of the Beaver Meadows depot.

As Smith limped down the platform toward Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bruder he looked through the open door of the freightroom and got his inspiration. Then he accosted Bruder.

"Waitin' for Harris' team, ain't yer?"

Bruder looked at his wife, and she said, "Yes."

"Goin' ter work on the job, ain't yer?"

Again Bruder looked at his wife, and again she said, "Yes."

"Well, I'm right glad ter see yer," said the unconscionable diplomat effusively. "I tell yer, we've been havin' great goin's on aroun' here."

Again Bruder looked at his wife, and again she said "Yes" softly and pressed a little closer under the shelter of his mighty thigh.

"Between you and me," continued the wily Smith, "these woodchoppers—I mean the Beaver Meadow fellers," he hastened to explain as a slight contraction of Bruder's forehead warned him that any slur upon the craft would not be welcome—"don't know when they're well off."

He paused, and Bruder looked at his wife, but she remained silent.

"Of course I ain't got nothin' against these men here, and it may not sound well comin' from me, me bein' in the employ of this corporation, as ain't supposed ter show no partiality, but deems ter me these men is a little unreasonable. Yer see," he went on as neither Bruder nor his wife spoke, "times have been pretty hard around here, with crops failin' and a good deal of sickness in the neighborhood, and I think these men ought to been glad to get steady employment. Of course they're really in the power of the company, cos they ain't got no money, and the officers knows it, and so they cuts down their wages. Now, some of 'em finds out that the big fellers is makin' dead loads of money, and so they makes a big kick and goes on strike. So the company jest shuts down, and I heard the superintendent say as that they was goin' to start a process of starvation. Of course I don't want that to go no further."

"Did the company treat the men fair?" asked Mrs. Bruder.

"Of course it did," said Smith quickly. "Ain't they got a right to pay their money out any way they like? Couldn't these men pick up and leave if they didn't like it?"

"Most of these men has their own homes, hasn't they?" asked Mrs. Bruder.

"Yes, they has," said Smith, "but if they keeps on this way they won't have no one left in their homes." Then he added as he walked toward the office: "Ye'd better come in and sit down. Harris' team may not be here for an hour yet. They generally comes ter meet the down train. 'Big Four' is waitin' here fer it ter pass."

He adroitly halted the couple in front of the open door of the freightroom, and instantly the maternal eye of Mrs. Bruder caught the little coffin.

"Whose is that?" she asked.

"That's Cy Selden's baby," said Smith, lying heroically.

Mrs. Bruder looked at her husband, then back to Smith. "What ailed it?" she asked. "Cholera morbus?"

Smith drew closer and lowered his voice a bit. "That's what they give out," he said, "but between you and me it didn't have enough ter eat."

Just then Smith found sudden business in the ticket office, where he remained until he heard the booming of the down train, when he went out on to the platform to pass up the mails. He lingered for a moment and watched "Big Four" pull out from the siding; then he looked all around. There was no one in sight.

"How'd yer do it, Bill?" asked Jack Lundy that night, while a half dozen strikers smoked and listened.

"I didn't do nothin', and I don't know nothin'," snapped Smith. "They come, and they've gone, ain't they?" And then to mollify thereabouts the good angel continued in a tone that smacked

BLOOD HISTORY

Born in bone marrow—dies in the liver. This is the beginning and the end of the rich, red blood that keeps us all alive. Blood history makes a fascinating story.

Scott's Emulsion often plays a most important part in blood history. At the very beginning—that is where its influence is greatest.

Scott's Emulsion is a blood food—a rich material for making new blood. Nothing better for bringing color to pale faces.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like.

The active business man is just as liable to take cold as anybody—and because he feels he cannot afford to "lay up" with it, he neglects it—and a neglected cold leads only to Grippe—and Grippe to the open grave.

nips a cold in the bud—you feels its good effects in a jiffy, and it cures like magic—no need of laying up—it heals while you work.

The Pace That Tells.

In the six day bicycle races the pace tells terribly at the end. Man after man falls out exhausted. The victor wabbles wearily over the line. In the business race it's the same. Man after man drops out exhausted. The successful man is often a dyspeptic, unable to enjoy success. When the stomach is diseased there is not enough nutrition assimilated to sustain the body and repair the daily waste of tissues. The result is weakness, tending to collapse.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enables the perfect assimilation of food by which the body is built up with sound, healthy flesh.

"I have taken one bottle of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for indigestion and liver complaint," writes Mr. C. M. Wilson, of Yadkin College, Davidson Co., N. C. "Have had no bad spells since I commenced taking your medicine—in fact, have not felt like the same man. Before I took the 'Golden Medical Discovery' I could not eat anything without awful distress, but now I can eat anything I wish without having unpleasant feelings. Last summer our baby was teething and was so poor he was almost a skeleton. We gave him your 'Golden Medical Discovery' and now he is as healthy and well as any child. I will speak a good word for your medicine whenever I have an opportunity."

CURE SICK HEADACHE.

It Was a Dream.

When a certain divine was a younger man and chaplain at the University of Pennsylvania, like other ministers who filled that position he was much troubled over the apparent lack of attention from the students during the morning exercises in the chapel.

The exercises hardly ever continued for more than fifteen minutes. Some of the students were in the habit of taking their books into the chapel and studying there during the services to make up for their tardiness of the night before in not preparing their lessons.

The young chaplain was desirous of breaking up the habit, so one morning preceding his customary five minutes' address he spoke as follows:

"Young gentlemen, last night I dreamed I was here in the chapel addressing you. And as I spoke I saw every eye fixed upon me, every man attentive, while in all the chapel there was not a book opened, and then I knew it was a dream."

On Magnetic Healing.

Much is spoken and written during these times about this mysterious method of treating disease. The most truly remarkable cases of magnetic healing which have come under the notice of the writer have been those in which Dr. Chase's Ointment was used. This preparation seems to have magical powers in stopping the dreadful itching, burning sensations of Salt Rheum and Eczema, and when used regularly makes the cure thorough and permanent.

Germain Scotch.

"A good story comes from Sydney," says the London Globe, "where letters have been received from two American business firms asking whether communications to Australian merchants should be written in English or 'in the language of the country.'

"It recalls an astonishing trade circular received a short time ago by a business firm in Glasgow from a German manufacturer, also written in what its versatile clerk had apparently taken for the language of the country. It was in the best 'hallyard' style and spoke of a 'meckle consignament o chemicals.'"

The Water Pump.

The most ancient description we have of a water pump is by Hero of Alexandra. There is no authentic account of the general use of the pump in Germany previous to the beginning of the sixteenth century. At about that time the endless chain and bucket works for raising water from mines began to be replaced by pumps.

The Three Meal Habit.

Our three meal habit is a fearful tax on our working capacity. It trebles the temptation to overeating. Our champions stagger under the weight of a physiological handicap. One-half the functional energy of the system is diverted by the exigencies of digestion. No other hygienic mistake has done so much to make us a generation of dyspeptics as the custom of after dinner work. Its victims, moreover, incur the risk of contracting that form of moral dyspepsia called pessimism. It tends to rob the working day of its reward.—Dr. F. L. Oswald in Success.

THEY PUT ON STYLE.

How Lord and Lady Curzon Travel Throughout India.

When the Viceroy of India travels all the rest of India looks on. He has a huge staff of officials, and is usually accompanied by Lady Curzon, and a hundred and twenty attendants. The most elaborate precautions are taken to insure his safety. Every mile of the railway is first examined by officials on trolleys, and in the southern Punjab the line is watered to lay the dust. He has a posse of six armed men on the train to guard him, and at every station through which he passes, whether he stops or not, armed police are drawn up on either side as the train goes by. At every station an army of coolies are at work, some time before the great occasion, cleaning and garnishing, while all along the line engines are forbidden to whistle and bells to ring. At whatever hour the train passes the station master has orders to be on duty himself to give the "line clear" and lock the points and see that all shunting has been stopped. With extraordinary ceremony is the Viceroy received. The Nawab of Junagarh last year received him in a solid silver car, preceded by painted elephants, prancing horses, and two rhinoceroses harnessed and mounted.—London Answers.

ST. PETER'S T. A. S.

This Excellent Temperance Organisation Growing Rapidly.

The apartments at present occupied by St. Peter's Total Abstinence Society have become too small to accommodate the members of the organization, and it has become necessary to make improvements, and to add additional floor space to the rooms at present occupied. Accordingly the Society has leased the old Oddfellows' Hall adjoining the T.A.S. rooms, which will be converted into the lecture hall, being excellently adapted for this. The concert hall at present in use will be used as an apartment for games. An entrance will be made from the rooms at present in use into the new lecture hall, and when the improvements contemplated are carried into effect, the T.A.S. will then have one of the best lecture rooms in town. It might also be stated that lavatories will be placed in the rooms, and the Society is further considering the advisability of placing baths in the building.

In St. Peter's Cathedral last Sunday Rev. Dr. O'Brien, Spiritual Advisor of the T.A.S., referred to the wonderful growth of the Society during the past year, when the membership had grown from three hundred to over five hundred. During the year it had also become affiliated with the Catholic Total Abstinence Union of America, which has hundreds of branches on this continent. In a letter recently received by Rev. Dr O'Brien from Rev. Father Doyle, secretary of the C.T.A.U., it was stated that St. Peter's T.A.S. made the best showing, (both as regards membership and zeal displayed,) of any other Society in the Union with the exception of Dubuque, Iowa, where the Catholic women as well as the men organized under the banner of Total Abstinence. It is expected however, that St. Peter's T.A.S. will be the banner organization in the course of a very short time.

On Sunday, Feb. 9th, Rev. Father P. J. Murphy, of the Paulist Order, New York, and an old Peterborough boy, will deliver a temperance lecture at vespers in St. Peter's Cathedral, after which the ladies of the congregation will be organized into a total abstinence society.

The Society will hold its annual concert on St. Patrick's Day. The young people of the Society this week commenced practice on that romantic Irish drama "Kathleen Mavourneen," which will be presented on March 17th

THE PROHIBITIONSTS.

What Several Local Organizations Think Regarding the Matter —Resolution.

The following resolution was passed at a meeting Monday evening, Jan. 27th, held at the Y.M.C.A. Hall [illegible] representatives from the Ministerial Association and the following Temperance Societies: W. C. T. U., G.T., I.O.G.T. and R.T. of T.:

Resolved that this meeting places itself on record as unqualifiedly in favour of a law prohibiting the manufacture, importation and sale of intoxicating liquors in Canada except for mechanical and medicinal purposes, as the only correct method of dealing with the liquor traffic, that through all time has proved a menace to everything that tends to the upbuilding of the home, society, the church and the nation.

In the present crisis in Ontario, when the highest tribunal in the British Empire has declared by its decision on the Manitoba Act that it is within the power of the individual Provinces of Confederation to enact a law embodying a large measure of prohibition, be it resolved, that it is the duty of the Ontario Government at its present session to avail itself of this privilege and enact a law along these lines, this step we deem not only in the best interest of the Province, but it will also be a fulfilment of promises repeatedly made by the Hon. Geo. W. Ross, Premier of Ontario, and his predecessor, Sir Oliver Mowat; that so soon as this question was definitely settled the Government would be prepared to grant as large a share of prohibitory legislation as would be legally permissible, and that a copy of this resolution be sent to the Government and to each of the local papers adian General Electric Company had been given the contract and had filled it in a splendid manner. As a proof of this Mr. Kilbourn mentioned that a representative—a skilled and experienced man, the first in his line, of one of the largest electric concerns in the States — had come to Lakefield to get pointers from the work installed by the Canadian General Electric Company. (Applause.) He wanted to build a 5000 barrel cement factory on the Hudson. He said to Mr. Kilbourn that these people (the Canadian General Electric Co.) had put in the Lakefield Cement Company a first class plant. They hadn't slighted their work in any part—it was complete in every way, and contained the most modern improvements, was quite up to date in every way. He (Mr. Kilbourn) believed in patronizing home industry. He believed that with only five millions of people we had none too large a market for the products of our factories. He thanked the Canadian General Electric people; he had trusted them, and the result had been satisfactory. Mr. Kilbourn concluded a most happy speech to a culmination of the hearty applause that had so frequently punctuated his deliverance.

BANQUETTED AT LAKEFIELD.

Mr. E. Bravender, of Syracuse, N. Y., another of the guests of the evening, spoke briefly in response. He thanked the people of Lakefield for the high compliment implied in this fine banquet. Lakefield had now one of the most complete, modern and best equipped cement factories—second to none to be found anywhere. The reports of the electrician who had visited the works would be spread abroad all through the United States, for he was very highly pleased with what he saw in Lakefield.

Dr. J. R. Fraser, in a neat speech, proposed "Our Municipal Institutions." He was a member of the council when the bargain was made, and the Lakefield Cement Company had fully carried out their agreement.

In response, Mayor Denne of Peterborough, congratulated both the Cement Company and the Council of the village of Lakefield, which had secured an establishment that would be a credit to and an advertisement of the village. Lakefield and Peterborough had more than one thing in common. They would soon, he hoped, be united by an electric railway, as they were now by the Trent Valley Canal. He referred to the water powers and asserting their importance, said owners had united to press upon the Government the necessity of preserving and regulating the flow of the water in the river. He was pleased to join in the congratulations that had been showered upon the Lakefield Cement Company, and upon the village.

Mr. W. H. Casement, who also responded, was very much pleased to see so many present from a distance. He congratulated the Cement Company upon the way they had carried out their agreement. To show the importance of the enterprise to Lakefield, he said that in the past 15 months there had been paid out in wages no smaller a sum than $80,000. The work was complete in every respect, and, indeed, as the president said, ran like clockwork.

Mr. Dennis Moloney, reeve of Douro, testified to the honourable manner in which the Cement Company had carried out its business relations with the township.

Mr. F. J. Lillicrap also testified to the honourable way in which Mr. Kilbourn had completed his engagements with the village—in fact he had done more than he had promised.

Mr. W. M. Graham sang with splendid spirit and effect, and to hearty applause, "A Song for all the Britons."

Mr. R. C. Strickland proposed the toast of "Our Educational Institutions." As a member of the council at the time the agreement was made he asserted that the agreement of the Cement Company and the village had been so honourably and successfully carried out, that both were satisfied.

Dr. D. Fraser paid a tribute to the work of the company in establishing their industry; and remarks in a similar strain were made by Mr. W. A. Evans, principal of the Public Schools, who said our schools were equal to those of any other country, and were better than they were 40 or 50 years ago.

Mr. Delafosse sang in stirring style a comic song, "Tim Toolan."

The toast of the "Learned Professions," brought piquant responses from Mr. R. R. Hall, Peterborough, and Mr. O. A. Langley, Lakefield. Mr. Hall referred with warm praise to the energy and enterprise of Lakefield and the company, and spoke eloquently of the splendid manufacturing resources of Peterborough county. Emphasis was placed upon the conservation of our water resources as an indispensable requisite of our manufacturing prosperity. Mr. Langely paid a high testimony to the energy and enterprise of Mr. Kilbourn.

"Our Manufacturing Industries," was responded to among others by Mr. Adam Holt, who said the Cordage Company's Works, as well as the Otonabee Power Company's plant, was equal to any on the continent. He spoke also of the great value of the water powers on the Otonabee.

Mr. J. W. Campbell of the Canadian General Electric Company, said it was the aim of the company to instal machinery that would be worthy of the praise which had been bestowed upon the plant put in for the Cement Works, which was the first to use electricity as the exclusive motive power for works of that kind.

Mr. G. B. Hilliard said his establishment (The Strickland Canoe Company) had done a great deal to advertise Lakefield throughout the world, for their canoes had been placed in every continent except Asia, and as Mr. Kilbourn was going soon to the Holy Land, if he wanted to paddle his canoe on the River Jordan, the Company would furnish the craft.

Mr. T. H. Benson sang a comic song which so delighted the company that in response to uproarious applause he had to sing another, which gave equal delight.

In response to the "Learned Professions" Mr. D. W. Dumble gave an interesting history of the manner in which the Buckley Lake marl deposits came to be utilized. Speaking of the water powers on the river he pointed out the wisdom of their development. Once he had thought that the Otonabee River would be lined from Lakefield to Peterborough with factories, but the modern mode of transmission of power permitted of the centralization of factories, and he hoped in the course of time, to see Peterborough and Lakefield, in a manufacturing sense, the Lowel of Canada. He paid a pleasing compliment to Mr. Kilbourn, whom he was with at college over half a century ago. He was then industrious and devoted to his work, the same as he was to-day. He was glad to have been able to introduce Mr. Kilbourn to this locality. He hoped that his coming would be to the best interests of himself and the locality.

Mr. W. H. Meldrum also spoke of the great value of the water powers on the Otonabee River, and referred to the splendid equipment the Canadian General Electric Company had provided the Otonabee Power Company.

Mr. W. M. Graham spoke of the important bearing the Cement Works had had and would have on the commercial prosperity of Lakefield.

Mr. T. H. Benson, on rising to make remarks on this toast, at the suggestion of the company, compounded by singing a song "All Over Town."

"Our Agricultural Interests" brough interesting speeches from Mr. R. C. Strickland, Mr. Levi Payne and Mr. J. J. Crowe.

"The Ladies" brought a sprightly little speech from Mr. E. Bravender.

"The Press" was answered by Mr. Frederick Hamilton, of the Globe; Mr. Dobbin, of the Review, and Mr. Yokome, of the Examiner.

Mr. John Craig did justice to the toast of "Our Host," and with the enthusiastic singing of "God Save the King" a splendidly successful banquet was brought to a close, an occasion well worth being marked in as emphatic a manner for the establishment of these works means the the forward march of the village in an industrial direction. They are in their present condition only a beginning, for when the intentions of the promoters are brought to maturity they will be increased to many times their present capacity, and it is probable then in addition to making a splendid article of cement, that an industry looking to the manufacture in Lakefield itself of the cement made there into artificial stone for structural work and for other purposes. Mr. Kilbourn and the company are well pleased with Lakefield as they could hardly help being, for there is not a village of its size in Ontario with a more progressive class of leading citizens, or with a general population more industrious and energetic. The Company and the village have made a beginning of a business partnership—for in the sense of mutual benefits it amounts to that—which will, there is every reason to hope, be mutually profitable.

THE CARE OF LITTLE ONES.

Some Sound Advice as to the Best Method of Treating Infant Indigestion.

Nothing is more common to childhood than indigestion. Nothing is more dangerous to proper growth, more weakening to the constitution, or more likely to pave the way to dangerous disease. Among the symptoms by which indigestion in infants and young children may be readily recognized, are loss of appetite, nausea, eructations, coated tongue, bad breath, hiccough, and disturbed sleep. Indigestion may be easily cured, and Mrs. F. K. Begbie, Lindsay, Ont., points out how this may best be done. She says, "When my baby was three months old she had indigestion very badly. She would vomit her food just as soon as she took it, no matter what I gave her. After feeding she seemed to suffer terribly and would scream with pain. She seemed always hungry, but her food did her no good and she kept thin and delicate. She was very sleepless and suffered also from constipation. We tried several medicines recommended for these troubles but they did her no good. Finally I saw Baby's Own Tablets advertised and got a box. After giving them to her she began to improve in about two days, and in a week's time I considered her well. She could sleep well, the vomiting ceased, her bowels became regular and she began to gain in weight. She is now a fat, healthy baby, and I think the credit is due to Baby's Own Tablets and I would not be without them in the house."

Baby's Own Tablets is the only medicine sold under an absolute guarantee that it contains neither opiates nor other harmful drugs. These tablets are a certain cure for all the minor ailments of childhood, such as sour stomach, indigestion, constipation, simple fever, diarrhoea. They break up colds, prevent croup and allay the irritation accompanying the cutting of teeth. Price 25c. By mail, post paid, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

THE DEAREST RENTS

ONE ROOM IN OLD LONDON COSTS OVER $10,000 A YEAR.

Although They Are Not the Highest on Earth, They Are Increasing on System Which Lowers Owner's Share—Shops and Basements in Bond Street Produce Greater Rents Than Those on Any Other Thoroughfare.

A generation ago London was one of the lowest rented of the great capitals of the world. To-day it is, in parts at least, one of the highest.

In thirty years the total ratable value of London has more than doubled. After deducting the increase caused by growth of population and spread of new buildings, there has been a rise of 40 per cent. This increase has been by no means uniform. Some parts have degenerated. For instance, there are flats in Victoria street which some time ago fetched £300 a year, and now can be had for £200. The outer circle of inner London has sunk at a rapid rate, but there are parts, especially around the busier thoroughfares in the city, that have trebled in value in little more than a decade. Large sections of slum property in East London have doubled their returns in four years.

The district around Cornhill is now the most highly rented spot on earth. Not long since one room near the Royal Exchange let for between £2,000 and £8,000 a year. Within the past few weeks a house agent advertised certain properties in Throgmorton street to let. For seven telephone boxes on the ground floor £250 a year of rent was asked for each. For a suite of three rooms on the mezzanine floor £1,000 a year was asked. Six rooms on the first floor were offered at £2,000 a year.

For shops Bond street is the dearest thoroughfare in the world. Broadway in New York comes next, and a limited radius near the Place de l'Opera in Paris ranks third. A small shop in Bond street fetches readily from £750 to £1,300 a year. This includes the shop and basement, but not, of course, the remainder of the house. The shops in Regent street cost even more, but then they are larger, thus making the rent per square foot work out less.

In Cockspur street values have gone up 50 per cent. in a very short time, and acute agents now regard it as one of the best selling situations in London. Business premises there fetch from £600 to £4,000 a year. The demand for property round the Trafalgar Square district is exceedingly keen. Recently an agent for certain coronation business wanted one office in the neighborhood of St. James' for which he offered £300. He could not obtain it.

The rise of values in London was very plainly shown in some of the compensation cases that arose through the new Holborn Strand street improvement scheme. Thus in Holywell street valuers declared that shops rented at £100 a year on lease were now worth quite £250 a year. A rent had been paid for a house in the Strand at £175 a year. It was arranged that the new lease was to be at the rate of £375 a year. For premises on the other side of the street, almost opposite, the ejected person had been asked payment of £5,000, and a rental of £900. Another house let on lease at £175 a year, and was partly sublet as follows: Shops, £185; rooms, £407.

In nearly all London buildings rent is not an inclusive item. The tenant has to pay his own rates and taxes, and to provide for his own cleaning, lighting, and heating. In some newer buildings, however, the American plan is being adopted. Thus in the Birkbeck Bank Chambers, the enormous pile facing Holborn and running toward Fleet street, the one rent charged includes rates, taxes, and office cleaning. Newer buildings will go even beyond this. In the proposed skyscraper in the Strand, at the bottom of the new central London avenue, rents are to include, as they do in America, heating, lighting, cleaning, rates, and taxes. In short, the one charge will cover everything.

In estimating rents, London owners make considerable reductions for top floors. The higher you go, the less you pay, even though there is a lift. Thus in one building a set of 13 rooms on the first floor realizes £1,200 a year. A set of two rooms on the sixth floor is let for £38.

The family solicitor who wishes a nice suite of rooms near Lincoln's Inn Fields may count himself fortunate if he gets them for £300 a year. Reasonably rented offices can often be obtained off Queen Victoria street, a set of two going sometimes for £60 and £70. There are nearly always odd rooms, which have some drawbacks, such as a dark outlook, or a tiring approach, to be had at a low rental.

Turning from business premises to private houses, the increase in rent takes a somewhat different form. The people who are highest rented in proportion to their incomes are undoubtedly the slum dwellers around Spitalfields. There you can find people earning 14 shillings a week who pay 6 shillings of that for the rent of one room. We find there that the worse the house the more in proportion the rent. Thus a respectable family with a little furniture can get two or three rooms for a rent working out from 3s. 6d. to 5s. a room. The man on the verge of destitution, with no furniture, has difficulty in finding a room at 6d.

From Spitalfields to Mayfair is a great jump. Mayfair to-day shows in some parts a great rise, and in other parts rather a decrease in value. It is difficult to state the rent here in yearly figures, because, as a general rule, the occupiers buy up the leases, pay so many thousand guineas for the lease, an annual ground rent, usually of from £150 to £300 a year, and have certain expenses in repairing their property to meet. A nice house in Belgravia, can be had for 6,000 guineas, and a ground rent of £150 a year. Many, however, will run very much higher than this. Thus, for 30 years' lease of a house in Great Cumberland Place 7,500 guineas are asked, and a ground rent of £150 a year. There is now being offered a delightful mansion in Kensington, on a 42 years' lease, for 27,500 guineas, and a ground rent approaching £200 a year. But even in Kensington and Mayfair there are side streets, unfashionable, where you can obtain a whole house for £60 or £80 a year.

To bring the cost of rent home to the individual let us suppose that he wants to take a house somewhere in the four-mile radius. On its circumference he can be accommodated with a charming little residence of the bijou order for from £35 to £75 a year. If this is too far out, a mile nearer Charing Cross will add about 100 per cent. to his house agent's bill, a family house in the neighborhood of Chelsea and the further end of South Kensington being obtainable for from £70 upward. Supposing he remains here for a few years and prospers, he will want to migrate to a more select street. Probably such a desirable milieu may be found in one or other or both of the streets between which his present one lies. It will have the name of Something Gardens as likely as not, and for the privilege of moving from the one place to the other he will be able to add the satisfaction of paying a rent which will run from £130 to £200.

If the genteel atmosphere prompts longings for further experiments, he may move another mile nearer Piccadilly on trial. In the neighborhood of Brompton and Knightsbridge many excellent and elegant people will be delighted to allow him the temporary use of their homes for such nominal sums as from £300 a year up to £600. If he approves of the experiment he will be able to save at least half this amount by taking a similar house for himself. Ambition now having a free rein, his next move will be to one of the squares where horses stand before the doors in pairs. Six hundred pounds a year would be a reasonable sum to exchange for this dignity, and as better houses fall vacant this could be increased until one of the grand houses permits the transfer of anything between £1,000 and £1,500. In the latter case the actual rent might not exceed £50 or £75 a year, the difference being paid as a premium. There are causes for the heavy amount of such rents, the chief of these being the competition for the houses, and the middlemen through whom the transactions have to be made. A dealer often rents a sure house from the agents, and he is not modest in the matter of profit that he requires.

Improved houses in the best Bloomsbury squares which fetched £150 a few years back now fetch £250.

VIVID IMAGININGS.

Another Horror Surmise From the Pacific Coast—Were Condor and Str. Mattowan in Collision?

Victoria, Feb. 1.—It is now feared that the British sloop-of-war Condor, carrying 140 men, and the coasting steamship Mattewan, both of which have been missing since Dec. 2, were in collision and went down together Dec. 3, with all on board, more than 200 souls in the aggregate. The fact that wreckage from both vessels has been found in the same waters is pointed to as evidence going to strengthen this new theory.

No Anxiety About Condor.

London, Feb. 1.—There was still no fresh news of the overdue Condor yesterday at the Admiralty. Relatives and friends of those on board have been anxiously inquiring there, but the officials can only inform them that no anxiety is felt by the Department, as her long absence from communication does not necessarily indicate that she has met with a disaster. H.M.S. Condor left Esquimalt on Dec. 2, and in the ordinary way could have reached Honolulu, her destination, by the 15th; but the Admiralty point out that the latter place is far from any telegraphic cable, and that news of her arrival could only be heard in London through some ship leaving Honolulu afterwards, on reaching Victoria, B.C., or some other point within telegraphic touch.

For the Children.

To Keep Their Digestion Perfect Nothing is so Safe and Pleasant as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Thousands of men and women have found Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets the safest and most reliable preparation for any form of indigestion or stomach trouble.

Thousands of people who are not sick, but are well and wish to keep well take Stuart's Tablets after every meal to insure perfect digestion and avoid trouble.

But it is not generally known that the Tablets are just as good and wholesome for little folks as for their elders.

Little children who are pale, thin and have no appetite, or do not grow or thrive, should use the tablets after eating and will derive great benefit from them.

Mrs. G. H. Crotsley, 538 Washington street, Hobokon, New Jersey, writes: "Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets just fill the bill for children as well as for older folks. I've had the best of luck with them. My three-year-old girl takes them as readily as candy. I have only to say 'tablets' and she she drops everything else and runs for them."

A Buffalo mother, a short time ago, who despaired of the life of her babe, was so delighted with the results from giving the child these tablets that she went before the notary public of Erie Co., N. Y., and made the following affidavit:

Gentlemen:—Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets were recommended to me for my two-months-old baby, which was sick and puny and the doctors said was suffering from indigestion. I took the child to the hospital, but there found no relief. A friend mentioned the Stuart Tablets and I procured a box from my druggist and used only the large sweet lozenges in the box and was delighted to find they were just the thing for my baby. I feel justified in saying that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets saved my child's life.

Mrs. W. T. Dethlope.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 12th day of April, 1897.

Henry Karis,
Notary Public in and for Erie Co., New York.

For babies, no matter how young or delicate, the tablets will accomplish wonders in increasing flesh, appetite and growth. Use only the large sweet tablets in every box. Full sized boxes are sold by all druggists for 50 cents, and no parent should neglect the use of this safe remedy for all stomach and bowel troubles if the child is ailing in any way regarding its food or assimilation.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been known for years as the best preparation for all stomach troubles whether in adults or infants.

TAPS FROM THE WIRES.

Hon. Richard Harcourt spoke on Friday night at the formal opening of the new St. Patrick's Hall, Ottawa. He eschewed politics, and made a strong plea for higher education.

Miss Craig of Argyle street, Sydney, N.S., received injuries in a runaway accident Friday afternoon from which she died late the same night. A runaway team knocked her down and injured her internally.

John Curry of Bristol's Corners, near Ottawa, an eccentric Englishman, was found frozen to death in a shed at the Quayon on Thursday. He was originally an electrician, but was well known as a maker of wire baskets.

All Plump and Rosy.

If all the plump and rosy children in the world could be collected together into one place it would be surprising to find how many of them owe their strength and health to Scott's Emulsion.

Pretoria, Jan. 31.—Major Driscoll yesterday surprised a Boer laager at Poplar Grove, on the Modder River, and captured seventeen Boers, including Field Cornet Grobelaar, who died of his wounds.

Boers Kill Kaffirs.

Graaff Reinet, Jan. 31.—Brink and Davies, two of Colonel Doran's scouts, together with two Kaffirs, were recently ambushed by Wessels' men near Murrayaburg. The Boers allowed the party to approach within a hundred yards, when they fired a volley. Brink was mortally wounded. The Boers then killed the Kaffirs.

A party of Myburgh's rebels looted a farm near Ladygrey, and extracted a fine of £25.

Sentences Reduced.

London, Feb. 1.—Reductions have been made in the sentences passed on some of the men of the Somerset East (Cape Colony) District Mounted Infantry, who were tried before a military court last November on charges of misbehavior before the enemy and of cowardice in connection with the surrender at Doornbosch last October.

Medical Science Advances.

It is not more than half a century ago that physicians considered a surgical operation with its risk, expense and pain as the only cure for piles. To-day it is only the out of date doctors that think of such treatment. It is cruel and extravagant to operate for a disease which is far more certainly cured by the application of Dr. Chase's Ointment. You may be skeptical, but for proof you are referred to tens of thousands of cases that have been cured by this famous preparation.

PORT HOPE KNITTING WORKS

MAN IS NOT MONARCH.

His Senses Are Less Acute Than Are Those of Animals.

Man's vaunted faculties are far less acute than some of the lesser creatures.

The human eye is a wonderful piece of mechanism, with its little bundle of nerves that in some mysterious way make visualization possible. Yet this eye, with all its delicacy of discernment, is but a circumscribed organ as compared with the eye of the eagle, which sees infinitely farther than can any human eye. The same is true of the human ear. The rats and the mice that haunt our houses, the squirrels that caper about the woods and the numberless other little animals all hear better than we do. They may not trace refinement in sound as accurately as can man, but for catching sound at long range theirs are the ears most perfectly constructed.

The sense of touch is more accurately developed elsewhere in the animal kingdom than in man. No man made device for measuring water pressure equals that of the fish, whose sides all strung with nerves register the water pressure correctly every time and inform his fishship just how much he can stand and when to move up or down.

A dog's sense of smell is always respected by man, who frequently, as in the case of a hunter, relies on it to supplement the findings of his own less active olfactory nerve.

When it comes to the human voice, there are birds with whose music man's music cannot be compared. Not Patti herself ever sang more sweetly than the meadow lark at break of day.

A WOODSTOCK LADY.

For a Period of Twelve Years She Suffered.

Female Weakness Made her Life a Burden—Physicians all Assured her That she Could Never be Cured—Dodd's Kidney Pills Made her a Well Woman.

Woodstock, Ont., Feb. 3.—(Special.) Medical men are much puzzled over the case of Mrs. Wm. Rowe, of 311 Dundas street, this city.

For years (twelve or more) she had suffered with what is ordinarily called "Female Trouble" or "Female Weakness." She had consulted and had been treated by the very best physicians, but they failed to do her any good, and ended by the discouraging announcement that she need never hope to be well, as her disease was positively incurable.

However, Mrs. Rowe was persuaded as a last resort to try a treatment of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and to her great surprise and the joy of her family and friends she began to show signs of improvement. This change gave her a new hope, and the treatment was continued till at last she was completely cured and restored to the greatest good health possible to vigourous womanhood.

The case of Mrs. Rowe and the hopeless verdict of the doctors, had become widely known and as a consequence her satisfactory restoration to good health has created a profound sensation with the public, and not a little confusion among those physicians who had so positively pronounced her incurable.

Dodd's Kidney Pills have proven themselves an unfailing remedy for all diseases peculiar to womanhood, and thousands of grateful women are testifying to the fact that this remedy has saved them after everything else had failed.

Mrs. Rowe says; "I suffered as only weak women do suffer, for over twelve years. The doctors told me I could never be cured. I tried everything but could not get any relief. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me, and I owe my life and health to them and nothing else."

Back From Halifax.

Ottawa, Feb. 1.—Col. Pinault, Deputy Minister of Militia, and Col. Macdonald, Superintendent of Military Stores, returned yesterday morning from Halifax. Col. Pinault states that the Mounted Rifles who left for South Africa on Tuesday were a splendid body of men, and the transport Victorian, which is taking them to Cape Town, is a fine modern steamship. The report sent out that a mutiny had been planned among the Mounted Rifles was started by some useless characters who had been discharged from the regiment.

ENGINEERING FEATS.

SOME WONDERS THAT MAN IS ACCOMPLISHING AT THIS TIME.

The Tunnel From Wales to Ireland, Which Will Cost $100,000,000—Some Other Great Canals and Their Cost—Cecil Rhodes' Big Railway From the Cape to Cairo—But "Nothing Beats the Dutch."

In Lord Rosebery's recent speech at Stranraer he endorsed the proposed tunnel from Wales to Ireland, a distance of 25 miles under a deep and turbulent sea.

It's a big undertaking. Eight-mile holes in the ground are not unknown, but even in these days such work as this is more than a nine days' wonder. Yet the engineering difficulties are not great, once the capital of perhaps $100,000,000 is provided. Working from both ends, construction parties can meet in the middle with a variation in level of but a few inches, and the tunnel would earn dividends.

Not that Wales has a monopoly of such schemes. From the Mull of Kintyre, Scotland, one can see Fair

THE GREAT CULEBRA CUT OF THE PANAMA CANAL.

Head, Ireland, 12 miles away. Instead of a tunnel it has been proposed to throw a causeway across these troubled waves by casting into the sea a mountain from the mull, thus fulfilling the Scriptural phrase. The mountain is scenery; the causeway would pay cash. Besides the inevitable railroad it would support two rows of mills, their wheels turned by tides rushing through gaps left for the purpose. Ship passages would thread the dyke at intervals. If we learn to send electricity long distances, this power might also heat and light a good part of England and spare her waning coal supply.

Canal digging is an ancient and simple art. Get men and shovels enough and the thing is done. The first Suez canal was dug by the Pharaohs; that of Corinth was begun by Nero. The Chinese grand canal is the largest in the world—600 miles—about as many years old, and of course out of repair.

Nowadays canals are dug by steam shovels. But for all the "devil's" greed in biting off a ton at a mouthful, artificial waterways cost more every year. They have to be so much bigger. The original Erie canal in New York State cost a little over $7,000,000 for 352 miles. That sum was exceeded ten times over in improvements and enlargements. The Manchester ship canal, 30 miles, cost a million a mile, or about $200 per running foot, where the Erie cost four dollars per foot. The Suez Canal, 88 miles, cost a hundred millions. If Uncle Sam accepts the French Company's offer and for $40,000,000 buys the French rights in Panama and puts $200,000,000 in good money on top of de Lesseps' $300,000,000 of bad money, that great ditch will have cost in all $1,800 per foot.

The German Emperor is pushing a big project. Northern Prussia is a vast, nearly level plain through which sluggish rivers creep toward the North sea. By connecting these at the head of navigation by canals valuable "short cuts" will be provided. When completed the system will have cost $66,000,000. It should be finished in 15 years.

More than 200 years ago Louis XIV. of France linked the Atlantic and the Mediterranean by the Languedoc Canal of 148 miles, saving 2,000 miles of the Gibraltar route from Marseilles. Modern French engineers are ready to make his work wide and deep enough to admit a warship. The saving of time in peace would be considerable; in war French craft could dodge back and forth, while an enemy must take the long way 'round. The cost would be $200,000,000.

More gigantic than any other world railway projected is Cecil Rhodes' "Cape to Cairo" project, interrupted now by the Boer war, but certain to be pushed when it is over. Egypt is building her railroad up the Nile. To meet it from the south there is already a road from Cape Town to Mafeking, and another just built from the east coast to Uganda, the country Livingston found behind Lake Victoria Nyanza—and a fine lake it is, as big as our Superior, and the real source of the Nile.

What a building it was! On one section in Uganda a big lion ate so many tracklayers that the survivors struck work and cowered in their camps trembling at every sound. The engineers had to drop their theodolites for rifles, to break up the injunction his lionship placed on the building. To work on this line Chinese and Hindoo coolies were imported; but they died so fast in the new climate that the company had to catch and tame natives to do the work.

It is anticipated that the difficulty which bars Rhodes' road has been practically overcome through the good will of the Kaiser. German East Africa backs up against the Congo Free State, and from one or the other permission must be obtained to join the Nile and Uganda lines in a straightaway course of 5,000 miles. The cost of the portion yet unbuilt may be $100,000,000. No one knows.

On any old map of Holland a big body of water is marked "Haarlem Meer," or sea. Later maps do not show it, for the excellent reason that it isn't there. It has been turned into dry land—dry enough, at any rate, though 40 feet below sea level, to supply half the world with Edam cheeses and to feed the finest of Holstein cattle.

When Queen Wilhelmina is a middle-aged woman the Zuyder Zee will also have disappeared. Dutch engineers are planning to drain it, leaving only canals for local shipping. The sea is 80 miles long by 10 to 40 wide. The work will cost $70,000,000; the value of the land obtained will double that sum.

Truly it is an age of wonders. And yet—

Not one of these works, nor all of them together, could equal the wonder of the pyramids of Egypt, put up without modern machinery. So let's not brag too much; only just about enough.

LIKE THE MILLENIUM

After the tortures Mr. Norton passed through to have the absolute release from suffering that South American Rheumatic Cure afforded him—It relieves in six hours.

"For three weeks I lay in bed suffering most terribly and utterly helpless from Inflammatory Rheumatism," says Mr. E. H. Norton, of Grimsby, Ont. "When all that the doctors could do failed me, I was induced to try South American Rheumatic Cure. After taking one bottle I was not only able to leave my bed, but surprised my friends by walking down town. I think it a wonder." 36

Drugging Will not Cure Catarrh.

This loathsome disease is caused by germs that invade the air passages of the head, throat and lungs, and can be cured only by inhalation of medicated air. Stomach medicines, atomizers, snuffs are ineffectual, because they fail to reach the cause of the trouble. Catarrhozone is successful because it is inhaled to every part of the breathing organs, and has power to kill the germ, heals the inflamed tissues an dprevents droppings in the throat. Catarrhozone treats more than one thousand square feet of the mucous surface with every breath taken through the inhaler, and affords instant relief. It perfectly cures Catarrh, Asthma, and Bronchitis. Sold by druggists. Two months' treatment. Price $1.00. Small size 25 cts.., or by mail from Poison & Co., Kingston, Ont.

Concerning Fiction in England.

A large proportion of the novels for this autumn and certainly the most interesting are now out. How are they faring? Not very well, in many cases. "So far," said a leading bookseller the other day, "it has not been a good novel season, whatever else it may prove to be." A few stories have "boomed" heartily enough, but the averagely successful novel, which, after all, is the real book overturn, lags behind in sales. Take a novel which might be expected to sell from two to four thousand copies. It has probably fallen short of its usual sale by five hundred copies—in some cases by more than that number. This is the estimate made by a trade expert, and certainly it is not encouraging. What is the explanation of this dulness in the world of novels? Various explanations might be suggested, only they will suggest themselves to any bookman—the war, too many novels, and so on.—The London Chronicle.

Sore Throat and Hoarseness

With their attendant dangers, may be speedily averted and remedied by the use of Polson's Nerviline. Excellent to gargle with—ten times better than a mustard plaster and more convenient for the outside. Nerviline pentrates the tissues instantly, soothes the pain, allays the inflammation, and cures sore throat and hoarseness, simply because that is what it is made for. The large 25 cent bottle of Nerviline is unexcelled as a household remedy. It cures everything.

ENGLAND'S SHIPPING TRADE.

Address by Mr. Gerald Balfour on Its Marvellous Growth.

Mr. Gerald Balfour, President of the British Board of Trade, delivered an address on England's shipping trade the other day at a dinner of the Liverpool Shipbrokers' Benevolent Society. In the course of it he said that the growth of the British shiking industry since the accession of Queen Victoria had been marvelous, even in an age of progress. The number of vessels on the register of the Empire had increased from 26,000 in 1836 to 35,000 in 1900, and in steamships from one in forty to one in three. There had also been an enormous increase in the tonnage of steamships. With all this enormous advance there had been, with the substitution of steam for sailing ships, a very great diminution in the loss of life at sea.

Dealing with the question of foreign competition, he said the transference of British vessels to foreign flags had naturally occasioned a great deal of comment within the last few years. During the past year there had been so transferred vessels of the gross tonnage of not less than 600,000, but it was to be remembered that during the same year there had been added to the British register 1,200,000 tons gross, the significant fact being that 93 per cent. of the latter was new tonnage, almost entirely constructed in the United Kingdom. Of the vessels transferred, 33 per cent. were constructed before 1885, and no less than 55 per cent. were constructed before 1890. That was a very material fact, he said, in the true significance of this transference of ships to foreign flags. He admitted that they could not regard with anything like indifference efforts made by foreign Governments to secure a larger share of the carrying trade of the world.

The British shipping trade occupied a unique position among the industries of the country. More than any other, it was essential to, and intimately connected with, the life of the nation. If the British lost their mercantile marine, it would mean nothing less than the destruction of the British Empire. That Empire was essentially an empire of the sea; it rested upon two great supports, the navy in the first instance, and the mercantile marine in the second. Heavy would be the responsibility of any Government which by fault of omission or commission placed in jeopardy the mercantile marine.

"Meet Me Under the Clock.—Lucy."

Mr. Harry Furniss, the caricaturist of Punch, tells the following story: When Sir Christopher Furness first entered Parliament he had no title, so that confusion sometimes arose between himself and his namesake, who constantly spent much time at Westminster, making sketches to illustrate Mr. Lucy's "Essence of Parliament." A few days after Mr. Furness took his seat a ludicrous situation occurred:

"He asked to see me alone in one of the lobbies of the House of Commons. He held a note in his hand, strangely and nervously — so I knew at once it was not a bank note. 'I—ah—am very sorry. You are a stranger to me. I—a—stranger to the House. This note from a stranger was handed to me by a strange official. I read it before I noticed the mistake. It is addressed to you.' 'Oh, that is of no consequence, I assure you,' I said. Oh, but it is — it must be of consequence. It is — of — such a private nature, and so brief. I feel extremely awkward in having to acknowledge I read it—a pure accident, I assure you!' He handed me the note and was running away when I called him back. It read—'Meet me under the clock at 8.—Lucy.'"

The supposed lady of the assignation was his colleague, Mr. Lucy.

A Lucky Gold Strike.

The delight of a man who finds gold in his claim does not equal the delight of a bed ridden invalid who finds in Merrill's System Tonic a restoration to health and strength. This he is sure to do, for this wonderful remedy has never been known to fail. It is a scientific remedy and cures nerve and kidney diseases by removing the cause. Ormond & Walsh sell it at 50c per bottle.

Bill Nye's Criticism.

It was in Frisco when Peter Jackson, the colored pugilist, was a feature in "Uncle Tom's Cabin." Bill Nye was to have lectured at the Baldwin theater, but was greeted by so small an audience that he excused himself and went over to hear Jackson talking of the pearly gates to Little Eva. After the performance L. R. Stockwell, the veteran actor, met Nye in the lobby of the theater, and he exclaimed:

"Hello, Nye! What did you think of Peter?"

"Well," responded the humorist dryly, "anatomically he was great, but Uncle Tomically he is the worst I ever saw."

Your Nerves are Weak.

You sleep badly, appetite variable. You eat but gain no strength. Morning tiredness makes you wish it were night. When night comes refreshing sleep is hard to obtain. You're run down, your blood is thin and watery; your nerves have become weak, the thought of effort wearies you. You need Ferrozone; it makes blood—red, strong blood. An appetite? You'll eat everything, and digest it too. Strength? That's what plenty of food gives. Ferrozone gives hope, vigour, vim and endurance. Use Ferrozone and get strong. Sold by Ormond & Walsh.

Not Much in a Name.

"There is nothing in a name," says a veteran teacher. "I have a Sleeper in my class, and he so far from being a sleeper that he keeps me constantly on the alert and I have an Idler who is really the personification of industry."

THE GALE DID GREAT DAMAGE.

A High Fire-wall Crashes Through P. Simons' Store.

EVERY FLAT CARRIED AWAY.

The Loss is Estimated at $12,000—Who Will Have to Pay the Piper?

Citizens who happened to be in the vicinity of Hunter and George streets last evening at twenty minutes to seven, were greatly alarmed by the collapse of one of the walls which had been left standing after the Crystal Block fire. The north and south walls, of the Crystal Block, it will be remembered rose high above the adjoining buildings, and after the building had been gutted by fire they had no support. The high gale of yesterday proved too much for the walls to withstand and they swayed alarmingly in the wind, the south one finally collapsing and falling on the roof of the building occupied by Mr. Pete Simons, as a merchant tailor shop. The enormous weight of the falling wall carried it through the three flats of Mr. Simons' store, as easily as though the substantial building had been made of paper and the contents of the place together with the falling debris brought up in the cellar in a confused mass in which handsome suitings, sewing machines, bricks and mortar were indiscrimately mixed.

The noise made by the falling structure could be heard like the sharp detonation of a gun, high above the shrieking of the tempest and the crash of the falling glass together with the flying bricks caused those in the neighbourhood to imagine that the last trump had sounded. Had the accident occurred on Saturday the catastrophe would have been an appaling one as Mr. Simons employed a large force of hands and it is doubtful if one would have escaped to tell the tale.

It was almost impossible to ascertain the extent of the damage which had been done, as the darkness was intense and the danger of being struck by falling bricks kept those of an inquiring turn of mind from being too inquisitive.

Realizing the great danger which existed in the wall which was still standing on the north side, Mr. Sturgeon, the plumber, and engineer of the Toronto Savings and Loan Company, obtained access to the roof of Mr. Harry Long's building and proceeded to test the wall. Being a mechanical expert, he readily ascertained that Mr. Long's building was in great danger as the wall would give with every blast of the tempest and in swaying back to the perpendicular again would overbalance to such a degree as to make it only a matter of time, apparently, before the same fate would overtake the structure to the north as that which had been meted out to the one on the south. He obtained the assistance of Messrs. Grant and Ross and after a great deal of work succeeded in toppling the wall over towards the south, thus saving Mr. Long's premises. The position of the three young men on the roof was not one to be envied. Outside of the danger involved in the risk of being blown off the roof in the gale, the matter of handling the wall was one which necessitated great caution being exercised. A heavy ladder was procurred and this was used as a battering ram on the wall. The great weight was not easily overbalanced and the rebound had always to be reckoned with also, as if the wall fell on the north side instead of the south there would be no possible chance of escape for those on the roof. It is largely owing to the exertion of Mr. Sturgeon and his assistants that no further damage was done.

Mr. George Schneider, who owns the building to the south, places his loss at $4,000 and Mr. Pete Simons states that he had about $8,000 worth of stock, machines, etc., which are now mixed up with the debris in the cellar.

Considerable discussion is being indulged in to-day as to whether Mr. Schneider and Mr. Simons can recover damages for their loss, and to whom they will look for reimbursement. The front wall does not appear any too safe.

The following were re-elected directors for the year:

Vice-President—R. B. McKee.
Directors—A. Cox, Thos. Fortye and A. L. Davis.

Mr. John Crane was re-appointed auditor.

THE SNOW STORM.

The Local Railway Service is Complete Demoralized for the Day.

The snowstorm of yesterday and last night, accompanied by the gale from the northwest, has caused another blockade of traffic, and has been a source of trouble to the local railway lines in particular. The streets of the town were left in an almost impassable condition, and this state of affairs has interfered somewhat with the voting on the Water-Commissioners' bylaw.

The railway service on the Grand Trunk and C.P.R. lines is in a demoralized state. The midnight C.P.R. train pulled out of Peterborough at 5 o'clock this morning. There has been no train in from the east up until 2 o'clock this afternoon, while the 11.27 C.P.R. has not yet arrived from Toronto.

The morning G.T.R. train from Port Hope reached Peterborough several hours late, and then continued on its way about 1.30 o'clock. The Toronto Grand Trunk train made its way as far as Lindsay, and has been cancelled for the day. The Lakefield line has been badly crippled, and a train is endeavouring to make its way north this afternoon.

The midnight C.P.R. was stuck in a snow-bank this side of Tweed, and was only shovelled out about two o'clock this afternoon. The blockade of the midnight at this point prevented the express and the local from making any attempt on their trips westward.

A SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

Two Douro Young Men Have a Narrow Escape From Being Fatally Hurt.

A very serious accident occurred on Thursday of last week on Mr. J. Charlton's bush farm in Douro, where his son, Mr. William Charlton, and C. Curtin, were engaged in cutting wood. The two men were cutting down a tree about a foot through when a blast of wind suddenly arose and blew the tree across the cut. In its descent it hit a leaning tree, which caused its butt to fly up in the air. Mr. Charlton received a very severe blow from it and was raised about ten feet in the air, landing on his back in the middle of a brush pile. He sustained several wounds and bruises, his lip being split open, his collar bone cracked and his nose also broken. He stayed at the camp, however till the next day, when he was removed to Lakefield on a load of posts.—Lakefield News.

VICTORIA MUSEUM.

Some of the Recent Gifts Made There is Room for More.

Lt.-Col. H. C. Rogers, President of the Historical Society, contributes the following letter concerning the affairs of the society in connection with the Museum:

Peterborough, Jan. 31st.

To the Press of Peterborough,—

Gentlemen, — On behalf of the Peterborough Town and County Historical Society, I would ask you to kindly remind the public that the Victoria Museum, in Inverlea Park, though temporarily closed during the winter months, is always open for the reception of relics and curios, so that the already good beginning towards a valuable collection may not lack completion from forgetfulness. Allow me at the same time to point out that the articles received either as gifts or loans, may be of no intrinsic value, but acquire value from rarity, association or circumstances.

Let me give an instance where an ordinary article becomes interesting from its history. A few days ago our townsman, Mr. Stephen Coveney, brought me an old battered hammer, whose story I will give in his own written words:

"I am only a poor old hammer. Before 1805 I worked in the Plymouth dock yard; my owner was one George Ancock; he was a ship carpenter on board the Victory. I was his right hand man. I then worked in Woolwich dock yard, where my boss died, and then his son had me, and during his time the Crimean war broke out, and I was taken on His Majesty's ship Agamennon, Sir Charles Napier's flag ship. After the war was over I went to Chatham dock yard and was given to Walter Ancock, a captain of a sailing barge. It was there that my face got so badly smashed. About 35 years ago I was given to my present owner."

(Signed) STEPHEN COVENEY.

Mr. J. H. Burnham has recently secured for the Museum a unique Indian relic, found in Dummer, pronounced by Mr. Boyle of the Archaeological Museum, of Toronto, to be "a banner stone used by the Indians at their dances and ceremonial pow wows; and it is the only one found so far east as Peterborough—all hitherto found were south of a line from Toronto to Goderich." Mr. Burnham also found a directory for '57 and '58, and some Crown Land reports, with maps of the same date. I feel confident that many interesting relics and records are lying in people's storerooms and garrets neglected and seldom seen, which if placed in the museum would be giving pleasure to many, and would be preserved for posterity.

Anything left with me at the post office or given to Mr. Hay, the secretary, will receive attention and acknowledgment and be placed in the museum prior to its opening in April.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, in advance for making this plea to our fellow-citizens, who should, I think, be equally interested in this work, I beg to remain

Yous obedient servant,

H. C. ROGERS,
Pres. P.H.Socy.

THE GAME IN COBOURG

What the Port Hope People Thought of it.

OTHER NEWS OF SPORTS.

The Next Intermediate Hockey Game —The Rinks Which are to Play in To-night's Bonspeil.

The Port Hope Guide gives the following write-up of the recent game in Cobourg between Peterborough and Port Hope:

It was a glorious defeat! Peterborough put the Ontarios out of the championship's running, not because the Port Hope boys were inferior players, but simply on account of ill-luck of warfare, and to explain this statement, it is necessary to say that had George Brown, the husky cover point of the Ontarios, been able to play, Peterborough would now be telling their friends how they were defeated. In no way is their right to last night's victory disputed, for every goal scored was gotten fairly, but with Brown in his place these things would never have happened. It was thought he would recover from the severe injuries received at Peterborough, but it was not to be so, and consequently Felix Sowden, a junior, who has only played two games of hockey in his life, was put on to fill the position. How could the boy be expected to take the place of such an able man as Brown, who has been in the game for years and has the reputation of being one of the best cover points in the O.H.A., which has been proven time and again? No blame can be attached to Sowden for the loss of the match, for he put up a good match, especially in the second half, and no junior with as little experience could have done any better, and in the course of another year he will go up into senior company. The H. Ontarios should be proud of him as one of their comrades.

Two special trains, (One each from Peterborough and Port Hope,) carried down fully 800 people, never mentioning dozens of sleigh loads—the Cobourg road being lined with every available band sleigh and private rig in town. The scene in the rink was one never to be forgotten, surging masses streamed into the rink two hours before the game started, and when it became jammed to overflowing the doors were thrown open and the mass of crowding humanity extended far into the street, some never getting near enough to have a glimpse of the ice. As far as can be estimated nearly 2000 souls were endeavouring to witness the match.

Owing to the terrible crowd at the entrance the players could not get into the rink, which caused a long delay, and when the players were ready there was considerable trouble experienced by the officials in keeping the spectators off the ice and the men were forced to take to the rafters, while ladies were jammed in the first square inch that could be found vacant. Truly it was a record crowd, and it is a blessing there was no serious accident.

At 9.25 the puck was faced and the players struggled like demons at centre for a minute, then excitement would surround Port Hope's goal, only to be changed a few seconds later by a rush on the Peterborough citadel. This style of furious play continued almost unceasingly for 25 minutes, when Laurenceson was ruled off for an accidental trip, then Peterborough got the advantage and immediately scored their first, much to the delight of some Cobourg hoodlums, who hissed the Port Hope players and adopted every insulting means, using language not fit for any decent person to listen to. This of course does not apply to all the Cobourg folks, but to the low bred herd who makes a practice of insulting every team that visits that town.

When play was resumed, the visitors were immediately put on the defensive, and the Ontarios tried hard to even up, but shot after shot was stopped by a leg or an arm, when a score looked almost sure. After 6 1-2 minutes Peterborough added another from a scrimmage in front of goal, which ended the scoring for the first half.

The second half started like lightning, and saw Port Hope very aggressive, in fact the Peterboronians were kept continually on the defensive for seven minutes, when Harold Armstrong came to the rescue, managing to work in one of his famous rushes, which resulted in a goal. Score 3 to 0 in favour of Peterborough.

It seemed hard to see the visitors add another to their score, when the Ontarios had the best of the game, but this only encouraged Port Hope to greater efforts, and in two minutes they scored their first, after some brilliant work of the forwards who were simply "putting it all over" their opponents. Never was there such a pace, it was "even quicker than fast," and the Ontarios appeared to be standing it well while the visitors showed plainly, signs of fatigue, and were resorting to defensive tactics, and would mass in front of goal, which prevented many a shot from scoring. However, after nine minutes more Port Hope made the tally read, Peterborough 3, Ontarios 2, with a chance of many more.

The supporters of the "tan and white" felt confident now, as their favourites were certainly playing rings around Peterborough and everything pointed to victory, when Armstrong again did his team a great service by making a lucky lift from cover point, the puck landing in the net without being detected, on account of the poor light. This made the game look sure for Peterborough, but still the Ontarios went in harder than ever, and tallied in 2 minutes. Score 4 to 3.

There was only a minute or so left till full time, and during this the Peterboroughs were kept busy repelling the vigorous attacks made by the Ontarios, managing to keep the score as it was. And so ended one of the fastest games of hockey that ever took place, and although the Ontarios lost, they are certainly a great team, even without old "Husky" Brown, and can finish faster than any team on ice to-day.

Here's success to Peterborough Port Hope is now out of the running, but takes the reverse with a smile.

Peterborough has a great man in Harold Armstrong. He only got in a couple of rushes last night, but each time they counted as goals. He scored twice unassisted, and was instrumental in another.

Port Hope's forward line showed up well last night and set a pace in the last half that would be hard to beat. They clearly outplayed the Electric Town rush line.

Two of the galleries in the rink gave way at the conclusion of the game, and the people had to be taken down on a portion of the fence, which was used as a ladder. A panic was narrowly escaped.

Geo. Brown was a broken-hearted boy last night because of his inability to play. He would have been a tower of strength to the defence.

The gate receipts amounted to $329, which is the largest ever recorded in this district, as far as known. Will the people of Port Hope now refuse to build a rink?

The showing made last night by the Ontarios, crippled as they were, convinces everybody in town that they are really a harder team to beat than Peterborough, that is, of course when all the best men are in place.

It had been rumoured that the Ontarios had been making dainty trips to Cobourg for practice, but this was not so, as the boys had not been on Cobourg rink since the Lindsay game. Nothing could have been more neutral than that rink last night.

Art Bourne played a great game at point, displaying a cool head at the most critical stages of the game. His lifting was a big feature. Bobbie Mercer was brilliant as usual, and did his part well.

It is now up to Peterborough to bring that Garland Cup to this district, and anything Port Hope can do to help along the cause, will be freely given. This town has nothing but good wishes to offer them. They have yet a long rough road to travel, and it will necessitate a great effort to land right side up.

PUCK AND STICK.

It is altogether likely that the Peterborough Intermediates will now have to play off with one of the Kingston teams. The local men are not overly fond of Kingston's rink, as being accustomed to playing in a well-boarded one the low sides of the Kingston structure militate greatly against their chances of winning out. The Kingston rink is also poorly lit and the O.H.A. Executive will probably be petitioned to arrange for better lighting facilities on the Kingston rink before the Peterboroughs go down to play.

The Port Hope Hockey Team is a good finisher on the ice and a good off it, as shown by the fact that although it has been put out of the running by the Peterboroughs. Nothing but good wishes are extended by it to the latter club in its future games.

The Intermediates are scheduled to play the winners of Queens II and R. M.C. in the next draw, but an effort is being made to have such a change made as will group the local club in with the Wellington's II instead.

Owing to the ice being in use by the curlers, as is the case the first Monday in each month, the team will not practice this evening, but a full turn out is asked for the balance of the week.

Dick Watt has got over the rush that has kept him out of the game for the past two weeks, and will be found at practice regularly the balance of the season.

No word has been yet received from the Executive as to what team Peterborough will be drawn against in the semi-finals.

TRENT VALLEY FINALS.

Fenelon Falls put Bobcaygeon out of the running in the Trent Valley League on Friday night, and the clubs that are now left in the series are Norwood, Fenelon Falls and Keene. The finals have been arranged by giving Fenelon Falls a bye and Keene and Norwood will play home and home matches the first of which will take place in Keene on Friday night of this week.

CURLIANA.

The Lindsay curlers are anxious to have the date of the Ontario Tankard finals changed in order that Mr. Flavelle's trip to the Winnipeg bonspeil will not prevent his rink figuring in the former event. It might be as well if these big events could be so arranged after this that there would be no clash. Mr. Flavelle's is not the only rink from Ontario which will be represented at Winnipeg, as Skip Sykes of Oshawa is also going.

Quite a few curlers from town will attend the big Orillia bonspeil. It is said that Mr. Sam Ray will take his tankard rink up to the northern town.

It might be as well before the local curling committee changes any more of the dates for the schedule games if they would consult the skips concerned. Friday night's games were changed back to Thursday, and in consequence there were a lot of absentees.

The appended draw has been made for the twelve rink bonspeil this evening:

CANADA'S FISHERIES

THOSE OF CAPE BRETON OFFER A LARGE SCOPE FOR CAPITAL.

The Lobster Fisheries Bring the Fishermen the First Money of the Year—How They Are Conducted—The Eastern Salmon, That Queer Fish the Mackerel and the Herring.

The lobster fisheries are the most important of Cape Breton, and they bring the first money to the fishermen of the coast after the winter. The season varies at different points, according to the route of the lobsters returning from the sea. On one stretch of coast it begins on April 1st, and on another a month later. The season closes in July and August. A lobster trap is a cage made of slats, one end being fitted with a wire cone, making entrance comparatively easy and exit impossible. The lobster returning from deep water is a most hearty eater, and is tempted into the trap by a fish's head or some other piece of refuse used as a bait. The traps are sunk to the bottom, attached to a line, sometimes close to shore, and sometimes five or six miles out, and the fisherman lifts his trap, takes his lobster out through the door, baits it again, for the imprisoned lobster invariably devours everything within reach, and returns it to the water. The law requires that every female to which spawn is clinging and every lobster under eight and a half inches long be returned to the water. The habits of the lobster are as peculiar as his name and personal appearance. Although a poor traveler, he spends his youth in deep water, and is never seen during that period. The female carries the unhatched spawn externally, and often makes a bed in shallow water, where she surrounds herself with the young fry. But the young soon disappear and do not return until they have attained a reasonable size. A fisherman will often own from 50 to 60 traps, while some of the licensed packers will have from 3,000 to 8,000 traps operated by their employes. The independent fishermen sell their catch to the packers, the price ranging from $2 to $2.50 and $3 per cwt. The 70 packers operating at different points around the coast are licensed by the Federal Government, and no license is required by the fisherman. A lobster that dies is worthless, and every fisherman must keep his catch alive till he reaches the cannery. To save the flesh from deterioration it is necessary to put them alive into the boiling kettles and keep them there till they are thoroughly cooked. The thoughts of cruelty are softened by the theory that a lobster has no highly developed nervous sensation, and by the widely-recognized fact that he is palatable when boiled.

The Eastern Salmon.

The salmon is an important commercial fish in Cape Breton waters, and the fish range in weight from eight to twenty-five pounds. They arrive at the coast about the end of May, and about the middle of the third week of June they began to appear in the harbors and streams. The salmon always spawns in fresh water where there is a precipitate current, and in preparing a nest a male and female salmon will sometimes remove stones three and four pounds in weight. The spawn is laid in the nest and covered lightly with sand and gravel, a situation being chosen that will keep it perpetually agitated by the running water throughout the winter. In June the fry are liberated from the eggs and make for deep water, where they remain, it is believed, for four years, when they return to the same river, seeking spawning beds. Some of the salmon that arrive late remain during the winter in the fresh-water pools. Returning to the salt water in the spring, they are lean and ravenous, and will take every fly that is cast within their reach. In this migration they afford excellent sport, but their flesh is bad and rejected by the ichthyophagists of the coast. The local name for these fish is "slink salmon." By the time they reach the coast of the mainland the flesh is again in good condition. There are about 50 miles of coast along which a large force of men engage in gill-net fishing for salmon, and it has been thought necessary to establish a hatchery at Margaree, at a cost of $8,000, to sustain the supply. The work of construction is now under way, and a hatchery with sufficient capacity for handling 1,500,000 eggs will be in operation and ready to restock the river with fry in June next year. The canning industry so prominent in British Columbia has not developed, but a great quantity of the catch is frozen and shipped in that condition. There are two freezing plants on Cape Breton, and the operators buy largely from the independent fishermen. There is also a large quantity bought at various local points and shipped on ice to adjacent markets. A large part of the salmon catch is pickled and smoked by the fishermen at their homes around the coast, and smoked salmon is an important line of export. The season for gill-net fishing, which is permitted in tide water around the coast, opens in May, and for fly and surface fishing by hand in the rivers and harbors about a month later. The results which follow the haphazard way in which this industry is conducted show that there is an opening for the development of a big trade in canned, smoked or frozen salmon from the Cape Breton fisheries.

The Mackerel a Queer Fish.

The mackerel is a fish of peculiar habits, and his beautiful blue and grey markings have given his name to an equally beautiful aspect of the clouds. A mackerel sky, the blue covered with small open ripples of grey, calls to mind a fish about the size of a herring, but with habits as strange as those of the fur seals of the Pribyloff Islands. The mackerel is a warm water fish, and if caught in the Gulf of St. Lawrence by the cold winter currents he becomes numb and dies. Every year these fish return from the warm currents of the equator and making their first appearance off Cape Hatteras, and passing in immense shoals up along the Nova Scotia coast, around Cape Breton, and on to their spawning grounds at the Magdalen Islands, where they spawn in the bottoms of salt water bays. Just where they spend the winter is a matter of surmise. some think they descend into the muddy bottom of the ocean. On their first appearance they are thin and poor, which would indicate a comatose condition, and some fishermen say the earliest have been found with scales on their eyes. They appear in immense shoals, and are pursued by American fishermen in steam vessels, from which they operate purse seines. A sweep of one of these seines from the small boats of which they are operated has been known to capture many barrels of fish. When the shoals enter the three-mile limit on the Nova Scotia coast, the purse seine operators must abandon them, and the fish are then taken with gill nets by the local fishermen. They are also taken by hand lines from small boats, each fisherman operating several lines. Another peculiarity of the mackerel is its rapid growth. From the spawn deposited in May the waters are alive with young mackerel in July. In August they are seven or eight inches long, and are known locally as tinkers. The season is not open at this time, but many are taken by bad lines. Besides it is quite natural that the fisherman should retain primative ideas as to the ownership of the ocean. By September and October they have reached their full growth, and are on their way to the warm waters of the tropical Atlantic. This rapid growth is analogous to that of the young hair seal, for the hunters often wait 48 hours for the pups to grow sufficiently large to be killed.

Cape Breton Herring.

There are three runs of herring on the Cape Breton coast, the fish being of a marked difference in species, and the fishermen operate as the fish make their appearance. The spring herring is small, and the large quantity taken in gill nets is used chiefly for bait. The summer run is the commercial herring of Cape Breton, a large fish of excellent quality. These fish swarm into the bays and harbors of the island about midsummer, and are taken with gill nets in large quantities. The fishermen do their own salting and barrelling, and the trade is of considerable importance. The fall herring is not so large, but is nicely flavored. Herring spawn in the bays and harbors, and attach the eggs to sandy and pebbly surfaces.

Cod Fishing.

Along the coasts of Cape Breton cod fishing is a leading productive industry. The primative method of hook and line is still the best means available, and the fishermen lowers his big baited hook in from ten to eighty fathoms of water. Craft from fourteen-foot keel to ninety tons displacement are used by the fishermen, and lines are lowered from within 200 yards of shore to ten miles out at sea. The hand line and the trawl, the latter a line with several hooks attached, and made fast to a mooring, are the only devices employed. Herring is the common bait, but chapelin and squid are said to be better, and although they spawn on the bottom the eggs float on the surface, and are hatched there. The work of pickling and drying codfish is done by the fishermen at their homes along the coast. The cleaned fish are stacked like cordwood, each layer being sprinkled with salt, and after that has taken effect the fish are spread out on flakes of woven wire or wood slats raised four or five feet from the ground. The north wind is said to be the best for drying, and in it the fish are tended and turned till they are hard, dry and ready for bundling.

Ravages of the Hair Seal.

The hair seal, which furnishes Newfoundland with its chief industry, is regarded as the enemy of the codfish, and it is not uncommon for a seal captured at sea to have a dozen small codfish in his stomach. As the seals are so numerous that from 300,000 to 400,000 are killed in a season, the destruction of fish must be enormous. But that is the way throughout all nature's warfare, and the seals devouring the codfish enable a ship's crew of 300 men to slaughter a cargo worth $50,000 in from twelve to twenty days. There are complaints of the decadence of the fishing industry and of the disappearance of the fishermen and their boats from the coast and islands. But if such decadence exists, it is no doubt due to the preference of the young men for steadier and perhaps easier work in the newly developing coal and steel producing industries. The freedom of a fisherman's life will never lose its charm, and so long as there is a rich harvest to be reaped from the sea willing hands will be ready to gather it in.—S. T. Wood, in Toronto Globe.

An Appeal To Mothers

To Protect the Little Ones From Coughs and Colds That so Frequently Lead to Consumption in Later Years.

It is possible that you have been accustomed to consider that every advertisement is for the benefit of the advertiser only. In this you have been mistaken, as you will probably admit if you read about Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, and have an opportunity of testing its value in your family.

Every mother is anxious to learn of effective means of combating the ills which cause her children to suffer. Many have learned how to conquer croup, bronchitis, whooping cough, sore throat, severe coughs and colds, by reading the advertisements of Dr Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. Some mothers have even taken the trouble to write letters thanking us for making known to the public the merits of this great cough and cold medicine. They realized that to them the advertising was news of great value.

It almost seems like wasting space to tell of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. So many know about it, have tested its virtues, and seek its healing power whenever in need of treatment for throat and lungs. But there are many rivals and many imitations. Hosts of druggists stand ready to offer a substitute if the buyer is not firm in his demands for the genuine and reliable Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine.

You cannot afford to let your cold run on and on, developing into chronic bronchitis, serious lung trouble or consumption. You cannot plead ignorance of effective treatment. Prudence suggests the wisdom of keeping Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine in the house all the time to protect the children, and grown people as well, from the ills of cold weather. 25c a bottle. Family size 60 cents. At all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. 8

Oil on Troubled Waters.

A test of a cannon that throws a shell designed to scatter oil on boisterous waves was recently made. The shell is of wood and conical in shape. It contains two gallons of oil. At one end of the projectile is a vent. This is covered with paper, which is blown off as the shell leaves the piece, allowing the oil to escape. In this way it is the purpose of the inventor to calm a rough sea for the distance of a mile, making a smooth path for a lifeboat to follow on her way to disabled vessels.

CAUSE TO REJOICE.

The earth was not made in a day, neither is rheumatism cured in a day. Mrs. Jacob Dairmaid, Black River Bridge, Prince Edward County, Ont., suffered intense pain in both limbs for a year and a half, and two physicians were unable to give her relief. Half a bottle of Dr. Hall's Rheumatic Cure gave her ease and five bottles, with the Climax Iron Tonic Pills, effected a permanent cure. Her many friends are rejoiced at her recovery. This great blood purifier is put up in bottles containing ten days treatment. Price 50 cents at all drug stores or The Dr. Hall Medicine Co., Kingston, Ont.

FOSSIL FLOUR.

A Novel Industry That Flourishes in Nova Scotia—A Good Case of All Round Tenacity.

Thirteen hundred and forty feet above the level of Cobequid Bay, N.S., resting almost on the mountain top, lies Base River Lake, the source of the far-famed Base River. Within the memory of man this lake, except for a short period, held water of a pellucid kind. In its depths the speckled trout sported, and here and there other denizens of the forest-fringed and shadow-darkened basins lived and multiplied. And herein was formed the material whence has sprung one of the most unique industries in the world.

Twenty years ago, through some unseen rift, the waters were lost, and for months the lake remained a bog. A curiously oozy liquid covered the ribs of its rocky bed. On this liquid the sun's rays had no perceptible effect. The bog never dried. It remained as moist at the end of the summer as when the waters first slipped into the crevasses of the mountain side. But when winter came and bound the reaches the lake again filled up, remaining thus until the hand of man tunnelled and ditched a channel whereby to drain its contents.

During the dry time of twenty years ago various examinations of the substance lying on the bottom of the lake were made by persons drawn thither by the phenomena. Various samples of the curious white deposit were removed from the lake and sent for analysis to different parts, but the earliest attempt to make use of the silicious deposit was made in 1892, when a small building was erected and quantities of the stuff mined. This was turned into pots or boilers for the purpose of removing impurities and the moisture. Brisk fires were built under the boilers. But here again was demonstrated that which had been demonstrated almost twenty years before, when Old Sol tried his caloric rays without effect upon the intractable mass. It would not dry.

In 1898 another company erected a plant similar in most respects to an ordinary flour mill. Steam boilers and an engine for operating the machinery were added, also huge evaporating furnaces. Contracts were let for thousands of cords of wood; and a pole railway upon which ran an engine and cars was constructed from the lake building to the water's edge at the Bay.

Meantime trenches were being cut near the outlet of the lake at a point which would cause most of the water to run out and down the mountain. In this manner large parts of the lake were drained. The slime and black mud were next removed and then operations for the manufacture of the product were begun. Nearly the whole of the summer of 1895 was consumed in this work of preparation, and by the time the plant was good and ready winter was near, necessitating suspension till the following spring.

Special machinery was invented to assist in the drying process, and from that time forward the improvements have been continued until the present, with the result that this year 1,500 tons of the best grade goods of its class have been put upon the market.

At the lake men dig the putty-like clay and toss it into tram-cars which run from the pit to the mill. After reaching the mill huge cauldrons receive the stuff, and it is boiled. This boiling is done to eliminate part of the impurities. Then the mass is pressed into cakes to remove some of the water. These cakes are put away for a season, and when again brought out they are, so far as the novice may judge, good and dry. But herein lies the mistake, as well as the block over which all who have endeavored to manufacture the staff have stumbled. Did they but turn one of these cakes into the rolls of the flour mill, the instant the wheels revolved there would appear a pasty mass covering and clogging everything it touched. Instead of being dry the stuff would show as wet almost as a rag after dish-washing. How, then, is it dried? Well, in the first place the cakes are broken up by means of a machine like a monstrous meat chopper, and before being further treated appear to be in a state much like culm coal, though entirely without dust. In this state it goes by means of feed belts to an inner chamber, whence it passed through some sort of thing or machine which effectually rids it of all the troublesome moisture as well as the balance of the impurities.

When the visitor next sees the stuff which he, at first glance, thought was dry, it is dry, and from this point very little trouble is encountered in the further process of manufacture. The dried material is then turned into the hoppers of the flour mill, and it is ground much the same as wheat: thence it goes into bags, each holding 100 pounds, ready to be conveyed to the wharf.

The fossil flour is used for various purposes, as in making rubber compounds, in producing ultramarine dyes, as covering for steam pipes, boilers, etc., to prevent heat radiation; it is made into silver polish of the finest quality; also polish for tinware and baser metals. New uses are being discovered continually for this remarkable flour, and it is rapidly superseding whiting and zinc. Ordinary elastic bands contain a filler of some kind or other. This filler is added for several reasons—to dry out the sticky quality of the gum from which the rubber is made, to toughen the stock, to increase its elasticity, to strengthen and increase the bulk. Whiting and zinc have usually been compounded with the caoutchouc gum for these and other reasons. Fossil flour used instead produces stronger and tougher stock, reduces the cost, and permits numberless departures in the manufacture of rubber goods. Both in strength, liveliness, and usefulness, it does not deteriorate the stock, but gives it uniformity and solidity.

Baby's Birth.

How many a woman dates a life of chronic invalidism from baby's birth. She tries "different doctors and different medicines" with little benefit. Then, fortunately her attention is called to the remarkable cures resulting from the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and she gives the medicine a trial. Her experience is that of ninety-eight women out of every hundred who use "Favorite Prescription" for womanly ills—she is cured.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is peculiarly a mother's medicine. Its use before maternity makes the baby's advent practically painless. It gives the mother strength to nurse her child. It cures diseases peculiar to women and cures them permanently.

There is no alcohol, opium, cocaine or any other narcotic in "Favorite Prescription." It is purely a vegetable preparation and cannot disagree with the weakest constitution.

Mrs. Emerson Allen, of Dorset, Ontario Co., Ont., writes: "I can truly say that I think Dr. Pierce's medicines the best I have ever used. I was in very poor health for a long time, dating from the birth of my little girl. I tried different doctors and different medicines. I derived very much more benefit from your medicines than from any other I have ever used. I took four bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and three bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and I always keep the 'Pellets' in the house."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, paper bound, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

BUTTER AS A MEDICINE.

It Is Good For Consumptives and For Thin, Weak People.

Butter is so common a commodity that people use it and scarcely ever think what wonderful value lies at their hand in the pats of dainty yellow cream fat. Of course they know that it is useful in many branches of cookery and that without its aid the table would be bare of its thinly rolled bread and butter, its delicate cakelets and its other usual accessories. Beyond these uses the value of butter is a thing only vaguely thought of.

But this delicate fat is as valuable as the dearer cod liver oil for weakly, thin people, and doctors have frequently recommended the eating of many thin slices of bread thickly spread with butter as a means of pleasantly taking into the bodily tissues one of the purest forms of fat it is possible to get.

Butter is a carbon, and all excess of it is stored up as fat in the body. It gives energy and power to work to those who eat heartily of it. So it is not economy at table to spare the butter, even to the healthy folk. For any one afflicted with consumption butter cookery, if plenty of fat can be digested, is one of the best ways of curing the disease if it is in its early stages or of keeping it at bay if advanced.

Butter is not a simple fat, composed of merely one sort. It is a mixture of no less than seven different sorts of fats, and no more complex oil can be taken than this is.

How a Diamond Cuts Glass.

It has been ascertained by a series of experiments that a diamond does not cut out the glass, file fashion, but forces the particles apart, so that a continuous crack is formed along the line of the intended cut. The crack once begun, very small force is necessary to carry it through the glass, and thus the piece is easily broken off. The superficial crack or cut need not be deep. A depth, according to fine measurements, of a two-hundredth part of one inch is quite sufficient to accomplish the purpose, so that the application of much force in using the diamond only wears out the gem without doing the work any better.

Numerous stones, such as quartz and other minerals, when ground into proper form, will cut glass like a diamond, but are not so valuable for that purpose, lacking the requisite hardness and soon losing the sharp edge necessary to make the operation a success.

Chinese Honesty.

As for the honesty of these people, I appeal to every English merchant or banker from Peking to Hongkong to answer if he ever heard of a dishonest Chinese merchant or banker. So far from that, not only has every English bank two Chinamen to receive and hand out money, but every bank in Japan has the same. The English will tell you, half in jest, that the Japanese is an oriental Yankee and does not trust his own people, and they will tell you, half in earnest, that the English bankers employ Chinese to handle their money because they never make mistakes.

These people of China have never had anything like a bankrupt law. If a man cannot pay his debts or some one does not secretly come forward and pay them at the end of each year, he has "lost his face," and so he dies by his own hand. Yet, with all their piteous poverty, they have no such words as "hard times," for everything must be settled up at the end of the year. There can be no extension of time. Confucius forbade it.—Joaquin Miller in North American Review.

Champagne and Cancer.

There is a remarkable coincidence between the spread of cancer and the largely increased daily consumption of effervescent wines and waters among the wealthy classes. Prior to the sixties champagne as a drink was, even in higher circles, partaken of but occasionally, nor were aerated waters consumed in anything like the quantity nor with the frequency that they now are. These beverages, and indeed all effervescing drinks, owe their sparkle to the carbonic acid gas which they contain. My contention is that the upper classes by their habit of constantly imbibing effervescent beverages, which are solutions of carbonic acid of greater or less strength, so prepare their mucous tissues as to make them a favoring host to the cancerous fungus, if fungus it be.—London Medical Times.

On Magnetic Healing.

Much is spoken and written during these times about this mysterious method of treating disease. The most truly remarkable cases of magnetic healing which have come under the notice of the writer have been those in which Dr. Chase's Ointment was used. This preparation seems to have magical powers in stopping the dreadful itching, burning sensations of Salt Rheum and Eczema, and when used regularly makes the cure thorough and permanent.

An Odd Use For the Pin.

An odd use that the pin was put to long ago was that of checking the intemperate habits of the English. St. Dunstan conceived the idea of dividing the tankards out of which the liquor was drunk into eight equal parts, each part marked with a silver pin. The cups were generous affairs, holding two quarts. Consequently the quantity from pin to pin was half a pint, and the regulation was that the drinker "stop at a pin."

Roisterers, however, prevented the purpose of good St. Dunstan and established the rule of "good fellowship," by which the drinker was to stop only at a pin. If he drank beyond, he had to go on to the next mark. As it was difficult to stop exactly at a pin the vain efforts always excited much mirth, and the trial usually ended with the draining of the tankard.

Just 400 Years After.

In 1492 Columbus discovered America. In 1892, just 400 years later, Merrill, a Brantford druggist, discovered Four T's, the great guaranteed cough and cold cure. In 5 years the sale of a quarter million bottles has proven that Four T's never fails to cure a cough in 24 hours and a cold in two days. Large bottles 25c at Ormond & Walsh's drug store.

Buying a Title.

It is not expensive to become a noble in Bavaria. To be made a simple "von" costs a matter of £75, to be raised to the "ritterstand" £100, to be made a "freiherr" £258, to be made a "graf" costs £500, while to be made a prince only costs £1,000. These prices are only for one person, but the government kindly makes reductions in the case of whole families wishing to turn noble all at once. Thus for £2,000 or £3,000 a small family can be made princes, though they are only permitted to use their title within the kingdom of Bavaria.

They Were Stayers.

After a dinner given by Stephen Price of Drury Lane theater, all the guests but Theodore Hook and the Rev. Edward Cannon retired. Price was suffering from gout, but as they disregarded his hints to retire he stole off and left them in high talk.

On the following morning Price inquired of his servant, "Pray, at what time did those gentlemen go last night?"

"Go, sir?" replied John. "They're not gone, sir. They have just rung for coffee."

EIGHT CONVINCING REASONS . . .

WHY YOU SHOULD INSURE IN

THE IMPERIAL LIFE ASSURANCE CO'Y OF CANADA.

1. It is a purely Canadian Company, having all its funds invested in Canadian securities, and transacting business only in Canada.

2. It maintains the largest Government Deposit of any Canadian Life Insurance Company.

3. It maintains relatively the strongest policy reserves of any Canadian Life Insurance Company.

4. Its past record — the greatest guarantee of the future — has been unparalleled in Canadian life insurance.

5. Its policy contract is one of the most liberal issued, consistent with safety and equity.

6. It has a Capital of $1,000,000, which makes policy-holders' security unquestionable. At the same time, the assured is practically in the same position regarding profits as if he held a policy in a mutual company, the Imperial's charter providing that at least 90 per cent. of all profits shall be divided amongst policy-holders.

7. For every $100 of liability to policy-holders it holds $100 of securely invested assets. These assets are all of the highest order, and will bear the closest scrutiny.

8. An Imperial policy never depreciates in value, but, on the contrary, is constantly becoming more valuable. It is the most valuable estate you can leave behind you.

WATERLOO MONUMENT.

Site of the Great Napoleon's Downfall to Be Marked by Sculpture of a Gigantic Dying Eagle.

France has at last, after a lapse of 86 years, decided to mark the site of Napoleon's downfall. Waterloo is to have a monument.

A short time ago, M. Henri Houssaye, an eminent historian and noted member of the French academy, together with Count de Mautoy and M. Gustave Larroumet, bought a plot of land at the junction of the high road from Brussels, and that from Planchenoit near the famous farm of La Belle Alliance, which was the centre of Napoleon's position in the great battle.

This ground has been offered to the military society "La Sabretache," which has opened a subscription for the erection of a monument. Already the response has been so generous that M. Jean Leon Gerome, the illustrious French sculptor and artist, has been given carte blanche, the only command issued being that the memorial must be of the finest materials.

He has promised it for the early part of this year, but the unveiling will not take place until the spring days come and the weather is warm enough to permit of a lengthy and elaborate ceremony.

The monument is a striking piece of work. The principal figure represents a dying eagle with one wing broken, and drooping by its side, and the other extended but pierced with bullets; one claw firmly grasps the French flag, while with the other the mortally wounded bird defends the colors on which are inscribed the words: "Austerlitz" and "Eylau."

The eagle is of bronze, and stands on a huge bowlder of marble over which the flag droops on one side, and on the other will be carved an inscription, the exact text of which has not yet been decided upon, but it will contain the date of the battle of Waterloo, and in a few brief sentences tell the results of the strife and also state that the monument is lovingly dedicated to the greatest general France had and to the noble men who so courageously and gallantly followed their leader.

The eagle measures two meters in height, and the extending wing three meters, 25. The entire monument, with pedestal and bronze, is 15 meters high, and is very impressive.

Magistrate and Drunkard.

At Southwark Court, a London paper relates, Henry Harris, laborer, was charged on remand of being drunk and disorderly. When first brought up he pleaded that in drinking beer and spirits he paid taxes. The more he drank the more taxes he paid, and therefore the State had no right to punish him for drunkenness. He now said he was very sorry, and asked the Magistrate to take a merciful view of the case. Mr. Taylor: You are the gentleman who last week indulged in a speech about the duties of the State. Well, it may please some people to know that you repudiate these silly remarks now that you are sober. Some individuals thought your remarks were most appropriate, and one person went to the length of writing me a letter, in which he said that my own head ought to be examined. (Laughter.) So far, the writer says, from there being anything nonsensical in what you said, he asserts that I must myself be mad, while your remarks were nothing but good, sound, common-sense. (Laughter.) You have not been here before, and you are discharged now.

A Scotch Cynic.

A young Scotchman was once halting between two loves, one possessed of beauty and the other of a cow. In despair of arriving at a decision he applied for advice to a canny compatriot, who delivered himself thus:

"Marry the lass that has the coo, for there's no the deeference o' a coo's value in any twa weemen in Christendom."

Men's Footwear Figures.

A man who wears size 5 shoes requires size 9 half hose; he who wears size 5½ shoes needs 9½ hosiery; 6½ to 7 calls for 10; 7½ to 8 goes with 10½; 8½ to 9 harmonizes with 11, and 9½ to 10 shoes strike a fit with 11½ hosiery.

A LARGE MEETING.

Despite the storm, Association Hall was filled with men yesterday afternoon at 4.15 who came to hear Mr. J. Howard Crocker, Physical Director of the Central Y.M.C.A., Toronto, speak on the "Man Complete." Mr. Crocker's address was deeply interesting and many present were much impressed by the truths presented. A quartette composed of Messrs. Raddon, Watson, Turner and Frowde, sang a much appreciated selection.

Cod Liver Oil From Beans.

During the wait between acts a medical student and a young woman who sat together became slightly embarrassed for topics of conversation. Finally and not unnaturally in view of the nature of the young man's studies their talk drifted to the subject of disagreeable tasting medicines. Among the horribles they mentioned were cod liver oil and castor oil.

"I don't see," mused the young woman, "how any one can bear to eat the beans that stuff is made of."

"What kind of beans do you mean?" inquired the young man.

"Why, cod liver oil beans, to be sure."

"Aren't you thinking of castor beans?" ventured her companion.

"Why, I always thought cod liver oil was made from beans," she said, and the good breeding of the young man was shown by the fact that he didn't even smile, but several of those who sat near by hadn't equal control over their features.

The newest lingerie is much decorated with beadings, through which run pure white or colored ribbons.

Nightgowns are many of them made of soft china silk, and a favorite model is covered with insertions of yellow lace. It has a short empire waist bordered by two rows of this insertion, and the sleeves are banded with it at intervals of two inches. There is a wide flat collar edged with lace, of which there is a frill down the front. The bottom of the nightgown has a wide flounce, also banded with the insertion. The corset cover which goes with this is in the shape of a blouse, banded with perpendicular insertions.

gic or triple flounces plaited with insertions, and a broad heading through which satin ribbon is run and tied at intervals into small bows.

Pale tinted underwear is no longer so much the fashion as it was last winter. White is used by the best people.

The blouse corset cover in the illustration is particularly adapted to a slender figure. It is made of fine batiste and valenciennes lace. The upper portion consists of tucks outlined by insertions. The shoulder straps, also tucked, are edged by a wide frill of the valenciennes. The fullness is confined at the waist line by a ribbon run through a wide beading.

Joe's Revelation.

Not long ago a nice young man was invited to dine at the home of an east end young woman and accepted the invitation with pleasure. It was just a family dinner, and everything was passing off well when an unpleasant and quite unforeseen incident occurred.

They were all discussing the pie, when the young woman's little brother, who had been regarding her closely, suddenly spoke up.

"Gee," he said, "look at Marie tryin' to put on style just 'cause Joe is here. She's eatin' her pie with a fork!"

It is needless to add that the cherubic child experienced a very unpleasant quarter of an hour after Joe had gone.

THE LOST CHANARAT

All of Her Crew But Two Went Down With Her.

THE FRENCH SHIP CAPSIZED.

Great Damage Done on the Continent—Rome Flooded—A Steam Trawler With Twelve Men Lost—The Storm on This Side of the Atlantic—Loss of Life at Long Island—Trains Snowbound.

London, Feb. 4.—The first officer of the French ship Chanarat was landed at Falmouth yesterday. He, with the mate, is the sole survivor of the crew of 22 men of the vessel, which was capsized off Ushant.

The mate was picked up from a small boat which had capsized several times, but which he had succeeded in righting each time. He is in a critical condition.

The barque wrecked off the Scilly Islands Sunday evening, which was supposed to be a German vessel, turns out to have been the Italian barque Logaro.

News has just been received here that the steam trawler Analby; with a crew of twelve men, belonging to Hull, has been lost in a snowstorm off Iceland.

After tossing helplessly in the English Channel for 65 hours, the Dover-Ostend passenger steamer Marie Henriette was towed into Ostend yesterday morning.

The gale is abating. In view of the severity of the weather, the number of casualties thus far reported, is comparatively small.

Reports of damage caused by the wind and snowstorms on the Continent and in Great Britain continue to be received. Carriage and street car traffic in Madrid has been stopped, and railroad trains are delayed. Some of the towns in Northern Spain are isolated, and fruit trees have been destroyed.

In Switzerland many villages have been cut off from communication.

Telegraphic communication with Italy is interrupted. There is now more snow in Venice than at any time during the past 25 years. The River Tiber rose 35 feet. The lower portion of Rome is flooded, as well as the Forum, the Pantheon and the Temple of Vesta. The water of the Tiber is now receding.

Several more wrecks off the British and French coasts are reported, and the crews of some of these vessels have been lost. Numerous ships are overdue.

Death and Disaster to Sailors.

New York, Feb. 4.—The gale which has been sweeping the coasts of Long Island and New Jersey for more than 24 hours and was continuing, though with abated force, last night, has brought death and disaster to sailors and their craft. Several bodies have been washed ashore at the eastern end of Long Island.

The Montreal express, which leaves here every night at 7.30, was taken off.

DAMAGE IN NOVA SCOTIA.

Many Vessels on Shore—Loss Will Reach $20,000.

Halifax, N.S., Feb. 4.— Sunday night's storm, which swept over Nova Scotia, was the most violent experienced in years. The wind reached hurricane force, and the tides were extraordinarily high. An immense amount of damage has been done to shipping along the western coast, but, so far, no loss of life has been reported.

The brig Ora, from Annapolis, for the West Indies, went ashore on Condon's Point, near Digby, and is badly damaged. The crew was saved. The masts are out of the vessel, and she is half-full of water.

Several other schooners are also ashore near Digby Gut. Three schooners are ashore on the Mud Flats at Liverpool, but none of them are badly injured.

Great damage was wrought by the storm at Lunenburg, and the fishing fleet has been seriously crippled. It is estimated that the damage to shipping alone will amount to $20,000. Fifteen schooners, some of them ashore, and others in collision, have been damaged as a result of the gale.

The brig Leo is also ashore, and is in a bad position. Several vessels have cargoes of salt, and they are all more or less damaged. The telegraph, telephone and electric light service were all interrupted last night by the storm, and they are not in working order yet. The trains due here last night are all behind time.

MONTREAL UNDER SNOW.

Two Feet Have Fallen, and It Will Take Days to Clean.

Montreal, Feb. 4.—Montreal is struggling to extricate itself from the worst storm of the season. It began with Saturday's downfall of soft, damp snow, and developed into a regular old-fashioned, midwinter snowstorm. The snow stopped falling yesterday morning, but a strong wind kept drifting what had already fallen. The snowfall was, altogether, nearly two feet. As there had been heavy drifting with the wind, the streets were seen rendered in a very bad shape, and the street car service was badly crippled in spite of all that could be done.

The temperature, fortunately, did not fall very low yesterday, there being merely a variation between 21 and 29 degrees recorded at the City Hall Observatory. At 3 o'clock yesterday morning, the temperature was 25 above, and, at 11 o'clock, 8 above, and still falling, the velocity of the wind varying from 42 to 46 miles an hour. Owing to the heavy drifting, it was impossible to do much towards ameliorating the condition of the streets yesterday.

Some 1,200 men were engaged and set to work, and a few single sleighs, but while the snow continues to drive, it was impossible to do much good. It is hoped that it will be possible to empty 600 sleighs to-day and a few days will soon make a big impression on the huge banks of snow along the sides of the tracked streets.

St. John, N.B., Reeds Blown Off.

St. John, N.B., Feb. 4.— Sunday night's storm was the worst in years. Great damage was done to property in the city. The York Cotton Mills, at the east end of the city, lost its roof, and suffered other damage. The opera house roof is gone, scenery auditorium and lobby badly damaged. The Bijou Company was obliged to abandon its performance, until temporary repairs are made. Jones' brewery, the Court House, waterworks building, McAvity's and many private residences suffered by the storm. The wind was from the south-east and 60 miles an hour.

STALLED AT TWEED.

Railway Traffic Completely Blocked by the Storm.

Ottawa, Feb. 4.—The blizzard which raged all day Sunday and up to a late hour yesterday morning has completely blocked railway traffic. The C.P.R. train which left Toronto at 10 o'clock Sunday night had not arrived late last night, and it is reported to be somewhere between Tweed and Peterboro. The C.P.R. train which left Ottawa at 11 o'clock Sunday night is stalled at Tweed. On board is Hon. J. I. Tarte, who is on his way to attend the launching of the new steamer Montreal at the Bertram shipyards and the banquet fixed for last evening. The Canada Atlantic, which pulled out from Montreal at four o'clock Sunday afternoon for Ottawa only reached here at 7.30 yesterday morning. It should have got here at 10 o'clock Sunday night.

Two Trains Wrecked.

St. Thomas, Feb. 4.—The storm played havoc with railway traffic on all the lines entering the city, including the M.C.R. and Wabash, C.P.R. and L. E. & D.R.R. No. 1 Michigan Central, due here at 6 yesterday morning, ran off the track owing to a broken rail at Springfield at noon, and although both engines and the entire train left the track no one was injured. The engine of the passenger train on the L.E. & D.R.R., due here at 1 p.m., jumped the track within a mile of the city, and at 4 p.m. a train had to go out and bring in the passengers.

COLD PROSPECTS AHEAD.

A Splendid Outlook For Several Days of Severely Cold Weather in Ontario—The Observatory's Forecast.

Toronto, Feb. 4.—The storm is dispersing over the Gulf of St. Lawrence, but the outlook is splendid for several days of severely cold weather. The Observatory reported a temperature of 12 degrees at 10 o'clock last night, with the indications that the mercury would go near to the zero mark during the night. To-day it will be milder, and to-night the zero mark will be again approached, or even touched, while, on Wednesday it will be still colder.

A mere bagatelle was the snowfall at Toronto, compared with what Ottawa and Quebec had doled out yesterday and Sunday. In the Ottawa Valley, fully 20 inches fell, while Quebec got fully two feet to shovel away from the front door, and the end is not yet. There will be some flurries in different localities in Ontario within the next few days.

Railway Traffic Demoralized.

Railway traffic was entirely demoralized yesterday. The C.P.R. express from Montreal, due here at 7.15 a.m., did not come in until 11.10 last night. The G.T.R. Montreal train, due at 7.25 a.m., pulled in at 3.20 p.m. Other trains were also delayed. Several trains were cancelled owing to the bad condition of the road.

NOVEL TEMPERANCE WORK.

Gen. Booth Expects to Have Co-Operation of Saloonists in It.

London, Feb. 4.—At a mass meeting held in Exeter Hall last night, General Booth, the leader of the Salvation Army, inaugurated a special temperance campaign, as a feature of the work of the Salvation Army during the present year. General Booth said he relied confidently upon the co-operation of saloon keepers in the work, through their indicating habitual drunkards, inasmuch as the supplying of habitual drunkards with liquor endangered the publican's license, and that he intended to complete a drunkards' directory in each town and follow the habitual drunkards home and reform them there.

St. Thomas, Feb. 4.—Police Sergt. W. Armstrong received a telephone message from Parkhill, stating that his ten-year-old niece, the daughter of Samuel Payson, farmer, McGillivray Township, about seven miles from Parkhill, had been caught in a cutting machine and killed. The deceased was also a niece of James Armstrong, M.C.R. brakeman.

J. D. PEARCE, Chairman.

The report was adopted, upon motion of Mr. Pearce, seconded by Mr. W. H. Casement.

Mr. Pearce introduced a bylaw providing for the confirmation of the report of the Finance Committee.

The bylaw was duly passed and signed by the Warden.

Warden Eastland announced that he had received a communication from the treasurer of the Township of Asphodel giving a statement of the amount of money that was paid by that township to the County Treasurer.

The communication was received, and referred to the auditors.

Dr. Jeffs introduced a bylaw appointing Messrs. W. Sherin and Wm. O'Brien as auditors for the year.

Mr. Pearce expressed his disapproval of the changing of one of the auditors, claiming that the new auditor, Wm. O'Brien, would have to go back over three-fourths of the year's work already done, in order to complete the yearly audit.

THE SUGAR BEETS.

Mr. Peck moved, seconded by Mr. Costello, that—

"This council is firmly of the opinion that the establishment of a factory at some point in the county for the manufacture of beet sugar would largely tend to the increase of the trade and prosperity of the county, and that Messrs. Fitzgerald, Anderson and Peck be a committee to ascertain the prospects of securing such an industry, and to act if desirable in co-operation with any other committee appointed by the Town of Peterborough, or any association formed for this purpose."—Carried.

The County Engineer, Mr. John Belcher, submitted the following conditions governing the duties of the caretaker of the Chemong bridge;

The caretaker must reside convenient to the bridge, within hail of the bridge, and the whistle of the steamboats, and to be on hand at all times to operate the bridge swing and to keep the lamp lighted from sunset to sunrise. He is to keep the bridge in all its parts in perfect repair and clean from drift, the swing gear kept well oiled. He is also to assist in repairing the gear. He is further to keep the ice cut around the piers constantly, and around new guard or guards or booms that may be required for the protection of the bridge, and to be at all times polite and courteous to travellers thereon. He is to obey the instructions of the Warden and of the chairman of the Bridge Committee, and those of County Engineer. Neglect of any of the above instructions is, if considered necessary, to operate in his immediate dismissal.

The council then adjourned.

FOR MUNICIPAL REFERENDUM.

Chicago League Secures One-Fourth of Voters of Cook County.

Chicago, Feb. 4.—The Referendum League has won its first big victory.

In all likelihood the following questions will be submitted to a vote of the people at the spring election:

"For ownership by the city of all street railways within the corporate limits.

"For ownership by the city of the gas and electric lighting plants, said plants to furnish light, heat and power for public and private use.

"For the nomination of all candidates for city offices by direct vote of the voters at primary elections to be held for that purpose."

Borne aloft on a plank and draped about with flags, the great Referendum League petition was carried into the office of the Elections Commissioners just 25 minutes before the hour of midnight Saturday—25 minutes before the time for filing for the spring election expired.

It took seven men to carry the petition up the stairs of the City Hall.

With the petition came a declaration that it contained over 100,000 names, more than the required, one-fourth of the registered vote of Cook County. In bulk the referendum document is half as high as a man. It is bound round with stout ropes and now reposes in a vault in the offices of the commissioners.

Prohibition in Perth.

Stratford, Feb. 4.—A prohibition convention was held here yesterday. On account of the heavy snowstorm the attendance was, consequently, small. It was decided to form a branch of the Dominion Alliance for North Perth, and committees to nominate officers, etc., were appointed. Last night a public meeting was held in the City Hall.

Fell Forty Feet.

Pickering, Ont., Feb. 4.—Mr. Oliver Crevier, a Frenchman from Montreal, fell about forty feet, from the new temporary bridge on the Grand Trunk yesterday afternoon. He sustained severe injuries about the head.

Peace Treaty Signed.

Managua, Feb. 4.—The treaty of peace signed by the Central American presidents recently has been subscribed to by the Secretaries of Foreign Relations of Salvador, Honduras, Nicaragua and Costa Rica. The treaty has been published. It provides for the maintenance of harmony between the four Republics and for the establishment of compulsory arbitration for the settlement of all troubles between the countries. The opening of the Court of Arbitration is set for September 15th. It will meet in Costa Rica.

DEVASTATED BY FIRE.

Hear of the City of Waterbury, Conn., Almost Entirely Wiped Out—Loss Over $5,000,000.

Waterbury, Conn., Feb. 4.— The City of Waterbury stands devastated by fire. The loss, according to the estimates of the most conservative business and insurance men, will run between $4,000,000 and $6,000,000. With all this property loss there has been, strange to say, no loss of life and but few accidents have been recorded.

The city's heart, taking in a triangle, bounded on the north by Exchange place, on the west by Bank street, on the south by Grand street, and on the east by South Main, has nearly been wiped out.

The first fire, which began about 6.20 Sunday night in the big store of the Reid & Hughes Dry Goods Company on Bank street, was not considered under control until about $3,000,000 worth of property had been destroyed. About the time the firemen supposed they had the first fire under control a disastrous fire broke out in another quarter of the city near the City Hall and the Police Station.

The fire in its entirety burned over four acres of the city's choicest business section. Among the prominent buildings totally destroyed are the block occupied by the Reid & Hughes Dry Goods Company, the entire plant of the Waterbury American, the Masonic Temple, the two leading hotels of the city, the Scovil and Franklin Houses, the clothing stores of Jones, Morgan & Company, and J. B. Mullings, the Hamson-Sellew Furniture Company, the New England Engineering Company, the Sapuline-Hoffman Company, the W. L. Douglas Shoe Company, Ryan & Fitzmaurise, the Johnson Block, occupied by Cannon & Webster, Perschels Turkish Bath and the Salvation Army Workingman's Home, Jean Jacques' $40,000 block on Grand street, the Best Furniture Company, and scores of others. In all about 100 houses are burned out. The property loss may be estimated at between $2,000,000 to $2,500,000, and the loss on stock, etc., at as much more.

H. Derwin, a well-known professional ball player, a member of Protection Hose Company, was found partly frozen on the roof of a block adjoining Conlon's department store. He is unconscious and his condition is serious.

Some Embarrassed.

New York, Feb. 4.—It is estimated that the fire at Waterbury, Conn., will cost the leading insurance companies of this city about $1,500,000. Practically every company of importance is affected, and some are embarrassed by reason of the fact that they had records in buildings that were destroyed by fire.

UXBRIDGE FIRE SWEPT.

The Henry Block Entirely Destroyed Monday Morning Early.

Uxbridge, Ont., Feb. 4.—The building known as the Henry block, owned by N. Garland of Toronto, and occupied by C. S. Botsford, as a general store, was completely destroyed by fire yesterday morning. A blinding snowstorm, which has been raging for the past 24 hours, proved of no little service in saving the adjoining buildings.

Botsford's stock, valued at about twelve thousand dollars, is a total loss, partly covered by insurance. Other losers by the fire are Moore & Smith, agents of the Massey-Harris Co., and T. T. Thomson, dealer in farm machinery. The Browns, Combe Co., McGuire & Low, and J. A. Richards had their plate glass windows broken by heat. The Bell Telephone Co., the Postoffice and M. H. Crosby are also losers, by reason of removal.

No Argument Needed

Every Sufferer From Catarrh Knows That Salves, Lotions, Washes, Sprays and Douches do not Cure.

Powders, lotions, salves, sprays and inhalers cannot really cure Catarrh, because this disease is a blood disease, and local applications, if they accomplish anything, at all, simply give transient relief.

The catarrhal poison is in the blood and the mucous membrane of the nose, throat and trachea tries to relieve the system by secreting large quantities of mucous, the discharge sometimes closing up the nostrils, dropping into the throat, causing deafness by closing the Eustachian tubes, and after a time causing catarrh of stomach or serious throat and lung troubles.

A remedy to really cure catarrh must be an internal remedy which will cleanse the blood from catarrhal poison and remove the fever and congestion from the mucous membrane.

The best and most modern remedies for this purpose are Antiseptics scientifically known as Eucalyptol, Guaiacol, Sanguinaria and Hydrastin, and while each of these have been successfully used separately, yet it has been difficult to get them all combined in one palatable, convenient and efficient form.

The manufacturers of the new catarrh cure, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, have succeeded admirably in accomplishing this result. They are large, pleasant tasting lozenges, to be dissolved in the mouth, thus reaching every part of the mucous membrane of the throat and finally the stomach.

Unlike many catarrh remedies, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets contain no cocaine, opiate or any injurious drug whatever and are equally beneficial for little children and adults.

Mr. C. R. Rembrandt, of Rochester, N. Y., says: "I know of few people who have suffered as much as I from Catarrh of the head, throat and stomach. I used sprays, inhalers and powders for months at a time with only slight relief, and had no hope of cure. I had not the means to make a change of climate, which seemed my only chance of cure.

"Last spring I read an account of some remarkable cures made by Stuart's Catarrh Tablets and promptly bought a fifty cent box from my druggist and obtained such positive benefit from that one package that I continued to use them daily until I now consider myself entirely free from the disgusting annoyance of catarrh; my head is clear, my digestion all I could ask and my hearing, which had begun to fail as a result of the catarrh, has greatly improved until I feel I can hear as well as ever. They are a household necessity in my family."

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are sold by druggists at 50 cents for complete treatment and for convenience, safety and prompt results they are undoubtedly the long looked for catarrh cure.

"Cure-Alls" Didn't Cure

Only a Kidney Specific of the genuine merit of South American Kidney Cure can ever hope to cope with insidious kidney diseases in all its forms.

"For two years I was greatly troubled with an affection of the kidneys—frequently unfitting me for work. I tried many patent medicines and "cure-alls," without getting any relief, for I had intense pain almost constantly. South American Kidney Cure was recommended to me. A few hours after commencing its use I got great relief. Four bottles cured. It is worth its weight in gold."—Frank S. Emerick, Alvinston, Ont. 58

IRISH UPRISING EXPECTED.

No-Renters Hurry Rent-Paying Citizens From Their Homes.

London, Feb. 3.—While it is not always safe to rely upon reports received from Ireland, it would seem that a rising against rent paying has begun.

According to a reliable story, which has reached the Pall Mall Gazette from its correspondent at Roscommon, a very serious uprising has begun in that country.

Tenants who have paid rents, and even people suspected of having paid rents, have been raided at the dead of night by armed men, and therefore the reign of terror which was presaged is now no misnomer.

A few days ago Lord Freyne's agent was mobbed by a large crowd numbering about 300 rioters, and escaped by something like a miracle.

Midnight meetings are held nightly to support the no-rent policy of the Irishmen Assailing the Public Houses.

Dublin, Feb. 3.—That the Irish public house is about to be still more stoutly assailed was made evident at the enthusiastic meeting of the Irish Association for the Prevention of Intemperance, held Saturday in the Rotunda. The meeting passed a resolution calling on the Government to introduce measures at the present session of parliament for the suspension of the issue of all new licenses; for the reduction of the number of licensed houses, and for the reconstitution of the present licensing authority in Ireland.

Boys Wanted to Be Bandits.

Windsor, Feb. 3.—John Chapman, James Wilkie and Fred Pike, the young boys caught by the police posing as bandits in a shanty that had been fitted up with money young Wilkie had stolen from his grandfather, were before Magistrate Bartlett Saturday morning. Two days in jail had taken all the desire for bandit life out of them, and they were quite penitent. The court then gave them a severe lecture, and let them off on suspended sentence with instructions to report at the end of a month.

Five Thousand Threws Out.

Providence, R.I., Feb. 3.—All the mills of the American Woollen Company, located in Olneyville, were on Saturday closed for an indefinite period, because of the policy the weavers in the Wayhosset and Riverside mills pursued in antagonizing the double loom system by endeavoring to precipitate a general strike, and over 5,000 operatives are thus thrown out of employment.

Want a Prohibitory Law.

Woodstock, Feb. 3.—The convention called by the Temperance Association of this county was held Saturday afternoon and passed a resolution calling on the Ontario Government to pass a prohibitory law. Rev. Dr MacKay, president of the association, delivered a strong address against a referendum.

LOSING POPULATION

Rural Folk of Four Provinces Crowding Into Cities.

SOME MORE CENSUS FIGURES.

Returns From Quebec and the Maritime Provinces—Hon David Mills, Minister of Justice, Will Probably Go on the Supreme Court Bench and Be Succeeded by Hon. Charles Fitzpatrick.

Ottawa, Feb. 4.—The third census bulletin which completes the record of the population of the Dominion for 1901 by urban and rural classes has just been issued by Mr. Blue, the special census commissioner. Bulletin No. 2 dealt with Ontario and Manitoba only. Bulletin No. 3 gives the figures for the other provinces of the Dominion except British Columbia and the Territories.

The figures for 1901, with the increases or decreases, as compared with the census of 1891, by provinces, are as follows:

	Total.	Rural.	Urban.
Ontario	2,182,942	1,247,190	935,752
Increase	68,021	*48,133	116,754
Quebec	1,648,898	992,667	656,231
Increase	160,363	3,847	156,516
Manitoba	254,947	184,714	70,233
Increase	102,441	73,216	29,225
New Br'nsw'k	331,120	253,835	77,285
Increase	9,857	*18,527	28,334
Nova Scotia	459,574	330,191	129,383
Increase	9,178	*43,212	52,390
P. E. I.	103,259	88,304	14,955
Increase	*5,819	*6,519	700

* Means decrease.

This table shows that there has been a decrease in the rural population in Ontario, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island. The largest being in Ontario, with the Province of Nova Scotia a close second. Indeed, when the census of the Territories and British Columbia has been arranged into rural and urban divisions, it will be found that the net increase in the rural population of the Dominion is not nearly equal to the number of agricultural immigrants added to the population of Canada during the ten years.

New Minister of Justice.

Indications seem to point to the appointment of Hon. David Mills to the Supreme Court bench before Parliament meets. There is a strong impression that Hon. Charles Fitzpatrick will succeed Mr. Mills as Minister of Justice. There was much speculation over a visit paid to Rideau Hall Sunday afternoon by Mr. Fitzpatrick, but it turns out that the visit had reference to the Quebec carnival, which the Governor-General opened last evening. Hon. Chas. Fitzpatrick has accepted an invitation to attend the Canadian Club dinner at Hamilton on April 3.

THE LEGISLATURE.

Fifteen Members Greeted the Speaker, But 21 Were Present When the House Rose Half an Hour Later.

Toronto, Feb. 3.—To-day in the Legislative Assembly Mr. E. J. Barker Pense, the newly elected member for Kingston, was introduced by Hon. G. W. Ross and Hon. R. Harcourt, and received the customary friendly greeting on taking his seat.

The following private bills received a second reading: To incorporate the Brantford Y.W.C.A., Mr. Preston. Respecting the Synod of the Diocese of Niagara, Mr. Carscallen. To incorporate the Morrisburg Electric Railway Co., Mr. Whitney. Respecting the Pembroke Southern Railway Co., Mr. Munro. To amend the act to incorporate Grace Hospital (homœopathic), Mr. Pyne. To confirm by-law No. 348 of Paisley Village, Mr. Malcolm.

Hon. J. M. Gibson, in reply to a question by Mr. Pyne, stated that the Government had no control over the disposal of natural gas in Welland County. That was a matter which was within the jurisdiction of the Dominion Government. Gas was now being exported from Welland County.

In answer to a question by Mr. Whitney relative to the appointment of Alex. Merner as returning officer for the North Waterloo bye-election, the Attorney-General explained that an order-in-council was not necessary for the appointment of a returning officer. At the time of the appointment there was neither a sheriff or registrar in the county and Mr. Merner was the acting registrar.

Mr. Barr moved the second reading of his bill to amend the Public Schools Act, which was intended to avoid the hardship sometimes arising from the circumstance that under the present provisions of the act school district boundaries cannot be altered for a period of five years. He wished to have a shorter time fixed.

Hon. R. Harcourt did not consider that the exceptional circumstances which might sometimes render such a change desirable called for an alteration in the general law which, as a rule, had worked well and proved satisfactory. It might be better to have special requirements for particular localities.

The bill was read a second time and the House adjourned after sitting for about half an hour. There were just 15 members in attendance when the Speaker took his seat and 21 when the House rose.

THE INCIDENT CLOSED.

Mr. Balfour Promises Dutch Note and British Reply Thereto For To-Night in the Commons.

London, Feb. 4.—In the House of Commons yesterday A. J. Balfour, the Government leader, announced that he hoped the Dutch communication regarding South Africa and the British reply would be laid on the table Tuesday.

The scandal arising from the charges brought against British officers by Sir John Blundell Maple, M. P., in connection with the purchasing of horses for the army, caused further acrimonious comment yesterday.

It was announced that Major-General W. R. Truman, inspector-general of the Remount Department, asked for the appointment of a court of inquiry.

The War Secretary, Mr. Brodrick, replying, said he agreed it was desirable that a thorough investigation should be made of the whole subject, and promised that the inquiry would be opened without delay.

EVERY MOVE CAUSED PAIN.

The Intense Suffering of a Perth Man Relieved and Cured by Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets.

The terrible pain that catches you in the back makes stooping over or rising up, or even moving about, unbearable.

In nine cases out of ten, it is traceable to disordered kidneys.

The pain in the back is the kidney's signal of distress.

Go to their assistance with Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets. They will promptly relieve the pain, cure the kidney trouble, and restore your health and strength.

Here is a case worth reading:

Mr. Alexander Montgomery, Peter street, Perth, Ont., when interviewed, made this statement:—"I was suffering acutely in my back when I began using Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets, procured from F. I. Hall, the druggist. I could lift nothing, and every move caused pain. There was neither strength nor energy left in me. The constant aching over my kidneys was most distressing. I started using the Tablets, and the Lumbago quickly began to let up. I am quite over it now. I have found them most satisfactory, and can confidently recommend them for bad backs." Dr. Pitcher's Backage Kidney Tablets are 50c a box, at all druggists. The Dr. Zina Pitcher Co., Toronto, Ont.

London, Feb. 4.—The election to fill the seat in the House of Commons for the Ecclesall Division of Sheffield, rendered vacant by the death of Sir Ellis Ashmead-Bartlett, Conservative, Jan. 18, resulted in the election of Samuel Roberts, Conservative, over Reginald Vaile, Liberal-Imperialist, by a majority of 1,032.

AN OPEN VERDICT.

Jury Find That Drouillard Was Killed, But Name Nobody.

Windsor, Feb. 3.—"That Alfred Drouillard came to his death by a fracture of the skull, which wound was received on the crown of the head, but your jury are unable to determine the manner in which the wound was inflicted by the evidence adduced." This was the verdict returned by the jurors Friday night who listened to the testimony in the investigation of the cause of Alfred Drouillard's death. Fourteen people testified. Nine said that Drouillard was put in the shed at the Dewdrop Inn, Sandwich East, at 3 p. m., Wednesday, Jan. 22, and wasn't seen again until 7 p. m., when he was found dead. Adolph Labadie swore he saw Drouillard on the east side of the inn at 5.30 that day, going in the direction of the front door. Geo. Bennet, a Sandwich East farmer, swore he met Drouillard on Sandwich street at Gladstone avenue at 5 p. m. that day; that Drouillard was going toward Walkerville and that the witness was going toward Windsor. Drouillard returned Bennet's salutation. Relatives of Drouillard say they are not through, and will investigate the mystery of the death thoroughly.

A WOODSTOCK LADY.

For a Period of Twelve Years She Suffered.

Female Weakness Made her Life a Burden—Physicians all Assured her That she Could Never be Cured—Dodd's Kidney Pills Made her a Well Woman.

Woodstock, Ont., Feb. 3.—(Special.) Medical men are much puzzled over the case of Mrs. Wm. Rowe, of 311 Dundas street, this city.

For years (twelve or more) she had suffered with what is ordinarily called "Female Trouble" or "Female Weakness." She had consulted and had been treated by the very best physicians, but they failed to do her any good, and ended by the discouraging announcement that she need never hope to be well, as her disease was positively incurable.

However, Mrs. Rowe was persuaded as a last resort to try a treatment of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and to her great surprise and the joy of her family and friends she began to show signs of improvement. This change gave her a new hope, and the treatment was continued till at last she was completely cured and restored to the greatest good health possible to vigourous womanhood.

The case of Mrs. Rowe and the hopeless verdict of the doctors, had become widely known and as a consequence her satisfactory restoration to good health has created a profound sensation with the public, and not a little confusion among those physicians who had so positively pronounced her incurable.

Dodd's Kidney Pills have proven themselves an unfailing remedy for all diseases peculiar to womanhood, and thousands of grateful women are testifying to the fact that this remedy has saved them after everything else had failed.

Mrs. Rowe says: "I suffered as only weak women do suffer, for over twelve years. The doctors told me I could never be cured. I tried everything but could not get any relief. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me, and I owe my life and health to them and nothing else."

TAPS FROM THE WIRES.

The Provincial Secretary has cancelled the charter of the Plattsville Milling Company.

In the Montreal Mayoralty elections Mr. James Cochrane was elected, polling 12,978 votes against 11,075 recorded for Mr. R. Wilson-Smith.

Wm. Gray, a Toronto laborer, took rough-on-rats on Saturday afternoon and died at St. Michael's Hospital the same evening. He had been out of employment for some time.

Charles A. McCarthy, who is alleged to have stolen the sum of $300 from his former employers, the Port Hope Brewing & Malting Co., 150 Simcoe street, was arrested in Sarnia Sunday afternoon by the police of that city.

Miss Toller, a daughter of Col. Toller, Ottawa, who has been visiting in Brockville lately, was placed in the isolation hospital in that town on Saturday, a victim to smallpox. The greatest alarm prevails in the different homes she has recently visited.

Slowly Dying From Catarrh.

Thousands are in this terrible condition but don't realize their danger. If you have the slightest taint of Catarrh, would it not be wise to commence Catarrhozone treatment now and be perfectly cured in a short time? This pleasant remedy cures without the use of drugs, atomizers or snuffs. You inhale the medicated vapor which spreads to all parts of the breathing organs, kills the germs and heals the inflamed surfaces. Catarrhozone cleans the throat and nose instantly, and never fails to cure the most obstinate catarrhal, lung and throat troubles. A trial will demonstrate the value of Catarrhozone, which sells for $1.00, small size 25 cts., at druggists or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

"SCARRED FOR LIFE"

Skin diseases in many cases may need the "inward" application to remove the taint from the blood.

But many a once handsome countenance is "scarred for life" for lack of using such a healing agent as Dr. Agnew's Ointment. Only needs a few applications of this magic healer to any skin disease to clear away all signs of outward disorder and leave the affected part as smooth and soft as an infant's cheek. 39

Ladies' Aid Entertainment.

The "At Home" given by the Ladies' Aid of St. Peter's, last evening, proved a great success as the storm proved no deterrent to those who anticipated spending a pleasant evening in the snug quarters of the T.A.S. Several hours were spent very pleasantly with music and games.

Writing Paper Reductions.—

Unheard of prices for reliable qualities of note and letter paper prevails after stocktaking at the Peterborough Bookstore. Now is your chance to stock up when unexpected large quantities have been found here. We have many small and broken lots in boxes and packages which it is desirable to get rid of, even if the sacrifice does pinch sharply. A. H. Stratton & Co.

Ald. Batten's Experience.

Ald. Batten and Mr. Isaac Richardson, of town, had a rather exciting experience on Sunday last. They left Peterborough at noon to hold service at Hiawatha, but they did not anticipate so blinding a snow storm or they would no doubt have stayed at home. It was about 4 o'clock when Ald. Batten and Mr. Richardson started for home. They were met by a snow storm that fairly blinded them and left the road in an almost impassable condition. With considerable difficulty they reached the home of Mr. and Mrs. Haslett about four miles from town, where they stayed for the night. Mr and Mrs. Haslett's hospitality was only exceeded by the efforts of Mr. Haslett next day in endeavouring to break a road for the belated travellers. This very tedious job was continued for some time and Ald. Batten and Mr. Richardson reached Peterborough at about four o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The bonspeils this season do not appear to be attended with the same success as those of former years, as the members of the different rinks are merely playing for individual records. In former seasons great interest was lent to these events by arranging to have six rinks play for the president and six for the vice-president, or it was a case of North vs. South, East vs. West, Married vs. Single, Grits vs. Tories, etc — the result of such an arrangement was that every rink was interested in the play of every other rink, and messengers were bustling around among the various ices carrying good news or bad, as each end was played. This year only fourteen ends are played, and when the game is over the curlers hustle away home, whereas formerly the game lasted for eighteen ends, and at half time, as well as when the match was finished, coffee and sandwiches were served, and there was fun to burn. The committee in charge of these affairs should "get a hustle on," and devise a more attractive programme for their bonspeils if they wish to make a success of them. Last evening quite a number of the players who were called upon to be present, were not in attendance, in fact two rinks were absent. This is not as it should be, and it is "up to" the members of the committee to bestir themselves. In the old days there was a scramble for a place on the rinks which were playing in a bonspeil and absentees were few and far between.

HOCKEY.

St. George's trimmed the famous Wellingtons on Saturday night in a senior game by 5 goals to 4. It is only fair to the Wellingtons, however, to state that their team was without the services of Chadwick, McKay and Morrison, who played with them in the Stanley Cup Series.

The Mail and Empire says; "The Indians on the Roseneath Reservation are great admirers of hockey and warm supporters of the Peterborough team. In the match last week with Port Hope, and Indian bet $300 on Peterborough and got the money."

Globe: "It is a treat to see the fine spirit displayed in the Port Hope Guide's report of the Port Hope-Peterborough game. It was a close match, 4 to 3, and though the report is the story of the downfall of Port Hope's bright hopes, there is nothing but fair play in it, and credit where credit is due. If the Guide reflects the sentiment of the town Port Hope is a place of good sportsmen and a shining example of the real spirit that should animate the spirit of all games."

The Peterborough Intermediates are keeping in condition for their next game in the O.H.A. series. Who it will be with is not yet decided.

THE NEW WATER COMMISSIONERS.

Messrs. T. F. Matthews and W.H. Hill Were Elected.

LARGE VOTE WAS POLLED

Considering the Very Disagreeable State of the Weather—Labour Candidate Third on the List.

Notwithstanding the very unfavourable weather and the almost impassable condition of the roads yesterday, the voting for the election of Town Water Commissioners was carried on at a lively rate all day.

The great interest shown in the election was no doubt largely due to the fact that it was the first occasion on which the electors have been called upon to do their duty in this regard.
